WORST STORM OF YEAR SWEEPS ENTIRE WEST

No Section of the Country is Spared—Heavy Snowfall in Northwestern and Middle Western States, Accompanied by a Gale—Probability that Livestock Suffered Severely—No Damage in Twin Falls or Vicinity Reported—Storm Followed by Cold Wave.

The worst snowstorm in years raged over southern Idaho last Saturday and Sunday. Blizzards prevailed in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Utah. In Washington and Oregon, the storm was unusually severe. Train service was demoralized and is still so, in fact. It is feared that the sheepmen and cattlemen will lose heavily as the animals are not in condition at this time of year to stand much exposure and many of them had already started for the spring range.

The passenger train on the Wood River branch which left Shoshone on Monday morning stuck in the snow 25 miles north of Shoshone and a rotary plow was required to clear the track. The cuts were filled with snow, packed very hard.

At Silver City a foot of snow fell and the thermometer dropped to 10 zero.

Fremont county caught the force of the storm which raged with great fury there, but the temperature was favorable. The lowest report was 35 above. Two feet of snow fell at Logan, Utah, accompanied by a strong wind and freezing temperature.

Weiser also received two feet of "the beautiful" in one installment with a temperature of 12 above.

At Mountain Home the fall was light but the wind velocity made it very uncomfortable.

Payette reported a foot of snow with a cold wind.

Halley also had a foot with the usual accompaniments.

At Blackfoot a snowfall of nine inches was reported. The storm there was the fiercest of the season. The snowfall was accompanied by wind and lightning.

Seven inches of snow fell at Mendocino.

At Albany, Oregon, a sleet storm blocked the O. R. & N. Ry. Severe cold winds threatened the fruit trees.

How Yakima Fared.

The Yakima Daily Herald of Tuesday morning contained the following graphic story of the storm:

"What a fearful night for a fire!" Little did the people from whose lips these words were thoughtlessly dropped Sunday think that the following morning, one of the finest residences in the city would be leveled by the fire demon.

The beautiful residence of H. J. Sately was eaten up by the flames and completely destroyed within two hours from the time that it was first discovered in the rear of the library chimney. With the aid of a garden hose, Mr. Sately thought he had the fire under control. It gained head and the city fire department was called. The lack of a fire plug made the fighting on the hill an utter impossibility. Naught could be done, save stand and watch the destruction of the fire home.

Volunteers worked heroically just south of the Sately home to save the buildings in the direction where the wind was blowing. The sparks, many hay stacks and straw piles were destroyed, and fire threatened several homes and barns.

A serious loss was the family helms and brace-brace, collected by the family for many years. Mrs. Sately lost all her wearing apparel, as did Miss Sately. The loss on the home is about $7000, and on the personal effects about $5000.

Not only a fearful night for the fire, but the damage done by the wind and cold will amount up into the thousands. Rumor has it that no less than a thousand sheep have perished with the cold in the region about Ellensburg. The report could not be verified, and S. J. Cameron, sheep inspector, says that he is of the opinion that there is no truth in the rumor. "Shearing has just commenced, and I know that in most instances the sheep have been comfortably housed, so that the danger from freezing is reduced to a minimum," said Mr. Cameron last night.

Perhaps the most serious damage in the city was that sustained by the Cascade Lumber company.

The storm played havoc with this property. Many of the lumber-alloys are blocked with a mass of tangled boards. Part of their barn was completely demolished. A part of the top of the planing mill was torn off, and a considerable section of the new addition to the saw mill suffered the loss of the roof. A section of the roof was blown off the saw shed, and the lumber on cars and planer platform was scattered over a considerable area.

Work was stopped in all departments early Saturday and will not be resumed until the storm has spent itself. The damage is not estimated.

The store room of Richard Carreau on North-Balmer street was demolished by the storm, and the damage is estimated at $300.

T. P. McCausland, wife and daughter, narrowly escaped being crushed to death by a falling tank Saturday night. The tank stood on a trestle, 30 feet from the ground, and was used for fire protection and irrigating purposes. During the storm it was blown down. It fell with terrific force on the house in which Mr. McCausland and the family were sleeping. The tank had been four feet high, and the three inmates of the house would have been crushed to death. Nearly every window in the house was broken, shingles torn off the roof and other damage done. Mr. McCausland says:

"There is at the least an estimation of $150 damage done. But I consider myself very fortunate to get out with so small a damage. If the tank had been four feet higher, my wife, my child and myself would have been crushed to death."

No less than $1000 damage was done at the state fair grounds. The roof of the grand stand is blown off, and the public has almost a total wreck. Fences on all sides are down, and the track is littered with debris.

