NUMBER 7.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE

SUCH WAS VERDICT OF JURY IN DIVINE CASE.

Defendant Recommended to the Mercy of the Court—Sentence Will Be Pronounced Next Tuesday—Great Interest Taken in Trial.

John Divine of Hanson, who shot and killed Al Cummings, a ditch rider at the fork of the canal on the 23d of last August, was found guilty of murder in the second degree on Tuesday next Tuesday. The verdict was brought in shortly after midnight on Tuesday, after three hours deliberation on the part of the jury.

The case excited unusual interest during its progress. The court room was constantly crowded and once or twice it became necessary to close the doors. While the closing arguments were being made by counsel for the state, a number of persons crowded into the hall and people were perched on the window sills within.

Two special venire were called before a jury was selected. The venire was liberal in the use of peremptory challenges. In this connection a remark made by Jess Hawley of Boise, who was associated with counsel for the state, is of interest.

"Now that the case is over and my client cannot be misconstrued," said Mr. Hawley, "I wish to say that never saw such a superior class of jurors in any court. I refer to all to witness. They were splendid jurors, every one, and I consider the county of Twin Falls is fortunate in having such men. It was positive pleasure to question them and I congratulate the Twin Falls bar on their selection."

As completed the jury consisted of Felt, W. M. Spencer, J. A. Woods, T. Higginbotham, Daniel Turnipseed, M. E. Houk, J. G. Scholer, J. Thurber and R. J. Eaton. The evidence for the prosecution as much the same as that introduced in the preliminary hearing of Divine, an auto-memoir statement of Cummings was introduced. Cummings was the man who shot Divine and had shot him at while he was on the ground. The evidence for the defense was corroborated by the testimony of Deputy Sheriff W. H. Smith, who swore that Divine had not shot Cummings. Cummings was still on the ground and had warned him not to advance. This did not harmonize with Divine's statement that Cummings was on top of him in the wagon when the shot was fired. The prosecution allowed the fact that Divine had powder in his hands, while the other did not. This could indicate that one shot had been fired while Cummings was some distance from Divine.

Following is a list of the books on hand: "The Story of the Three Bards"; "Daughters of the Pulpitans"; "Beauchamp and Philosophy"; "Brady"; "The Coming Dawn"; "Beacon Lights"; "Carlington"; "Mrs. Alderman Casey"; "Carpwell"; "A Lady of Rome"; "Chambers"; "Real Soldiers of Fortune"; "Davis"; "The Furniture People"; "Dillingham"; "Hilma"; "Eldridge"; "The Doctor"; "Egerton"; "The Subject of Isabel Carab"; "Fowler"; "Asgard Stories"; "Foster"; "The Fighting Chance"; "Fox Jr."; "A Night on the Cumberland"; "Fox Jr."; "Practical Forestry"; "Gifford"; "Power Lot"; "Greene"; "Letters of a Business Woman"; "Hurling"; "Annual for 1907"; "Hazell"; "Ten Years for Boys"; "Henderson"; "Earning Her Way"; "Johnson"; "The Little Colonel's Hero"; "Johnson"; "Captured"; "King"; "White Fang"; "London"; "The American Frontiers"; "Lowry"; "The Fighting Chance"; "Meyford"; "Lillian and Me"; "M. HANSEN FARMERS STILL PLOWING

FINE WEATHER FAVORS WORK IN FIELDS.

Thrashing Operations Still in Progress—Grain and Hay Shipments Continuous—Hansen Hunters go to the Hills After Deer.

HANSEN, Ida., Dec. 12.—Nick Smith shipped a car of oats to Rupert this week.

J. H. Hinton was hauling out material for improvements Wednesday.

T. J. Rauch reports that his family in Spokane are anxiously awaiting the day when they will start for their Hansen home.

W. N. Rose received a shipment of rubber goods this week.

Chas. T. Pion and wife and Louis Oliver returned from Twin Falls to the head gates on Wednesday.

W. F. Brewer and W. A. Giddy have about completed their contract west of town.

Wm. Baker is assisting Peter Nelson with his thrashing this week.

A. M. Walker was a Twin Falls visitor for the first part of the week.

Barry Kilgough is loading out two cars of hay for the North Side ditch contractors.

T. G. Battledge received a call from the auditor of the Weeter Lumber Co. on Wednesday.

Happy Mansor took the train for Murgham on business the latter part of last week.

H. C. Menke has his fall plowing all completed and is ready for spring seeding. The beautiful fall weather has been a boon to the Hansen farmers and it enabled those who were busy to take their time with their plowing. Unless there is a decided change, it is probable that plowing will be possible all winter. Three years ago this winter the farmers plowed until February and it was only for a few days that the cold weather prevented them from working in the fields. Farm stock on pasture is as fat as butter.

Peter Link sold a car of barley and loaded it out last Saturday.

L. Beahm was a Twin Falls caller last Tuesday.

Jack Craig has completed his thrashing and a reports good yield of grain.

Jess B. Hawley passed through Hansen Wednesday evening on his way to Boise.

A party of hunters started for Snake Basin Monday to set a flock of deer—tracks.

"Margaret's Play Days"; "Paul"; "On New Found Rivers"; "Pope"; "The Second Generation"; "Phillips"; "The Art of Right Living"; "Richards"; "Canada's Canadian Rockies"; "Hornaday-Phillips"; "Good Hunting"; "Rosevelt"; "The Kinsman"; "Sidgwick"; "An American Boy"; "Scoullard"; "The Young Ship Builder"; "Swint"; "The Wings of the Morning"; "Tracy"; "Lads and Lassies of Other Days"; "Price"; "The Man of the Hour"; "Thonet"; "Anna and K"; "Tolstol"; "The World's Best Poetry"; "Young Peoples Story of Art"; "Whitcomb"; "Through Silence of Realization"; "Wilson"; "The Portion of Labor"; "Wilkins"; "Mollister is Going to Be Right Up to Date."

