TENNIS FINALS TO BE BETWEEN THE TWO HELENS

California First State to Produce Finalists in Seventh Years.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The first time in 17 years California has produced two singles finalists, Helen Wills and Helen Jacobs, for the nation women's tennis championships.

Jealous as two state stars of each other, the two Helens from the West were to match their strokes for the American women's championship at the West Side Tennis club today. Helen Wills is the only woman in the past 19 years who has won the title who was not from California.

Almost without a flaw in her game, Miss Wills was highly favored to defeat Miss Jacobs in two straight sets and secure her fifth championship in six years. Miss Wills defeated the title in 1925 because of illness, but came back last year to win it for the fourth time.

No keener rivalry exists between any present day tennis athletes between California's two Helens, although born in the same state and having established when Miss Jacobs lived in Berkeley, the two tennis stars hardly speak to each other.

Even in international competition the members of the Wightman team the two Helens have warmed up to each other. Helen Jacobs is living in California and can conquer Helen Wills, but that day is far in the future.

The doubles finalists are Miss Wills and Hazel Hotchkin Wightman against Mrs. L. A. Harmon, Los Angeles, and Edith Cross, San Francisco. Mrs. Wightman, Boston, is the only one of the six finalists not from California.

Winning Pennants Is His Habit

By HARRY PERGISON. (United Press Staff Correspondent) Bill McKechnie can't keep from winning pennants.

Now that he is at the helm of the St. Louis Cardinals, the Red Hirtle is offering strong odds that some day certain to land him in the World Series.

McKechnie started his winning ways while in Pittsburgh when he took a team that had been finishing in the back season and made it into the most successful aggregation that the Smokey City fans have ever seen.

Germany Is First of 14 Nations to Sign Names to Anti-War Agreement

Historic Document Sponsored by Kellogg Is Signed Today in Great Clock Room of the French Foreign Office, the Quai d'Orsay, Where Versailles Treaty Ending the World War Was Negotiated; Cameras and Phonographs Record Ceremony for Whole World.

By United Press
PARIS, August 27.—Representatives of world powers agreed to renounce war today.
As a simple ceremony, solemn and business-like, foreign ministers and delegates of 14 nations affixed their names to a document which pledges them against wars of aggression and denounces war as a national policy.

The signing took place in the great clock room of the French foreign office, the Quai d'Orsay, where the Versailles treaty ending the World War was negotiated.

Stresemann signed the treaty at 3:45 p. m., while the assembly appointed by the treaty.

Stresemann was followed in alphabetical order by the representatives of the other nations, who arose from their places when called.

Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state of the United States signed at 5:47 p. m. and also was applauded. He was nervous but happy as he affixed his signature.

Agreement Made on Arms Manufacture

By United Press
GENEVA, Aug. 27.—Agreement on the draft of a convention to control the private manufacture of arms signed here today.

The United States had insisted that the convention should also include the prohibition and control of government production of war materials.

The letter was written by the American minister in the spirit of conciliation. It announced that Japan will draw her opposition to the American plan in the spirit of conciliation.

CLERGYMEN TO OFFER PRAYER

By United Press
GENEVA, Aug. 27.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and York have decided to make the signature of the anti-war treaty the occasion for prayer and thanksgiving in parish churches throughout the Kingdom.

The treaty, as the American secretary of state has wisely warned, may not immediately finally settle all war from the earth, but it will be the most impressive declaration ever made by mankind.

Honeymooners Said to Seek Damper Side of World-Famous Cataract.

By United Press
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The "fascination" of the upper rapids descend with a roaring splash over the brink of Niagara Falls and round on the rocks below has lured the largest number of visitors that ever came here during the "honeymoon season."

But to the guides and the committee operating the "honeymoon" business the visitors might have as well be hounded at home as far as their honeymoon are concerned.

"The honeymoon here will tell you that their business is in the hands of the honeymooners," says one of the guides. "It is almost impossible to operate without losing money."

