PLANT RUNS LIKE A HUMMING TOP

EVERYTHING WORKS SMOOTHLY AT THE FALLS.

Substantial Construction and Careful Installation Result in a Perfection of Motion Seldom Witnessed—Little Water is Used.

To the layman who has watched the construction of the Shoshone falls electric power plant for the past two years the mystery is how Superintendent Lee W. Glass managed to assemble the machinery, which was strewn along the canyon from the rimrock to the water's edge below the falls. During the two years which intervened between the delivery of the machinery and the completion of the plant there was constant disturbance in the vicinity of the works. The heavy and delicate portions of the machinery were carefully housed, but such trifles as bolts, nuts, etc., were flung downward and were buried in showers of rock and debris. However, Mr. Glass managed to gather them in and not so much as a nut is missing.

Viewed from the exterior, the most impressive feature of the plant is its solidity. It is literally built in cement from the mouth of the tunnel to the end of the tailrace. The only exposure is the upper half of a portion of the penstock, which rests in a cement bed built up from the solid rock, and the end of the penstock which bulges forth like the mangled dum-dum bullet. This end projects beyond the point where the water is diverted for the first unit now in operation in order to permit of the installation of additional units without blasting or disturbing the completed work. The extension can easily be made when necessary without interfering in any way with the operation of the plant. Even the tailraces have been provided for. This work entailed considerable delay, but the plant was built for the future and no details were overlooked.

From the crest of the roof to the rock upon which the foundation rests, the power-house is solid concrete and cement, built upon the most substantial lines. There is not a semblance of vibration. The huge turbine wheel and the massive generator revolve at top speed with a sound like the purr of a satisfied toment. From the tailrace pours a stream of water no larger than that carried by a lateral for the irrigation of a quarter section of land. The outflow seems insignificant when compared with the tremendous energy developed.

The manifest stability of the Shoshone falls plant and the extreme care exercised in its installation combine to make it an attractive spectacle, aside from its inspiring surroundings. The call of energy seems to reverberate from every crevice in the great canyon. The thunderous roar of the falls hushes all minor sounds and accentuates the still and smooth operation of the power plant.

It is quite a descent to the plant and after the visitor has tramped up and down the steep path, and sampled the long flights of steps on the wooden stairway he is willing to believe that the falls are at least 500 feet high. There is a splendid site for a chute at the power plant and it might be a good idea to install a number of boats. The big hole below the falls is ideal and the pitch is steep enough to furnish enough thrills for the money.

RUSHING WORK ON THE NORTH SIDE

BIG CONTRACTS TO BE LET IN SEPTEMBER.

Will include that Section of the Main Canal From Wilson Lake to Sugar Loaf and the Two Reservoirs at Wilson Lake and Jerome.

Paul S. A. Bickel, chief engineer of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Co., was in the city yesterday with Donald Grant of Fairbault, Minn., and W. C. Smith of Great Falls, Mont., who are making an examination of the north side project with the view of putting in a bid on the construction work. Mr. Grant who is one of the most noted contractors in the west, visited the Twin Falls tract five years ago before the snagbreak was disturbed.

"The ground was covered with snow and the roads were obliterated," said Mr. Grant. "Mr. Bickel had a tent at Miller and that was about all there was to the Twin Falls project at that time. I drove from Shoshone to Miller and back again, and although I come from a state where the thermometer drops pretty low in winter, I had a hard time keeping warm. I never expected to see such development as this; it simply paralyzes me. I can't get my bearings. Although I have lived on the western border of civilization for years and have seen hundreds of towns spring up and great tracts brought into production, the Twin Falls tract surprises me. I am ready to accept any predictions concerning the north side. My thumbs are up."

Mr. Bickel stated that the contract for the main canal from Wilson lake to Sugar Loaf gap, a stretch of 16 miles, would be let next week, together with the contracts for the construction of the reservoir at Wilson lake and Sugar Loaf. The latter reservoir is now referred to as the Jerome reservoir on account of its proximity to the new city. It is also called "the gap."

The reservoirs will be built of puddled earth. They both contain a little water at present and wells will be driven all over the work. The intention is to drill a well every few miles in order to demonstrate the water table on the north side and furnish water for the construction works. A well is now being drilled at Wendell and is already down 200 feet. Another will be driven at Hyer's construction camp, in the eastern part of "the gap," and still another three miles east of there. A second drilling outfit is now coming in and will be put in commission immediately.

The Wilson lake reservoir will have a capacity of 70,000 acre feet of water and the Jerome reservoir will contain 120,000 acre feet. The Monument lake reservoir on the northwest end of the north side tract will be built later, probably after water is carried that far. For the present work on the canal and system will be confined to the main canal from Miller to the Jerome reservoir and to the construction of the two reservoirs first named.

The country area situated on the work and there is likely to be lively competition.

"In the shade of the old apple tree" lunch was served, after which the lights around the lakes and in the lake—the beauty of the spot, the fruit, the winding drives and the grandeur of the whole cove was viewed with critical eye, and best of all, the only feet of the canyon—Miss Estella Perrine, with her handsome mount galloping here and there to give information to the visitors. Early in the evening the party proceeded along on the homeward journey, reaching Twin Falls in time for the Haybushers to take the evening train for their home. All expressed themselves as being well paid for the day's outing and a day more to be forgotten.

Mr. Thompson and Al Stewart, formerly employed by Professor Hinton, who have been in the city for some time, were seen yesterday. Mr. Thompson is now in the city and Al Stewart is in the city. They are both well and are enjoying their stay in the city.

TO RELIEVE THE COAL FAMINE

Lower Rate from Missouri River Ordered by Interstate Commission.

The special order of the Interstate Commerce Commission a rate of $4 per ton on soft coal from the Missouri river to Idaho points will go into effect tomorrow. This order was made in view of the fact that the situation in Idaho is so bad that it is necessary to get a supply stored for winter use. It is expected a large tonnage will be ordered for delivery in the near future and that the available supply will thus be materially augmented.

