Thousands Flock To Craters Moon

The Craters of the Moon National Monument was visited by 237 people during the month of July, which is the season for the craters. The monument was visited by 766 people in May and 1198 in June. The July enrollment brings the total for the year up to 4252.

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today, an indication of their sturdy work, reliability and economy.

The cost of reconditioning the Model T Ford is small because of the low cost of Ford parts and the established Ford policy of charging all labor at a standard flat rate.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

Repainting runs from $10 to $25. Taking dents out of body panels and doors runs from $3 to $16 for labor. A fender can be replaced for a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. The cost of fenders runs from $3.50 to $5.

SOMETHING ENTIRELY NEW IN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN HISTORY

This present political campaign is to be quite different from any other campaign in all the history of this country or of the world.

This difference lies in the use of radio for dissemination of speeches of the principals who will make known to an unlimited audience planks of the platform upon which they stand.

This radio program will have its introductory feature this coming Saturday afternoon when Herbert Hoover, choice of the Republican party for president of the United States, will make his acceptance speech from Stanford University at Palo Alto, California. Secretary of Commerce Hoover is to begin his address at four o'clock Pacific coast time, which will be five o'clock in Idaho, six o'clock in the Middle West and seven o'clock in the East. In those cities that are using daylight saving time it will be eight o'clock in the Eastern zone.

The changing times have wrought no greater transitions than in the field of politics, especially with regard to that vitally important factor of contact with the public.

Commenting on this, the Omaha World-Herald says: "It is a tremendous, really a revolutionary change, that the radio will thus introduce in our political campaigning. The crowds physically present both to see and hear the speaker will be negligible in size and importance compared to the vast 'unseen audience.' This unseen—and unseeing—audience will have all the advantage of the speaker. It will be coolly at its ease. It will be free of the influence of crowd psychology. Each listener will be ideally situated to weigh and impartially digest the speech that is made to him individually in the seclusion of his own home. He will be uninfluenced by gesture, by facial expression, by all the little tricks and arts of the orator. What will interest him is cold facts, clear statements, reasoned arguments.

"Obviously this new condition is going to put speakers on their mettle. The devices and methods that are familiarly used to sway crowds will not be effective when it is John Jones and his wife who sit alone before the loud speaker. The issue dodger will be nailed on the spot. Platitudes and jokes, tributes to the flag, appeals to God, home and morality, will get just nowhere at all if the solid stuff and substance of sincerity and candor be lacking. There will not be one speech for the crowd, and another, revised and abbreviated or extended, to appear in the newspaper. Every word and sentence of the speaker, precisely as he utters it, will go to millions of voters everywhere, who will sit, to think and judge, after a radio is turned off. It will make for a higher order of campaigning and for more thoughtful and intelligent voting.

"Fortunately both parties have presented as presidential candidates; men who can be counted upon to measure up to the new and more exacting standard. There is nothing of the demagogue in either Smith or Hoover. They are both of them wise and thoughtful men, students of the problems of government, with well-earned reputations for candor and courage and sincerity. To sit in an easy chair and hear them throughout the dozen or more extended addresses that each will deliver in the course of the campaign, should prove a rare treat and amount to a liberal education for the electorate."

PERHAPS HUMAN FAILURE MAY BE HELD TO BLAME

A piece of iron pipe twenty feet long and two feet in diameter caused a disastrous train wreck on the Illinois Central railway early Monday morning near the little town of Mounds, Ill.

Newspaper reports of the accident state that members of a train crew passing the spot on an adjoining track, saw this piece of pipe but did not stop to remove it, preferring to ride on to the next station where the obstacle was duly reported. It is said that one train was stopped but it was too late to reach another. Anyway the wreck occurred so the question naturally arises as to why the men who saw the pipe did not do the sensible thing, halt their train and remove the obstruction which later caused such havoc. There may have been good reason why this was not done and it is always easy to find fault, yet at this distance it does seem that the principle of accident prevention was not put into practice. As a result human lives have been sacrificed while the damage to railway property will probably run up into the hundreds of thousands, all because someone failed to act.

The presidential candidates will be officially notified soon. We hope they will not be too surprised to think of something nice to say.

Many a kid gets lost nowadays because he cannot reach his mother's skin.

