FIRE DESTROYS TRANSFER BARN

Webster Transfer Co's. Barn is Burned

FIFTEEN HEAD OF HORSES AND MILES LOST.

Not Good Start Before Discovered
Barn Was Totally Destroyed In Short Time.

The first serious fire that Twin Falls suffered since last September, occurred last Sunday evening when the Webster Transfer barn was totally destroyed and fifteen head of horses and miles were burned.

Three men sleeping in the barn discovered the fire about 10:30 o'clock and it had already gained such headway that they just escaped with their lives. Floyd Metcalf, one of the men, seeing his clothing as he ran, and not stopping to dress, was severely burned about the face and head before he could make his escape.

The firemen at the station a few blocks away, heard the cry of "fire" and without waiting for further alarm, hurried out with their wagon. However, the flames had spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to save the building nor contents. Mr. Webster, who slept in a tent nearby, hurried out at the first cry of "fire" and attempted to enter the barn but was driven back by the intense heat.

The loss on the building is about $250, with $500 insurance. Mr. Webster's loss is heavy and will total $1000 or more. He expects to continue his transfer business, however, and will resume work as soon as arrangements can be made.

Had this fire occurred in any of the adjoining blocks it doubtless would have been much more serious as quite a hazy sprang up when the fire was burning fiercely. A city of Twin Falls needs a system of street fire alarm boxes.

LODGE HOLDS MEETING.

Knights of Columbus Hold Banquet and Luncheon.

A party of fifteen Knights of Columbus from Pocatello, accompanied by the Utah State Deputy McGovern, of Salt Lake City, came to Twin Falls Sunday to initiate a class of twenty into the organization. An all-official luncheon and evening session was held and the three degrees were conferred. At 10 o'clock a sumptuous banquet was served in Union hall by the ladies of St. Edwards' parish. About 100 persons were present. Made by the Misses Barry and others were features of the evening.

On Monday, Grand Knight T. C. Murphy treated a party of fifteen to a fine trip to Lake Idaho, the Perrine ranch and the Shoshone falls.

Seed Potatoes.

I will exchange seed potatoes, Notted Gem or Early Ohio, for an equal amount delivered next fall. C. M. Hill, at office of Hill & Taylor. May 26

AN INTERESTING PHENOMENON

Halley's Comet and Total Eclipse of Moon Interesting.

The very unusual phenomenon of a total eclipse of the moon and a famous comet in the sky at the same time, was witnessed by a great many people Monday night when a total eclipse of the moon occurred while Halley's comet was plainly visible far up in the western sky. A feature of the eclipse was the fact that the moon had been through the shadow nearly all the time.

Another curious feature of this eclipse was the strange color of the moon which, once seemed almost a sort of plum color, and another time a greenish color. As the moon grew darker the comet became more distinct and a great length of tail could be seen streaming back from the head. Altogether the phenomenon was very unusual and those who did not witness the sight, probably will not have another such opportunity.

During the evening refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Grand Chancellor Shirley left Tuesday morning for Pocatello on his official visit to the "K" of P. lodge of that city.

A WISE MOVEMENT.

Relocating Facilities Bettered by Co-Operation of Business Men.

A movement, led by W. H. Eldridge, the controller, for bettering the relocating facilities, has resulted in a line of heavy posts and iron rails being placed across Main street west of Shoshone, between the Shoshone Light & Power company's building and the Pastime Pool room, making almost a block of very substantial relocating facilities in a most convenient location. The work was financed by about twelve subscribers—merchants and business men of Shoshone, who are to be heartily commended for their efforts.

Contract Is Not Let as Yet For the Building of This Big Bridge Across the Canyon.

A second big steel bridge is to be constructed near Twin Falls in the near future, this one to be across Rock Creek canyon just south of the southeast corner of town.

This steel structure will be 251 feet long and 50 feet high. The contract for the work and all preliminaries were about settled when some technical error was discovered—the boundaries were found to be wrong—and the district had to be reorganized. However, the work will soon be in hand again and operations pushed toward actual construction. This bridge will eliminate a very steep grade down into the canyon, greatly facilitating travel on that road from Twin Falls.

Leona, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentley of Clarkfork, who was operated on at the City hospital last February, is now walking around and is able to play. She will leave this afternoon for her home, accompanied by her parents.

At the time the operation was performed by Dr. C. P. Stranahan, it was found that a part of the leg bone was decayed to such an extent that it was necessary to have it removed. In its place the bone from the leg of a sheep was inserted and has grown together. The operation was an exceptionally difficult one and the successful outcome is worthy of especial mention.—Sandpoint News.

AN IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE

Combination Will Make a Strong Institution.

COMMERCIAL AND SAVINGS BANK SELL CONTROLLING INTEREST.

