TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1906.

NUMBER 45

PREPARATIONS FOR THE FAIR

DETAILS ARE SATISFACTORILY ARRANGED.

Excellent Prospects for Magnificent Display—All in Readiness for the Opening on Wednesday—Directions to Exhibitors.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 5, 6 and 7. Pasto those dates in your hat. If you wear cuffs, write the dates on your cuffs. The stripes around your fingers, tell your wife to remind you. If you haven't a wife, tell your friend's wife to jog your memory. If your friend is also a bachelor, tell your best girl. Whatever you do, be sure and remember that the great Twin Falls fair takes place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 5, 6 and 7, and you cannot afford to miss it. If you have any farm products or live stock that look good, bring them in and enter them. It will not cost you a cent. Come and see what your neighbors are doing. If your neighbor makes a better exhibit than you do, find out how he managed to do it. If you are discouraged you will be cheered by witnessing the success of others. Bring your wife and children. No admission fee will be charged and no graters will be allowed within gunshot of the grounds. The fair is shaping up splendidly. Entries are coming in at a lively rate and there are brilliant prospects for a grand display.

James A. Waters, who has charge of the building department, has arranged ample space for live stock. Fifty stalls have been erected already. In addition to those stalls there will be a large number of pens for sheep and swine and 60 coops for poultry. The band stand has been erected and will be decorated handsomely. The Twin Falls Land & Water Co. donated the use of such lumber as it had on hand for the building of stalls and pens. The local lumber—donors charged a nominal rental for the lumber obtained from them.

Thousands of yards of bunting and hundreds of flags have been obtained for decorative purposes.

Four thousand in mind:

No admission fee will be charged. No entry fees will be charged. All exhibits must be in by noon of the second day of the fair or they cannot be entered.

Those who intend to compete for the Carl Meigs prize of a runabout for the best individual display of live stock, should notify James A. Waters at once in order that space may be reserved for them.

Bring in your stuff early. If you are beaten, find out how it was done.

The premium is the smallest part. Show what you can do.

Special trains from Idaho Falls and Pocatello will be run during the fair. If present arrangements are carried out.

The delegates to the National Irrigation congress at Boise will be the guests of the Farmers' federation on Friday, September 7. They will be met by a large reception committee consisting of men from different states, who will greet their old neighbors. Superintendent McPherson will be chairman of this committee which, so far as it has been made up, will comprise: Frank Russell, North Dakota; M. D. L. Barstow, T. J. Rauch, Washington; W. P. Shinn, A. H. Kellogg, Illinois; Henry L. Lewis, Carl Hahn, Nebraska; George B. Fraser, California; A. D. McKinlay, J. R. Hinton, Idaho; J. H. Angel, Dr. George Crater, Illinois; B. Wilkins, Utah; Mr. Glick, Kentucky; W. L. Lind, S. T. Hamilton, R. A. Carter, Colorado; James McMillan, Arizona; Nick Smith, J. W. Craven, Missouri; W. F. Jacks, C. Evans, Kansas; Frank D. Cham, Michigan; H. H. Jacobs, N. J.

FIRST FRUITS OF THE RATE BILL

TWIN FALLS WILL PROFIT BY THE NEW TARIFF.

Schedule Now in Course of Preparation Will Give This Branch Main Line Rates—Will Be in Effect in About Six Weeks.

The merchants of Twin Falls have done nobly. The farmers will be put to no expense whatever; all that is asked of them is their assistance in welcoming and taking care of the visiting delegates and they will doubtless gladly place their teams at the disposal of the fair officials for that purpose.

Those who have rooms to spare should communicate with the secretary at the News office. The town will likely be crowded and accommodations may be shy.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are fitting up a rest room in the brick building next to the News office where women can take their children.

Manager T. J. Woods of the amusement department has arranged the following program:

Wednesday, September 5. Baseball—Twin Falls vs. Oakley. Start of relay race. Half mile dash, $10 and $5 (free for all).

Thursday, Sept. 6—Forenoon. Baseball—Twin Falls Stars vs. Kimberly. Afternoon.

Baseball—Twin Falls vs. Rupert. Second day of relay race. Slow race.

Saddle horse race, one-half mile, $10. Friday, Sept. 7.

Baseball—Twin Falls vs. Pocatello. Fish relay race.

Novelty race (walk, trot, run), $10. One-half mile trotting race, $20, $5. One-half mile running race, $20, $5. Gentlemen's driving team race, owners to drive, one-half mile, $7.50.

Pontotipa driving race, single horse, owners to drive, one-half mile, $5.

Ju. Jutsu wrestling match. 100-yard foot race. 75-yard boys' race.

OREGON SHORT LINE.

Twin Falls Fair Excursion Rates.

For the Twin Falls Fair, September 5, 6 and 7, a special rate of two cents per mile will be in effect from all points between Boise and Idaho Falls. Tickets to be sold September 4 to 7, return limit September 9.

FARMERS' BUSY AT KIMBERLY

Thrashing Operations in That Section in Full Blast.

KIMBERLY, Aug. 30.—At the first regular meeting of the board of directors of the Farmers' Storage and Commission Co., held last Saturday afternoon, W. S. Starr was elected president and H. H. Jones, secretary and treasurer. The offices of vice president and manager yet remain to be filled. Sealed bids for the construction of the warehouse will be received by the board up to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Wendell P. Coler, who has been visiting with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Hegg, for the past few months, left for his home in Ann Arbor Friday.

Charles Mabbitt, John Ohlson and Elmer Cunningham spent Sunday at Shoshone falls and Devil's coral.

Margaret Pomeroy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Pomeroy, who has been very ill for the past two weeks, is slowly improving, though still in a critical condition.

Edwin Bartlett, after a sojourn of several months in this vicinity, returned to his home in Onkendale, Wash., Tuesday.

Agent Taylor is installed in his new office in the depot. The wiring was completed Wednesday and Mr. Taylor took no time in establishing his headquarters in the new building.

Jessie McMillan left Friday for the mountains on a camping trip. She will be the guest of Mrs. Norton and daughters of Rock Creek.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rutter died in Twin Falls early Monday morning. The sincere sympathy of their many friends in this community goes out to the parents in their time of bereavement.

BLUESTEM GAVE THE TOP YIELD

Results Obtained at Twin Falls Experimental Farm.

Thrashing operations at the experimental farm were concluded last Saturday and the results were very satisfactory. Each plot of ground was carefully measured and the yields obtained were accurately weighed.

