JEROME OPENING BREAKS LAND SELLING RECORDS

Over 60,000 Acres Filled Upon Since Tuesday Afternoon and Filings Are Still Being Made—Not a Hitch Made the Arrangements—Splendid Crowd in Attendance—No Trouble Over Transportation Facilities—Most Memorable Opening on Record.

WILL BUIED ELECTRIC RAILROAD IMMEDIATELY

A telegram was received today from President W. S. Kuhn of the Twin Falls, North Side Land & Water company, who is now in New York, stating that work upon the electric railway from Miller to Gooding would be begun with all possible speed with the view of completing the road in advance of the delivery of water. This is cheering news. The North Side company has already shown its ability to build the electric road in record time is undoubted. The company has had an abundance of experience in constructing railroads of this kind and its facilities are ample to finish the Miller-Gooding line in a remarkably short space of time. With this road completed, Twin Falls will then be connected and the chances are bright for the consummation of the Salmon project to the south with its trolley attachments. The outlook was never so bright for Twin Falls and this section of the state. All aboard for Jerome, Wendell and Gooding! Change cars for Hansen at Wilson's lake!

Forty-eight thousand acres of Carey act land filed upon in 48 consecutive hours, with a total of over 60,000 acres in three days, is the record made at Jerome, the capital of the Twin Falls North Side project. No such rush ever witnessed in the west, not even when Uncle Sam gave land away to homesteaders. It took 20 months to sell 50,000 acres on the south side, not because the land was not a good buy, but the people wanted to be shown. They have been shown and now they are convinced that Carey act land in this part of the state is cheap at any reasonable price. While the rush on the North Side was on, land on the south side was being grabbed up in sections. It was a great land feast, and while a few went away hungry because they did not arrive early enough, the people who were looking for farms and not for speculative bargains stayed and got what they wanted. The filing still continues without a sign of abatement.

The people who filed on the north side came from all parts of the country, but they were all good Americans. It was frequently remarked that a better looking, better dressed, better behaved and better humored crowd of men never assembled. The cold rain which fell on Sunday and Tuesday had no effect on the spirit of the land seekers. The company took care of them hospitably. There were good beds at 25 cents and good meals at 50 cents. In Twin Falls the strangers were cordially welcomed and were not asked to pay two prices for their accommodations. Homes were thrown open to them and citizens went out of their way to be courteous. The new comers were welcome.

In Jerome the Carey act pot simmered and boiled for days before the opening. Bob McCollum and his assistants were kept on their feet from daylight to dark selling lots, answering questions and directing the preparations. The lot sales to date in Jerome ex-

Owing to the intense pressure of business it will be impossible to obtain a complete list of the names of those who filed until next week, when the names will be printed in the order of filing.

Last evening 53,000 acres of Carey act land had been taken and filings were still being made. It is predicted that the total for the week will approximate 75,000 acres, or half of the north side tract.

Compared with the settlement of the south side the Jerome opening was a wonder. The first opening on the south side occurred in February, 1905, when a few filings were made. The people were shy and it required hard persuasion to induce them to locate on lands which are now selling for $300 an acre. The Twin Falls Investment Co. took hold in July, 1904, at which time 14,000 acres had been

At the opening in October, 1904, less than 12,000 acres were taken and it was fully 20 months from the date of the first opening when the 50,000 acre mark was reached.

Conditions are different now. People can see what the Twin Falls land will do and they require little or no persuasion to induce them to use their Carey act rights. As usual the people stepped over thousands of acres of choice land in their haste to locate. Most of them knew nothing of the land and followed blindly. Those who were wise waited and found what they wanted before the first rush was over. There are thousands of acres left equal to the best that has been taken. Looking for a speculation is one thing and looking for a farm is quite another. R. M. McCollum, who has labored incessantly from the beginning to make a success of the north side opening and who succeeded far beyond even his own expectations, has honestly earned a rest and he is going to forgo the strenuous life for a time and take it easy. He dreams of land by night and talks of land by day, and if his brain were removed there would doubtless be a large clot of Carey act land found in the pulp.

The Jerome opening was a great triumph for McCollum and Reed. The gentlemen behind the enterprise, who put up the money and took the risk, this making the project possible, deserve all the praise that has been heaped upon them. They have conducted the enterprise fairly and liberally and the state owes them a debt of gratitude. But to Bob McCollum, who has fought for the Twin Falls tract from the beginning, and who has been scoffed at, ridiculed and knocked, the grand success of the Jerome opening meant more than money. It meant vindication. When Bob used to tell people that Twin Falls lands would sell for $100, $200, and $300 an acre they hoisted him. He has had the satisfaction of seeing the same people fall in line and pay four and five times the original cost of the land.

Heavy Rains.
The North Side company neglected to fix matters with the weather mixer and a drenching rain fell on the day of the opening. In a jiffy up went a big tent at Jerome and shelter was provided for the throngs of people who came to the north side exhibit—but the water was too shallow to afford storage way. The crowds were moved from Shoshone and Twin Falls without discomfort and so far as known, nobody was left behind or neglected. Everybody was in good humor and enthusiastic. Viewed from all points the Jerome opening was a wonderful achievement, a grand climax to the drama wherein money, enterprise and push played the leading roles.

ELECTRIC ROAD THROUGH HANSEN

SURVEYORS PROJECTING LINES IN VICINITY.

Feasible Crossing on Snake River—Almost Due North of Town—Several Farms Sold at Good Prices—Rain Annoys the Farmers.

HANSEN, Idaho, Oct. 3.—Thompson brothers and T. T. Rutledge have counsel from their outfit on the Snake river. They report a pleasant trip and plenty of game. They captured two small salmon weighing 47 and 18 pounds and plenty of trout. They also secured a few sheep and some of the salmon for friends in the burg.

The two days rain just past worked badly on the country and washed the grain out, but the wet weather in general was much appreciated. The fall plowing will be a much easier task than usual, with little or no rain.

