FORECAST OF AN IMPORTANT CASE

WHICH INVOLVES PAYMENT OF INTEREST CHARGES

Statement Made that Counsel for Morgan Heap Will Ask Court to Find for Water Company in Matter of Payment of Interest on Contract.

In the matter of the suit of the Twin Falls Land & Water Co. against Morgan O. Heap, which was tried in the district court last spring before Judge Walters, which action was brought to determine the question as to whether the Land & Water company was compelled to put water on the land by May 15 of any year. It is conceded by counsel for Mr. Heap that the company is entitled to interest from the date of the actual delivery of the water. This naturally determines the question under all forms of contract similar to that signed by Mr. Heap.

Mr. Heap's contract was issued on January 11, 1905, and contained the following clause: "The water to be furnished under this contract, may not be available to the purchaser prior to May 15, 1904, etc." If, as stated by counsel for Mr. Heap, the court will be asked to award judgment in favor of the Land & Water company, all those who hold contracts in which this clause appears are liable for interest from the date on which water was actually delivered to them, or available for delivery.

The statement that Mr. Heap's attorneys had decided to ask for judgment in the company's favor was made to Fred A. Voigt, secretary and treasurer of the company, and is accepted as reliable indication of the intent of the defense.

Fully 90 per cent of the contracts issued by the company contain this clause and would be affected by the decision. The case was taken under advisement by Judge Walters, who has not yet rendered his decision. That feature of the case involving the payment of the second installment of the principal will be passed upon by the court.

BRYAN IN BOISE.

All Democrats are invited to attend the reception to William Jennings Bryan in Boise on Wednesday, September 11. Prominent members of the party from all sections of the intermountain region will be present on the occasion, which will be memorable in the annals of Idaho Democracy. There will be brief addresses by prominent leaders of the party in the west. In addition to the speech of the distinguished guest, elaborate preparations are being made for the reception, which promises to be the most notable gathering the Democrats have held in this part of the country for many years.

SUDDEN DEATH OF ANDREW HARRELL

NOTED STOCKMAN STRICKEN AT PALO ALTO.

Was the Largest Individual Land Owner in Twin Falls County and Owned 200,000 Acres in Nevada, Besides Valuable Property Elsewhere.

Andrew J. Harrell, the head of the Sparks-Harrell Cattle Co., and for many years one of the foremost cattle growers in the west, died suddenly at Palo Alto, California, on Sunday, August 24. His death was due to acute catarrh, with which he had been afflicted for a long time. So suddenly did the summons come to Mr. Harrell that his wife did not reach his bedside until after his death. The funeral was held in Stockton on Wednesday, August 25, and was attended by Governor Sparks of Nevada and a large number of the company's employees.

Although Andrew Harrell was but slightly known in Twin Falls, he was the largest individual land owner in the county. This year he paid taxes on 5248 acres of patented land in Twin Falls county, likewise on 2000 head of common cattle and 100 thoroughbreds. His holdings are in the vicinity of Rock Creek and in the southern part of the county, between the Cassia national forest and the Salmon river.

Mr. Harrell was also the largest taxpayer in Nevada, with the exception of the Southern-Pacific company. He held title to 200,000 acres in that state and this year he ranged 40,000 head of cattle in Elko county alone. Mr. Harrell also owned valuable real estate in Los Angeles and a large farm in Tulare, California. Another of his possessions was a bank in Visalia, where he lived. He was also interested in several corporations.

Andrew Harrell was a comparative young man, lacking several years of the half century mark. He possessed a strong personality, a warm and genial manner and a spirit of fairness and liberality which won him an army of friends. Among his many employees were men who had been in his service nearly all their lives and who regarded him more as a father than a master. Their loyalty was inspiring and to them Mr. Harrell's death means much more than the loss of a friend.

What effect Mr. Harrell's death will have upon the cattle industry in Twin Falls county cannot be forecasted. He was the leader among the cattlemen, who looked to him for counsel and assistance. Under his influence they held together and worked in harmony to their mutual advantage.

Mr. Harrell maintained 16 ranches in Twin Falls county and Elko county, Nevada, where employees remained the entire year. At several other ranches help was kept only during the summer months. The development of the Twin Falls tract restricted his operations in this county as it cut into his winter range and forced him to reduce the number of cattle on this side of the line.

Governor Sparks of Nevada was associated with Mr. Harrell for years in the cattle business. He disposed of his interest in the company to Mr. Harrell not long ago. Charles Hewitt, the superintendent of the Sparks-Harrell company, makes his headquarters at the "H. D." ranch in Elko county. Frank Hubbs has charge of the company's interests in Twin Falls county.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

The electric railway engineering corps, which has been engaged for several months in making a survey into Twin Falls, from the mouth of the Snake river to the city on Monday. The survey line enters the townsite just below the railway bridge and parallels the Snake river. It crosses the townsite on Shoshone avenue and follows Blue Lakes avenue to the north townsite. The line on which it runs east to Shoshone falls. This is practically the original route planned.

The road will cross the river at Shoshone falls and will join the Milner-Gooding road on the north side track. The engineers have cross-sectioned the road from the prospective townsite of Hollister on section 28, township 12 south, range 16 east, in the heart of the Salmon project. The contract between the state and the promoters of the Salmon project provides for the construction of a railway through the tract to be irrigated, 150,000 acres of excellent land adjoining the Twin Falls tract on the south side.

The appearance of the engineers in the city limits aroused great interest and their work while making the survey through town was closely watched by a large crowd. There was great speculation as to what the construction of the road would mean to Twin Falls and many fanciful predictions were made.

PIONEER VISITS TWIN FALLS

Was a Member of the First Emigrant Party in 1847.