To make doubly sure that no mistakes were made, the measurements and weights were checked over by Elias Nelson of the department of irrigation investigation. The yields were as follows, giving the variety, when planted and number of bushels per acre respectively:

Bluestem wheat, spring, 70 bushels. Defiance wheat, spring, 55. Martin Amber, fall, 48.

Gold Coin, fall, 47. Little Club, spring, fall, 61½. Dickhow, spring, 63.

Marion Amber, spring, 25½. Durum (Kubanka), spring, 41. Sixty Day Oats, spring, 96 1-10.

Big Four Oats, spring, 94½. Swedish Barley, spring, 40½. Hulless barley, spring, 46½.

Proso millet, spring, 2394 pounds. Flax (Albion), No. 10014, spring, 4097 pounds.

Flax No. 11267, spring, 864 3-10 pounds.

When the new tariff becomes effective Twin Falls will be placed on an equality with main line points. In other words, the branch rates will be practically eliminated—on shipments originating at main line points other than Minidoka. For instance, should a man ship a car of cement from Omaha to Twin Falls under the new tariff, he will save the local charges from Minidoka.

At present the rate on lumber from Minidoka to Twin Falls is 8 cents per hundred, or approximately $1.60 per 1000 feet. Under the new tariff the rate on lumber from the coast to Twin Falls will be the same as it is to Boise, or 36 cents per hundred pounds instead of 43 cents. This should reduce the price of lumber here $1.60 per 1000 feet. It is also possible that the lumber rate may be further reduced.

What is known as the "distance rate" will also become effective when the new tariff is issued. This rate is something new and will be explained in detail later.

Twin Falls will be greatly benefited by the new tariff, as will also all stations on branch lines. When the new rates are fixed they will be published for the information of the public.

Mrs. R. M. McCollum Standing in a Patch of Dicklow Wheat at the Experimental Farm.

It will be observed that the Bluestem, the highest priced wheat, gave the best yield. Superintendent McPherson stated that while the returns from the experimental farm were highly satisfactory he believed that several farmers would be likely to do as well if not better. He had seen many wheat fields, said Mr. McPherson, which he believed would average higher than 40 bushels to the acre—and many number of oat fields which would yield more than 50 bushels to the acre.

The sugar beets on the experimental farm this year are exceptionally fine and the corn promises well.

ADDRESSES BY SENATOR DUBOIS

Democrats Open the Autumn Election Campaign.

United States Senator Fred T. Dubois spoke on the issues of the political campaign before a large audience in the Ring theater last Saturday evening. The meeting may be said to have been the first political gathering of moment on the Twin Falls tract and so great was the crowd that many were unable to force their way into the hall. Senator Dubois was accompanied by Guy C. Barnum of Shoshone, Democratic candidate for district judge. On the platform with the senator were a number of prominent local Democrats, including P. H. Smith, H. S. Osburn, John Koharek, Kennedy Packard and W. A. Babcock, who presided over the meeting. Mr. Babcock introduced the senator in a clever address in which he spoke of the unity of purpose on the Twin Falls tract, regardless of political differences. The chairman said the question before the people was: "Shall Idaho continue to be dominated by the Mormon church or shall the people of the Gem state free themselves from the yoke of the Salt Lake hierarchy?"

Senator Dubois was kindly received. He opened his address by the declaration that the Republican and Democratic parties were closer together on public issues at the present time than they had ever been before. The attack of both parties were practically the same. Personally, said the senator, he agreed with President Roosevelt on a great many questions. He was for his revolution and was the president. He had voted with Senator Heyburn and Congressman French in favor of the railroad rate bill, the most important bill, the pure food bill and other measures. He opposed the Philippine tariff bill, as did also his colleagues.

Senator Dubois then took up the Mormon question, detailing the political acts of the church in Idaho. He claimed that the present state administration was dominated by the Mormon church, citing in support of this statement the fact that Governor Gooding and State Chairman Brady had brought about the selection of a leading Mormon for speaker of the house during the last session of the Idaho legislature and through the instrumentality of the speaker, who named the committees, all legislation tending to curb the power of the church had been suppressed. The senator mentioned the defeat of the public health bill, introduced by Dr. Francis W. Gardner, which provided for the registration of all persons who, for his reason, was objectionable to the Mormons. The laws enacted by the Republicans for the suppression of polygamy and church dictation were, the senator declared, meaningless and incapable of enforcement. W. E. Borah was the attorney of record for senator, was the attorney of record for Reel Smoot and stood hand in glove with the church. If sustained by the people, the Democratic party in Idaho would put an end to church interference in politics and would enact such laws as would stamp out the practice of polygamy and punish those who defended in this respect.

The senator's address was listened to with close attention and he was frequently applauded. He spoke at Boise on Monday evening and at Ellet on Tuesday night.

At the close of his address, a flood of flattery, I wish to make one statement, said Senator Dubois. "I never found such high class citizenship in my life as I found in Twin Falls."

You have the most intelligent, progressive, high grade farmers I have ever met. At the Marion schoolhouse on Tuesday evening a crowd of farmers and their families who impressed me as ideal. They were genial, hospitable, right up to date and full of energy. I always understood that you had a high class of farmers here; now I am sure you have. This is destined to become a wonderful community. You have the capital, the brains, the energy and the clean citizenship which upholds. I say this in all sincerity and not with any intent to flatter."

TEAMS! WANTED! TEAMS!

Farmers who can spare their teams and wagons on Friday, September 7, for the purpose of furnishing transportation to the visiting delegates from the National Irrigation congress are urgently requested to communicate with Assistant Secretary George F. Sprague at the News office, or with Superintendent McPherson. A large number of teams will be needed to transport the visitors to Shoshone falls, Blue Lakes and out into the country. Any kind of a vehicle will be acceptable. The wagons will be required not later than 9 o'clock on Friday morning. Be generous and help out for one day.

THOMAS TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

SEVERE HIS CONNECTION WITH STATE LAND BOARD.

Will Assume General Management of Idaho Department Store—Relinquishes Office September 1—Successor Not Yet Appointed.

The resignation of C. D. Thomas, local representative of the state land board in Twin Falls, has been accepted by Governor Gooding and his successor will be appointed in a few days. Although Mr. Thomas will officially sever his connection with the land board tomorrow, he will remain in office until his successor arrives.

For several months I have been contemplating a change—said Mr. Thomas. "I have accepted the position of general manager of the Idaho Department store, in which I am interested. It was my intention to devote all my time to the store after the year but the illness of Mr. Bainbridge, the assistant general manager, and the indisposition of H. H. Seebach, secretary and treasurer of the company, necessitates an immediate change. Mr. Craven, the retiring general manager, has charge of the Pioneer Store and Commission Co. and that business, together with his other interests, will take up all of his time. He still retains his interest in the Idaho Department store."