One of the guides, who in former years claimed that his average daily receipts were $75, offered this explanation:

"In other years," he said, "I used to make an average of $15 a day. Now I will not get an average of $15 a day. The reason is that the honeymooners from America, Canada and elsewhere, they come here on the American side, take a look at the dam and then go to the Canadian side."

"Many hotels, restaurants and way-side inns on the Canadian side of the Falls in Ontario province are doing a land-office business, principally due to the fact that the honeymooners do not need a government permit. The alcohol, however, and without permit contains an alcoholic volume not exceeding 44 per cent."

"An alcoholic content of 9 and 12 per cent can only be purchased by permit, as is the wine with other intoxicating liquors. Wine is also sold without a permit, initially at 41 a bottle."

WIDER STREETS BEST SOLUTION TRAFFIC EVILS

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—More and traffic congestion in New York and wider streets is the solution for other American cities, Irving T. Bush, president of the Bush Terminal company, writes in the North American Review for September.

"Within the metropolitan district of New York," he writes, "there is a population much greater than any other American city with which I am familiar," writes Bush, "there is abundant room for increase of population, but the population is not increasing as fast as it should."

"It is well known that a much greater number of square feet of floor space than now exists could be provided in Manhattan, New York, by the erection of six stories for building were provided. It is also true that we could develop a large part of Manhattan to a height of 10 stories if we were established."

"Each of these things may seem absurd, but somewhere between them there is an intelligent medium."

Old Indian Chief Holds Last Rodeo

By United Press
FALLS CITY, Neb., Aug. 27.—An 80-year-old Indian chieftain has seen his last rodeo swing into progress with hundreds of Indians from other tribes participating.

"For nearly a score of years Chief White Cloud has conducted an annual 'educational' rodeo." He has taken pride in the claim that "his rodeo" is the only one of its kind featuring the Indians of America before the advent of white settlers.

But the old chief brought together his rodeo equipment for the last time this year. "He doesn't know how long he will live," he said, "but he is satisfied he will not continue his enterprise another season."

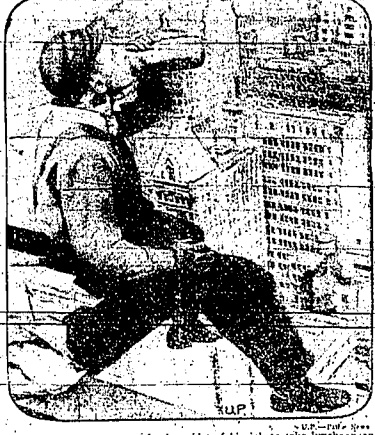

Stimulated by White Cloud's announcement that he is through with the rodeo business, the affair this year was one of the old Indian's greatest. From Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska members of the various tribes assembled to take part in the last "rodeo."

"Hundreds of Indian warriors with their squaws and their ponies assembled to do their part, lose every possible cent of the money and take a well-earned part in the celebration of Chief White Cloud's retirement."

ANOTHER DELIGHTFUL CONTRIBUTION ON IDAHO'S RIVERS.

"Every river has its individuality, its great silent interest, its influence over the people who live within sight of its waters." (Scott's "The Sowers.")

Byron Deffenbach, state treasurer, contributes another delightful article on the rivers of Idaho, this time choosing the Kootenai. The story of the Kootenai is delightfully written and filled with matter of educational and sentimental interest. It follows:

"This stream has its sources in the Canadian Rockies, and flowing through Northwestern Montana reaches the line of Boundary county, Idaho, near the town of Leonal. It has characteristics which distinguish it from any other stream in the United States, one of which is its marked variation in fall.

"From its source to Bonners Ferry much of it is a rapid and violent stream, but from that point across the northern line and to the Canadian lakes it falls only 6 feet in 128 winding miles. This peculiarity of river bed, combined with a narrow outlet at the lakes, results in extremely high water in the spring freshets. The valley containing this almost stagnant stretch is wide and low and filled by the floods of past ages with a soil of great depth and fertility. Much of the flat is being reclaimed by dikes.

