Council Decides to Open Ninth Street to the Depot—Walter Craven Sworn
In as an Alderman—New Building

At the regular meeting of the city council on Monday evening J. Walter Craven was sworn in as an alderman from Ward No. 2 to take the place of P. A. Dean resigned. The induction of Alderman Craven was an impressive ceremony. The new alderman had just returned from a long drive in the hills. He was actively attracted to khalis, high lace shoes and sombrero. He greeted the flock Mr. Craven wore just around six o'clock when it is a large flock of sheep. He was attended by two friends who stood by him during the ordeal. Mayor Voigt, after assuring himself that Mr. Craven's temperature and pulse were normal, turned him over to the ranch. When the mayor, speaking in a rich, mellow voice, reached that part

O. M. Gaut was granted permission to build a cement crossing on Main street in front of his place of business. It was decided on Ninth street to erect a monument to the dead. He was notified to provide a crossing. Mr. Headland was appointed building inspector vice E. A. Moon, who is in southern California. The monument was erected on the corner of Main and Ninth streets for the season and it was decided to curtail expenses on the park by laying

The city attorney was requested to prepare an ordinance, prohibiting the riding of bicycles on sidewalks.

A committee was appointed to devise means for cleaning out the street laterals, many of which are clogged with weeds and grass.

A petition was received asking for the creation of a lateral sewer district in the northeastern portion of the city, that section bounded by Shoshone and Eighth avenues. This was referred to the sewer committee.

The usual number of bills were audited and approved.

HEAVY MAJORITY WAS CAST AGAINST IT.

Even In Twin Falls Precincts Only 13 Votes Were Recorded for the Bonds While 63 Were Cast Against Them—Returns Are Incomplete.

Evidently the citizens of Twin Falls county do not believe in spending money for jails. At the special election held last Saturday for the purpose of passing upon the proposed bond issue to build a county jail, the proposal was barred deeper than the Snake river canyon. The popular inpression seems to be that there should be but one bite off the cherry, and that both governments should

NEW DAY DAWNS FOR OLD PIOCHE

RAILROAD WILL CAUSE GREAT AWAKENING.

Many Large and Rich Ore Bodies Which Could Not Be Worked on Account of Transportation Problems Will Now Be Profitably Handled.

The citizens of Twin Falls who are stockholders in Pioche mining properties will read with interest the following extracts from a report on the camp written by James W. Abbott for the Scientific and Mining Press:

For years Indian hostilities delayed the opening of the camp, but each year visits were made to it and many of the locations were kept alive. In 1858 F. L. A. Pioche donated Charles E. Hoffman to purchase for him some of the rich claims. Pioche was a native of France, an argonaut of '48, and reputed to have been very rich. Hoffman was a metallurgist of considerable note. He secured for Pioche some of the best claims, which the latter conveyed to the Meadow Valley Mining Co., a corporation organized by him for that purpose. This company soon acquired other properties and became one of the two principal factors in the region, and Pioche's career came to an end as Pioche.

John H. Ely and William H. Raymond, who had been operating unsuccessfully in a district considerably further east, in a little while after Hoffman and secured an option on the Burke claim, which soon developed into a high grade mine. They then organized the Raymond & Ely Mining Co., which at once became the great rival of the Meadow Valley.

The surface ore was principally horn silver (chloride), argentite (silver sulphide), galena (lead sulphide) and cerussite (lead carbonate); in varying proportions. Naturally the first attempt to reduce them was with crude furnaces. The necessary material for these was hauled on mules back from Elko on the Central Pacific railroad. It had come by way of San Francisco around the Horn, for the railroad still lacked hundreds of miles of a connection with the Union Pacific. The fire-bricks came from Glasgow, Scotland, and were said to have cost over a dollar apiece.

It was a most wasteful process, but the ores were so rich that it yielded a profit. Hoffman had added another furnace, a Frenchman named Chubar had erected one, and so had Raymond and Ely. Before everyone realized that the excessive cost of fuel and fluxes, of shipping the lead-silver bullion to distant refineries that levied heavy charges, and the impossibility of obtaining sufficient lead to recover all the precious metals in the rapidly increasing output of ore, necessitated the adoption of some other method.