"In tendering my resignation to the board," continued Mr. Thomas, "I inquired if there were any charges against me and was informed there had been no charges preferred and that my work was satisfactory. While representing the board in Twin Falls I have made many friends and regret that my business interests compel me to make a change. It is my intention to remain in Twin Falls. I will shortly build another residence. My position with the board was not arduous and I prefer to engage in something more stable. I have tried to be fair to the farmers and the Water company and while my position on some subjects has at times been open to criticism, I have always done what I considered right."

PETE HOLOHAN IN THE LEAD

Wins the High Average and Confair Trophy at Pocatello.

The first annual tournament of the Idaho-Utah Sportsmen's association at Pocatello closed on Wednesday with W. R. Crosby of Altam, Ill. high gun among the professionals and P. J. Holohan of Twin Falls winner of the high average for the amateurs. The shooting of Holohan was phenomenal. His score for the two days' shoot was 395 out of a possible 425. Counting the shoot-offs in two days, he broke 46 out of a possible 500. Besides winning the high average medal, Holohan won the Confair challenge trophy, after tying Fred Kneeling of Idaho Falls with 25 straight and winning in the shoot-off by breaking 24. He also tied with A. J. Jilgout of Ogden for the Browning medal, each breaking 25 straight. The shoot-off resulted in another tie, 24 to 24. In the final shoot-off Holohan won, 24 to 23.

F. M. Eastman of Boise won the first prize trophy by scoring 19 out of a possible 50.

The magnificent Becker loving cup was won by W. W. Siemmel of Salt Lake, who broke 47 out of 50.

Out of 425 targets Crosby, the world's champion, missed but 16. He was closely pressed on the second day by W. H. Huff of Macon, Ga., whose score was 406 for the two days.

Thompson, "The Missouri Farmer," closely contested with Holohan for high average honors, with 404 out of 425. The latter carrying off second money in the high average event.

SODA SPRINGS, A GREAT RESORT

MOST REMARKABLE WATERING
PLACE IN AMERICA.

Needs only Publicity to Make it Famous and Popular—Possesses the Grandest Soda Springs in the World
—Ideal Climate.

As a home for a town, "Soda Springs" is altogether too prosaic. It sounds like an extract from a city directory or the echo of a druggist's in-bell. The country is full of springs, but there is only one cluster of genuine soda springs and they are found at Soda. A great many people doubtless imagine that the Soda springs are merely a succession of hillside gullies where cattle and sheep are watered. Too few are aware that the town of Soda Springs has the makings of the greatest watering place and summer resort in America. The surroundings are picturesque. The snug little town nestles in a beautiful valley from which the juniper clad hills slope upward in all directions. In fact, Soda is long on form. It is principally formation. Plainly speaking, it might be called home made. There nature reveals itself. The dripping water builds the rock. It is not war. It is away. Furthermore, the water is very energetic. This fact is evidenced by the ruins of an old bath house where the water found a rock standing varying in thickness from three feet to six inches in the pool. Around most of the springs huge rock mounds have been formed by the action of the water.

Soda Springs is effervescent with latent opportunity. Those who have visited both places assert that the little town on the shore is a shorter distance from Pocatello far exceeds Carlsbad as a watering place. All it needs is publicity and development.

The purity of the water is attested by the character of the vegetation surrounding the springs. Succulent grasses grow beside streams formed by waters which are heavily charged with iron. The presence of the natural soda appears to be very beneficial to plant growth. The curative properties of the waters are evidenced by the magnificent health of the populace. Stomach disorders yield readily to the natural soda water and rheumatism ceases to trouble those who indulge in hot soda water baths.

For many years Idaho water has been bottled at Soda Springs. The probable reason that this peerless water is not better known may possibly be found in the label buried on the shipping cases, which reads, "Bottled at Soda Springs, Idaho Territory." Obviously, in this respect, the bottling company is almost a decade behind the times. Idaho water is bottled with its own name. It is the only mineral water treated in this manner. The water is taken from the "Ninety Per Cent" spring, filtered and charged with gas piped from the "Mammoth" spring, which is hooded with a huge funnel in which the gas is caught and forced by its own pressure through the pipe into the gas tank at the bottling works. So pure is the water from the "Ninety Per Cent" spring that filtration is unnecessary, but the company is very jealous of its product and the water is treated with extreme care. Compared with Manitou, Shasta, Napa and other table waters, the Idaho is as champagne compared with stale beer. It has a nip and a natural effervescence possessed by none other, which is superlative. The qualities made known to the world the capacity of the bottling works would be increased many-fold.

The puzzling feature of the Soda Springs formation is the number and the varying qualities of the springs. No two springs are alike. In the heart of the city is a spring of pure, soft water, free from the slightest trace of mineral, while 100 feet distant spouts an iron spring so bitter and "pucker" in that its waters can scarcely be swallowed. Yet the same kinds of grasses grow around both springs. A few hundred yards beyond, from the summit of a brown cone of rock, there bubbles a water spring which coats with rock everything it touches. This spring exudes carbonic acid gas in large quantities. It is within a stone's throw of the Idaho and could easily be confined and utilized in connection with a sanitarium.

The "Formation" spring rises some six miles from the city and its waters are largely used for irrigation. In its flow for centuries it has formed grotesque caves, ledges and hollows which excite the amazement of visitors. Though its waters are unexcelled for irrigation they petrify grass and moss, quantities of which may be picked up anywhere along the stream.

The Idaho hotel was erected some years ago and is an imposing structure. With a coat of paint it would look more inviting. At present the bedrooms are used but the dining room is closed. Very few people know the hotel exists, but more know there is such a place as Soda Springs on the map.

But conditions in Soda Springs are changing. Fortunately for the town, it has a live booster in the person of Joe H. De Witt, the editor of the Soda Springs Chief. Mr. De Witt and the citizens of Soda Springs entertained the members of the Eastern Idaho Press Club and their wives on August 29 and 30 and did the honors handsomely. If the Soda Springs Commercial Club will follow the course it has outlined the city will soon enjoy the reputation of the greatest watering place of the west. As a summer resort it is ideal. As a health resort it is unexcelled. A little more, a little push and a little more advertising will give the town a boost which will land it where it belongs. The citizens of Soda Springs are hospitable and big hearted. They are also diplomats. For instance, the editors were unaware that it is delightful to cool in Soda during the summer and they came to the city clad in ice cream garments. Shortly after their arrival a large quantity of men's clothing was brought to the Chief's office and spread on the presses and cases.