Farmers and Merchants Bank the Buyer—A Consolidation of Both Institutions Is Planned.

The controlling interest in the Commercial and Savings bank was sold this week to those interested in the Farmers and Merchants bank, C. A. Robinson, E. S. Chadwick and the eastern stockholders selling their interest. Neither Mr. Chadwick nor Mr. Robinson will leave town, but will devote their time to other business projects.

Mr. C. B. Willey, president of the Farmers and Merchants bank, has succeeded Mr. Robinson as cashier. There is a plan on foot to consolidate the two banks under a paid up capital stock of $100,000, retaining the local stockholders of both banks, and of conducting the business in the present building occupied by the Commercial and Savings bank. This plan has not been definitely settled, but there is every prospect that it will be.

Mr. Chadwick will be with the bank for some time until the new management becomes acquainted with its customers.

The recent report of the Commercial and Savings bank shows that its business has been more than doubled in the past ten months since the present management has had charge, and the local stockholders of both banks being prominent and reliable business men, the combination will make a strong institution.

A SIGN OF PROSPERITY.

An unusual amount of painting done this spring.

"Everything comes to those who hustle while they wait" seems to be the motto adopted by our energetic merchant, L. A. Hardy, for he has certainly been hustling this spring.

In backing up his excellent advertising, in the columns of the Twin Falls Times, the handsome window displays have proved most effective. According to a conversation with one of our reporters there has been an unusual amount of painting done in Twin Falls, Idaho, this spring. That's a sign of prosperity we're very glad to see.

This week last paint is the leader in his window. How an old scratched floor or a marred lino floor can be given a hard, scrupulous, easily-clean surface is clearly shown by the sample they display.

Hendricks Sagebrush Grubbers IN THE LEAD.

The Hendricks Grubber is the best on the market today. Our many years' experience in the field with other machines has put us in the lead. We guarantee the Hendricks Grubber in any and all kinds of sage brush. It makes an difference how thick or how large or how difficult it is for the horses to get through, the Hendricks Grubbers do the work. Every owner of a Hendricks machine is more than satisfied. We have never had a single word of complaint from any purchaser of our machines.

The Hendricks Grubbers with six horses, will clear six or seven acres per day in any kind of sage brush, and cut it out cleanly. The all steel machine at the price is equal to two ordinary machines.

We have manufactured the Grubbers from original designs in this section until the same of perfection has been reached in the machines now placed on the market. The cut of the first machine shows the solidity of the parts and it is a matter of pride with the maker that not a single purchaser has been dissatisfied with the work of the Grubbers.

The working principles of the machine are simple and strong, so that there is little chance of even an inexperienced man having trouble. The knives are placed so as to cut below the soil surface, thus taking out the toughest sage brush roots and leaving the land ready for plowing. Descriptive circulars and detailed information will be gladly given by

113,532 ACRES OPEN FOR ENTRY

President Eliminates Land From National Forests in Idaho.

The president has signed proclamations reducing four of the national forests in Idaho by a total of 113,532 acres. The largest reduction is in the Snake River forest, which loses 72,122 acres in Idaho, leaving 25,177 in Utah. The Caribou forest is reduced by 22,531 acres, of which 722 acres are in Wyoming. The Cour d'Alene is reduced by 6,600 acres, and the Pend Oreille by 1,500 acres. It is expected that eliminations from other Idaho forests will be made soon.

These eliminations are the result of a careful field examination made on all national forests by the U. S. department of Agriculture during the summer of 1909. The examinations resulted in data as to the character of lands along the forest boundaries. The object sought was to determine both lands within the boundaries which should be excluded from the forests and where outside lands should, in the interest of their best use and in accordance with the principles laid down by law for the creation of national forests, be brought within the boundaries. Since, however, increase in the national forest area of Idaho can be made by the president, the proclamations concern only the areas which have been found suitable for elimination.

The eliminations from the Minidoka forest are from all of its five divisions. The largest elimination is from the Black Pine division, where the boundary line is drawn in on three sides so as to exclude 412 sections. The larger portion of this land is classed as agricultural. It is covered with sage brush and has no merchantable timber upon it. The next largest elimination comprises 29 sections of the Raft River division, in Utah. Over half of this area is taken from the south side, where the land is extremely rough and rugged and practically without timber. The land is largely covered with sage brush, upon many of which mining prospects, upon many of which mining work is in progress. The remaining area eliminated is sage brush land on the northern boundary.

From the Cassia division 18 sections of land on the west side are eliminated. Almost this entire area is valuable. The Snake River division loses a number of small areas of agricultural lands, totaling 172 sections. On the Shoshone division the west boundary line is changed so as to eliminate 31 sections of bench land which contains no timber, nearly all of which is well suited for dry farming purposes.

