BOLIVIAN PEOPLE NOW PLEAD FOR WAR

Think Rupert Boy Drowned

LLOYD LING LEFT ON HUNTING TRIP EARLY SATURDAY

Search of Snake River and Cannibal Island of No Avail

SHERIFF JOINED BY STUDENTS IN HUNT

Dead Duck and Rowboat Only Clues on Which Men Are Working

RUPERT, Dec. 10 (UPI)—With the whereabouts of Lloyd Ling, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ling, still a mystery after a country-wide search, participated in by neighbors of the boy's family and many of his classmates who entered the entire area from Rupert to Diecio, and included the drainage of the Snake River for some distance, authorities said yesterday they had proved little early this afternoon.

Fear was expressed that the boy had been caught in the dangerous undercurrents of the river and drowned. There is also a possibility that he may be somewhere on Cannibal Island, a plot of ground which has never been far from the boy's home, which is thickly covered with underbrush, though a thorough census of this region had already been made. Students and men who had been away from home were discredited by his parents who stated that the boy was not discontented and had no desire to run away for his leaving home.

Left Saturday

The lad left home unaccompanied Saturday morning on a hunting trip. When he did not return at nightfall, his parents became alarmed for his safety and notified the police and the sheriff of his unexplained absence. A searching party was formed, headed by Sheriff Spidle, and the entire district about the lad's home thoroughly searched, including the surrounding fields and the river banks. By midnight numerous groups of searchers, augmented by the arrival of students, had joined in the hunt.

Throughout Sunday the parties continued their search. Driven to the river bank, Rupert and Coe revealed nothing. Early Monday morning a neck of blood hounds were added to the searching forces.

No clues

The searchers worked entirely without clues, but the finding of a dead duck and a rowboat along the river bank gave rise to the fear that Lloyd may have shot the duck down and when he went to get it broken through the ice and sank down into the water. There is no trace of the gun which he carried.

At first the searchers to Cannibal Island, where the finding of a small rowboat anchored to the island. It is believed to have been used by Lloyd on his hunting ex-

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Praises Local Weather

"You can't beat Twin Falls weather," says Twin City Clay, local manager of the American Bell Telephone Co., who recently returned to Twin Falls yesterday after attending a district meeting of express company managers in Salt Lake City. Mr. Clay said the telephone was cold in Utah. Mr. Clay particularly was impressed with the snowing made at Salt Lake City during "the blizzard" of October. While more than 2500 shipments of cereal passed through the Salt Lake City office of the express company, only 1000 were made in the same volume of advertising in this manner and Mr. Clay suggests that Twin Falls can easily sell its advertising more effectively than the great diversity of crops raised here. Beans, apples and potatoes could be used effectively in a program, he said.

Navy Sheep Shipped

Approximately 250,000 head of sheep have been moved into the Twin Falls area since the beginning of the fall shipping season, according to figures compiled by the Idaho sheep commission. Received sheep came from this state, Oregon, California, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, and Utah. The number of the imported sheep were made by Idaho sheep raisers to improve their flocks and prevent leading purchased groups in the market. The animals will remain in the state when the bulk of sheep are shipped to the west coast when feed conditions change.

New Justice District Added

The county commissioners at their regular meeting at the second justice district in Twin Falls which will provide additional court service. The second justice district, which includes parts of members of the Twin Falls bar association had petitioned for redistricting the Justice courts in Twin Falls. W. S. Mallory and J. M. Cavendar were elected Justice of the Peace in the election in November and Mallory will serve as Justice of District No. 2, and Cavendar and Judge Davis will serve in District No. 1. Davis was appointed by the commissioners to fill the newly created position.

Frank Turner on Trial.

The selection of a jury in the case of the State vs. Frank Turner, charged with shooting his wife, came this afternoon. Turner was underway in the district court room this afternoon. Turner is charged with the murder of his wife in a recent action in a police court. The state is represented by O. W. Johnson, prosecuting attorney, and Mrs. Turner's attorney, being defended by W. L. Dunn. Today marks the resumption of cases in the calendar. The next date in the district court calendar, July 1, cases were postponed during the quarantine period.

Ask Help In Locating Boy

In a letter received by U. S. Terry, principal of the Twin Falls High School, he asked help in locating Harold V. Gandy, high school student who is supposed to be in Twin Falls. "The boy is now 17 years old and has no legal or scholastic credits with very short time ago from Idaho Falls. The letter was from Mrs. H. G. Gandy, mother of E. A. McPeek, the boy's aunt, and stated that the male will remain in the state when the bulk of sheep are shipped to the west coast when feed conditions change.

Return from Elko

John C. Brundrett, agricultural agent of Twin Falls county, and M. E. Brady, wood commission court service. The second justice district, which includes parts of members of the Twin Falls bar association had petitioned for re-meeting of the Elko County Farm Bureau. Both Mr. Brundrett and Mr. Brady spoke on wood control and the future of the wood control activities in Twin Falls county have gained wide recognition.

He for Citizenship.