Mr. De Witt stated that the clothing had been stolen some time ago from the store of a local dealer and secreted in the room at Pocatello spring, where it was found by some boys who were picking berries. The dealer referred to disowned the clothing and suggested that the editors help themselves to suits. Of course, being proud and wealthy, they declined. Later in the day when it became necessary to make a second clothing store at the Pocatello hotel Mr. De Witt's blue-plot to clothe his brethren comfortably became apparent.

Publicity will make a city of Soda Springs. It possesses all the natural concomitants of a great resort—scenery, climate, water and transportation. All it needs is boosting. The members of the Eastern Idaho Press club will do their part toward introducing to the world the most wonderful watering place known to man.

ALL READY FOR CONGRESS

Irrigation Meeting in Boise Will Be Largest Ever Held.

This session of the congress will be the largest ever held. It will be attended by such prominent national statesmen as Vice President Fairbanks, Senators Nelson, Minnesota; Newlands, Nevada; Anthony, Washington; Flint, California; Warren and Clark, Wyoming; Butherland and Smoot, Utah; Dubois and Heyburn, Idaho; Carter, Montana; Fulton, Oregon; Congressman Rooden and Murdock, Kansas; French, Idaho; Dixon, Montana; William Sulzer, New York; Wilson, Illinois; Kennedy and McCarthy, Nebraska; Smith, California; Stephens and Smith, Texas; Lacey, Iowa; Mondell, Wyoming; Van Duzer, Nevada; Bourne, Colorado, and other members of the national legislature. Governors—Pardee of California, Sparks of Nevada, McDonald of Colorado, Toole of Montana, Chamberlain of Oregon, Custer of Utah, McCall of Washington, Cummins of Iowa, Brooks of Wyoming, Johnson of Minnesota, Frantz of Oklahoma, Hagerman of New Mexico, Gooding of Idaho, and other prominent statesmen are coming with the delegations from their respective states.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Bureau chiefs from the interior department and department of agriculture, Director Walcott, Chief Engineer Newell, supervising project and construction engineers of the reclamation service of the government, the Association of State Engineers and prominent irrigationists engaged in great private enterprises under the Carey act and other laws; prominent foresters, representing the federal government, state and private ownership in the vast timber forests of the country; irrigation societies, railroad companies, press representatives, manufacturers and commercial men will compose the personnel of the congress.

Among important subjects to be taken up by the congress are: "Immigration and Home-Making on the Reclaimed Lands of the Arid West," "Laws and Methods under which Irrigation Projects are Constructed by Private Parties under the Carey Act," "Laws Governing Water Rights and Methods of Appropriating Water by the Different States," "Water Right in Events under which Water is Purchased and Delivered to Irrigators from Canals," "Methods of Measuring and Distributing Water to Irrigators," "Maintenance of Canals and Laterals," "Prevention of Seepage Losses, Duty of Water and Best Methods of Applying Water to Crops," "Drainage and Reclamation of Swamped and Alkalied Areas," "Irrigation as Related to Dry Farming and the Utilization of Small Water Supplies," "Methods of Irrigation to Conserve Soil Moisture," "Value of Drought-Resistant Crops," "One Hundred Million Dollars for National Reclamation," "Forestry Legislation and the Management of Forest and Grazing Lands."

The congress will be called to order at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of September 3 by the residence of George J. Pardee, governor of California. The sessions of the congress will be held during the mornings and afternoons, the evenings being devoted to special entertainments provided for the citizens of Boise and the state of Idaho. On the evening of September 3 a general reception will be held, in honor of Vice President Fairbanks and other distinguished guests.

During the session of the congress the board of control of local arrangements will hold an interesting exposition of the products of irrigation. This will include the best products of grains, grasses, fruits, sugar beets and all classes of vegetable crops. Magnificent sterling silver loving cups will be given as first premiums in all divisions of the exposition, which will be competed for by the 16 states and territories mentioned in the federal reclamation act. The purpose of the exposition is to show the delegates and visitors attending the congress, by practical demonstration, what is produced from a desert reclaimed by water.

Following the general sessions of the congress the visiting delegates will be taken in excursion trains on trips through the various irrigated sections of the state, where irrigation practice will be demonstrated in a practical way. The excursion will include an inspection of the great Payette-Bolshoi and Minidoka projects of the reclamation service. The Twin Falls tract will be in effect as follows: From Chicago, $30.50; from St. Paul, $27.50; from Minneapolis, $25.00; from St. Paul and Minneapolis, $22.50. Proportionate rates from other stations in Illinois and Iowa. For further information apply to Agent, Twin Falls.

OREGON SHORT LINE.

Home-seekers' Rates. From September 15 to October 31, on any second class train, the Oregon Short Line will be in effect as follows: From Chicago, $30.50; from St. Paul, $27.50; from Minneapolis, $25.00; from St. Paul and Minneapolis, $22.50. Proportionate rates from other stations in Illinois and Iowa. For further information apply to Agent, Twin Falls.

TILLMAN GETS A FRESH EGG

WHICH COST THE MASTER A SMALL FORTUNE.

Found That Hens Did Not Thrive on Egg Plant and Hard Boiled Eggs.
Nor Did They Like Being Plucked and Prevented from Scratching.

Chapter IV.

The master and I strolled over to the garden. I was restricted not to dust it if it cost me my job. Such chickens I never saw before.

"No wonder you don't get eggs from them," I said. "They're suffering from some kind of a disease and it's a new one on me."

"I feared they might be ill," said
the master, "and I am relieved to find you know enough about chickens to tell at a glance that they are in poor health. What sign do you see that indicates their indisposition?"

"What sign? Why, they ain't got no feathers on 'em."

"Oh, I did that myself," replied the master. "That is, it was done by my orders. You see, Tillman, I have always had a theory that if the chickens were made comfortable it would be more likely to lay eggs than if they were uncomfortable. To keep them cool, and to encourage them to lay, I ordered them plucked the first warm day."

"An' what's them things on their feet?" I asked.

"That's an ingenious device of my own invention called the 'anti-scratcher.' It prevents the chickens from scratching."

"An' what do they do when they've got an itch?" I asked. "How're they going to scratch when it mosquitos bite 'em?"

"It never occurred to me," the master
admitted.

"You see, you've made 'em uncomfortable. We'll take 'em out of their let their feathers grow and we'll soon have eggs. When a hen ain't got feathers it hurts 'er to sit down on a nest an' lay an egg. What has the chickens been eating?"