The unappropriated portions of these eliminated areas will become subject to settlement and entry on such date and after such notice by publication as the secretary of the interior may prescribe. Until such publication and notice no persons are permitted to gain any rights from any settlement or occupation, and all such settlement and occupation are forbidden by the president's proclamation.

The eliminations from the Caribou national forest are mostly of lands valuable only for grazing purposes, although considerable portions can also be utilized for agriculture. Somewhat over 5,000 acres are along Shoup creek, in township 7 south, range 46 east; about 4,000 acres are along Star creek, in township 8 south, range 44 east; and about 5,000 acres are grazing land along Tin Cup creek, in township 7 south, range 44 east. These comprise the principal areas. The remaining tracts being scattered areas of agricultural and grazing lands along the exterior boundaries. The unappropriated portions of the areas eliminated are restored to the public domain, and become subject to settlement and entry under the general provisions of the homestead laws upon due notice and after the period of advertising prescribed by the secretary of the interior.

The Cour d'Alene eliminations are as follows: In T. 41 N., R. 3 W., 14 M., sections 12 and 13; in T. 41 N., R. 2 W., 14 M., section 22, and parts of sections 29 and 33; in T. 49 N., R. 3 W., 14 M., sections 9, 10, 12, section 14, N. 12 section 15, section 16, 21 and 28. The eliminations in townships 41 and 41 are at the northwest extremity of the Palouse division, and include the Cour d'Alene Indian reservation. That in township 49 adjoins Cour d'Alene lake, on the west boundary of the forest, and consists of yellow pine bench land, mainly agricultural. Practically all the land eliminated is already patented. It was found by the field examination that, aside from the land now eliminated, the areas within the forest chiefly valuable for agriculture are widely scattered small areas which can best be opened to settlement by listing under the act of June 11, 1896. It is thought that nearly if not quite all of the land of this character in the Cour d'Alene forest has already been patented for under $10 an acre.

The Pend Oreille elimination comprises sections 9 and 16, T. 62 N., R. 2 E., and the S. 1/2 of section 10, T. 62 N., R. 1 E., 14 M., and is all patented land. Whatever land chiefly valuable for agriculture lies within the Pend Oreille forest is now being brought within the boundaries but forms narrow strips within the forest. Since elimination of such strips is impracticable, agricultural development of the land can best be brought about by listings under the act of June 11, 1896. More than 6,000 acres of such lands have already been listed for entry under this act, and a considerable amount which has been applied for is still to be examined and reported upon.

President Taft's determination to keep Ballinger in as Secretary of the Interior is justly, however, to place him in a singular position before the American public. On one side he poses as the exponent of the Roosevelt policy of conservation, and was elected upon that platform. Recent utterances of President Taft celebrated such claims. Naturally the public should believe that he is for conservation. Now comes his white-wash of Ballinger, charged with complicity in one of the worst blows ever allied at conservation—the Cunningham real land steal when the evidence brought out does not clear Mr. Ballinger while it does not convict. The two positions of Mr. Taft are antipathetic and cannot be reconciled in any way. Is then Mr. Taft's conservation talk his true policy or does he by retaining Ballinger give the lie to his much quoted speeches for the policy the public wants? The common opinion of press all over the nation together with the voters, should be that Mr. Taft, along with his tariff endorsement, has forgotten Roosevelt and his policy for the furtherance of purely partisan politics.

The abundance of potatoes in and about the city of Twin Falls getting the needed impetus toward getting a potato starch factory to care for the surplus crop each year. The fact that seed potatoes are being offered everywhere upon the tract for practically nothing, should be convincing to most farmers that some home market must be created to care for what is now a shipping impossibility. Price of potatoes at market makes no difference to the railroad, which usually gets the biggest slice of the selling price for transportation. This year fewer potatoes may be put in as the result of last year's lesson with the accompanying shortage and high prices next fall. Such conditions with regard to potato crop would be regarded by a starch factory, which could be made not only to care for the surplus, thus keeping up a fair price, but could stimulate potato culture to the extent that would make conditions always normal. Stock in such a factory could be handled with only a little outside capital, almost entirely among the potato growers, who would appreciate a market in the place of annual prices one year and a corresponding slump the next. The Commercial club would do well to investigate the matter and try to get such factory located here.

Patrons of the O. S. L. passenger department at the local depot have a good big howl about the lack of accommodations. Not but what courteous treatment is accorded everyone by the agent and ticket man, but for the fact that the ticket window is closed two much of the time in order to make a trifle saving in the company's expense account, and work the ticket agent on some other railroad work. Such treatment might settle well if it were not for the fact that in the matter of Pullman reservations and special excursion rates it is impossible to get the ticket office, the telephone having been removed, to further a campaign of expense cutting by which the public pays the bill through the increased inconvenience. As a matter of common knowledge the passenger sales at this depot average over five hundred dollars daily and that such income should demand that the ticket window be open during the day.

