Explosion In Oil Refinery Sprays Workers With Fire

By United Press. VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 1.—Thirty-six employees of the Indiana Refinery Company of Lawrenceville, Ind., are under treatment in a hospital here for burns suffered by an explosion at the plant. Hospital authorities announced today.

An employee of the refining company told the United Press that the steam still blew out about 10 or 15 minutes after a fire started from leaking gasoline. Within workmen played a fire hose as the flames efforts were made to pump out the endangered gasoline.

With the explosion the flames were extinguished automatically, it was said, but the nearby workmen were sprayed with burning gasoline.

STUDENTS GET HELP KIDNAPERS' TEMPLAR FUND

More than 'Million and a Quarter Loaned for Education.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 1.—Statistics compiled from the reports of 42 States in regard to the student loan fund of the grand encampment, Knights Templar of the United States, show that in the three and one-half years from July 1, 1924, to December 31, 1927, $2,400,000 has been loaned to students.

The number of students helped is 524,000. The average loan made here has paid in part; 25 are in arrears and less than one per cent of the total, or 12,000, have been charged off as a total loss. The entire expense of the administration of the fund has been less than one per cent of the amount loaned.

It is estimated that in the world there are 10,000,000 students in education, leaving a wide margin of need for the fund. It was depicted at the triennial convocation of the grand encampment, Knights Templar, U. S. A., held here in July to loan to students who paid up in full a certificate of honorary membership.

The fund is a fund for the education of students in the United States and is a fund for the education of students in the United States and is a fund for the education of students in the United States.

OUR own Mary Pickford has had a stock of frocks from Paris. And here is one I have chosen of them all to sketch for you—an ensemble called "Les Violettes." A lovely frock crepe de chine, with dress and jacket. A one shoulder is placed a large drooping cluster of violets. What a dainty frock to reflect Mary Pickford's charm and personality. And how nice it would be for any and all of us, especially the lucky ones who happen to be the Mary Pickford type.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE FAILURE—He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.—Prov. 25:28.
PRAYER—Lord, be Thou our strength, and give us mastery over our own souls.

ONCE AGAIN A DEMONSTRATION OF DIVIDED ALLEGIANCE.

Just as the Fascist groups at home are intended to back the political doctrines of Fascismo-in-holding the Fascist political state together by force, and admitting nothing politically that is not Fascismo, so Fascist groups abroad are being urged to furnish enthusiasm and animation, in spread by Fascist faith, to keep those Italians residing abroad from losing adherence to the mother country.

Commenting on this, the Chicago Tribune gives the information that today there are about five hundred Fascist groups scattered around the world with more being constantly organized. The estimated membership is now more than one hundred thousand or about one-tenth of the party strength in Italy. It is said that ninety-two of these groups have their existence within the United States. And along with this statement is another that Mussolini wants these organized groups and this country and elsewhere to spread the really orthodox Fascist faith through propaganda and to prevent denationalization of Italians.

"They must expand and defend Italy. They must establish the adolescent group called vanguards. They must constitute disciplined instruments of the government in Rome." These are the official utterances of the Italian dictator on the question naturally arises as to whether it is possible under such dicta for an Italian residing in the United States to be a member of the Fascist and at the same time a loyal citizen of his adopted country.

RUSSIA LINED UP WITH THE FORCES OF PEACE.

Gratifying news comes from Berlin to the effect that M. Litvinoff, Russian under-secretary of foreign affairs, who has been in conference with the new Socialist government officials in the German capital, is now on the way to Moscow for the purpose of laying before the Soviet authorities the views of the German government on the Kellogg peace plans. He has evidently been told that Chancellor Mueller is favorable to the proposal emanating from the United States government that war be outlawed by international enactment.

Those in position to know what they are talking about express the belief that Russia will agree with the German view despite the fact that the Soviet government has not been invited officially to join in the outlawing of war declaration. That is not at all unreasonable for undoubtedly Russia desires peace just as ardently as does any other right-thinking, sensible nation. And with Germany and Russia on the side of the Kellogg proposals, it may be fair to assume that the rest is easy and that these proposals will shortly be put into actual operation for the good of all humanity.

TELLING THE INTERESTING STORY OF SOUTH IDAHO.

In issuing a special edition in celebration of occupation of a palatial new home, the Pocatello Tribune contributes something well worth while in the way of publicity for southern Idaho.

It has taken one hundred and twelve pages to review the growth of Pocatello and this section of the State and to portray by printed word and by picture a few of the glories of this wonderful region. One of the contributors is none other than Henry Graham of the Times staff who has an excellent article on the Snake river gorge together with its amazing natural attractions.

