TWO GOOD RANCHES NEAR TOWN CHANGE HANDS.

Hansen Ball Tossers Trounced by Buhl Nine but Promise a Better Performance on the Fourth—Two Cases of Pneumonia Reported.

HANSEN, Idaho, June 25.—F. E. Griswold has purchased the J. C. Jones 40 acre tract and will soon move his family home.

J. M. Brower is assisting Mr. Morrison with his farm operations this week.

Professor W. M. Massey and son Glenn, of Wellington, Kansas, arrived here last week for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Washington. Mr. Washington showed his Kansas friends some of the best ranches on the North Side near Jerome and they went over to make arrangements for clearing it preparatory to putting in a crop next year.

M. G. Anderson commenced work on his new dwelling this week. When completed it will be one of the neatest cottages on the tract.

A. Neely of Choyeno made a visit to his brother's ranch south of town on Saturday and later took in the sights at the falls and the county seat.

John Simmons started overland for Ho on Monday on a pleasure trip and will be away for several weeks.

F. J. Jerome is on the sick list and is in Twin Falls for medical attention.

W. N. Rose, W. F. Brewer and J. R. Hinton were Twin Falls visitors on Saturday.

Joe Gibson shipped a carload of hay to Buhl last Saturday.

W. M. Black, manager of the Western Lumber Co. yard in Twin Falls, was here on Saturday en route to Hoyburn.

STATE LAND SALE.

An auction sale of state school land in Lincoln county, under the North Side and Idaho Irrigation company's canal systems, will be held at Gooding on Monday, June 29. Some excellent and well located tracts will be offered and if the number of people who are now cruising the land is an indication of interest, the bidding should be spirited. Water rights for the lands to be sold may be obtained for $25 per acre, provided they are purchased within one year after date of sale. On lands selling for $25 per acre or less, one-tenth of the purchase price and the first year's interest on deferred payments is required on day of sale; the balance in 18 annual instalments. On lands selling for more than $25 per acre, the cash payment is two-fifths of the purchase price and the first year's interest on deferred payments; balance in 18 annual payments with six per cent interest. The sale offers a splendid opportunity to secure first class land at a reasonable figure and on liberal terms.

Frank Halverson and Miss Catherine Erner were married at high noon on Wednesday at the Shoshone falls hotel by Rev. Father Bensmans of the Catholic church. After the wedding dinner, the bride and groom and their guests came to Twin Falls. They were met at the end of Shoshone avenue by a crowd of young folks, and given the "third degree" with all the trimmings. Frank Sorenson, who was groomsmen, agreed to furnish the News with a detailed account of the ceremony and the subsequent happenings, but he fell down, presumably being overcome by the loss of his trusted old pal. Mr. and Mrs. Halverson have many friends in Twin Falls who wish them all the happiness in the world.

PROGRAM FOR JULY FOURTH

Twin Falls Offers Splendid Attractions for the Entertainment of Its Guests on the National Holiday—Liberal Prizes Offered and Good Program of Clean Sports Arranged—Soda Springs Champion Baseball Team to Play Here.

The city of Twin Falls will be a generous host on the "Glorious Fourth." The citizens have been liberal in providing funds to insure the success of the celebration and the program has been so arranged that all may find suitable entertainment. The prizes are liberal and the program offers sufficient variety to please all.

One of the star attractions will be the baseball game between the Twin Falls nine and the unbeaten players of Soda Springs. The "fix water" boys have vanquished every team they have met this season and will give the Irrigators a hard battle.

The parade will start at 10 o'clock and will include patriotic and business floats, fraternal orders on parade, equestrians and equestriennes and many other pretty features.

Following the parade will be the coronation of the day, supplemented by patriotic songs and numbers by the Twin Falls band.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the baseball game between Twin Falls and Soda Springs, for a purse of $100, will be commenced. The usual admission fee will be charged for this game as the baseball club will be put to heavy expense in bringing the visiting club to this city.

Immediately after the conclusion of the ball game the field sports will be started on the ball grounds; where the spectators will have an unobstructed view of the events and the contestants will not be hampered by interference. The events are as follows:

- 100-yard sprint, for men, first $10, second $10.
- 50-yard dash, for men, first $10, second $5.
- 400-yard relay race, four men to a team, each man to run 100 yards, one prize, $10.
- 100-yard dash for boys under 10 years, first $3, second $2.