ELDRIDGE'S

PROBLEMS BEFORE THE LAND BOARD

CONNECTED WITH TRANSFER OF CANAL SYSTEM.

Canal Association Propounds Several Questions to the Board for Consideration, Most of Which Are Still Under Adjudication.

At the meeting of the state land board on August 20, at which the transfer of the Twin Falls canal system to the settlers was decided upon, the following explanatory communication was considered:

"Twin Falls, Idaho, Aug. 22.—To the Hon. State Land Board, Boise.—In helping the meeting of the land board to be held August 20 to consider the report of the engineering board recently appointed by your honorable board for the purpose of reporting to you the condition, sufficiency and completeness of the Twin Falls canal system, the governing board of the Twin Falls Canal association, this day, August 12, held a special meeting to consider their position on the questions to them come before you in determining and presenting to you in definite official statements our views and wishes.

We wish to assure you that the canal association deeply appreciate all your past and present efforts for the great trust imposed on your honorable board in connection with this great Carey act conditions, through your engineering board, and we wish to express our full confidence in such engineering board, and our satisfaction that this report will do exact justice to all interests.

We wish your board to fully understand that the requests for a ruling on points in connection, or in which the contract is not to be interpreted, might have been, is not to be in a spirit of dissatisfaction or detraction, but in the belief that these matters must be determined by your board very soon, that is, interpreted as you understand the contract, and we believe that your rulings on these points at this time would be in the best interest of all parties.

The canal association does not intend to make any requests or demands which are not justified by the contract, but we believe that they have arrived for an interpretation of the following points as your board understands them:

"Will your board hold that the state engineer had full authority to substitute wooden construction for concrete and concrete work and that such action by the state engineer is not subject to review or appeal by your board, even though your board should determine that such substitution was detrimental to the works?"

"Will your board construe the headgate and measuring device question as the contractor call for the measure by the construction company, or all headgates and measuring devices, and if not, by the obligation of the construction company as to headgates and measuring devices?"

"Will you construe the limit of one-half mile to which water is to be delivered and measured to the individual settler to be one-half mile in an area, irrespective of favorable topographical conditions, or to be one-half mile of the point of use by the necessary contour route of the ditch. We believe that you have already ruled that the point of delivery must be at an available point above the land to be served."

"Will you require that all canals used as laterals be improved and confined to a reasonable channel?"

"Will you hold that the power privileges and franchises will be appurtenant to the canal system, and be transferred to the settlers when the canal is turned over to them, or are such power franchises reserved in the contract to the construction company?"

"When the Twin Falls company, limited, is formed and the stock is issued to the settler for the lands sold to the canal company for the lands unsold, lands which are not cultivated and lands which are not irrigated, will the water in the main aqueduct of the system without paying any part of the maintenance charges? We understand that the contract contains a clause that there are no lands or acres of such lands, and we contend that this block of stock should allow a vote with maintenance and that the contract makes no provision that we do not object to the stock being sold we contend that to vote this stock, without any liability on such stock, would be a great injustice to the other stockholders. We would ask that this stock be treated as treasury stock, or that it be subject to the same liabilities as other stock, if it be voted."

In regard to the proposition of the turning over of the canal system to the settlers, we have the following to say: "We are firmly of the opinion that no proposition embodying any responsibility for or connection with construction matters will be considered by the settlers."

"If the land board orders the operating company (the Twin Falls Canal company, limited) formed, we believe that it should be held for all interests that the change should not be made until after the close of the present irrigating season, and would recommend that the date be fixed at January 1st, 1908."

"We would ask the board to consider the following proposition in connection with the forming of the Twin Falls Canal company, limited: 'We are willing that the present management shall remain in control, and that they shall offer the new company, and that their officers shall be held responsible for the details of the detail and policy of the management should be in their hands, subject to the approval of the board of directors, but we feel that the settlers, being now the principal owners of the system, are entitled to some voice in the management of the company, and we believe that the conditions of purchase and improvement have so greatly exceeded all expectations that the conditions as anticipated at the time of the making of the contract with the state are no longer applicable, and that the land board should meet the conditions as they exist at this time.'

"We would ask that the settlers be given representation on the board of directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, limited, sufficient to give them a majority vote, and that the number of directors be fixed upon, and that such majority of the directors be selected from a list of three times the necessary number of directors by the Twin Falls Canal association."

"We feel that the interests of the settlers and the construction company and one, in so far as the operation of the system is concerned, and that no harm can come to the construction company by the giving to the settlers a voice in the affairs in which they have a great interest."

"We would respectfully ask that the land board appoint an engineer to carry out the recommendations of the board of engineers now in the field, in the matter of completion and corrections of construction work."

"We would be glad if your board could state what matters are to be done, pertaining to the interpretation of the contract, before the attorney general at once in order that, if possible, we may have the position of the board on the matters referred to, at the meeting to be held on the 20th, respectively submitted."

THOMAS W. BARNES, H. T. WEST, Special Committee appointed by the governing board of the Twin Falls Canal Association.

Owing to the extreme importance of the majority of the questions, the board took most of them under advisement.

Regarding the action of the state engineer in authorizing the substitution of wooden construction for concrete and concrete work the company maintained that by the terms of its contract the engineer had the authority to make the change, the necessity for which was due to the pressing demands for water and the impossibility of obtaining cement while the works were being built. This question is still in the air as the board deferred action pending further investigation.

The question concerning headgates and measuring devices is very open. It is agreed that the need for measuring devices exists and that the views should be put in at once. The company proposes to place the headgates and weirs but reserves its legal rights until the question is finally determined.

With respect to the limit of one-half mile to which water is to be delivered to each local subdivision, the board has already ruled that the point of delivery must be at an available point above the land to be served.

No ruling was made with respect to the improvement of canals, and a slight increase in the price of water, but there is a slight prospect of a conflict on this point, apparently.

Attorney S. H. Paves, for the company, declined any visit to the canal, but he will be in the city, excepting the drop in the low line canal south of Hansen which, he stated, had been provided for, in the company's new contract with the state authorizing the construction of a pumping plant for the reclamation of lands above the canal.