Raymond and Ely brought in a five-ton mill that they had used in their southern operations, and erected it near Panaca on a natural millsite, which came to be known later as Bullionville. It was a crude affair, crushing wet, with 750-pound stamps, vats, pans and settlers. The ore was simply crushed and amalgamated in the pans, without chemicals or heat. For many months they crushed ten tons per day, half the precious contents went into the tailings; there was a cost of $30 per ton (which probably included mining and hauling), but there was a daily profit of $500, and the Raymond & Ely Co. prospered greatly.

The Meadow Valley Co. erected an elaborate 20-stamp mill at Dry Valley, 10 miles east of Pioche, at a cost of $100,000. Their metallurgist was Alexis Janin, who had acquired valuable experience at White Pine. Here the regular Washoe process was practiced with salt-copper sulphate and heat, but the ores were treated raw. The amalgam was strained in boiling water. At this temperature the lead, remaining liquid, comes through with the quicksilver and a much higher grade of bullion is produced. As the lead amalgam cools, the lead crystallizes out, so that at the next straining, cold, the lead remains in the bag and lead bullion, low in silver and gold, is obtained.

Production increased with astounding rapidity and with it a pathetic call for help to treat the ore. The Pioneer five-stamp mill of the Raymond & Ely was followed by one of ten, soon enlarged to 20 stamps. Then came a custom 15-stamp mill with a steam-furnace in which the ore was roasted with salt to convert the gold and silver to chlorides. Then came another ten, the Highland and Ely 20-stamp battery crushing dry with its chloridizing furnaces, and still another 10 stamps. All of these were erected at Bullionville. The Dry Valley mill was enlarged to 30 stamps, a 10-stamp plant was built in Condon canyon, a 20-stamp in Pioche, and the Mendon 10-stamp at Highland, eight miles west. But these did not fill the needs and ore was sent to Silver Park, 42 miles to the north, and even to White Pine, 100 miles away.

A smelter was built at Bristol, 20 miles to the northwest, to treat the rich ores of that locality, and later a stamp mill with pans and settlers was erected, and still later another smelter. All this activity meant life at full tide.

The Pioche range is an east and west anticlinal fold, about 15 miles in length, with Pioche near its center, joining on the west the Highland range, the general direction of which is a little west of south. The formation normally consists of Cambrian quartzite below, shale in the middle, and limestone on top. The composition, texture and metamorphic condition of each member differs in different places, but the quartzite is hard and tough so that there is little tendency to disintegration either at surface or underground.

Facing the town there is a typical Mesozoic vein. It runs nearly east and west, approximately parallel to the anticlinal fold in the quartzite, which has been raised between two fault-planes, to a height considerably above the flanking members. This vein splits.

Several hundred feet south of this vein, between it and the top of the mountain and also running approximately east and west, is a porphyry (rhyolite) dike, which has probably played a controlling influence upon the formation of the ore bodies in the hill. Running into this dike in various directions, through it, across it, and alongside of it, are seams of all sizes and kinds. Upon the veins and seams above described were located the claims of the numerous companies whose varying fortunes constituted in the main the history of Pioche, a history so complex and involved that no analysis of it could be made in a short article. Homogeneity from the railroad has been a change in the character of the veins—depth was gained, legal controversies, quarrels about how the drainage should be handled, and the water problem generally below 1200 feet, frustrated gambling on the San Francisco stock exchange, the failure of the Bank of California in 1875 (which bankrupted the principal stockholders in both the great companies) were all contributing factors in the decadence and final paralysis that followed the boom.