Outdoor life receives special emphasis, to such an extent that circulation of the Tribune may well be counted on to do Idaho a tremendous amount of good in attracting the interest and attention of those who seek rest and recreation amid the most enjoyable and unusual scenic surroundings.

So once again does the press of Idaho demonstrate its value in making known the State's resources and assets.

The optimist can always find a silver lining to the cloud if he looks hard enough. For instance: although there seem to be more saxophones than ever in the country, the statisticians tell us that the sale of motorcycles dropped off considerably last year.

The Irish Free State has signified willingness to adopt Secretary Kellogg's pact-outlawing war. Now you can expect Al Smith to announce that he's a dry, after all.

Experiments to produce synthetic milk are being carried on by several scientists. They may ask some of the farmers how they mix theirs.

Congressman Hull of Illinois has written a piece about not wanting to be a Congressman. Most of them are more interested in how to stay that way.

Other Viewpoints

THE PASSING OF FLENER

(Idaho Pioneer)
Guy Flenner, father of the State Editorial Association, and secretary since its inception, has lost his child. Children are often abstracted in the assassination. Flenner's services to the association can not be measured. If the association has been useful to its membership—and it has—Flenner must go to the credit. Others may think they deserve the credit but they are mistaken.

They are promoters. He sets his line by promoting worthy objects. Don't think he ever tried to promote any unworthy subject. If he did, it is still a secret in his own breast. Don't know just why he was thrown out, but imagine the throwers thought he might be using the office of secretary in some way to help out his promotion plans.

Anyway, Guy is out and McCallum is in. The latter is a fine gentleman and a good newspaper man, editing the Idaho Herald.

We hate to see Guy get out of the harness. Physically he is still for rough usage and may have to spend the rest of his days in another climate which may be better for his asthma. Had he been retained, he could hardly have served another term—that's why the action is almost brutal, or probably thoughtless, in the better expression.

DILATORY JUSTICE

(Christian Science Monitor)
Hard things have been said about the courts of the United States. The country needs a Charles Dickens to stir it into indignation by depicting and humiliate, once and for all, the tragedies that dilatory justice and criminally represent.

The appalling black American homicide rate alone abruptly at the Canadian line. Why? Primarily because the public in Canada, has always simply and informally, all the values of national existence and has decided that at the very top of reverence are respect for law and obedience to it; and because from this feeling has grown a most remarkable singular morality.

The machinery itself is unimportant except as it expresses the view behind it. It is unthinkable that the United States can remain quiescent in view of recorded criminal conditions, or allow any of its courts to continue to administer unjust justice.

THOSE WERE HOT OLD DAYS

(Spokane Daily Record)
I know you want to know how the old dropper harvesting machine worked. Here it is: we are going to accept any horse, mule, or man, who can operate these days in any better of more strenuous than in the days when we followed the machine. The man was ready for a walk at the jug at the home audience, after going the round of the field. Some of your daintiness was what was in the fire. Those were hot and halcyon days, at that.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

(London Daily Mail)
Sir Harold Sturtevant of the coffee firm, declined at the dinner of the "preparatory committee" to know its advertising, and if there is anything in which it is important to be in the line of the newspaper, it is in the line of the newspaper. It is a necessary ingredient, so long as you get the public laughing with you and at you. It is always better for the press is the best form of publicity.

Daily Poem

SOFT PHILOSOPHY
Richard F. Wolfe
Shouldn't do it if the world and the people therein.
Besides, they refuse what I write.
I don't want to be in any line.
Than life off the nose just for spite.

And even though wished I, I could not one mind
Is freed from its pre-ordained maker
That meant that a flow in the Maker
I'd find

Who is it of what is the one source,
And if the refusal of others should fill
My heart with deep anger and wrath,
Only would show the Creator's great will
Who cut out for me my own path.

Lighter Side

Easy Honestly
"So you were late to school," he said.
"Yes, Mamma."
"Why didn't you run, dear?"
"Because you told me never to deceive, Mamma."
"But how would that deceive, my child?"
"It might give someone who saw me running an idea that I wasn't anxious to get there, and I want"—Globe Herald.

Must Be Crazy
"Let us go to the circus—they say one of the monkeys is so intelligent that it does all the work."
"Then he can hardly be intelligent."
—Buen Humor, Madrid.

Wanted Preplier
"Mother—I do hope you don't open your eyes during prayer."
"Of course, of course, I don't; but when Mr. Smith does, I saw him"—Dartmouth School.