James W. Stewart of Fort Bridger, Wyo., is in the city visiting his daughters, Mrs. H. G. Jackson and Mrs. W. S. Snodgrass. Mr. Stewart was 82 years old last May and is one of the eleven survivors of the first emigrant party that landed in the Salt Lake valley in 1847. Mr. Stewart's early days were spent in Alabama, when he "felt the call of the west," as he expressed it, come over him so strongly that he was compelled to pack up and move. He was one of the first to plow a furrow in the now famous Salt Lake valley. He remained in Utah for two years and in 1849, when the California gold fever was at its height, he moved to that country, returning in a short time to Salt Lake, where he remained for a great many years. Recently he took up his residence in Fort Bridger. Mr. Stewart is the proud possessor of a badge with the inscription, "Pioneer of 1847" on it. He paid a visit to the office of the News today and was shown through the mechanical factory took his breath away as he watched with keen interest his many movements.

COMMISSIONERS MEET ON MONDAY

TO FIX THE TAX LEVY FOR THE PRESENT YEAR.

Will Create a New School District, Devise Plans for a County Jail and Consider a Number of Petitions for New Roads and Bridges.

The county commissioners will have a busy session next week, beginning on Monday. The law requires them to fix the annual tax levy at this meeting and this work will require careful consideration. The action of the state board of equalization in reducing the assessed valuation of the county more than half a million dollars will have a material bearing on the tax levy. Such a sweeping reduction

Dr. George L. Crocker, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, came to the Twin Falls tract two years ago from Springfield, Illinois. He decided to abandon the scamp for the shovel and the appearance of his farm shows that it was no trouble for him to adapt himself to new conditions. Dr. Crocker is a reticent man, so much so that many might think him difficult to approach. The reverse is the case. He is one of the most genial and affable of men and is always ready to listen and to act.

Dr. Crocker was nominated for county commissioner on the Republican ticket and elected. When the new county was organized he was appointed one of the commissioners by Governor Gooding and was chosen chairman of the board. He has given his whole time to the new county and worked hard and effectively in perfecting the county organization. Dr. Crocker is broad gauge, fair minded and square as a die. Always ready to make suggestions, he is firm in his decisions and he never acts until he is sure of his ground. No bluffs go by the doctor. He files an extremely difficult position and fills it admirably.

Was not expected. However, the county still has a little over two and a half millions to tax, which is sufficient to furnish funds with which to keep the new machinery moving.

Several road petitions will be considered by the board, among them one from the west end asking county aid in bridging the Salmon river and fixing the grades at Castle ford, six miles west of Buhl. This is an important undertaking and it means a great deal to the west end people.

It will be necessary to create a new school district on account of the division of the Filer district, which grew out of bounds. This will be done at the meeting next week.

The commissioners will discuss plans for the erection of a county jail. It will be necessary to call a special election in the event that a bond issue is found necessary. The present jail facilities are far from adequate and something will have to be done. The most favored plan is to build a permanent jail, with quarters for the jailor and an office for the sheriff. This would seem to be the more economical way of settling the problem.

PLACER CLAIMS ARE LOCATED

Total of 960 Acres Filed Upon in Twin Falls County.

Six placer claims of 160 acres each, aggregating 960 acres, have been filed upon by L. M. Lucy, F. L. Diffenderfer, E. L. Diffenderfer, E. E. McGraw, Ed. Diffenderfer, C. H. Isherwood, John McGraw and F. M. Lucy in Twin Falls county. The claims are situated in the vicinity of Goat springs, about 15 miles south and four miles west of Twin Falls. Considerable prospecting has been done in this locality, in which there are quite a number of quartz claims.

JEROME NOW HAS HOTEL SERVICE

FIRST CLASS RESTAURANT AND LODGING HOUSE OPENED.

Beil Telephone Company Building Line into the New Town—Representative of the State Land Board Opens an Office in Jerome.

JEROME, Sept. 4.—The new restaurant on Lincoln, at the north of Main street, was opened for business on Sunday morning, September 1, for the first time. The fittings and service are exceptionally fine, and no visitor to Jerome need now feel the lack of anything in the eating line. The building, which is under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt of Blue Lakes, and the recommendations are not only good but very reasonable in price.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrino and daughter Stella were welcome visitors here recently. Although their stay in Jerome was very short, it was more than made up for by the long interest they took in the progress of affairs in the new town.

A 75-foot pole has been placed back of the company house and as soon as the wires are strung and the current turned on three 1500 candle power arc lights will proclaim to the whole of Twin Falls the new side tracks the exact location of Jerome.

Report was brought to town last Saturday afternoon that "water" had been struck by the well at Wendell at a depth of 205 feet. The water raised 40 feet. The well was drilled some deeper in order to insure a steady flow and measures were at once taken to pipe the well and arrange for a suitable pump to bring the water to the surface. This is the first water and south side wells, with no failures, and accurs well for an excellent and abundant supply of water for household purposes.

Charles Walters of Shoshone has built a stable on Elm street, corner of Blavencue and will make a specialty of renting saddle horses to land seekers. The new stable is a fine one and land office has likewise been completed.

A. C. Coburn, state land agent, has moved his town office to his family and is now located on Main street, near Lincoln avenue. Mr. Coburn is well versed in all the different land laws of Idaho, and the fact that he has about decided to locate here permanently speaks very well for the Twin Falls North Side project.

It is the intention of the contractor, the contractor and the chief construction engineer of the canal system of the first aggregation, stayed here over night.

Mrs. Herman Martin, wife of the constructing engineer here, has become a permanent resident of Jerome and will result in a big saving in the building of a new town.

WATER AT WENDELL

Water has been struck on the Wendell township at a depth of 205 feet. It rose 40 feet in a few moments and is now flowing out through a large pipe. The water encountered 165 feet from the surface. Were it not for this evidence the well would be rejected. The result obtained at Wendell tends to prove the theory that the water plane extends beneath the entire north side of the town. It was freely predicted that water would be found at Wendell much nearer the surface than the strike at Jerome, and such proved to be the case. It is firmly believed that in that portion of the north side tract between Wendell and the Thousand Springs successful well digging will be a comparatively easy matter. The company proposes to drill a well wherever water is needed on construction works. This will practically cover every section of the north side tract and will result in a big saving in the cost of construction, besides demonstrating the value of the land as it insures an abundant supply of pure water for domestic purposes. What effect the driving of these wells may have upon the water level of the Snake river is a matter which will be a subject for future consideration. The water encountered in the wells is identical with that which flows from these springs.