Other Viewpoints

NO FINER PRODUCT

In a certain type of fiction the advanced writer is said to be described as eager for a "career." This was supposed to indicate a certain breadth of mind and excess of ambition above the average of those content merely to be homebodies. It is fortunate that current thought has not adopted such notions. The greatest of writers are not those who determine the masters among homebodies, but those who are not taking chances on the endeavor of the masses and others full scope for the best interests. There is a finer product of civilization than well-dressed, harmonious, orderly home.

TENNESSEE FIGHT IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST

Tenney steps out of boxing with the ring of an unprepared fighter. The ring has been rather carelessly built up by the newspaper feeders of box-fighters. To them it has been a thing of momentary absurdity that a prize fighter should care about anything but his own money. They have cheered, yelled, and roared. Why, the poor worm even climbed to enjoy it. Right there they raise the chances of that.

Tenney was a clean-living sort of fellow. He is a pugilist, who walked straight through fights that was another good one; and the writers of these days have been the heroes of the ring with hair on their chests and nates in their speech. They have cheered, yelled, and roared. Why, the poor worm even climbed to enjoy it. Right there they raise the chances of that.

Daily Poem

By H. Kathleen Wardle
I have hated town, but walked to right
At dusk, within a quiet street
Where houses in the softened light
Seemed like deserted, gray retreats.
Until the flowers with shining heads
Danced like white fairies, yet it
Was more the silver jewelry shed
Their fluttering gold upon the ground.
And in the silence came the call
Of evening bells; one great star
Came
Into the sea, and over all
The crescent moon burned like a flame.

Lighter Side

His Duty
A boy scout was doing his good turn by acting as cloak room attendant at a hospital dance.
One of the guests, a student of the brain, wished to test his memory process. So when the scout handed him his hat he said: "How do you know that this is my hat?"
"I don't," said the scout.
"Then why do you give it to me?"
"Because it's the one you gave me."

Ancient Retainer.
"Your maid seems to be rather familiar with you."
"Yes, I put up with that from old servants; just think, she has been with us for more than a month."
—Le Rire (Paris).

Wife Tommys
Father—"So the teacher caught you using a bad word and punished you."
Tommy—"Yes, and she asked me where I learned it."
Father—"What did you tell her?"
Tommy—"I didn't want to give you away, pa—so I blamed it on the parrot."

FOOTBALL TEAMS TO BE HEAVIEST IN MANY YEARS

Plans Going Forward for the Bruin Eleven to Start Practices Early.

Twin Falls high school has the usual facilities of one of the finest football teams in its history, according to B. V. Jones, who will coach the squad. First practices will be held on the evening of September 10, the day the schools open. It is preliminary practices are held before then.

Several good letter men will be back from the lineup and tentative schedules are being arranged. The Bruins will face several of the larger and stronger schools on the gridiron this fall if present plans are completed.

The line will probably be one of the heaviest ever put out by an Idaho high school. The average is sure to be well above 170 pounds, thinks Coach Jones, and this average may go as high as 185 pounds. The backfield will also probably be heavy—slow—with a man for line plugging and hard riding. A lighter backfield may be developed later to use in an emergency.

A new man in Twin Falls will assist Coach Jones with the team. He falls from Grapeland, Idaho, and goes by the name of Mr. Flat, and the coach, Mr. Jones will probably devote much of his time to developing the line and put Mr. Flat in charge of the operation of the team. Mr. Flat is a letter man who are expected back are Hjalmar, Hope, Finch, Palfrey, Peterson, and several others from Lincoln and the backfield. Lincoln will be tried out both on the line and backfield to be placed where most valuable. Many new men of stellar gridiron ability are to be out for the team and coaches are being so strong. Some of the new men are green recruits and others are skilled players who are coming here from towns in other states.

A tentative schedule being worked out at present will be as follows: September 12—Caldwell and Boise; two of them out of the home ground. The Boise squad will be here in the next day if present plans can be perfected.

The tentative schedule is: September 21—Alumni at Twin Falls. October 28—Alumni at Twin Falls. October 5—Gooding at Gooding. October 12—Oxnley at Oxnley. October 19—Pocatello at Pocatello. October 26—Filer at Filer. Nov. 2—Caldwell at Twin Falls. November 12—Idaho at Twin Falls. November 16—Idaho at Twin Falls.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero: Alon Smith, Boston Braves pitcher, who allowed the Cincinnati Reds only two hits in the second game. Hornsby's team whipping the double header, 6 to 3, and 12 to 1.