BIBLE VERSES AND PRAYER

THE FAILURE—He that hath no build over his name shall be like a city that is broken down, and without walls.—Prov. 18:10

PRAYER—Lord, be Thou our strength, and give us mastery over our own souls.

ONCE AGAIN A DEMONSTRATION OF DIVIDED ALLEGIANCE.

Just as the Fascist groups at home are intended to back the political doctrines of Fascism in holding the Fascist political state together by force and admitting nothing politically that is not Fascism, so Fascist groups abroad are being urged to furnish enthusiasm and animation, inspired by Fascist faith, to keep those Italians residing abroad from losing adherence to the mother country.

Commenting on this, the Chicago Tribune gives the information that today there are about five hundred Fascist groups scattered around the world, more being constantly organized. The estimated membership is now more than one hundred thousand or about one-tenth of the party strength in Italy. It is said that ninety-two of these groups have their existence within the United States. And along with this statement is another that Mussolini wants these organized groups and this country, and elsewhere to spread the really orthodox Fascist faith through propaganda and to prevent denationalization of Italians.

"They must expand and defend Italy. They must establish the adolescent group called vanguards. They must constitute disciplined instruments of the government in Rome." These are the official utterances of the Italian dictator so the question naturally arises as to whether it is possible under such dicta for an Italian residing in the United States to be a member of the Fascist and at the same time a loyal citizen of his adopted country.

RUSSIA LINED UP WITH THE FORCES OF PEACE.

Gratifying news comes from Berlin to the effect that M. Litvinoff, Russian under-secretary of foreign affairs, who has been in conference with the new Socialist government officials in the German capital, is now on the way to Moscow for the purpose of laying before the Soviet authorities the views of the German government on the Kellogg peace plans. He has evidently been told that Chancellor Mueller is favorable to the proposal emanating from the United States government that war be outlawed by international enactment.

Those in position to know what they are talking about, express the belief that Russia will agree with the German view despite the fact that the Soviet government has not been invited officially to join in the outlawing-of-war declaration. That is not at all unreasonable as does any other right-thinking, sensible nation. And with Germany aiding Russia on the side of the Kellogg proposals, it may be fair to assume that the rest is easy and that these proposals will shortly be put into actual operation for the good of all humanity.

TELLING THE INTERESTING STORY OF SOUTH IDAHO.

In issuing a special edition in celebration of occupation of a palatial new home, the Pocatello Tribune contributes something well worth while in the way of publicity for southern Idaho.

It has taken one hundred and twelve pages to review the growth of Pocatello and this section of the State and to portray by printed word and by picture a few of the glories of this wonderful region. One of the contributors is none other than Henry Graham of The Times staff who has an excellent article on the Snake river gorge together with its amazing natural attractions.

Outdoor life receives special emphasis, to such an extent that circulation of The Tribune may well be counted on to do Idaho a tremendous amount of good in attracting the interest and attention of those who seek rest and recreation amid the most enjoyable and unusual scenic surroundings.

So once again does the press of Idaho demonstrate its value in making known the State's resources and assets.

The optimist can always find a silver lining to the cloud if he looks hard enough. For instance: although there seem to be more saxophones than ever in the country, the statisticians tell us that the sale of motorcycles dropped off considerably last year.

The Irish Free State has signified willingness to adopt Secretary Kellogg's pact outlawing war. Now you can expect Al Smith to announce that he's a dry, after all.

Experiments to produce synthetic milk are being carried on by several scientists. They may ask some of the farmers how they mix theirs.

Other Viewpoints

THE PASSING OF FLENNER

(Idaho Pioneer)

Guy Flenner, father of the State Historical Association, and secretary since its inception, has lost his child. Children are often ungrateful—not always Flenner's service to the association can not be measured. If this association has been useful to its membership—and it has—Flenner must go the credit. Others may think they deserve the credit but they are mistaken.

Guy is a promoter. He gets his living by promoting worthy objects. Don't think he ever tried to promote any unworthy object. If he did it is still a secret in his own breast. Don't know just why he was thrown out, but imagine the throes of thought he might be using the office of secretary in some way to help out his promotion plans.

Anyway, Guy is out and McCallum is in. The latter is a fine gentleman and a good newspaper man, editing the Field Herald.

We hate to see Guy get out of the house. Physically he is unfit for rough usage and may have to spend the rest of his days in another climate which may be better for his health. But he has been retained in could hardly have served another term—that's why the action is almost brutal, or probably thoughtless, is the better expression.

DILATORY JUSTICE

(Christian Science Monitor)

Harsh things have been said about the courts of the United States. The country needs a Charles Dickens to stir it into indignation by depicting and humanizing, once and for all, the tragedies that dilatory justice and criminality represent.

