COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PUT IN A BUSY WEEK

Have Taken a Recess Until the Early Part of the Week, When They Will Reassemble and Remain in Session Until the Close of the April Meeting—Furniture for County Offices to Be Made at Home—Twin Falls News Designated as the Official Organ of the County.

The county commissioners spent a busy week working out a mass of organization in connection with the work of organizing the county. They have taken a recess until the early part of the week, when their labors will be resumed and will last until the close of the April meeting.

During the week the precinct boundaries were carefully defined and precinct officers were appointed as follows: the justices of the peace being named first and separated from the constables by a semi-colon:

Miller—W. L. Pierson, justice of the peace; Bert Johnson, constable. Murtagh—J. E. Steinhour, W. E. Boers, A. H. Bates.

Hansen—G. W. Crater, E. L. Rick, Kimberly—G. W. Osborn, E. W. Hilley.

Rock Creek—Lawrence Hansen; Henry Larsen.

Twin Falls—Kennedy Packard, W. J. Smith, D. B. Fox.

Marion—A. D. McKinlay, W. R. Swetgood.

Filer—E. H. Rottig, Wm. Higginbotham.

Buhl—Thomas R. Allen, M. D. L. Barstow, J. Warren White.

Butte—George G. Reynolds, W. L. Maulder.

Roseworth—G. G. Conover, J. J. Couteau.

The contract for printing the official proceedings of the county commissioners, the delinquent tax list and all legal notices was awarded to the Twin Falls News, which is now the official organ of the county. The Twin Falls Times was awarded the contract for supplying the county with stationery and legal blanks.

The commissioners contracted with Adams & Pilgerm for the furniture required in the different county offices, other than that which cannot be manufactured in Twin Falls.

Assessor James McMillan was delegated to wait upon President F. H. Buhl of the Twin Falls Land & Water Co., who will be in Twin Falls on Monday, for the purpose of securing a site for a county jail. An effort will be made to induce Mr. Buhl to deed one of the park blocks to the county as a site for county buildings.

The meetings of the commissioners were held in the office of Probate Judge Chamberlain, which adjoins that of E. B. Williams of the state land department. Sheriff Allen will occupy the office next to the probate court; Clerk and Recorder West will take possession of the two rooms adjoining the sheriff's office; Miss DeLoey will occupy the office next to the recorder, and Associate McMillan will have a room to himself next to the lodge room on the south-east side of the hall.

WORK BEGINS ON KIMBERLY MILL

WILL BE IN OPERATION BY THE FIRST OF AUGUST.

Power Installation Will Furnish Light for the Town—Roads Are Very Muddy—Short Line Is Putting in a Semaphore at Station.

KIMBERLY, March 28.—Every obstacle which has stood in the way of Kimberly getting a flouring mill has been overcome. The contract for the power machinery and for the installation of the same was let Wednesday afternoon to the Fairbanks-Morse Co. of Salt Lake. Their representative, E. C. Crocker, who has spent some time here attending this deal, left on the train immediately after the signing of the contract. The mill site is being cleared at the present writing and as soon as the weather permits the work of straightening the ditch which formerly ran through the center back of the warehouse will be completed. The contract for the installation of the power machinery calls for its completion by July 1. The mill will be ready to start by the first of August. With the aid of this industry to our resources Kimberly takes another step toward the front. It means electric lights for the whole town and a sufficient surplus power which will be available for other industries. All in this neighborhood have proven true to Kimberly's best interests and it is only through their united efforts that we will be able to boast of the first flour mill on the Twin Falls tract and the first place to have electric lights outside of the metropolis. The erection of the mill at this place certainly means more to us than many realize. In the first place, the work of construction, which will continue from now until August first, will add many dollars to the coffers of the merchants and farmers about here. The erection of a mill here will establish a permanent wheat market without having to pay heavy freight rates en route to compete in outside markets.

On the strength of coming activity here this season it is reported that the Tongue company contemplates advancing the price of oats 10 per cent in 30 days.

The Ladies Pioneer club met at the home of Mrs. W. E. Lewis last Thursday afternoon. Sewing was the feature of the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, who have been residing in Twin Falls since the disposal of their farm near here, left on Monday morning for Salt Lake. Mrs. Johnson will remain there some time while her husband visits some of the Nevada gold camps and the Coos Bay country in the expectation of locating should he find conditions suitable.

F. A. Moore and wife left on Saturday for Boulder, Colorado, where their son and daughter are now in school. Saturday brought many from Rock Creek here. Messrs. Burke, Atkins, Budd and Commissioner Hansen were all in Kimberly that day.

Mrs. A. R. Moore has been slightly ill during the past week. On Tuesday for Caldwell for an extended visit with her parents. Agent Trull has taken a leave of absence for 30 days, during which time he expects to visit his old home in Missouri. C. H. Taylor will fill his place until his return. The weather the past week has been simply awful. Snow has fallen at most every day and the roads are about impassable. Four horses found it very hard work hauling 1000 pounds of coal. With the end of March so near at hand we may be able to endure it a while longer; otherwise it would be unbearable.

Auditor H. T. West returned on Wednesday to look after matters on his ranch here.

L. I. Cranner, who has had the contract grubbing 60 acres on Morgan Heaps' place, has finished his work and moved his outfit over west of Twin Falls.

A railroad crew is at work here at present erecting a semaphore at the depot. This will be a great convenience both for the agent and the engineer. The need of it has been felt some time.

Elam Cheney is expecting a steam traction engine from the east very shortly. With this machine he expects to take contracts for plowing or for grubbing and when the time arrives he expects to do some "thrilling" also.

Edward F. Tucker, who was postmaster here for a year or more, greeted his old friends on Wednesday. At present he is on the road for a Salt Lake candy house and is making a success of it. He stated that he expected to go into the mercantile business in the Coos Bay region before the summer was over.

M. L. Homan and family are preparing to move into the house on the west 40 north of town, which they have rented for this season.

One of the Land & Water company's camps in charge of W. E. Newberry is located a mile north of here. They have been grubbing the range brush out of the culdee which runs through W. S. Starr's place.

A baby girl was born at the Webster home Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Moore were gladly surprised Saturday by the unexpected visit of their daughter, Mrs. Slinger, from Portland.

J. D. MORRELL OF HANSEN LOSES TWO HORSES.

Nick Smith Ships a Carload of Oats to Heyburn—J. L. Barnes and R. B. Roberts Are Loading Potatoes for Shipment to Boise.