A new day, has dawned for Pioche. When the railroad comes the mines will again be opened. Large quantities of ore that could not be handled profitably in the early days are still left in the various properties. Much virgin ground exists above the water level, the vein dips toward the porphyry dike in which splendid bodies of ore were disclosed before the pumps were pulled. What is to be found where the vein and the dike join will not be known until the junction is reached, but there is reason to expect important ore-bodies. The old dumps at Bullionville, Dry Valley, Condon canyon, and the mines of the district possess ore known to be worth $5,000,000, and this material will all be profitably treated. What the district has actually produced in money-received for ore and bullion will never be known. There is good reason to believe that it exceeded $10,000,000. This came principally from high grade ore. The new Pioche will be able to produce a large tonnage, with all facilities for handling medium grade complex ores. Gold, silver, lead, copper and zinc in large quantities are now found in Pioche and its tributary camps.

The Nevada-Utah Mines & Smelters Corporation owns the property once held by the Raymond & Ely and Meadow Valley companies, including some of the best mines in the Bristol district, the Hot Moon and Manhattan groups and its joint holdings with the Ohio-Kentucky.

The Ohio-Kentucky Mining Co. (a Newhouse corporation) owns a group of which the Susan Duster, a comparatively new discovery of great promise, has been most developed. A porphyry dike having no known connection with the main porphyry dike of the region runs through this property. The company owns jointly with the Nevada-Utah some of the best of the old mines on the main porphyry dike. The Phoenix Reduction Co. (another Newhouse corporation), owns an extremely valuable group of silver lead-iron claims near Pioche and the tailing piles at Bullionville and Dry Valley. Other companies, some of them owning deposits of large value, are actively at work, and most of them will be shippers as soon as the railroad reaches Pioche.

HIGH PRICES ARE PREDICTED

Shortage in the Sheep Supply Predicted by Feeders.

"Prices in the sheep house will rule high all winter," said J. M. Wilson, the Kansas feeder. "It is a safe prediction that the market will be maintained at the highest figures at which the market will bear. That is always the limit. When the consumer balks something happens."

I have surveyed the entire winter feeders' field and can see nothing but a shortage. Out in Colorado they claim the output will be 50 per cent less than last year, but that does not apply to the northern part of the state. In the San Luis and Arkansas valleys the deficiency will be great as they are going to hogs and other specialties. Northern Colorado, believe, will feed nearly as many lambs as last year, but the big crop of fat sheep sent from that section last winter to Omaha and Chicago will be missing as they cannot get the sheep. Neither Kansas nor Nebraska will feed as many lambs as last year, corn not being a good crop in the big hay districts. The feed bill is what concerns everybody, especially with feeders at the highest prices on record.

"Feeders are detaching terms to feeders out on the range. Formerly it was the custom to buy lambs at a price that included freight paid to the Missouri river, but now the breeder insists on weighing them up at home with 12 hours' shrink, wet or dry. Colorado has bought a lot of lambs at 5 1/2 to 5 3/4 cents on this basis, and several bands of Idaho lambs have been contracted straight to go on feed for a short period at $7.75 to $8.50. The Knollin band of Idaho lambs were bought by a Colorado feeder at $5.50, weighed up at Soda Springs. These prices are if anything higher than eastern feeders are paying at Chicago; in fact the remarkable feature of the trade this season is that the farther west the intending buyer goes the dealer he finds the goods, Idaho and Missouri have been hungry for lambs at $6.50 to $7.10 and sheep at $5.25 to $5.40 on the Omaha market, and Missouri has grabbed the lion's share. That state will put in more than lambs than last year, while Iowa will be short. As to Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, there need be no two opinions. Feed lots in those states will be bare as they simply cannot get the stuff. Wyoming and Montana have a 50 per cent shortage in lambs and are holding back ewe lambs at that. There is no abatement to the abnormal demand for yearling ewes in the west. They are worth $5 any where, hence the breeder has no inducement to send them to Chicago or Omaha to get $6.75 or even $7. In many sections it is absolutely useless for an outsider to try to buy anything, local bidders having the preference always and they are letting nothing get away."—Breeder's Gazette.

While taking his children home from school in the buggy the team became frightened by the dropping of a tug and proceeded to demolish things. The buggy was turned over at the bottom of the coulee and all the occupants spilled out. The team broke loose from the rig and ran home. Although the children were badly scared no one was hurt.

Various games were played and delicious cake and lemonade were served. All voted the plan a grand success.