The company has agreed to complete the construction work, with which the operating company will have no concern, whatever. An already stated, the company will relinquish control of the system to the settlers at the end of the first year, when all necessary improvements are completed. The company will not be held for lands remaining unsold will not be voted.

Although the open questions would seem to indicate that the settlers and the company are far apart in their views respecting the transfer, such is not the case. Questions upon which an agreement seems impossible in a short-time, are being amicably adjusted and when the springing is over there will be nothing left upon which to quarrel.

The company is trying to drive the best bargain it can, and the settlers are endeavoring to make the most advantageous terms. With fairness on both sides and the good will of the state, there are no impediments to the solution of the problem.

PRACTICAL DAIRYING METHODS

Are Now Being Taught in the Idaho University.

To meet the growing demand of those who want to acquire a knowledge of practical dairying methods, as well as something of the scientific principles underlying the work, but who do not feel able to take a longer course, the University of Idaho now offers a one-year course in dairying.

The dairy department is fitted up with the most modern apparatus for butter and cheese making. All the latest scientific methods and the latest improvements in operation. The department is equipped with a cream separator with 14 pans. The student will have individual charge of all the different processes through which the cream goes before it reaches the finished product. This includes the use of full-cream and regular, the importance of each process.

The course of instruction covers a period of two semesters. During the first semester, the student will be given lectures on butter making, milk and cream testing, bookkeeping, breeding and judging dairy stock, factory management, dairy bacteriology and dairy engineering.

During the second semester, lectures are given on cheese making, feeding dairy cows, scolding butter and cheese, dairy bacteriology, factory management and dairy chemistry.

The keeping qualities and general marketability of dairy products depends largely on bacteriological control. During this course the student will have opportunity to become familiar with bacteriology as related to dairying.

Through the training in the use of Bacteriological, chemical and physical methods, the student will be given practical work in the university creamery.

There are no scholastic requirements for entrance to this one-year course in dairying. Tuition is free. All the facilities of the university, including the library, gymnasium and dining hall, will be open to students in this course. Students completing this course satisfactorily will be given certificates. Should the student decide to take other work in the college due here will be given for the work completed.

Parties who contemplate entering this course or desire further information concerning the work will correspond with H. Franston, department of dairying, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho.

MAKE READY FOR THE COUNTY FAIR

NOW IS THE TIME TO BEGIN PREPARATIONS.

Grains and Grasses Should Be Gathered and Choice Vegetables Selected for Exhibit—Directions for Keeping Exhibits of Grain and Grass.

Now is the time for the farmers to begin collecting grains and grasses for the Twin Falls county fair. The selections should be made while the grains and grasses are at their best and the samples should be carefully handled in order that they may present their proudest appearance when placed on exhibition.

There is quite a trick in preparing exhibits. In fact, it may be said to be a gift. Frequently happens that the man who has the finest products fails to win the prizes because he does not know how to display his exhibits.

A poorly arranged exhibit is somewhat like a house nicely furnished with an substantial, but rendered unshightly without by the lack of a coat of paint. The display may be said to be the advertisement feature of the exhibit. An exhibit which fails to attract attention must necessarily fail of appreciation. The neatness and skill with which it is arranged serves as an advertisement and attracts the attention of spectators.

If possible it is best to pull grain stalks intended for exhibit. The stalks should be placed in the sun for a day or two, according to the stage of their maturity, care being taken to keep them from getting wet.

In this way the grain can be kept in perfect condition for an indefinite period, provided it is carefully handled and not over ripe when pulled. Grasses may be either pulled or cut. They should be tied in neat bundles and immediately wrapped in paper to protect them from the sun. If left unprotected they will soon bleach and lose their fresh appearance.

There are no set rules to follow in collecting vegetables. The fair will be held sufficiently late this year to permit of full maturity in vegetables and most of them should be at their best at that time. Taking last year's exhibit as a criterion, the display this year should be wonderful. In order to bring out the best in the fair management has revised the premium list so as to encourage exhibits.

The farmers are busy men and the chance of winning a small prize does not appeal to them when they think of the trouble attached to making an exhibit. They should, however, consider that the prizes are given for their sole benefit. The time and trouble which they spend in arranging their exhibits and bringing them to the fair is compensated for by the benefit which will result from the demonstration of the tract. In other words, it is an advertisement for their lands and one which costs them nothing except the bother of bringing in exhibits. Another compensating feature is the pride which every man should take in what he produces. The prizes are sufficiently attractive to warrant any man in making a chance of winning but they are nothing compared to the satisfaction of seeing a premium ribbon attached to an exhibit. No man knows how good his products are until he compares them with others. The fair offers the means of comparison. Let everybody come in and help to make it a success.

Choice Lands. We own and have for sale some choice irrigated lands, improved and unimproved, that we can sell you on very reasonable terms. The price will be satisfactory, and the land and water supply second to none in the United States.

SUGAR BEET FIELD, EXPERIMENTAL FARM, TWIN FALLS, IDAHO.

While the fact has not been widely heralded, negotiations for the erection of a beet sugar factory in Twin Falls have been progressing for some time and there is now every prospect for the consummation of the deal, which by a large factory in the east, which is now idle because of insufficient beet supply, will be moved to this city.

The parties interested have visited Twin Falls recently and are quite satisfied that this county can support a factory at the present time. The experiments of the past two years have demonstrated that the Twin Falls beet is second to none. Beets grown at Murlough last year scored higher than those from any other section of the state. The sugar beet field on the experimental farm, shown in the picture above, was a delight to look upon. The Twin-Falls farmers have been devoting some attention to sugar beet culture and when they are called upon to supply the raw material for a sugar factory they will have no trouble in growing the beets.

Reliable information regarding the city and country generally and especially pertaining to these and other matters, is published by this company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Entered as second-class matter, December 12, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

It has been suggested that a foot bridge might easily be built across the Snake river at Shoshone falls for the convenience of tourists.

OLD ROADS AND WHO MADE THEM

PIONEER TRAILS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY.