John Ashman of Buhl and a native of Laupersell, Switzerland and "Manner" Guerreuechbaria, also of Buhl, a native of Araceg, Italy, appeared before the magistrate in the district court for naturalization. Ashman filed his declaration of intention to apply for citizenship in the United States, Wisconsin, in 1926. Guerreuechbaria filed his declaration in Twin Falls in 1925.

Returns to Twin Falls.

Frank Turner, formerly of Twin Falls, has returned here to establish a residence here in view of his good work with the family of F. V. Varin, owner of one of his new buildings about the twentieth of this month. Mr. Varin has been ill in Hurley for the last month but says he prefers Twin Falls to any town in southern Idaho.

Richards Receives Sentence

E. W. Richards, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquors when arraigned in the district court on Friday, was sentenced to serve two months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100 by Judge W. A. Babcock in the district court this morning.

Due to the proximity of the train to the cross road, the train had reduced its speed to 10 miles per hour and was surrounded by other members of the train crew and by Mr. Watson, Signal Not Working.

It was the opinion of the station director at Elmer yesterday that the automatic signal at the crossing was not working. However, it was found out that the signals are supplied by the railroads and are not required by safety and are not required by law. The signals operate on bat teries and it was found that the batteries had run down.

Funeral Arrangements. Pending Charles H. Powell of Caldwell, son of the late Powell, died here yesterday and Mrs. Powell and relatives are expected here to attend. Pending the arrival of relatives no funeral arrangements have been announced.

The Powell family moved to Idaho Falls from Green River, Colo. He had under lease the farm of Harry Powell and had also engaged in farm trucking.

Daily PoemLINES ON A GIFT

By Fanny Headley Lee Good House-keeping

YOU said, "It's something for you," and you took my hand, and by a window down below,

Was it a gift when I gave it back? And you said, "I'll keep it, and you'll have a touch."

You said, "Shut your eyes tight." The shade was drawn.

You said, "Wait, till I speak—" You jerked it open then now? You said—and for a gift?

You gave me the moon set in a sapphire sky.

NO ONE but you could give the moon to his love.

Who wears your moon on her heart?

No one but I!

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

CHRISTMAS shopping of necessity started on a slower basis than usual this year in Twin Falls, but the throngs of shoppers in the city the past two or three days are proof that shopping was merely delayed and not prevented.

The staffs of stores undoubtedly will be called on to perform real prodigies of service in the final two weeks of the Christmas shopping season, but they will be able to appreciate at least one important cause for the lateness of shopping and so will be patient. In recognition of this special laurel the army of local clerks' "unusually good and bear" people in Twin Falls could help the situation by doing their shopping as quickly as possible. A small committee could be appointed in some little measure if local shopkeepers would make it a point to do their buying of Christmas presents during early morning hours before visitors have time to arrive from outside points. That would be an advantage to all concerned.

Stocks of Christmas goods in Twin Falls stores this year are unusually large and complete. The fact that the Magic City is the largest trading point in a big area having a radius of from 150 to 200 miles places on our merchants the responsibility of anticipating needs on such a scale as to necessitate stocks far in excess of those usually found in towns of corresponding size. The big stocks and the wide assortments are proof that Twin Falls stores have met their responsibility.

Merchandising is often considered by those who do not stop long to think about the matter as a proxy sort of activity. In reality it is always having its share of romance, and this is particularly true of Christmas goods. Gathered far and wide from all over the world, Christmas presents make up the offerings that go to fill the widely divergent needs of all sorts of people. While it may be true that many wives and children think themselves rather the sufficient subjects to buy Christmas presents for the facts in the case probably are that the buyers, both imagination, or else those selling men's goods, may not assist as much as they should in the advertising of their goods. There really is something quite acceptable for everyone.

Many comments complimentary to Twin Falls merchants have been expressed about the street holiday decorations that were put in place. The streamers of evergreens with huge Christmas bells suspended from the streamers half loops lead the suggestion of holiday spirit that is in the hearts of people and reminds us that the great day of giving and happiness is nearer than we realize.

Once upon a time there was a country so small that it didn't even have one goodwill tier.

SHIPLOADS OF SKULL CRACKERS

MOST of us realize pretty well that lawlessness is not one of our nation's leading virtues, and that the police, especially, are kept pretty busy; but did you ever hear of the wood out of which police-pot's clubs are made comes into the country in full shiploads?

Well, it does. The docks of the Biltmore, located in Brooklyn, receive ships after ship loaded with lumber, loaded with lignite, the hardest, heaviest wood obtainable—which is shipped from there to the factories, where machine sticks are made.

This wood is so heavy it will not float in water. It takes a fine polish, and is so tough that it can make an impression on the thickest skull of the toughest criminal in the country.

And the country's cops are so busy that it comes in by the shipload.

In accordance with our pre-Christmas custom of printing one alarming fact, the information is hereby disclosed that in Philadelphia there is a traffic patrolman named Sasse.

James A. Patten, so called "wheling king" who died Saturday after a brief illness, started as a farm hand and was reported to be worth millions at the time of his death. He became a power, had a lot of fun and won success. Too many young people think the days of opportunity are gone, but there are more chances for success today than when Patten started his career.