The north side opening has attracted many land seekers to the community. Every day brings in new faces. Several of the new arrivals have been making purchases of land. One of the 40-acre parcels, the town site, the purchase price was $50 per acre, including fixtures and farm implements. Mr. Rice has given a possession, packed his personal effects and is soon to leave for his new home. His friends, who came to see him, were the very best of friends in his future undertaking. He and his family will leave at once for his new home. He is a man of good character and is well known in the community.

The Jerome opening was a great triumph for McCollum and Reed. The gentlemen behind the enterprise, who put up the money and took the risk, this making the project possible, deserve all the praise that has been heaped upon them. They have conducted the enterprise fairly and liberally and the state owes them a debt of gratitude. ## COUNTY FAIR PLEASES THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

Exhibits Excite the Admiration of New Arrivals Who Came to Attend the Opening at Jerome—Showing in Livestock Especially Good—Farmers Were Too Busy to Bring in Their Field and Garden Products—Poultry Exhibit Especially Fine.

In a band of sheep to stock his ranch.
George T. Richards, wife and daughter Mary of Colorado Springs are guests at the Edwards home south of town this week. Mr. Richards has mining interests in Colorado but he thinks an investment on the Twin Falls tract might not be a bad venture. He attended the north side land drawing and secured a 40-acre tract suitable to him. It is quite probable that after Mr. Edwards has shown him the fine tracts in this locality that he will make further purchases as he is very much impressed with Hansen's future prospects.

W. H. Vise of Colorado Springs was also calling at the Edwards ranch and inquiring for a location. He expected to attend the north side opening and return to Hansen for a second look. Roy Hall is having out material for a new residence to be constructed on his ranch south of town.

J. P. Cleveland is putting up a dwelling house on his dry farm east of town.

W. P. Brewer is the possessor of a brand new buggy. Wonder if the fair sex will all have to walk now.

W. A. Hildy and a party of his Yaguma friends attended the land drawing. They will take a survey of this locality on their return.

The Roy Craig is erecting some additions to his house this week.

The Charisland Farm company have been making improvements in the way of outcrops and fences.

Hansen schools opened with Mr. Stratton as principal and Miss Vivian Hilder of Heyburn in the primary department.

Professor Hinton had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse Sunday. Lin Hedlund started for Salt Lake Tuesday for a few days visit with relatives.

Miss Alameda Roberts went to Boise for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Charles Tipton spent fair week in Twin Falls, guest of Mrs. Bunnell.

H. G. Hutto is putting up a new barn this week.

Kimberly Real Estate Moving.

Several Farms Changed Hands This Week.

John Puts a Crimp in Thrashing Operations—Heavy Shipment of Grain Continues—Road Overseer is Planning Good Roads Campaign.

KIMBERLY, Idaho, Oct. 2.—George Johnson and Alfred Peterson have purchased the thrashing outfit formerly owned by the late Kimbly Co. A shabby piece of machinery was used last season and was stored away in the barn of Emil Hoyer's place. It was a fine piece of machinery and with the new men it will be a fine piece of machinery.

Had weather has delayed the delivery of grain to the stockholders. This week and last also put a crimp in thrashing operations.

Several parties went to Jerome and attended the north side opening. They were much impressed with the success of the opening.

Alfred J. McMillan, who spent the past two months in southern California, has returned to his home in Twin Falls. He has been much improved.

James A. Walker who moved with the family to the new place last week and is now settling in the new place. He is a fine piece of machinery and with the new men it will be a fine piece of machinery.

Mrs. W. T. Hutton has leased the residence in the new place. She will furnish first-class board from now on.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutton, former proprietors of the Kimberly Hotel, have moved to the new place. They will furnish first-class board from now on.

An old proverb runs: "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country." This might be paraphrased to read: "A county fair is not appreciated save by those who do not live in the county." The strangers from without the gates who visited the Twin Falls fair pronounced it grand; those who live at home persistently asserted that this year's display was far inferior to that of last year. Both statements are true. The fair was a splendid demonstration of the productive qualities of Twin Falls soil. What it lacked in quantity it compensated for in quality. The plain truth of the matter is that the farmers were too busy to pay much attention to the fair. A majority of those who made displays last year did not bring in anything this year, naturally supposing that there would be an abundance. The season was late and it may be that the farmers felt that there had been sufficient demonstration already. However, the showing was splendid from the visitors' point of view. It was the best possible advertisement to place before land seekers and it undoubtedly had great weight in that direction.

As usual the work of the fair rested upon few shoulders. Everybody was so busy that they could ill afford to spare the time. Considering the conditions, the fair was a grand success. Successful exhibitors as John R. Newton, James A. Waters, A. P. Senior and others came to the rescue with the finest displays and deserve great credit.

The stock exhibit was very creditable, especially that of dairy cattle. Jack Voorhees showed some excellent Jersey cows and would have taken the blue ribbon were it not that the cows had not been in the county long enough. However, they are here to stay and will help to improve Twin Falls stock. The showing in horses was excellent and the hog exhibit was good but, strange to say, there were very few sheep.

An exhibit which attracted much attention because of its quality had this loss was that which came from Turkey. It was the product of Indiana and without irrigation, finer corn, wheat or potatoes could not be desired.

Very land farming is destined to be an important factor in the development of southern Idaho and the poultry exhibit should encourage those interested in this branch of agriculture.

The poultry exhibit was excellent, especially considering the season. Birds are moulting at this time of year, consequently they do not score well. The pens were all filled with high class fowls. Mrs. B. F. McElhew, who had charge of the poultry division, deserves a medal for the manner in which she handled her department, remaining quiet in the dust and attending to her work smartly.

Her credit is due to the ladies in other divisions who remained loyal by their presence and assistance in other parts of the fair.

To encourage the more intelligent showing at the fair would be an admirable thing to do. It is a pity that the fair is not attended to by the people of the county.

The good people of Twin Falls showed their neighborly spirit by coming in body to attend the fair on Friday. The John R. Newton second.