"It has always been a theory of mine that food plays an important part in the development of members of the animal kingdom, from man to chicken. We grow as we eat. If we eat all meat, we become fleshy. Therefore, to induce my hens to lay, I ordered that they be fed nothing but eggplant and hard boiled eggs, which we buy in the city."

"Excuse me for arguing," the point-master, I said, "but you're wrong. According to your theory, if we fed leathers they ought to lay a pair of shoes. If I fed 'em wheat, they ought to lay a loaf of bread. Now, you tell me, have my hens about it. I'll have home grown corn for you in a week.
I ain't going to clean no chicken coops
because it irritates the hens."

"In what way?"

"Well, wopon you was a hen an'
was laying an egg an' about comes a feller with broom an' brushes, invasion your home to set things straight an' tidy. Wouldn't you resent it?"

"Quite right, quite right, I would."

"The master gave me my own way and two weeks later we were eating eggs. While I was buying the hay one afternoon I heard the exultant cluck of a hen and I rushed to the poultry house, where I found an egg. I hid it, until the master returned that evening,
when I showed it to him."

"Oh, Tillman!" he cried.

"He gazed upon it long and proudly,
then his face grew serious."
"You are not deceiving me, are you, Tillman?" he asked. "You didn't carry that egg from the poultry to the poultry house. Tell me you didn't."
"Upon my honor, I did not," I answered. "I found it right where the hen laid it."

"Tillman, this egg has cost me $250.
I have it down in my book—$250 I've spent for poultry house, chicken and feed, to say nothing of study and worry. But it's worth it, Tillman; it's worth it."

"After dinner that evening the cook presented her resignation, and when the news was conveyed to the master
he forgot all about the egg."

Chapter V.

"I can't see why they're makin' all
th' fuss," I said to Mr. Skidder. "Ain't there enough women in this house to cook till they can find another cook?"

"When you've been around these play farms as long as I have you soon learn that the more women there are the harder it is to have any cooking done," said he. "Do you suppose the housekeeper would sell her hands cooking?" I guessed not. Would the maid? Or the waitress? I guess not.
And would the mistress or the daughters? Not much. They'd pack up their trunks and get on a visit to relatives first. You notice we have no landlady, don't you? One day the master asked the last landlady if she would wash off the top of a table on which he had spilled something, and she swelled up like a toad and said, 'I came here to wash clothes, not tables.'

"I quit on that spot. I made the master so angry he would never hire another, and he sends all the soiled stuff to the steam laundry in the city."

"What started the row?"

"One night she was quilting because the coachman is too young a man for his position, but here is the truth:
daughters brought two of the very latest peacock waltzes from the city and brought them out on the floor. Why she brought them there, I don't know, unless it was to let some of her society friends see them when they pass in their motor cars, knowing they would be jealous or envious. Anyway, these waltzes are a peacock dance. The cook's, and that's why she quit."

"I took a look at the waltzes, and I must say they certainly were peackoo. I heard the master say the young lady had boasted that there was less than half a yard of goods in each waltz."

"The excitement over the departure of the cook died out when the new one arrived. When Hanrahan—that was the new cook's name—learned where the refrigerator was, the master once more took an interest in agriculture.

One morning I accompanied him to a distant part of the farm to give him an expert opinion as to the uses to which the land should be put. The land was strangely divided into half a dozen parts, all well fenced.

"What's this place used for?" I asked.

"This is the pasture for the hog," he said.

"What place over there?" I asked,
pointing to another.

"That is a pasture for the cows. The place beyond is a pasture for the bees.
I have sowed it in clover, you see.
The next is a pasture for the horses and the next a pasture for the sheep."

"Sort of a pasture-accident," I remarked, for I always was witty.

"Some time after we viewed the collection of pastures the master removed all the division fences and ordered Johnson, the farmer, to plant blue grass in all the fields.

"And after you plant it," he said,
"weed it carefully, so we'll be certain of having plenty of it. I have made up my mind that this farm shall also be agricultural, and blue fits into my color scheme splendidly."

(To Be Continued.)

Two days are supposed to begin August 4 and end September 14, although the weather man says this part of the summer is not necessarily the hottest.
According to the weather man, the heat began July 4 and continued 40 days to August 11. This was reckoned 20 days previous and following the rising of Sirius, the dog star, a part of the constellation of Canis major and the brightest of all stars in the southern hemisphere. It was during these days the influence of the sun and Sirius was supposed to cause a baneful influence and pestilential heat. The appearance of dog days also increases the influence of the dog days of the Nile in Egypt and came to be dreaded by the ancients of that country. The modern superstitions concerning dog days are entirely different from those of the ancients. Today we are not worried about the influence of Sirius or the length of our exposure in the heat of the sun, but we are afraid of the heat of the sun and the heat of the dog days.

BREVITIES

John T. Bainbridge, who is suffering from typhoid, is reported to be improving.

Miss Alberta Vinton is spending the week with her brother, who is in business at Filer.

Rev. G. R. Archer of St. Anthony has taken up his residence on his ranch near Filer.

Messrs. Hansen and Niver of the Trowbridge & Niver Co. were Twin Falls visitors this week.

Dr. G. F. Baker has moved his dental parlors from the Boyd block to the Idaho Department store building.

H. H. Seebek of the Idaho Department store, who was under the weather for a few days, is himself again.

The Twin Falls Stars won an uphill game from the Rock Creek infants at Rock Creek last Sunday. They had a splendid trip.

Rev. Parker, the newly appointed Methodist minister, was here during the week looking over the field. He will not be able to fill the pulpit on Sunday.

Mrs. G. F. Baker and children have returned from California. Dr. Baker met them up the road. He found that Miss Margery had grown about a foot during her long visit on the coast.

Miss Mabel Diffendaffer has arrived from the Academy at Moscow, Idaho, and has accepted the position of primary grade teacher in the new Hansen school.

Don C. Bryan left on Monday for Nebraska, where he will purchase three carloads of thoroughbred hogs for breeding purposes on his ranch and the ranches of F. H. Smith.

M. A. Thometz of Stanbury, Mo., has purchased Emil Braun's quarter section near Twin Falls and will move out here next spring. Mr. Thometz is a hustler and has four grown sons to assist him.

Just to work up his muscles Harry McKinlay pitched 60 acres of oats and 40 acres of alfalfa on his father's farm at Coeur d'Alene ridge. Harry is engaged in proving up on his own place near by. He said he wanted a better outing than a turn in the fields.

