CELEBRATION PROVES A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Fully Five Thousand People Participate —Barbecue Conducted in Faultless Style—Oratorical Treat by Distinguished Speakers—Excellent Program of Field Sports—Beautiful Fireworks.

From the first blush of dawn, when the thrifty farmers began to head their teams for Twin Falls, until the last skyrocket shot its multicolored stars over the heads of the throng which witnessed the fireworks in the evening, the railroad celebration was a brilliant success. The program was carried out without hitch or accident. Not less than 3000 people were fed at the barbecue and not less than 5000 participated in the celebration. Not a single complaint of any kind was heard but many were the words of praise uttered. The citizens of Twin Falls, Kimberly, Hansen and Rock Creek did themselves proud. It was the first opportunity they had to entertain and their guests will long remember the day.

The first excursion train arrived before daybreak on Monday morning and the second pulled in shortly after noon. The feast was spread and for more than two hours the visitors thronged about the long tables in the Hotel Perrine.

Spirited selections by the Pocatello band massed the people in front of the hotel where a platform for the speakers had been erected. S. T. Hamilton welcomed the visitors in a brief address which was 95 per cent pure hospitality and 5 per cent reminiscence. He was frequently interrupted with cheers.

Senator W. B. Heyburn delivered a stirring and at times thrilling address upon the glories of Idaho. In referring to the magic growth of Twin Falls he reminded his hearers that it took more than fertile land, pure water, good timber and rich mines to make a country. It took men, women and children, he said; and some brains beside. He made complimentary mention of the magnificent school house in course of erection in Twin Falls, saying that was the best evidence of high grade citizenship. "God bless the man who first conceived the Carey Act," said Senator Heyburn, and everybody cheered. "All honor to the thrifty, plucky and far-sighted I. B. Ferrine and the busy and brainy Bob McCollum who have stood by this project when the skies were not so bright as they are today," and everybody cheered again. Senator Heyburn paid high tribute to the capitalists who invested their money in the Twin Falls enterprise and predicted it would be returned to them with liberal interest. The senator's eloquence brought forth many outbursts of applause.

Hon. E. B. Critchlow spoke in behalf of the Twin Falls Land & Water company. He recalled the words of the late Peter M. Kimberly whose money was invested in the enterprise solely that mankind might be benefited and not for mere gain. The element of human interest was woven through the Twin Falls project, said Mr. Critchlow. The policy of the company was to work hand in hand with the farmers and assist them in every way possible to build their homes. The monuments of the men who had risked their millions in diverting the Snake river for the purpose of irrigating largest body of fertile land in the United States would be found in the tract itself. Mr. Critchlow was eloquent and sincere and his remarks were highly appreciated.

Congressman Burton L. French made a very happy address. He detailed the growth of reclamation in the west, dwelling upon the magnificent accomplishments already wrought and picturing the glorious future of Idaho. The

Baby Show

George F. Sprague and Jess Butler, the judges of the baby show, are both out of the city. Mr. Sprague is supposed to be in Chicago on business and Mr. Butler is reported to be taking in the street fair at Pocatello. It is singular, however, that both judges should leave Twin Falls immediately after the show. Their accomplishment fled to the hills on horseback before the show began and left his associates to stew.

Mr. Sprague insisted that the babies should be judged by their muscle and ability to smile while Mr. Butler was equally positive that their teeth were the only correct things to go by. The judges found all the infants so sweet that it was almost impossible to choose between them. The first prize was given to Blanche Harrah, aged one year, the first baby born in Twin Falls. Violet Newbry, Edith May Rettig and Joseph Henry Nay were also given prizes and if the judges had not gone broke every baby in town would have been remembered.