Collecting 15 hits off Sherdel, Hall and Frankhouse, the New York Giants beat St. Louis, 10 to 5. The Braves' pitcher, who allowed the Cardinals to lead 4 to 3 in the seventh inning, but held them back.

Jackson and Terry hit home runs. Striving desperately to get back into the pennant race, the Pittsburgh Pirates annexed their seventh straight victory by making a three to one run from the Brooklyn Hobbs, 4 to 3. Krenner held the Hobbs to eight hits. Leroy's sacrifice fly with the bases filled in the ninth scored Whitney and the Phillies won the fourth straight game from the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3.

WHEAT HIGHER, CORN AND OATS MAKE ADVANCE

By United Press

WHEAT—The market for wheat advanced sharply today on the basis of reports of good export trade and an advance in corn. Oats and rye advanced in sympathy.

Wheat closed off on the up, but corn up 5.64c; oats up 5.47c; rye up 15.62c.

The market became quiet after the opening rush of shorts to cover, and bullish pressure was resumed. Traders were selling but not so heavily as in the past few days.

Commission houses were full of buyers of corn and the continued liquid purchases of the elevator delivered. Crop reports continued highly favorable. Cash corn was steady to 1/2c higher. A few 61 cars.

Oats failed to hold with a significant decline. The price of wheat and corn was the determining factor in the market movement. Receipts were 130 cars with the cash market steady and unchanged.

Provisions were slightly higher—lard futures ranged on the up, but unchanged.

FLORIDA'S CITRUS REGION ESCAPES Thousands Are Killed in Volcanic Eruption

WEST INDIAN HURRICANE NOW ASSING OUT OVER GULF OF MEXICO LEAVING HEAVY LOSS

No Loss of Life Has Occurred but Property Damage, Particularly Along Middle East Coast, Is Expected to Be Heavy; Middle Citrus Area Gets Off Light With Only Ten to Fifteen Per Cent Loss of Oranges and Grapefruit as Late Estimate.

HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 9.—The hurricane that has spread destruction across the Florida peninsula was rapidly moving toward the Gulf of Mexico today. It was hoped the worst of the tropical disturbance was over.

An indication of the extent of damage in the interior came today when the United Press correspondent at Kissimmee telegraphed that a small boat, a half dozen houses and a large garage were demolished.

Citrus groves outside the town were badly damaged, he said, and towns in the west were in a state of confusion. A boat had been hit, one had been burned, but the storm center had moved into the Gulf of Mexico.

A delayed telegram from Tampa received here at 9 a. m. and apparently filed by the United Press correspondent there soon after midnight, said the center of the storm missed the city although telephone and telegraph lines were damaged.

While telephone and telegraph lines into Tampa and other west coast cities were out, information from points on the northern fringe of the hurricane belt said the storm center was north of Tampa and damage was slight there and in St. Petersburg.

A score of towns in Citrus county, however, remained cut off from the outside world.

A trail of wrecked houses, ruined citrus groves and crippled utility systems lay across the state with damage estimated well into the millions. There was no reported loss of life.

Orange county was recovering today from the hurricane ravages. Towns and cities in the central Florida county, where flourishing small fruit farms and citrus groves were hit, experienced high winds but damage was not as extensive as on the East Coast.

Haines City, in the heart of the "fruit belt" and Winter Haven reported 10 to 15 per cent of the agricultural crop ruined and five to ten per cent of the orange crop. The estimates indicated damage to citrus groves might be much less than at first thought.

Telegraph wires throughout the NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—"Indefinite delay" on all telegraph lines today south of Melbourne on the Florida east coast, including Miami, was reported by the northern telegraph company today. The Florida storm also had isolated Sanford and Whitehead on the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line.

NO LOSS OF LIFE
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 9.—Tampa and St. Petersburg on the west coast of the Florida peninsula were isolated today as a hurricane moved northwestward to buffet a new area. Behind the storm the southern shore of the state with property and crop damage estimated in the millions.