Maurice Windus of Pullman, Wash., was the guest of Mr. C. C. Morrell, caught a three-pound carp in a lateral cove to the Morrell home. This is the first carp captured in this section of the state. It bore no brand and nobody knows from whence it came.

Albert Beck, who formerly worked on the ditcher at Twin Falls, had been back on a freight train at Mountain home on Wednesday. Beck—had been in Twin Falls for some time, coming here from the coast. He made the train his headquarters. Nothing is known regarding his relatives or their whereabouts.

Professor Lucien Marc Christol, former champion lightweight wrestler of the world and a noted athletic instructor, has been matched against a local wrestler of ability to match at the Ring theater next Thursday evening, catch-as-catch-can, best two in three falls. The professor's opponent is a well known athlete of Twin Falls, who should be able to give the veteran athlete a hard battle.

Guy Davenport of Ellers' Piano house has offered a certificate for $1000 on the purchase price of a piano to the couple winning the Clark Gibson prize by marrying on the fair grounds. Mr. Davenport has donated $50 certificates to the winners of all the special prizes offered by the fair and Water Co. The certificates will be good for 30 days after the fair.

J. A. Schiffman of Filer is desirous of communicating with members of the order of Knights of the Macabees, one of the leading fraternal and insurance organizations. The Macabees have a stout reserve fund and their insurance feature is possessed of many superior features. Mr. Schiffman will be glad to hear from members on the tract and to furnish information concerning the order.

Albert R. Manley has sold his quarter section in section 13, township 10, range 16, to C. Y. Miller of Maroa, Ill., for $11,500, or $70 per acre. The ranch is located near Filer and is one of the best on the tract. When the water right is included, this sale breaks the record. Mr. Miller has another piece of land on which he filed himself but he believes in the future of the tract and shows his faith by his acts.

J. W. Craven has returned from a week's trip through the southwest, during which he visited Three Creeks, Butte and some Nevada points in the west of his storage and commission business, buying wool and horses and generally boosting Twin Falls in that section of the country. Walt tells some amusing stories about sage hens, etc., "wild" deer, which he has seen substantiated by affidavits from Johnny MacRae, Andrew Rogerson and Jack Bratton. He is going after a few shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McCollum, Miss McCollum and George F. Sprague were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown at Rock Creek on Sunday. Mr. Brown settled in Rock Creek 20 years ago because his horse gave out and he did not have enough money to buy another to continue his journey to Washington as he had planned. If it did not appear to be a deception he does not regret his stay. Mr. Brown will move into the finest house in this county, a 12-room, cement block building, with modern plumbing and conveniences. He irrigated with Rock Creek water before his farm was put under the canal system and the orchard is an object lesson to new farmers.

Ed Bolger has arrived from Wardner and is located on his ranch near Twin Falls.

The crossings on Main street are being put in to improve travel during the rainy season.

Art Harrison has purchased the famous candy store next to the Elmore shoe store.

Miss Robinson has been confined to his room for several days by illness. He is reported to be improving rapidly.

C. M. Price has returned from the coast, where he visited for six weeks. No more western summer weather for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Harris returned today from Chicago, where they enjoyed a fortnight's visit. Mr. Harris said the heat was fierce.

A shed is being built beside one of the exposition buildings to accommodate the exhibits from Blue Lakes and the experimental farm.

W. M. Phillips of Mount Nebo, Utah, has purchased a lot 100x270 feet in the Newton tract, fronting on Blue Lakes boulevard.

The hose carts for the Twin Falls fire department have arrived but the hose, which was ordered several weeks ago, will not be here for a fortnight.

Macaulay & Co. are moving the Liberal cigar store into the building formerly occupied by C. D. Thomas on the south corner of Ninth and Main.

The Republican primary elections will be held on Monday, October 1, and the county convention in Twin Falls will take place on Thursday, October 4.

J. V. Baker left on Thursday for La Grande, Oregon, where one was called by the death of his father, who for many years was a prominent attorney of that place.

Miss Alice Crismon left last Sunday for Salt Lake City. She will visit there for a week, then return to Twin Falls for the fair, after which she will take a trip to the coast.

Mrs. Mary Arkwright Hutton of Wallace, Idaho, is a guest at the Perrine. Mrs. Hutton is widely known as a writer, capitalist and philanthropist. She has done much to make the Coeur d'Alene noted.

Conductor George Marshall returned from Drake's Point on Tuesday evening and was so exhausted after his hunt that he fell into a deep sleep. The boys were unable to awaken him and they had to bring up the freight engine beside his car and tug the engine vigorously for several minutes.

Joe Kohiro, a sugar beet expert from Idaho Falls, was in the city this week. He said the sugar beets on the experimental farm were the finest he had ever seen. He estimated that the field would run 20 tons to the acre as it stood. Mr. Kohiro is of the belief that the Twin Falls soil is ideal for beet culture.

W. W. Richards was brought in from Three Creeks by W. R. McMullin on Monday evening for surgical treatment. He was riding an outlaw horse when the animal reared and fell back on him, breaking his left leg in two places. Mr. Richards was taken to the Twin Falls house where he is doing nicely.

Senator Dubois, Guy C. Barnum and P. H. Smith tested the quality of Judge McKinlay's dinner, first last Tuesday and reports from the ridge are to the effect that Mr. Smith tried to lure the cook away. The senator, who is accustomed to the famous Washington rosters, declared for the simple life then and there, while Judge Barnum had to be coaxed away from the table.

The Idaho Department store will be opened on Wednesday, September 1, on the opening day of the fair. The stock is now being put in place and the intention of the building is assuming handsome proportions. On the opening day there will be music, punch and other refreshments. Dennis Holohan is to have charge of the grocery department while C. E. Cole will preside over the clothing and furnishing department.

John Donnelly, otherwise known as "Sagebrush Jack," and Jesse Montrose were arrested by Night Marshal Lemo on two miles from town and charged with having burglarized the Exchange saloon at Filer on the night of October 24. They were examined before Justice Smith and bound over to the district court to answer a burglary charge. Donnelly and Montrose forced an entrance into the saloon and stole a quantity of liquor which they took out into the sagebrush and consumed.

Suit will be brought in the name of Judge C. B. Taylor against one of his neighbors to bring the survey question to an issue. There appears to be a general desire to cling to the company's survey rather than follow the crooked government lines, but some of the farmers who seem to think they would be better off if the government lines were followed will not fall in line. In order to test the equity of the case action will be brought to prevent encroachment upon Judge Taylor's property.