GROVER CLEVELAND DEAD

Grover Cleveland, twice president of the United States, died at 8:40 o'clock on Wednesday morning, June 24, at his home, Westland, in Princeton, N. J., where he had lived since his retirement as the nation's chief executive almost 12 years ago.

Mr. Cleveland's family physician and personal friend, Dr. George R. Lockwood of New York and Dr. John M. Carnahan of Princeton, were at the bedside of the stricken man when the summons came. Death was caused by heart trouble, accompanied by stomach and kidney ailments of long standing. Hundreds of telegrams of condolence have been received by the bereaved family. President Roosevelt has issued a proclamation directing flags over the White House and departmental buildings to be placed at half mast for a period of 30 days in honor of the memory of Mr. Cleveland. He also ordered that suitable naval and military honors be rendered the day of the funeral, which has not yet been set. While Mr. Cleveland has been ill for some time, his death was wholly unexpected and it came as a great shock to his relatives and friends.

E. V. Hanna has linked his fortunes with those of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Co. and is now in charge of the company's office in Twin Falls. Mr. Hanna is a veteran of the Salmon opening, in which he was breasted for working 20 consecutive hours during which time his diet was limited to one tripe sandwich.

BUHL PREPARING FOR THE FOURTH

SPLENDID PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR THE HOLIDAY.

Great interest is being taken in the Buecking Broncho Contest, for which prizes of $100, $35 and $15 will be given.

BUHL, Idaho, June 24.—Attorney R. F. Craig was a Twin Falls visitor on Thursday of last week. Mrs. J. W. Howe of Clear Lake visited with Mrs. W. T. Snodgrass on Friday.

Don Howard showed your correspondent a dozen strawberries Monday as big as walnuts and they were beautiful in all other respects. They were grown on Charlie Swanson's ranch adjoining the townsite. The plants were set out last fall. We are not inviting the small boys to pay you a visit, Charlie, but we will make you a call ourselves in a day or two and it will be in daylight.

Several boys were arrested here last week for burglary. They were taken to Twin Falls and tried before Judge Walters, who fined them $15 and costs. They broke into the Buhl Trading Company's store on Broadway.

The bull game between Hansen and the Boosters Sunday was a jug handled affair, the score being 20 to 8 in favor of Buhl.

"Mont" Fulford of Eaglo, Colo., visited Buhl Monday to take a look at the west end of the tract, and said he liked it very much. Mr. Fulford is well known to your correspondent. He is one of the prominent citizens of Eaglo. He is delighted with Idaho in general and particularly with the South Side project on the Twin Falls tract. He filed on a big piece of the Salmon river land and will make his home there as soon as water is ready for the land.

Andy Wilson went to Wendell Sunday.

SUGGESTIONS FOR DAIRY FARMERS

GOOD COWS, WELL KEPT, YIELD HANDSOME RETURNS.

Interesting Bulletin issued by the University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station at Moscow contains valuable information.

During the year 1907 the state of Idaho consumed one and one-half million pounds of butter more than it produced. This is conclusive evidence that the whole state of Idaho will take care of home production for some time to come. No state in the Union is more suitable for dairying; no state can produce butter so cheaply. The following information from the experiment station at the state university in Moscow was written by J. H. Frandsen and contains a great deal of valuable information which the Twin Falls farmers should find profitable. Mr. Frandsen says:

That dairy farming is a profitable business is fully shown by its marvelous growth during the past decade. No other branch of agriculture has ever seen such rapid development in the same length of time. Its growth has been universally noticeable in all parts of our country. The dairy cow produces manna from heaven for a given amount of feed than any other animal of the farm, and as the population of the United States increases dairying will become more and more important.

Idaho as a Dairy State. Many sections of Idaho possess conditions especially favorable to dairying. Here is found cheaper land, plenty of good cheap feed rich in protein, good water and a mild and healthful climate. The land is so productive that more cows can be kept on the same amount of land here than elsewhere.

The various industries in the state, such as the mines, the large lumber camps, besides the large demands of the Alaskan and Oriental trade, tend always to give us a ready market and good prices for dairy products. The last report of the Idaho dairy commissioner states that 4,400,000 pounds of butter is annually imported into this state to help supply our own market. Certainly, it is ought to show that we need not fear any over production.