HOME MAKING ON THE NORTH SIDE

SETTLERS ARE MOVING IN ON FIRST SEGREGATION.

John A. Morgan of Dawson, Alaska, Has Commenced to Clear His Farm and is Taking Contracts to Remove Brush From Surrounding Lands.

MILNER, Idaho, Sept. 5.—The coffee dam is being put up and preparations made to break into the north dam for installation of the North Side head gates.

The Milner School opened up Tuesday morning in charge of Miss Cleota Jones of Murielburg. There was a very large enrollment and the building is crowded.

The week which was injured by a blast on the canal work, also did not sleep from his injuries. Mr. and Mrs. D. C. MacWaters and Mrs. Hunt returned on Sunday from Salt Lake City. They spent a few days on a business trip.

H. K. Belmont made a business trip to Twin Falls and Jerome Monday. He was assisting in getting the company restaurant started at Jerome, which is now open for business. From 10 to 15 people are fed at each meal there now.

Mrs. John McPherson returned Friday from a visit to her home at Boise. Mrs. Henry Schodde and daughters, Miss Clara and Lottie, and Mrs. Schodde spent Tuesday in Milner, the home of Mrs. D. C. Longenberger.

Messrs. W. J. Binkley, Arthur McClure and Ernest Kierstead, and Mrs. Grace Kierstead spent Saturday and Sunday in Twin Falls. The Milner State bank, limited, is doing a splendid business for such a young institution. The cashier, H. S. Geary of New York City, is expected to arrive today and will at once take charge of the bank. Work on the new building is being pushed to completion now and when finished the building will be very attractive. The second room is to be used for hall and dancing purposes.

Messrs. S. G. Murray and L. V. Hahn of Salt Lake City were in town on business last week.

W. B. Hahn of Homeville, Idaho, was known last week on business with the company.

D. C. MacWaters is in Boise "on a business trip."

Settlers on the first segregation of the North Side are beginning to come in and move out on the land. John A. Morgan of Dawson, Alaska, has taken up 120 acres, has purchased horses and machinery and is moving out on his land. He is going to clear the land, build a house and will take contracts for clearing other land surrounding him. Mr. Morgan says he knows of a number of people in Dawson who will come down to take up land on the Twin Falls tract.

Miss Grace Kierstead has been in Twin Falls for the last two days on a business trip.

Messrs. J. H. Barkley, John Skiffen, Charles R. Baldwin, C. Guy Wakefield and W. E. Johnston of Boise are registered at the Hotel Grinnell.

L. A. Critchfield and C. G. Ellison of Oakley were in town last week on business.

Mr. Bradley of Albion is registered at the Hotel Grinnell, being in town for a few days on business.

P. J. Plested and J. Hartman of Salt Lake City were in town on Monday Tuesday and were registered at the Hotel Grinnell.

F. P. Conway of Pocatello was in town on business.

Miss Olivett Webb, who has been spending the summer at Milner, has returned to Albion to finish her school course. This being her last year.

R. W. Faris, contractor on the North Side canal, left for Boise last evening on business.

Mr. D. C. Longenberger and family, H. R. Grant and family, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Haggood, drove up the river on a hunting trip Sunday.

COMES TO BLUE LAKES TO REST

William Jennings Bryan is Seeking a Quiet Spot.

C. E. Arney, business manager of The Idaho Sentinel, the weekly magazine which former Senator Fred T. Dubois is about to publish in Boise, arrived from the capital today. Mr. Arney came to arrange for the election of the Senator in Twin Falls county and will appoint a resident agent to canvass the territory. "We already have over 1000 subscribers," said Mr. Arney, "and we have yet to hear from several of our agents. We are appointing agents in all the counties of the state and expect to cover the ground thoroughly." When asked in regard to Mr. Bryan's plans, Mr. Arney said: "Mr. Arney is coming to Blue Lakes for a much longer stay. He visited Mr. Perrino some six years ago and was greatly impressed with the beauty and grandeur of the famous Blue Lakes. He wanted to induce Mr. Bryan to deliver addresses at Weiser and elsewhere but he declined on the ground that he would not appear in public. I believe he just wants to recuperate for a few days and I know of no fairer place on earth where he can refresh himself. He wanted to take off his coat and loaf around for a while and he thought Blue Lakes was the ideal place to do it."

A Bargain

Is not a matter of the price but purely a question of value received. Cheap clothes buy little or no value. Good clothes are the only kind worth having, because you get a definite return on your investment.

If you want to be sure that you get good clothes, isn't it just as important to be particular about where you get them?

This is strictly a store of good clothes for men, and there's an honest dollar's worth for every hundred cents you put in the garments we sell.

A hailstorm which lasted 15 minutes did great damage to standing grain in the vicinity of Moscow, La. county. The main path of the storm covered an area several miles wide, starting three miles south of Moscow and traveling northeast to the mountains. All standing grain in the path of the storm was totally destroyed. This is the most famous grain section in Idaho.

Capital has been subscribed for the erection of a hotel in Boise to cost $300,000. An entire block of ground, centrally located, has been secured by those who are promoting the enterprise. The construction of the hotel will involve the dismantling of the Columbia theater, which stands on the lot selected for the hotel, and will necessitate the building of a larger and better opera house.

September 23 has been fixed as the date upon which the trial of United States Senator W. E. Borah, on a charge of complicity in bribery frauds, will be commenced in Boise. Two special prosecutors delegated by the attorney general of the United States to assist United States Attorney Rulick have arrived in Boise and have taken charge of the case. James T. Barber and Sumner G. Moon of the Barber Lumber Co., who were indicted with Senator Borah, will also be tried. Several others not connected with the lumber company were also indicted. The cases will be tried before United States Judge P. N. District.