Trees are now being selected for the new townsite of Mollister. They will be planted in the spring and irrigated from a well which will be driven on the townsite at that time. The object is to give the trees a good start in order that they may present a fine appearance when the settlers begin to arrive.

PUTTING IN THE BIG HEADGATES

ON THE NORTH SIDE CANAL AT MILNER.

Concrete Wall on First Section of Canal Completed and Presents Fine Appearance—Water Will Soon Be Available for First Segregation.

MILNER, Ida., Dec. 12.—The Milner Statk bank and attractive new quarters, corner of Electric avenue and Main street. This is one of the best equipped little banks in the state. The large 1000 feet concrete wall near the Milner dam was completed on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The wall presents a very neat appearance and is a fine piece of workmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Martin are at the Hotel Grinnell. Mr. Martin is representing the state on the construction of the canal and headgates at Milner on the North Side canal.

The Donald Grant Construction company is fully preparing for work on its contract. The first of the month it expects to have 200 teams employed.

Work in installing the headgates on the north dam for the North Side canal was started on Tuesday morning.

The new hall on the second floor of the bank building was opened with a dance Saturday evening which was very well attended. This hall has been leased by W. H. Brown for one evening each week and dances will be held weekly. The floor is good, and the hall well ventilated, which makes it very attractive.

George Weidon is building a large house on the rear of his drug store. He will occupy it as a dwelling this winter.

Mr. A. Veigt of Twin Falls spent his day in installing the headgates on the north dam for the North Side canal in Twin Falls.

John C. Porterfield of the Paris-Kent Construction company spent Wednesday in Twin Falls.

Work in installing the headgates on the north dam for the North Side canal was found dead in Webb & Henry's Slaton Tuesday morning. He was sitting upright in a chair and had evidently died some time during the night.

Miss Grace Kierstead gave a very delightful little fudge party at a company house on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Haggood left for Oakland, California, Monday evening. Mr. Haggood had for the past eight months been employed as bookkeeper for the North Side company.

Mrs. E. Tach and son went to Twin Falls on Tuesday to do some shopping.

Mr. H. H. Strong is in Twin Falls today doing some shopping.

MADE GOOD MONEY ON SPUDS

One Farmer Who Found Potato Growing Profitable.

A well-known farmer, who lives near Twin Falls, netted $20 on 10 acres of potatoes which he purchased from a neighbor, after allowing him $100 for the seed.

On another patch of two and one half acres, he netted $70, making the same allowance for labor. He did not obtain fancy prices for the spuds either.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. met in a social meeting with Mrs. D. W. Brunk on Tuesday, December 3rd. The meeting opened with prayer, followed by scripture reading by the president, Mrs. Felt, and reading of the Lord's prayer by all members. The secretary being absent, Mrs. Hauger was appointed secretary, pro tem. The roll call was responded to by 10 members.

A communication from the state treasurer was read regarding the W. C. T. U. state minutes. Five copies of these minutes were ordered and a motion was made and carried that two copies be secured, one for the use of the local W. C. T. U. and the other to be presented to Mr. Eldridge, who was the only one of six Twin Falls merchants to advertise in the state minutes. Five copies of these minutes were ordered and a motion was made and carried that two copies be secured, one for the use of the local W. C. T. U. and the other to be presented to Mr. Eldridge, who was the only one of six Twin Falls merchants to advertise in the state minutes.

Mrs. M. G. Newton very kindly sent a paper on what W. C. T. U. had done in Springville, Utah, which was read by Mrs. Galinger. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Newton for this encouraging paper.

Miss Mabel Duffender brought some of her pupils to the meeting who sang very nicely a little temperance song. Miss Duffender read a telling selection on the evils of card playing and slot machines. After a song by the girls' quartet, Mrs. Smith of the public schools gave a good talk on what W. C. T. U. can do in Twin Falls.

We were also favored with a piano selection by Miss Manker. Refreshments were served and it was voted that each member especially invite some friendly friend to attend the next meeting.

TOWN OF JEROME NO LONGER DRY

MODERN MOSES ARRIVES FROM MILNER.

Tames the Refractory Town Pump and the Pure Spring Water—Once More Gushes from the Lava Rock Beneath the Rich Aeolian Soil.

JEROME, Ida., Dec. 10.—Leo W. Class, superintendent of the power company, was in town today supervising the installation of new lights. In consequence, Jerome is no longer in a state of eclipse but twin lights are shining from the mountains.

Mrs. W. E. Moore of Chicago was a Jerome visitor this week, looking over the North Side land very thoroughly for her friends.

Roy Hastings left on Tuesday for Boise where he will spend the winter. The Jerome waterworks are once more in first class condition.

Sunday evening last Mr. Rafo arrived from Milner with the necessary repairs and, assisted by Mr. Williams, worked all night on the refractory pump. On Monday morning when the citizens awoke there was a full head of water on tap, whereas the populace generally expected. No further trouble is anticipated.

The land sales this week have been very satisfactory. During the past few weeks the total acreage sold easily for about the most good money week in delegation from Wisconsin filed upon a nice tract. The sales for that day were in excess of 1000 acres.

The morning of the most good money coming from the middle west where people are apparently coming to believe that western farm lands are about the best investments on the market of present.

