KIMBERLY HOLDS THE SOCIAL PALM

TOOK GOOD CARE OF 300 QUESTS
LAST NIGHT.

Jolly Crowd Attends the Reception Given by Kimberly Townsite Co. to Commemorate the Opening of the New Railway Depot.

Five scores of jolly folks, old and young, accompanied by brass band, invaded Kimberly last evening, danced the floor out of the new depot, nearly ate the citizens out of house and home, made a host of friends and left with cheers on their lips for Kimberly, the Townsite Co., James McMillan, the Ladies and the townspeople. It was a splendid reception; the only drawback being that the depot was too small for an ordinary town of about 10 years the Kimberly depot would be quite commodious, but for a Twin Falls tract yearling it is a roomy and roomy room. It will answer admirably for railroad purposes, however.

The hospitable people of Kimberly threw up their hands when they saw the Twin Falls crowd. Kimbly, who looked like an ambassador in full dress, placed himself in immediate communication with the commissary department. "Make at it 200? Two sandwiches," cried Jim. "See Carl Hahn, Frank Eastman and George Frazer in the bunch and I hear that Dr. Baker is with them."

The reception committee had a snap. The Twin Falls visitors proceeded to remove and conceal their hats and wraps without ceremony. They felt at home and they were at home. To for Kimberly hospitality hasn't the real homelike tang there is no such thing in existence.

The band unlimbered and the rafters of the new depot reverberated with echoes of good music. Happy thought, that of taking the band along. The bandmen are a big factor in the social life of Twin Falls, and the trip tonight would not have been nearly so enjoyable without them.

Fully 300 people attended the reception and a happier, more jovial lot of good citizens never gathered together in any community. People took good care of their guests, as they always do, the height of hospitality measuring with the height of good fellowship. Danced until midnight, when the Twin Falls visitors were served with refreshments, the other visitors graciously insisting that Twin Falls should have the first tables in order that they might catch their train. Then they danced until 1 o'clock, when Conductor Hahn called "All Aboard!" and everybody from Twin Falls cheered for Kimberly and everybody and everything connected with the town.

"How on earth are they going to feed us?" queried some of the Twin Falls excursionists. The tables were laid in the Kimberly Mercantile Co.'s store, and talk about refreshments—ask Charley Macaulay. He made the high rim on sandwiches.

Dr. Baker is reported to have eaten a peck of June apples. There were none in the store when he left and he was the last man seen eating apples at P. H. Smith held the record on coffee. He got the brand and the recipe from Jim McMillan. "I'd go to Kimberly any day to get a cup of such coffee," said Mr. Smith.

Harry West was the only fat man allowed on the dancing floor. This was because of his good looks. The other corpulent gentlemen took up too much room and were relegated to the siding.

The combination coach selected for the excursion proved to be better than the crowd so Conductor Hahn tacked on a coal-car for the men. The car was clean and the wind was just right to carry the smokers away, consequently those who had berths in the gondola had a comfortable ride.

Rock Creek was represented by a large delegation. The farmers brought their wives and children and the presence of the little ones added to the homelike appearance of the reception.

Kimberly, Aug. 16.—An interesting game of ball was played on the Kimberly diamond last night between the Hansen and Kimberly nine. The game resulted in a victory for the Kimberly team with a score of 7 to 3. Charles Mathias spent Saturday and Sunday visiting with his old friends in Shoshone.

Mrs. A. A. Garlock, state president of the W. C. T. U., addressed an interested audience in the school house Sunday evening on the subject of temperance, laying special stress on the present needs of Idaho along that line. Mrs. Garlock is an able speaker and easily held the attention of the audience to the end of her talk. Steps were taken toward organizing a W. C. T. U. here.

Mrs. Samuel Holt has been suffering from blood poisoning in her hand for the past few days, but is now improving from a stiff neck.

Noble McMaster and family spent a few days of last week in the mountains back of Rock Creek. They report a very enjoyable trip. They had as their guests during the outing Jessie and Edith Starr of Kimberly.

Lonnie Fisher of Salt Lake is visiting with his brother, Mattie Fisher, on his ranch north of Kimberly.

Fourteen cars of gravel have recently arrived here to be used in making the walks around the depot. Six more cars are expected shortly. The project is practically completed—only a few finishing touches remain to be attended to.

T. Atkins, Henry Hansen and Walter Bros. all of Rock Creek, were Kimberly visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Tenent, who has been visiting with her sisters in Shoshone for some time past, returned to her home here Wednesday.