150,000 Acres of Carey Act Land

$35.50 Per Acre.

50,000 acres were located within 48 hours after the opening of the same on October 1, an unparalleled record. This shows what people who know think of the North Side tract. Scores of land seekers are now inspecting the tract.

Plenty First Class Land Left. . . . .

First class accommodations at Jerome. Have you used your Carey act right? Do you know what it is worth to you? Write us and we will show you.

All Lands on the North Side Are Well Located.

The purest of water has been struck in several places where wells have been drilled. An excellent railway will traverse the entire tract. Electric power is now being transmitted to Jerome from the Shoshone Falls plant. The North Side land is warm and is particularly suited for fruit growing.

$3.25 per acre in cash is paid at time of filing; the balance is divided into annual payments covering a period of ten years with 6 per cent interest on deferred payments.

Under the Carey Act, people who have used all their government rights to take up land can still acquire 160 acres of Carey Act land. Filings may be made by power of attorney when parties intending to file cannot possibly come.

BURTON L. FRENCH

WARMLY GREETED

ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY IDAHO CONGRESSMAN.

Large and Attentive Crowd Listens to Distinguished Visitor and Heartily Applauds His References to Public Policies, Progress and Labor.

Hon. Burton L. French, who is now serving his third term as Idaho's representative in congress, and who has on many occasions given proof of his friendship for and interest in the Twin Falls tract, was greeted by a large audience on Friday afternoon when he spoke from the band stand. Despite the many distracting happenings of the afternoon, Mr. French held his crowd to the end and was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause. His references to the labor question were particularly pleasing and his views on many other questions were received with merited approbation. Mr. French said in part:

"I remember, a few years ago, of being one of several members of a congressional party who were guests of Hon. H. W. Scott, the able editor of the Oregonian. It was in Washington and Mr. Scott was urging federal aid for the Lewis and Clark expedition, an expedition that did so much to advance the splendid possibilities of the northwest. At the close of the dinner, he proposed to me to tell some of the reminiscences of my early days. As you know, he came to the northwest more than 50 years ago. He was a youth then, almost a man. He came by way of the old emigrant wagon road and probably passed within a few miles of where this audience is assembled. He told of the sacrifices and trials of the pioneer. He told of the heartburnings and the struggles. In the neighboring state of Wyoming, while on the journey, his mother, a noble, brave woman, fell ill and passed away and there, beneath the stars, he said, 'in the center of that vast plain, we buried her. No one knew her resting place. That the savage might not find and desecrate her grave we made the surface that of the common plain, and neither the devotion of husband nor the love of child could find it more.' I was wonderfully impressed by those words, and probably the more because my early boyhood was spent in Idaho. I learned then something of the work of the pioneer, and since that time my soul has gone out in admiration of those noble men and women who have braved the hardships and the dangers of the trail and the discouragements in the building of the west. I congratulate you all today upon the fruits that their early toils and your labor upon this vast expanse of land reaped from barren waste."

Dry Farming.
Congressman French spoke of the great work that has been done and is being done in the building of the west by means of irrigation. "Yet there is a limit to this great work," said Mr. French. "What limit must be reached when the water supply shall have been exhausted and when land that comes below the water line shall have been reclaimed? We must reclaim the west in another way. We must develop grains, fruits and grasses that will grow upon the uplands and mature with the minimum amount of water. As our population is vast and millions of acres of her surface receive annually in rainfall only about the same amount of water that is received by the states of the great mountain west. Through centuries of necessity and of toil, grains and fruits and fodder for the cattle and sheep have been developed that do well even under such conditions. We can do better because we have more intelligence. Last congress I had part in helping to make an appropriation which will be used by the agricultural department in this great work. Many citizens of our state who are working independently upon this same question have written me and signified their willingness to cooperate with the work the government is doing. I cannot express too earnestly the gratitude the whole country owes to these volunteer laborers. In this great cause, and can see the future years, not far removed, millions of acres of upland blooming like a veritable garden that today is covered with the flowers of the desert."

Forest Reserves and School Fund.
"Another question that is non-political and yet of state interest," said Congressman French, "is the forest reserve question. You are doubtless familiar with the work of the department, and yet I desire to refer to it here. Almost one-third of Idaho is today in forest reserves, and we are not content with the work the department is doing. I cannot express too earnestly the gratitude the whole country owes to these volunteer laborers. In this great cause, and can see the future years, not far removed, millions of acres of upland blooming like a veritable garden that today is covered with the flowers of the desert."

whose chief use is agricultural can be made available for the homestead. This is to your interest and to the interest of the entire state.

"Again, within the forest reserves in Idaho are about 1,000,000 acres of land belonging to the public school system of Idaho. The enabling act under which Idaho became a state, gave this land to the public school system of our state. The same thing was done in other states of the great west. A limit was placed upon the price of this land of $10 an acre, below which it cannot be sold. Similar lands outside of the reserves have been sold by the state at several times $10 per acre. The average sale of lands last year by your state land board netted the state nearly twice as much per acre. This vast tract belonging to the state and now held within forest reserves has a distinct value. It is worth millions of dollars, and next winter I am going to bring before congress a measure asking the government to pay the state $10 per acre for this land, or to arrange some other plan by which the state may be realized. This land is your land. It does not belong to the United States, nor to the people of other states. It belongs to you for the benefit of your public schools. Think what an endowment that will be for the maintenance of our common schools. The interest on the principal alone will every year equal a sum of money that required to maintain our state government for the same period at the present time. We owe it to ourselves and to our state, we owe it to the children of the state to see to it that this vast heritage is maintained for the purpose of our public schools."