NO LAVA WITH THIS ERUPTION

Something Doing at the Idaho Department Store.

According to historians it has been centuries since there was an eruption of the volcano. The popular impression is that the last eruption was accompanied by a flow of lava, perhaps several flows. Subsequently, according to the reports of the geologists, John Skinner and other authorities, the winds gathered the dust from the southwest and deposited it over the country miles in from the base of the mountain.

The Bert Perrine discovered the Twin Falls tract and the dust began to pour in from other points of the compass. A blow in from the west, however, Idaho people are awake, and where a good thing is appreciated, it is not long before a commission of dust and negotiation is in progress. The business men in Perce county, where business men lay awake at night planning how to lead their competitors.

The eruption which is due on Monday next will take place at the Idaho Department Store under the direction of George B. Banta, representing the Economy Sales company of New York. There will be an awful slaughter in prices and everybody on the tract is invited to lend a hand in bringing down the prices. The price will be the biggest sale of the kind ever conducted in this section of Idaho and should attract people to Twin Falls from every direction. The price line everything goes up the crater and it behooves all to be on hand to catch the bargains as they spout out.

MERCHANTS INDOOR CARNIVAL

Proves an Artistic and Financial Success.

The Merchants Indoor carnival, which was held at the rink on Monday and Tuesday evenings, in which Mrs. C. C. Bedford represent the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Power company. Over a dark costume were loaned. The costumes were appreciated and artistic and the characters were well sustained.

A particularly attractive number was "The Electric Girl," in which Mrs. C. C. Bedford represent the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Power company. Over a dark costume were loaned. The costumes were appreciated and artistic and the characters were well sustained.

"The Huntress" was another enjoyable feature in which Mrs. Mitchell appeared to address. She represented the gun and ammunition department of the Twin Falls Hardware company and the way she brought down birds was very colorful. Pete Holohan turn green with envy.

The performances were well patronized.

SPLENDID STOCK FARM AT YALE

THE PROPERTY OF HON. L. H. SWEETSER.

Magnificent Valley Watered by the Raft River Where Bumper Crops Are Harvested and Where Free Range is Unlimited.

On the map of Idaho, Yale appears as a small speck, located on Raft river near its confluence with the Snake. This point is situated where there is a sharp bend in the river. Beyond this point the river flows in a straight line to the eastward end of Cassia county. It also flows for short distances through Nez Perce and Blaine, but it does not appear to advantage until it is well within the boundaries of Idaho.

Yale was named after his alma mater by Hon. L. H. Sweetser, who graduated from that celebrated university less than 20 years ago. In so christening what is unquestionably one of the most beautiful and fertile valleys in the west, Sweetser furnished the best possible evidence of his love for the great educational institution which has given to the nation so many great men.

Modestly being one of Mr. Sweetser's many virtues, he seldom talks of his possessions. Even the mention of White Orpington chickens of which he has many of the finest strains, will scarcely draw him out. A man who can refrain from boasting of chickens that lay every day, in the year, except in brooding time, is certainly to be commended. Of course, in Mr. Sweetser's case he is justified in not dilating upon this fact for the reason that to do so would necessarily involve Mrs. Sweetser's part in keeping up the high standard of the fowls. Still there is nothing in the social code which inhibits a man from mentioning the excellence of his wife's biscuits or preserves and the same rule should apply to poultry. But the Orpingtons were kept on Mr. Sweetser's Durley farm. A White Orpington is too shilling a mark for coyotes to thrive at Yale where a coyote convention is in continuous session.

Last autumn the writer accompanied Mr. Sweetser on a cattle buying trip through the southwestern part of Twin Falls county. During the journey Yale was frequently mentioned and my curiosity was aroused. On Mr. Sweetser's invitation I visited Yale during Thanksgiving week. We dined on White Orpington on Thanksgiving eve. Fortunately it was dark when we reached the farm, otherwise might not have enjoyed my dinner as well as I did, for after seeing the white breasted I could not help regretting that I had been guilty of eating one of them. A rampant sage hen or a clucking grouse white the appetite of a hunter, but a docile White Orpington with the badge of artifice in the form of a band on its leg suggests something pastoral and humane.

We drove the 30 miles to Yale behind "Walker" and "Prince". Walker is an upstanding bay with a great stride. He is not on speaking terms with the whip and he carries his head like a king of the turf. "Prince" is a blacky little chap, set as a great strider. He holds his head on a level with his withers and bores in every inch of the road. When "Walker" carries him off his stride, "Prince" looks up until the pace slackens enough to let him down. The weather was glorious on Thanksgiving day, and the usually tedious trip from Burley to Raft river was a delight. We passed through miles of the magnificent Goose creek flats, soon to be watered from the Minidoka dam and we saw acres of potatoes preparing for irrigation. There may be a better tract of land than the Goose creek flats but it is not of record. This grand stretch of farms possesses every advantage necessary for successful agriculture. Not a single element is lacking and only the touch of man is needed to produce a greater crop.

We found Marsh Lake as dry as bone, the water having been run out for fall irrigation. In the vicinity of the lake are a number of splendid farms which have been cultivated for years. The soil is similar to that on the Goose creek flats and Marsh creek furnishes the water for irrigation.