Mrs. Ed. Domrose has been on the sick list for the past few days suffering from a stiff neck.

Work has begun on H. T. West's house on his ranch south of town. Messrs. Osborne & Wilkins have the contract.

A car of coal was unloaded here Tuesday for the Nibbel-Channel Lumber Co.

Mrs. Jean and Jessie McMillan will leave Monday to be the guests of Mrs. A. D. Norton and daughter during a two-day visit. Mrs. McMillan has been in the Clara Bros. of Rock Creek will also be one of the party.

Merritt Eignor has purchased a fine new buggy for his livery stable. George Peterson, who has been bedridden for the past three weeks, is again able to be about, though looking considerably the worse for wear.

Preaching services will be held in the schoolhouse Sunday evening by Rev. R. D. Osterhout. All are cordially invited to attend.

NAMED AFTER A "BILLY GOAT"

Goat Springs Christianized in Peculiar Manner.

The Goat springs, 15 miles south of Twin Falls, received their name in a peculiar manner. It might be supposed that the springs were at one time the favorite resort of the wild goat, but such is not the case. Wild goats have never been seen in southern Idaho, at least not since the advent of the white man. The Goat springs were named after a plain, ordinary little goat. Nowadays there are enough empty cans and paper in the vicinity of the springs to feed a flock of Billy goats but at the time the springs were named there had not yet been a goat. The goat was a trademark beside the torrent of hot water where the campers wash their dishes.

One day in the long ago a passing cow puncher halted at the hot springs and finding a number of cave openings on the side hills he decided to stop and do a little exploring. Letting himself in by means of a pole, he crept from one cave to another, occasionally finding pools of hot water. It was hot. It is always hot in the caves at Goat springs. In fact, there is a popular impression that the river Styx flows through the side hill in which the caves are located. The cow puncher explorer's clothing soon displayed all the advantages of a porous plaster in good working order. He panted and puffed and tried to separate himself from the clinging towel. His mother gasped, but the hunter he worked the more moisture he exuded. Just as he had decided to retreat his steps and seek a breath of fresh air from above he heard the "Baa" of a goat and caught the gleam of a pair of luminous eyes. At first he thought of cougars and bobcats but the sight of a fine bunch of Billy goats whiskers stopped and he said "The goat was rescued and taken to the 'cavey' and thereafter the springs were known as Goat springs.

Goat springs are well worth a visit. Old timers tell of men who have been carried into the hot caves because they were so crippled with rheumatism that they could not walk. In a few hours the cripples were able to dress themselves and climb out of the caves—at least that is the story. The hot water—and it is powerful—hot certainly has medicinal properties. It is known to contain lime and it is extremely penetrating. The caves are no on the side hill, above the springs. They are fantastic, picturesque, deep, winding and everlastingly hot. In places are found pools of water so hot that the bathers have to creep into them by inches. The water is not stagnant, apparently, and the supposition is that it comes from the same source as the springs which burst from the flat below.

The rate given to the National Irrigation congress, which convenes at Boise September 3 to 8, is the lowest that could be made by the Western Passenger association. One fare plus 50 cents for the round trip, limited to 30 days, with stop-over privilege during the return trip, brings the thousands of visitors to Idaho and the west, who are interested in making a personal examination of its vast resources.

USED PLAIN OLD BRONCHOS

Harry Vingut Straddled Western Horses in Record Ride.
The Associated Press made a big item the other day over the performance of Harry K. Vingut of New York in riding six horses a distance of 100 miles in 9 1/2 hours. Such a stunt as this, now in the west is the great cowboy feat where things are wide and open, would be looked upon as an everyday occurrence, as in fact it often has been with the displace covered in less time and with fewer horses. It is uncanny to remark, perhaps, in this connection that the New Yorker eschewed thoroughbreds in this John Gilpin ride of his and won the bet with equal parts of old western bronchos, long-winded, nimble-footed, easy-footed and full of go.

HOW POCATELLO BECAME CHIEF

Was Chosen Successor to Snag After Latter's Murder.

In 1863 the old scout, Oliver P. Wiggin, was employed in guiding a wagon train from Denver to Montana. After delivering the goods safely, Wiggin stopped at a little Mormon settlement in Idaho called Bannock City, which had a population of about 30 and near which were located the Bannock Indians. The chief of the Bannocks at that time was Snag, whose daughter was married to a blacksmith of the town. While Wiggin was there Snag accidentally shot himself in the knee and with two other Indians came into town for medical assistance.