In all probability the Land & Water Co. will bring suit against Nels Lind or some other representative farmer west of Rock Creek to determine the liability of the farmers with respect to the maintenance charge for this year. The farmers contend that when the company deferred the interest payments one year because water was not furnished early enough last season that the maintenance charge was also deferred. The company maintains that the interest was deferred with the express understanding that maintenance charges would be paid this year, but there was no disposition to force collection until the crops were harvested. Several enterprisers have paid the maintenance charge but many are holding back.

Rev. R. D. Osterhout, the Methodist pastor, is ill of typhoid fever.

T. J. Woods has purchased the interest of C. D. Thomas in the Cassia County Abstract Co., likewise the insurance agencies of Mr. Thomas.

Marcelline Louise Rutter, the daughter of R. W. and Maggie Rutter, and grand daughter of St. John Skinner, died at the home of Mr. Skinner on Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock, aged 11 months. The funeral occurred on Wednesday, Rev. John Gouley officiating. Interment was in the Twin Falls cemetery. The little girl had been ill for three weeks of cholera infantum but the immediate cause of death was failure of the heart. "Patsy" the second and youngest of the kind at Mr. Skinner's home within two weeks and the bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathy of all. Mr. and Mrs. Rutter desire to thank those who remembered them in their hour of sorrow.

SETTLERS FLOCKING TO BUHL

Many New Settlers Have Arrived During the Past Week

BUHL, Idaho, Aug. 28.—H. H. Cost was a visitor to Twin Falls Sunday. S. F. McDrew of Salt Lake was in town Saturday. Mrs. Thomas Doversy of Worthington, Minn., came in last week and went to settle on their ranch on the south side of town. They will make final proof and then return to their old home to settle up their affairs there and then take up their permanent residence here. Mr. Doversy is a newspaper man and the owner and editor of the Worthington Advance. He intends putting in a first class newspaper plant here in the near future.

Miss Margaret Norton, who has been living on her ranch three miles south of town for the last six weeks, went to Twin Falls Saturday to make final proof. From there she will go to Denver, Colo., to visit friends and then return to her home in St. Paul, Minn.

The McCollum ranch is now all fenced and if the cattle keep growing as they are, a second crop can be harvested on it this fall.

A. McDonald, who is engaged in building the Burley residence on the Burley ranch, also plans on the east, came in Saturday with a gang of carpenters and other mechanics who are going to work on the building. This will be the first residence in this vicinity when it is finished. It will cost $4000.

The waterworks pipe line is now laid up to the town limits and will soon be in the streets. The ditch is being dug along Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bark, the parents of Dan Bark, foreman of the permanent fence, came in Saturday with their son for three weeks, departed Thursday for their home in Sandwich, Ill. They enjoyed themselves while here and were very much pleased with the country and its future prospects. They will spend some time in Salt Lake City, Gunnison, Colorado, and several other places on their homeward journey. Mr. Bark is a successful farmer in Illinois.

Herman Anderson was on the sick list last week, being threatened with typhoid fever, but he is fully recovered and is attending to business again.

The infant daughter of W. C. Griffith was seriously ill for several days last week but is now fully recovered. The judges of election, registrar and distributing clerk of this voting precinct have been officially notified of their appointments and will commence as soon as the necessary supplies are received. The justice of the peace, constable and road overseer have also been officially notified of their appointments, so that we are now ready for all kinds of business.

A. C. Roberts and W. O. Grimm, went to Cedarburg Thursday to look after the irrigation of their crops in that locality.

George G. Marshall and wife of Wah-lah, Idaho, arrived in town Thursday and went to live on their ranch at once. Mr. Marshall owns 120 acres adjoining the townsite on the east and has commenced to clear it off. He will sow about 16 acres in alfalfa and winter wheat this fall and expects to have all his land in cultivation next year. They are here to stay.

J. H. Schooter went to Twin Falls Saturday for a four-horse team load of freight and returned Monday.

F. W. Elchhoff and P. W. Monahan made a business trip to the Power city Saturday and returned home Sunday.

Fred Nihart drove Senator Dubois and Guy C. Smith of Ghoshens, Democratic candidate for district judge of the fourth judicial district, up from Twin Falls on Monday.

Professor R. A. Wyatt, who has been engaged to teach the Buhl school, came in from Boise Sunday. Mrs. Wyatt will join him soon and will prove a welcome addition to Buhl society.

Fredericks, Herbert Kimbrough and George H. Watt of Pullman, Wash., who had been residing on their ranches in this vicinity for six weeks, left Saturday for Twin Falls to make final proof and will proceed from there to their homes, where they will remain during the winter.

George R. Dunn, who has been making improvements on his ranch for several weeks past, went to Twin Falls Friday to prove up. He will go from there to his home in Pendleton, Ore., on business and will return to Buhl in about six weeks to continue the improvements he is making.

L. B. Nobler and W. A. Comer of Twin Falls were in town Thursday.

F. H. Smith of Twin Falls accompanied Senator Dubois and Guy C. Barnum to Buhl Monday. They left on Tuesday afternoon for Ellers, where the senator spoke that night.

M. M. Pomeroy of Twin Falls, a contractor and builder, was in town Saturday negotiating with the Odd Fellows building their hall.

C. F. Bartlett of Twin Falls has the contract for the wood work on the Burley residence and is busy performing the part of it.

H. H. Sharp went to Twin Falls Monday on business.

Scott Dole is preparing to erect a big business block on his two lots on Broadway between the bank and the Buhl Trading Co.'s store. The building will be of lava rock and work will be commenced as soon as the plans can be drawn.

Arthur Hart of St. Louis is here and has bought three quarter sections, one for himself, one for his sister and one for an employee of his. He also purchased a business lot and two residence lots in town.

Joe Kohiro, a successful Japanese farmer of Idaho Falls, is in town for the purpose of buying a quarter section. He says that this land is superior to that of Idaho Falls for sugar beet raising.

C. H. Fisher, bank cashier, of Ephraim, Utah, and T. Hanson, postmaster of the same place, are registered at Hotel Buhl. They are here for the purpose of looking over the country, and are well pleased with what they have seen of it so far.

G. A. Farrar and wife, who are residing on their ranch three miles south of town, visited with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Marshall last week.

Mrs. H. H. Shank and daughter were visitors to Twin Falls Saturday.

J. M. Shank was there also, and took in the Democratic campaign meeting. Herby Kimbrough, George H. Watt, George R. Dunn, Miss Edith Miller and Miss Lulu Barstow made a picnic party to Thousand Springs Wednesday. They reported having had a jolly time.