THE NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY
TWIN FALLS, IDAHOSubscription Rates.
One Year, in Advance, $3.00
Six Months, in Advance, $1.90

Reliable information regarding the city and county promptly and cheerfully furnished. Address all communications to The News Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Entered as second-class matter, December 12, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

In the death of Andrew Harrell the west loses one of the strong and resolute characters who did not know the meaning of the word failure. The magnitude of his operations was staggering. With a quarter of a million acres of land scattered from Los Angeles to Rock Creek, and tens of thousands of cattle grazing over an area equal to an empire, he was a busy man. It was a task for him to visit his possessions. But he had the rare faculty of being able to retain reliable men in his employ and his little army of workmen served him well. No call was too puny to escape the eyes of the vigilant cowboys who swore by the man whose checks they cashed. Andrew Harrell was a genial and warm-hearted man. His handshake was vigorous and his laugh contagious. When things went wrong he smiled and when they grew worse he laughed. There was no grudge in his makeup. When a severe winter made forays in his stock he redoubled his efforts in the spring. To him the cattle business was an open book which he had studied all his life. He constantly strove for greater things and it is lamentable that he should have been taken at a time when his immense interests most needed his attention.

Settlers are already establishing themselves on the first segregation on the North Side tract, northwest of Milner. It is only four months since this tract was opened and the operations for the construction of the works were lost. Water will be available by the first of January and crops will be raised on the first segregation next year. This is a remarkable progress, considering the immensity of the undertaking. Kuhn Bros. are deserving of the highest praise for the aggressive and businesslike manner in which they have prosecuted the work on the north side. They have not wasted a moment nor have they overlooked a single feature calculated to improve the North Side system. By drilling wells at different points within the scope of the canal system they have demonstrated the existence of a pieceless water plane underlying the project. By arranging their plans systematically and not permitting any portion of the work to be slighted, they are rapidly consummating one of the most magnificent projects in the history of irrigation. There is every indication that they will be rewarded by a record breaking opening at Jerome on October 1.

Efforts should be made to encourage sheep feeding on shares. Few farmers can afford to buy sheep but almost any farmer on the tract would be willing to feed them if they could be secured. It would seem to be a good investment to buy sheep and allow the farmers to feed them on percentage. Feed is abundant and the farmers would be only too willing to put it into mutton on a fair basis. The margin of profit in sheep feeding is sufficient to bring good returns to both purchaser and feeder and it should be possible for buyer and farmer to agree on a satisfactory division. The scheme is worth investigating. Inasmuch as the farmers are likely to have a big surplus of feed, cattle might also be fed on the same basis and it would likewise be advisable to try hogs. Hogs and cattle are usually fattened together, the hogs following the cattle and picking up enough to fit them for market without added cost. As hog cholera is practically unknown in Idaho, the experiment should prove profitable.

There is reason to believe that the prune growers of Idaho will receive 50 to 75 cents more per crate for their prunes this year than they did last season. This is due to a shortage in other sections of the country where large yields have hitherto been obtained. Reports from the Boise and Payette valleys are to the effect that the prunes this year are exceptionally fine in those sections. Packing is now in progress, the first carload of the season having been shipped this week. On some orchards, in these valleys a carload of prunes to the acre has been obtained. A car contains 1000 crates which, deducting about 45 cents per crate for freight and icing and commission, would not approximately $1500 per acre. At that rate the Idaho growers should be able to swell their pocketbooks.

The weather bureau at Washington announces that an era of 35 wet years has begun. According to statistics covering more than a century, wet and dry alternate every 35 years and the dry era has ended. Strange to say, the old Indians make the same prediction, stating that their forefathers told them that 10 dry summers would be followed by 10 wet seasons. While the Indian prophecies differ from the forecasts of the weather bureau as to time, there is a prevailing belief that for several years the precipitation will be increased. The present year has been a record breaker in this respect. In Twin Falls county springs that formerly dried up early in the summer are still flowing and little creeks are now carrying more water than they have at this period for years.

The tread overcoats are fearful that the traction engines used by the threshers will put many bridges out of commission. The legal requirements with respect to the crossing of bridges by traction engines appear to be insufficient, but where care is exercised there is little danger of damage. The owners of the engines are held responsible under the law and they are not likely to run any risk. The threshers are very necessary and the bridges should be built strong enough to carry the motive power but the Twin Falls tract was settled with such a rush that almost any kind of a bridge looked good and stability was often sacrificed for expediency.

A hay baling contest would be a good feature for the county fair. Such contests are always productive of keen rivalry and there are many expert balers on the Twin Falls tract who would not be averse to working for a prize. It would not be a difficult matter to set a baler on the grounds and provide hay for the test. Some of the firms which sell hay balers might find it profitable to offer a prize worth competing for.

MONTHLY MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

BUSY SESSION HELD ON MONDAY EVENING.

Alderman McMaster Resigns on Account of Enforced Absence Compelled by His Farming Interests—Frank Eastman Appointed.

At the meeting of the city council on Monday evening Alderman C. A. McMaster tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and Frank H. Eastman was appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. McMaster stated that his farm interests kept him fully occupied and while he would be glad to serve the city in any way possible, he found it impractical to give civic matters the attention they needed without sacrificing his personal interests which demanded all his attention.

The members of the council spent considerable time in certifying the lateral sewer, sidewalk and poll tax assessments, a laborious task. The certification was finally completed and the assessments are now in perfect order. An ordinance creating the office of sewer inspector and prescribing the manner in which sewer connections shall be made was introduced, read and referred to a committee.

E. A. Moon resigned the office of building inspector for the reason that he is about to leave the city. The vacancy will be filled at an adjourned meeting of the council on Saturday evening.

Wamsley & Moore of the Cash Inn were granted permission to transfer their business to the Smith & Prothro building on Shoshone avenue.

The bills against the city for the month of August were audited and approved.

The fair management was given a permit to erect temporary wooden structures within the fire limits for use during the fair.

Applications were received for the office of chief of police but no action was taken.

The council adjourned until Saturday evening when the unfinished business will be disposed of.