The decision of Representative Addison T. Smith as announced by him through the United Press in Washington Saturday that he has decided to retain the chairmanship of the house irrigation and reclamation committee, rather than like chairmanship of the public lands committee, is good news for Idaho. Idaho is vitally interested in the work of both of these important committees, but the Twin Falls man probably can be of more service to the state on the committee of which he is now chairman.

of the Day*FOOTBALL, SPORT OR BUSINESS

(Baker Herald)

The 1928 football season, now nearing its close, has been the most successful in the history of the game, judging by popularity interest in it, game and financial returns realized from it. Crowds were bigger than ever, the games were as good in quality as any ever seen, and gate receipts set new records. Stand after stand reported record breaking crowds. The great concrete amphitheaters which are the home of every well regulated college are unable to accommodate the vast throngs who wish to see the big games.

As a result of all this public interest football is more than a great sport; it is a great business. Winning teams attract a following that means immense receipts at the box office. Money at the box office provides a high class coaching staff, equipment and perhaps inducements to players. Thus we have the money which in victory which victories bring in the money that money is in turn used to buy things that money otherwise passes possible. You can make more profit than the business element from modern football than you could from any other sport. The business in the case probably is that the buyers, both imagination, or else those selling men's goods, may not assist as much as they should in the advertising of their goods. There really is something quite acceptable for everyone.

Many comments complimentary to Twin Falls merchants have been expressed about the street holiday decorations that were put in place. The streamers of evergreens with huge Christmas bells suspended from the streamers half loops lead the suggestion of holiday spirit that is in the hearts of people and reminds us that the great day of giving and happiness is nearer than we realize.

Once upon a time there was a country so small that it didn't even have one goodwill tier.

Engineers Expect
To Have Noiseless Plane Perfected

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Dec. 10.—The design of motors that will produce no noise whatever may soon be eliminated, army and navy chiefs said today.

Through development of a motor silent, Harry Abner, engineer with the Maxim Silencer company, exhaust noises have been practically done away with, it was reported.

A method of silencing propeller sounds is being worked out by another engineer who has a year's experience in getting through space unaccompanied by their customary roar, according to military sources.

"Autoclinics pointed out that silent planes would be of immense value in attempting surprise attacks on the enemy, since silent aircraft afford greater comfort to passengers on commercial lines.

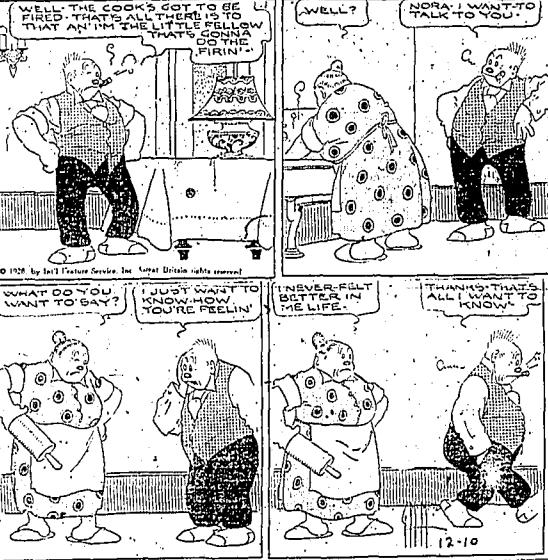

Silencing of motors need not be accomplished by enclosing them in a case, as was first thought, through a pipe containing a small metal spiral which breaks the sound waves without producing any appreciable pressure. In test flights, this device has reduced the sound of the explosion to a slight hiss, it was revealed.

GONNA TRY IT ON HER
Surprising Guests—You must come to the Johnson Electric Polisher for new gifts. All who have seen it are speechless with admiration.

Only an ostrich would try to hide behind a woman's skirt the days.

To prove that you have a true sense of humor, laugh at yourself once in a while.

When it comes to making a woman die happy, hurry up, get even!

Sher: "I feel crippled this evening."

He (not getting him) will be coming back into style.

This column is not dedicated to plucking good things about people, just do something nice and see how quickly it gets in here.

It has gone so far most amazement that everything may as well be served on a plate of lettuce and no dishes to wash.

"A charge to keep I leave" came from the Twin Falls merchant as his mark on a boy bought a present for her train and tendered the sum.

Each year one man goes down and loses one whole fare ticket and his life.

The editor said: "You can't buy a lifetime ticket for that big a price."

He replied: "If that's the best you can offer, I'll take it, for which you collect, you can use it again."

It's only with me a widow."

—PULL.

And a man speaks of his wife, wife, tearful eye, I sat and said:

Oh, I'm sorry, Mr. T. T. T., you're right and additional you're right, you're right, you're right, the top through pull?

I didn't have time to hear her say,

Then, suddenly, there comes a thought, a brilliant one,

"IT THAT'S THE WAY men get their pay."

Whereupon she has her song, her dreams,

Her dreams, her dreams, her dreams,

She pulls out and now it's done!"
