

"CYCLONE BOB" SINKS IN SNAKE

NOT BOB McCOLLUM, BUT THE BIG SNAW.

Goes to the Bottom with a Load of Gravel but Was Raised and is Again in Commission—Eastern Bankers Inspect Milner Dam.

MILNER, October 23.—A carload of laborers was brought in yesterday by Mr. Paris to work on the canal construction.

The party of Eastern bankers arrived in Milner Monday afternoon when they inspected the dam and canal construction, the company house and grounds and various new buildings erected. They left for Twin Falls at five o'clock to make inspection of the canal work at various other points of interest around that town.

Mr. O'Neil and brother of the Donald Grant firm who have taken the contract for the new canal work, have come to Milner to start the work. They are out today selecting a location for their camp.

W. E. Moore of Pittsburgh who came out to Milner and other points in connection with the new railroad returned to the east Saturday night, after having driven over the entire route.

Rev. J. W. Barton of Boise was in Milner Monday and held church services in the evening in the school house which were very well attended. An order has been placed for a fine new cabinet organ which it is hoped will be received before Mr. Barton returns to Milner.

Mrs. D. C. Mac Watters accompanied the Pittsburgh party to Twin Falls Monday afternoon, while in Twin Falls Mrs. MacWatters was honor guest at a very delightful little afternoon card party given by Mrs. G. D. Alkon, and was fortunate enough to win one of the prizes.

Jerome Hill, Jr. of Pittsburgh accompanied the S. Kuhn party of Pittsburgh, financial men to Milner, where he will remain for some little time.

Mrs. M. B. Corcoran, who has been in Milner for a couple of weeks waiting for the completion of their house, has moved out onto their ranch for the winter.

M. T. Miller of Portland, Oregon, has come to Milner to take up residence on his 160 acre farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Henry who were recently married have returned to Milner and taken up their residence in the Smith cottage on Main street. C. R. Larimer has greatly improved his residence by laying new sidewalks and the erection of a chicken house.

Mrs. Jane Grant, mother of Mr. H. R. Grant has arrived in Milner, having come out to make her home with her son this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. MacWatters, Major Reed, Jerome Hill, Jr. and Mr. P. S. A. Bickel returned to Milner last evening on the special train from Twin Falls.

A most delicious fried chicken dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Strong at the company house for the crowd of men who came out from the East, who did not remain in Milner long enough to eat it, but not one scrap was allowed to go to waste, as the entire office force was invited to remain Monday evening and dispose of it which was done to a finish.

There will be a dance in Lynch Brothers Hall on Locust Street Friday evening.

E. L. Bonnet and Sons have moved their meat market from Riverside Avenue to the corner of Locust Street and Riverside Avenue.

Mrs. George Hunt and daughter spent a few days in Burley this week visiting friends.

A tomato vine grown in the company house garden when spread out on the lawn measured a yard and a half square and had a handful of green tomatoes on it, after a great many had been picked.

Mrs. Ellen Pierce is visiting her sister Mrs. Frank Boone in Twin Falls this week.

Mrs. W. G. Smith is visiting friends in Twin Falls for a few days.

The scow "Cyclone Bob" sunk in Snake River with a load of gravel Sunday evening, but was later raised, and is again busily plying the Snake, hauling gravel for the canal work.

H. S. Geary, cashier of the Milner bank, and W. A. Gresham drove to Oakley on business Sunday.

The North Side Company has started a new construction camp near Skeleton Butte to work on the lateral system.

J. H. Hoyer spent Sunday in Twin Falls.

C. A. McClelland spent Sunday in Twin Falls calling on friends.

Harry S. Mowler of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, traveling freight agent of the O. S. L. Ry. spent Saturday and Sunday in Milner the guest of Mr. R. T. McNamara.

W. H. Brown spent Sunday with friends in Albion.

Mrs. O. R. Peterson spent Saturday with friends in Burley.

J. W. Howe spent Sunday in Milner having come up to secure the riding horse he purchased from Mr. G. M. Inappool and take it down to his ranch.