Agricultural Exhibit

The agricultural exhibits which were displayed in the Twin Falls News building simply astounded the visitors. It seemed almost incredible that such magnificent grain and vegetables could have been grown in three months on soil which had never before known the touch of man. The exhibit was in charge of Superintendent McPherson and a detailed description of it together with photographs, will appear in next week's News.

splendid citizenship and remarkable progressiveness of the Twin Falls settlers received much attention from Mr. French who was frequently obliged to pause while the audience cheered him. His mention of President Roosevelt's name drew tumultuous cheers.

Major Fred R. Reed opened his address by calling for three cheers for Theodore Roosevelt, the friend of reclamation and the friend of for Alec McPherson". Roars of laughter followed the suggestion. The major said the Twin Falls farmers were fortunate in having a man like Mr. McPherson to assist them. The company executed a master stroke, he asserted, when it engaged Mr. McPherson to help the farmers.

the west. The cheers were given with a will and a thousand flags waved. The major reached down and took his auditors by the hand, metaphorically speaking. He knew what they had accomplished and how they did it. Loud hurrahs followed his humorous reference to the dust. To the women, Major Reed paid his choicest compliment. They were the true home-builders, he declared, and it required courage to leave a comfortable home and make another in the sagebrush. All honor to the pioneer women of Twin Falls.

Urgent business demanded his presence at Hailey and he was very reluctantly obliged to send his regrets.

The field sports were held in front of the Burlington hotel. Owing to the absence of Mr. Thomas it was impossible to obtain a full list of the winners. A partial list follows:

Entered as second-class matter, December 12, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The committee which had the railroad celebration in charge is deserving of a hearty vote of thanks. The program could scarcely have been improved. It is to be regretted that our neighbors from Oakley and Albion did not have a representative on the program. The members of the committee were not aware that Senator George Day and W. T. Jack were coming until after their arrival. Strenuous efforts were made to find these gentlemen before the speech making was concluded, but to no purpose. The people of Twin Falls are very grateful to their neighbors in the eastern end of the county for the kindness with which they have been treated. Now that the railroad is completed it is to be hoped we will have more opportunity to become acquainted with our Cassia county neighbors and show them that we appreciate the interest they have displayed in Twin Falls.

Surveyor General Eagleson is right in suggesting that the nomenclature of Idaho streams and mountains should be revised. The citizens of Twin Falls would welcome such revision and would be glad to see the mighty river which supplies moisture for the largest irrigated tract in America called by its proper name, "Shoshonee". "Snake" is a revolting appellation and while it may suggest the sinuous course of the stream, it forever eliminates the river from song or sentiment. It is a fact that many people believe the river is called "Snake" because rattlesnakes infest the canyon. Many women of Twin Falls have actually been afraid to visit Shoshone falls for the sole reason that they thought there was danger from snakes. The fact that there are three Cottonwood creeks near Twin Falls is also confusing. By all means let us have a revision if possible.

The most surprising feature of the "Railroad Day" celebration, aside from the general appearance of the Twin Falls tract, was the display of agricultural exhibits. Naturally, the fruit from I. B. Perrine's orchard at Blue Lakes attracted great attention. This was not surprising, as the Blue Lakes fruit has won gold medals at Chicago, Paris, Buffalo, Omaha and St. Louis. But the exhibit of grains and vegetables grown upon soil which was covered with sagebrush four months ago was astonishing. This exhibit was gathered in less than one week and no effort was made to select it. In some instances the exhibits were taken from the farms without the knowledge of the owners. Competent authorities agreed that they never saw such potatoes or corn and the grains were equal to the very best. All things considered, it was a magnificent exhibit and one which will serve to demonstrate better than columns of advertising the wonderful fertility of the Twin Falls soil.

In accordance with the ruling of the state land board, final proof notices must hereafter be published for five consecutive weeks. Those who advertise their notices in The News will not be charged extra for the additional week.

NEW RULING BY THE LAND BOARD

Entrymen Must Reside Upon Their Land with Their Families for 30 Days Before Proving Up—Final Proof Notices Must Run Five Weeks.