HANSEN, March 27.—A. A. Points took the train Friday at this place, going east.

Dr. J. F. Baker of Twin Falls passed through Hansen last Saturday on his way to Rupert.

Sam Garner, Albert Hall, Will Baker and L. E. Reinhardt visited Twin Falls Tuesday.

W. H. Barker of Heyburn was in town Saturday looking after the brick kiln at that place.

Nick Smith shipped another carload of oats to Heyburn this week.

J. L. Barnes and R. B. Roberts are loading a car with potatoes for shipment to Boise.

The Weeter Lumber Co. received 1000 pounds of nails this week to add to their stock of hardware.

John Hargrave, recently from Okla., has rented John Pollock's ranch for the season.

A. M. Cummings has purchased fence posts to enclose his entire 100 acre ranch, one mile east.

Joseph Neilson is hauling lumber for his new residence, work on which will begin at once.

T. G. Rutledge, manager of the Weeter Lumber Co.'s yard at this place, received a visit from Manager Flynn and Auditor Belcher last week.

J. D. Morrill, northeast of town, had the misfortune to have a team go over the cliffs of the Snake river. Both horses died from the effects.

George L. Doughty, who owns a fine ranch—two miles east, has returned from Boise, where he has been for several months visiting his sister.

GOOD SITE FOR A FERRY BOAT

On Snake River, Short Distances Above the Twin Falls.

J. C. Vandvert, who owns considerable property in the vicinity of the Twin Falls, and who has lived there for many years, declares there is an excellent site for a ferry half a mile above the falls. If the construction of a bridge is found impractical, Mr. Vandvert suggests that steps be taken to build grades and put in a ferry. The work can be done for not to exceed $5,000 and he is willing to undertake the contract at that figure. On the south side the grade would be 1500 feet long, with a grade of 100 feet; while on the north side it would only be 400 feet in length with a 20-foot grade, making it easy for hauling. Mr. Vandvert also stated that the canyon could be spanned at a point three-quarters of a mile above the falls with a span of 520 feet long. The measurement was made some years ago by Nelson Bennett's engineer at a time when the contractor figured on putting in a trolley to carry his supplies across the river. The construction of the grades at the ferry site would not take long, said Mr. Vandvert, and much of the work might be done by those willing to donate the use of their teams. Mr. Vandvert's suggestions should be carefully weighed as the need of some means of communication with the north side is urgent.

Such a ferry would tap the southwest corner of the first tract of 30,000 acres to be opened next month on the north side, the major portion of which is much nearer to Twin Falls than it is to Milner. The trade of this tract rightfully belongs to Twin Falls and the only way it can be secured is to establish a means of communication.

CASSIA COUNTY FLINT CORN, EXPERIMENTAL FARM, TWIN FALLS.

This corn first came to notice in Cassia county 10 years ago. At that time the ears were four to six inches in length and had four to six rows of kernels. When the corn was first planted on the Twin Falls tract two years ago the ears had eight rows of kernels and there was only one ear to the stalk. The ears now have 12 to 14 rows of kernels and are over a foot long. There are also two ears to the stalk. The development of the corn was made by selection, those ears which first showed silk and those stalks which first grew bobbins being carefully marked by colored thread. The ears and stalks so marked were separated from the others and reserved for seed. The kernels were selected primarily for their early maturity and secondarily on account of their shape and depth. The Cassia county flint corn matures in this part of the state in 90 days and is out of danger from frost 70 days after planting. The same method of breeding has been followed with other varieties of corn with equally good results.

HOW TO COMBAT THE COYOTE PEST

DIRECTIONS FOR EXTERMINATING THE NUISANCES.

Destruction of Poultry and Young Stock Can Be Averted by Hunting Down the Sneaking Coyote and Separating Him from His Hide.

The losses from the destruction of stock by wolves and coyotes in the western United States amount to millions of dollars annually and seem to be increasing rather than decreasing. Practical means of preventing these losses are urgently needed. The present circular, based on field work of the Biological service, aims to present briefly the best methods of hunting, trapping and poisoning wolves and coyotes, of finding the dens and destroying the young, and of fencing to protect stock. By the methods given herein the numbers of wolves and coyotes may be rapidly diminished and the losses of stock thereby reduced to a minimum.

Capture of Pups. If the time of breeding, character of breeding grounds and habits of wolves are known, the dens may be easily located and the pups secured. In this way, more effectively and economically than by any other means, the wolves and coyotes may be prevented. The large size of the litters makes the method especially important, as wolves usually have five to ten pups and coyotes five to nine. It is now positively known that both wolves and coyotes pair for the breeding season, and that the males stay with the females and help feed and care for the pups during the summer.

Time of Breeding. Wolf pups are usually born from March 9 to April 15, and coyote pups a little later, usually in April and May. The pups remain in or near the dens until two or three months old. The period of gestation with the wolf, as with the dog, is nine weeks. The rutting season for the wolf, therefore, would come in January and February; for the coyote in February and March.

Location of Dens. In the western United States wolves breed mainly in the foothills, country or in low mountains. For breeding dens they choose, if possible, natural cavities or washed-out hollows on south slopes of rocky or boulder ridges. There is usually a high point not far from the den, where the old male stands guard during the day.

In the north good tracking snow usually lies on the ground during the early part of the breeding season, which renders the finding of dens particularly easy, but even on bare ground there is little difficulty in locating every wolf den. This may be done by simply riding along the crests of the ridges until the wolf tracks are found. The tracks once found, the direction of the den can often be told from the lay of the land. Near the den the tracks usually gather into well-trimmed trails that may be followed on bare ground as readily as on snow.

Coyotes make their dens in the same kinds of places as wolves, and also dig burrows or use old badger holes, slightly enlarged; so a spade is often necessary in getting out the young.

Ranchmen can not afford to let wolf or coyote pups run at large, for their ranks when an hour's ride will often serve to locate the dens. The young pups of both wolves and coyotes are nearly black, but as they grow older the color fades to dull yellowish, and when about three months old a new light gray coat is acquired.