SOME FACTS AS THEY STAND.

In view of the manner of Secretary Ballinger's answers to Mr. Brandegee's questions, it is not easy to say just what he meant to state on cross-examination. If at one time he made a statement that seemed to be clear, he would at another time make a statement that showed either that he had forgotten what he had said before, or that he had understood by it something quite different from what the ordinary person would understand by it. He did not, therefore, on the one hand, clearly make many admissions of error or misstatement, or, on the other, correct many impressions that had been created by testimony unfavorable to him. It became evident on cross-examination that Secretary Ballinger was well acquainted with a number of claimants to coal lands in Alaska known as the Cunningham group. Particularly Secretary Ballinger made it clear that he was on good terms with two or three of the more prominent men among them. He denied with feeling that any acquaintance he might have with them influenced his action as Commissioner of the Land Office in having their claims cleared for patent. He maintained the mere fact that he was acquainted with the men, which he was, the head of the field division, and Jones, a field agent, did in securing information about these claims, and went so far as to deny that he had clear-listed the claims for patent he had canceled the order for clearing-listing on account of any suggestion which Mr. Glavis had raised; and yet he could point to no reason for the cancellation of that order, an act which prevented these lands from falling into the hands of a syndicate, except the telegram and letter of Mr. Glavis. He was asked to explain coincidences between actions of Cunningham claimants and corresponding actions by the Land Office, apparently favorable to the claimants, and especially coincidences connected with telegraphic communication between himself and one of the claimants, (himself) telegraphic communication which he could not ascribe to a subordinate, but he could give no explanation. He stated, in answer to questions, that Mr. Glavis had done a hard task considerably in going to him directly with his fears about the danger to public lands in Alaska. When questioned about one particular phase of this, however, he failed to show convincingly that Mr. Glavis did not also have a good share in bringing a knowledge of this danger to the Attorney-General. Indeed, it was the attempt of Mr. Glavis, after finding Mr. Ballinger unresponsive, to appeal to the Attorney-General and the President that evidently did most to bring Mr. Ballinger to indignation at the stand and to express resentment at what he called impudence on his part. He comprehended that in took considerable pains in involving some journeying, to put his answer to Mr. Glavis's so-called charges before the President, and that he himself had a hand in preparing the counter-statements that reflected on Mr. Glavis;

OLIVER M. ELLIOTT
Superintendent of Twin Falls City's Rapidly Growing Schools.
Supt. Elliott has, during the past year, brought the public schools system up to a remarkable degree of proficiency.

and at the same time that he had made no effort to give Mr. Glavis a chance to know what these counter-charges against him were. He could not point to anything which showed that he had anything against Mr. Glavis until he heard that Mr. Glavis had appealed to the President. In connection with this fact a letter was elicited from the Attorney-General, stating that the Attorney-General's opinion against Mr. Glavis was delivered orally to the President, then put into writing and amended to a long summary and reports, and when finally prepared was dated back to the day of the oral delivery of the opinion, although in the meantime the President had taken action. Secretary Ballinger could not make it clear what he meant when he said that the Cale Mill, in favor of which he appeared before a Congressional committee, would not benefit the Cunningham claimant, and that in appearing before that committee he did not have these claimants in mind. The fact uncontradicted is that these claimants themselves regarded this bill as beneficial to themselves, and Secretary Ballinger himself interpreted the bill so as to make it clear that in one way or another it would be advantageous to these claimants; and another fact which he could not deny was that he had instructed a field agent to get information regarding coal entries for him to use in his appearance before this committee, and that these were the only coal entries in existence in Alaska at that time, and that three days before that he was in the office of the Cunningham claimants, Secretary Ballinger, moreover, gave several explanations for hiring attorney and counsel for these same claimants, but nothing that he said was in actual contradiction to the statement that he was their counsel and attorney. He explained that he had only a small fee and really acted as a matter of accommodation for these very well-to-do men, and that he did not legally appear for them. He advised them and represented them in local matters, but he did not wish in said representative. He was very indignant at the idea that in the list of documents to justify his course which had been laid before the President there had been any selection, and yet

In several cases he could give no other answer to the question why a certain letter or telegram or statement of fact was withheld than that in his opinion it was not material, although, as Mr. Brandegee pointed out, Mr. Glavis might have thought it was very decidedly material. In this instance, as in a great number of instances, Mr. Ballinger was not familiar with the contents or even the existence of letters and telegrams he had signed, and he referred matters regarding them to his subordinates. Secretary Ballinger was not able to state that the President was not mistaken in some respects in his public announcement of what he understood to be the facts in connection with his decision to dismiss Mr. Glavis, and to exonerate Mr. Ballinger.—The Outlook.

THE KING'S FUNERAL.

