CRITICAL ATTITUDE ON THE VOLSTEAD ACT

GREAT ISSUES NOW LOOMING FOR DECISION

Farm Plank Appears to Grow in Importance As Indicated by Conferences Being Held and to Be Held With Farm Leaders; Other Vital Planks Getting Consideration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The 1928 presidential battle officially was under way today, following the barrage of words and issues laid down by Herbert Hoover in his speech Saturday accepting the Republican nomination.

In nine days there will be an answering barrage by Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate. When the smoke clears away millions of private soldiers as American voters will go over the top for a personal hand in the political warfare.

They will know, then, what they are fighting for. Hoover has already tried to inform Smith will tell them something different. The voter must decide whether to remain loyal to one side or the other.

Hoover stressed in his acceptance speech the issues of farm relief, prohibition, tariff and prosperity. He explained the Republican farm plank and added that he would invite farmer, distributor and consumer to sit down with him and talk things over further.

Smith's reaction to this was laudatory. He invited farm leaders to meet with him at Albany today to discuss the position he ought to take in his own acceptance speech. Smith has already proposed the equalization provision of the McNary-Hauman bill and he wants to advocate something definite in the place that will appeal to the farm vote.

For Dry Modification.
The Smith is not a proponent over prohibition matter. He already has ideas of dry law modification that he wants to set forth in his acceptance speech and devoted a portion of his address to this question. The prohibition candidate, however, is not a 15th amendment man, and without specifically mentioning the Volstead act, opposed such temperance reform.

The Republican nominee emphatically repeated that he is not actively seeking to make this an issue; but it is believed Smith will not accept a strict anti-liquor law.

A great portion of Hoover's address praised the nation's prosperity under the Republican rule. He said the slogan was not a full dinner pail, but additional comforts for already contented citizens.

But he expected to take a tip from the New York World in replying there to the World, a Democratic newspaper, that the world is paying a false tribute to the Republicans, that the American people are not satisfied with the present administration, and that the American people will continue under any president.

Great interest in Hoover's acceptance speech might be called "copy." Republican newspapers feel that the speech declares that Hoover is paying false tribute to the Republicans, that the American people are not satisfied with the present administration, and that the American people will continue under any president.

Included in the group were several well known Republicans from the agricultural belt. They were Earl Smith of Hillaola and Frank W. Murphy of Minnetonka, were delegates to the Republican national convention.

It was said that the conference would extend over several hours and that a statement probably would be made at its conclusion.

Bandits Get Away With $10,000-Swag In Seattle Hold-up

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13.—Two unmasked bandits admitted apprehensions Saturday night when they held up two collectors outside the main office of the Bremer-Kearney Company man-of-war in the heart of the city and made a safe getaway.

The collectors, J. H. Hoffman and H. P. Brantman, had just finished their rounds collecting receipts of Saturday and Sunday from 22 of the company stores.

The bandits, dressed in civilian clothes, forced the collectors to walk down the street under pain of death if they were in an alarm or attempted to run.

TERRIFIC GALE LASHES WEST COAST OF NEW JERSEY

Wind Reaches Velocity of 90 Miles An Hour Off Coast of New Jersey.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—With constant gusts along the Jersey coast were attempting to obtain accurate check of the damage done to eastward shipping by yesterday's gale, only one death had been reported as a result of the storm, which in some places reached a 90-mile velocity.

Frank Finn of Boston, a brother-in-law of Oscar Hammett, was drowned about 10 miles from the Jersey coast. The body was found at Great Neck, L. I., when a small boat in which he and his companions were attempting to reach shore, was overturned.

It was feared several persons were drowned. In Delaware a lifeboat crew rescued a man who was clinging to the rigging of a sunken tugboat. His identity was not known and it was feared that other members of the crew were drowned.

Meanwhile coast guardmen awaited high tide in refueling many ships among them the British steamer "Athelberg," which was stranded near the Jersey coast. The crew was rescued during the height of the storm.

NULLIFICATION WOULD NOT BE COUNTENANCED

Republican Candidate Explains Proposed Program of Investigation by Carefully Selected Commission Composed of All Shades of Thought, to Report on Eighteenth Amendment.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 13.—Herbert Hoover will make a speech in the East in October further amplifying his dry stand on the prohibition issue, but until that time he will stand on his unconditional endorsement of the 18th amendment and its enforcement laws, the United Press learned today on supreme authority.

The Republican presidential nominee now has nothing to add to the remarks made in his speech of acceptance when he announced he would, if elected, present, institute a searching investigation of the 18th amendment, "grave abuses" in regard to prohibition.