Japanese and Chinese Immigration.
"As deeply as I feel upon the question of Japanese and Chinese immigration, I feel at this time to refer to it. It is the duty of our nation, to have a guard for not only our commercial and industrial well being but for our people as well. The west is going through a great formative period and more important than the construction of railroads, the building of cities or the reclamation of land is the safeguarding of our population. To the west of us two mighty peoples are breaking the bonds of lethargy that have held them down throughout the centuries gone by. Rich in latent power, the people of the Japanese and Chinese nations are rapidly taking their place beside the people of the white race. Their native lands are full to overflowing. They see upon our continent the possibilities that their own people will bring. And here lies one of the greatest dangers to the peace and wellbeing of our nation: that the future seems to hold: Peoples of different color and which separated racial tendencies do not live side by side under the same flag in peace and harmony. It matters not the relative development of the races. It matters not that they are equal in all that makes for highest manhood and purest womanhood. It matters only that their social characteristics are separated by a chasm so deep that it cannot be bridged at the marriage altar and their folklore stories mingled by common sense. Such is the chasm that separates the American people today from the people of the Orient."

"Prior to the discovery of gold in California, following a policy of exclusiveness centuries old, the people of China and Japan had hardly set foot upon our shores. Within four years after 1849 10,000 Chinese alone had landed in the United States, and by 1882, when the first definite act was passed restricting the immigration of Chinese into our country, more than 100,000 Chinese and Japanese had found their way hither. At that time congress listened to the voices of the west and an act was passed suspending the immigration of Chinese laborers into the United States. We have followed that policy ever since. Today there are nearly 250,000 people from China and Japan in our midst, and if ready immigration were possible this number would multiply itself many times within the next few years. There is today a powerful sentiment in the east, which says to be content with these people. Throw down the barrier to their immigration. It is prompted by the spirit of commercialism. It is not prompted by the thought of the highest welfare for our country. Within a year the American people have witnessed a struggle that has gone on in San Francisco between the citizens and school authorities on the one side and the Japanese on the other over the question as to whether or not the Japanese should attend the public schools side by side, in the same rooms, in the same classes, with our own boys and girls."

"Within a year we have heard forecasts of war between our country and the empire of Japan. Within the month we have seen 10,000 laborers in Victoria, in British Columbia, descending upon the Chinese and Japanese quarters of that city, break in the doors and windows of 50 houses and injure some of those who would defend. Within the year we have seen the laborers of the Japanese and local officers, for the maintenance of the peace, have been called upon more than once to protect our own people from the violence of the Japanese. These things are probably not great within themselves, but speak of them for what they signify. The danger here comes when Japanese or Chinese on the Pacific coast is not pointed out as the curious representative of an unknown race—a mere passing fancy. The time has come when his presence excites resentment. The hand of the 'brown man' is raised against the hand of the white. He lowers wages. He lowers the standard of living. In times of prosperity he awakes angry passions. In times of depression he is the cause of riots. Law abiding for the most part, he has no love for any country but his own. He does not harmonize with the law-abiding people of the United States. His kind could not be assimilated with our own because of prejudices, nor would it be desirable if it could. Why then should be given ear to one voice that would lead to the admission of these people to our shores? To admit them is to sow the seeds of violence and bloodshed for years to come. It may not be in our day, but it will be some time. Now."

Reliable information regarding the land and reliable promptly as the Twin Falls News Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Noted as second-class matter, December 12, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The announcement of President Kuhn that work on the Milner-Gooding electric railway will be hurried means a great deal to Twin Falls. The gentlemen behind the North Side company own and operate many electric railway systems in the east and are splendidly equipped to construct the road from Milner to Gooding. They have established a record or two on the North Side already and it is a safe prediction that there will be no dawdling when work on the railway is commenced. Once this section of the road is built Twin Falls will be connected and the route to Boise and Butte shortened. The Twin Falls horoscope shows a bright future. The remarkable success attained at the Jerome opening will act as a tonic and nothing short of a panic in the money market will check further and immediate development. The effect of the North Side opening upon the south side of the tract was electrical. The coal tails of the road estate men stand straight out behind and there is something doing every minute.

An Oregon man, who is interested in condensed milk factories, is anxious that the Twin Falls farmers should look into his proposition before deciding what they shall do with their cream. He states that a condensed milk factory will bring in 30 per cent better returns than a creamery and there is undoubtedly merit in his proposition. It is certainly worthy of investigation. Such an industry in Twin Falls would be a splendid thing for the city.

It may be that the gasoline famine had something to do with the abandonment of Walter Wellman's polar expedition. So far as Twin Falls is concerned a man could not raise his voice if he had to depend upon Rockefeller's product for motive power.

Judging by the decision of Judge Walters, the Odd Fellows of Twin Falls should change the number of their lodge from "23" to more lucky figures.

KNEW WHEN TO TALK POTATOES

John Angel Waited Until the Signs Were Right.

They tell this story on John Angel, who has not denied it so far. John was showing a visitor about his farm the other day. He and his companion were walking through John's potato patch. John happened to notice a hill of potatoes which seemed to be bulging the earth upward. He gave the hill a kick and uncovered a whooper of a potato. His companion got busy and unearthed several other monsters. This incident, in talking potatoes, grew which he developed great enthusiasm. John discussed everything but potatoes and tried to change the subject but the visitor would not be denied. Meanwhile John kept walking along and watching for another bulging hill. Finally he spied one and booted it open. Out popped some more man-meat spuds and the visitor, wowed more enthusiastic than ever. Then John threw out his chest and opened up on spuds in great shape. He had the goods to show and his eloquence was immense.

"I doubted very much if I could find another hill like the first one," declared John. "and I didn't want to commit myself until I was sure. When I spotted another hill where the spuds were crowding themselves out of the earth I felt safe and when that I put out a hot line of potato talk."

Notice for Publication—Final Proof.

I, Lester M. Boyer of Wallace, Idaho, assignee of Stanley P. Wallace, who made entry No. 304, under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of Idaho, commonly known as the "Carey act," approved March 2d, 1890, which embraces the SE<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> of NE<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> and NE<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> of SE<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> section 34, and SW<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> of NW<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, NW<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, SW<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> section 35, township 9 S., range 14 E., do hereby give notice of my intention to make final proof to establish my claim to the land above described, and that I expect to prove that I have said land as required by law, before E. B. Williams, representative of the State Land Board, at Twin Falls, Idaho, on the 2nd day of November, 1907, by two of the following witnesses: P. Gloyetich, Twin Falls; M. L. Boyer, Heyburn; J. W. Cost, Buhl; Geo. A. McDonald, Buhl.