The place at that time contained nine gamblers headed by John Bozeman, a tough character from Georgia. These fellows did not like Indians very well and just for the fun of the thing shot and killed Snag and one of his warriors as they were entering the blacksmith shop, while the third buck in the party escaped and returned to the tribe. Of course this unwarranted shooting caused a great hullabaloo among the Bannocks, who were composed mainly of renegades from all tribes, and they at once made preparations to wipe out the entire white community. When Bishop Johnson learned of their danger he appealed to Wiggin and his companion, a stockman named Bob Dempsey, to go and negotiate terms of peace.

While it was none of their funeral, these two white men went at once unarmed to the Indian camp and when within a mile of the place met a war party bent on direful vengeance. They intended to kill Wiggin and Dempsey, and things began to look rather ugly around the edges, but at the critical moment two young half breeds named Kit and Jim Beckworth, who Wiggin had previously known around Denver interceded and saved their lives by assuring the warriors that these men were the best friends their father had ever known. Wiggin succeeded in pacifying the band and was escorted to the Indian village, where he met and induced the leading man of the tribe to elect a new chief. This was done that very night by the selection of Pocatello to succeed the dead Snag. A powwow was held, and it was decided that the two white men should return to Bannock City with 200 warriors to arrest the nine gamblers guilty of the chief's murder.

When the party reached Bannock the gamblers had escaped in anticipation of trouble but Wiggin learned that they were headed for Salt Lake and had only a few hours start. The whole band started in hot pursuit and came upon the gamblers' camp just outside the Mormon fort Lemhi, 20 miles south of Bannock City. Bozeman happened to be in the fort at the time in quest of supplies but the Indians killed his eight partners around their camp fire, captured 20 horses and carried back all their real valuables. Two years later Kit Beckworth came upon and recognized Bozeman in a surveying party. He shot him dead, and it was in this way the entire gang was wiped out. Kit was subsequently killed in a scum with the Bannocks while fighting with the Indians. A child of the old colored scout and cook, Jim Beckworth, and by the same wife, Pine Leaf, was known as Black Panther, who became chief of the Bannocks, but we have no record of his subsequent history and do not know whether he is living or not.—Denver Field and Farm.

TIME-KILLERS

According to a well known railroad man, interested in construction in the Indian, though himself not overly fond of work, evinces the greatest contempt for the indolent white man. To sit by and watch the latter toil is to the red man a source of never-ending pleasure.

A number of Blackfeet in Montana were, according to this railroad man, one day squatting on the ground watching a group of laborers who were constructing a grade for a branch line in that state. In their laconic fashion they were commenting upon the workmen and their work, when a surveyor, riding on a bicycle, the first the Indians had ever seen, came along. He had left the train at the last station and was going to the fort, a little farther on.

The Blackfeet watched the wheelman without a word until he had passed beyond a hill. Then they expressed their sentiments with regard to him.

"Ugh!" grunted one, "white man heap lazy."

"Yes," assented another, "white man heap lazy and walk."

Philadelphia Ledger.

Secretary Shaw recently told a story on Representative John of Iowa when the latter was a feigning attorney and anxious to make a reputation for himself. A prisoner was brought before the bar in a criminal court in Iowa, but he was not represented by a lawyer.

"Why haven't you?"

"Haven't any money to pay a lawyer."

"Do you want a lawyer?" asked the judge.

"Yes, your honor."

"There is Mr. Walter L. Smith, John Brown, pointing to a lot of young attorneys who were about the court waiting for something to turn up, and Mr. Alexander is out in the corridor."

The prisoner eyed the budding attorneys in the courtroom and after a critical survey stroked his chin and said, "Well, I guess I will take Mr. Alexander."—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

"Where have you been this evening?" asks O'Toole of O'Toole.

"Sure, I've been playing Bridget whist. It's a folsie game, it is."

"Bridget whist? An' how do you play that?"

"Oh, it's in the kitchen with Bridget and ate pie an' cake an' chicken, an' when Bridget hears the mistress comin' in she says, 'Whist! and O! hide in the pantry.'—Judge.

"Yes, everybody works, even father."

"What's he doing?"

"Oh, he's pinching holes in the lawn tennis net to make material for his new shirtwaist."—Indianapolis News.

"Judging from Miss Thumperton's treatment of the organ," sarcastically remarked the choristmaster, who objected to the new organist engaged by the rector, "you prefer to buy your music by the pound."