"The highest water in the known history of the Kootenai was in June, 1894, when the stream rose some 35 feet and Canadian measurements show a discharge of 201,000 second feet. The volume of such a current is hard to comprehend.

"Imagine a ball of water, over 70 feet in diameter, rolling down a street between six-story buildings; it would just about fit. Picture a string of such balls passing by, one every second, moving 48 miles per hour.

"Such a flood would fill the American Falls reservoir, the largest artificially impounded lake in the world, to its fullest capacity, in less than 5 days.

"The Upper Kootenai and its tributaries are typical western trout streams; the big slow-flowing stretch contains few food fishes except the sturgeon, a sluggish and repulsive bottom-feeder frequently weighing as much as 300 pounds.

"Long reaches of the Kootenai are navigable for steamers of considerable size. The stream leaves Idaho at the state's narrowest point and proceeds through the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes in Canada to the Columbia. "It is a river to be amazed at, and to be proud of."

IDAHO FACED WITH A SERIOUS PROBLEM IN HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION.

Running the risk of being accused of placing too much emphasis on the importance of highway construction in this State, The Times once again ventures to discuss a project that is of vital importance to Idaho at large and particularly to this immediate section:

In last Friday's issue of The American Falls Press appears the following editorial paragraph:

"While the controversy between the north and south side towns over the proposed new highway to Minidoka has been in progress, the State highway department seems to have suspended all operations on the Old Oregon Trail west of American Falls. At the present time the condition of the road is the worst that it has been in years. As the Old Oregon Trail carries the bulk of Idaho's east-and-west tourist traffic, it is giving the state a lot of exceedingly undesirable advertising. There is still time for the State highway department to bestir itself and make needed improvements, without waiting further for the designation of the new road."

The last heard from Highway Commissioner Joe D. Wood was that he was prepared to proceed with two projects to be known as the north and south branches of Federal highway No. 30, the present Oregon Trail dividing two miles south and two miles west of Barley at a turn now familiar to all motorists. Minidoka business men who have made the trip by automobile from this point to American Falls over the present route of the Old Oregon Trail through Deelo and the Raft River country state that this route is approximately twelve miles longer than the proposed route. This route leaves the same point and proceeding through Barley and Rupert and about half way to Minidoka, turns eastward along the north shore of the Minidoka dam and Lake Walcott until it reaches the right-of-way of the Union Pacific railway, following the railway into American Falls.

The Times long ago urged that the residents of this section of the State get together in agreeing to the project of surfacing both highways because of the great good that would be sure to come to all the communities served.

It would be a great thing for the Chambers of Commerce and the Boards of Trade of the towns interested to immediately get together in endorsement of this program.

No matter how important you may be, you're just "Ho-Jack" to the lunchman counterpart.—The Danbury Evening News.

Other Viewpoints

THE MAIL INCREASES LIVEFOLD.

(Spokane Spokesman-Review)
Estimate of the postoffice department are that air mail this year will show nearly two times as heavy a load for the year ended June 30, 1927, looking that 12-month period, 375,102 pounds of air mail were carried in June alone of this year, 209,750 pounds were carried and the total for the year is expected to amount to 2,500,000 pounds. The June increase was 100 per cent, as compared to nearly 100,000 pounds of mail.

Air mail, a recent report shows, is now on a regular, dependable basis. Twenty air mail routes are now in operation, covering more than 10,000 miles and linking up all the principal centers of the country. The air mail schedule is making better than 500 miles a month. In May, for instance, 618,175 miles actually were flown. This demonstrates the efficiency of the air route. The contractors that month were paid $125,250.

The West, relatively, is supporting the air mail better than the rest of the country. The Chicago-Chicago route led them all in June, carrying 22,325 pounds and the Chicago-Salt Lake City route stands next with 22,650 pounds. The Pacific-Salt Lake City route stands next with 22,650 pounds.

A recently appeared map is enlightening. It shows that Spokane is one of the few centers without established routes are within easy flying distance. Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and Puget Sound have direct air service.