Yesterday the ashes of Great Britain's late king were given to the sepulcher. The ceremonies were conducted with all the solemn pomp that the invention of centuries has been able to make, but underneath all the display there was the real grief of a sorrowing people, for the British nation sincerely loved their late king. That he was not above some human frailties, did not lessen, but rather intensified their affection for him, for they held that his very frailties were a proof of the warmth of his heart. Then he was in full sympathy with all that Englishmen hold as a man's part in the world. He was with them in their church; in the opening of their schools and hospitals; he went hunting and competed in their races; and though he did not reach the throne until late in life, he was a real king when he did, and all the wise men of his country and of foreign countries who watched his work, agree that he headed the state with a unifier hand.

So his death brought more sorrow to his people than the death of any preceding sovereign of his country ever did.

They looked back along the list from the first one who wore the crown down, and he holds first place in their hearts, at least the first place excepting his royal mother, and we would if she was as near the hearts of all her people as was her son. She had the deep respect of her people, her son was their love, and his funeral was not a cold display of ceremonies, rather the casket that held his crumbling dust but the benediction of his people's tears.—Goodwill Weekly.

CENSUS MYSTERY.

When the census returns have been duly counted and finally published, some expert there will be many surprises in store for the rival towns and cities which have been boasting of their growth in population during the last decade. In some cases, suggests the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, there will be weeping and wailing and denunciation of "pious" enumerators while, on the other hand, "now and then a place which has been secretly fearing that a respected and despised rival has it faded may find it wins by a nose—a nose is enough." Many Western cities, we gather from their newspapers, look to the census reports to find the results of ten years' strenuous "boosting." Every municipality is looking for an increase in population, and particularly for some gain in "city rank."

The government's enumerators have, therefore, found themselves supported by civic pride and civic patriotism. And, too, they have found their work supplemented by the efforts of city officials, newspapers, and enthusiastic citizens.—Literary Digest.

THE FILER JOURNAL.

There came on our exchange table this week, a new paper which proved to be the first number of the Filer Journal. It is a fine little paper containing eight pages of home print, including an abundance of interesting local news and first class advertising. The first class make-up of the progressive little city of Filer—it is a first class paper in a first class town.

Editor Tanner hails from Nebraska, where he has been engaged in newspaper work for many years. He is a Democrat, served two years in the Nebraska state legislature, and was prominent in state politics. We predict a successful future for the Filer Journal and its capable editor.

DRIVING OF GOLD SPIKE.

City of Salmon Celebrated Important Event Marking Completion of Road.

State Immigration Commissioner Joseph P. Fallon passed through Pocatello this morning on his way to Boise from Salmon, where as personal representative of Governor Brady he attended the ceremonies incident upon driving the golden spike on the Gilmore & Pittsburg railroad. Elaborate preparations had been made by the citizens of Salmon for the reception and entertainment of the guests and the event was a huge success. The day wound up with a banquet served to 250 guests by the Salmon Commercial club.

The Montana end of the G. & P. which is more or less of a mysterious road, has been fixed by the filing of the following resolution with the secretary of state at Boise:

"Resolved, by the board of directors of the Gilmore & Pittsburg Railroad company, limited, that the first of said proposed branches shall have its southerly terminus at its connection with the main line at or near Armastead in the county of Blainehead and its northerly terminus at Butte in the county of Silver Bow; that it shall pass through the counties of Blainehead, Madison and Jefferson by way of Beaverhead valley to Dillon and thence by a suitable route to Butte, that the second of said proposed branches shall have its southerly terminus at its connection with the main line at or near Armastead in the county of Beaverhead and its northerly terminus at Butte in the county of Silver Bow; that it shall pass through the counties of Beaverhead, Madison and Jefferson in the state of Montana; that its general route shall be by the way of the Beaverhead valley to Dillon and thence by suitable route to Whitehall and that the amount of capital stock necessary to construct the same is $1,500,000."—Pocatello Tribune.

NEW PUMP HOUSE COMPLETED AND PUMP INSTALLED.

Well Tests Two Thousand Gallons Per Hour and Water Will be Supplied to All at Actual Cost.

The Kimberly Milling Co. was relieved of about twelve dollars in cash one night last week. Entrance to the office was gained by picking the lock. The keys to the safe were left in a drawer in the desk that night by mistake, and as the combination to the safe was not thrown it was an easy matter to get into the cash drawer. The same night the warehouse door of Ellis & Wilson was broken open. No trace of the guilty persons has been discovered up to this time.

After almost a year of what seems to have been unavoidable delay, the people of the Kimberly Independent school district have begun the use of drinking water from the deep well. This well is one of the strongest on the tract, having tested two thousand gallons of water per hour. Arrangements will be made to fill tanks for all who wish to use this water for a small fee. The price per tank will be fixed at the actual cost of pumping. The pump was installed by Mr. F. E. Bigger, who also installed the motor and made the test run on Tuesday afternoon to the entire satisfaction of all present.