When we had been four hours on the road, a long, brown streak loomed up a head of us. It began at what appeared to be a large lake and it strung along southward to the sky line. This was Raft river which, with its brown fringe of willows, looked like a huge, angry worm. As a conformation, the Raft river has the Snake river beaten a city block. It must have been surveyed by some old hunter who had mallards and canvasbacks in mind for the stream offers unlimited opportunities for "sneaking" on the water fowl.

trimmings. Although Mr. Sweetser and I had devoured enough lunch to choke a horse, the orpington we fell upon that turkey and destroyed whatever hopes the house cat may have had for a Thanksgiving feed. I never expect to taste a better turkey. After supper there was a spirited and prolonged contest for the "High Place" championship of Yale. The result of the drive to feed an orpington we maintained that, with a good partner, he can beat any two men in Cassia county and as he is a mighty good fellow nobody will dispute him.

On the following morning we moved back in no doubt. George Flynn maintains that, with a good partner, he can beat any two men in Cassia county and as he is a mighty good fellow nobody will dispute him.

At Yale the Raft river valley spreads out in the form of a half open fan. Sweetser has over 1000 acres fenced, about half of which is under cultivation. The soil is a rich sandy loam, similar to the Goose creek flats. It will grow anything that can be grown in the temperate zone and Raft river furnishes an abundant supply of water for all the land that can be reached by ditching. The flow of the stream is maintained throughout the year and the water right is beyond dispute. To the east and west are magnificent ranges for stock, free to whomsoever cares to use them. It will be many a day before these ranges are encroached upon, even in this era of progress.

Mr. Sweetser is fattening steers and hogs at Yale this winter in co-operation with George Flynn, the mayor of the town. The steers were so wild that they could not be counted and I failed to count the hogs because there were too many. Flynn told me he could not keep track of the increase and he thought the hogs would clean up the entire place were it not for the coyotes who kept them down. Still, it would be possible to double the number of steers and hogs without straining the feeding capacity of Yale. Being only seven miles from the main line of the Oregon Short Line, Mr. Sweetser will have no difficulty in marketing his beef and pork. Although the temptation to make Yale the model stock ranch of the west, a very easy task, is strong in Mr. Sweetser's mind, he has about decided to break up the tract into farm units and dispose of it. His other interests prevent him from giving personal attention to the big ranch and there is too much to be had successfully of irrigation to let any go to waste. Some day Yale will be one of Idaho's beauty spots. It will be so now, in fact, but the opportunities for improvement are so great that they should not be overlooked.

Harding and Tolman are so pleased with Harvard that they propose to remain there until May. Sweetser predicts that if they do stay that long they will never leave as the lure of spring in the Raft river valley is irresistible. They have declared war on the bobcat and coyote families and have already taken several scalps. The wily muskrat, however, still eludes their vigilance, although Tolman has promised to have a try for Christmas. Canvasbacks and mallards are regularly on the bill of fare. Truly, Harvard and Yale are favored spots and lucky is the man who visits them.

Can't Be Separated

Some Twin Falls People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers. You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache. If the kidneys are well and strong the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

BUHL EQUIPPED TO FIGHT FIRE

HOSE CART AND 700 FEET OF HOSE RECEIVED.

Water Thrown to a Height of 70 Feet in the First Test—Check to be Placed in Canal so that Water Can Be Stored for Emergencies.

BUHL, Ida., Dec. 13.—The ranchman living along the section line running west from the northwest corner of the townsite are opening up and building the road themselves, the county furnishing the lumber to build the bridges across the draws and gulches. The ambition of those doing the work to make it the best road in the county. It will shorten the distance between Hagerman and Buhl by several miles and will be an easy grade all the way.

J. G. Smith intends to leave for Kennewick, Wash., in a few days to be gone for a few months.

John Harcolrode, living two miles southwest of town, is on the sick list.

A bridge has been put in across the coulee on Main street, which runs west of the experimental farm, and a box on Main street of J. H. Schooler's heavy stable. The company furnished the lumber and the work was done by the citizens. This was a very much needed improvement and will prove a boon to all those who come into or go out of town in that direction.

O. D. Ferguson returned Saturday from Walla Walla, Wash., where he had been for several weeks on business.

G. H. Munyon, auctioneer, of Ellar came up from the Midway town on Saturday to auction off some personal property belonging to one of the ranchmen living south of town. The property sold easily and brought a good price.

Morton Henderson will leave shortly for Indian Territory to spend the winter, and to take up one of the fair daughters of that aboriginal territory. He will return to Buhl in the spring, with his bride and take up his permanent residence in that ranch three miles south of town.

There will be a dance Friday night in the Anderson billiard hall. Everybody is invited. A good time is promised to all who attend.

The Ladies Aid gave a social at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bolknag, Saturday night. A good time was had, and an enjoyable time was the result.

Buhl has fire protection. The hose cart and 700 feet of hose donated by the citizens, Ralph, Cost, Ross Elison and Frank Evoleth could not wait to get the whole of the fire company together.

They were very busy with their first pair of red top and brass toed boots, who wanted to get them into the mud as soon as possible, they took out the hose cart on Monday morning and tested them at the fire plug in front of the Citizens' bank.

The apparatus worked like a charm and sent the water into the canal.

Superintendent Conway of the water works system, started a gang of men to work Monday morning putting in a check dam in the canal to the reservoir—the low line canal.

The check will be built of wood and concrete and will be used for the purpose of holding water in the canal sufficient to keep the canal several weeks in case of a break in the canal at any point east of the reservoir.

If a break should occur the superintendent will telephone the fact, and he will then shut down the gates to the check which will back the water up two miles or more in the canal holding a large body of water. The check will also be used as a foot bridge across the canal.

Bishop Farnon of Boise, held Episcopal service Monday afternoon across from the postoffice Monday night which was well attended.