Trapping. For wolves the best No. 4 double spring trap with heavy welded or special wolf chain should be used. If the trap is to be fastened to a stationary object, the chain should have a swivel at each end. If to a drag, one swivel next to the trap is enough. Always use a drag if possible. The best is a stone of 20 or 30 pounds in weight, to which the chain is securely wired. A long oval stone is best. A piece of telegraph wire or smooth fence wire five or six feet long should be passed around the end of the stone, then doubled through the trap ring, with a twist to hold the ring in the middle; then around the other end of the stone and back on to the opposite side to connect with the first loop. If properly fastened, a jerk on the trap tends to draw together and tighten the loops, and the spring of the trap tends to connect with a sudden jerk that might break trap or chain. If an oval stone is not at hand, a triangular or square stone may be used by passing the wire over the three or four sides and securely connecting it above and below.

If no stones are to be had and it is necessary to stake the traps, twisted iron stakes that can be driven below the surface of the ground should be used. They should be of good iron, at least 15 inches long, three-eighths of an inch wide, and three-sixteenths of an inch thick, turned over at the top into a P-shaped loop to connect with the ring of the trap chain.

When possible, place the trap between two tufts of grass or weeds, so it can be readily approached from one side only. Bury the stone, chain and trap out of sight, with the trap nearest to the runway where the wolves follow a trail or road, cross a narrow stream, or visit a cave. The trap should be flush with the surface of the ground and the jaws and pan covered with a piece of paper to keep the earth from clumping under the pan. Fine earth should then be sprinkled over the paper until all traces of trap and paper are concealed. The surface of the ground should be made to appear as nearly as possible undisturbed. The dust may be given a natural appearance by sprinkling it with water. Touching the ground with other objects with the hands, splitting near the trap, or in any way leaving a trace of human odor near by should be avoided. Old, well-centred gloves should be worn, and a little of the scent used for the traps should be rubbed on the shoe soles. A piece of old cowhide may be used to stand on and to pile the loose earth on while burying the drag and trap.

For coyotes use the best No. 3 double spring trap, unless in a wet country, where it is better to use a trap strong enough to hold a wolf. In setting the trap use the same method and bait as for wolves, but the traps should be set along a fence to a stationary object with more safety.

Use of Scents. Success in trapping depends largely on the use of a scent that will attract wolves and coyotes to the traps and keep them trapping and pawing there until they are caught. Scents of little use and often, indeed, scares the animals away. Of the many scents and combinations tested the field-bait has proved most successful.

Field-bait. Fill a half a pound of raw beef or venison in a wide-mouthed bottle and let it stand in a warm place (but not in the sun) for two or three weeks, or until it is thoroughly decayed and the odor has become as offensive as possible. When decomposition has reached the proper stage add a quart of spew or a half a pound of animal oil. Lard oil may be used, but paraffin-oil is better. Then add 1 ounce of tincture of Siberian musk or Thunberg's oil. If this can not be procured, use in its place 1 ounce of dry, pulverized castoreum (beaver castor) or 1 ounce of the common musk sold for perfumery. Mix well and bottle securely until used.

After setting the trap apply the scent with a stick or straw or by pouring from the bottle to the grass, weeds or ground on the trail leading to the trap opposite that from which the wolf would naturally approach. Never put scent on the trap, as the first impulse of the wolf after sniffing the scent is to roll on it.

This bait is very attractive also to cattle and horses, which are sure to tramp over and paw out the traps if not where they can get it.

Poisoning. No poison has as yet proved so effective as pure sulphate of strychnine, provided the proper dose is used. The most effective dose is 4 grains for wolves and 2 grains for coyotes. The common 3-grain gelatin capsules sold by druggists will hold, if well filled, 4 grains of strychnine and are better than the capsules of the regular 2-grain capsules should be used for coyotes. The capsules should be filled, securely capped, and every trace of the oily bitter drug wiped from the outside.

Each capsule should be inserted in a piece of beef-suet the size of a walnut and the cavity securely closed to keep out moisture. Lard must not be used, as the lard soon dissolves the gelatin of the capsule. The necessary number of poisoned baits may be prepared and carried in a can or on a roll. They should never be handled except with gloved hands or forceps. The bait may be dropped from horseback along a scattering drag line by dragging an old bono or piece of hide well saturated with the field scent, or they may be placed around or partly under any carcass on which the wolves or coyotes are feeding, or along trails which they are in the habit of following.

Gelatin capsules quickly dissolve in the juices of the stomach. Strychnine taken on an empty stomach sometimes kills in a very few minutes, but on a full stomach its action is much slower and the animal may have time to travel a considerable distance.

Hunting with Horses. Hunting wolves with horses is an expensive method of capture, though occasionally successful. With coyotes it is more common and more generally successful and in either case affords thrilling sport.

Hunting with Dogs. Hunting wolves with dogs is usually unsuccessful, as few dogs have ever proved able to kill or hold a wolf. Ordinary trail hounds are said to drive them out of a region, but the drive is only temporary, as they soon return. Such dogs can not catch wolves, and the wolves often turn and kill a number of the dogs. Coyotes, on the other hand, are readily caught and killed by large greyhounds or wolf hounds, which run by sight only.

Shooting. Hunters occasionally make a successful shot at a wolf and more so at a coyote, but generally hunting does not pay. However, by watching near the dens in the early morning or at dusk before the sun is high, and by using a good hunter is sometimes able to shoot one or both of the parents.

Coyote Proof Fences. Under present conditions it is entirely impracticable to fence any great part of the western stock ranges against wolves and coyotes, but in many cases limited areas may be fenced to advantage. In sections where cattle are fed during the winter months, wolves often kill them on the open feeding grounds. These, as well as small home pastures, for high cattle and sheep, could be enclosed with wolf and coyote proof fences at relatively slight cost, often less than the value of the stock killed during one season. Preliminary tests of fences have been made by the Biological service, and until more thorough tests can be carried out the following is recommended as affording protection against both wolves and coyotes. Further experiments will probably show that a more economical fence can be constructed.

On posts seven feet long, set a rod or a rod and a half apart, should be stretched one closely barbed wire along the surface of the ground. Three inches above this should be set a 36-inch strip of woven wire fence of not less than five-inch mesh, and above this two barbed wires six inches apart. For the north another wire, eight inches above these, may be added to provide for a moderate depth of snow, making a close fence practically five feet high. To prevent the wires from sagging away from each other, they should be stretched at intervals of eight feet, by a hand machine. A fair grade of suitable twine woven wire may be bought and used at cost, say 15 to 25 cents a rod, and barbed wires from 2 to 5 cents per rod each. The actual cost of fence, made as directed, can be computed only for localities where the cost of barbed wire, posts and labor is known, but usually need not exceed 50 to 75 cents per rod for materials.