Mr. Kershaw, deliveryman for the Satchel meat market, stated that at least one-half of his customers who live in tents were without homes yesterday morning, and in one instance a tent was burned to the ground.

Fruit Not Hurt.

Great concern has been felt by a large number of interested fruit growers as to the probable damage done to the early buds. Mr. Paul Krueger called at the Herald office last evening and said: "There has been no damage to the peach buds. I have examined about 50 and found that they were yellow and green. If they had been killed they would have turned black by this time. I found none in that condition. Peaches are the furthest along and have suffered no damage that I can find. The blossoms were not damaged either and apples and cherries were not far enough advanced to suffer much. In a way the storm and cold has been a god send. The fruit was developing altogether too early and it will now be set back about two weeks and will be better on that account." The total damage to the Yakima valley is difficult to estimate, although it will approximate $20,000.

No Section Escaped.

Ice formed a quarter of an inch thick at Aberdeen, Washington.

Throughout the entire state of Oregon the snowfall ranged from three inches at Huntington to 15 inches at Albany.

In Utah and Wyoming the storm was very severe and while no reports have been received it is feared that stock suffered greatly.

No Damage Here.

Though the wind blew a gale from Saturday afternoon until Sunday noon, no damage was done in Twin Falls. She snow drifted in places to a depth of two feet. On Monday morning a chinook wind melted the snow in a few hours but the temperature changed again in the evening and more snow fell. It has been trying to snow ever since with fair success. Experienced irrigationists say that fall wheat will mature without irrigation this year on account of the unusual amount of moisture. It will not be necessary to use water until much later than usual because of the exceptional snowfall.

The storm played a peculiar prank at the siphon. At the outlet the wind had full sweep and the snow was piled into the canal at such a rate that it retarded the flow of the water, the current at the outlet being somewhat sluggish for a short distance to prevent damage to the banks. The water backed up at the intake and began to overflow the bank of the canal. Rock creek swelled rapidly and a report was circulated that the siphon had been injured. One of Waterman-Coffin's camps is located a few yards from where the overflow occurred and the overflow was soon checked. Aside from washing out a few yards of earth from the bank of the canal the overflow did no damage worth mentioning.

ITALIAN LABORER SHOT BY A DRUNKEN BRAWLER

W. G. Stratham, Known in Twin Falls as "George George," One of the Most Troublesome Toughs on the Tract, Murders Frank Tuskenka Without Provocation at One of the Corey Camps—Murderer Steals Horse and Makes His Escape—Officers in Chase.

Frank Tuskenka, an Italian laborer employed by Corey Bros., contractors on the high line canal, was shot and mortally wounded by W. G. Stratham, commonly known as "George George," during the noon hour on Tuesday at the contractors' camp on Cottonwood creek. The wounded man was brought to Twin Falls, where he died at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Stratham appropriated one of the best horses in the camp and fled. He stopped at Rock Creek long enough to steal a saddle and bridle and then headed south. He was captured by Deputy Sheriff Ramsey on Wednesday at a point not far north of the Nevada line, and it is supposed that he is now in that state. Sheriff Hansen is after him and the officers at all points in Nevada where he is likely to appear have been notified to watch for him.

Stratham was very troublesome when intoxicated and had frequently been arrested in Twin Falls. He was drunk on the day of the crime but sufficiently sober to know what he was doing. It is customary for the foreman at the camp to call "All out" at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A few minutes before that hour, Stratham, who had been reclining on his bunk, picked up his revolver and announced that if the foreman called "All out" at 1 o'clock he would shoot him. Nobody paid much attention to the threat as Stratham was very inebriated when in liquor. At 1 o'clock the foreman called "All out" as usual. Stratham jumped from his bunk, revolver in hand, and walked out of the tent, declaring his intention to shoot the foreman. Tuskenka was standing just outside the door, leaning against a hay rope. "You were drunk last night, you damn," said Stratham to Tuskenka. "The latter protested that he had not been drunk. 'Don't you lie to me,' shouted Stratham, am, shooting Tuskenka in the left breast just above the heart. Tuskenka was less than three feet from the muzzle of the revolver and the bullet made a frightful wound, passing through his body and lodging under the skin behind the right shoulder.

Stratham deliberately walked over to the stable, picked out the best horse and made his escape, muttering threats of what he would do to the man who attempted to stop him. Tuskenka was bundled into a wagon and driven hurriedly to Twin Falls. The falling on the rough road caused him intense pain and he was barely conscious when he reached the city. Judge Smith obtained from him an ante-mortem statement in which he said that Stratham had killed him without the slightest provocation.