W. Knight of Lewiston, Idaho, registered at Hotel Buhl Thursday.

A. H. Bradford of Hagerman was a Buhl business visitor Friday.

Eugene DuBose came in from his ranch in Bunkie Saturday on business. Mr. DuBose will move his family into town for the winter. He purchased the dwelling house of Harry Egan and will soon take up his residence in it.

D. B. Wilson, of Oakley and Robert Smith, of Marion, Idaho, two Mormon bishops, visited Buhl Friday and circulated around among the members of their church that are dwelling here. Their presence aroused the old members and a special meeting of the club was called for the purpose of considering the way and wherefore of the presence of the church—discussing in town. It was decided that their object was no doubt to try to break up the club, whereupon a new and more drastic form of charter was immediately adopted by the club.

Judge C. O. Stockstager was in Buhl between trains on Sunday.

John Maclean of Buhl, Idaho, was a Buhl business visitor Saturday.

Geo. Richards of Twin Falls made a flying business visit to Buhl Monday.

R. A. Allen, former of the Anti-Monopoly Drug Co. has accepted a position with the Buhl Trading company as clerk.

John G. Aker was in town Monday shopping.

Most of the Buhliites who were in Twin Falls attending the session of the district court, returned home, but another batch left for the Magic City Monday night of court business.

Will Syster, who is employed in Ed Brainerd's office, returned to Twin Falls, came up from that town Monday on a short visit.

F. S. Marshall, J. W. Bolknag, Elmer Winars, Henry Thompson and George Bolknag went to Twin Falls on Monday evening on business.

J. W. White made a flying trip to Ellar on Monday evening.

Despite urgent attention, W. W. Trip had to submit to an operation at the Twin Falls hospital on Monday night when his right foot was amputated. He is reported to be doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

J. W. Bolknag, a relative of Mr. Trip by marriage, was present, when the operation was performed.

An operation for appendicitis was performed last Saturday at the Twin Falls hospital upon Olive Thompson, daughter of Mrs. and Mr. W. S. Thompson, who live two miles south of Buhl. The patient rallied well but it was found necessary to perform a second operation on Sunday afternoon.

The result of this operation is reported to be very satisfactory and the patient is resting comfortably.

C. S. Fee, E. W. and Mrs. S. Swanson, G. H. Shermershorn, John Lindstrom and Mrs. Lindstrom were in Twin Falls last week in attendance at the district court.

The Ladies Aid gave a social last Wednesday night. It was necessary to obtain a supply of ice from Twin Falls for the ice cream. Ice is one crop short of the season and, therefore, cannot be raised very well in Buhl.

Archibald Douglas of Boise has accepted a position with the Buhl office, made vacant by the resignation of A. A. Dimitt.

Found Guilty

By a verdict of about 500,000 of the best people in the United States—D. F. Baldwin & Co. have been found guilty of the following, viz:

That they have manufactured Pianos for 45 years.

That they own five large factories.

That they manufacture 28,000 Pianos annually.

That they have a capitalization of $2,400,000.

That they are one of the "Pioneer Piano Firms."

That they have 15 large "distributing stores."

That they sell direct from the factory thus saving the buyer the "Middle-Man's Profit."

That they manufacture High Grade Pianos and try to treat the people right, I'll leave for you to decide.

They had seven of these fine Pianos shipped to Twin Falls with a view of opening a store here, but that idea having been abandoned, they are offering them at almost "Factory Cost." This will mean a saving to you of at least $100 on a Piano. Nothing could be nicer for a Xmas present. These Pianos are on exhibition at the Peoples Drug Store until they are sold.

RUPERT FARMERS HOLD INSTITUTE

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THIS WEEK'S MEETINGS.

Professor French Delivers Interesting Addresses on Stock and Stock Feeding—Elias Nelson Speaks on Irrigation Methods.

Last Monday and Tuesday in the Rupert opera house was held the first farmers institute held on the Minidoka project. The meetings were largely attended, much interest manifested and all kinds of questions were asked the speakers. The speakers were Prof. H. T. French, in charge of the experiment station at the University of Idaho; Moscow; Prof. Elias Nelson of Caldwell, U. S. department of agriculture in charge of irrigation investigations in Idaho; A. E. Gilson of Caldwell, and George Tyler of Heyburn.

The first session was held Monday afternoon, of which Hold Nichols was chosen chairman and A. G. Jackson secretary. Prof. French was the first speaker and he felt highly gratified at the large turnout of farmers. He said the attendance was the largest he had ever seen in Idaho at the opening of a new farmers institute. His remarks were of a general nature dealing with the work of the experiment station at the state university at Moscow.

Monday evening Prof. French spoke on the subject of livestock. He said the standard of civilization of a community could be judged by its livestock. Since 1900, he said, there had been an increase of 23,000,000 head of cattle in the United States. He thought farmers should rather improve than extend their herds. They were three classes of cattle: the beef, the dairy, and the dual—which he explained combined both beef and dairy. The dairy cattle were the Jersey, Gornsey, Holstein, Friesian and Ayrshire. The beef cattle were the Herefords, Polled, Angus, Sussex and Galloway. The dual purpose cattle were Short Horns, Red Polled, Brown Swiss and Devon.

He gave a history of each breed, which was interesting. He said one Jersey cow had yielded 44 pounds of butter in seven days and 1,026 pounds in one year. A Holstein cow had been known to furnish 1,056 pounds of butter in one year. A Short Horn cow had a record of 15,000 pounds of milk in one year.

On Tuesday forenoon Prof. A. E. Gilson, editor of the Gem State Rural, gave a talk on poultry. He started out by saying that it was perhaps the most profitable industry in the world, that over $500,000,000 worth of poultry and eggs were marketed during the past year.