Spokane leads them all in aviation interest and the development of its airport and air modern plant and facilities are rapidly being completed. The air mail connection is an immediate need that demands aggressive action.

LINDBERGH'S INCOME.

(Public Capital News)
Treasury department estimates General Charles A. Lindbergh's earnings during the past six months at approximately $200,000. That is a pretty fair sort of income—one that even a heavyweight prize fighter might be proud of. And the flying colonel, to our way of thinking, has earned every dollar of it. He is not bragging to know that such a chap as Lindbergh, who scammed the clouds, can't be exploited and a deaf ear to the publicity agents and the publicity department. He has made it very plain that he does not desire to be a money tree. In it, he can reap a golden reward. In the name, there will be no more money. He will be satisfied if he can make it to him.

EMPLOYED AND EMPHIRE.

(New York Evening Post)
The British Industrial Transference board has reported in their report that 2,000,000 British unemployed must be moved to other countries if they are to be employed. The board has to go quite as far in financial means to get the cost from the money market. From the standpoint of the unemployed, the board's report is a relief. Those who stayed behind can only wish that Great Britain will be the solution of this very thorny problem. She seems to be adjusting herself to the times and to the people of the old order, and she will continue her adaptability and realism.

ONE WAY TO GET MOVING.

(New York Evening Post)
We have heard a good deal about "fast" eggs, but the Tribune, Alton, Kan., says just a step farther than most with:

"The county streets will be cleared for an ordinary traffic to all business men who do not advertise. Little things, Delinquent advertisers will be fined. The county will get a fine for an ordinary traffic. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive no kind of a benefit as we are capable of writing about any charge whatsoever. For send in your advertisements, as the editor is ahead in the land."

WARMS MOTORISTS.

(Herald)
Motorists should be warned against the almost fatal practice of shifting worn car tires to the front wheels with the idea of giving up the rear. When the rear tire explodes the driver has a fair chance of keeping control of his car, but when the front tire bursts, the result is almost certain to be serious, particularly if the machine is traveling fast. The danger is increased through the use of the "bellows" with its rim of smaller diameter.

Daily Poem

THE MORNING HIGHWAY.

This is a morning never to forget
The time while the road lay up to meet the sun.
The morning's hush—hithering,
The outcroppings thin like—just
A wheat field's golden dream drifting by.

The shining corn-blades pass and in a wisp of smoke
God sends a poem sharp against the sky.
With sunlight on an orange-blossomed bird.

The morning is so fresh and sweet and young,
It surely must remain thin of the day.

It rumbled on the new green earth and thus
It will be for the coming years to come, we'll hold the soil and thus that rim.
Such a hearted journey to the end.

TENNIS FINALS TO BE BETWEEN THE TWO HELENS

California First State to Produce Finalists in Seventeen Years

FORREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—For the first time in 17 years California has produced two finalists for the national women tennis championships.

Jeading no two-helen stars of each state in the 160 States from the Golden West were to match their strokes for the American women's championship at the West Side Tennis club here today. Both girls morning threatened to cause a further postponement.

No other state ever has produced the two finalists, although Moffa Mulry of New York is the only woman in the past 19 years to be crowned the title in 1925 because of illness, but came back last year to win it for the fourth time.

No keener rivalry exists between any present-day athletes than between California's two Helenas. Both born in the same state and almost neighbors who Miss Jacobs trained in Berkeley, the two finalists were hardly speak to each other.

Even in international competition as members of the Wightman cup team the two Helenas have never warmed up to each other. Helen Jacobs is living off the day when she can conquer Helen Willis, but that may be far away.

The doubles finalists are Miss Willis and Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman against Mrs. L. Harnett, Los Angeles, and Ethel Carr, San Francisco. Mrs. Wightman, Boston, is the only one of the six finalists not from California.