Mr. C. T. Brown, from Manchester, Okla., arrived here Monday with a car of stock and household goods. Mr. Brown lately purchased the H. H. Smith ranch southeast of Kimberly and is making preparations to farm the place next year, having brought with him five head of the best mules he could buy, besides two head of horses and three milch cows. Mr.

Brown expects to buy property in town and build during the summer. Mrs. Brown is visiting with relatives until Mr. Brown gets located, when she will join him to make Idaho their future home.

Dane Ruman has it that Mr. R. H. Denton was consulting Judge Hrekon in regard to license the first of this week. The truth is that he only purchased a fish and game license and spent the day Wednesday on Cottonwood trying his luck as a fisherman.

F. E. Bigger spent Monday of this week in Twin Falls. J. S. Black of the contracting firm of Dodson & Black, was transacting business in Kimberly one day last week.

W. H. Thomas left for his home Sunday evening after spending the week looking after business matters. John P. LaSalle, rural carrier, reports several new mail boxes on his route out of Kimberly.

At last the people of Kimberly are enjoying the brightness of street lights having been installed just in time to be of use during the total eclipse of the moon.

The fire at Twin Falls last Sunday night should be a reminder of the necessity of cleaning up around your buildings and home.

J. P. Dunbar's new house is nearing completion. Messrs. Osborne and Owens are doing the carpenter work. A subscription paper is being circulated to raise money to finish the Methodist church. This is a needed improvement and there should be no difficulty in raising the desired amount.

A social dance will be given by local people every two weeks during the summer in the old Woodman-Old Fellows hall.

D. R. Carter has added a new show case to his store fixtures and has well filled with Eastman Kodaks.

Dr. J. J. Whyte and J. W. Hardin are having telephones installed this week.

W. M. Sharp, the plasterer, is plastering the new house recently built by W. R. Carley in the west part of town.

D. C. Prentice, who purchased two tracts in the Turner addition, is getting ready to build a modern residence. Mr. Prentice expects to have his house completed in time to be occupied before school begins in September.

J. S. Harrison of Alhambra, Wash., has been engaged to fill the principalship of the Kimberly school for the coming term. Mr. Harrison comes well recommended and should fill the post-tion with credit both to himself and the school district.

Mr. C. T. Brown has moved into the Morgan house temporarily until he can build one of his own, which he expects to do in the near future.

PRESS CLUB
AT BELLEVUE

Pencil Pushers Enjoy Delightful
Quarterly Meeting.

LOCAL OPTION LAW A GOOD THING
SAY THE EDITORS.

Resolutions Endorse—State Auditor
Taylor and State Pure Food Commissioner Wallis.

The meeting of the Eastern Idaho Press club at Bellevue Sunday morning was one of the most largely attended and profitable meetings of newspaper men ever held in the history of the state. The party chartered a Pullman car for the trip, and left Pocatello on No. 5 Sunday morning, returning on No. 6 Tuesday morning. They were met at Bellevue by the reception committee and conveyed in automobiles to the hotels where a sumptuous meal awaited them, a feature of which was a one pound trout on every plate. The trout were caught that morning so the party was informed, by the able editor of the Bellevue News, H. O. Doolittle, and as an evidence of appreciation of his industry and dexterity he was unanimously voted to be the champion fisher of the club. This was done in order to protect him from the game warden for catching at least eighty pounds of fish at one sitting.

The first business meeting of the club was held in the Bellevue opera house at three o'clock in the afternoon, when various matters of business concerning the newspaper men, and the general welfare of the territory embraced within the association, were disposed of. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President (re-elected)—James H. Wallis.

First Vice President (re-elected)—O. H. Barber.

Second Vice President—J. D. Nims.

Secretary (re-elected)—L. W. Jones.

Treasurer—J. H. DeWitt.

The next meeting will be held at Boise, in August, at which time the Western Idaho Press Association and a delegation representing the northern press members are invited to participate in the deliberations. American Falls was first selected as the meeting place in August, but inasmuch as the Western Press association, through its president, suggested a joint meeting, Boise, central location was desirable, and it was agreed to give American Falls the November meeting instead.

A most enjoyable entertainment of music and address was given for the club on Sunday evening at the Old Fellows hall at Bellevue, and was largely attended by representative citizens of the town. James H. Wallis and O. H. Barber made speeches in behalf of the club, and representative Shoshone members are invited to participate in the deliberations. American Falls was first selected as the meeting place in August, but inasmuch as the Western Press association, through its president, suggested a joint meeting, Boise, central location was desirable, and it was agreed to give American Falls the November meeting instead.