"Well," replied the rector, quietly, "it isn't always supplied by the choir."

Like the gentlemen in his novels, the Irish writer, Charles Lever, carried his responsibilities with audacious ease.

In 1869, when he was consul at Trieste, he paid a visit to England. On his arrival, says his latest biographer, Edmund Downey, he called on Lord Lytton. The two novelists chatted for some time, and at length Lord Lytton said:

"I am so glad for many reasons to see you here. You will have an opportunity presently of meeting your chief, Clarendon. I expect him every moment."

Lever was agast. He recollected suddenly that he had left Trieste without obtaining formal leave. He endeavored to excuse himself to Lytton—by had to be off—he was so sorry—but—

While he was explaining, the minister for foreign affairs was announced.

"Ah, Lever!" said Lord Clarendon, in surprise. "I did not know you had left Trieste."

"No, my lord. The fact is," said the ready Lever, "though it would be more respectful if I came and asked your lordship personally for leave."

Two Irish farmers who had not seen each other for a long time met at a fair. They had a lot of things to tell each other. "Shure, it's married I am," said Murphy.

"Faix, yes," said Murphy, "and I've got a fine healthy boy which the neighbors say is the very picture of your lordship."

Moran looked for a moment at Murphy, who was not, to say the least, remarkable for his rosy looks, and then said: "Och, well, what is the harm so long as the child's healthy?"—Dublin Gazette.

A scaffold on the First National bank building gave way this morning, precipitating Architect James H. Richardson and Hugh Thompson, a brick mason, a distance of several feet. Mr. Richardson sustained a slight scalp wound and Mr. Thompson was painfully bruised and cut. The accident was due to any defect in the scaffold but was the result of inadvertent overloading.

The Rock Creek Infants and the Twin Falls Stars played a spirited game of ball on the local grounds last Sunday which resulted in a victory for the Stars by a score of 3 to 2. Carl Domrose pitched for the visitors and Jay Abbott for the Stars. Carl held the Stars down for seven innings until somebody raised his sights. The infants are good hitters and with a little practice the game will be played with anything in this part of the state. The game was full of fun and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

J. H. Day, who returned on Tuesday from the Contact, Nevada, copper camp, stated it contained some of the best showings he has ever seen. The people of Contact, said Mr. Day, would like to establish communication with Twin Falls, which is their closest rail point. Several members of the Twin Falls Rod and Gun club will take part in the Pocatello shoot August 22. The most expert shots in America will participate and an effort is being made to induce them to visit Twin Falls on their way out. Attorney F. H. Holzhimer returned this morning from a trip to Twin Falls, where he went in the interests of Wakefield & Fridentine, to replace an electric piano which had been misplaced in this section. The piano is hot and dusty on the tract, but that the outlook for the year is positively brilliant.—Pocatello Tribune.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Harper and C. H. Washburn of Chicago and M. H. Crapner and M. B. Van Cott of New York were guests at the Hotel Perrine for several days this week. They came to Twin Falls to see the tannery and witness the process of empire building.

Before leaving for home this afternoon they took in all the sights and announced themselves as well satisfied that they will return again before long. Mr. Van Cott even went so far as to state confidentially that he believed in the beauties of Shoshone falls during the flood season and Mr. Crapner offered to submit himself to the bite of a rattlesnake to show his loyalty to the land of anarchy. Dr. Harper stated that while he did not wish to be quoted professionally he found Twin Falls and its people to be absolutely trustworthy and vigorous, which fact he attributed to the bracing night air, the aroma of sage and the abstemious habits of the populace. The visitors were shown the tannery and when it was explained to them that jackrabbits were considered a menace to elevation in this section Mr. Crapner reconsidered his determination to bring home a tanned rabbit skin. Mr. Van Cott said he could see no reason why a man should pine for a tanned rabbit skin when he could make a trip to Shoshone falls and tan his own skin. However, the visitors greatly enjoyed their stay and the number of Twin Falls rooters has been increased by five.

H. E. Paxton has returned to his former home in Decatur, Ill.

Hugh Austermell has gone to Chicago for a visit with relatives and friends.

Superintendent McPherson is engaged in collecting an exhibit of Twin Falls grains and grasses for display at the National Irrigation congress.

C. D. Thomas has disposed of his Twin Falls property to H. H. Schenck. The property included the city residence of Mr. Thomas and two 40-acre tracts.