The gang of Japs who have been employed here by the railroad company, in charge of M. P. Anderson, suddenly decided that they could make more money in the beet fields so left in a body. The company has been unable to replace them as yet, the outfit cars remaining vacant.

Reliable information regarding the city and county generally and the Twin Falls Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Entered as second-class matter, December 12, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The postoffice department has decided to take no further action for the present in the matter of establishing a mail route from Three Creek to Twin Falls. The only bid received was at the rate of $6500 per annum, while the department is now paying but $3300 for the service by way of Bruneau and Hagaman. The distance covered by the present contractor is much greater than the Twin Falls route and it is hard to reconcile the two bids. One would seem to be too high and the other too low. In bidding for government contracts, some men appear to believe that they cannot put their figures too high, while other bidders are so anxious to get the work that they will take it at so low a price that they cannot make expenses. In the case of the low bidder the government seldom receives the service required. To supply remote stations like Three Creek is an expensive task for Uncle Sam. The claim has been made that the postal department is always ready to accommodate the larger eastern cities at any cost while the small western outposts suffer. While this is probably an exaggeration, it is nevertheless true that the department fails to appreciate the fact that it costs more to conduct mail routes in the west than it did a few years ago. The Three Creek route would require three competent drivers and these men could not be secured for less than $600 per month and round. This would mean $2160 to start with as a salary list. When the cost of horses and equipment is added the expenses run up rapidly. How the present contractor can afford to furnish the service is a puzzle.

According to a poll of Republican congressmen, editors, legislators and party leaders taken by the Chicago Tribune, Hon. William H. Taft is the choice of the middle west for the presidency. The total vote for Taft for first choice was 944, for Cannon 191, for Fairbanks 159, for Hughes 131, for Knox 19, for La Follette 239, for Roosevelt 158, for Landis 26, for Cortelyou 17, for Root 45, for Shaw 30, for Cummings 38, for Beveridge 32. For second choice Taft received 322 votes, Cannon 259, Fairbanks 147, Knox 121, Hughes 660.

Perhaps the most significant feature of the canvass was the sentiment shown in the answers to the following questions: In response to the question, "Do you approve the progressive policies of the president?" the vote stood "Yes" 1569, "No" 65. In reply to the question, "Do you prefer a progressive or conservative man for his successor?" 1435 votes were cast for a progressive man and 176 for a conservative. This shows conclusively the strong hold which President Roosevelt and his policies have upon the people of the middle west.

The states canvassed were Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas. According to the returns Taft would have received the vote of 160 delegates, Cannon 54, Fairbanks 30 and La Follette 26.

Before winter sets in some work should be done on the Twin Falls roads. The recent rains puddled them down well and with a little filling and grading now they should pack down well for the winter. There is an immense amount of farm products to be hauled this fall and the roads cannot be too good.

Notice for Publication—Final Proof.

I, Peter Lheureux of Twin Falls, who made entry No. 1242, under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of Idaho, commonly known as the "Carey act," approved March 2, 1899, which embraces the N⁴ of NW¹ section 32, township 10 S., range 16 E., do hereby give notice of my intention to make final proof to establish my claim to the land above described, and that I expect to prove that I have reseeded on, reclaimed and cultivated said land as required by law, before E. B. Williams, representative of the State Land Board, at Twin Falls, Idaho, on the 9th day of November, 1907, by two of the following witnesses: Louis Reaume, Byron O. Barnes, Thomas M. French, Joe Fix, all of Twin Falls.

HOW DUCKS ARE SHOT IN MEXICOPRIVILEGED NIMROD USES A
HOWITZER.Is Only Allowed One Shot Per Month
but Makes an Awful Killing—Pours Lead by the Pound into Flock on Preserve Near the Capital.

The duck hunters had returned from the Dry creek reservoir and were recounting their experiences. Their hard luck stories fell upon sympathetic ears. Such expressions as, "I led the flock a city block and still shot behind them," "There was the time I needed a dog the worst way, just lost two railroads which I should have had," "Just broke his wife and he ducked into the brush before I could reach him," "Made the prettiest double you ever saw, both mallards," were being handed about when Heber Sorenson, fresh from Mexico, broke in.