C. S. Peck and wife drove out to the W. D. Southworth ranch on Saturday. They say that very marked changes are taking place in the appearance of the country in that direction.

Mr. and Mrs. James Milner and daughter of Billings, Mont., were here the major part of last week visiting with A. Milner and family. He is brother of Mr. Milner and owns a sheep ranch in Montana containing 17,000 acres. He has control of about 30,000 acres. He predicted a great future for this tract.

H. O. Milner, wife and family returned to Twin Falls Friday. Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Marshall entertained a party of friends, Thursday evening in honor of Miss Margaret Norton, who was visiting. Besides Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. H. O. Milner, Mrs. Herbert Kimbrough and George H. Watt. The party indulged in some kind of new fangled games with which your correspondent is not acquainted and the refreshments were scrumptious to give them. Those present were Herbert Kimbrough, E. A. Milner, J. H. Milner, R. H. Cost, Max Milner, Harry Hinkley, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Milner, J. L. Milner, M. D. L. Barstow, G. A. Parker, C. S. Peck, J. H. Schooler, Mrs. C. H. Peck, Miss Day Shank, Mrs. H. C. Shank, Miss Margaret Norton, Miss Lulu Barstow, Cora Scholer, the Misses Edith L. Mary, Gretchen, Truth and Linnie Milner, Messrs. J. B. Hinkley, E. M. Knight, George H. Watt, George R. Dunn, J. M. Shank, T. R. Allen, M. B. Osgood and E. J. Louis.

The Farmers' association is conducting merely routine business at its meetings Monday night. Superintendent McPherson was unavoidably absent, and as Senator Dubois was here to hold a campaign meeting the meeting was called to order early, the minutes read and a report of some committees received. The meeting then adjourned to yield the hall to hear the senator, who was introduced by F. W. Monahan. The hall was well filled and all remained throughout to the end of the speech. The senator was listened to with the greatest attention by all present, among whom were several ladies. Frequent applause showed that the points made by the speaker were fully understood. He ignored politics altogether and confined his remarks solely to the Mormon question, the bank and the Buhl building. He said that in respect to the time when trees should be irrigated for the last time before they go into winter quarters. Regular irrigation should not be continued later than the middle of September and the last irrigation should not be given them until they had stopped growing and shed their leaves. Buhl had its first political campaign meeting Monday night and to the Democratic party belongs the honor of being first on the turf. We are anxiously awaiting all the other parties to put in an appearance. We are a liberal and wide awake community and will welcome them all with good big crowds. Watch our smoke.

I desire to correct an error made in the report of the Farmers' association meeting in the last issue of the News, which my attention has been called by Superintendent McPherson. It is in respect to the time when trees should be irrigated for the last time before they go into winter quarters.

Regular irrigation should not be continued later than the middle of September and the last irrigation should not be given them until they had stopped growing and shed their leaves. Buhl had its first political campaign meeting Monday night and to the Democratic party belongs the honor of being first on the turf. BRIDGE BUILDING AT HANSEN Lateral in That Vicinity Are Being Put in Shape.

HANSEN, Aug. 26.—The threatening outburst of Mr. K. Dayley & Co. arrived Monday evening and work will be begun this week threshing the grain in this locality.

E. L. Rickas was a Hayburna visitor last Monday.

Mr. Stenour of Murtaugh was a caller in Hansen last Tuesday.

Mrs. Walton of Shelley, Idaho, is visiting at the home of J. Walton east of here.

Professor Charles Isaacs was a Twin Falls visitor last Friday.

Fred Baker was in last Monday from a visit with his parents in Goldendale, Washington.

W. P. Rauch is erecting a barn on his ranch adjacent to the townsite. He has a call on a caller at the Nick Smith ranch last Sunday.

Miss Atwood Luck returned last Saturday from a three weeks' visit in Twin Falls.

G. H. Helm, a rancher southwest of here, is building an addition to his residence.

The bridge across lateral P, one and one-half miles northeast of Hansen, was built the first of the week and several other bridges are being put in this vicinity. G. F. Taylor, Joseph Hall, John McArthur and others were engaged to haul the lumber.

Miss Mabel Diffendorfer has been chosen assistant teacher to Principal J. R. Hinton of the Hansen school. Miss Diffendorfer is a highly educated young lady with several years experience as teacher in public schools and the Hansen school board consider themselves exceedingly fortunate in having obtained her services.

The restaurant building is being painted this week and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kellough leave this week for a visit in Ottawa, Kan., their former home. Mr. and Mrs. Kellough were among the very first settlers on the Twin Falls tract, having located on their ranch northeast of here in the summer of 1892 and were the only family within miles of the townsite of Hansen. Mr. Kellough hauled water that first summer from Rock creek, a distance of seven miles, for his use and stock and he also raised a small garden. Mr. and Mrs. Kellough endured all the hardships of pioneering and now they are reaping the beautiful harvest of their past labors and possess one of the finest ranches in this locality, all of which they have under cultivation and the crop raised this year will enable the owner to take an eastern trip.

BURRINGTON HOTEL BURNED Well Known Hostelry Is Now a Pile of Ashes.

The Burrington hotel, the second hotel building erected in Twin Falls and for more than a year the leading hotel in the town, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. The fire started in a closet on the ground floor and its origin is a mystery. In a few moments the entire interior of the building was a mass of flame and it came down with a crash which sent burning embers all over the vicinity. By heroic efforts on the part of the citizens, the surrounding buildings were saved. Night Marshal Lemon, who broke into the burning building when the fire was discovered, was trapped on the upper story and obliged to jump from a window. He sprained his leg severely and is confined to bed.

The Burrington was the property of Frank Burrington and cost approximately $4000. It was insured for $2000 and Mr. Burrington also carried $5000 insurance on the contents. The hotel was closed at the time of the fire.

The buildings near the Burrington were scorched and billeted and it was with extreme difficulty that the flames were confined to the hotel. A minor fire was giving a performance in a tent adjoining the Burrington when the fire broke out. By hard work the performance tent was saved but the seats it contained were burned. Some of the performers had their hands scorched while trying to save their property. The Gibson building was billeted severely and it was only by the hardest kind of work that it was saved. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe are extremely grateful to the men who assisted in restraining the flames. The Twin Falls house and the Ring theater, across the street, were kept soaked with water until the pressure gave out on that side of Main street. Fortunately the Burrington collapsed at this time and the heat was reduced. There was a good water pressure on the north side of Main street but when the hydrant plug was opened the pressure on the south side went down to nothing, the small pipes being unable to stand the strain.