Deputy Sheriff Ramsey started for the camp, 12 miles distant, early on Wednesday morning and tracked Stratham beyond Goat springs. He was unable to follow the trail any further on account of the prevailing snowstorm and the fact that there are no landmarks along the route. Sheriff Hansen picked up the trail yesterday morning and is still in pursuit.

"George George" was a gun man and a bully when in his cups. He ran amuck in the old Headquarters saloon one night last spring and behaved like a crazed Indian. Marshal Snodgrass was notified, and much to "George's" surprise the marshal refused to be bluffed. "George" started the fight and in less than three minutes Snodgrass had him in an express wagon headed for the jail, whipped into subject submission. After that "George" had more trouble because those who knew of the Snodgrass incident paid no attention to his bluffs. It is predicted, however, that he will put up a fight when threatened with arrest.

he laid out as soon as the trap arives.

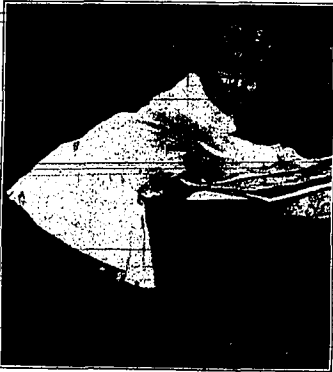

There are several clever shots among the members and it is the intention to arrange friendly matches with the clubs in Pocatello, Idaho Falls and elsewhere.

Steps will be taken by the club to secure the appointment of a deputy game warden for this district at once. It is also the purpose of the club to use every means in its power to prevent the extermination of the sage hens and to propagate quail. No member of the club will shoot on the land of a farmer without first obtaining the permission of the club. One of the chief objects of the club being to prevent farmers from annoyance and to secure their cooperation in preserving game.

Master William H. Seaver, the sturdy young American whose picture appears above, is the first honorary member of the club and has been for many adopted as its mascot. Master William is not quite big enough to hold a gun yet but he is a comer and in future years he will sustain the honor of Twin Falls at the traps and in the field. The youthful honorary member is the grandson of P. H. Smith of Twin Falls and at present is living with his parents in Brooklyn. He will come to Twin Falls with them shortly.

Hearing through his grandmother, who spent the holidays in Twin Falls, that there were ducks in this part of the country, William sent a picture of a duck, drawn by his own hand, to his grandfather with a request that some ducks be sent to him. His grandfather asked him what he would do with the ducks if he got them and William promptly replied: "Want to shoot them." This showed plainly that he had the right spirit and the Twin Falls Rod and Gun club is proud to number him among its members.

PROTECTION OF FISH AND GAME

PRIMARY OBJECT OF ROD AND GUN CLUB.

Strong Organization Formed in Twin Falls for This Purpose and to Encourage Inanimate Target Shooting.

The Twin Falls Rod and Gun club was organized last Saturday evening with a membership of 30. Fred L. Harris was elected president, Harry F. Allen vice president, George B. Friess secretary-treasurer, Peter J. Holm captain, J. H. Day, R. W. Faris, C. L. Parsons, Fred E. Ramsey and Don C. Bryan directors. The first regular meeting of the club will be held on Monday, April 2, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The purpose of the club is to protect the fish and game of the state by observing, enforcing and encouraging the enforcement and observance of the game laws; to acquire by lease, rental, food will or purchase the privilege of hunting in fields, on farms, lakes or reservoirs; to respect the rights of the owners thereof and to punish any infringement of such rights; to care for, feed and protect the game upon such farms, lakes or elsewhere; and generally to do such things as are proper and necessary to multiply the game birds and fish of the state and vicinity and to secure the privilege of hunting and fishing the same unmolested. Also to encourage friendly and gentlemanly rivalry among the members of this and other associations in the art of inanimate target shooting.

The club has received 500 blue rock targets and has ordered an improved Leggett trap which will be here in a few days. Grounds will be secured on the Livingston ranch, just across Rock creek, where a range will

"WHATEVER'S RIGHT."

The committee appointed to straighten out the survey middle line reported to have met with much encouragement and it is believed that the question will be settled without expense or friction. There is no good reason why all questions of this character cannot be disposed of in the same way. Like questions have arisen on every irrigated tract in the country and have been fought out in various ways but invariably with the same results. Nothing is gained by kicking up a fuss. The tract has been lost—settlers because of the survey howl, but up to date the howl has not raised the price of land or reduced railroad rates. It is right and just that the survey should be corrected and corrected quickly, but to use it as a lubricant for hard running political machines is wrong.