Mrs. George Weldon has returned from Minnola where she has been visiting friends.

A great deal of inconvenience and much disappointment to several people was caused by the O. S. L. passenger train coming in about two hours ahead of the reported time Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. M. A. Burch has gone to Rodney Iowa, to visit her sister for some time.

L. L. McClelland of Pittsburgh who came out with the party of bankers is a brother-in-law of Mr. D. C. MacWatters had enjoyed a very pleasant little visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mac Watters while here.

A large crowd attended the moving picture show in Lynch Brothers hall Monday evening. The crowd was bigger and better than the show.

Mr. E. C. Borring has displayed a great deal of ingenuity in building his house in Milner. It is built in sections and bolted together so that when he is ready to move out to his farm it can be unbolted, hauled out and very quickly set up again.

Not Worrying. "The West is not worrying," said Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in a Washington interview, subsequent to his return from a tour of inspection of the Western states.

The west is not a worryin'! the skies are shinin' clear.

The country is a boomin'! with the harvests keep us humpin' 'jest to stow away the crop.

An' there ain't no indications that the market's goin' to drop.

The West is not a worryin'! she's resin' mighty fine.

An' there's glorious times a-comin' fer us all along the line!

"Prosperity is knockin'!"—echoes on the gentile breeze.

An' the blossoms sing the chorus to the dewdrops on the trees.

The West is not a worryin'! there ain't no cause for that.

When the barns are filled to bustin'—an' the stacks is lookin' fat!

An' the rancher fills his pockets with the greenish-colored roll.

While a prayer of satisfaction wells up from his thankful soul.

The West is not a worryin'! she's lookin' mighty gay!

Why, there ain't a thing, but roses noddin' all along the way!

Not a shadow hides our gladness; not a sign of clouds or gloom,

An' the hull world seems a heaven just a-boutin' into bloom!

The West is not a worryin'! she's chipper as can be!

Everybody's lookin' happy an' contented, same as me.

'Cuz the Lord is our Creator, an' with Him a-runnin' things,

What's the use of us a-worryin' at anything, 'n' jigg!

SCHOOL NOTES

Everyone is very sorry to hear that Professor Parke is very ill with typhoid fever. For over a month he had not been well but he did not give up his work until last Friday. On Monday he was taken to the hospital. Mr. Parke's illness is especially unfortunate for the school at this time because Superintendent Pettei will not be with us after this week. At last report Mr. Parke was improving nicely. The athletic club in particular miss Mr. Parke and the games scheduled with Rupert have been postponed indefinitely. The sympathy of the school is with Mr. Parke and we hope to have him back with us soon.

Scott Lorain of Filer entered the high school this week.

Richard Frary is expected to re-enter school next week.

A musical, under the direction of Miss Manker, will be given in the school auditorium on Friday evening, November 1st, for the benefit of the athletic clubs and is sure to be good.

Perhaps the best program ever given in high school was that of last Friday afternoon. A good portion was musical and it was exceptionally good. Another entertainment will be given on Friday afternoon, November 8th.

Professor Pierce of Albion is expected to act as substitute teacher and especially to fill Professor Parke's place until the latter can resume his duties.

Choice Lands. We own and have for sale some choice irrigated lands, improved and unimproved—that we can sell you on very reasonable terms. The price will be satisfactory, the quality of the land and water supply second to none in the United States.

150,000 Acres of Carey Act Land

$35.50 Per Acre.

75,000 acres were filed upon within 48 hours after the opening at Jerome October 1, an unparalleled record. This shows what people who know think of the North Side tract. Scores of land seekers are now inspecting the tract. Plenty First Class Lan Left. First class accommodations at Jerome. Have you used your Carey act right? Do you know what it is worth to you? Write us and we will show you. All Lands on the North Side Are Well Located. The purest of water has been struck in several places where wells have been drilled. An electric railway will traverse the entire tract. Electric power is now being transmitted to Jerome from the Shoshone Falls plant. The North Side land is warm and is particularly suited for fruit growing. $3.25 per acre in cash is paid at time of filing; the balance is divided into annual payments covering a period of ten years with 6 per cent interest on deferred payments. Under the Carey Act, people who have used all their government rights to take up land can still acquire 160 acres of Carey Act land. Filings may be made by power of attorney when parties intending to file cannot possibly come. Take O. S. L. Ry. to Shoshone or Twin Falls

BIG OPENING AT GOODING ON NOVEMBER 14.