American Falls was first selected as the meeting place in August, but inasmuch as the Western Press association, through its president, suggested a joint meeting, Boise, central location was desirable, and it was agreed to give American Falls the November meeting instead.

Resolved, That we endorse the hearty thanks to our hosts and entertainers for the cordial manner in which we have been greeted, and our every wish anticipated. Called upon, as it were, to make for comfort on short notice, they have met the demands most thoroughly and effectively and we gratefully appreciate the splendid entertainment arranged for our pleasure. We pledge ourselves not only to make known the hospitality of the people, but the unqualified resources of the Wood River country as well.

Resolved, That we appreciate the unfailing courtesy and hospitality of the Oregon Short Line railroad, in affording ample facilities for one of the most enjoyable trips in the history of our organization, and for the small company of its affable representative, Joel L. Priest.

Resolved, That we endorse the Nelson and Tom Velle bills now pending in congress, which are designed to prevent the unfair competition of the government with the printing offices of the land in the matter of printing return cards on envelopes without charge, and deferring them free through the mails. We heartily commend Congressman Hamer for the valiant fight he is making to remove this unfair competition.

Resolved, That the president and secretary of our association be instructed to communicate with Senators Hays and Borah, asking them to use their efforts to secure the passage of this legislation, and on behalf of the club to extend our thanks to Congressman Hamer for his untiring efforts in this matter, and through him to all friends of this last measure.

Resolved, That we endorse the efforts of the postmaster general to exclude from the mails, second class matter, the cheap, trashy publications which now burden the mails, lower public morals, the standard of journalism, and serve no useful purpose. While defending the rights to cheap postage rates of legitimate publications, both as a benefit to the people and a necessity to such publications we do not believe that such privileges should be accorded publications designed for national circulation with only a nominal subscription price, and designed chiefly for advertising purposes.

Resolved, That the Eastern Idaho Press club re-affirms its confidence in the industry and ability of one of its ex-officio, Hon. S. D. Taylor, who as State Auditor is giving Idaho one of the most efficient and excellent administrations this important position ever had. We feel that his services add lustre to our profession, and that his record will be such as to win him an overwhelming endorsement at the hands of the people of this fall.

Resolved, That we endorse without equivocation the local option law and pledge our moral support to the right enforcement, realizing as we do that the community and the citizen are better off when such reform measures are consistently lived up to, and that the regulation of the traffic should, by right, be placed in the hands of the people, with the best of conserving the time-honored principle of majority rule. We favor a continuation of the present law, with such changes by our legislature experience may warrant, as a result of its operations.

Resolved, That it is in the interests of the members of the Eastern Idaho Press club to be informed of any desirable advertising agencies, and we therefore recommend that any member having experience with any such concern should at once notify the secretary, furnishing him with the facts, and that the secretary hereupon send out letters to every member warning them against doing business with those concerned against.

Resolved, Statistics show that 100,000 American citizens will go to Canada this year, and that they will spend less than $5,000,000 in the country. This is a loss to the United States of $10,000,000 in trade. Idaho, with her fine laws and her beautiful opportunities, has offered a home for many thousands of the most desirable of this class of new home-hunting citizens; but, whereas, the Canadian government has bent its best efforts to attract, at great cost, this desirable immigration, in Idaho this has been left largely to private enterprise, and the newspapers, to exploit the possibilities of the state. We favor a far larger appropriation by the legislature for Idaho advertising than has heretofore been made; and the organization of an immigration bureau, in charge of an experienced man, to the end that we may check this exodus of American citizens and bring them to Idaho by fairly presenting the advantages of our great state.

Resolved, That we insist upon a strict compliance with the law providing that all public printing for the various counties within the state be done within the counties wherever possible, and that state printing be done within the state in the same spirit that we encourage the patronage of home industries of every kind, and that we pledge financial support to any publisher who may take an appeal from an order of any board of commissioners ordering the cessation of any printing contracted in violation of such law, and instruct our president to assist in behalf of this organization in conducting such appeal.

Resolved, That we discourage in every legitimate way the establishment of branch offices throughout the territory included within our association. In the same spirit, and for the same reason that we would discourage the opening of a temporary store for the purpose of unloading a bankrupt stock of goods to the detriment of every established mercantile interest in any town.

Resolved, That we are heartily in sympathy with the campaign being waged in Idaho for better and cleaner foods, honest weights, and improved sanitary conditions, in our public buildings and public offices. We applaud the effective work that has been done in this direction by our state auditor, food and drug inspector, James H. Wallis, and assure him that he has our hearty co-operation in his efforts to bring about changes in Idaho which better existing and we favor the legislature increasing the appropriation for this work so that the state inspector can have all the additional help that is necessary, to prosecute this much needed reform. In this connection we endorse the following from the Boise Statesman:

"At no point in our economic system is vigilance, eternal, sleepless vigilance, more necessary than in guarding the purity of food supply, and public officials who are alive to their responsibilities in this direction, merit the gratitude of the people."