The Twin Falls Land & Water company has made many mistakes. Every irrigation company owes to attempt to collect interest from farmers who did not receive water until late last season was a serious mistake. A contract either means what it says or means nothing. If the Twin Falls water contracts on which interest was claimed meant what they said, then the company should have delivered water on time. Otherwise it has no claim whatever on the entrainment. Admitting that the entrainment swooped down on the tract like an avalanche and the company was crowded for beyond its facilities, right is right just the same. The fact that an entrainment may have used the water to make final profits no figure at all. He might have lost heavily by the operation and if he got water later the chances are that his pocketbook was wrinkled.

The lateral system will have to be improved. That is admitted and the officials of the company say the work will be done at the earliest possible date. Other improvements will also be made. So it has been announced. The company will have to put headgates in main laterals and if it does right it will repay those farmers who stood the expense of their own headgates last year. Well and good.

These questions have been taken up and are now being settled in a spirit of fairness. It was inevitable that they should. Such being the case, what good can be accomplished by trying to stir up strife? It is all very well to chew soap, froth at the mouth and try to create the impression that you are the saviour of the farmer, but the cleaner and more sensible way is to let Chinamen wash the dirty linen. It creates a bad impression; dancing on the line in full gaze of those who want to invest here and by their investments raise the price of property. Twin Falls needs settlers and capital. It offers grand opportunities. The project is as sound as a government bond. Why be snatched by theatrical display calculated to hoodwink the farmers and scare away capital?

Whenever the company deserves a scolding, and it has earned more than one, the farmers can handle the branding iron without any thought assistance. Mr. Chamberlain came an effective demonstration of that fact at a recent public meeting. David H. Hunt said that was good for a dog because this reminded him that he was a dog and it is possible that chief makers were visited upon us to remind us that we are living on the Twin Falls tract and not in paradise. He was right—Alas! well in Twin Falls.

What's the matter with Twin Falls? for the Republican state convention? There is not a citizen of Idaho who is not proud of the state capital and who does not want to see it flourish and prosper.

Very nice of you, Avery, but "the key" is pretty handy. So is Webster, for that matter.

All of the head gates for the farm laterals of the Mindoka tract will be constructed of concrete and the water for these laterals will be supplied through iron pipes. That's the way

Uncle Samuel does things. All of the canals and laterals are constructed with a view to durability and low cost of maintenance. The Twin Falls Land & Water company has just sent out notice on the matter that the maintenance for this year will be $8 cents per acre, the maximum permitted by the state. No doubt this high tax will be needed to keep that system in repair, but it is not likely that the Mindoka settlers will be called upon to pay half that amount—Rupert Record.

Very clever idea and entirely original, of course. Has worked fine in southern California, where they measure water by the spoonful. But who has to pay for these fancy headgates? The reclamation officials? Nay, the settler has to dig, and when he gets through digging for the mistakes of the reclamation service his land will have cost him the largest $26 an acre on record. Is there another canal in America where the maintenance charge is less than 80 cents an acre? If so, where? The four-bit bluff of the reclamation service cannot be considered because the government hasn't reclaimed a foot of ground yet, except on paper, and has nothing to maintain. It might just as well eliminate the maintenance charge altogether for that matter, as the settler has to pay for it in any event, no matter what it costs. Uncle Samuel pays nothing.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Nampa-Meridian Irrigation district held in Nampa on Wednesday morning it was decided to levy a toll of $1 per inch, payable in advance, on all water taken out to the users. The toll was taken, according to Hugh E. McElroy, attorney for the district, who attended the meeting for the purpose of raising funds to operate the canal. Raising this fund in advance is something that has not been done before and it is thought will cause considerable comment among the water users in the district. It has been customary and the district expected this year, explained Mr. McElroy, to borrow the money needed to operate the canal, but upon approaching the bank where the district has been securing its money, it was found that 12 per cent interest would be demanded upon a loan for this purpose.

This was thought by the directors to be a higher rate than the district could afford to pay, and as the farmers pay the amount in the end, it was decided to take this step and save a considerable amount of money to the water users. The reclamation service of the district will be raised by a tax levy—Boise Statesman.

TWIN FALLS GETS THE CONVENTION

COMMERCIAL BODIES TO MEET IN POWER CITY.

Splendid Movement for Promotion of Southern Idaho Is Launched at Weiser—Boosters Get Together in Harmonious Blend.

WEISER, March 15.—As a direct outgrowth of the "See America First" contest held in Salt Lake the first united effort of the commercial bodies of the southern part of Idaho today crystallized here in the organization of the League of Southern Idaho Commercial Clubs. The organization was perfected with a spirit that presages a long and useful career for the league, whose slogan is "Weiser for every occasion and for it red hot."