Tract Was Seamed with Wagon Tracks Long Before the Great Irrigation Project Was Dreamed Of.

Soldiers Were Trail Blazers. Many decades before the inception of the greatest irrigation enterprise in the land the Twin Falls tract was seamed with wagon marks.

Old roads for which there seemed to be no excuse, would their way for miles through the sagebrush.

They led in every direction and their depth indicated that each was a column of travel.

The first of these trails was a straight way to the Pacific northwest for years.

Portions of this old road are still to be found on the Twin Falls tract, deep furrows which testimony to heavy travel in years gone by.

There were three or four branches of this road, one of which led to Shoshone falls.

Another branch crossed the Snake river at Clark's grade, 10 miles below Blue Lakes, and a third led to the Lewis ferry at the mouth of the Salmon river.

The Boise-Kelton trail was traversed by the Oregon and Washington pioneers in their journeys across the continent, and it was a well traveled highway until the Short Line was built in the early '80s.

From the bridge across the high line canal, four miles south and one mile west of the present city, a straight road to the foothills.

Foggy and reasonably smooth, the farmers use it extensively in their trips to the Cass national trail.

This road forms a portion of the highway to Contact, Nevada, and the Three Creek country. It forks at the farm creek, where the hand fork being a cut-off to the Salmon river bridge.

This cut-off is rather rough and in wet weather it is heavy. The other fork of the road crosses the Snake river at a little north of the springs the Contact and Three Creek road bears off to the west.

This road passes through the creek at where it forks, the west fork leading to the Salmon bridge and Three Creek and the south fork to the Point ranch and on to San Jacinto and Contact.

The south fork of the bench beyond Goat springs winds along the foothills to Shoshone creek. It also forks a few miles south of Soldier creek, one fork crossing a steep divide and striking Shoshone creek three miles above the foot of the timber and the other going to the Sheebs corral at the end of the road.

This road was broken by the soldiers in the early days when it was necessary to protect travelers on the Hoega-Kelton trail from attacks by the Indians.

When General Connor brought the California volunteers to Utah and Idaho he camped for a time on what is now called Soldier creek, on which the Three Creek ranch is located.

The creek got its name from the military camp. There is an old story to the effect that General Connor had a soldier erect but no mention of the engagement is made in the army records.

There was once a military camp on Shoshone creek, the site of which is above the Shoshone corral. The old excavations can still be identified and there are evidences of earthworks.

Several burials have been found in this locality. The graves are for the most part located in heavy brush and consist of an excavation in which the body is laid and surrounded by the present effects of the dead. They are marked by small mounds. Occasionally bones are found in crevices in the rocks, covered with timbers and stones.

An extensively traveled road from Rock Creek joins the road south from Twin Falls at the Warm creek divide.

This road was used for years by the cattlemen, who still do the bulk of their trading at Rock Creek.

On the west side of the Salmon river, from Hascam to the Nevada line, in Twin Falls county, is an old and well beaten road which formerly had its terminals in Boise and Teconia, Nevada.

It was opened when the Oregon and Washington pioneers, Teconia being at that time the most convenient railway point to Boise.

This road was well built and a considerable part of it has been reconstructed. It was also well located and is still a splendid highway, on the major portion of which an automobile could be easily driven.

From the Salmon river bridge to Contact this road is in excellent condition, with the exception of a few short stretches and one of two crossings at the point where this road crosses the China creek.

China creek, old timers declare, a number of Chinese coolies were hauled. They had been working on the road, it is alleged, and it was found that they had been then to pay them. The creek has since been known as China creek.

From Big creek, which empties into Shoshone creek, a dirt road crosses the north of the Nevada line, a good road leads to the Grande ranch, owned by A. J. Harrell. This ranch is on Goose creek, which winds eastward northward through the Cassa national forest and by way of Oakley, discharging into the Snake river at Burley. There is a fearsome road from Rock Creek to Shoshone creek. It is mostly perpendicular and contains more rocks to the road than any highway in the state.

IS ABOUT TO INVADE MEXICO

Heber Sorenson Will Head Southward Next Week.

While serving in the United States army in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war, Heber Sorenson received a fever which seems which are now working to the surface in his system and calling him to the sunny south.

He has tried to get to the south by way of the high water. The intensity of his craving for tobacco, rum, chili con carne, tamales and other tropical dishes of the south, has become so intense that he has been kept busy securing the trail for peppers and frioles for their poor customer.

It has been observed that whenever Sorenson's fever comes to the city, the mounted him up and engaged him in protracted conversations.

He even went so far as to buy Spanish fandangos, playing solo and took to wearing a rich handkerchief around his neck.

It is alleged that he carries a photograph of President Diaz next to his heart and one of King Alfonso's hat in his vest pocket.

But the clearest fact remains that Heber will shake the acclimated soil of the south from his filthy next week and hit the long trail for the republic beyond the Rio Grande.

He is interested in a rubber industry recently started in the mountains of Mexico and he longs to rest in the shade of the old rubber tree.

While in Mexico Mr. Sorenson will annex a fresh supply of tobacco from the hills and come in the perfume as the old rubbers are beginning to show signs of dry rot.

Under the Blackfoot rules, which are now observed in Twin Falls, the rubbers are subjected to a severe strain and it is doubtful if they can stand a hard winter.

If Heber can find a sombrero bearing his initials and a pair of spurs long enough to knot around his waist he may decide to remain in the land of tarantulas and Yaqui uprisings, but it is expected that he will be back before the snow flies.

BREVITIES

Mrs. W. F. Pike has returned from Long Beach very much improved in health.

Alex McPherson left last evening for Sacramento to represent the Twin Falls tract at the national irrigation congress.

Dowitt Young will leave the city next week for Boulder, Colo., where he will enter the state university.

Miss Ethel Manker returned to the city this week after spending the summer months with her parents in Bedford, Iowa. Miss Manker is greatly improved in health and is ready to take up her work as music teacher at the Dichel school.