SPLENDID BUILDING FOR FILER

Will Be Erected by the Idaho Store Company.

The Idaho Store Company is putting up a store building in Flor, 28x60 feet, on a lot adjoining that on which it was intended to place the Eldridge building. The building is being constructed by fire of the Eldridge building, while entailing a loss and setback to the company and the town, will really prove a benefit in the future. The Idaho Store Company lost no time in getting to work on another structure on which eight men are now employed. All being well, the building will be ready to move into within two weeks.

Upon the lot on which the company intended to place the Eldridge building, a 36x60 cement block building will be erected next spring. When the building now in course of construction will be transformed into a warehouse and store room.

The Idaho Store Company is receiving and shipping large quantities of grain at Flor.

A reward of $500 has been offered by the Idaho Store Company for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties who set fire to the Eldridge building which was burned while in course of removal to the Flor townsite.

Full tree planting season is here; so is the Twin Falls Nursery with over 300,000 home grown fruit, shade and ornamental trees of all varieties. Mr. J. A. Waters, the genial proprietor, is pleased to have buyers make a personal selection.

BREVITIES

Frank Clark of Butte held the lucky number 311, which drew the suit at Elbridge's.

W. R. Swicegood of Coeur d'Alene ridge took a day off on Thursday and visited the city.

Lester Coffin of Yakima came down to take in the big opening.

Charles H. Plummer of Waterloo was one of the fortunate ones at the Jerome opening. Mr. Plummer, who is county auditor of Black Hawk county, was here some time ago and decided to return for the opening.

German Lutheran services will be held by Rev. W. H. Schenke in the Christian church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., followed by English services at 3:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Two large Poland China boars broke from their pens last Thursday night and engaged in a bloody fight. One of the animals had no tusks and it suffered severely, being cut and gashed in several places.

James A. Waters of the Twin Falls nursery had a nice little mallet made from a locust tree grown on his own place which he presented to the person who drew No. 44 at the Jerome opening. The lucky man proved to be W. J. Trueblood who will treasure the mallet as a memento of an eventful day.

G. R. King, whose farm is in section 24, township 10, range 15, is entertaining a stray horse. The animal is bay in color and weighs about 1100 pounds. It has a lump on the jaw caused by a bad tooth and has a faint brand on the left shoulder. Mr. King would be glad to hear from the owner of the animal.

The Rev. Eugenia F. St. John, national evangelist and lecturer, will speak in the Christian church at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning on the subject of temperance and reform. In the evening she will address a union meeting in the M. E. church. Mrs. St. John spoke in two of the largest churches in Boise last Sunday and they were packed to the doors. Every one who can possibly do so should hear this eloquent speaker.

Among those who came from Colorado to attend the opening was Irving B. Melville of Melville, Sackett & Carey, attorneys at Denver. Mr. Melville is the attorney who argued the great water suit between Kansas and Colorado, involving the rights to the waters of the Arkansas river in which Colorado won. He was also counsel in the celebrated case of Senator Patterson. He is now supreme court reporter of Colorado. Mr. Melville is very favorably impressed with the Twin Falls project.

R. D. Kilne of Stratoir, Ill., has purchased lots 4 and 5 in the Senior and Seebach addition, containing eight acres, for which he paid $350-an acre.

Mrs. W. W. Humphrey has returned from Minneapolis where she has been visiting for some time. She will remain in Twin Falls during the winter.

Don C. Bryan brought in five carloads of sheep from Boise last Saturday which will be fed on the Bryan-Prior farm for two months prior to shipment east.

Andrew Rogerson and Frank Triguera of Three Creek shipped eight carloads of sheep from Twin Falls this week. The sheep stood the drive nicely and were in fine condition.

Prod-Voigt came home on Friday. He spent two weeks in the east, visiting his relatives and enjoying himself. Mr. Voigt said he had a splendid trip and managed to forget all about contracts and relations for a time.

The Rebekahs are going to give a dance at the rink on Tuesday evening, October 8. It will be an invitation fair to which the Odd Fellows are especially invited. The Rebekahs have a knack of doing things right and their dance will undoubtedly be a splendid success.

O. H. Barber, formerly editor of the Twin Falls Times and now in charge of the American Falls press, was an interested spectator at the Jerome opening. Mr. Barber still has a warm spot in his heart for Twin Falls and was delighted to see the improvements.

H. P. Tandy has leased his farm three miles southeast of the city and will sell his livestock, implements and household effects at public auction on Tuesday, October 15. Mr. Tandy has some mighty fine Poland China hogs in his herd, including a boar sired by the celebrated Tecumseh Chief. Mr. Tandy said he wanted to leave Twin Falls but he and his wife missed their children so much that they decided to go back to old Missouri for a while at least. Mr. Tandy will hold his farm, however, and the chances are that he will come back again like others who grow lonesome.

H. T. West, J. W. Voorhees, M. J. Sweeter, Morgan G. Heap and Ed Laid have organized the Idaho Livestock and Produce company of which Mr. West is president, Mr. Voorhees vice president, Mr. Heap secretary and Mr. Laid treasurer. It is their intention to put up a large warehouse on the warehouse track and to deal in thoroughbred livestock and produce of all kinds. Their early efforts will be directed toward securing a hay market for Twin Falls and moving some of the surplus alfalfa. This is a laudable move and, if the company succeeds it will have accomplished a good thing for the tract. The members of the new company are well known and popular and the corporation starts under sunny skies.

The party who lost a gold watch will obtain information of the property by calling up No. 104 on the telephone.

Special Agent Hall of the postal service is in Twin Falls for the purpose of selecting a location for the postoffice.