Preservation of Skins.

Prime wolf skins in fall and winter, if properly handled, are worth from $1 to $2, and coyote $2 to $3 each, for robes or rugs. For either purpose the skin should be complete, with feet, ears and nose perfect. The feet should be split through the soles, all bones removed except the terminal segment of each toe, and the skin opened out to dry. The ears should be partly skinned, the thick base of cartilage removed, and salt forced in between the skin and cartilage. The tail bone should be removed and the tail split along the lower side to the tip. The skin should be washed up as nearly square as possible, with the legs wide and short, and left to dry in the shade. Many skins are spoiled by drying in the sun or by imperfect skinning.

Museums and taxidermists will often buy wolf skulls at 50 cents each if the bones are unbroken and the brains removed, or until it is thoroughly dried so they will dry without becoming offensive. For museums they should be labeled for sex, locality and date.

Occasionally wolf bounties are paid on coyotes because county officials can not distinguish between a large coyote and a small wolf, and in certain localities the distinction is exceedingly difficult. In doubtful cases the Biological survey will be glad to identify the animals.

STATE NEWS.

An unusual amount of snow has fallen all over the state during the past few days and floods are predicted in the event of warm weather.

F. S. Dietrich of Pocatello has been appointed United States Judge for Idaho to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge Beatty.

Moyor, Haywood and Pettibone are to be tried in Boise. Judge Wood having given their attorneys the alternative of having the case transferred to the state capital or standing trial in Caldwell and counsel for the defense selected Boise.

John J. Wells, Patrick H. Dwyer and L. M. Pritchard of Boise have been indicted by the grand jury now in session in Boise in connection with alleged timber frauds which are under investigation. It is reported that several other indictments have been returned.

The Carey Irrigation company, which has been putting in the "Fish Creek" project in Blaine county, has suspended operations or expending $20,000, because a number of squatters jumped the land under the project before the segregation was made and refused to sign for water rights, although they have no water of their own.

CURRENT WORLD.

The Shaw case is still dragging along but there are indications that it may be concluded this week.

The flouring mills in the Puget sound section are closed for lack of wheat, the railroads being unable to transport the grain. The millmen claim that the railroads are giving preference to cars of cotton for export to the Orient and they are insisting that the grain be moved.

The seventh week of the trial of Blinzer-Hermann, former congressman from Oregon, who is accused of participation in land frauds, has been reached. Damaging evidence was given by S. A. D. Pater, a confessed member of the land grabbing ring, who claims to have been associated with Hermann.

"Big Eno," a negro who claimed to be the heaviest man in the United States, is dead at Appleton, Wis. He weighed 640 pounds and was but 17 years of age. Two years ago he ceased riding in railway cars because he was unable to enter the doors. His death was due to fatty degeneration of the heart.

Confessions by the wholesale have been made by corrupt supervisors in San Francisco, several of whom have been indicted. Indictments have also been returned against Louis Glass, vice president of the Pacific States Telephone company, and A. K. Dotterer, a prominent capitalist, who are charged with bribery.

Forester Pinchot has announced that stockmen who refused to pay grazing fees, forfeited their future privileges on national forests and when their stock trespasses on reserves they will be required to pay both damages and the regular grazing fee. The forester also announced that as the government now has a right to appeal in criminal cases, he will cause a test case to be brought before the supreme court to settle, once and for all, the right of the government to charge a fee for grazing privileges within the national reserves.

NURSERY STOCK INSPECTION

Stringent Provisions of the New Law on the Subject.

One of the most important measures enacted by the recent legislature was Fluted's bill regulating the inspection of nursery stock. The provisions of the bill are particularly interesting to nurserymen of Twin Falls as they, in fact, trace shipped here from without the state.

The Fluted bill, which is now a law, makes the sale or export of fruit that is affected with the codling moth or San Jose scale, a misdemeanor, punishable by the destruction of the infected fruit and with a fine of $25 to $500, or up to 60 days in jail or both these last penalties. The fact that the fruit shows worm holes, or the San Jose scale, is prima facie evidence of infection. The law does not prohibit the utilization of the fruit on the premises where grown for any of the fruit by-products, such as jelly, vinegar, fruit butter or any other such product. But it is a severe law, in that no warning is to be given, the mere fact that the fruit is diseased being of itself deemed sufficient cause for punishment of the seller.

The bill further provides that nursery firms who have complied with the state horticultural laws in the inspection of their nurseries, or the nurseries from which they procure their stock, may have duplicate certificates of inspection made for them, the payment of $1 for each certificate. Any violation of the law, in the selling of the stock that is not inspected or having a clean bill of health, is made a misdemeanor, with a fine of $25 to $300.

Any nursery stock may be brought into the state without having been grown in an inspected nursery, provided the shipper shall submit the stock to a qualified state inspector, who will give him a certificate of health, charging the shipper for the inspection.

A bond is required from both the horticultural inspector and all the deputy inspectors, the bonds to be approved by the board and kept on file.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The hockey class are beginning to classify plants and flowers.

The commercial class are very much interested in the study of surveying.

The different grades are selecting their respective trees to plant on Arbor day.

Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Ring, Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Salladay visited the first grade last Thursday afternoon.

In last week's notes the statement was made that Mr. Newton was to present each of the pupils with a plant. This was incorrect as it is to be Mr. Waters instead of Mr. Newton.

While playing ball last Friday morning, the boys in the effort to catch the ball, had the thumb of his right hand put out of joint. It was immediately put back by one of the boys and is now about all right.

The declamatory contest has been changed again and now is to be held April 5. This was done because of the next meeting of the lecture course coming on April 12. The girls are all practicing hard and faithfully under direction of Mr. Parks and Mrs. Stalker.

The teachers' meeting last Friday was unusually good and interesting. The following subjects were discussed: "Shirley in School," Miss Baker; "How to Stimulate Interest and Activity in Drill Pupils," Miss Hall; "Primary Readings," Miss Kelly; "Numbers," Miss Meyers; "Busy Work," Miss Evans.