Town and county lines are wiped out in the enthusiastic expression of a purpose to promote the material interests of the entire southern part of the state. The proceedings were harmonious but yet enlivened by a spirited discussion of the revealed more the lusty nature of the Idaho boosters rather than any deep rooted belligerence.

The league will hold the next convention in November at Twin Falls. The time is to be fixed by the executive committee. Emmett was a candidate but withdrew.

Officers Named.

The following permanent officers were elected: R. E. Stevens, president; W. A. Conchumbe of Payette, secretary; Guy Fletcher of Boise; treasurer; E. J. Deane of Emmett; executive board: A. L. Lucas of Meadows, L. W. Bach of Idaho Falls, M. J. Hall of Caldwell, E. M. Helgeson of Weiser, C. M. Hill of Twin Falls, R. E. Greenwood of American Falls, F. C. Stanford of Boise.

Irrigation Congress.

Eleven commercial bodies were represented. The first matter taken up was the irrigation congress to be held in Boise in September. W. T. DeLoe of Boise, Commercial club, presented the subject and was supported by heavy support.

Welcomed by Mayor.

The convention was called to order by Mayor Mendenhall, who extended the welcome of the city to the brethren and tors to which it might with profit direct its energies.

Contest on Secretaryship.

There was a sharp contest on permanent organization over the secretaryship, the candidates being Guy Fletcher and J. H. Harris of Idaho Falls. The vote was 53 to 9. The other officials were selected without a contest, excepting in the case of some of the members of the executive board.

There was some sharp discussion over the bylaws, an effort being made to materially increase the number of members of the executive board, but the motion was defeated. The bylaws as adopted require investigation and report on all industrial matters of importance, particularly railroad extension. A transportation committee is provided to deal with freight and passenger tariffs. Another committee will have charge of legislation desired by the league. Owing to the important work designed for these committees, the appointments were deferred.

At the night session a plan was presented by B. H. Haugen of Minneapolis for a series of special articles in the Chicago Inter Ocean, Minneapolis Journal, Des Moines Capital and Minneapolis Star for $2000. The matter was referred to the executive board.

Major Fenn Speaks.

Major Frank A. Fenn, superintendent of forest reserves in Idaho, was called on and in a brief address which was warmly applauded he answered the various criticisms of the policy in a convincing manner. He responded directly to a number of questions, particularly with reference to mining and grazing. He said the regulations of the National Forest Service, but he emphasized the statement that the government would tolerate no fraud.

Elaborate Banquet.

The Commercial club of Weiser royally entertained the delegates at an elaborate banquet. It was a successful affair, splendidly served. Avery C. Moore was very happy in the role of toastmaster. Toasts were responded to by following: South Idaho, C. M. Hill; Irrigation, W. T. Booth; The Press, Guy Fletcher; Railroads, E. M. Helgeson; The Knicker, B. B. Haugen; The Booster, S. J. Deane.

COMPLIMENTARY TO TWIN FALLS

ADDITIONAL REPRESENTATION FOR CASSIA COUNTY.

Republican State Central Committee Allows Twin Falls One More Delegate to State Convention at Pocatello, August 1.

Cassia was the only county in the state to receive increased representation at the Republican state convention which will be held in Pocatello on Wednesday, August 1. This was the pretty compliment paid to Twin Falls by the Republican state central committee which met in Boise on Wednesday last. It was decided to restrict the number of delegates to less than 300 and to have the representation upon the vote cast for secretary of state at the last election, one delegate being allowed for each 170 votes. On this basis it was found that there would be 298 delegates. Seven counties sought to have their representation increased but Cassia only was honored. The additional delegate will come from Twin Falls as a tribute to the magnificent progress of the Power City.

The apportionment is as follows:

Ada	27	Kootenai	23
Bannock	18	Latah	18
Blaine	11	Lincoln	6
Boise	8	Nex Perce	25
Cassia	9	Owyhee	5
Custer	5	Shoshone	18
Elmore	5	Washington	12
Idaho	16	Total	299

S. T. Hamilton of Twin Falls was admitted to represent Cassia county on the committee in the place of John L. Smith, who was unable to be present.

Upon motion of J. Frank Hunt of Bannock the thanks of the committee were extended, by a unanimous and rising vote, to Chairman Brady for the services he rendered during the campaign, in acknowledgment of which flashes of gratitude illumined the radiant face of the exulting chairman.