C. H. Mull, Everett Sweeney, Morgan Heap and Arnold Frankel are camping in the hills, luring trout from the streams, killing sage hens and grouse and fattening up on "mulligans."

D. E. Burley and George D. Alkon, who drove to Buhl, or rather drove part of the way to Buhl this afternoon, are in favor of the immediate completion of the railway to that point. They made good time until they reached a point about a mile from the town, where the road is in a state of disrepair. At this point one of the front wheels struck a rock. Snap went the doubletree and away went the horses, leaving the travelers meditating in the sagebrush.

It is probable that one or more artesian wells will be sunk or driven on the Twin Falls tract before long. The geological survey department is co-operating with different states in this work and an effort should be made to induce the next legislature to make an appropriation. The government has been duplicating state appropriations and it would seem that the money paid is well spent. In California and other states vast benefits have accrued from the experiments.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO ORGANIZE

Will Meet Next Monday to Perfect Campaign Details.

The prohibitionists of Twin Falls are preparing to organize a campaign for the forthcoming campaign. At a meeting held on Monday, which was called to order by Mrs. A. A. Garlock, Rev. R. D. Osterhout was elected chairman and Rev. John H. Schenck secretary.

Brunk was appointed county chairman, Rev. J. H. Schenck secretary and C. E. Day treasurer. The meeting then adjourned until Monday evening, August 20. All prohibitionists and friends of temperance are urged to be present at this meeting and take an active part in the work of uplifting humanity.

CURRENT WORLD.

Five of the principal business houses of Farmington, Wash., were destroyed by fire on Monday, together with the city hall and jail.

Mike McKale and William Druggan, two veteran prospectors, fought a duel with rifles at Chehalis, Wash., Sunday last which resulted in Druggan's death.

The fortieth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Minneapolis this week was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. The encampment was especially impressive, being several miles in length.

W. J. Bryan has demanded the resignation of National Committeeman Sullivan of Illinois and the latter has refused to step down. Bryan charged Sullivan and John Hopkins with robbing the Democrats of their political rights. A lively fight is probable.

The banks of the Chicago Clearing House association have offered a reward of $2,000 for the arrest of Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive president of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue State bank. The affairs of the institution appear to be in a worse condition than had been supposed.

Miss Winnie Jones, A. L. Bergelt, Mrs. J. H. B. Howard and A. L. Tuman, all of Davenport, Wash., were drowned in Spokane river last Sunday. The women were bathing and were swept into a whirlpool. The men lost their lives while trying to rescue their companions.

Alexander R. Chisholm, speaking leader of the First National bank of Birmingham, Ala., is reported to be short $100,000. It is said he lost heavily in speculation. Chisholm was prominent socially and confessed his debt and inability to meet certain brokers, two of whom, W. L. Sims and C. M. Hayes, are under arrest.

Mrs. Pearl Maryo, Teresa Craigie (John Oliver Hobbes), the author and dramatist, died in her sleep some time during Monday night of hay fever, aged 30 years. Her death was totally unexpected, she having been perfectly well when she retired. Mrs. Craigie had been spending a fortnight at her home, Steep Hill estate, Ventnor, Isle of Wight, where she went Sunday afternoon to keep an engagement.

After an unexplained absence of 13 years Professor Charles H. Frye, former superintendent of the Chicago Normal school, has returned home. One of his first acts on arrival at his home was to hand a roll of bills $100 bills totaling $2000 to the wife. "Ask me no questions," Frye was 31 years of age when he disappeared. Since that day no word has been received from him by his wife. He is said to have made money in the Philippines, where he resided for several years.

The fire in the Santitas mountains is absolutely beyond control. The flames have crossed the Sanilum river into Lincoln county, burning into a fine stretch of timber, and are now 10 miles from the point where they crossed the stream. This fire is so threatening Hoover's sawmill above Detroit and is traveling toward the summit of the Cascade mountains. Another fire traveled up the Bretten-bush river in the direction of Bretten-bush hot springs. It has covered 10 miles and burned over a wide area. Up to tonight fully 12 square miles of timber have been destroyed. Many camping parties in the mountains are returning in haste.