The confidential advice which newspapermen received from a close friend of the nominee said Hoover was not to be misled by the Volstead act, nor be construed as "weakening" the 18th amendment of the candidate. It was said on this subject.

In his acceptance speech Saturday, Hoover said any enforcement modification which would result in a constitutional prohibition in nullification and such will not be countenanced by the public.

Proposed Investigation.
In the Eastern speech Hoover will explain that his proposed investigation would be conducted by a carefully selected commission, representing every phase of the issue. College professors, sociological experts, women church leaders, business men, labor and enforcement authorities, would be represented on the commission, he believes.

If the commission should hold that the Volstead act is "unworkable" Hoover would stand by the 18th amendment, according to highest authority on the subject here.

He does not, however, intend to appoint the commission with that idea in view. The investigation will be directed by Hoover, who will be assisted by a number of men in his speech or to leave the subject open for any interpretation that "wishes" to be made. Hoover is believed in the light of the existing situation, he directed his remarks on the subject to the thought of soundly endorsing prohibition, the same authority previously mentioned is found for his statement.

Honorary Announcements.
The itinerary of the journey of the candidate back to Washington was announced today. He will leave here at 10 p. m. Thursday night for Santa Barbara, arriving there at 8 a. m. Friday. He will leave Los Angeles Friday night and go to the Santa Fe to Kansas City. If all proceed, Hoover will leave there for his birth place at West Branch, Iowa, arriving a week from tomorrow morning. He will then have a day and at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by two days before proceeding directly to Washington, where he is due back here late on August 21.

RICHFIELD MAN DIES IN POOL; HEART FAILURE

A. D. Draper, 49, Taken Out of Easley Hot Spring After Search.

(Special to The Times)
HAMILTON, Aug. 13.—The body of A. D. Draper, 49, of Richfield, was pulled from the pool at Easley Hot Springs late Sunday afternoon. He had entered the pool about half an hour before with a companion, R. W. Pedmore.

His wife, Mrs. Evelyn Draper, soon phoned this office and was accompanied with whom he was acquainted to dive in and look for him. The first failure to locate him, but Harry Pedmore soon found the body of Mr. Draper floating in water one and a half miles from the bottom.

The body, very badly decomposed, was brought out of the pool and strenuous efforts to resuscitate him were made by two Red Cross nurses who happened to be at Easley's and a corps of volunteer workers.

Dr. Emory of Rupert, spending a short time at Easley, was summoned and his work went on for one and a half hours up to his direction, in the meantime, the body was kept in a pool at a depth of eight and one-half feet.

It was the opinion of both Dr. Draper and Dr. Shirte that Mr. Draper was dead when taken from the pool, death being attributed to heart failure. Mr. Draper, who was a fair swimmer, had eaten his meal and gone in swimming, soon after. The fact that no water was fanned from his lungs was rather proof that death was not due to drowning.

Mr. Draper, for 20 years a resident of Richfield, was a rural mail carrier. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Winthrop, 13, and Alford, 8.

In communication this morning with Dr. Wright, coroner at Idaho Falls, it was stated that it was thought necessary to hold an inquest in view of the medical opinion which had been expressed at the time of the accident.

CAN REPUBLICANS BREAK SOLID SOUTH BECAUSE OF SMITH GREAT POLITICAL PROBLEM OF CONTEST

All-Absorbing Topic of Discussion in Political Life of Country.

(Editor's Note: Herewith the United Press presents the first of a series of articles on the political situation in the South growing out of the candidacy of Governor Smith. These articles were written from material gathered from each State in the South by the United Press staff writer in Washington and a thorough student of the subject.)

By THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent
The political situation about to produce a break in the Southern States, away from traditional Democratic allegiance, is being analyzed by some political observers. It would very likely have a profound effect on the political life of the country as a whole.

It is this reason, as well as for the immediate and vital effect of such a political change, that the next president of the United States, political philosopher and the man to the front in defining the possibilities.

The Solid South, so-called, has been the center of the political life of the United States since the Civil War. Democratic presidential nominees ever worried about the South as the "backbone" of their support. It is the South that has remained Democratic, though a section pronounced itself independent and with a political philosophy frequently different from that of the candidates who have carried its standards.

A White Man's Party
Its strong allegiance through the years would be a puzzle to the student of political movements, except that the reason has been obvious.

The South, with its overwhelming Democratic majority, has been the mainstay of the Democratic party since the Civil War. In the South a white man's party, known as the "White Man's Party," has been organized to support the Republican party after the war.

For several years after the Civil War the South was a political center of negro participation in its politics which it did not like, and it has been the mainstay of the Democratic party since the Civil War. ## ANITA WHITNEY IN LEADERSHIP OF COMMUNISTS

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—With Anita Whitney, widely known California radical, as its standard bearer and candidate for United States senator, the Workers Communist Party today received for nationwide national education campaign.