"You fellows are not in it with the Mexicans," declared Heber. "There is where they have it down to a science. I'll bet that Pete Holman, Will Taylor, John Maxwell, Billy Burton and George Fraser with all his dogs couldn't kill as many ducks in a week as the man who supplies the city of Mexico could bring down with one shot."

The boys looked wise and tapped their foreheads significantly. "Too bad," they muttered. "The tropical sun got to his head. Used to be such a nice fellow, too. Good thing the hospital will soon be finished."

"The hunter I refer to," continued Heber with a few hard pulls on his pipe, "has a clutch on the duck market. He enjoys a concession from the government which gives him the exclusive right to shoot ducks on a lake about six miles from the city of Mexico. This lake is a great resort for wildfowl, being the only body of water in the vicinity where ducks congregate in great numbers. It is not a large body of water and at times the surface of the lake is completely covered with birds. The hunter I speak of has a big bellmouthed cannon which he fills to the muzzle, so I understand, with shot. He is only allowed to fire this cannon once a month but when the big noise occurs you can get a duck dinner in the city for two bits. The weapon is trained in such a way as to sweep a large section of the water surface and when the ducks are thickly massed in that section the lake is lighted. After the shot is fired three or four men with boats are sent out to pick up the ducks, a task which often takes several hours. If Fraser's Irish water spaniel was to see that mass of ducks on the water who would have a fatal fit right there. Nobody is allowed to fire a shot near that lake excepting the man with the cannon. On other waters anyone can shoot Jacksnipe for $1 a dozen in the city of Mexico, and you can get quail on toast at any time for six bits. Now I guess that will hold you fellows for a while."

RECENT INVENTIONS PATENTED

Which Tend to Improve Machinery on the Farm.

Gang-plow, by A. Thompson and G. P. Labaree, Salem, Ore.—The invention is particularly useful in connection with gang plows drawn by means of traction engines and the like. One object is to provide a plow having a plurality of plow shares for the purpose of plowing a number of furrows simultaneously, and having means for automatically raising the plows from contact with the ground when necessary.

Drift attachment, by J. J. Maguire and A. E. Cary, Greeley, Neb.—The improvement is in draft appliances or attachments for plows and harrows, subjected to side draft. The entire attachment may be easily attached to any harrow, pole or tongue. In applying the attachment to the tongue of a grain-drain, or the beam of a plow, devices are employed comprising bifurcated clips, and a horizontal bar or clevis, the latter being bolted to the upper beam and the clips embracing its ends.

Band cutter and feeder, by C. Christensen, Crookston, Minn.—This improvement relates to throwing machines, and more particularly to the mechanism for carrying the bundles of grain to the band cutter as they are fed into the machine, and the object is to provide a carrier which may be very quickly and rigidly secured in place when it is desired to employ the same during the operation of the machine.—Scientific American.

BREVITIES

Dr. H. T. Billington left on Sunday evening for his old home in Kirksville, Mo., where he will visit for five weeks.

J. K. Hart has sold the Washington livery stable to James Letich and M. P. Letich of Aberdeen, Wash., who now have charge of the property.

D. H. Hoyt has returned to his old post at the Twin Falls depot. He grew a trifle beefy in Mountainhome but is gradually getting down to weight again.

All Page arrived from Warden on Wednesday to inspect his several farms in the vicinity of Twin Falls. He found himself much richer than he was when he last visited Twin Falls and was exceedingly well pleased with conditions.

Jack Bratten came in from Three Creek this week. Mr. Bratten was accompanied by his niece, Miss Gullfoss, who left on Wednesday evening for Chicago. Jack says the road is in fair condition but could be vastly improved by taking out the rocks.

H. R. Snyder brought in 2276 sheep for the Bryan-Eller farm and A. D. McKinlay from Soldier. He crossed the river at Judge Thibault's ferry on Riverside and reports having had a pleasant trip. The only thing that worried Snyder is the fact that he arrived in Twin Falls with more sheep than he had when he started. He attributes this to the natural increase due to the development on the Twin Falls tract. Everything grows in this part of the state, even flocks of sheep.