Rev. J. H. Schenck united in marriage last Sunday afternoon Cleveland Cole of Haines, Oregon, and Miss Mary Lewis of this city. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left the city for Haines, Oregon, where they will make their home.

Mrs. L. E. Prothro entertained the members of the ladies' aid society of the Union church of Kimberly at her home Thursday afternoon. The time was spent in a social way. Before leaving for home the guests enjoyed refreshments by the hostess.

A school election will be held next Tuesday, September 2, for the purpose of electing two trustees to succeed C. D. Thomas and James A. Walters, whose terms of office expire at that time. It is almost a foregone conclusion that both gentlemen will be re-elected.

Cur Holohan and his catcher, "Bud" Quinn, went to Butte last Saturday to try out with the league team of the copper city. Butte has a fast team this year and the boys are confident but the boys should be able to live their own. Their many friends in Twin Falls hope that they will have no trouble in making the team.

The Oregon Short Line will commence passenger service to Buhl on September 10. The passenger train is due in Buhl at 1:15 p. m. and is scheduled to leave there at 5 p. m. The institution of the service should result in improved mail service on the west end, where there is seemingly much room for improvement.

Mark Coffin quietly slipped into town yesterday and stood for hours on the corner of Main street and Shoshone avenue greeting his old friends. Mark looked as natural as an old shoe. His happy smile has lost none of its luster through contact with the tropical climate of Brazil and he is still a Twin Falls rover. He had to pinch himself a few times before he was satisfied that this was the same Twin Falls he left not many months ago but he was convinced.

Frank Halverson has been confined to his room for several days with a slight attack of fever.

The Twin Falls lodge of Odd Fellows will go to Kimberly Saturday night to install an Odd Fellows lodge at that town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Keel and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cole Wilson and daughter returned this week from a trip to Long Beach.

F. Noble, father of Mrs. B. A. Baker, and Mrs. W. E. Haas, a sister of Mrs. Baker, who have been visiting at the Baker home for a few weeks, left on Tuesday for their home in Greeley, Colorado.

Mrs. M. J. Swedley has returned home from a two months' trip visiting relatives in Illinois and Nebraska. In the fall Mrs. Swedley expects that her brother and wife, Mrs. W. E. Haas, of Lewis of Overton, Neb., will come to Twin Falls and make their home here.

J. K. Hart of the Washington Heavy sold two work teams, this week to E. Logan of Milner for $750. Mr. Hart, who deals extensively in horses, reports that the demand for them is keen and that good animals command a good price.

Congressman Burton L. French has accepted an invitation to attend the county fair in Twin Falls and will deliver a non-political address. Mr. French has visited Twin Falls several times and has always been exceedingly loyal to the tract. He will receive a hearty welcome and his address will be one of the best features of the fair.

Superintendent T. W. Potter of the Twin Falls school returned on Wednesday from Pocatello, where he attended the teachers' institute. He was also present at the meeting of the National Educational association in Los Angeles. Mr. Potter had a grand vacation and enjoyed a splendid trip but he said he was glad to get back home and sleep under a blanket again.

Mr. Potter stated that Charlie Thomas who is clerk of the Twin Falls school board delivered a splendid address on centralized schools at the Pocatello institute.

Miss Elsie Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Evans of Buhl, and Arthur Hauser of this city were married at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday at noon. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John Gourlay, was witnessed only by the members of the two families. At 3 o'clock a reception was held which was attended by a large number. The couple left the city Wednesday night for a tour of the coast. On their return they will be at home after September 20th. Miss Evans was one of the teachers in the Dichel school the past year. Mr. Hauser is a member of the Brink Brokerage & Realty Co. Mr. and Mrs. Hauser have a host of friends in this city.

Mrs. E. W. Davis and her aunt, Miss Kate Hudson, are proving up on the latter's ranch two miles south of Buhl.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Chanuel, who have been spending a few days at Long Beach, returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. McCollum and daughter, Miss Elva, entertained at bridge whist last Monday afternoon. The prizes were won by Mrs. Tush and Mrs. Davis.

The Twin Falls Meat company is installing a 10-horsepower electric mill and is increasing its capacity to accommodate 60 beefs.

Agent D. E. Sullivan of the Shors Line returned from the coast on Saturday and after assuring himself that Twin Falls was all here he started out on a fishing trip with which he will round out his vacation.

Don C. Bryan has purchased 4000 sheep for the Bryan-Piler ranch. He bought 700 ewes from John MacInnis this week. Mr. Bryan is determined to use every straw of hay on the farm and has adopted the most effective method of cleaning it up.

Mr. D. W. Peoples of Wardner, Idaho, is a guest at the Hotel Perrine. Mr. and Mrs. Peoples own a splendid quarter section south of Buhl on which they made final proof two years ago. Mrs. Peoples expressed her delight at the growth of Twin Falls which she has followed with surprise and her expectations although she has been a careful reader of the News.

The Twin Falls Title Abstract Co. has completed its work on the records of Twin Falls and Cassia counties and its Twin Falls office is now in full swing. Mrs. Mollie Robinson and Mrs. Stout have devoted considerable time to the work which was performed with extreme care. They now have a complete and accurate set of records and are well equipped to furnish abstracts.

It might be supposed that Kimberly was in the doldrums this week on account of the lack of news from that thriving town but such is not the case. The people are so busy harvesting and threshing their grain and preparing for the opening of the big flour mill to indulge in gossip. There will be a grand reception in the mill city in a few days at which Twin Falls will be well represented.

William Jennings Bryan will shortly visit Twin Falls. He has accepted an invitation to be the guest of I. B. Perpet at Blue Lakes. Mr. Bryan is to deliver an address in Boise on September 11. His visit to the state capital will be the occasion for a grand Democratic rally in which all the party leaders of the state will participate. Mr. Bryan's visit to Twin Falls has not been announced, but he has stated that he will make more than a passing call and he may remain here for three or four days. Local Democrats are planning a reception in his honor.

The Kimberly school will open on Tuesday, September 2, with a splendid enrollment.

Miss Callie Williams is spending a few days in the country as the guest of her friend, Miss Nita Baker.