Satisfactory results with wireless apparatus are reported to the chief signal officer in Washington from Camp Roosevelt at Mount Gretna, P. I. Under the direction of Chairman Gibbs of the signal corps there has been installed at headquarters a set of wireless instruments and a station erected. Two other sets of instruments are also in use and are set with principal detachments of troops when out on march or in maneuvers. From distances of 10 or more miles when a halt is made a wireless apparatus is brought out and within five minutes or less messages are exchanged with headquarters. Kites are used from these outlying temporary stations and it has been demonstrated that direct and quick communication can be established. On some occasions the signal corps has been able to carry out carrying the apparatus with them and moving at a rate which would render it impossible to string wires in order to keep in communication with headquarters.

Acting apparently with a definite plan and at a signal the terrorists and revolutionists have inaugurated a carnival of murderous attacks with bombs and revolvers on the police and troops in various cities in Poland, echoes of which are heard from Samara, Ufa, Yalta, Kiev and even far away Chita, where Acting Chief of Police Gorenichewski was slain almost on his own doorstep. The revolutionists campaign, since out with especial violence at Warsaw, where over a score were slain in the streets and many more were wounded. Among the killed, according to the latest official advice, were two sergeants of police, eight patrolmen, three gendarmes, five soldiers, a Hebrew merchant and a woman, all excepted among the slain. The police and soldiers were shot down like rabbits in the streets. The assassins, who traveled in small bands, at the moment all escaped among the terrified and sympathetic populace. The only considerable capture was a band of 10 men who had invaded a grog shop and killed a soldier. These were taken by a passing patrol.

Coltonwood, Idaho, is to be the seat of a great Catholic monastic order, and handsome college buildings are to be erected at a cost of about $1,000,000. The Benedictine order, which has acquired about 900 acres of choice lands, part of which will be farmed, part devoted to gardening and fruit growing, and a well equipped dairy and stock farm will be transferred entirely to the members of the order.

State Horticulturist Hitt says that in the Payette and Boise valleys farmers have complained that the grasshoppers are quite destructive in the alfalfa fields, but as far as other crops are concerned are not doing much damage. The grasshoppers are not damaging the fruits so far as has been learned. "The grasshoppers seem to be much more plentiful this year than usual," said Mr. Hitt. "I cannot assign any particular reason for the fact. They are local pests and are some years greater in numbers than others. They are more bothersome than destructive. With the exception of the complaints concerning alfalfa, the farmers have not complained much about them."

Some very interesting statistics are being compiled by the state engineers and agriculture departments of the 16 states comprising the irrigated area of the United States. These will consist of compilations of statistics relating to the amount of water in the running streams, the amount of water stored in reservoirs, the amount of water conserved through storage, and the number of acres of land that are subject to reclamation through irrigation. The survey will be a wonderful exposition of the vast opportunities remaining in the west for profitable investment of capitalists, for future irrigation and for enormous markets for manufacturers, for extending railroads and other means of transportation, for building cities and creating business. The figures given will be authentic and reliable, and demonstrate to what extent the future holds for irrigation enterprises.

FINE FIELD OF SUGAR BEETS

Grown on Woodmansee Farm, Near Idaho Falls Factory.

J. H. Gardner, general superintendent of the Idaho and Utah sugar factories, passed through Pocatello Saturday en route to his home in Salt Lake from a tour of inspection of the three factories in Idaho, at Sugar City, Idaho Falls and Blackfoot. He said that in all his experience in the culture of beets he had never seen such a stand as that which he inspected on the old Woodmansee farm near the Idaho Falls factory. It is a solid patch 150 acres and every plant was so well developed that the whole field looked like a waving ocean of green and it was impossible to tell which way the rows ran. He said he would not be surprised if that 150 acres averaged 18 tons to the acre. Pocatello Tribune.

FRENCH INVASION OF UTAH.

Expensive Frog Farm Established Near Salt Lake City.

Charles S. Lador of Salt Lake has established a $20,000 frog farm. He has secured quantities of the highest grade of American frogs as well as the best from abroad. Recently he imported a number from France. The monster Davenport was fed a number from New Jersey and Florida. These are the largest of the genus Rana, known as the American bull frog. To grow from a great deal of care is necessary. "The water must be watched carefully to keep it clean, pure and of the right temperature. Twice a day the amphibians are fed a mixture of dried insects, liver, light and middlings made into a mash and placed in the pond in a quiet spot. Five pounds of this mixture is given to the animals in the ponds or farm of Mr. Lador daily. The food costs four cents a pound. From two to three years are needed for the frogs to attain the size best suited for market."

returned Sunday.

gistered at Hotel Buhl Sunday.