The firemen went down to defeat before the High school baseball team last Friday on the old baseball grounds. The firemen came on the field and judging from their manner they were evidently expecting a "snap," but were greatly surprised after the first inning. The score was 10-1. The High school boys are doing well in their games. The boys attribute part of their success to the girls, who have supported them with school yells and cheers of encouragement. It is up to the girls to play it game of basket ball as soon as the grounds are good and do their share now.

CHOOSING LAND FOR IRRIGATION

Professor Samuel Fortier Describes Arid Soils.

In choosing land which is to be irrigated careful examination should be made of the character and depth of the soil, its behavior when irrigated, the slope and evenness of the surface, the presence of injurious salts and the facilities for drainage. One of the best indications of the character of the soil is the native vegetation which grows upon it. When sagebrush, buffalo grass or cactus is found on a tract, it is reasonably certain that the soil is fertile, easily tilled and well drained. These plants are but a few in a large group which grow on good soil, easily irrigated.

On the other hand, the presence of greasewood, saltwort, salt weeds or other similar plants is indicative of heavier soil, less easily cultivated and containing more or less of the injurious salts usually grouped under the common name of alkali. In our arid region cultivated plants are deep rooted. They draw the supply of plant food and moisture from considerable depths and the deeper the soil the larger is the feeding ground for the roots and the greater is the capacity to store water. In the warm parts of the west the top layer of soil is chiefly as a sort of blanket to protect the moist soil beneath which furnishes both food and water to the fibrous roots.

The presence of any hard, impervious stratum lying between the first and fifth feet prevents deep rooting and the storage of moisture. A hard stratum lying between the fifth and tenth feet is likewise injurious, but in less extent. On the other hand, a porous stratum of coarse gravel may waste large quantities of irrigation water by permitting it to percolate beyond the root zone. It is, however, injurious to drainage and is much preferable than an impervious sub-soil. The character of the sub-soil may be readily determined by boring holes with a soil to a depth of ten feet if necessary and taking samples at different depths. Easily irrigated soil will absorb sufficient water in 24 hours after an irrigation to become moist to a depth of two or three feet.

Some soils are so impervious that it is difficult to wet more than a few inches below the surface, and others are so porous that the water soon percolates through them beyond the reach of the deepest roots. The surface of other soils bakes and cracks after each wetting, which renders cultivation difficult. It will usually be possible to find similar soils under irrigation in nearby fields. If this is not possible, a trial may be made on a small scale to determine how the soil acts under irrigation. In general, sandy loams irrigate well, while clay is hard to cultivate when wet, does not absorb water readily and bakes and cracks when drying.—S. Fortier.

Spring tree planting season is here; so is the Twin Falls Nursery with over 200,000 home grown fruit, shade and ornamental trees of all varieties. Mr. J. A. Waters, the general proprietor, is pleased to have buyers make a personal selection.

Entered as second-class matter, December 12, 1906, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Yakima potatoes are selling in Tacoma and Seattle for $30 to $32 per ton, writes a Washington subscriber to The News, and the supply in the Yakima valley is about exhausted. It will not be long before the Puget sound dealers will be sending to Minnesota for spuds. From present indications it would not be surprising if the price were to reach $40 per ton. At existing rates Twin Falls potatoes could be shipped to Tacoma and Seattle and sold at a good profit. If Minnesota potato growers can afford to sell in the Puget sound market there is no reason why the Twin Falls farmers cannot compete in that territory. It might be well to investigate the matter and see what can be done.

Half a loaf is better than no bread, and if it should be found impossible to secure a bridge in the vicinity of the Twin Falls ferry would be very acceptable. The suggestion made by Mr. Vandvert elsewhere in this issue is worthy of careful consideration. A ferry located at the point, which he designates would be of great benefit, and if it were built by the county and the farmers jointly the revenue obtained from its use could be turned to useful purpose. There is no time to spare as the contractors will be at work on the north side in a few days and the project will be well advanced by the time the ferry is in operation.

Before the roads dry out an effort should be made to work them up a little in order that they will not accrete into ribbons of dust. While this is a busy season, it might be profitable to make at least a slight effort to better the highways. The approaches to the bridges are in urgent need of attention.

The officials of the weather bureau are evidently suffering from a series of "brain storms," judging by the quality of their product.

Spring weather is assured. The baseball boys are going to organize on Monday evening.

This picture, which is that of a young empire builder, taking his first view of the scene of his triumphs to come, illustrates the remarkable effect of Idaho climate and scenery upon a warm blooded young Pennsylvanian. The young gentleman has just arrived from the state where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are at this moment defacing the landscape and biting big holes in the dividends of capitalists. He is taking his first good look at the great Milner dam and the placid and majestic Snake river which never so far forgets its duty to mankind as to become unruly. Behind the young empire builder rests his valise, filled with Pittsburgh stockings, no doubt. The peculiar expression upon his face is due to the action of the sun's rays. Coming from Pittsburgh, the young gentleman saw the sun out at intervals through rifts in the smoke and the dazzling Idaho sky put a crimp in his optic nerves. As the young gentleman was six feet tall when he arrived he is bound to attain a great height after irrigation.

BREVITIES

Chief Engineer Paul S. A. Bickel and Jerome Hill, Jr., of the North Side company came over last evening from Milner.

German Lutheran services will be held in the Christian church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, followed by English service at 3:30 p. m. English services will also be held at Fluer in the schoolhouse at 10:30 a. m.

Kenneth, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gray, died on Saturday and was buried on Monday in the Twin Falls cemetery. The interment was under the direction of Undertaker H. E. Hunt. Rev. Barnes officiated at the service. The bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

For the accommodation of those who wished to take advantage of the special conference rate of one fare for the round trip to Salt Lake City, the Short Line will attach a special tourist sleeping car to the regular passenger train leaving Twin Falls on Monday evening. A charge of $1 will be made for berth.

A school election will be held on Saturday, April 6, for the purpose of electing trustees to take the places of C. D. Thomas, E. B. Williams and F. P. Chamberlain, whose offices were terminated by the expiration of their terms. The meeting at which nominations will be made will be called at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and the polls will take place between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m.

Yesterday was "Mannin' Thursday," the Thursday in Passion week which precedes Good Friday, and the members of the Scottish Rite in Twin Falls observed the rules of the order by assembling and drinking bread in Brandy. A large number were present and the occasion, the first of its kind in this city, will long be remembered by those who participated.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Larned arrived yesterday from Lansing, Mich. Mr. Larned, who has a fine ranch between here and Shoshone falls, returned to his former home last autumn to spend the winter. He reports that the winter weather in Michigan was exceptionally fine. Mr. Larned said the good reports he had heard from the Twin Falls tract during the winter were well justified and he thought more of his farm than ever.