Winning Pennants Is His Habit

Even Money Bet On Tonight's Bout

On Tonight's Bout

By United Press
 SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Even money was the odds offered today on the Mickey Walker-Armond Emmanuel rebound here tonight, which was better odds offered slight odds on Walker, middleweight champion.

Emmanuel, San Francisco, held heavy weight, had a strong following, among sports spectators.

The bout will be a 10-round affair with Walker scaling about 161 and Emmanuel expected to weigh 155 pounds.

Acc. Huddins, the "Nebraska Wildcat," will challenge the winner.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero, the Pittsburgh branch of the season in the tenth inning gave the Robbing a 3 to 2 victory over the San Francisco, Carl Hubbell, New York rookie slugger, won, held the Indians in seven innings but weakens today.

Brooklyn tied the score.

The St. Louis Cardinals led the Philadelphia Phillies over the Giants 10 to 4.

The Cincinnati Reds made three double plays in defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 2, including the season's total 159. Horace Ford accepted 13 chances at shortstop.

Chicago's first baseman, who caught three runs in the Chicago Cubs beat the Boston Braves, 6 to 2.

Philadelphia's pitcher, who pitched for the Cubs who drew nearer the second place Giants.

Washington's pitcher, who pitched the Washington Senators from sixth to fourth place in the American league.

Chicago's pitcher, who pitched the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 1. Braxton gave up but six hits.

ALL IN READINESS FOR OPENING OF SCHOOL YEAR IN TWIN FALLS

Teachers' Meetings to Be Held Saturday, Sept. 8, in High School.

School opens Monday, Sept. 9. The buildings and equipment for operation of the schools are in readiness. All teachers have been notified of the teachers' meeting to be held Saturday, Sept. 8, at 8 a. m. in the high school.

Early enrollment is very important. All pupils should be in attendance the first day of school. In some cases, pupils make the mistake of waiting until the school has been in session a week before enrolling. This is a mistake as the most important period of the school year is the first month. All schools will accept the first day of school and enrollment will be made.

PLAN IN OPERATION

The following plan of high school enrollment will be operative: The senior class will enroll in the high school Friday, Wednesday morning, September 5, at 2 o'clock. The junior class will enroll Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sophomores will enroll on Thursday morning, September 6, at 2 o'clock. Freshmen and members of the 8-A class, who will have no more attendance records, will enroll this year will enroll Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Students enrolling in the Twin Falls Junior or senior high school for the first time will enroll on Monday morning. Students from other districts should have all credits earned in those districts forwarded to the principals of the city by Sept. 2.

Junior High School.

Students of this high school will assemble in the gymnasium of the high school for a brief assembly Monday morning, September 10, at 9 o'clock.

Children in grades 1 to 5 inclusive will enroll in the various grade buildings Monday morning, September 10. Those children entering school for the first time and who are not in the 1-5 grade, should not come until Tuesday morning, September 11. This will enable the principals to determine to give more attention to the older pupils in the grade buildings on Monday and also more attention to the new pupils when they start on Tuesday. All pupils who enroll in grades 1 to 5 will report to their respective grade school buildings, except 5A, 5B and 5C, who will report to the high school.

Part of the junior high school principals' office on Monday, September 10.

About teachers.

Beginning pupils in order to be received in the fall term, must be at least six years of age or over before Nov. 10, 1928. It is deemed necessary to enroll the pupils in the fall term before the first three weeks of school unless they have previously been in attendance. The reason for this is that the child entering later than three weeks will not only be seriously handicapped in starting his first school year, but it will work a hardship on the child who enters on time.

Text book changes.

Text books used this year will in general be the same as those used last year. The only change made in the readers. The State Board of Adolton replaced the Beacon reader with the Pathway series. Twin Falls will conform to the State board and all children in the 1 to 5 grades will receive the Pathway series instead of the Beacon readers, except in the "A" classes of these grades. Those children who purchase the Beacon reader while in the "B" class of their respective grades last year will continue to use the Beacon reader in the first class this year should purchase the Pathway readers.