Profits. It is generally a conceded fact that good dairy cows yield a larger profit for food consumed than can be expected from any other branch of farming. A good cow will annually yield not less than 300 pounds of butter, which at 25 cents a pound is worth $75.00. Added to this the value of 6,000 pounds of skim milk at 20 cents per 100 pounds, and $120 ought to be a fair value for the calf. This would give the dairy farmer an income of $27.00, allowing $50.00 as a fair allowance for feed consumed, we still have $47.00 as a profit to pay for the labor and interest on investment.

Soil-Fertility. However, in addition to this direct profit, we must not fail to lay sufficient stress on the importance of dairying in retaining the fertility of the soil. By feeding the raw materials of the farm to the dairy cows, we are not only manufacturing high priced milk but we are retaining in the upon the farm almost the entire amount of fertilizing material taken from the soil by the growing crop. By selling only the cream and making butter, fully 95 per cent of the fertilizing material contained in the feed is retained on the farm. One ton of oats takes from the soil as much as 1 ton of cream. As much fertility would leave the soil in $20 worth of wheat as in $300 worth of cream.

Those who are richer should hardly appreciate the true significance of the importance of soil fertility. This question, however, has been mentioned to be understood by people who have lived in the east. Several of our eastern states are even now each spending annually more than $7,000,000 for fertilizing material to help them produce crops. In many parts of our own state people are realizing that crops are steadily decreasing, and that, if the present system of cropping continues our soil must soon be replenished with artificial fertilizer.

By dairying only about 5 per cent of fertility is lost, the balance being made by plant life from water, air and sunshine. As a result dairy farms in Europe have succeeded in maintaining their soil fertility for more than 1000 years without any crop, and grain farms have been almost exhausted in 50 years.

Find and Weed Out Poor Cows. Many of Idaho's milk cows do not come up to a fair standard. It is a pearls safe to say one-third of all our cows are milked at a loss. It is the poor milk cows that is responsible for the statement, "dairying is not profitable."

The good milk cow is selected by the farmer in the winter by a Babcock tester and a pair of scales this can easily be accomplished. Remember it is not enough to simply know that a cow gives rich milk; it is alone sufficient to know that the cow gives a large quantity of milk. It is the butter fat that has the commercial value and to determine the amount it is necessary to know the amount of milk given and its richness in butter fat.

How to Eliminate Poor Cows. Weigh milk. Keep a record of the number of pounds of milk given by each cow. By weighing the milk you can conveniently see the milk can easily be weighed. If too busy to weigh every day, arrange to weigh regularly three times a month. Test milk. Take a sample of each cow's milk about three times a month. Care must be taken to see that sample is accurate. The milk should be well stirred before sample is taken and placed in an air tight bottle and fill ready for testing. A simple and complete Babcock testing outfit can be purchased for about $5.00. It is so easily manipulated that any one with ordinary intelligence can in a few hours readily understand all its details. Anyone wishing full particulars in regard to apparatus or conditions of testing can get same by writing to Dairy Department, University, Moscow, Idaho.

Results of Testing and Selection. By carefully testing and weeding out their poorest cows the people of Denmark in five years have succeeded in raising the producing capacity of each cow annually more than 40 pounds of butter fat, or an increased profit from each cow of over 50 cents. By adopting some similar systematic method it might be possible for us to increase the profits to the farmers of Idaho from dairying at least $2,000,000 a year.

Winter Dairying. There are many advantages in having cows come fresh in the winter when all dairy products sell at a high price. Here in Idaho butter is fully 50 per cent higher in winter than in summer. When the cows calve in the spring they generally milk well until the pastures "dry up," when the flow of milk quickly falls off, so that by the time the feed begins to dry up the cows are almost "dried up." Now if the cows come fresh in the fall they produce a good flow of milk during the winter season and during the spring when they are turned on grass they get a second freshening and thus lengthen the period of milk production. Another advantage in winter dairying is that during the season the farmer is not so busy with other work, consequently he can give more time to the care of his cows, the milk and cream are of better quality during the busy season of the year.