The Idaho Produce & Livestock Co., the new company recently formed by J. W. Voorhees, Morgan G. Heap, Ed. Larned and others, has begun to ship grain. During the week the company has paid $1.07 for oats loose and $1.15 for oats sacked. These prices applied to first class oats only and the latter price called for new sacks. The company is reaching out for all the oats it can buy and will begin to buy wheat in about a week. The livestock end of the company will also be worked up.

P. H. Smith has purchased the entire herd of hogs on the Bryan-Eller farm, consisting of thoroughbred and grade Poland Chinas and Duroc Jerseys. This is conceded to be one of the finest herds in the state being extremely well bred and healthy. Mr. Bryan intends to devote his attention to sheep for a while, having purchased several thousand to feed. Mr. Smith will sell a portion of the herd and feed those remaining for marketing purposes. There are a large number of high class hogs in the terminal that would hold their own in the finest company. Among them is the first prize Poland China boar of the Twin Falls county fair.

All fair premiums will be paid by check and the checks will be mailed so soon as it is possible to complete check over the list. This will be done as quickly as possible.

Dr. G. F. Baker will be absent from his office on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, when he will visit Pocatello to be present at the reception of the traveling silver trowel by the Pocatello Masonic lodge.

At the meeting of the Twin Falls Canal association last Saturday the changes in the constitution recommended by Judge Stockinger were taken under consideration and will be brought up at the next meeting on Saturday, October 19.

A sale of state lands in the vicinity of Jerome is soon to be held, but as yet the date of the sale has not been definitely set. There are to be several thousand acres offered, some of which had been within the limits of the new town. It is expected that this sale will be one of the most successful ever held by the state.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McCollum and Miss Elva McCollum are going to Shoshone tomorrow to visit with friends and relatives for 10 days. Mr. McCollum came over from Jerome yesterday. He had been away from home so much during the North Side excitement that his dog attempted to bite him when he opened the gate.

William Schooler, aged 65 years, died at his home one mile north of the Union school on Thursday morning. Undertaker H. E. Hunt prepared the body for shipment to Hagerman, where relatives of the deceased reside. Mr. Schooler was well known among the early settlers of this part of the state and is survived by a number of relatives.

The Twin Falls Land & Water Co., through Sweeney & Sweeney, has commenced action against M. F. Gamble to recover interest charges claimed to be due against the defendant's land under the high line canal out of Cedar draw. The case seems to hinge upon whether or not water was ready for delivery under that portion of the high line in the spring of 1906. The case will come before Judge Walters at the November term.

In the review of the county fair last week two interesting features were omitted in the hurry incidental to the time. One feature which deserves special mention was the performances of the Twin Falls band. A band stand was erected in front of the Babcock building on which the band played every afternoon. The numbers ranged from popular to classic and they were several thousand to see. Mr. Smith all enthusiastically received visitors from a distance complimented the band and the citizens of Twin Falls upon their proof of artistic appreciation. Another pretty feature was the exhibit made by the Twin Falls school. This was gathered in a hurry but it was extremely creditable in all respects.

Attorney General J. J. Gubeen and Robert J. Hayes of Pocatello, who had been over on the North Side for several days, returned to their homes by way of Twin Falls on Saturday. Mr. Hayes bought one of the two lots sold at auction in Jerome paying $4100 for a corner.

Fred Dougherty, George Welshall, George Dougherty and George Welshall were arrested at Rock Creek on Monday on the charge of having "shot up" the school house at that place. They asked for change of venue to Klamath, where they will be given a hearing next week.

There is great demand at present for men and teams. Good work horses command high prices and laborers have no trouble in getting work at good wages. The Twin Falls Land & Water Co. is looking for both men and teams to clean up the internal and general work on the west end and elsewhere on the system.