A. P. Senior dug a hill of Rural New York potatoes which weighed 10 pounds. It contained 18 potatoes, four of which balanced the scale at 7 1/2 pounds.

Colonel Frank Hubbs of the Sparks-Harrell company was a Twin Falls visitor this week. Mr. Hubbs reports quite a heavy fall of snow in the mountains.

James Publicover, a native of Massachusetts, died on Saturday, September 28, and was buried on Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of L. J. Miller, the undertaker. Internment was in Twin Falls cemetery. Deceased is survived by a son who resides in Gloucester, Mass.

CHILDREN'S FRIEND IS DEAD

George A. Hazlett Succumbs to Blood Poisoning.

"There is sorrow among the children of Twin Falls. Their good friend, the 'popcorn man,' is no more. The familiar looking little wagon no longer stands in front of the postoffice, and the tempting odor of roasted peanuts and buttered popcorn no longer pleases. George A. Hazlett succumbed to blood poisoning at 10 o'clock on Tuesday night and the soul in which was reflected all the good qualities of man passed to the great beyond. A widow and two little children mourn the loss of a kind husband and father and hundreds of other children to whom Mr. Hazlett was a friend are filled with sorrow.

Mr. Hazlett came to Twin Falls some months ago and opened a little stand in front of the postoffice. He was a quiet and kindly man and the children adored him. He had the misfortune to lose both of his lower limbs and was incapacitated for work but he never complained. His face always wore a smile and cheerful words fell from his lips every hour. He attended strictly to his business and everyone respected him as a gentleman and a good citizen. During the rush hour Hazlett was kept very busy and contracted blood poisoning in his limbs which proved fatal. The end came on Tuesday night.

Mr. Hazlett came from Western, Neb. He was born in Pennsylvania, where his mother still resides. He is survived by a wife and two little children. The funeral will take place from Hunt's undertaking parlors on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias.

Health Preservatives

It is a certain thing that there would be much less disease in the community if every individual took proper precautions to preserve his or her health. We cannot be too cleanly in our habits. Cleanliness is not only next to godliness, but a sure keeper of good health. We should daily wash the skin with a good antiseptic soap, brush and clean the teeth well, and see to it that our person and personal effects are beyond reproach as regards cleanliness. Every facility for the bath and toilet are here.

SMITH AND BRYAN WIN THEIR SUIT

JUDGMENT IS ENTERED AGAINST ODD-FELLOWS LODGE.

Action Was Brought by the Twin Falls Lodge to Secure Possession of Two Lots Alleged to Have Been Bought by Bryan for the Order.

In view of the widespread interest which attached to the case of Twin Falls Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., versus Frank C. Smith and Don C. Bryan, by reason of the prominence of the parties concerned, the following decision by Judge Walters is reproduced verbatim:

In the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District of the State of Idaho, In and for Twin Falls County.

Twin Falls Lodge No. 23, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. F. C. Smith et al., defendants.

Causes will be entered in favor of the defendants as prayed for in their pleadings.

By reason of the elaborate and thorough manner in which this case was presented to the court for decision, I have deemed it might be of passing interest to the counsel concerned to indicate to them briefly my reasons for arriving at the judgment announced above.

As very succinctly stated by counsel for the plaintiff in their opening brief, "the question to be determined is whether Bryan and the men who paid him money upon his solicitation intended that he should be their agent to buy lots for them, or whether they intended that he should be trustee for the Odd Fellows to buy lots for them."

With the assistance of the court reporter I have very carefully reviewed the evidence in this case and find that nine persons contributed to a fund with which a first payment on the lots in question was made.

Of these nine persons six testified direct in this case that said fund was not raised for the purpose of buying lots for the Odd Fellows lodge to be organized at Twin Falls and that at the time they paid Bryan their money it was not paid for such purpose. The witnesses so testifying are Owens, Burton, Starr, Ramsey, Smith and Bryan.

Of these nine persons, one testified that his money was paid to Bryan for such purpose, to-wit, Mr. Hanson, also called "Dutch John."

Of these nine persons, contributing, two were not in attendance at the trial and did not themselves testify, to-wit, Shriver and Pratt.

In making a decision of this matter I have invoked but two rules of law: 1st. Plaintiff must prove his case by a fair preponderance of the evidence to warrant a recovery by him.

2nd. In order to establish a parcel trust the evidence must be clear and explicit and must manifest the owner's purpose to transfer their right and point out with certainty both the subject of the trust and the person who is to take the beneficial interest; the essential facts must be proved clearly and satisfactorily by a preponderance of testimony. (Am. and Eng. Dic. of Law, 2nd Ed., p. 888, and great number of cases cited.)

The supreme court of the United States says in Allen et al. vs. Whitlow et al., 110 U. S. 319: "It must be admitted that a trust may be established by oral evidence but such evidence must be clear and convincing; not doubtful, uncertain and contradictory."

And with these two rules of law in mind I am unable to find that from the testimony in this case it is established by evidence, "clear and convincing; not doubtful, uncertain and contradictory," that the persons who contributed to the fund with which these lots were purchased did so for the purpose of buying them for the plaintiff lodge.

I do believe that Bryan talked with some persons and some suggestion was made by him that lots be purchased for plaintiff lodge, to-wit, with Peters, Weldon and Hazen, and the evidence may disclose two or three others, but such persons were not the ones who actually contributed to the fund of money raised, with one exception—"Dutch John."

Plaintiff invokes a rule which admits a mass of testimony as to statements made by Bryan, Starr, Pratt, Shriver and Ramsey relative to the interest they had in such lots and the purpose they had in subscribing their money; such statements being made prior to the time they parted with their interest. Such testimony is surely anything but "clear and convincing," and also in view of the fact that such testimony, while admitted by a peculiar rule, smacks strongly of hearsay and to my mind should be received with great caution.

In considering this case I am not unmindful that Erickson testifies that his money was given for the purpose of buying lots for plaintiff lodge, but such contribution was not given to Bryan, in whom it is sought to establish the trust, but was given to Ramsey, and Ramsey says he did not give the money to Bryan, such purpose nor acquaint him that Erickson had furnished it. If Ramsey violated the confidence and trust of Erickson I cannot hold him liable.