Resolved, That we acknowledge the invitation of Supt. G. H. Isaac to spend an enjoyable hour at the state fish hatchery at Hay Stack. The development of Idaho is due as much to the fisheries offered to men of red blood to enjoy a measure of "back-to-nature" life as it is to her mines, her forests, and her herds, and the development of the best fish and game department in the west. In the hands of capable men like Mr. G. H. Isaac, working head of the fish department, the development of a magnificent state resource.

Recognizing the benefits derived from organization, and especially the good results to the newspaper fraternity of the work done and being done by the Eastern Idaho Press club and the Western Idaho Press association, and the further benefits that would result to the newspaper men of northern Idaho from the organization of the newspaper men of the northern counties of Idaho, he is resolved, That it is the sense of this organization and of the Western Idaho association, as represented by its delegates to this meeting, that we are heartily in sympathy with the organization of the newspaper men of the northern counties of Idaho, and that we are heartily in sympathy with the efforts of the newspaper men of northern Idaho to add them to the existing such organization, and we do hereby invite them to send delegates to our joint meeting to be held in Boise in August.

Resolved, That we heartily enjoyed the most excellent paper of Joel L. Priest, given to this session, and we heartily endorse every sentiment expressed therein.

EARTHQUAKE IN CALIFORNIA.

Los Angeles, and Surrounding Cities
Shaken Sunday.

Los Angeles, May 16.—This city and surrounding territory, was visited, today by a series of earthquake shocks that alarmed many people but did little damage, beyond breaking dishes, destroying house ornaments and causing falling of the ladder class of construction. The shocks began about 6:10 o'clock this morning and were felt as late as 7:30 this evening at the beach resort and at Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino, where tremors occurred last Thursday night.

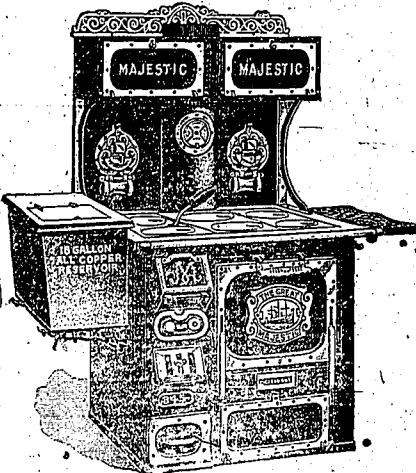

Pasadena suffered the heaviest damage so far as reported. Several buildings were cracked, plaster fell from numerous ceilings, and on Mount Wilson, where the Carnegie observatory is situated, the tremors alarmed many tourists who had climbed the peak to get views of the comet. The quake came as a double shock with a swaying motion which gave the mountain climbers a sensation of seasickness. The mountain top rocked perceptibly. At Long Beach the strand was washed by a small tidal wave just after the first shock there, shortly before 7 o'clock. Another tremor followed and then the ocean, which had been unusually calm all morning, fell flat and became for more than an hour as smooth as a bay in a calm.

In this city and in Riverside many sleepers were awakened by dishes clattering from shelves in the floor. Residents of the suburbs rushed out of their homes but no serious damage was reported.

A second shock visited Riverside shortly after noon. Both tremors were heavier than the quakes which shook the orange belt on Christmas day, 1928.

Shock at San Diego.
San Diego, Calif., May 16.—There was a rather sharp earthquake shock shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. First came a light shock lasting but a few seconds. Scarcely had the trembling subsided when there came a heavier shock, which also continued for a few seconds. So far as known no damage was done.—Statesman.

Chief Forester Henry S. Graves came here to Idaho.

Idaho is soon to receive an official visit from Henry S. Graves, United States forester, who succeeded Clifford Pinchot immediately following the dismissal of the latter from office through the order of President W. H. Taft. While the date cannot be definitely announced at this time, Forester Graves will probably visit Boise, making this city his headquarters and from here at least trips of inspection to the national forests in the southern and central sections of the state. At the present time Mr. Graves is in the northwestern country having visited many of the larger cities, including Portland and Seattle. His itinerary for the interior has not as yet been decided upon.

During his speeches delivered in the northwest the new chief forester has found occasion to remark that he is prepared and will follow out the so-called Pinchot regulations laid down by the dismissed officer in that they conform with the will of the administration.

It was learned today from the office of the Idaho national forest in this city that preparations will be made for the reception of Mr. Graves when he comes to Idaho on his formal tour of inspection of Idaho forests. It was stated that in all probability he will return to Washington from the west within a few days and from there make arrangements for his western trip which should bring him to the northwest about the first of July.