Reports from towns and cities in the interior and on the coast where the full force of the hurricane had

"Smelling Warrants" Are No Longer Legal in Making Prohibition Raids

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Acting Secretary of Treasury Lowmeyer advised prohibition agents today that "smelling warrants" should be abandoned in making law.

This order virtually frees home brewers from federal interference. Lowmeyer explained private dwellings should be searched only on a search warrant.

Heretofore prohibition agents have been able to obtain warrants for entering private dwellings by a "smelling" evidence of brewer or distiller but recent court decisions have held that "smelling" warrants are illegal. Lowmeyer today stated agents that private property must not be searched in making raids on prohibited premises.

Nine ships were reported to have sunk off Celebes island. Paloweh is a tiny island off the northern coast of the island of Flores in the Flores Sea. It is directly south of the Philippines and southeast of Borneo.

The eruptions on Paloweh island began Saturday. The sea at once rose 10 1/2 feet on all sides of the island. Many people perished by being flooded into the sea to escape the mollen lava.

DRANK LIQUORS INSTEAD USING TO MAKE TEST
PARIS, Aug. 9.—A group of young medical students, journeying to work on various pigs for chemical experiments, faked tests which have been used for years to prove that alcohol is harmful to the system. Dr. Francis Marce, one of France's chemists, said in an interview here.

When he was a student, Dr. Marce said, he and his comrades drank the liquor and wines that had been given them to administer to various rabbits and fish so that the effect of the alcohol could be observed.

The significance of the statement is that the students' "faked" experiments have been used all over the world for years as arguments against the harmfulness of alcohol in a beverage. They formed the actual basis for the famous Hindrichs report on the harmfulness of alcohol, issued in 1892 and 1896.

Dr. Marce earned some pocket money and was published throughout the world, and still are cited as an authority.

"I had the keys to one of the finest wine cellars I have ever stopped in," Marce said. "My friends and I, the finest champagne, old cognac, vermouths, bitters and choice wines."

He said that the keys of the cellars, which were being experimented with to prove the effect of alcohol on human beings. But his comrades and myself were unable to bring ourselves to do anything like that. We did not put a little denatured alcohol in the animals' cars, however.

The photographs had to be taken so that we might submit reports to Professors Cadeac and other chemists who were later to startle the world with the results of our experiments.

"To secure the proper conditions, I had them intoxicated first under the galvanic floor of the cage. It was a great success. The animal was delirious. I lifted the floor and he fell and kept uttering 'Ah, that alcohol' over and over."

"They came to the next problem, how we had the fish drunk."

"We had some excellent Loire car experiments, but in a moment of forgetfulness, or something worse, I forgot to add the alcohol to the water. I was so embarrassed that I had to drop it. I was so embarrassed that I had to drop it. I was so embarrassed that I had to drop it."

JOE K. 'FIRED' AL JOLSON FOR BEING FAILURE

That Was 24 Years Ago in Texas Before Al Made His Millions.

There's many a one at the heart of the picture is so far apart from the usual run of ordinary that one is apt to be slow to know how to combine that fact and convince people who like clear and wholesome philosophy that this is one that meets every requirement and fulfills every ideal of what a picture ought to be.

Perhaps the greatest lesson is that of the infinite love of the child for its father, no matter what the failures, the shortcomings and the mistakes. It is undeniably a great picture. Two dozen years ago Joe K. "fired" him from a concert hall in Houston, Texas, because he was "too fat" for the evening. But he got so much sentiment into his music and so much of the then newly appearing act, and today Al Jolson will admit that it was Joe K. who "made" him.

After his bitter experience with the "fat" boy, who had just over night, his name appearing in the bright lights six weeks after he graduated New York, all because of his ability to put human emotion into that picture, which is the heart of the picture. The effect of the situation which is an accumulation of all special features of the picture, that without the picture, the offering is worthy of the best because, as stated, it is also a picture which is a masterpiece of the art of the picture which is a masterpiece of the art of the picture which is a masterpiece of the art of the picture.

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today — an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

The low cost of reconditioning the Model T Ford is small because of the low cost of Ford parts and the established Ford policy of charging all labor at a standard flat rate.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, rebering cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5 — rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebrused for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

Repainting runs from $10 to $25. Taking dents out of body panels and doors runs from $3 to $16 for labor. A fender can be replaced for a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. The cost of fenders runs from $3.50 to $5.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of pleasant, reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.