Tract of 70,000 Acres of Carey Act Land Under the Big Wood River Project Will Be Thrown Open, Likewise the Townsite of Gooding.

The next "big noise" in the "battle against the brush" will reverberate from the town of Gooding on November 14, when 70,000 acres of Carey act land under the Big Wood river project will be opened for settlement. On the same date the townsite of Gooding will be placed on the market and there will be great doings in the vicinity.

The Big Wood river project and the town of Gooding belong to the now numerous Carey act lands. The water and the land were there more than 20 years ago when the main line of the Oregon Short Line was built through Gooding, but it took 20 years of hard labor to develop the project which is destined to make Gooding one of the big towns of Idaho.

The Big Wood river project covers 110,000 acres, of which 40,000 acres are tributary to the new town of Alberta on the Halley branch, and 70,000 acres tributary to the town of Gooding, where the opening will take place on the 14th of next month. A portion of the land to be opened on that date lies south of the railway and adjoins the Twin Falls North Side tract. The water for the Big Wood river tract will be taken from the Big Wood and Malad rivers and will be impounded in a reservoir with a capacity of 9,500,000 cubic feet. The soil is a rich, sandy loam similar to that which is found all along the Snake river valley. It will produce anything that can be grown in the temperate zone. A distinct advantage possessed by the Big Wood river tract is that well water can be obtained within easy depth. Another advantage is the proximity of the finest grazing range in the west in the Sawtooth national forest.

Gooding is located central to the major portion of the segregation to be opened on November 14. It is surrounded by thousands of acres already under cultivation on which grain and fruits of the highest quality are grown. For years and winter apples the land in the vicinity of Gooding is unsurpassed and the yields of grain are exceptionally high. The Big Wood river project is spotted with developed farms which demonstrate what can be done with the soil and that portion of the tract in the vicinity of Gooding is particularly favored in this respect. The opening on November 14 will be conducted under the supervision of the state land board and under conditions similar to those which obtained at Jerome where land was sold upon at the rate of 1000 acres an hour for more than 48 hours. Water rights cost $35 an acre, payable in 10 annual installments. A payment of $3 per acre is made when the land is sold. The land costs 10 cents per acre, half cash and the remainder when final proof is made. When the works are completed they will be turned over to the settlers.

A FATAL MISTAKE

Is Often Made by the Wisest of Twin Falls People.

It's a fatal mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ill. Serious complications follow. Doan's Kidney Pills cure them promptly.

Don't delay until too late. Pain becomes unbearable. Urinary disease.

Frank Schell, the well known retired veteran, residing on Cleveland avenue, North-Postoffice, Idaho, says: "Ever since I left the army, at intervals I had pain across my back. It grew much more severe in the fall of 1902 than it ever was before and I was compelled to do something for it. I called on a druggist and he told him about my condition. He recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I took his advice. Before I finished the box, the pain in my back ceased and I noticed that the rheumatic pains were lessened. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation and I endorse the claims made for them."

GOODING

Before You Invest Your Cash, for When You Come to GOODING You Will Come for GOOD!

Why?

BECAUSE—Gooding is the new town on the main line of the Oregon Short Line railway, 16 miles west of Shoshone, Idaho. It has 8 passenger trains through it each day.

Why?

BECAUSE—Gooding is located in the midst of several thousand acres of fine land that has long been cultivated and there are fine buildings, shady groves, orchards and meadows now there. Schools, post office, fine depot, store, hotel and many other things that will add to your comfort.

Why?