Hereafter settlers on the Twin Falls tract must, before they are permitted to make final proof, reside on their land with their families for one month during the publication of their final proof notices. Those who desire to absent themselves during that period must obtain leave of absence from Hon. C. D. Thomas, representative of the state land department at Twin Falls. This decision was reached by the members of the state land board at their last meeting. The members of the board held that this ruling would not inflict hardship upon bona fide settlers who were intent upon making their homes upon the Twin Falls tract. Speculators who filed upon land either for themselves or for those whose powers of attorney they held will be obliged to live up to the letter and spirit of the law or relinquish their holdings.

It came to the notice of the board that in some instances entrymen had neglected to establish actual residence with their families upon their land for the alleged reason that their wives were ill or their children in attendance at schools from which they could not be removed.

In reaching their decision the members of the board took into consideration every feature of the settlement of the Twin Falls tract. They recalled the fact that many settlers were possessed of homes elsewhere and were loath to move their families to the Twin Falls tract until such time as they were able to build comfortable homes here. As three years' time is given in which to prove up, these settlers need not be hasty. In short, the members of the board inclined to the belief that according to the conditions of their ruling, an actual settler would not be put to any inconvenience. The only possible sufferers would be the speculators.

Entrymen will, in future, be asked to describe their houses. The members of the board realized that it cost money to build houses on the Twin Falls tract, but they drew the line at "wickie-ups" and decided that a house, in order to be classed as such, must be a fit habitation for a family and not merely a temporary shelter. Settlers will not be required to erect palaces or expensive dwellings, but they will be expected to furnish something better than tents or tarpaulins.

Final proof notices must hereafter be published for five consecutive weeks instead of four, the board holding that four publications did not constitute four weeks' notice of intention. In the cases of those entrymen whose final proof notices are now being published, the dates will be extended one week.

The board adhered to its first ruling as to partial assignments, holding that such assignments could not be made until the assignors had made final proof. If an entryman wishes to assign a portion of his holding before he makes final proof he may do so by giving a bond for a deed.

The members of the board were fully and reliably informed before taking action on the questions mentioned. In ruling as they did they were actuated by the desire to do what was deemed best for the welfare of the Twin Falls settlers and treat all alike. The speculator will have to stand upon the same plane as the actual home-builder. No favoritism will be shown. In the matter of settlement and cultivation, Carey act lands are treated in precisely the same manner as homestead lands and the element of speculation is eliminated as far as possible.

Surveyor General Eagleson Gives Excellent Reasons Why the Grandest Stream in America Should Be Called by Its Right Name, "Shoshonee."

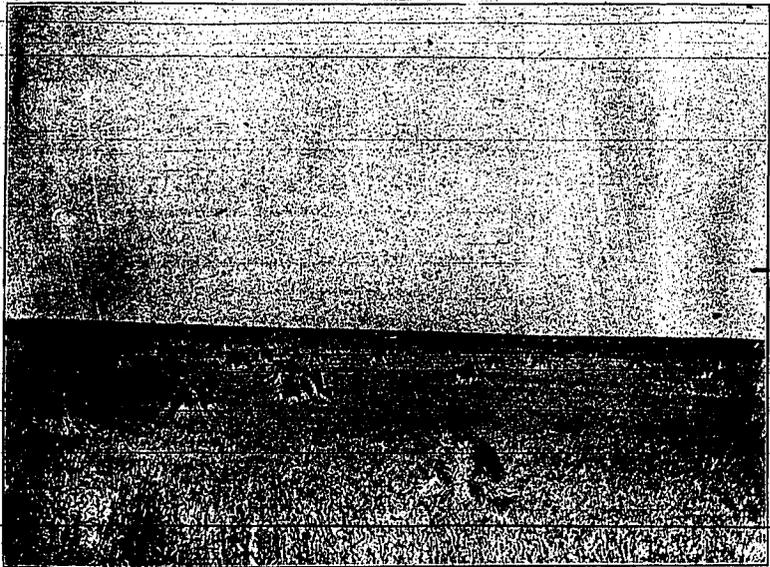

E. G. Eagleson, surveyor general for Idaho, was among the visitors who came from Boise to at-the city of Twin Falls are three of the grandest power sites in the country. I note that the Shoshone Falls Power company is putting in plants at Shoshone falls, Twin falls and Auger falls and these plants will be a potent factor in building up the city of Twin Falls. Power means industry and Twin Falls is blessed with an abundance of the former and, judging from what I have seen, a liberal supply of the latter.