Mario, "the prince of Magic," as he is called, will appear at the local school auditorium on Friday evening, April 12, under the auspices of the lyceum course. Mario is conceded to be one of the premier attractions now on tour and his work has been praised without stint in every city in which he has appeared. In Boise and Salt Lake City the press lauded his cleverness and pronounced him the king of entertainers. His many tricks are mystifying and delightfully new. Those who have season tickets for the course may have a special discount for the Mario entertainment at Bedford's drug store at noon on Friday, March 30. First come first served.

The baseball enthusiasts will meet on Monday evening at the office of T. J. Woods to decide upon plans for the season. At this meeting a committee of business men will be selected to finance the team for the season and a managing committee will also be placed in charge of the team. The idea is to place the team on a sound financial basis at the outset in order that it may be able to go through the season without a hitch. There is plenty good material for a strong nine and all the boys need is a little encouragement. Last year's team was a credit to the city and there is no reason why a good, if not a better, showing cannot be made this season.

The members of the Gro department met in Frank Lindzy's furniture store on Wednesday evening and permanently organized by electing James A. Gallher president, Ross Eliza vice president, Ed Court treasurer, Frank Lindzy secretary and committee. The Gro department was confirmed as chief and Louis Peterson and Bert Whitehead as captains. Noel Meyer was chosen assistant captain of truck No. 2 and Frank Halverson of truck No. 1. Frank Halverson, George Smith and Frank Halverson were named as captains of the finance. The boys did well on the ball which they gave last week and they are starting out under encouraging conditions. The fire hall will now be furnished with bunks and other necessary furniture and the department will soon be in the best possible shape to cope with emergencies.

It is reported that Buck fed the assessor the chicken, corn and beans and the apple syrup from Missouri but Mr. McMillan declines to discuss the question.

Scarcely a jackrabbit can be found on the Twin Falls tract. The stretch of territory between the high line canal and the foothills has been deserted by the long eared leopards and there are none on the north side. The rabbits seem to have become affrighted with the advent of civilization and have sought a wilder range.

Mr. and Mrs. Canine and their three daughters have arrived from Emmetsburg, Iowa, and have rented the Tobin farm near town. Their son will arrive in a few days. The Canines belong to the good Iowa stock which is already well represented on the Twin Falls tract and they are heartily welcome.

F. L. White of Moscow, Idaho, arrived on Tuesday, accompanied by his daughter. This was Mr. White's first visit since June of 1905, when he purchased the lot occupied by the Star restaurant on Main street. He was exceedingly well satisfied with the development of the town and announced his intention to return in the summer.

G. A. Straker of the Hub has the male population of the town guessing again. In his show window are three discarded hats once worn by three prominent citizens. The first one who guesses the identity of any one of the wearers will receive a new hat. The skydives all have a familiar appearance and the guesses are coming in fast.

An urgent invitation is extended to all the attorneys of Twin Falls county to become members of the association.

Rails will be laid to Cedar draw within 10 days, barring unforeseen accident. A bridge 175 feet long will have to be built at the draw and another bridge about 100 feet in length over the next draw, a short distance west. Making reasonable allowance for delays, the road should be open to Buhl by the first of June.

The Commercial & Savings bank of Twin Falls will open its doors for business on Monday. The bank fixtures are all in place and the vault will soon be ready for use. The fixtures are particularly attractive and they relieve the appearance of what had hitherto been a dull looking corner. The counting room is large and exceedingly well lighted and the interior arrangement is neat and tasteful.

A. J. Wiley, the well-known engineer, met with a painful mishap at Shoshone falls on Tuesday. While inspecting the power plant in his capacity as consulting engineer Mr. Wiley slipped in the tunnel and broke one bone of his left leg a few inches above the ankle. He was brought to the Hotel Perrine, where Dr. Patterson reduced the fracture. Mr. Wiley is resting comfortably and the fracture is knitting nicely. Although confined to bed he is able to transact a great deal of business. His perfect health warrants the belief that he will soon be on his feet again.

Mrs. Jennah Persell died at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Metcalf, two miles south of Fluer, on Sunday morning, March 27. Mrs. Persell was 72 years of age, having been born December 21, 1838. She came to the Twin Falls tract on February 27. Undertaker L. J. Miller cared for the body and supervised the funeral, which took place at Fluer on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Persell is survived by one son, George W. Persell, and one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Metcalf, both of Fluer. Though her acquaintance in her new home was slight, her death is mourned by a number of her friends and family to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended.

Bound Wheat May for Sale. 25 tons, 2 miles south, 1/2 mile west of Twin Falls. CHARLES F. GLOYSTEIN.

"Dead men tell no tales," runs the proverb. If this is so, some of the young men of Twin Falls are not dead ones by any means; that is, provided the young ladies are correctly informed. It is a matter of gossip that certain young gentlemen informed certain young ladies that certain other young ladies--well, it was mean of them to say anything anyway. If there is anything to be said the girls should have the privilege of saying it. The idea that any young men should have the audacity to talk in perfectly awful. They should have more regard for the privileges of others. The reported lequency of the young gentlemen caused many pink ears to burn and many heartaches among the young ladies and the social fabric of Twin Falls is rent and torn in consequence. Boys, why don't you be good?

PRaises Twin Falls Trees

State Horticultural Inspector Says They Are Splendid.
A. F. Hitt, state horticultural and pure food inspector, was in Twin Falls during the early part of the week on an inspection tour. He looked over the stock of the local merchants in his capacity as pure food inspector, examined the nurseries of James A. Waters and a number of young orchards on the tract.
"I find that the people of Twin Falls like to grow good crops, whether it be groceries or fruit trees," said Mr. Hitt. "As in other localities I found grocers which were not labeled according to the requirements of the law but that did not by any means indicate that the goods were impure. It takes time to conform to the law and I find that the merchants are doing their best."