Heber Sorenson returned on Tuesday from the City of Mexico. He brought back a broad smile, some sanguinary recollections of a bull fight and an excited opinion of Twin Falls. Mr. Sorenson said he enjoyed the novelty of the trip, chiefly because it taught him that there was no place like home, a lesson that he learned years ago but one which is sometimes forgotten.

James A. Waters is nursing an injured thumb as the result of the premature explosion of a cartridge which occurred while he was shooting Jackrabbits. Mr. Waters is death on the rabbit, which are very fond of young trees. As he was placing a shell in his shotgun the cartridge exploded while the breech was being closed and the tip of his left thumb was hurt.

The Carey act land filings on the south side since the first of the month aggregated 4500 acres, an average of 450 acres per day, including Sunday. Many of those who filed are men who have been here for some time and who expressed great surprise when they found that they could secure good land not far from Buhl. The North Side opening woke them up and now they are willing to believe that there is still an abundance of good land on both sides open for entry.

The members of the Masonic order in southern Idaho are deeply interested in the arrival in Pocatello next week of the traveling silver trowel, a cherished emblem of the order which passes from jurisdiction to jurisdiction all over the world. The trowel has been in possession of Wasatch lodge No. 1, Salt Lake City, by which it will be transferred to Pocatello lodge No. 15 on Wednesday, October 16. The receipt of the traveling silver trowel, which is only entrusted to one lodge in each jurisdiction, will be done with great ceremony and all brethren are invited to attend. Those who wish to go from Twin Falls are requested to communicate with C. H. Mull or Dr. G. F. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarr and family, who went to California early in the summer, traveling overland, have returned, well satisfied to remain in Twin Falls.

L. J. Miller is moving his undertaking parlors from the Mosser building adjoining the News office to the Leggett block, where he will have more room. He is now engaged in fitting up his new quarters.

Dr. L. H. Giffon and family have arrived from Webster City, Iowa, and are the guests for the time being at the Hotel Perrine. Dr. Giffon, who is about to open dental parlors in the Boyd building, has rented the residence of Dr. Pike, the latter having moved into a suite of rooms in his main street block.

C. Y. Miller of Maroon, Ill., who owns farm property on the Twin Falls tract, was here during the week attending to his interests. Mr. Miller once sold top price for a quarter section on Sucker flat and he had the satisfaction of having the laugh on those who thought he paid too much. The farm which he bought could easily be sold for $25 an acre more than it cost Mr. Miller.

HANSEN CITIZENS DID NOT HEED ELECTION.

Less Than a Corporal's Guard Turned Out to Vote on the Bond Proposal—Number of Public School Pupils is Increasing.

HANSEN, Idaho, Oct. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ross are rejoicing over the arrival of a new boy. The weight is 11 pounds and the baby is doing fine, likewise the mother.

Professor Hinton has completed his threshing and reports the following yield: 1750 bushels, oats 2000 and wheat 1700 bushels.

Miss Vivian Bixler of the Hansen schools spent Saturday and Sunday at her home at Heyburn.

R. M. Newberry was in the city the first of the week showing a prospective buyer some of Hansen's good farms.

W. Z. Brewer is constructing the new dwelling of P. P. Walton. Mrs. and Miss Law of Soda Springs, who had been spending a few days with Postmaster and Mrs. Rhee, departed for their home Saturday. They were very much taken with the fine crops of the new country.

The election at Hansen Saturday passed off very quietly. Nick Smith, one of the judges, reported that he could not assemble enough citizens to even take an adjournment, to say nothing of opening the polls.

Mr. H. H. Hecox was reported to be working some labor on his ranch this week.

Professor Seranton of the high school was taking a special examination last Thursday and Friday, consequently there was no school in his room that two days.

The professor reports a fair attendance—24 scholars in the upper room and 22 in the lower room. He also states that two other teachers took the examination at the same time as he, Mr. Rose and Mr. Harvey.

Wm. Baker and Ralph Smith were up near Onkley Tuesday and came filed on a desert claim near that place.

C. A. McMaster was in town Wednesday looking for a clerk to assist in farm operations.

Mr. Cheney took the train for Rupert on Wednesday morning.