BECAUSE—Tributary to Gooding are the 70,000 acres of the Big Wood river lands to be opened November 14, and 150,000 acres of the North Side Twin Falls land opened Oct. 1. The rich and fertile Camas Prairie country and the justly famous Hagerman valley.

BECAUSE—The two Wood rivers flow through Gooding and there is plenty of water, shade, grass, trees. Fine domestic water from wells.

Why?

BECAUSE—Gooding has more acres of fine irrigated land within a radius of 10 miles of it than any other city of Idaho.

BECAUSE—Gooding has already secured the location of a Beet Sugar factory and is the junction of the Milner electric line with the main line of the Short Line.

Why?

BECAUSE—Four different companies are now installing electric power plants within 14 to 20 miles of Gooding the four plants having a capacity of 200,000 horse power.

Lots in GOODING Will Be Sold 1-4 Down, and Balance in One, Two and Three Years.

Townsite Opens November 14th, 1907

GOODING is a GOOD THING and that is why we are PUSHING IT ALONG.

Without straining their memories those who have watched the development of this section of Idaho can recall the time when it required considerable ingenuity to interest a man who had a dollar to invest. Rarely was it possible to induce them to visit the tract. Until F. H. Buhl and his associates, the late P. L. Kimberly and Colonel S. B. Miner took hold of the Twin Falls project and developed it into the greatest irrigation enterprise in the land, capital frowned upon irrigation. When the Twin Falls project was launched, almost every irrigation enterprise in the state was in difficulties. The transition has been wrought by the Carey act and by the foresight and liberality of those who furnished the capital. Everybody connected with both the south side and north-side Twin Falls projects has worked hard and effectively. Those who invested here have fallen into line and labored to interest others. The farmers, the merchants, the newspapers have all done their share to bring the project to the front and they are all entitled to credit for the wonderful success which has been attained. It should be borne in mind, however, that capital made all these things possible. In this connection the visit of bankers representing more than $200,000,000 deposits is very significant. The bankers were brought here in a special train by James S. Kuhn and William S. Kuhn of the North Side company. They came to see what Idaho had to offer investors and it is gratifying to know that they were immediately interested. The state of Idaho is today offering security which cannot be excelled. The feasibility of irrigating the land has been proven and the fertility of the soil has been demonstrated. Markets may slump and industrial stocks may shrink in value to the injury of those who own them, but people must eat and southern Idaho lands will always produce food for man and beast. There is no more stable security than good farm land and Idaho has an abundance. All that is needed is the capital to bring the land under cultivation. When the Messrs Kuhn brought their banker friends to Idaho they did the Gem state a great service. They are spending millions on the North Side and in the development of the electric power plants on the Snake river and Twin Falls will profit thereby. Financial conditions in the east are somewhat disturbed at present but when the scum has been skimmed from the monetary pool, capital will turn to securities which are not affected by the operations of reckless speculators and Idaho will reap the benefit.

NOW FOR THE BIG POTATOES

W. H. Eldridge Offers a Tempting Bait for Big Spuds. W. H. Eldridge of the Eldridge Clothing Co. is offering $1 per pound, or $50 per bushel for potatoes. This is a scandalous price and if Mr. Eldridge bought many spuds he would be broke. It figures out this way: The big potato record has been shattered so often that Mr. Eldridge decided to try an experiment. No sooner was the News with the picture of A. P. Senior's four-pound potato in circulation than a gentleman from Hanson came forward with a perfectly formed potato that weighed five pounds and one-half. There are rumors of an eight-pounder somewhere on the west end. In order to make it worth while for the owners of the big spuds to bring them in Mr. Eldridge has offered a pair of $3 Florsheim shoes or a $5 Stetson hat for the biggest potato brought to his store prior to November 1. Whether he will eat the spud or send it to the Smithsonian Institute Mr. Eldridge did not say. Assuming that the big spuds weigh five pounds each, there would be 12 to a bushel and at the rate of $5 for one potato Mr. Eldridge would be paying $1 per pound. If potatoes were worth $1 per pound all the Twin Falls farmers would be millionaires in short order.