Every reasonable effort will be made to assist pupils and parents in securing text books and materials. At the least cost. All pupils in the elementary grades will receive a list of text books and materials. Parents are urged to secure an extra copy of the school official. Every effort will be made to assist pupils in exchanging books or materials with other pupils in the city. Exchanges will be conducted the first week of school in each building.

Transportation System.

The transportation system will remain the same as last year. As routes are concerned, the routes will be arranged so that pupils will receive the early trip first and will be on the late trip this year. Thus, those children who arrived at school at 8 o'clock last year will arrive at 8:45 this year. While those who arrived at 8:45 last year will arrive at 8:30 this year. The same change will be made in carrying the children home in the afternoon.

New classes have been organized in the junior high school. The subjects offered last year will be offered this year and in addition to music, science, art, manual training, agriculture and junior business methods will be offered this year in the junior high school. The high school new classes will be organized in journalism, sociology, commercial law, arithmetic, commercial law and ethics in addition to those offered last year.

Graders in line.

The sixth grade students and fifth grades of the Bickel and Lincoln schools all report to the Bickel school, where all rooms have been equipped for their attendance. The plan for this change was to provide better rooms for these students as well as to eliminate the long and narrow basement rooming in the Lincoln and Bickel buildings. These arrangements will result in a better school for the children and the organization of the new classes will be organized as they would have received had they attended at the Lincoln or Bickel buildings.

Following is the list of assignments:

W. B. Smith, superintendent of city school; W. C. Terry, principal, first high school; Vera C. Larson, principal, junior high school; Dennis M. Pedersen, principal, Lincoln school; Ethel H. Hapgood, principal, Bickel school; Hazel McHaffey, principal, Bickel school; Mrs. A. J. Stewart, principal, Bickel school; Mrs. A. J. Stewart, principal, Bickel school; Mrs. A. J. Stewart, principal, Bickel school.

Mysterious Midnight Prowler Barely Escapes Apprehension Here Sunday

Twin Falls has a baffling mystery. An early morning prowler has been skulking about the residences in the many additions to the city, frightened the wits of the houses and even thwarting all attempts to apprehend him. The prowler has been seen in various parts of the city at various times during the past month. He appears in many sections of the city seldom appearing in the same locality on consecutive nights.

Reports as to the activities of this mystery man have shown no fleeing, dancing or molestation, save his appearing at windows and peering in windows, lurking in shadows and shadowed reflection in the moon.

Whether the man may be a burglar or not has not been particularly as to his house he examines. He has appeared at the home of one Mrs. J. J. Brown on Sunday night. He was seen at the home of the prominent judge and early Sunday morning he was crawling around the home of Dr. H. W. Clouche at 327 Fifth avenue east.

About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning a neighbor of Mr. Clouche was awakened by the furious barking of a dog. The noise came from his window and saw a beam from a flashlight darting here and there through the open window of the Clouche residence. The neighbor hastily dressed and went to the house. He saw the prowler in the window and called the police officers were then called. Dr. Clouche had heard the same noise about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, trying to crawl to the basement, which did not take up all the ground beneath the house. When the police arrived the prowler had disappeared. Had Dr. Clouche been in the house at that time he would have seen the prowler in the window. Investigation showed that the man had entered the window in the foundation, apparently contemplating crawling into the house. The ground under the house had been dug up and the man had taken a small can of kerosene with him. The prowler was seen in the basement of the Clouche residence. The man was seen in the basement of the Clouche residence. The man was seen in the basement of the Clouche residence.

SCOTLAND YARD WANTS TO END CHICAGO CRIME

British Police Say They Could, With Full Powers, Clean Up City in Week.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Granted that "the Bill Thompson could annihilate King George's nose, if he got the chance, could Scotland Yard even remark on showing up Chicago police force, if it got the chance?"

Scotland Yard thinks it could.

Given the same freedom of action and power to adopt the drastic methods that characterize American police, said one of the Scotland Yard detectives, "a few old soldiers from the Plymouth Squad could clean up Chicago in a week."