He recommended a chicken of the dual breed, such as combine a good table fowl and good layer, and said of this type the Plymouth Rock, Barred Rock, Wyandotte and Rhode Island Red stood for the best, while the best egg producers are the White, Brown and Buff Leghorns.

Mr. Gilson said that 200 cartloads of eggs were shipped into Idaho each year, and for that reason it would be likely eggs would command a good price for some time to come. He recommended green food, and plenty of warm water for the fowls during the winter and said to arrange the feed yard so that they would be obliged to scratch for the food. This is done by placing hay or straw on the ground of sufficient depth to hide the food. A warm mash was recommended as a morning or noon food and parched corn or wheat should be fed two or three times a week. Green bone ground should also be fed two or three times a week.

ared at him from all quarters of the hall. The principal points in stock feeding brought out by Prof. French were: For pasturage or for hay. Prof. French for any kind of stock and that it is a very bad practice to feed an animal on that food alone. A balanced ration is what is needed. Sugar cane, grain, Kaffir corn or roots should be fed with alfalfa. Corn fodder and alfalfa is a great milk producing ration, as are also peas and oats.

He said there was no urgent need of the silo here, as in this arid climate the fodder will cure thoroughly in the field. French urged the planting of mixed grasses. He said it was an indisputable fact that to sow orchard grass, clover, alfalfa and bromo together furnished either a better pasture or more and better hay than to plant any one of these grasses alone. He does not favor planting Kentucky blue grass, as it has a tendency to crowd out the other grasses. Mr. French was also rather adverse to the planting of timothy but said it was better than alfalfa to feed to horses that are working. His main argument against planting it was that it exhausts the soil, while other grasses act as fertilizers.

Prof. Nelson, who will have charge of the Minidoka project experiment farm, delivered a short lecture on irrigation in which he strongly commended the corrugation system, which he explained to the audience. He said this system is the principal one used on the Twin Falls tract and also in the Yakima valley, Washington. There were those in the audience, however, that stated their opinion as being that the nature of the soil of this project was such that the corrugated system would not be necessary because it is almost certain that this land will sub-irrigate very freely as does the Egan bench land in Fremont county, where one ditch surrounding an entire 40 acre field is sufficient to irrigate it.

STATE NEWS.

The state has filed upon 14,000 acres of land recently selected in Bingham county.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has completed its grade across the state of Idaho.

The trustees of the Albion State Normal school have accepted the new school building recently erected by Contractor Ernest White. The building is a beautiful structure and will be splendidly equipped.

The Oregon Short Line paid its employees at Pocatello on Wednesday half cash and half Salt Lake clearing house certificates. It is understood that the company will be able to pay all its employees in currency next month.

The trial of George A. Pettibone for complicity in the murder of former governor Frank Steunweiler is now in progress in Boise. It is not expected that this trial will occupy as much time as did the Hayward case.

The supreme court of Idaho has handed down an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the Sunday rest law which was tested in case appealed to the court. All violations of the law will now be vigorously prosecuted.

Conductor Jerry Kinney of Pocatello pumped into the Weiser river and rescued H. W. Lendenwell, a Welsler cattle rancher who was struck by Kinney's train and knocked senseless from the bridge. At the risk of his life, Kinney plunged into the stream, which is quite deep, and brought Lendenwell to shore after a brief struggle. The injured man is in a critical condition.

The government reclamation service, in co-operation with private irrigation companies, is planning the construction of a big dam at Jackson's lake which will impound the water for irrigation purposes during the low water stage of the Snake river. Several companies are interested in this which will solve the perennial problem of water shortage in the upper Snake river valley which has been a serious question in dry years.

Reliable information regarding the city and county promptly and cheerfully furnished. Address all communications to The News, Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Entered as second-class matter, December 2, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under No. 200, of Postoffice of March 3, 1879.

A western saw runs: "A sucker is born every minute". We are very jealous of our citizenship in Twin Falls and hate to be taken for suckers. Nevertheless, and notwithstanding, there are people in this progressive city who will bite at the coarsest kind of bait. Every now and then some publication sends a representative to Twin Falls to "write up" the city and the tract. Men who are never known to give dollars to the local papers, who are boosting the town continuously, "give up" readily to the suave strangers and in more than one instance of late those who subscribed for the alleged "write ups" had the nerve to ask the local newspaper agent to furnish the matter. A short time ago the representative of an eastern publication came to Twin Falls and secured a liberal donation for a write up. He went through the files of the News, pestered the editor and finally borrowed a number of cuts for which the News paid good, hard cash. The cuts were used in a rambling story of the Twin Falls tract without a trace of credit to the News. Having use for one of the cuts, the News asked that they be returned. They were returned, after some pounding, and the News paid the express charges on them. The write up may or may not have been done the Twin Falls tract any good. That is a matter of opinion. As matters stand, the editor of the News is puzzled to figure out whether or not he is a big sucker as the people who "gave up" for the story. Charity is supposed to begin at home. The News and the Times have been putting out good money for payrolls in this city for years. They have been loyally supported by the people whom they endeavor to serve. Admitting that publicity through other channels is good for the project, the News contends that there should be a distinction. The "rubbing in" process is hard on the epidermis. Local merchants rightfully protest against home patronage of mail order houses and in this they are rightly seconded by the home papers. Editors have feelings just the same as other human beings. Bear this in mind, please.