When winter dairying becomes more generally practiced the subject of winter feeds will be given more attention. Of these silage is one of the most important since one acre of good silage material will yield as much feed as three acres of pasture.

Value of Separator. No dairyman can afford to be without one. The separator is a separator will remove practically all the butter fat from the milk, while the old method of skimming may leave 20 per cent of the fat in the butter. The fat in the skim milk is certainly too expensive for hog feed.

Care of Cream. After separation the cream should be quickly cooled to a low temperature as is possible with well water. The best method for doing this is to place the cream in a deep can; set this can in a larger one containing water until the cream is about the same temperature as the water. Warm cream should never be mixed with cold cream. Warm cream raises the temperature of the cream and thus the growth of the souring bacteria. The result of mixing is always sour cream.

Some one has well said, "Clean cream, cold cream, and rich cream are the three words which tell the secret of producing good cream." Cream is always a demand at the highest price for cream of this quality. Make Butter or Patronize Creamery. A striking feature noticed in almost every dairyman's district is the absence of "ranch butter" and "country butter." These districts have long ago realized that the creamer is in a position to make a better article of butter, make it cheaper and by making it in larger quantities can command markets that could not be secured by the individual farmer. It is the duty of every dairyman in a community where good creameries can be conveniently reached that the dairyman cannot afford to make his own butter. He should be satisfied in finding a market for it—providing, of course, his creamery is willing to pay him a fair price for his butter fat.

The writer firmly believes no one thing does more to lower the price and demand for Idaho butter than the quantity and quality of ranch butter. It is the merchant who sees it to offer. Every dairy community with an established reputation for good butter, which everywhere is at good prices, will be found loyal supporting some creamery, be it co-operative or controlled.

BLACKBERRIES ARE PUZZLING

Are Red When They Are Green and Green When They Are Red.

I shall have to ask you to please excuse me, but I am more or less confused on one of your American plants, and possibly you can help me out. This would not seem so strange were it not that my friend and brother botanist of California, Mr. Green, tells me that Mr. Gray (Aunt) says in his book that a blackberry is not a berry, but is a multiple fruit. Now, dear sir, if a blackberry which is not a blackberry is still red when it is green, and Mr. Gray, according to Mr. Green, says a blackberry is not a blackberry, will you kindly tell me what then is a blackberry? Now, taking the word of my friend Mr. White, who raises poultry, will assume that a blackberry, which, as Mr. Green has already said that Mr. Gray said was not a berry, is a double-yolked egg, on the chicken produced in this case; of course, then, this chicken would be a multiple fruit, which then corresponds exactly with what Mr. Green says, Mr. Gray said about blackberries, not being a blackberry, even though still green when red. Now Mr. White says he produces his multiple fruit from layers, and also Mr. Burbank has created his blackberry that is white, for White says, as while Mr. Green says Mr. Gray says it is not a berry; but, supposing it was the real blackberry, but was white instead of black, what color would it be when green? Or if the blackberry (providing it was a blackberry) were white when it was green, and then turned white without being red when green, what kind of a berry would this be or would it be a chicken? Now, Brown says Green knows nothing about colors, while Mr. Gray does not know a blackberry (providing a blackberry was actually a berry); he is wrong in the premises for Mr. Gray says the blackberry is not a berry, but a multiple fruit and therefore even though it might be white when ripe blackberry or red when green, it still could be red when green, as Mr. Green does not take up with Mr. Brown's "Mr. Burbank worked wholly on colors, and made a blackberry (which Gray said) was not a berry; that is a white berry although it is not a berry; and, being, as you will see, wrong in all these premises, when we prove it's red when it's green, when it's green, when it's green, in the blackberry (providing a blackberry was a blackberry and not a black multiple fruit) which we all know so well, even though we find out a purple purple after eating a blackberry, which is a multiple fruit.

Now, if a blackberry which is red when green be bred to be a white blackberry, or vice versa, and given a purple stalk, would it not be just as well to call it a chicken scratching your flower garden, which makes you blue instead of purple?

Now if I am confused on the English language, or have I a wrong idea of the blackberry?

Now, is Mr. Green right in what he says about Mr. Gray and the blackberry? I know Mr. Burbank has a white blackberry, and I know Mr. White and Mr. Brown are not lying as much this year as last, so I can quite reasonably believe them this year. Now, if not asking too much, please use baseball terms, as I know chemical laboratory and have a qualitative report made on it, and then we can see if the blackberry (providing it was a blackberry) is red when green, or is it a chicken from a double-yolked egg.