"What pleased me most," added the inspector, "was the condition of the fruit trees. I made a thorough inspection of Mr. Waters' nursery and I can truthfully say it could not be in better condition. I say this frankly and take the risk of being accused of 'boasting.' His trees are perfectly healthy and free from disease. I mention this fact because of its great importance. You have a splendid new country here and it behooves you to keep out the orchard pests. Trees are coming in here from all parts of the country and you should be careful to see that they are all healthy. The state board of horticultural inspection will go as far as it can to protect the Twin Falls tract but unfortunately the board has not the funds to go far enough. John Adams, the inspector for this district, will give Twin Falls all the attention he can afford. When his appropriation is exhausted it will be for the farmers to say whether they shall pay him to remain or take the chances of allowing unhealthy trees to come in. By rights the inspector should be here for six weeks. His expense allowance is ridiculously small but the farmers could club together and pay him to remain until the spring season has closed. Several farmers have told me they would be willing to contribute their share. The board is very anxious to visit the Twin Falls tract and the possible inspection but our appropriation is inadequate. The state is growing too fast. It is marvelous the quantity of trees which are being shipped into Idaho."

"I want to give the Twin Falls farmers a piece of advice," concluded Mr. Hitt. "They should get acclimated trees whenever possible. No matter how healthy or clean a tree may be, its growth is affected by the climate. This is bound to be a great fruit district. I never saw better growing trees than those I inspected on the Twin Falls farms. Keep your orchards clean by all means and your fruit will soon have a reputation which will be of untold value. You have the opportunity and you should take advantage of it."

COMPLIMENTARY TO S. H. HAYS

Tribute to the Well Known Attorney for Water Company.

In a sketch of S. H. Hays, written by F. W. Ellis of the Idaho Magazine, is the following reference to his connection with the Twin Falls project: "The most eloquent commentary on the fitness of Mr. Hays to serve in this vital capacity will be found, probably, in mentioning the important and successful business institutions with which he is prominently connected. He is the vice president and manager of the Twin Falls Land & Water company, the largest irrigation enterprise of modern times, an enterprise which stands unmatched in the world for transforming within three years a waterless desert into a great garden and the home of 10,000 prosperous and contented people, an enterprise that has brought more thousands of useful, hard working men and women to the larger and more abundant life and joy that the greatest object than has any other similar project in all of God's heritage. Mr. Hays is also the attorney for the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company, and these two companies are jointly irrigating 400,000 acres, of which 200,000 acres are already under water, and are producing the fattest kind of corn. The Twin Falls Land & Water company's expenditure to date for improvements are fully $1,000,000 and the North Side company will expend in the next three years fully $4,000,000 for improvements. Suffice it to say that these two companies are easily the greatest single factors in the development of Idaho. Mr. Hays is the attorney for the Shoshone Falls Power company, and is interested in the Twin Falls investment company, a company which has built a $350,000 hotel at Twin Falls and a $25,000 hotel at the new town of Dahl."

Choice Lands. We own and have for sale some choice irrigated lands, improved and unimproved, that we can sell you on very reasonable terms. WHAT ELECTRICITY WILL DO

Physical Value of a Commercial Unit Explained.
With the advent of electric power in Twin Falls close at hand it is interesting to know the uses to which the power may be put. Just how the power will be sold in Twin Falls has been announced. In many places it is sold by the kilowatt hour. A kilowatt is 1000 watts, or roughly speaking, about one and one-third horsepower, and a kilowatt hour is the equivalent of one kilowatt of energy for one hour. An English electrician has enumerated some of the results which may be obtained from a kilowatt are odd but they serve to show the many uses to which electricity is put. He mentions:

- Clean 5,000 knives.
- Keep your feet warm for five hours.
- Clean 75 pairs of boots.
- Clip five horses.
- Warm your curling tongs every day in the year for three minutes and twice on Sundays.
- Warm your shaving water every morning for a month.
- Give you 1250 impressions on a Brenner royal printing machine.
- Run a mechanical sieve for two hours.
- Run an electric clock for ten years.
- Iron 30 silk hats.
- Light 3,000 cigars.
- Coard eight sacks of flour into dough.
- Fill and cork 250 dozen pint bottles.
- Supply all the air required by an ordinary church organ for one service.
- Pump 100 gallons of water or other liquid to a height of 25 feet.
- Run a plate-polishing machine for 21 hours.
- Run an electric piano for 10 hours.
- Lift three and one-half tons 75 feet in four minutes.
- Give you three Turkish bath.
- Keep your domestic irons in use for an hour.
- Keep you warm in bed for 32 hours.
- Warm all the beds in the house, by a warming pan, for a fortnight.
- Give you a fire in your bedroom for an hour while you are dressing or undressing.
- Boil one kettle, each holding two plates of water.
- Run a small ventilating fan for 21 hours.
- Chop 15 chops in 15 minutes.
- Run a large ventilating fan for six hours.
- Keep your breakfast warm for five hours.
- Run a sewing machine for 21 hours.
- Carry your dinner upstairs every day for a week.
- Carry you 100 miles from the bottom of the house to the top, 80 feet each journey.

Banking and Trust Company to Be Established—Interesting Meeting of Farmers' Association—New Manager for Hotel Buhl.

BUHL, March 27.—George L. Eveleth returned Saturday from a trip through Lincoln, Cassia and Twin Falls counties with 10 fine work horses which he has put on the market. He says that the trouble is not to sell horses but to keep from selling them.

A. D. McKinlay sold two lots on Broadway, adjoining Osgood & Baldwin's store, to James A. Whitney of Atlantic, Iowa last week. Mr. Whitney is a banker and will soon commence the erection of a business block on the lots. He paid a bonus of $300 for them.

The Western Lumber company received a car load of fence posts last week but they won't keep them long. They are being sold as fast as the ranchmen can get to town to haul them away.

Dr. James Monroe came up from Hagerman Friday and spent several days building a house on his ranch, which he will use to make that place with. He left Monday for Hagerman and will return about the latter part of this week to remain here permanently.

Herbert Pember, who has been working for Eveleth & Braun all winter, moved out on his farm three miles northwest of town Saturday.

George L. Eveleth and family are going to move to the old hotel. Hinkley heights the first of April. Mr. and Mrs. Eveleth have been the managers of Hotel Buhl since early last summer and have discharged their duties in that capacity so well that the guests of that popular hotel will regret their departure. The whole family, and particularly the children, will be missed by the permanent boarders. They have made hosts of friends and all wish them good luck and success in their new home.

Harvey Eary sold his residence on Broadway and will move out on to his ranch in a week or two. He has built an addition to his ranch house and hereafter will be a full-fledged ranchman and will have nothing but alfalfa and strawberries.