A bank cashier of Twin Falls worked until late at his office one night. When he went home he found that the baby was fretful. Taking the child in his arms he tried to quiet the baby without success. Thinking that perhaps the infant might be hungry, the cashier looked around for milk. In his search he found a milk ticket. This he placed in the baby's hand. The little one at once showed every evidence of satisfaction and immediately fell asleep. This conclusively proves the wonderful strength of paternal instinct.

George Washington recently applied for a game license at Rock Creek. This was his first intimation that George had established residence on the Twin Falls tract.

M. MUSGRAVE, THE JEWELER

ANNOUNCEMENT TO MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

Owing to the fact that my dental practice has increased to such an extent that I am unable to handle it with satisfaction to myself, I have associated with me, Dr. F. F. McAtee, one of the leading dentists of Southeastern Idaho.

Dr. McAtee was for years associated with Dr. Loyd S. Gilbert, Dean of the Dental Department of the University of Denver and the Colorado college of Dental Surgery and with Dr. W. E. Griswold of New York, inventor of the Griswold System of Removable Bridge Work. The many years of Dr. McAtee's association with these well known members of the profession place him in a position to give the people of Twin Falls an exceptionally high grade of dental work.

We have our offices in the Idaho Department Store building. They are equipped with the very latest facilities for the performance of all dental operations, such equipment as electric engines, lathes, motors, porcelain furnaces, fountain cuspidors, etc.

My reputation as a practitioner of two years standing in this section guarantees to our patients a continuance of good work and fair treatment. Very Respectfully Yours, DR. G. C. BAKER.

TRANSFER OF CANAL SYSTEM
Everything in Readiness for Change on January 1.
The Twin Falls canal system will be transferred to the settlers on January 1, 1908. A complete set of books for the operating company has been prepared and everything in the records certificates have been printed and are now being filled out for distribution. This will be one of the most notable transfers of property in the history of Idaho, involving as it does the passing of irrigation works costing in the aggregate over $4,000,000. There will be thousands of stockholders in the new company, which will be known as the Twin Falls Canal Co. The management of the property will necessitate extreme care but there is little doubt that among the many stockholders will be found men capable in a proper manner. Some of the best irrigators and farmers in America are located on the Twin Falls tract and there need be no fear that the settlers will not fare well after the change.

A party of three stockmen from Rock Creek have gone to the ranch of an Indian near the Utah line in Elko county, Nevada, in search of stolen horses. Crockett, four from Jim Bostetter, 10 from Pele Larsen, four from L. H. Norton and 16 from Charles Grider. It is supposed that the stealing was done by Indians who took the animals down into Nevada where they are now reported to be. A search party of cavalry will be brought to Rock Creek for trial.

A prominent member of the swine nobility is being housed at Maple Hill farm by T. W. Potter. The porcine aristocrat is the Grand Duke Longfellow whose grand sire, Premier Longfellow, won the first prize at the World's Fair in St. Louis. The grand duke belongs to the Berkshire family, which is the finest type. He was sold to Mr. Council of Vandalia, Ill., for $350. The father of the Berkshire nobleman, Premier Duke, was a prize winner at the Portland fair and was purchased by the Lord estate for $300. Notwithstanding these honors, the grand duke condescends to eat Twin Falls alfalfa and lives evidence of liking it.

M. J. Macaw, George Rocks, Art Hrusser and Hugh Reid, returned on Monday from Elk moutain, where they put in pine days hunting deer. They brought back six splendid deer, on which their many friends are now feasting. It took the three days to reach the hunting grounds, which are located in Owyhee county, beyond Three Creek. The boys report that deer are plentiful there, but it takes time to get them. The hunters encountered all sorts of weather, but they had a splendid time and something good to show for their trip.

WINTER FEED FOR POULTRY

Proper Feed Necessary to Produce Eggs in Cold Weather.

The production of poultry and eggs is greater than any other business in this country, and its annual value is more than any single crop grown. It is an important business, because it is so widely distributed, and there is no immediate prospect of it passing into the hands of any trust. True, the great packing concerns are putting up plants all over the country, but they are buying millions of dollars worth of poultry products every year. Let them buy, and let them boost prices. If they can manage to put up the price of eggs one cent a dozen or push prices of dressed poultry one cent a pound, every poultry raiser in this whole land will get some of the benefit. And producers themselves are in exactly the right position to profit by the boost. Who is going to buy storage eggs or fowls, when he can get the fresh article right from the consumer?

This poultry business means millions of dollars to farmers who will give it rational attention. The matter of winter feeding must be looked after carefully, to keep the eggs coming when the prices get around 25 cents a dozen. Just keep in mind that hens must have food in order to produce eggs, and if the food supply is short or is not the stuff to make eggs, then the egg supply is bound to be short. When hens have a good range and can pick up insects and other food, they get along pretty well on a narrow ration. But during the winter these foraging supplies are cut off, and a more nearly balanced ration must be fed. Laying hens require a great deal of food, but don't cloy them. Feeding too much and at irregular intervals will soon kill off the best layers in the flock. Wheat, corn, cut clover and cut green bone will produce eggs, and barley, oats and vegetables may be used occasionally for variety. A very good ration is cut clover mixed with ground oats, for mornings; at noon some wheat or corn scattered among the litter; at night, just before the hens go to roost, give a liberal feed of grain. Some feed cut green bone at the morning meal, and during the middle of the day make the hens work for some green food, such as cabbage or turnips. We have passed beyond the stage when poultry was considered too small to bother with. It is too important not to bother with; but good housing, good care and proper feeding are essential to success.—L. C. Brown in the Northwestern Pacific Farmer.

CURRENT WORLD.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of President Roosevelt, underwent an operation for appendicitis on Thursday. The operation was quite successful.