To conclude, I will repeat that I do not find the evidence to establish by a preponderance of testimony that Bryan bought the lots in question for the plaintiff lodge, or that he did so with himself holding the title in trust for plaintiff lodge. I do not come to this conclusion because a greater number of witnesses testified against plaintiff's contention but because the weight of testimony, to my mind, does not support plaintiff.

Our friend Owen (a member of plaintiff lodge), Burton and Starr were clear and explicit; they were not parties beneficially interested herein; they were subscribers to the fund and testify that plaintiff lodge is mistaken. The decisions withheld upon law questions raised by defendant at the time of the trial, and to the admissibility of documentary evidence presented by plaintiff after the trial, will be denied and overruled. The court will prepare decrees, findings of fact and conclusions of law in conformity with the above and forward to me for signature. Dated Sept. 30th, 1907.

EDWARD J. WALTERS, District Judge. The case was keenly contested by Shields & Ashton, F. A. Huttig and Frank W. W. for the plaintiff, and W. P. Guttridge and E. B. Critchlow for the defense.

(Continued from Page 3.) While it is within our power, we should work out a course that will mean peace for the present day and peace for the future years. Now, while evidence is heard asking testimony in our laws, we should consider commercial law, asking for oriental labor; now, I say, is the time for the great west to rouse herself from all lethargy and to say to all the world that for the advantage of a day we shall not bring a curse upon our land; we shall not sell our birthright for a mess of pottage. The west has no spirit or hostility against either China or Japan. The west has only highest hopes for those old countries. We are proud of their intellect; we admire their love of nature; we glory in the success that the last century has brought to them. We deny them nothing that we are not willing that they deny us. We wish them untold blessings through future years, but we want their unfolding to be on their own land. Loyal to American institutions, loyal to American labor, loyal to American blood, the west should send a warning to the American people, to the Chinese and Japanese alike, that however close our commercial relations may be such race, or color, or the other free, under the guidance of Almighty God to work out its own great destiny."

"JEROME"

Jerome, the City of Wonders, The newest Idaho town.

It has no place upon the map, Nor has it a city gown.

But on the last of September, The year nineteen ought seven,

A host of purchasers gathered To make it a future heaven.

Between the hours of one and seven, The time of setting sun;

Full ninety thousand dollars In town lots cash had won.

The city, lately christened, Was opened for review.

From many states of the Union Good men and women,

Had gathered for the drawing For the finest of earth's land;

And all had come with money, Good men and women,

Their fondest expectations Were more than met that day.

By the North Side Water company, Was had, grandly paved the way.

For the finest city ever seen, With fertile land each side,

Where plenty and contentment All may in safety bide.

With electric light and now shining At the close of this first day,

Along the public way, No city ever has compared

With this city of Jerome, Each man who reads

These humble lines Should here seek make his home.

A FATAL MISTAKE

Is Often Made by the Wisest of Twin Falls People.

It's a fatal mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills.

Serious complications follow. Doan's Kidney Pills cure them promptly.

Don't delay until too late. Until it becomes diabetes—Bright's disease.

Frank Schell, the well known retired veteran, residing on Cleveland avenue, North Pocatello, Idaho, says:

"Ever since I left the army, at intervals I had pain across my back. It grew much more severe in the fall of 1902 than it ever was before and I was compelled to do something for it. I called on a druggist and told him about my condition. He recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I took his advice. Before I finished the box, the pain in my back ceased and I noticed that the rheumatic pains were lessened. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation and I endorse the claims made for them."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

TOOK PITY UPON BUHL BACHELORS

MRS. EVELETH FEEDS HUNGRY MEN.

Great Activity in the Realty Market—Land Seekers Are Invading the West End in Force—Bridge Across the Low Line is Almost Completed.

BUHL, Idaho, Oct. 3.—About 200 people from Buhl and this end of the river went to Twin Falls Friday to take in the fair. It was Buhl day, there and we were in it in large numbers.

Dave Ford took the blue ribbon for watermelons raised at Mud Springs two miles north of Buhl.

The Fair residence will be the first first-class one on the townsite.

The Buhl Pioneer has moved its office into the Shirley building on Broadway, where it will have more room to spread.

Mrs. Geo. L. Eveleth took pity on a few of the old bachelors and summer widowers and treated them to a feast of chicken and other good things at the Buhl Inn.

Mr. Geo. L. Eveleth took pity on a few of the old bachelors and summer widowers and treated them to a feast of chicken and other good things at the Buhl Inn.

John A. Jacoby fell from a horse Friday and was severely injured. Dr. Boyd was called from Twin Falls yesterday and found Jacoby with a broken leg.

Mrs. Jacoby took the patient to Pocatello last evening for treatment.

Dr. Monroe is in Boise attending a meeting of the medical association.

There was a grand opening of the Howard & Talley saloon on Broadway last night and there was a high old time. Everybody present was happy.

Mrs. Davis, the hotel cook, is on the list and Mrs. Ethel Jacoby is doing the cooking and doing it well.

H. M. Wase of Kansas City was a Buhl visitor last week.

L. J. Lundquist of Boise was a business visitor in Buhl Thursday.

M. D. Good and M. B. Osborne of St. Joe, Mo., registered at Hotel Buhl Thursday.

Laura B. Danagh of Seattle was a guest of Hotel Buhl for several days last week.

J. M. Johnstone of Seattle, Wash., was a landseeker on this end of the tract Friday.

Robert A. Devers of Seattle, Wash., was looking for a new home in the vicinity of Buhl the latter part of last week.

W. J. McDonald of Ellensburg, Wash., took several rides with Ed Braun the early part of this week.

C. L. Conbright of Knox, Ind., was a prospective land purchaser visiting Buhl Monday.

E. B. Barnes of Maple, Minn., was a Buhl business visitor Saturday.

W. R. Smiley of Hemet, Cal., was looking over this end of the tract Tuesday with a view to filing on some of it.

returned home yesterday. Walter Louck came away from Buhl, after coming back yesterday after an absence of a few days in Twin Falls. They all come back to Buhl.