Henry Hamming of Idaho, J. A. Eby of Twin Falls and R. E. Newberry of Kimberly have been in this vicinity for several days gathering data upon the condition of the canal and laterals on this side of the river to be submitted to the commission appointed to inquire into the matter of the complaints that have been going in from the ranchmen for some time in regard to the manner in which the canal and laterals have been constructed and the water allowed to run into coulees and draws unconfined and in many cases damaging the farmers through whose land the coulees run. Mr. Hamming is making a thorough and painstaking investigation and will submit a correct report of the conditions exactly as he finds them; and it is confidently believed that it will do a great deal of good and result in a better understanding between the farmers and the company.

J. A. Jacoby and wife of Dubois, Idaho, have rented Hotel Buhl and will take possession of it on the first of April.

C. M. Hill of Twin Falls was a Buhl visitor one day last week. O. D. Cole of Ottawa, Ill., arrived in town the latter part of last week. Mr. Cole owns 80 acres five miles southwest of town. He is going to build a residence on his ranch and live here this summer and winter to superintend the improvements he intends to have made. He will move up during the summer.

G. H. Watson of Goldendale, Wash., spent several days of last week looking over the west end of the tract and left Monday for home.

N. J. Jordan and wife came in from their ranch Friday on business.

L. E. Buchanan of Boise registered at Hotel Buhl Friday.

Ed J. Mayer and E. A. Munford of Twin Falls were Buhl visitors Friday. George Riley of Salt Lake City was a guest of Hotel Buhl for a few days of the past week.

Prof. J. W. Faris of Pocatello was in town Saturday in the interest of the Buhl Banking and Trust company, whose completion of the new establishment is a banking and trust concern here. Professor Faris is one of the incorporators and it is reported that he was in the city to see articles of incorporation of the company of origin.

H. H. Frohman and E. M. Buchanan of Twin Falls visited the City of the Setting Sun Saturday.

Green B. Campbell, formerly of Toponish, Wash., to attend to important business there. He will return to Buhl in about a month to look after his interests here.

P. W. King and Ed Hoark of Elmer were guests of Hotel Buhl one day last week.

Norman Geer gave a bachelor's dinner at Hotel Buhl last Saturday and those who were fortunate enough to get an invitation say it was something to remember.

A dance will be given on April 12 for the benefit of the baseball club. The proceeds will be applied to the purchasing of uniforms and all the other paraphernalia belonging to the game. It should be well patronized in order to give the boys an opportunity to fit themselves out properly for their summer work on the diamond.

C. S. Peck moved in to Dr. Gilmore's house on Main street Tuesday and Dr. Gilmore moved in to the upstairs front room of the Parker & Marshall building vacated by Mr. Peck.

John Lladstrom is erecting a building on Main street north of J. T. Henth's blacksmith shop, which is to be used as a restaurant.

J. L. Lang, who owns a ranch a mile south of town, departed Monday for Great Falls, Mont. to visit his family and will soon return to continue operations on the engraving.

Postmaster Nihart found it cheaper to put his hay in the barn than to build a legal fence around it to keep stray cattle from eating it.

The railroad workmen are building a culvert to the west of the hotel across the right of way south of the Miller-Perrine lumber yard.

The Miller-Perrine Lumber company has been busy for a week building lumber and shingles out to H. B. Bridgewater's ranch, five miles southeast of the city. Mr. Bridgewater covered the hay and covered the fine dwelling, house and barn thereon.

It is a great country in which people get rich without knowing it until they come to figure up their assets and liabilities. G. W. Paul came here from Missouri about a year ago, filed on a 40, bought a residence lot in Buhl and built himself a home on it. But Mrs. Paul pined for her home in Missouri and thought he was doing nothing worth while, so it was decided to sell out and return to the "Show Me" state and accordingly they prepared to dispose of their belongings and return to the commonwealth of Missouri. When they came to do so, however, they discovered that they had been doing immensely well, finding that they were worth $700 and $1000 to the good. This was better than Mr. Paul had over done in the same length of time in all his life before, which caused them to reverse their former decision. Mr. Paul put the helm of his prairie schooner hard down, bringing his up into the wind and came anchor. He furled his sails, went out and bought another 40 acres. Mrs. Paul has lost all desire to return to the home of her childhood and says that this is the greatest country on earth. They are now here to stay for their own and our country's good, and have decided to stay in the Twin Falls tract and especially the west end of it.

A. J. Milner is busy hauling stone for the foundation of his residence at Hinkley heights. The building will soon be in course of construction and will be completed some time during the summer.

W. H. Griffith came up from Mud Springs Tuesday on business. He has the contract for building O. D. Cole's home on the latter's ranch.

Fred Krueger took a run in from his ranch Tuesday. He reports everything progressing finely in his neighborhood.

W. Newell Wright of Chicago is registered at Hotel Buhl.

Arthur Hall of St. Louis, who owns a ranch about six miles south of town, arrived in the city Tuesday, accompanied by C. J. Syversten and A. Syversten of Courtenay, North Dakota. Mr. Hall has large interests in St. Louis and cannot attend to his property here in person. For that reason he is going to sell his ranch and in all probability it will be purchased by the Messrs. Syversten. It is to be regretted that Mr. Hall has not elected to stay in this country as he is a wide-awake and enterprising gentleman, but we will gladly welcome the Messrs. Syversten, who appear to be hustlers.

The Farmers' association meeting Monday night was well attended. In the absence of President Frank Russell, H. S. Hobson took the chair. The committee on alfalfa seed reported through W. S. Harris, and on motion Mr. Harris was instructed to purchase the seed from C. S. Peck at 16 cents a pound and 20 cents a hundred freight rates. The committee on a 70-foot road on the township line reported progress, and on motion were directed to continue the work they were doing and to proceed as they were formed to do. A petition to the board of county commissioners, in proper form, for a 70-foot road on the township line, signed Henry Hamming, who is here investigating the condition of the canal for the purpose of reporting on the same to the engineering commission appointed by the governor and the Twin Falls Land and Water company, addressed the meeting and gave out some valuable information. He assured the meeting that everything would be done to protect the farmers' rights under their contracts, and that the commission would go fully into the whole matter, and that after it had performed its labor the farmers would have nothing to complain about. On the other hand, he got considerable information himself from the farmers relative to the situation at this end of the tract, of which he will make use in his report.