Word was received from Thomas J. Rauch, now in Spokane, saying that Mrs. Rauch is in good health and that he will start for Hansen as soon as her condition will permit.

Nick Smith made a business trip to Milner Saturday.

Mrs. Edwards was out boosting for our locality Wednesday. She was showing the country to Mrs. Geo. T. Richards and Miss Mary Richards, who are visitors from Colorado Springs.

P. M. O'Brien, who purchased the Baker place south of town last fall, is in our midst. He seems much pleased with prospects on his ranch, and is very much enthused with the future of the whole project and especially the great abundance of power going to waste at the headgate. He is stated that at an early date some prominent capitalists of the northwest would send engineers to this place to investigate the power proposition at the drop on the low line canal.

Notice to Contractors.

Grading of electric line at Jerome, Idaho, and grading of laterals near Milner, Idaho, can be had upon application to the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company.

CALIFORNIA PRICES PREVAIL

Addison Smith so Describes Twin Falls Land Sales.

Addison T. Smith, register of the United States land office, has returned from Pocatello, having accompanied Senator Heyburn that for his way east. Mr. Smith stopped over between trains at Twin Falls, and is more enthusiastic than ever over the possibilities of that country.

"California prices for land prevail at Twin Falls," said Mr. Smith. "Last week a 40-acre tract adjoining the townsite was sold for $13,000, and $1,000 was offered for the adjoining 40 acres. Now towns are springing up over the tract, electric roads and new industries are being projected, which, with the land secured for settlement on the north side recently and the new irrigation projects under way on the south side of the Twin Falls tract, embracing over 150,000 acres, offer opportunities for investment which, it is believed, are not equalled anywhere in the United States.

"There are scores of people from adjoining counties and states arriving at Twin Falls every day seeking land and business opportunities. There is plenty of land open to settlement, and the influx of people will doubtless continue for a long time. Many of the purchasers of farms and small tracts are miners from Butte and the Coeur d'Alenes, indicating the desirability of this industrial class of citizens to secure property of permanent and increasing value."

Mr. Smith was one of the first settlers in Twin Falls, having entered 160 acres near the town three years ago, some of which he recently sold for $200 per acre.—Boise Statesman.

INTERESTING POINT INVOLVED

Action Brought to Test Powers of State Land Board.

A case of exceptional interest, because of its bearing upon the powers of the State Board of Land Commissioners, is now before the supreme court of Idaho. The action was brought by J. H. Pierson of Twin Falls, against the state, Sheriff & Ashton, to determine the right of the state land board to dismiss a contest and deny the right of an appeal.

Pierson contested the entry of Charles S. Loveland, who was at that time state bank examiner and who is now national bank examiner—Mr. Loveland had a farm south of Twin Falls and not far from the city. Pierson contested the entry on the grounds that Loveland had failed to reside upon or cultivate his land as required by law.

The land board threw out the contest for the reason that Loveland had been granted an extension of time prior to the filing of the contest.

From this decision of the board Pierson appealed to the district court. The board refused to recognize the appeal on the ground that its decision was final. Judge Walters is asked to issue a writ of mandamus requiring the board to show cause why an appeal should not be entertained and the land board moved to quash the writ for the reasons already stated, namely, that its action was final. The writ was quashed and from this action appeal was taken to the supreme court.

The statute states that the decision of the board is final until set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction and the question at issue is whether or not that section of the statute permits of an appeal being taken.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Twin Falls women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.

Mrs. E. Burnett, residing at 152 First avenue, Pocatello, Idaho, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most excellent remedy and one that can be entirely depended upon by those who have any symptoms of kidney complaint."

"I suffered from kidney trouble for some time, and one day I suffered from aching pains across my back and through the region of the kidneys. Any hard work about the house which caused an extra strain across my back was sure to cause me much suffering on account of the pains which followed. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and received so much benefit from one box that I procured three others. I am happy to state that they corrected all the trouble with the kidneys, all the annoying symptoms were removed, and I have had no trouble with my back or kidneys since."

For sale by all dealers, price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