The following resolutions were presented by Disney of Lincoln and adopted by the committee:

Resolved, That we most heartily endorse the national Republican administration as guided and directed by the fearless Roosevelt.

We point with much satisfaction to the able, business, faithful and honest administration of Governor Gooding, and we commend his just and impartial administration of the affairs of the state to every good citizen.

We cheerfully endorse the broad-minded and statesmanlike action and conduct of Senator Thurman and Congressman DeLoe in the national congress.

Forest Superintendent Peter Wrenstedt reports that he has received applications to graze many more head of stock on the Cassia reserve than the tract will accommodate. Nineteen hundred head of cattle and 700 head of sheep will have to seek other range. He has granted permits for the grazing of 750 head of cattle and horses and of 500 head of sheep. The time for receiving applications for permits to use the Cassia reserve has expired.

CLEAR LAKE FELT THE STORM

Young Lambs Chilled to Death by the Cold Wind.

CLEAR LAKE, March 13.—A heavy storm from the southeast struck here on Saturday, blowing all night with great severity and continuing until noon on Sunday. It did not turn which reached the proportions of a blizzard. Old timers say they have no recollection of such a severe storm at this time of year. Little birds were frozen to death although the thermometer was several degrees above zero. They could not withstand the biting cold wind and ice pelting. Many of them came into the farmhouses.

J. S. Johnson lost 25 head of sheep on Sunday in a peculiar manner. He drove the animals to one side of a creek while his wife was being spread on the other. When the sheep saw the hay, they made a wild rush across the ditch, which is traversed by a deep ditch. The leading sheep fell into the ditch and the rest of the flock piled over them, tramping them into the ditch.

O. P. Johnson, who is lambing his sheep at the Clear Lake ranch, lost quite a number of lambs during the storm. The wind was so cold that the lambs chilled to death.

T. W. Snowgrass purchased several head of beef cattle in Hagerman, last week.

Rev. W. Wilson and family passed through here on Sunday on their way from Boise to Twin Falls.

Smoking and showers have cleared away the snow and not a trace of the big storm remains.

A. G. Madelon is feeding his cattle and horses, fitting the latter for spring work.

Samuel Briggs and J. W. Briggs have returned from a business trip to Hagerman.

George M. Lamb spent several days in Twin Falls last week, returning home just before the big storm.

J. N. Christensen made a cleanup on his silver claim last week. The amount he saved is not known.

Charles Rose has come to Twin Falls where he will work at quarrying this summer.

They are showing a new line of Oxfords which in point of quality and style eclipse all others. Booth is expecting a line of the Viz & Dunn, Rochester, N. Y. shoes that will soon be able to show the most fashionable in this department. These people are crowded for room, having on display the most beautiful summer dress fabrics on the market anywhere and together with this shoe line will be the best equipped ladies' furnishers in this part of the state.

SMALL FARM BUT LARGE RETURNS

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT BY PENNSYLVANIAN

Work Systematized and Labor Reduced to a Minimum—Feed a Cow to Fatness Instead of Cattle Bought to Feed.

The following notes are taken from an address delivered at the farmers' meeting at Twin Falls, Idaho, on a recent evening by J. D. Deatrick on "Small Farms." Mr. Deatrick is a farmer from the Twin Falls section.

Unimproved Home farm is situated in the beautiful Chester valley. This valley farm of 20 acres, of which 10 is a share farm. The writer operated this farm the latter part of last year.

Mr. Deatrick compared the small farm with the large farm. The small farm is not so profitable as the large farm, but it is not so expensive. Mr. Deatrick on his 15-acre farm, located in the Chester valley, has a record of 31 head of cattle of all ages, and two horses. But means he raised all the calves for them, have fodder, hay and bedding, and only bought two calves, etc.

Now close Mr. Deatrick can come on a large scale to his home town, and will be a matter for the world to know.

Each person drawing will only be entitled to purchase two business lots and two residence lots. One person will not be allowed to sell his chance or number to a second party.

The center of Buhl is 17 miles west of the center of Twin Falls. Buhl is surrounded by a large territory of choice lands, all of which will be covered with water for this season's crops. A fine $25,000 hotel is already constructed and will be ready for the accommodation of prospective investors. Buhl will be the supply point for Three Creek, Roseworth and Butte, each of which is in the center of an immense stock country; also the market point for the fruit farms at Kanaka.

Buhl will be one of the best towns on the Twin Falls tract, and being such a distance from Twin Falls, will in no way be affected by the Electric Power City. The Shoshone Falls Power company will at once construct a line to Buhl for light and power purposes.

Remember that lots in Twin Falls which sold for $500 at the opening have since sold for seven times that sum.