Judge A. D. McKinlay has purchased 400 acres in Twin Falls county and 900 in Custer county which he will feed on his ranch at Cour d'Alene ridge.

Mrs. H. M. Bunnell is home from a visit with her mother in Columbus, Wash. Her mother, Mrs. J. C. Nichols, returned with her and will spend a few weeks in Twin Falls.

M. W. Conway, a skilled druggist from Iowa, has accepted the position in Sprague's pharmacy made vacant by the departure of Ross Ellison, who has opened a drug store in Buhl.

MacInnis & Catledge shipped 2000 sheep to Chicago this week. The animals were in prime condition. Mr. MacInnis accompanies the shipment and will be absent for a fortnight.

M. J. Davis of Pueblo, Colorado, was in Twin Falls for a few days visiting his brother, E. W. Davis. Mr. Davis is a railway conductor and he thinks well enough of Twin Falls to risk an investment here.

Bonham & Peters of The Rocket store have received from the Queen Insurance Co. $6667 in full pay for the policy held by that company on their building which was recently destroyed by fire. E. W. Jones, who owned the building jointly with Bonham & Peters, has accepted $1000 insurance from the Royal company.

C. E. Whitney of the postal service was here this week inspecting the mail route on which a railway mail service will shortly be commenced. Temporary arrangements for carrying the mail to Buhl will be made pending the establishment of the railway route.

A public reception will be held in the auditorium of the Dichel school on Monday evening for the purpose of enabling the people to become acquainted with the new teachers. A hearty invitation is extended by the school board to all who are interested in the welfare of the school to attend this reception, which will be purely informal in character.

Colonel A. M. Thrift arrived today from Decatur, Illinois. After an absence of two years Colonel Thrift found the Twin Falls tract and the city much further advanced than he had anticipated. Colonel Thrift has a fine quarter section near town of which he thinks highly. He will let here for a time. Colonel Thrift stated that his fellow townsman, C. M. Powers, the famous trap shot, would likely pay Twin Falls a visit while on his way to Spokane in company with Pete Holohan.

Be it known that Mr. Williams is a hotel expert from Cater's ville and polls all the votes in the commercial travelers' union. When Heber Soronson heard that Ed was coming back he wept tears of joy so copiously that Fred Voigt telephoned the city watermaster to turn the water off Shoshone avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will receive a cordial welcome on their return to the hotel. They have been sorely missed for many a day and it will seem like a message from home to see them back again. See Bryan-Piler hog adv. on page 2.'

Sample numbers have arrived from the two largest Cloak and Suit houses in America. While these are copied largely from the Parisian models, they have been "Americanized" to a great extent to suit the taste of the great majority of buyers. We earnestly invite the ladies of this vicinity to call and inspect these numbers, as there are no two alike. In the medium and high priced lines we can give each lady an assurance that they will be exclusive styles in this entire community.' Below this are four smaller boxes: 'Dress Goods Dept.', 'Domestic Dept.', 'Blankets, Quilting', and 'September Patterns'. The bottom of the ad features the text: 'Idaho Department Store'.

FILER SPRINTER TAKES THE COIN

DEFEATS THE SPEEDY RUNNER OF BUHL.

Ball Tossers from the West End Metropolitan Win Game from the Midway Boys, but Latter Came Out Ahead on the Foot Race.

BUHL, Idaho, Aug. 29.—T. H. Miller, banker of Lahoma, Okla., who has been in this vicinity for several weeks seeking investments and seeing the country, drove out with Ed Braun Monday to look at some land and thinking that he was somewhat of a driver asked Ed to let him handle the ribbons. Ed is always ready to please and let Mr. Miller have the lines. The latter forgot that he was not on the muddy roads of Oklahoma and drove at a spanking speed until he struck a rock and was pitched out of the wagon and sustained a sprained ankle, after which he was content to let the old reliable sagbrush guide do the driving. Mr. Miller is well pleased with the country, which he shows by having filed on 80 acres and bought another 50 from Mr. and Mrs. Brown in Ferguson last night. He and his