The appalling high American homicide rate stops abruptly at the Canadian line. Why? Primarily because the public in Canada, has assayed, simply and informally, all the values of national existence and has decided that at the very top of civic virtues are respect for law and obedience to it; and because from this feeling has grown a somewhat simpler legal machinery.

The machinery itself is unimportant except as it expresses the view behind it. It is unthinkable that the United States can remain synthetic in view of recorded criminal conditions, or allow any of its courts to continue to administer sluggish justice.

THOSE WERE HOT OLD DAYS

Since Guy is a stock dealer, remember when you used to follow the old dropper harvesting machine? I heard if we were going to accept anybody's doctrine that harvesting in those days is any better or more important than the other. I was followed along with the rest of 'em and was really on the line at the hour station, after going the round of the field. None of your dabbledness what was in the line. Those were hot and hazy days, at that.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

(London Daily Mail)
Sir Harold Mackintosh, of the coffee firm, declared at the dinner of Advertisers: "A business is known by its advertising, and it is important to be interested in it. Advertising, humor is a necessary ingredient, so long as you get your message across to you and not at you. I always believe that the press is the best form of publicity."

SURELY PHILOSOPHY
Richard Wolfe.
Should I damn this world and the people therein
Because they refuse what I write?
For man's life is to heed it and grate
Than bite off the nose just for spite.

And even though wished I, I could

Deflect from its predestined course
That meant that a flaw in the Maker
I'd find
Who is of what is the one source,
And if the refusal of others should fill
My heart with deep anger and wrath,
Only would mock the Greater's great will
Who cut out for me my own path.

FIRPO MAY COME BACK FOR TITLE

Says He Will Be in Condition to Fight First Bout Early Next May

TWIN FALLS, Aug. 1—Luis Angel Firpo, Wild Bull of the Panama, the only man who ever gave Jack Dempsey a fight, when the former champion was at his best, may go back to the ring to try to win the title that Gene Tunney has now inside, he told the United-Press today. Firpo said he already was in communication with Tex Rickard and that if he decided to return to the ring, he would be ready to fight anybody in the world next May. "I have been in light training for eight weeks," said Firpo. "I have regained my weight from 200 pounds to 210. I expect to start sparring within two weeks, and I have arranged with a friend that will regain my old fighting weight of 216 by October 1."

Firpo had a tentative arrangement to fight Monte Mann October 12, but Mann was defeated recently in a fight here by Clemente Sanchez, of Cuba, and the plan was cancelled. Firpo hesitated to make any definite declaration that he would return unwillingly to the ring to take Tunney's title, but he said he would be glad to fight if he had a good chance with the present crop of heavyweight in the United States. "I have been in the ring for 12 years and I have made a big success with my automobile importing business, and I have everything ready to go back to it so that I will be free for anything."

"Frankly, I'm tired of boxing. There's nothing in it like boxing used to be. I want to return to the ring, and I'm sure I'll be the best of any man next May."

Firpo indicated he would be willing to meet Mann in a trial bout here.

Beet Sugar Crop Upper Snake Will Bring Big Return

Idaho Falls Times-Register

The upper Snake river sugar beet crop will be a "big saver" and the sweet morsel, worth about six million dollars to the growers, in the most locally sought and for business generally.

The more than 25,000 acres in sugar beets throughout the upper valley this season with the 100 per cent crop will be a "big saver" and the biggest kind of help.

There are to be potatoes, if anything, too many potatoes and the present indications are that the price will not leave any to eat a margin this year. Potatoes are all right and the upper valley, which produces the finest and best quality will and must continue to produce potatoes for there are seasons, and they come rather often, when they are a fine crop.

The peas and wheat are good; they will bring a good price and everything looks lively and with the six million dollar sugar beet crop the upper valley has a right to look for a prosperous business year.

According to the best information obtainable the crop will be produced on about 25,000 acres with an average of 18 tons to the acre, which is a percentage of increase in tonnage, as the average in the past has been 15 to 16 tons. In addition to the increased acreage and tonnage the sugar content is a valuable asset and the present co-operative method of working, and the local interest, which has been the biggest factor and asset, increasing interest in the growing of the beets, which is one of the greatest industries of the valley and with its by-products of feed and pulp encourages that other great asset, stock raising.

The sugar beet crop and the operation of a sugar mill in the valley this season is to be a decided co-operative success in the prosperity of the entire upper valley.

This is particularly so when potatoes are at a medium price, as they are now to be this year.