NEW CARRIER ON THE MAIL ROUTEBETWEEN THE HANSEN AND ROCK CREEK OFFICES.

George L. Redhead Engaged by E. L. Ricka, Who Was the Former Carrier's Bondsman—Two Carloads of Grain Shipped from Hansen.

HANSEN, Idaho, Sept. 5.—John Henderson was a Twin Falls business visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. Morrill was out on the ranch this week from Twin Falls. James Hamilton took the train for St. Anthony Tuesday to bring in a bunch of horses from that place. Mrs. G. H. Tule returned Monday from a visit to Baker City, Oregon.

Joseph Nelson, who has a contract on the north side, is home for a few days today after his farm operations. Miss Lottie Nelson came in from the camp with him.

J. C. Joubert was called to Rutland, N. D., this week on business. Mr. Mowen shipped a car of grain to Rupert to Victor & Brown last week at $1.05 per hundred.

R. B. Roberts shipped a car of potatoes this week at $1.05 per hundred.

W. P. Anderson, foreman of the Jap gang, moved to town this week to do repair work in this vicinity.

C. F. Parker of the Blackwell-Hovey Buggy Co. was doing business in this locality this week.

Ed. Thompson left this trip to Fl. Sunday to visit relatives.

The mail route from this place to Rock Creek has been turned over to G. L. Ricka, the former carrier's bondsman. Mr. Ricka carried the mail for a few days but has succeeded in getting a satisfactory carrier, G. L. Redhead, who will have charge of the route in the future.

Professor Hinton has taken up his duties in the Twin Falls schools, commencing September 2. He will probably move to that place as soon as his crops are all harvested. Keith Bros. are in charge of his work at present.

The Western Lumber Co. received a consignment of first class lumber this week, shipped in a car with Kimberly invoice to the latter place.

Nick Smith has pulled his hay derick down to the Rutledge's hay field to put up the second crop. The second crop is equal to the first cut and will probably go 3 1/2 of four tons per acre.

Albert Ball took the train out of town a few days ago, to the surprise of his friends. When he returned, accompanying him was a lady. The two took a carriage and headed for Rev. Crater's. Soon it was discovered that they were matrimonially inclined and a quiet ceremony was performed at Mr. Crater's home. In the evening their many friends gave the couple a pleasant housewarming. Mr. Ball showed the proper spirit and dished up to eat and put further orders. The best wishes of the community go with the newly-wedded pair.

The next thing in order to decorate our country and please the populace is a depot.

Notice for Publication—Final Proof. I, Ira Scribner of Filer, who made entry No. 616, and who is the assignee of H. V. Gharet, who made entry No. 617, under the provisions of an act of Congress, approved March 2, 1899, commonly known as the "Carter act," approved March 2, 1899, which embraces lots 4 and 3 of section 5, township 10 S., range 16 E., do hereby give notice of my intention to make final proof to establish my claim to the land above described, and that I expect to produce that I have residing on and cultivated said land as required by law, before E. B. Williams, representative of the State Land board, at Twin Falls, Idaho, on the 5th day of October, 1907, by two of the following witnesses: Frank Craig of Twin Falls, Benjamin F. Spencer of Marsa, and L. Young and W. Spencer of Filer, Idaho.

IRA SCRIBNER, Entryman.

Notice. Notice is hereby given that Ous E. Syster will make application to the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county, Idaho, at the next regular meeting of the board, for permission to operate a public toll ferry on Clear lake, between the counties of Lincoln and Twin Falls, state of Idaho, with landing in Lincoln county in section 10, township 8 S., range 14 E. and with landing in Twin Falls section 31, township 9 S., range 14 E. BREVITIES

Dr. Baker has installed an electric motor in his dental parlors.

Mrs. J. H. Johnson and daughter and Miss Tipton were guests at Mrs. Frank Burritt's in Kimberly on Thursday of last week.

The ladies aid society of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Hampton last Thursday afternoon. This will be the first meeting of the season and it will be a social one.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus A. Parker and Miss Fay Swank leave the city Saturday for San Jose, California. Mr. and Mrs. Parker have a residence in San Jose where they spend the winter months.

C. H. Lowe has purchased the McCall grocery store and sale stable and is adding several improvements. Mr. Lowe is an old hand at the livery business, in which he was engaged in northern Idaho. He intends to bring his business up to the highest standard and will make a series of improvements.

Dr. and Mrs. D. Brown Lewers have been spending the past few weeks on a camping and fishing trip at Thousand Springs. During the doctor's absence his dental parlors have been thoroughly refurnished and equipped with all the latest appliances used in dentistry. Just as soon as connections can be made an electric motor will run the apparatus in the laboratory.

Hon. L. H. Sweetser of Birdsey came to Twin Falls last Friday and drove down to Butte to look at some cattle. Mr. Sweetser intends to buy some cattle to feed at his ranch at Vale this winter. He will return on the 12th, by which time the cattle in the Three Creek and Butte country will have been gathered. The cattle-men in those sections began their annual beef roundup on Monday. The cattle are in splendid condition.

Rev. John Gourley received word last Saturday afternoon of the death of his eldest son Frank at his home in Los Angeles. Mr. Gourley had been seriously ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. His brother John and sister, Miss Mary Gourley, were with him at the time of his death. The funeral services were held from his late home last Sunday afternoon and he was buried in Los Angeles. Frank Gourley, while known to a comparatively few people in this city, was a young man of splendid character and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He had been in poor health for a long time but kept at his labors until on account of weakness he was compelled to take to his bed. Rev. Gourley and his family have the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Nettie Lytle entertained a few friends last Saturday evening at her home in honor of Miss Fay Swank.

German Lutheran services will be held by Rev. W. H. Schaefer at the Christian church next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.; followed by English services at 3:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hayes of Pocatello arrived on Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by their son Ralph. They visited the falls, the power plant and the lake yesterday and were delighted with the trip.

The next regular meeting of the Ladies' Power club of Kimberly will be held on Thursday, September 12, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Turner. As it will be a business meeting, a full attendance is desired.