"Along the Snake river canyon are some of the grandest sights in America. The palisades of the Hudson are insignificant beside this noble canyon. But who can weave anything poetical or romantic about the word 'Snake?' The stream should rightfully be called see, Truckee and many other picturesque streams all end with the same vowel. We know that the Snake river should be called 'Shoshonee' and we should restore the romantic old name. No other stream flows such a distance in one state; no other stream supplies such power or majestic scenery, and no other stream irrigates such a magnificent territory. From Yellowstone Park to Lewiston the Snake waters by far the largest and most productive tract of irrigated land in the world.

"We should do something towards having the nomenclature of our streams and mountains revised before it is too late. On the map of Cassia county are three Cottonwood creeks, all within a

"It is a pity that we cannot get rid of the offensive name 'Snake'

the 'Shoshonee,' with the accent on the last syllable. It would seem that nearly all our great rivers were named by the people of some prehistoric race and the survival of these names is about all the oral evidence we have that North America was peopled by a race which flourished before the Indians. HOGS, HENS AND COWS ARE THE FARMERS MAINSTAY.

Superintendent McPherson Reminds the Hansen Farmers of Their Reliable Old Friends Who May Always Be Depended Upon to Furnish Food for the Family Whether Crops Are Slender or Bountiful.

The members of the Hansen Farmers association are showing a great deal of interest in the institute meetings. They are losing their shyness and beginning to ask questions. This is a very good sign. It shows that they appreciate the benefits of organization and are willing to profit by which will be found in the account of the Dry Creek meeting.

Mr. Raschbacher suggested that in case of dispute in regard to the amount of water which the settlers were receiving, a simple method of measurement would be to dig a hole ten feet square and one foot deep, then turn the full head of Crops might fail, but the good old cow would continue to furnish milk to feed the family just the same if she was treated half decently. The reliable old hen would supply her quota of the family's food if she was given half a chance and the phlegmatic hog could always be depended upon for a ham or a rasher of bacon if he had enough pickings. With these three mainstays the farmer could bid the world defiance.

For the reasons stated, said Mr. McPherson, it was necessary that farmers should give careful attention to their selection of cows, chickens and swine. The butter, milk, cheese, egg and meat crops the successful experiences of each other.

The meeting last Friday evening concluded with a volley of questions which came from nearly every member present. Superintendent McPherson was greatly pleased with the interest shown and he predicts that the Hansen farmers will soon be accounted among the most scientific and successful on the Twin Falls tract.

H. G. Raschbacher of the department of irrigation investigation explained the simpler methods of measuring water in irrigating ditches, a detailed report of water in and count the number of seconds it took to fill up the hole. For instance, if the hole filled in 100 seconds, it would show that the flow was one cubic foot per second or one second foot. There would be 100 cubic feet in the hole, consequently by dividing 100 by the number of seconds it took to fill the hole, the exact flow could be ascertained.

"The Family Cows, Chickens and Pigs" furnished the topic for Mr. McPherson. The family cows, chickens and pigs, he said, had, from the beginning of time, been the mainstay of the farmers.

were always sure and always profitable. Eggs were worth 35 cents per dozen in Twin Falls at present and milk and butter found ready sale in all markets at all times.

At the close of the meeting nearly every one present entered in to an animated discussion. Eight members signified their intention of purchasing good dairy cows and Mr. McPherson was requested by resolution to investigate the dairy question during his forthcoming visit to Portland and consider the advisability of shipping in a carload or more of dairy animals.