The second trial of the case of T. P. Howley vs. Fred Krauel will probably take place next Tuesday. Pat, the Democrat foreman of the reporter bank working on the depot hill through the Jolas last week and split his lips and knocked out a few teeth. Dr. Monroe took several stitches in the lips and Pat lost no time by the accident, except that during which the doctor was doing the needle work for which the company will not be likely to kick him. The Buhl Trading company built a warehouse back of their store in which to store flour and sugar and other articles of merchandise. The Commercial club held its regular meeting Tuesday night and appointed E. A. Milner a committee of one to solicit subscriptions for a fund to build good roads into Buhl. Scott Dolz committee chairman and yesterday for the new schoolhouse on which work is soon to commence. Jasper Rogers, son of Dr. J. M. Rogers, went to Twin Falls Saturday to visit his mother and bring her a load of sagebrush. It being impossible to procure coal in that town, Twin Falls had better move up to Buhl where, although we have no coal, we still have plenty of the native heat and are in no danger from lack of fuel. Willard Wyatt and family took up their residence on his ranch a mile north of town Monday and started operations by killing a big rattler having the rattles, but the snake is a little thing like a few rattlesnakes can't summer. Professor E. A. Wyatt is in Pocatello attending the teachers' institute being held in that town. Fred Krauel was in town Tuesday. He says his check is all right and that he will soon start on the oats. T. P. Howley was a business visitor Tuesday, having come in from his ranch for supplies for the harvest season. It is reported that the Township company appropriated $100 for lumber with which to place culverts at the crossings on the State and Broadway but instead of the lumber being used where the company intended it should be, that it has been placed in culverts out in the sagebrush miles from here. It is stated on the town plat, I do not state this as a fact, as I do not know if I am correctly informed on the matter, but if the culverts are placed in the sagebrush they should be put in either by the company or the town and it seems that the company should do the work, as the town plat is still theirs. The town needs many other improvements which the company should make, particularly the laying of sidewalks. The town is now spotted with parts of sidewalks. The individual owners are putting in their share but the company will have to keep a close watch to insure to lay walks on its own lots at once. M. J. McManis of Rupert and Mrs. P. M. McManis of Pocatello registered at Hotel Buhl Thursday. J. W. Voorhees of Sucker flat was a business visitor in Buhl the latter part of last week. Jos. Colton Pocatello was a guest of Hotel Buhl one day last week. Robert Justico came up from Hagerman last week to shake hands with his friends, although we have no coal, we still have plenty of the native heat and are in no danger from lack of fuel. W. O. Buel and his hired man, Robert Kork of Dunkirk, this side of Deep Creek, are having these culverts, having been short of water for the most part of the summer. They are now obliged to harvest and irrigate at the same time, but they are just beginning to get going there. W. L. Stone of Walla Walla registered at Hotel Buhl Friday. W. R. Morrison, who lives west of Deep Creek, has just constructed a substantial and commodious dwelling house on his ranch and is as busy as two men. John H. Angel, who has a half section of land near the creek, called in to Buhl Tuesday to buy sacks in which to sack his grain which he will soon thresh. Most of his land is in alfalfa and he has a few acres of wheat. He says that he has fine crops of all kinds and that his orchard is particularly fine for the time the trees have been out. We have our correspondent and W. O. Buel, to see this country and to say that it is a beauty and he envies those who are so fortunate enough to catch on there. R. L. Armstrong of Denver, Colo., registered at Hotel Buhl Saturday. J. C. Coburn, state land agent, spent several days in Milner last week. Mr. Coburn said he noted considerable improvement since his last visit. Jerome Hill, Jr., of Pittsburg, Pa., spent the latter part of last week at Milner, going from here to Twin Falls Saturday morning to watch the Milner boys win the baseball game. They all returned Sunday, enticed with Oakley and the courteous treatment they had received. Mrs. Fred W. and Miss Ida M. Hurlbus of Helena, Montana, spent a day at Milner last week and expressed themselves delighted with our little town. Last Saturday morning there was a little uprising among the Greeks employed on the construction works and considerable excitement ensued. They were receiving $2.25 per day and demanded $2.50, which was refused, and they were told to quit if they did not want to work for the former amount.

SALMON RIVER CANYON AT CASTLE FORD.

Six miles west of Buhl, where the river is to be bridged and grades constructed to connect the west end of the Twin Falls tract with that portion of the county west of the river. There are old grades at this point which can be put in condition with comparatively reasonable expense and the construction of a substantial traffic bridge will not entail much of an outlay as the stream is narrow and practically no approaches would be needed.

MILNER GREEKS ON THE WARPATH REFUSE TO WORK BY THE DAM SITE. Indulge in Tropical Language but Nothing Worse—Milner Ball Team Administers a Coat of Whitewash to the Braves at Oakley.

MILNER, Idaho, Aug. 29.—An enlarged electric power plant will soon be installed in Milner; sufficient not only to light the company house but the new Riverside Inn and the streets of the town. John A. Morgan of Dawson, Alaska, has taken up land in Milner and will move his family here in the very near future. Miss S. Belle Chamberlain, state school superintendent, spent last Saturday and Sunday at Milner, a guest at the company house. E. B. Williams and Leo W. Glass of Twin Falls were in town Saturday. F. J. Voller spent Sunday in Milner. A. C. Coburn, state land agent, spent several days in Milner last week. Mr. Coburn said he noted considerable improvement since his last visit. Jerome Hill, Jr., of Pittsburg, Pa., spent the latter part of last week at Milner, going from here to Twin Falls Saturday morning to watch the Milner boys win the baseball game. They all returned Sunday, enticed with Oakley and the courteous treatment they had received. Mrs. Fred W. and Miss Ida M. Hurlbus of Helena, Montana, spent a day at Milner last week and expressed themselves delighted with our little town. Last Saturday morning there was a little uprising among the Greeks employed on the construction works and considerable excitement ensued. They were receiving $2.25 per day and demanded $2.50, which was refused, and they were told to quit if they did not want to work for the former amount.

and to get over the bridge quick. Some went over and then decided they wanted to get back. The excitement was caused because they were not allowed to return. A shooting affray was quelled by "Doc" Webb in Longenberger's store, but although there was considerable quick talking in a language not our own, everything quieted to normal and the rest of the day was as if nothing had occurred to disturb the ordinary quiet of Milner. Mrs. W. A. Grisham's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and family have come to Milner to live. Miss Dolly Webb left for Twin Falls a few days ago to be with her mother, who has been threatened with typhoid. I. Griffiths of Billings, Mont., a contractor, was here a few days ago looking over the work. Donald Grant, contractor, Messrs. Smith and McGinn, engineer and masonry contractor from eastern states, are here looking over the work with Paul S. A. Bieker, chief engineer. Mr. and Mrs. C. MacWatters, with Miss Doyle, left for Salt Lake City Wednesday evening on a business trip, to be here several days. T. D. Price went to Albion Wednesday to spend a few days with his family. Mrs. Bert Johnson and son went to Albion Tuesday to visit her parents. P. H. Hall returned from Salt Lake Tuesday, where he has been buying material for the Riverside Inn. Mr. and Mrs. W. Levin left for Salt Lake Wednesday evening to purchase their fall line of goods. O. Rutolph Peterson has left for Jerome, Mrs. Peterson went to Buckley for a visit before joining her husband. George Wehlon, our genial druggist, has been spending several days in Twin Falls on business. Mrs. L. T. Palmer was shopping in Twin Falls Wednesday. There is talk of a wedding or two in town. The ball game with Oakley at Oakley last Saturday was a hummer. Our boys played the game all the time, shutting Oakley out without a run and marking up six runs for themselves. The game was free from even the slightest suspicion of a wrangle, and good humor prevailing on both sides at all stages of the game. Our old friend "Robbie" was beaming with good nature all the time, and only indulged in "blawh" once when Kiersted went to the bat and had three strikes called on him in rapid succession without even moving his bat. "Robbie" lost his toe weights then and went straight up in the air but landed easily after a stormy passage. Jimmie McCallum pitched a beautiful game, allowing only seven hits, and those well scattered, and fanning twelve men, playing his position for all there was in it. The receiving end of the battery was well manned by Ray Bohl, who proved himself the "babe of the ball" and let nothing get away from him. All the boys gave Jimmie good support. Robertson at third accepted all his chances and entertained them like cash customers. The scary moment for Milner came along in the eighth inning, when with none out and a man on second and one on third, Stockerider hit the ball to short left center for what looked like a safe hit but "Honus Wagner" Belmont came through like the twentieth century lightning kind, took the ball out of the dead run below his knees and shot it to Blakely at second so fast that Bill thought he was up against a 13-inch sun in action, completing a double play and holding the runner on third. The next batter hit down the third base line and the runner on third started toward some but was met at the plate by the "belle of the ball" and the game was over. Mr. Belmont has had no occasion to buy cigars since the game; whenever he looks as though he needs a brain tablet some one gallops up and hands him a "Honey Clay" and esteems it a favor; Belmont looks on it. The boys have nothing but good things for Oakley and appreciate the good time that was given them and the many courtesies extended by Mr. Worthington.