CAME FROM THE ARCTIC CIRCLE

Where the Sun Shines at Midnight in the Summer.
Votaw, for eight years United States commissioner and ex-officio judge at Circle City, Alaska, has decided to locate in Twin Falls and has formed a partnership with Kennedy Packard in the real estate business. Mr. Votaw read about the Twin Falls project in a western magazine and was seized with a longing for green pastures and the good things which are only obtained in an agricultural country. "Circle City is the largest log house town in the world," said Mr. Votaw. "It has churches and schools and it can boast of the distinction of having church bells further north than any other place. The population is cosmopolitan and the camp produces gold at the rate of a million dollars in any capacity as judge I performed many duties, including the marrying of Indians. It was not incumbent upon me to kiss the ladies, however." Mr. Votaw related many interesting and amusing incidents of life in Alaska. For five days in summer the sun does not set in Circle City and it is possible to read the paper at midnight for quite a long period. Mr. Votaw's son, who is five years of age, never heard a rooster crow until he came down from the north. He was so accustomed to condensed milk that he did not relish the genuine product. He refused to eat a ripe pear but he is very fond of those which are canned. Moose-meat is extensively used by the people of Circle City. Mr. Votaw came to Twin Falls in time for the Jerome opening. He contracted a severe cold from which he has just recovered. He considers the Twin Falls tract the best he has ever seen and he is content to cast his lot here.

The Liberal Cigar Store is headquarters for A. G. Spaulding sporting goods.

BREVITIES

A lar and gravel roof is being laid on the Babcock-Leggett building.

J. H. Seaver has accepted a position with the Great Shoshone Twin Falls Water Power company.

Services will be conducted in the Catholic church by Rev. Father Busmans on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Those who took books from the traveling library are requested to return them in order that the same may be exchanged for a new one.

J. K. Hart is building a salo barn, 34 by 50 feet on the corner of Twelfth avenue and Ninth street. It will be a substantial structure with rock foundation and stout wooden walls.

E. N. Flury of Mount Morris Ill. and E. S. Neher of Chicago, who purchased Young's grocery stock, are expected next week to assume management of the store. Both of the gentlemen are experienced grocerymen and desirable acquisitions to commercial circles.

A china shower for Miss Davick will be given on Saturday evening by Miss Greenhow at her home. Covers will be laid for luncheon at 7:30 for the following ladies: Madeline Swartz, Davies, Lewis, Boyd, Sprague, Williams, Stalker, Everett, Sweoley, Bedford, Mull, Larned, Misses Davies, Higbee, McManis, Kate McManis, Perino and Snodgrass.

The Josephine Deftry company, which is playing the week at the rink, has been giving pleasing performances and has been well patronized. The company is well balanced, the plays bear evidence of careful rehearsal and are not larded down with so-called specialties which only serve to mar good plays. The presentations are clean, well selected and enjoyable, being far superior to anything heretofore offered in this line in Twin Falls. The engagement will close tomorrow evening with one of the best bills in the company's repertoire.

Professor T. W. Potter, who retires this afternoon from the office of superintendent of the Twin Falls school, was surprised today by the teachers who presented him with a beautiful watch fob as a token of remembrance of happy days. The presentation was made by Miss Elizabeth Wolfe, the oldest teacher, not in years by any means, but in point of service. Mr. Potter was not expecting anything of the kind, the teachers having kept it a profound secret, and he was somewhat embarrassed. He expressed his profound thanks and the keen regret which he experienced in leaving the school in which he took such a deep interest and in severing professional relations with the teachers who had aided him in making the Twin Falls school a model for the west.

Mrs. Dora Melishemel of Evanston, Wyo., is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Alvord.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Darrow returned home on Monday and are snugly ensconced in their residence on Blue Lakes avenue.

S. T. Hamilton was called to Colorado Springs yesterday on account of the illness of his youngest daughter, Ruth, who is down with fever.

Superintendent S. D. Parke of the Twin Falls school is ill and it is probable that he will be unable to work for some time. He has arranged for a substitute until such time as he is fully recovered.