At the Hansen meeting on the evening of August 11 "Cows" will be the subject. Mr. McPherson will use charts to illustrate his address and every farmer in that district will profit by hearing what he has to say.

SIMPLE RULES FOR THE MEASUREMENT OF WATER

H. G. Raschbacher of the Department of Irrigation Investigation Tells How to Measure Water in Irrigation Ditches by Inexpensive Methods—Superintendent McPherson Informs Farmers How to Use Water to Best Advantage.

The Dry Creek Farmers association held a spirited and interesting meeting last Thursday evening. The attendance was very good and the farmers entered into the spirit of the meeting in refreshing style.

Permanent officers were elected as follows: President F. Lee Johnson, vice president J. M. Russell, secretary J. E. Steinhour, treasurer W. F. Jacks.

H. G. Raschbacher of the department of irrigation investigations explained the various methods of measuring and distributing water. He explained the difference between a miner's inch, a second foot, a cubic foot, an acre and other terms commonly used in describing the flow of water.

The miner's inch, he said, according to the Idaho standard, consisted of the amount of water that would flow through an orifice one inch square under a constant head of four and one-half inches over the center of the hole. To determine the constant head it was only necessary to place a board across a flume, cut out a hole one inch square and draw a pencil line across the board four inches and a half above the center of this hole. When the water reached this line, one miner's inch would be flowing through the hole. It made no difference how large the flume was, so long as the water was no higher than four inches and a half from the center of the inch hole.

For instance if a farmer wished to find out if he was getting the required amount of water for his 40 acre tract under the Twin Falls canal, which was equal to 25 miners' inches or one half of a second foot, he should first take a box about 30 inches wide and place it in his main lateral. This box might be made out of an old drygoods box or any kind of scrap lumber. Across the box he should place a board of any desired height. Then cut a slot 25 inches wide and one inch deep across the board lengthwise. A slide should be placed across the slot. When this slide was drawn out its full length, exposing the entire 25 inches across the slot and with the water level four and a half inches above the center of the slot, the full amount of water necessary to irrigate the tract would be flowing. If, when the slide was wide open, the water level was lower than four and a half inches above the center of the slot, the head would not be constant. By closing the slide until the water was exactly four inches and a half above the center of the slot, the width of the slot would represent the exact number of inches of water flowing in the lateral.

A second foot of water was equal to the amount which would fill a box one foot square in one second of time. A cubic foot of water was the same as a second foot. An acre foot was equivalent to 43560 cubic feet or, in other words, it was the amount of water necessary to cover an acre of land to a depth of one foot.

To illustrate, if it were possible to collect and store, without evaporation or other loss, the entire amount of water allotted to a 40 acre tract under the Twin Falls canal for one year, it would cover the entire 40 acres to a depth of nine feet.

Following along the lines of Mr. Raschbacher's remarks, Superintendent McPherson said that inasmuch as the Twin Falls soil had never been saturated, it would be unwise for a farmer to attempt to clear off his entire tract of land late in the spring and endeavor to grow crops with the amount of water allotted to him in the limited growing season. On the other hand, if he gave his ground a thorough saturation in the fall and another early in the spring, as he should, it would be equivalent to more than two irrigations during the irrigation season proper, and he would have more than enough water, if properly handled, to grow anything he wished. The superintendent cited numerous cases where this had been tried successfully. The great depth of the soil, he said, made it possible to store moisture in the fall and early spring at any desired depth for use during the irrigation season. In other words the water should be husbanded. This, he explained, was far better than flooding during the heated season when there was risk of injuring the crops.

Public is Aroused.
The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak from useless doctors' drugs that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at Sprague & Butler's drug store, price 50c.

Postmaster Dunn has been advised that the railway mail service to Twin Falls will commence on August 28. The new postoffice fixtures have been installed and the Twin Falls office is now one of the largest and best in the state. More than 350 boxes have already been rented.