Falls on Saturday night. He said he had a good time while in the big city, but after all there is no place like Buhl for him, so he came back as soon as he could.

A. McDonald, architect and builder, arrived here from Salt Lake Tuesday to commence the construction of a handsome residence for D. E. Burley on his ranch adjoining the townsite on the east. The house will be a first class modern residence, with a foundation of lava rock and cement. The work of construction will begin at once.

F. B. Erb of Twin Falls was in town Monday. He intends commencing the erection of a stone building on his lots on Broadway in a short time.

Mrs. Mary L. Lehman, mother of John R. Lehman, proved up on her ranch on Sucker Flat last week and departed for her home in Tiffin, Ohio, Tuesday. She was accompanied by her son, his wife and daughter, who will visit there for a while and then return to Buhl.

W. H. Griffith, whose ranch lies about three miles northwest of town, sold two wagon loads of watermelons in Buhl last week. The melons were large and of fine quality.

The field peas and millet on the experimental farm have been harvested and produced a splendid crop, considering the time of their planting, and the ground is being prepared and acres of wheat this week.

G. R. Dunn bought a self-blinder from Parker & Marshall last week and it has been making music ever since he got it out of town, other on his own or somebody else's ranch.

He says that the crops are even better than was expected. This sounds pre-tremely strong, considering the fact that we all expected a great deal.

We had a grand mixture of the elements Saturday and Sunday, when lightning, wind, rain and dust conspired for the mastery. The rain finally won out and laid the dust for a while.

Parker & Marshall, the hardware firm, are excavating for an extension to their main store. The extension will be 40 feet long, two stories and a basement.

The news that Mr. Buhl was again at the head of affairs on the tract was all hope that the railroad news which reached us at the same time is not a mistake of the reporters.

G. A. Blue of Denver, Colorado, and Edgar Larson of Idaho, N. D., came in Saturday to look over the country and were so well pleased with its future prospects that Mr. Larson took the and returned to the railroad town to take the train for home. He is a merchant and will sell out in his home town and come here in January to take up his permanent residence here and cultivate the ranch. He will put the most of it in fruit. The ranch is only a mile and a quarter from town.

He also bought two town lots, one residence and one business. Mr. Blue is a tailor by profession and a good one.
Your correspondent knew him in Colorado. He is going to open a tailor shop in Twin Falls and also a large clothing establishment, a branch of which will be in Buhl in a short time.

He has the money with which to do it.

The subject chosen for discussion by Superintendent McPherson at the farmers' association meeting Monday night was "Soils and their Various Properties." He first explained how the soil of the Twin Falls tract was formed and described the several elements of which it is composed. He then compared the soil of this tract with the soils of the Mississippi valley and other soils and showed the differences between them in the nature of the elements of which they are composed and explained why it is that the soil of the Twin Falls tract is so much more productive than the others.

He discussed the germ life of soils and the discussed the results to the soil obtained from the cultivation of grasses, especially clover and alfalfa, and the results to the soil obtained from the cultivation of alfalfa and other crops.

He also explained the importance of diverted all kinds of soils from Maine to Washington, and that in all his life and experience as a farmer he never saw any soil equal to the soil around Buhl in richness and productive power.

Mr. Russell is a student of history as well as of soils and botany, and he compared our pioneering with that of the early settlers in the eastern and some of the western states and said that we had a snap here. He pointed out how much easier it is to clear off a bunch of sagebrush than to fell a hardwood tree and called attention to how men in the early days of the settlement of these states tackled forests with no capital or scarcely any other implements than an ax. He related a story told him by his grandfather of one of those early pioneers who purchased an ax of credit and started in to clear off a farm. He was an industrious and energetic and intelligent man, but after a while, year's hard work he was unable to pay for the ax and was sued for the price of it. He said that pioneering on this tract was a luxury compared to what it had been in other places, and that those who are doing the act for the first time on the Twin Falls tract know nothing about the real thing. The school trustees reported having heard from the state superintendent of public instruction to the effect that the county superintendent would soon inform them of the amount of money that the district would be entitled to out of the general school fund. They also reported that a builder and contractor was figuring on and preparing plans for a three-story school house, also that they had a talk with F. B. Erb of Twin Falls, who was in town Monday and contemplated building on his lots on Broadway, about renting the ground floor of the building for school purposes.

A motion was made and carried authorizing the president and secretary to go on extending the meeting two or three days, so that all the members who could and would spare the time to attend the irrigation congress at Bolsa and represent the association there.