C. A. Coker of the Twin Falls Land & Water Co. killed three coyotes with a single shot on lateral No. 76 last week. The animals were feeding on a dead horse. Mr. Coker walked under the three when they were being suspended air with our banner. Now, let us hear from Buhl.

The quarantine upon Idaho sheep has been raised and heretofore inspection will be necessary. Idaho is the first state to be thus favored. In view of the fact that a large number of sheep will be fed on the Twin Falls tract this winter, the action of the bureau of animal industry in raising the quarantine will be greatly appreciated.

E. C. Lavinger has decided to locate permanently at Twin Falls. He has purchased real estate in that city and will embark in the furniture business. Mr. Lavinger left for Portland yesterday. While away he will purchase his stock of goods. Mr. and Mrs. Lavinger's friends regret that they have decided to leave Caldwell.

Mrs. Leah Amos has fitted up her photographic studio on the second floor of the Leggett building, two doors west of the Hotel Perrine on Main street. Her rooms are artistically furnished and she has installed all the latest appliances for portrait work, of which she makes a specialty. A neat showcase, suspended at the foot of the stairway, shows some excellent samples of Mrs. Amos' work which have attracted much favorable attention.

A covey of Bob White quail has been located on Cedar draw, not far from the river. The blue quail, or California top knots, are plentiful in all the cañons. Some of the oldest hunters here, the Payette nurseryman, sent a dozen Bob Whites to D. Perrine at Blue Lakes. The birds were seen several times after they were liberated but they seemed to disappear two years ago and the supposition was that the blue quail drove them away. The Boise valley is well stocked with Bob Whites and the Twin Falls tract is ideal for their propagation. They should be allowed to increase and hunters should let them alone until they multiply.

Rev. John Gourley of the Presbyterian church will conduct services in the Maroa school house on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

J. P. Melrose shipped a car of Jersey cows to Shoshone this week. The animals were trailed over to Twin Falls by Messrs Childers and Hoops.

The Twin Falls hospital is practically completed and several patients are now being cared for. Trained nurses have been engaged and the facility for looking after patients are very complete.

Stroud, Carter & Co. have leased the south corner room on the ground floor of the Brothers Smith building on Shoshone avenue; where they will have their real estate office as soon as the building is completed.

The proprietors of the Twin Falls drug store have agreed to close their place of business at 9 o'clock hereafter excepting on Saturday nights. All the stores are equipped with scales and prescriptions can be obtained at all hours.

Agent D. E. Sullivan of the Short Line will pay $26 for the return of his two bulldozes, Monte and Josephine, which were stolen recently. Monte is a red English bulldog of ferocious mien but amiable disposition and Josephine is a white terrier.

C. E. Hibbs, the photographer, has secured space for a new studio on the ground floor of the Commercial & Savings bank. He will equip his rooms with electric lights which will enable him to take pictures at all hours and under all climatic conditions.

Rev. Oscar O. Oils, pastor of the First Christian church of Elk City, Oklahoma, will preach in the Christian church, Twin Falls, on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and will also hold evening service. All are invited to come and hear him.

John Peters, M. N. Pomery and Mrs. Shields, who represented the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Twin Falls at the recent meeting of the grand lodge in Caldwell, report having had a splendid visit. They were cordially greeted by brethren and sisters from all parts of the state and were kept busy answering inquiries regarding Twin Falls. Mr. Peters said he hoped that the grand lodge meeting two years hence would be held in Twin Falls.

Louis J. Miller, the undertaker, has fitted up his parlors in the Leggett building in elaborate style and now has the finest parlors in this state. The reception room and office are in front and are tastefully furnished. The chapel is commodious and artistically finished and the show room is large and contains a beautiful display. Mr. Miller went to considerable expense in furnishing his new quarters with the intention of giving Twin Falls something extra good and he has succeeded.

A beautiful picture of the Twin Falls, in colors, has been finished by G. E. Elsher. The photograph from which the colored print was made is the best one of the falls which has thus far been shown and the coloring is very agreeable. The picture makes a magnificent parlor ornament or holiday gift.