Robert Rogers, the well known woolgrower, was in Twin Falls for a few days this week. Mr. Rogers talked of having some of his sheep put on shares on the Twin Falls tract provided satisfactory arrangements could be made.

J. B. Hall, the attorney, has moved into an office on the ground floor of the Gaut-Holman block, which he shares with J. V. Marshall & Co., real estate. "J. B." has some swell furniture and he is doing some tall boasting for Twin Falls.

Sheriff Alker has moved his office into the rooms in the Idaho Department store building recently vacated by E. B. Williams of the land department. This gives the sheriff more room and enables him to have a private office which he needed.

Mrs. Berry and Miss Fay Swank entertained in honor of Miss Hazel Joseph at their home on Tuesday evening. "Five hundred" and what were played and later in the evening refreshments were served. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bainbridge, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Berry, Mrs. Nettie Lytle, Misses Callie Williams, Neta Baker, Minerva Berry, Messrs. Will. Hurd, Will Lytle, Frank Lytle and Everett Swank. Miss Joseph, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Berry, for the past few weeks, will leave for her home in Dayton, Wash., on Saturday.

The following evidence of the effect of trashy literature upon the youthful mind came from the pocket of a bright young Twin Falls school boy: "Warning—! We give you warning because we do not wish to get you hurt. You will meet one of us tonight and agree to certain things, also help us to do up another gang. You will give answer on the sheet. I demand. Do not question writer because you will get into trouble if you do and him also. Committee of Six. Black Hand." At the bottom of the communication was a well executed drawing of a black hand. The warning was neatly written, well punctuated and only one word was misspelled.

Miss Fayette Johnson of Portland, Oregon, who is spending the summer with her parents at Rock Creek, was a guest at the Hotel Perrine last Saturday.

There will be a dance at the rink next Thursday evening. Frank Johnson will be floor manager and Reel's orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Clara Broso of Rock Creek spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Frank Burritt last week before departing for her school at Idaho Falls.

J. M. Shank of Buhl raised a crop of volunteer oats which yielded 25 bushels to the acre. The field was pastured in the early spring and was not irrigated until very late as it was not supposed that the oats would amount to much. This is a phenomenal record, but Buhl is proving in this respect.

Rev. Smith of the Presbyterian church of Springdale, Utah, preached at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and evening. His address in the evening was devoted to relating his experiences connected with his missionary work in Utah. Rev. Smith while in the city was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Snackman and John H. Newton.

Hon. Frank Martin, former attorney general of Idaho, is here on a business visit. Mr. Martin was in office when the contract between the state and the Twin Falls Land Water Co. was signed and it interested him to find such a splendid consummation of this important transaction. He was exceedingly well pleased with conditions which, he said, far exceeded his expectations.

A special session of the district court was opened in Twin Falls today by Judge Walters for the purpose of trying the case of Twin Falls Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., vs. Frank C. Smith and Don C. Bryan. It is possible that other cases may be tried during the session.

Alfred B. Chamberlain, brother of Judge Frank Chamberlain, arrived yesterday from Monmouth, Wis., and left today for his ranch near Kimberly on which he will make final proof. Mr. Chamberlain had received glowing reports of Twin Falls from his brother, but he said that both the city and the tract met his expectations, hopeful as they were.

Several Twin Falls people left the city Thursday morning for the east. Among them were Mrs. L. J. Miller, who has gone to Boulder, Colorado, for a two months' visit; David Young, who will enter the freshman class of the state university at Boulder; S. H. Young, who has gone to Albion, Iowa, to visit his brother, who is seriously sick; and Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wisely, who will spend the next few months in Texas, where Mr. Wisely has business interests.

The band dance at the rink last evening attracted a large crowd. The cool weather and the splendid program combined to make the dance delightful.

Father Joseph Neumanns will conduct service in the Catholic church on Sunday, September 8, at 10 o'clock in the morning. All are cordially invited to attend.

E. B. Williams, local representative of the state land department, has moved his office to the Hotel Perrine, where he occupies a room on the northwest side of the court.

The machinery for the power plant of the Kimberly flour mill is now being installed and the mill will soon be ready for operation. Manager Thomas is buying all the grain he can get at the highest market price.

Woods, Evans & Thomas report the sale of block 3 in the Moorman addition, consisting of five acres to Henry Ball and Frank Mitchell for $350. Block 11 in the same addition was sold by them to Cole Wilson for $350. It also contains five acres.

Snatch thieves made a round of the Twin Falls hotels on Monday night and made a neat haul. They were very discriminating, taking only money and leaving watches and jewelry. They worked very quietly, beginning their operations some time after midnight.

At the school election held on Tuesday to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the term of office of Trustees James A. Waters and C. D. Thomas, the retiring trustees were re-elected, the vote standing: Waters 110, Thomas 58, Nixon 57, Mrs. Evans 2.

Judge James M. Stevens of the Sixth judicial district, which includes Bingham, Fremont and Laramie counties, is making his first visit in Twin Falls. Judge Stevens is the head of the I. O. O. F. in Idaho and had a pleasant meeting with the local members of the order last evening. Today he is visiting the Twin Falls, Shoshone falls, the power plant and Blue lakes. Having witnessed the splendid development of the upper Snake river valley, Judge Stevens was prepared for surprises when he came to Twin Falls and he was not disappointed.

Ed Christofferson of Iono, California, and Miss Bessie C. Quigley of Twin Falls were married at the residence of the officiating minister, Elder H. P. Tandy, three miles southeast of Twin Falls, on Wednesday, September 4. Miss Quigley is the highly accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Quigley of Twin Falls and Mr. Christofferson is a splendid young gentleman. That prosperity and happiness may attend them is the sincere wish of the many friends of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Christofferson left on Wednesday evening for their home in California.

C. C. BEDFORD, Mgr. Twin Falls

Walter C. Flier arrived today from Salt Lake City. Mr. Flier stated that he came here to get a square meal at living prices, which, it is alleged, is impossible in the Utah capital at present.