P. D. Reinhold lost a valuable horse yesterday. The animal took sick and was dead in a few hours.

The street gang is out today in full force. The citizens determined to try conclusions with the dust and turned the ditch water into the streets last night, and today nearly every man in town out with a shovel irrigating Broadway and the other main streets.

Miss Gretchen Miller celebrated her 14th birthday by giving a party to a few of her friends. The evening was spent in socializing games, after which dainty refreshments were served.

Those present were Mary Miller, Trish Miller, Irene Ford, Lennie Milner, Harry Hinchey and Max Miller.

IDAHO LIVESTOCK MOVEMENT

Time Limit Law Changes Drift of Stock Shipments.

Cars by the score are being shipped by the Oregon Short Line and Rio Grande to points in Idaho and Wyoming, thus beginning the sheep shipping season of the present year. Shippers give reports of exceptionally large consignments to be sent this fall, and it is believed that a new record will be established, says the Salt Lake Republican.

One of the new features is the fact that wool from western Nevada are being sent east this fall instead of to San Francisco. It is expected that hundreds of carloads will be shipped from Nevada to the coast.

California shipments that have already been sent to the coast in years past. This change in traffic will mean much to the western roads, as this trade was entirely lost for years.

The destruction of San Francisco stockyards is, of course, responsible for the alteration. Flockmasters in the Rocky and Tri-State regions have already sent orders here for cars to be used in shipping their flocks to the yards in the east.

The new fooling regulations on route, which will be followed this year, are believed to be greatly beneficial to both the railroads and sheepmen.
Instead of the old 24-hour law, shippers have been sent circulars by the railroad companies which, when signed and returned, call for 36 hours in the cars without rest, feeding or water.

The shipments can be made much easier under this law than in former years, and will work to the advantage of all parties concerned. The circular must, however, be signed by the shippers before the sheep can be loaded in the cars for 36 hours, and under no consideration are the railroad companies given the privilege of keeping the animals in the cars longer than the 36-hour period. Practically all of the shippers will avail themselves of this opportunity to get the sheep to market as soon as possible, and the railroad companies have already received many of the return slips.

All through Idaho shipments will be in a short time. On the Wood river branch, where many Salt Lake flocks have been shipped, shipments will begin soon, and before the season is closed more than 1200 cars will be loaded with sheep for the east. At Spencer, Idaho, the J. D.
Wood Livestock company will begin to ship September 1 and will send out 30 carloads weekly until the shipments are cleaned up. On all ranches, however, shipments will be made later than usual on account of the backward season.

SCHOOL BUILDING FOR MURTAUGH

DISTRICT PREPARING TO ISSUE $2500 BONDS.

Election Will Be Held Today—Handsome Residence Being Built by Murtaugh—Corners Between Murtaugh and Milner Being Staked.

MURTAUGH, Aug. 16.—J. E. Hooper of Payette spent several days in Murtaugh last week.

The farmers are harvesting fine grain. They all think they have the best.

Harry Mousser went to Pocatello to attend the school district meeting.

On August 17 the school district will

NEW INDUSTRY IN PROSPECT

Alfalfa Meat Factory May Be Established in Twin Falls.

Early next week a number of men who are interested in the manufacture of alfalfa meat will visit Twin Falls.
They were invited to come here by
I. B. Perrine and H. L. Hollister of the Twin Falls Investment Co. and during their stay they will make a thorough survey of the alfalfa situation in this vicinity. It has been demonstrated of ascertaining the advisability of establishing an alfalfa meat factory in this city. The manufacture of alfalfa meat has assumed a real proportion, and is now one of the leading industries of the country. On the Twin Falls tract can be grown cheaply and easily the ingredients used in making the meat. It has been demonstrated that enormous crops of alfalfa can be successfully raised on Twin Falls soil and this, with cheap power and an abundance of grain, makes the establishment of a meat factory possible.

Recent tests have shown that alfalfa grown on irrigated soil is far superior to that grown on dry land for the purpose of making meat. The Omaha alfalfa meat factory uses alfalfa grown upon irrigated lands in Wyoming and pays freight rates on the raw material in preference to taking any other course. alfalfa can be grown in the immediate vicinity of Twin Falls to supply a large factory and the saving in transportation and power would be considerable. These facts have been called to the attention of the interested parties and it is expected that their visit will lead to the establishment of another and a very important industry in Twin Falls.

fill casks or tanks with pure Blue Lake spring water at special rates.