Buhl offers an opportunity for investment which is rarely presented. Don't miss it.

Will Be Something Doing in That Section Before Long.

HANSEN, March 15.—Keep your eyes on Hansen. There will be something doing soon. It won't be long until the date of the grand opening will be announced.

Nick Smith was the first to sow spring grain in this locality.

Hansen is on the map, and the railroad company is beginning to realize it, as there is scarcely a passenger train that does not take on or let off a number of passengers. This is not a flag station, but a regular stop station to accommodate the many passengers. The large increase in the amount of business done at the post office is another convincing evidence of our rapid growth.

The last business enterprise that we have heard of being planned for Hansen is the arrangement that is being made to open up a state bank at this place. The party was here a few days ago.

W. P. Rauch has just received a communication from an old-time friend who is an up to date newspaper man. He asks the advisability of purchasing a brand new printing outfit and engaging here to publish a weekly newspaper and look after the job printing that will be required here. No doubt the time is near at hand when such an enterprise will be a profitable investment.

One of the many noticeable changes in this locality that have taken place since the beginning of 1906 is the scarcity of jack rabbits. Since the rabbit drive in January there have not been enough jack rabbits in the vicinity of Hansen to keep the dogs busy. The rabbits are certainly getting acquainted with the determination of our citizens to accomplish whatever they undertake, and are not going to offer us any more trouble.

The dance given by the Kimberly Social club on Friday in the school house was unusually well attended and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all. This was the second dance given by the club and their reputation for being able to show out a good time is rapidly increasing.

W. F. Hansen has sold his livery and stage stable on Elm street. Mr. Elmer of Rock Creek will have charge of the yard after the 20th, when Mr. Hansen will return to his home in Colorado. He has made a host of friends during his stay here who regret his departure but wish him success in the new line of work that he is about to take up.

Alfred McMillan went to Rock Creek Saturday to work for Brose & McMillan in the construction of cement blocks.

Mr. Pangborne, who had been suffering for some weeks with typhoid fever, died at his home southwest of Kimberly Wednesday morning. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Pangborne and family in their sad bereavement.

The Modern Woodmen will organize a lodge here Friday evening. The meeting will be held in the school house and all candidates are expected to be present.

The high winds of the past few days have done considerable damage to some of the lesser buildings about here. The tops of several tents were blown off and Durrington's barn was overturned, but probably the most serious damage was done to the school house, which was blown off one-fourth of a mile. The family fortunately escaped without injury.

Rev. Schenck of Twin Falls will preach here on Sunday evening, March 25. A large attendance is desired.

PLOWING-BEGINS AT MURTAUGH

Railway Company Will Dig a Well at Dry Creek.

MURTAUGH, March 15.—A. C. Hammond of Dillon, Mont., and Mr. L. L. Cathcart of Sioux City, Iowa, were here on business last Friday. They speak very highly about the prospects of this section and were very much surprised with the progress of our country in a short time.

F. Lee Johnson, F. N. Weinheimer and W. P. Jackson were callers in Twin Falls.

Chester Stephenson is living with F. W. Weinheimer.

The farmers are plowing, clearing and making fences.

Little Pearl Jackson was quite ill but is improving.

Miss Bacon will leave in a few days for Longmont, Colorado. Fred Bacon was a recent caller in Twin Falls.

Y. M. C. A. DEPARTMENT

(Conducted by the Secretary.)

Echoes from the Reading Room—Notes and Comments on Happenings in the Association.

"One for all, and all for one."

The weather has put a quip on the discussion of baseball and basketball.

If anyone asks you what became of "Tompin's Hired Man," just tell them he died.

Attorney M. J. Sweeney will deliver an address Sunday, March 18. Don't miss it.

Several have failed to pay their March assessment dues and we need the money very badly.

"All Welcome" is the new sign that has just recently been painted on the window "All" that includes YOU. Don't forget the sign.

During the cold weather there has been a large number of farmers availing themselves of the privileges of the room. We hope the number will increase.

Rev. Schenck has recently received one of his bookcases from his home in the east. He now has a part of his library here and does his studying at the room.

The fact that 50 to 60 people came out to the meeting last Sunday, with prominent men of the west, is surely an index to the interest that is being taken in the work.

Something in the near future we hope to have the entrance to the room in a more inviting condition. The woodwork is to be painted also. These improvements will all come in due time.

Mrs. J. O. Angel of Sucker Flat was a visitor at the room this week. It is certainly gratifying to notice the interest that is being taken in the association by the good people from the country.