E. B. Critchlow, the first city attorney of Twin Falls, is here in court for the defense in the case of the Old Fellows' lodge versus Smith and Bryan which is being tried today.

A. H. Fox of Wallace, one of the leaders of the Cour d'Alone colony, who has a quarter section on Cour d'Alone ridge, is here inspecting his farm. Mr. Fox had a hard time locating himself owing to the many improvements in that section, but he spotted Milt Flohr's red barn and got his bearings from that.

The Quality of the Garment

STANDING OUT over price, and lasting after it has been forgotten, the quality of a garment cannot be obliterated as long as two threads hang together. By combining quality of material with the art of the most skillful tailors and made under the latest improved conditions, we have a garment that is at once the finest of its class and can be sold at a reasonable price. While the styles are various this season, our constant aim is to carry a better garment, to do better than we have done before. We had the garment business last season, and with the increased stock and betterment of quality we feel secure in asking your approval of the line we have to offer.

ECONOMICAL USE OF THE FORESTS

IS COMPELLED BY POLICY OF ADMINISTRATION.

Wasteful Ravages Are Checked. Incursions of Timber Hogs Prevented. Enormous Losses From Fire Stopped and New Growth Given a Start.

A point in the industrial progress of the United States has now been reached where development of the country is made, not in the face of the forest but with its essential aid. The old process of exhausting the supply of timber in a region and then seeking new fields is practically over. Already the lumber industry is turning back on its tracks. A quality of timber is eagerly sought in the lake states which a few years ago was ignored as utterly worthless, and in the south, the whole pine region is being gone over in a close search for the old field pine, a tree once despised but now bought up at prices much higher than those paid for the magnificent timber of the virgin forests.

A publication just issued by the department of agriculture, entitled "National Forests and the Lumber Supply," defines the important part which the national forests are destined to play in the economic development of the country. Abuses have grown up, under the laws which provide for the disposition of public land, notably the segregation of large holdings of timber land for speculative purposes. Timber from the national forests is now purchased by the thousand board feet, and payment is made upon the actual scale of the logs when cut. Two dollars and a half per thousand feet is comparatively low as present charges go, but since the cut ranges from 6,000 to 20,000 feet per acre, the government receives from five to twenty times as much for the timber as it did under the timber and stone act.

Public opinion now demands, not that the government should dispose of its remaining timber lands as rapidly as possible and leave it to private enterprise to exploit the forest hastily, but that what remains of the national forests should be more conservatively used. The government has been forced into the lumber business solely in order that a supply of forest products may be guaranteed to future generations.

Probably 65 per cent of the total stand of merchantable timber within the forests is located on the Pacific coast, where for a long time the enormous supply of privately owned timber will satisfy most of the demand. This more accessible private timber surrounded the forests as the meat of an apple surrounds the core. It has been entirely eaten away in many places, while in others it is locked up by speculators. The thing to remember, then, is that this immense body of public timber is there as a great reserve against the time when private timber lands will be depleted, and for use as a weapon against monopoly.

The first effect of national forests upon prices, particularly where there is still a great deal of available timber, is to raise the price of outside stumpage toward its actual value by withdrawing the excess supply of low priced timber from the market. But later, as the supply of timber dwindles and values are forced upward by speculative holdings, the effect of the forests will be to check the advance of prices.

In the virgin forest growth is just about balanced by decay. In the western forests, however, natural deterioration is greatly augmented by forest fires. The fires usually do most harm by damaging merchantable timber, but, great as this injury is, vastly more actual loss in forest wealth results from the yearly burning over of the grass and undergrowth of the forest. Ground fires do not consume the large trees, but they destroy seedlings outright and injure growing trees so that they quickly decay. Finally, the forest floor, composed of a mold of needles, twigs and mosses, is burned away.

Far beyond the present influence of the national forests upon the lumber supply will be their importance in the future. The United States is now facing a shortage in the stock of available timber. The yield from the national forests will aid greatly to bridge over the period in which mature timber will be lacking, a period which will last from the time the old trees are gone until the young trees are large enough to take their places.

The definite result, therefore, of the sale of timber from the forests will be to sustain the lumber business, to maintain a steady range of timber values and to discourage speculation, and, far more important still, steadily to further the uninterrupted development of the great industries dependent upon wood.

GEOLOGIC. WORK IN FORESTS
Character of Lands Being Determined by Department.

The United States geological survey, in connection with its other work in the west, has undertaken to examine geologic conditions in the national forests. It has been the policy of the government to encourage mining in the areas included in the national forests, but many prominent faults have been found which cover non-mineral lands or deposits that by no possibility could be developed into paying mines, and it is clearly in the interest of the geologic survey to make a preliminary "wild-cat" mining companies from obtaining claims to the lands covered by such faults.

The work of the survey will be of practical value both to the forest service and to the miner, for the report of the geologist will enable the former to make recommendations to the commissioner of the general land office on the character of mineral locations. The policy of the survey will be to require the geologist to assist in every way the claimant who is acting in good faith and to help the officers of the forest service in their task of protecting the mining industry and all other interests which benefit by the proper administration of the national forests.

FOUND WHEAT IN OLD SEPULCHRE

PROFITABLE DISCOVERY MADE AT PAYSON, UTAH.

Grain Was Taken from Beside the Skeletons of Two Mound Builders and Proved to Be the Best Arid Land Wheat and a Heavy Yielder.

What is commonly known as "mound wheat," propagated from grain found in the graves of the prehistoric mound builders in southern Utah, is now conceded to be the best arid land wheat yet developed. It yields better than other varieties, and withstands the hot, dry conditions of the desert. The story of the discovery of this wheat was recently told by Emma Potter of Payson, Utah, as follows:

"In the year 1878 I had a group of mounds about a half mile north of Payson seven in number. They stood on about a half mile square of ground and ranged in height from 15 to 30 feet. One of the mounds stood on my farm. I commenced to dig and explore for relics. I found several. Then I concluded to move the entire mound. I moved 600 yards of dirt, and I was about three years doing it. I found that there were buildings in all the mounds. I cleaned out five mounds in my mound, which stood about five feet high. The walls were plastered with a hard finish, as smooth as ours are nowadays. The doorways were round, about four feet in diameter.