family, who have been visiting here with relatives, will start for their home Friday. He rented the Chealey ranch to Henry Phye. Jack Bowles of Minidoka brought up his black Percheron stallion from that town and placed him to J. H. Schooler's livery stable yesterday, where he will remain for the rest of the season. The most of the railroad ties were shipped on Sunday, some of them going to Filer and the rest going to Granger. The road here is in pretty good shape and does not require such a large force of men now. A few are still here working on the stock yards that are being built west of Broadway. Reports came up from Ferguson state that the ranchmen down there are stacking grain, and that W. H. Jackson has most of his stacked already. Geo. L. Eveitch started yesterday to grub 20 acres on the Erdman 60 west of Deep Creek. H. C. Bryant of Hagerman was in town yesterday with a load of the watermelons and canteloupes, far which he found ready sale. Patgen & Wilson are building an addition 12x20 feet to the rear of their saloon on Main street. Gene May is on the sick list this week. He made so many home runs in the ball game between the Buhl Boosters and the Filer Rattlers Sunday that the violent exercise made him sick. I. A. Warner, cashier of the Commercial and Savings bank of Twin Falls, drove up from that town on Tuesday evening on business. The fixtures and stock for the Elkson Drug company have arrived and are being put in place as rapidly as possible. The drug store, which will be in the Buhl building, will soon be open for business. Marlon Monroe, the 12-year-old son of Dr. Monroe, met with a painful though not serious accident yesterday afternoon. While he and his brother, who is two years younger than he, and some other boys were playing with a 22-caliber rifle, the gun was discharged and the bullet passed through the fleshy part of his thigh. The boys tried to conceal the matter from their father but he discovered it through the other boys' confession at the time. No serious consequences will result from the wound. Miss Margaret Johnson, one of the girls at Hotel Buhl, has been confined to her bed for a week with rheumatism.

scare him. He is there not to prove a nut for keeps. He is simply delighted with the country and is particularly struck on the piece of it that he has made his own. Dr. Pike and Don Kunkoly, his brother-in-law of Twin Falls, made a short business visit to Buhl Thursday. T. J. Woods and G. B. Stieren, the local hosts men of Twin Falls, were Buhl business visitors yesterday. T. W. Snodgrass, Mrs. Mary Snodgrass, John Hopkins, Ray Overbaugh and Fred Fremdenberger went to Clear Lake Sunday and enjoyed the day fishing and picnicking. Postmaster Nihart is in receipt of a letter from P. W. When, president of the State Postmasters' League, notifying him that a meeting of the league will be held in Boise on the 23rd and 24th of October next, and that a leave of absence for five days has been granted to all four class postmasters in the state for the purpose of attending the meeting. Buhl will be there, you bet. The Filer Rattlers quit irrigating long enough Sunday to come in to town to play the Boosters a game of football. As a result the Filer Boosters nine are sore, stiff or lame over place. The score was 29 to 6 in favor of the Boosters. The trouble with them is that they had to run bases so much that they were completely played out when the game was over, but if we won the ball game the Rattlers are no money. Some of the Buhl sports thought that if the Rattlers were so easy for a ball game they would also be easy in a foot race and so arranged for a race between one of the Filer boys and Ernest Gornill, our sole and only barber. George Dunn was master of proceedings for Buhl and H. G. Munyon, of Filer, acted as referee. The race was for Filer. The bets were small, the object of the Buhletes being to hold out a bait to the men of the midwest town, and they let them win the race to draw them on for bigger bets, but when the irrigators got the money in their jeans they decided that they had all the racing they wanted for one day and would not try it any more, but walked off with our long green and thereby put the laugh on the Filer boys. Some of the Filer Boosters quit Sunday, that is, if our men can hammer up that time, and if they do it is to be hoped that the help at Hotel Buhl, who are being run like the Rattlers old or we will be without a team for the rest of the

Chas. F. Romig of Kimberly called up to see us Tuesday. Mr. Romig is superintendent of the Kimberly school, and owns a ranch on this end of the tract. Edwin Dodds of Twin Falls registered at Hotel Buhl Wednesday. Manager H. Schurrer of the Twin Falls Concrete Co. was in town yesterday making a contract to erect a cement block factory here. We have the sand that is just the stuff for that purpose, and we need the bricks. Ben Grossman, who owns a well cultivated ranch two miles south of town, went out to work on the big lateral building west of Deep Creek Sunday. Ed Braun says that since that Monahan took to the sagebrush and to farming he is too busy when he comes to town to speak to his friends. This has to be admitted, but I will try not to be guilty any more, Ed. This country is already a paradise for lovers of flowers. Your correspondent recalls the bunch of the beauties last Sunday. They came from Ben Grossman's ranch two miles south of town and were presented to the Filer Boosters. Everybody knows that next to pretty girls an Irishman loves pretty flowers, and this Irishman is glad that he has been discovered to be no exception to the rule.