If you should happen to find yourself wearing a long black, slung breast, satin lined overcoat which you never bought, communicate with Miller Evans, Mr. Evans is sporting a coat somewhat similar in appearance, but plus a velvet collar and belt, which fits him all right, but does not quite become his peculiar style of coat. Mr. Evans would be extremely and overestimatingly obliged to the gentleman who has his coat were the latter to make an exchange with him.

To the person who will furnish us with the largest potato prior to Nov. 5, we will present a $5 note of F. J. Evans, Mr. Evans will be obliged.

TREE CULTURE IN SOUTHERN IDAHO

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS FROM FOREST SERVICE.

Need of Windbreaks or Shelterbelts is Shown and the Advantages of Tree Planting Are Pointed Out—What Kind of Trees to Plant.

That rich lands in southern Idaho which have been reclaimed by irrigation may be made valuable to a much greater degree by the judicious planting of trees in the view of a representative of the Forest Service who has just reported on an examination of this region made this past summer.

The territory examined includes the upper valley of the Snake river, the Mialotoka and Twin Falls irrigation projects and the Payette-Boise region. With the exception of narrow strips of land along the streams and among the foothills trees are lacking in the part of Idaho, and winds from the south and southwest which prevail during the greater part of the year are especially severe during the first half of the growing season.

Windbreaks or shelterbelts are badly needed, especially in the sections which have recently been reclaimed, and tree planting for shade will also prove profitable in that it will give comfort and further enhance the value of the land. In many localities there is land which is more suitable for small woodlots than for agriculture and if this is properly utilized farmers will later have a timber supply which will provide material for fence posts, construction and fuel.

A few shade trees and plantations for the growing of posts and poles have been established, but there is urgent need of extensive tree planting throughout the region. Agriculture may be carried on where at least a tenth of the land is covered with trees in the character of windbreaks, shelterbelts and small plantations, which will serve for protection and shade purposes, and will give financial returns which in many cases will not be inconsiderable.

In addition, the presence of trees exerts a beneficial influence upon the climate in that it reduces the velocity of winds and controls, to some extent, the extremes of temperature. Aside from this if species for planting are chosen intelligently, forest plantations will supply timber which does not grow naturally in this region and for which there is a great demand; this statement applies especially to timber of hardwood or broadleaved trees, which includes such species as the locust, walnut, and the ash. The climate in Idaho ranges from arid to semi-arid, and the average annual precipitation is from 10 to 15 inches. Although a few of the more hardy grasses and shrubs have been grown on irrigated land, the production of a crop without the aid of irrigation is uncertain and consequently this method is being abandoned.

The trees best adapted for planting in the upper valley of the Snake river, where the growing season short, are white ash and green ash, honey locust, the Canadian poplar, white willow, Scotch pine, and Norway spruce. In the south central section of the state, including the Mialotoka and Twin Falls irrigation projects, black locust, black walnut, white elm, Carolina poplar, European larch, Scotch pine, and Norway spruce will give the best results.

The Payette-Boise region, with a relatively low elevation and mild climate presents conditions favorable for the growth of a large number of species. The trees best suited for planting in this section, however, are those which have been listed in the foregoing districts: If greater variety is desired, the silver maple, sycamore, and osage orange may be added to the list. Other trees suitable for planting in southern Idaho are white willow, cork elm, balsam of Gilead, red fir, and lodgepole pine.

Protective planting implies the planting of trees to serve as a shelter to farmsteads, orchards, field crops, and stock, and is usually termed shelterbelt or windbreak planting. The absence of suitable native timber near the most of the region lends great importance to the woodlot question. Individuals who have considered the economic side of the question have seen a great demand for woodlot production. Settlers desiring to give part of their farms to tree planting can obtain advice on the best species of trees by writing to the Forester, Washington, D. C., giving full details about location and character of site and stating object of planting. If the right kind of trees are planted and properly cared for the financial returns from the woodlot would almost equal the returns from the agricultural crops.