"As I was cleaning one of the rooms I came upon two skeletons, all in one condition. I took them out carefully and had them cleaned and put together. One was a male and one a female. One measured six feet and one five and one-half feet.

"Near these skeletons was a stone box. On opening the box I found it contained wheat, which had all evaporated except a little in the center of the box, which looked bright. I saved it carefully and planted it in a box. In a few days it germinated and came up. I transplanted it in my garden and it grew, but I came near losing it. There was a green bug that I had never seen before which attacked the grain. I had to watch it all summer and kill them off. I saved one and one-half pounds of wheat in the fall. The next year I planted it and raised one and one-half bushels. I found it a very hardy and thrifty wheat and grew better than any other wheat. I sent a sample to the department of the interior at Washington, and the officials there pronounced it the best they had tried for dry land, and that it would yield more than any other wheat.

"It was offered any price for samples but I never took a cent from any one. I thought if I could be a benefit to our state that is all I pay I want. I have sent over 50 samples to all parts of the country and have sent reports from all. I generally raise from five to eight bushels more to the acre than my neighbors with other wheat. "With these skeletons I found cloth. In a very good state of preservation, needles to sew with and beads to make their shoes out of. A small pipe and stones to grind their wheat and a corn also corn, but it was spoiled and rotten. I found some very beautiful earthenware, painted with many designs. They measured in size from one pint to forty gallons.

"Our government sent a man here to explore these mounds. He stayed with me a week and saw all the relics and refused him for $250. There were but few in Payson that took much interest in the work that I was doing. "I found many other relics that were used as ornaments, but I did not find any metal. There was a streak of rust by the side of the mound skeleton. Evidently it had been a sword, but it had all gone to rust. Dr. Phin, who was here exploring, said the skeletons were white people, and he showed me the difference. I had Indian skulls. Some of the large bones were of horses."

For Sale—14-hole Buckeye drill and a Hapgood disc machine; also two brood sows, J. A. THOMPSON, 1 1/2 miles north of town.

PECULIARITIES OF SAGE HENS

ODD HABITS MAKE THE BIRD A PUZZLE.

Differs from All Other Members of the Grouse Family—Has a Pouch in Lieu of a Gizzard and Prefers Leaves to Seed.

The classification of the sage hen has always been a complex problem for sportsmen. The uncertain habits and physical peculiarities of the bird make it a puzzle even to those who have studied it for years. Notably the sage hen belongs to the grouse family but its peculiar habits have relegated it to the lower grade of that aristocratic branch of fowlhood. It shuns the forests and fields and clings to the sagebrush and rocky hillsides. Although not a water fowl, it frequents the creeks and springs, making daily visits thereto for water. Even in rainy weather the sage hen flies to the springs morning and evening, especially when it is calm. No matter how warm the weather may be, the morning and evening flights are called for. If there be a wind, Green plants attract the sage hen, but the elusive bird is liable to be found anywhere. It has no steady habits and it might be termed the rascal of the family.

"Buck" Rice, who has studied the sage hen at close range for 30 years, declares it is an animal. "Anything that has a pouch, is an animal, and the sage hen has a pouch," declares Mr. Rice. "Birds have gizzards, sage hens have not, consequently the sage hen must be said to be an animal."

Sage hens do not make like other members of the grouse family. The cocks strut in the early spring on bare ground and the hens fly back to their nests and the cocks remain in packs until the brooding season is over. At the approach of cold weather the sage hens gather in large packs and become wild like the prairie chickens.

When the sage hen will flush wild and at other times when climatic conditions are identical it will fly close and have to be literally kicked to get it to fly. The sage hen is the sight of a bird-dog and again it will squat under the brush and hide within a few inches of the dog's nose.

Hunting dogs of the highest class have trouble in locating sage hens. The pungent odor of the sage and the fine dust which settles on the bushes dull the dog's scent. After a shower of rain the scent is better, but in general the best dogs with keen noses will flush a high percentage of sage hens even when working against the wind. The sage hen will carry a heavy load of shot. It is easy to break down but hard to kill and still harder to find it after it is killed. The sage hen is the most difficult of all birds to make it impossible to mark fallen birds, which invariably run like deer unless they happen to be very badly wounded. A winged bird is almost sure to get away from a hunter without a dog unless it is carefully marked and quickly followed.

Supposedly on account of the abundance of water, this year the sage hens are scattered. They do not frequent their old haunts and are found where they never were found before. This has given rise to the belief that they are well high exterminated in Twin Falls county. Hunters who have shot sage hens for years claim that they have seen almost as many birds this year as before, but the coveys are widely scattered and smaller than usual, doubtless on account of the wet spring, which interfered with hatching. Some good bags have been made this season, but the number of birds killed is comparatively small when compared with the slaughter of other years.

HEAVY FILING ON COAL LANDS
Eighteen Quarter Sections Located in Cassia County.

Eighteen entries of 160 acres each on coal lands in Cassia county were filed in the United States land office at Idaho last Friday.

Ten entries are in township 16 S., ranges 20 and 21 east, and eight are in the south side of Trappers creek, 12 miles south of Oakley and two miles west of Squaw creek.

It has long been known that coal existed to some extent in the mountains south of Oakley, and during the last two or three years considerable development work has been done on two or three properties which has resulted in uncovering large bodies of coal which has improved the outlook for the shafts were sunk deeper in the ground.

Recently several capitalists have taken the matter up and the quality of coal, and it looked so good that they immediately steps were taken to develop the mines to their fullest capacity. The same work is being done in the Cassia county coal fields is being done from the filings made in the land office last week.

In connection with the development of these mines the Buhl in loans that steps will soon be taken looking toward the building of the electric road between Buhl and Oakley, a charter for which has been secured some months ago, and that the road will be extended to the coal fields.—Burlington Bulletin.