A slim crowd attended the auction sale of state land on Monday afternoon. There was too much excitement about the time of the sale. A. D. Norton made purchases in section 2, east of Twin Falls. The Buhl township, 16 miles west of Twin Falls, was bought in by officials of the Land & Water company at prices ranging from $35 to $53 per acre.

W. W. Humphrey has a two year old thoroughbred colt with which he would not part for love or money. Popular Short Line Official Now a Twin Falls Citizen

D. S. Spencer, the popular assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the Oregon Short Line, has for some time been residing with his family on his farm near Twin Falls. Mr. Spencer is one of the oldest and best friends of Twin Falls and one of the first locators. He was here when the jackrabbits held full sway and he has been loyal to the tract and its interests every minute. He has many warm friends here and they are glad to see him and he will not lack congenial company at his comfortable home.

PHOTOGRAPHERS OF TWIN FALLS

Excellent Pictures Taken for The News by I. L. Young.

The pictures of farm and railway scenes which appear in this issue of The News were made from photographs taken by I. L. Young of the Washington Nursery. Mr. Young is a "mighty handy" with his camera and a large number of farmers have had him photograph their fields and homes. Mr. Young is permanently located in Twin Falls and is prepared to supply photographs to those who wish them. Next weeks The News will have a number of cuts from photographs by Mr. Young and Earnest Tacha. Mr. Tacha has long been accounted one of the best photographers in the state. His equipment is complete. Services will be held by Rev. John Schenck of the Baptist church in the school house on Sunday afternoon and evening at 2 and 8 o'clock.

EVERYBODY IS BUSY AT HANSEN

Settlers Coming In and Things Are Lively on the Farms.

Hansen, August 10.—Heavy crops of grain are ready for threshing in the vicinity of Hansen and a new threshing outfit has been ordered. It is expected to arrive with the first freight to be unloaded here. The railway company will shortly put in a siding at this point.

The Hansen postoffice now presents a new and better appearance. Postmaster Rauch purchased the fixtures formerly used in the Twin Falls office and neatly installed them. The improvement is greatly appreciated by local patrons who are daily increasing in number.

Charles H. Boyd, W. A. McKenzie and N. R. Norris of Goldendale, Washington, are now residing on their lands adjacent to Hansen. They have abundant faith in the future of the tract and the right sort of citizens to build up a community.

Isaac Divine has come to the rescue and is taking care of visitors in need of hotel accommodation. It may be some time before a hotel is built and Mr. Divine recognized the necessity of caring for transients. Needless to say the accommodations are first class.

A large delegation from Hansen boarded the excursion train for Twin Falls last Monday and participated in the grand celebration. They all had a splendid time. Those who did not miss the train returned in the evening. It sounded good to hear the conductor call "Hansen".

Mrs. Henry Lacourse is recovering from an attack of illness. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cavanaugh, who was taken to Twin Falls for surgical treatment two weeks ago, has been brought home greatly improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Divine visited in Hansen on Wednesday.

Mrs. Nena Divine expects to spend the next month visiting with relatives and attending the Portland exposition.

William Baker, who has a choice 60 acre farm two miles southwest of Hansen, marketed a load of vegetables in Twin Falls last Wednesday.

Hansen was well represented in the agricultural exhibit at Twin Falls on "Railroad Day" and captured more than its share of prizes. Next year the Hansen farmers will be in position to compete with the world.

J. T. Barnes has been appointed justice of the peace for the Hansen precinct. While the people are peaceable and orderly, it was thought best to have some one handy who could perform the marriage ceremony if necessary.

MANY LOTS ARE SOLD AT KIMBERLY

Improvement in the Order at the New Townsite.