Mrs. Whitney was the center of a civil liberties fight which attracted world-wide attention when she was sentenced to a three-month term in the San Francisco criminal syndicalism law in 1920.

She was pardoned in June, 1927, by Gov. C. Young.

She is believed to be the principal force in the principles for which the Workers Party stands, Mrs. Whitney declared today.

"This campaign will not be a mere party affair," she said.

The party plans to have a "show-up" of the "world's capitalist system and the establishment everywhere of the dictatorship of the proletariat on the basis of true economic principles."

POSSIBILITIES SMITH-STRATON DEBATE WANING

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Chances of a debate between Governor Smith and John H. Straton on Straton's charges that Smith was the standard for the nation's progress in the country, appeared more remote today after the publication of a statement by the Democratic presidential candidate.

Straton made his charges in a column of Calvary Baptist church, and in challenging the pastor to hold such a debate in the church details were held in the church yesterday.

Straton said he would not hold such a debate in the church. Such a debate would "leave us in a false position, before the world and would cause damage to many churches and hearts both in Protestant and Catholic lands," he said.

ASKS ELECTORS' CONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENTS

W. D. Gillis Says Few Voters Know of the Proposed Amendments.

Voters of Idaho as a whole do not realize that at the November 6 election they were called upon to vote upon eight amendments to the constitution of the state of Idaho, said W. D. Gillis of Ellettsville.

Mr. Gillis has served three terms at the legislature, the last two terms as speaker of the House. "The most important of the amendments, he said, was that increasing the length of the term of governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, mining inspector and secretary of state, to four year terms instead of the present two year terms.

This amendment has been given the most prominent place in the program of the political leaders of the state. It is thought that the terms of office were just long enough to familiarize the incumbents with the prescribed duties before another election came around and another group of candidates took their place. The two year term does not work for the best and most efficient service, he thought.

Among other amendments are those which would make the pay of the legislators from $5 per diem to $10 per diem. Legislators maintain that they would hardly cover the expenses of the trip to the capital.

Two proposed amendments would allow state and county officials to receive their pay monthly instead of quarterly as is now the custom. This amendment would not raise the pay of anyone, but would increase the number of pay periods.

Leaving of educational funds will also be a matter for consideration in the form of an amendment to the state constitution. The amendment would enlarge the field for loaning funds. An amendment to amend the present system of the collection of taxes and provide what is considered by many as a better collection system.

Another amendment would create the control of unappropriated water for power purposes. Another amendment would make it possible for the legislature to fix the salaries of county officers. At present the salaries are definitely defined and allow for no changes. Increasing salaries caused by growth of counties in various places is considered the cause of the institution of this amendment.

Mr. Gillis stated that in his opinion the voters should give these amendments due consideration before the election and know what they were voting for when they voted. The state will have some of the most important amendments published later for the collection of the voters, he said.

Highest Approval

All the world's a stage, but a lot of us must work behind the scenes. We see the smiles of the crowd, and sometimes the frowns. But we really do not miss much. People are often as ready with their handclapping when a star performs as when an artist endeavors to charm them. The best kind of approval is the sense of having done well, a north-wind's caress.

Origin of Cricket

Cricket, like many of the other popular games in this country, originally hailed from the East. It came to this country from France in the Middle Ages, and the name itself is derived from the French word "cricket," which means "the wooden stick used in the game of bowls."

UNITED STATES TO BE HOST AT NEXT OLYMPIAD

United States Nineteenth Olympiad Closed As Champions Are Given Their Prizes.

By FRANK GETTY, United Press Sports Editor

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13.—The great brick stadium, the Stadio Olimpico, and the banks were deserted today as Olympic athletes from a score of more nations started home.

Forty thousand persons at the stadium yesterday saw the ninth Olympiad brought to a close. And as has been the custom for the past few years, the United States team received the greatest portion of the prizes.

The various Olympic champions were called to the royal box to receive the Olympic awards. The champions were given gold medals, the second place winners received silver medals while the third place winners received bronze medals. Twenty-two United States athletes received the championship.

Germany was second in the championship, receiving 11 first prizes, Finland and Holland received each each while Italy was seven.

After the prizes had been awarded, the president of the International Olympic committee announced that the ninth Olympiad was closed and he invited the "royal" of all countries to participate in the next Olympiad—Los Angeles in 1932.

The United States carried off 54 prizes in all, including 22 first, 17 seconds and 15 thirds.

Despite the failure of the American athletes to come up completely to expectations, they easily led the contestants of other nations for the premier. They led in the important track and field events, in swimming and in rowing.