D. B. Plus of Buhl was a Buhl business visitor Tuesday.

School opened Monday with a large attendance.

The bridge across the low line canal will be finished and ready for traffic in a few days. The ranchmen in the vicinity are glad of the work.

Mrs. Fred Kraus went to Twin Falls Friday to take in the fair.

The crowd and left Fred at home to look after the pigs and chickens. Fred says the Irish are all right when one is in the city and they are not so good to have the whole family go to the fair and let the old man cook the apples himself.

Mrs. L. M. Lucy of Twin Falls was in Buhl Friday taking subscriptions for ex-Senator Dubois' magazine, the Idaho Scimitar, and secured a large number of subscribers.

Doubtless the public is intensely interested in the controversy between myself and the Buhl Pioneer.

We are such great and prominent persons, don't you know. But for my part I will close the case as I shall not take any notice of whatever, if anything, the Pioneer may say hereafter on the subject. I should not have taken any notice now of its alleged effort in its last issue to say nothing, but having considered that it is young and like all young things, prone to err, I resolved to lay aside my animosity to personalities.

My animosity to personalities is a personal matter, and I shall not take any notice of it. I shall not take any notice of it. I shall not take any notice of it.

SIMPLE LIFE FOR EVERETT SWEETLEY

POPULAR—YOUNG—ATTORNEY
WEDS IN SPOKANE.

Brings His Charming Bride Home to Twin Falls, Where His Old Chums Give Them a Hearty Greeting—The Diamond Will Know Him No More.

The following account of the wedding of Everett M. Sweetley and Miss Hazel J. Brown of Spokane is taken from the Spokesman-Review:

In the midst of a veritable fairland of flowers, lights and music, Miss Hazel J. Brown became Mrs. Everett M. Sweetley last night at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown, pioneers of Spokane, on Moran prairie. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. G. William Gibney of the First Presbyterian church, taking place before any of the guests had been invited to the house. The bride and groom were met at the door by the bride's father and mother, and the wedding party entered the house.

EVERETT M. SWEETLEY.

Reception at Home. The reception which Mr. and Mrs. Sweetley received on their arrival in Twin Falls was what might be termed robust. It was long and sincere and cordial, and short in conventional form. Among the young men of this age in Twin Falls Everett is regarded as a great big, hearty, brainy, good hearted and good natured boy. To them he is plain "Everett," always ready to come to the aid of the party when necessary.

Although it was raining when the train pulled in, the boys were there in force. Jimmy Gallier furnished the bridal carriage, a long, low, rakish vehicle, to the tailboard of which two lengthy strings of old shoes were fastened with baling wire. On the sides were two large white sheets with pink hearts. The big slick, which had brought joy to the hearts of the Twin Falls baseball fanatics on many an occasion and has saved many a dollar for those who followed the fortunes of the local club, was suitably draped and inscribed. Charley Maculey, Jack Voorhees, Oren Stalker, Jimmy Gallier, Morgan Heap, Ed Kuhl and a score of others met the popular couple. After perceiving Everett with the boys kidnapped him and took him to the carriage. On the way he was presented with the prize winning sunflower and the prize winning potato from the fair. Miller Evans sat beside the driver, Oren Stalker, and played the drum when he was not making announcements and through a megaphone, while Jimmy Gallier took the horn. "Doc" Bedford was pulling hard to join the procession and get even for his reception, but he missed connection. The carriage was driven sedately from the depot to the Sweetley home and everybody knew what it meant. The bride, meanwhile, rode in a survey with her father and mother-in-law. Everett was duly caressed and congratulated and there was nothing namby-pamby about either. The boys were glad to see their popular comrade back and their well wishes to the bride and groom came direct from the heart.

Mr. Sweetley has announced that the diamond and the gridiron will know him no more. He has renounced the strenuous games in which he proved himself a master. Still, of course, if Twin Falls was behind and the game was close and a bit needed, why—no you never can tell. Mr. Sweetley is the most popular player that ever lived in Twin Falls. He is a gentleman of the finest type. That he will succeed in law as he has succeeded in everything else he has undertaken is a conclusion long since reached by his legion of friends. The heart-felt good wishes of the people of Twin Falls are extended to Mr. Sweetley and his charming bride and "may they live long and prosper."

The ceremony itself was beautiful in its simplicity. With only a few friends and relatives present, a small party with its white flowers made an excellent place for the wedding, and the service was an impressive one. The bride wore a trailing wedding gown of white lace, and entered the room in the arm of her father, who gave her away. The ring service was used by the Rev. Mr. Gibney. Karl Browne, a younger brother of the bride, acting as ringbearer. He was dressed to white, as was the flower girl, Marjory Browne. The two bridesmaids, Miss Lenora Herrin and Miss Irma Browne, wore blue, and Mrs. J. J. Browne, the bride's mother, was dressed in white lace. Mrs. Hamilton, the matron of honor, wore a gown of blue and white trimmed with rose point lace. Elsworth Thorpe acted as best man.

During the reception light refreshments were served in a dining room. The guests were given small pieces of wedding cake as souvenirs of the occasion, and punch was served. The dining room was decorated with strings of purple and white flowers, and vases around the room were filled with carnations.

Between 100 and 200 guests were present at the reception, which followed the wedding. A special electric train of three cars made two trips from the city, arriving at the house at 8:30 and 9:30, and making two other trips to return the guests to the city.

The bride and bridesmaid have kept their wedding trip plans secret. They will make their home at Twin Falls, Idaho.

Fit Me Out

Just say these three words to us, Mr. Young Man, and we will fit you out in less time than it takes to get a first-class meal.

THERE'S A REASON for this, and that is that we have the particular goods that young men like. We have the snappy Browns which are so popular this season.