Strangers who stop in the city and call at the room—and there are many of them—have nothing but words of praise for our work. Though they may not realize it, their words are helping greatly with the work.

"Christian Character" was the subject of the address given by J. B. Funtun of Boise spoke on at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday. The bishop is an eloquent and sincere man and was given the very closest attention.

"Will meet you at the room is a common expression among the boys. And the room is a good meeting place for all kinds of things. Just the place to spend an hour or so talking over a business or social matter.

A farmer, whose name we have not heard of before, accompanied by his wife, spent about an hour at the room Tuesday. This was much appreciated, and we hope that more of our friends from the country will come in while in town.

The association has decided to open a free employment agency. Those who are employed in the room and are requested to leave their names with the room secretary, Mr. Schenck. Those wanting help can do likewise. If you want work or help, let us know; we will help you if we can.

Mr. Schenck, who has charge of the reading room, has secured a talking picture, with which he will keep tabs on the number of people that visit the room during each day. If you want to know whether the room is being patronized, ask to see the register.

It is surely gratifying to note the number of working men in the city who are frequenting the room in the evenings. This is just what the room is for. When we can get the working men interested in a reading room, we have made a big step toward the betterment of the community. We are doing some good.

"To do good" is our motto. Could an organization be so selfish? No, it cannot. Yet, when a certain business man of this city was approached in regard to becoming a member he became very indignant, and in a very angry manner he said that he was "not interested" in the Y. M. C. A. Fortunately, Twin Falls has few such—in fact, we have only heard of one so far.

Through the courtesy of Senator Dubois, 50 volumes, chiefly of documentary nature, have been received at the reading room. There are, however, in the collection some works of great literary and historical value. Among these is a recent report of the American Historical association in two large volumes; also two volumes that have been studied with interest is the report of the commissioner of education. There is also a fine volume containing the constitution and rules governing the deliberations of the U. S. senate. The whole makes a most imposing appearance and helps to fill up. Senator Dubois has our thanks.

"The movement on foot to open up Y. M. C. A. rooms in Caldwell is the proper thing and should be encouraged. It requires money to run an institution of this kind so that the full benefits may be realized, but the funds are worthy and we trust, therefore, that all will contribute to the fullest possible extent. There will be urgent need in Caldwell from now on for just such an organization as the Y. M. C. A. and it is to be hoped that nothing will stand in the way of securing it."

The above is from the Gem State Record of March 11 and was very pleasing to all who read it. It was induced to note the action taken by the people of Caldwell. May the most possible success crown their efforts.

Our membership is now 25. There are still a large number of business men who would like to see identified with the association. Under our present temporary organization there is no obligation or pledge whatever, other than a promise to pay the monthly assessments and use your influence in the furtherance of the work. The assessments after this month will be 50 cents per month, an amount so small that all will be able to meet it with no difficulty. Business men, if you wish to help a worthy organization, have your name entered on our membership list. To be identified with the Y. M. C. A. is to be with the grandest organization for men that was ever brought into existence. You can give your name to Mr. Schenck at the reading room or to any other member.

There is at this time over 100 volumes in our library, and every book is from the pen of some of the world's best writers. There is not a cheap magazine published can be found on the reading tables. The Boise and Salt Lake papers are received every day; all the country papers are received except those from the east are left at the room nearly every day by some of our friends. The room is 2x3x3; there are writing tables, chairs and sofas in the room and every book is in the room. There is also a better lighted room in the room. Always clean, cozy and warm, and finally, and of paramount importance, there can be no one who will take more delight in waiting on you and making you "at home" than will Mr. Schenck. With the above for consideration, is there any excuse why the reading room should not become the most popular resort in the city?

The following excerpt from a letter received by the writer the first of the week is of such a nature that we believe all who are interested in our work will be encouraged by the words: "In a few days I shall send you a box of books and magazines for your public reading room. It will come by freight in a week or so. Then I want to do something else—and I shall think about it. Have you a corner for the boys? Perhaps I can help you fit one up, with books and pictures and all sorts of things. Boys are my particular delight. I have never found one yet that couldn't be reached and helped. In some way, no matter how unimportant the room should not become a help you, even a little, in this good work you have undertaken it will give me pleasure."

We might add that the above is from a lady in the state of Nebraska. It shows that our efforts are known on the other side of the city, and not only are they appreciated, but they are also being put into effect. The writer offers of assistance that is to be offered in these columns that it is to the unselfish devotion of the women to the cause of justice that we owe their inspiration and courage for labor for the things worth striving for in this life. Again, devotion like above will give us renewed strength and courage and the result will be a grander success for our Y. M. C. A. work.