The Democratic national convention will be held in Pueblo, Colorado, on July 7, 1908. The date and meeting place were selected by the national committee which met in Washington today.

Three miners, Brown, McDonald and Bailey, are entombed in drift at the 1000-foot level of the Alpha shaft of the Giroux mine at Ely, Nevada. They are able to communicate with the miners at the top of the shaft and they have been given enough food and water through a six-inch pipe to last them for a week so that they will not die of thirst or starvation in the event that the pipe is broken. It will be impossible to clear away the debris and reach the men for a week at least.

The financial situation in the east is gradually improving and in many cities specie payments have been resumed. The money market is growing easier and currency is more plentiful. In the opinion of leading financiers, conditions will improve from now on. The following announcement by President Roosevelt would seem to effectually settle the question of his candidacy for a third term:

"On the night after election I made the following announcement: 'I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do, and I appreciate the honor and responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the fourth of March next I shall have served three and a half years and this three and a half years constitute my third term. The wise custom regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination.'"

"I have not changed and shall not change the decision thus announced."

HEAVY VILLAIN IN TRAINING

For His Part in the Comedy to Be Given by the Knights.

Attorney L. M. Lucy, who is to play the part of the heavy villain in the comedy "Because I Love You," to be given by the Knights of Pythias at the hall on Tuesday, December 10, is reported to be spending hours before the mirror daily, cultivating fierce gazes. Mr. Lucy's countenance is anything but villainous in fitting himself to look the part. Fabulous offers were made to Pat Hall to return to the stage but he positively declined. Charlie Hall is working hard on the rescue scene, according to rumors, while Jack Voorhees sleeps with the piny look and utters his lines in the sleep. James A. Ward is developing into a star actor and Morgan Heap threatens to repeat the hit he made in a previous performance. The cast of characters is as follows: Imogene Courtleigh, Mrs. Stella Robertson. Ginger, Miss Kate McManis. Nancy Tyson, Miss Della Goodgrass. Prudence Froobart, Mrs. Charles Mull. Horace Varner, Charles Mull. Pink Pain, Charles McManis. The courtier, J. A. Water. Buck-Tyson, Charles Cole. Elmer Van Sittort, J. W. Voorhees. Madam, Mrs. Burton. Sadie, Mrs. A. Water. Lige, Morgan Heap. Synopses of Scenes. Act 1. The "George Washington" country store in California. Theatrical appearance of a woman. An impromptu wedding. Act 2. Lovers leap. A blue mountain precipice. A daring rescue. Act 3. The Courtleigh place, plantation mansion. A woman's fall. Act 4. A mountain studio, a painter's paradise. An affair of honor.

TO INSPECT CAREY ACT LANDS

Government to See That Requirements Are Fully Met.

Heretofore all Carey act entries before that time is made, will undergo an inspection by a special agent of the state land department to see that compliance as to residence and cultivation etc., has been made. At a meeting of the state land board this plan was decided upon, and it will be in force as soon as possible. These inspections will be conducted along the same line as those made by the special agents of the government before final proofs on homestead entries are taken, and the plan is similar to the federal system adopted last year. The attorney general was instructed to investigate the terms of the contract between the American Falls and Power company and the state and to ascertain what action can be taken toward bringing about more satisfactory results. The fact that there is dissatisfaction among the settlers and they have asked that the state board investigate conditions there, while on the other hand company indicates that settlers are at fault.

ACTIVITY ON THE NORTH SIDE

Construction Work is Booming and Land is Selling Fast.

Water will be delivered on the first 30,000 acres of the Twin Falls North Side tract by the first of the year, and the contractors will be in line for the $1,500 bonus for finishing the work by that time, says D. C. MacVetters, vice president of the company, who was a Shoshone visitor this week. The land is tributary to Milner, the starting point for the electric road that is to traverse the Twin Falls tract. Milner is prosperous, with a population of nearly 1200 people, and a number of new houses. The bank has just moved into its fine new stone building, two stories high, one of the most attractive of the kind in the state. The Riverside Inn, the company hotel, is finished, and the furniture is now being put in. A water system for the town is almost completed. Two thousand acres were sold last week by the company, which line all the streets and promise abundant shade.

A number of wells are being drilled along the line of the main canal to save trouble and expense of hauling water for the construction camps. Four have already been drilled on the first tract and not less than a dozen will be put in along the whole line. Settlers are beginning to figure on drilling wells, so placed that one well will furnish water for three or four farms.

Land sales on the North Side tract are holding up nicely. Three weeks ago 3000 acres were sold in one week, and a party of buyers sent nearly from Chicago and local vicinity. The average sales of land are more than 1000 acres a week. Regular parties are coming out every two weeks.

The company has organized a remarkably effective advertising bureau. Offices are maintained in Chicago and Pittsburg, which do business on a wholesale scale. A lecturer is traveling through the Mississippi valley states with a stereopticon outfit; and the newspaper advertising company has taken on the line of its proprietors of a patent medicine firm. They have got the results, however, particularly from the newspaper readers.—Shoshone Journal.

The United States senate has placed its approval on the practice of executive departments of sending drafts of bills to the senate for passage.

It is predicted that Abe Ruef, the former political boss of San Francisco, will testify against other corruptionists shortly to be tried in that city, in return for which service he will be granted immunity.

General Funsten is in personal command of the United States troops at Goldfield. No disorders have occurred since the troops arrived. Five miners were arrested this week for stealing. They had in their possession, when caught in the shaft of the Rogers syndicate mine, several hundred pounds of ore valued at $20-per pound.