Kimberly, Ida., August 10.—"Measuring Water" was the subject under discussion at the meeting of the Farmers' association Wednesday night. Mr. Raschbacher was the speaker of the evening. He gave a very instructive and interesting talk and enlightened the farmers on a good many technical points. It was decided to continue to hold the meetings every Wednesday night as the room has always been filled to overflowing and some important question comes up at every meeting.

Superintendent Alex. McPherson, who expects to be away for a short time visiting the Portland fair, was tendered a unanimous and heartfelt vote of thanks for the work he has done and the assistance he has rendered. He has been to all during the past month.

W. A. Firgen and family have moved in from their ranch and expect to make Kimberly their home this winter.

W. H. Bancroft, general manager of the C. & N. P. Railroad, made a fortunate drawing in the wheel at the Kimberly opening Tuesday, securing two of the best lots in the townsite.

Alexander Wilkins, Edward Wilkins and Louis Rogers started on a hunting trip Sunday morning. They were out several days and reported a splendid time, as game was plentiful.

The John F. Hansen Co. received a carload of flour at Kimberly for their Rock Creek store.

The sale of ice cream and cake held on Tuesday for the purpose of starting a fund for a school organ was a decided success. The net proceeds amounted to $25.10 and the ladies feel that their efforts were well repaid.

Mrs. Frank Burlington and Mrs. E. T. West were in charge and were assisted in serving by Miss West, Miss Moore and the Misses McMillan.

Kimberly was well represented at Twin Falls Monday and everyone reported a good time, especially E. T. West, W. A. Firgen and R. A. Moore have received their appointments as members of the school board of the Thirty-second district.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson spent a few days at week in the mountains hunting.

Ed F. Tucker made a flying trip to Minidoka Wednesday evening, in search of dehydrated freight.

The Weater Lumber Company expects to move its yard to a more favorable location. The company has recently purchased four lots in the townsite.

The Litley McDonald Company, jewelers of Twin Falls, have closed their store at this place to a more favorable location. Their store building will be started immediately.

The engineering corps is still in the field surveying the townsite lots.

L. E. Frothero's binder was badly demasted on Monday morning. W. B. Wolfe was driving the team when the horses became frightened and started to run. They attempted to cross the railroad track but only succeeded in taking a part of the machine with them. Mr. Frothero is busy trying to save the pieces.

W. G. Flier secured a corner lot in one of the central blocks, at the Kimberly opening.

More than 300 people attended the opening sale of town lots at Kimberly on Tuesday. The Townsite company provided sandwiches and lemonade and the Kimberly ladies conducted an ice cream and cake parlor. The drawing was held in the Kimberly Drug company's building and was absolutely fair. The names of those who wished to draw were written on cards which were placed in a urn.

The cards were thoroughly mixed and drawn out, one at a time, by Oliver West, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. West.

Prior to the drawing, General Manager James McMillan of the Kimberly Townsite company, spoke of the advantages of Kimberly, reminding his hearers that it was located in the center of a most richly rich tract of land capable of sustaining a large population. An excellent domestic water supply with good pressure could be obtained from a conveniently located reservoir, said Mr. McMillan. Each lot in the townsite carries its proportional share of water for irrigation purposes which was quite a consideration.

When the drawing commenced there were 93 names in the churn. The first draw was as follows:

More than 200 visitors missed the train on Monday night and had to be housed by citizens. So far as known none of them went without a bed.

Scott Hazen of Eickhoff & Hazen drove the members of the Pocatello band to Shoshone Falls and Blue Lakes. At Blue Lakes the musicians serenaded Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Perrine playing several excellent numbers. It was the first time the canyon ever echoed the sound of band music and the effect upon Mr. and Mrs. Perrine's countless pets must have been startling.

The visitors from Heyburn and Rupert were lodged reading "To Twin Falls. From Heyburn (or Rupert), Uncle Sam's big baby".

The visitors were outspoken in their admiration of the Hotel Perrine. It was the unanimous opinion that the sectional concrete cement block made ideal building material and it was predicted that this material would be used extensively in Twin Falls hereafter.