The only chemical terms I know are: H<sub>2</sub>O Oh, so. If there are any more, please use baseball terms, as I know some of them, but clear me up on the colors, as I may go to railroading and I would surely get knocked out on color blindness.—The Outlook.

PITTSBURG, Kan., June 18, 1908.—Editor News, Twin Falls, Idaho: Dear Sir—I enclose clipping from Omaha Bee which is self-explanatory.

I have lived in Kansas all my life; Kansas is noted as a windy state. Nebraska is a sister state in wind as well as location. We have never had much trouble with the wind-blowing fruit from the trees, and from what I have seen in Idaho, having been there this spring and purchased 50 acres on the North Side, I am well satisfied that if the wind is the only fault that can be found with Southern Idaho it is indeed, trifling and of no consequence. I have seen what was just this week finished here and must say that they were mild in comparison to the Kansas and Nebraska winds. Some of our farmers here have just been finished with a crop; oats are about half a crop; wheat poor, and all on account of excessive continued rains. Corn should have been laid by instead of just planting. I have seen your irrigated lands, and for mine, give me Idaho, where we can stop the water or turn it on at will. Yours truly, H. L. MORRISON.

Wife—"Do come over to Mrs. Barber's with me John. She'll thank you. I'll just see if you were at home."

Entered as second-class matter, Dec. 2, 1904, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The Twin Falls towads and every roadside in the county is covered with weeds which will soon be scattering noxious seed all over the country. The Jim Hill malarial rears its yellow heads everywhere and unless some effort is made to check its spread it will soon become a serious pest. On fallow ground the weeds have full sway and one such field is sufficient to pollute the entire tract. It is not an impossible task to eradicate the harmful weeds and the time to do it is right now before they get to seed. The spring has been backward and if the weeds were cut now they would hardly produce another crop of seed this year. If Twin Falls is to acquire a reputation for clean grain it must give heed to the weed problem. It cannot afford to permit the spread of weeds which have done irreparable damage wherever they have been allowed to grow unchecked. The county commissioners might make an order requiring that weeds should be cut on all public roads and the city might require property owners to cut the weeds on their lots. In the case of non-resident lot owners, the city could have the work done and charged against the property. It would not be a costly operation. The hardest people to reach are the non-resident owners of farm lands whose lands are not cultivated and who are simply holding their property to profit by the advance in price due to the diligence of their neighbors. They are a damaging factor in the community and a detriment to its progress. Concerted action is necessary to prevent the noxious weeds from obtaining a stronghold from which it will be a difficult matter to drive them.

Two powerful companies, the Bull-Kimberly corporation and the Kuhn brothers of Pittsburgh, are seeking the privilege of reclaiming a half million acres in Twin Falls and Owyhee counties, between the Salmon and the Bruneau rivers. It is singular that such competition should have been made possible by the very men who are engaged in it. Until recently it was a difficult task to interest capital in Idaho irrigation enterprises. The government reclamation service maintained a continuous campaign against private enterprise in this state, using its press bureau in the unscrupulous work. The service stands today beaten and discredited in this part of the country while private enterprise is forging ahead and performing wonders. The Twin Falls project has given the lie to the reclamation defamers and has convinced capital of the practicability of the Carey act and the immense advantages in its operation over that of the tap-saddled and emb-like reclamation law. Capital is glad to invest in Idaho irrigation securities now, it clamors for the opportunity. It was a hard fought battle and the honors belong to Twin Falls, the biggest and best irrigation enterprise in America and the target for all the jealous parasites in the country.

Local interest attaches to the nomination for the vice presidency of James S. Sherman of Utica, N. Y., on the Republican ticket, because of the fact that Mr. Sherman is the uncle of Richard Sherman Cookinham, the well known engineer of Twin Falls. Mr. Cookinham's mother is a sister of Mr. Sherman, and his father has been Mr. Sherman's law partner for years. "Dek" was the happiest man in the county when he heard of his uncle's nomination. Mr. Sherman has represented his district in congress for many years and is one of the strongest men in Republican ranks in the state. It is possible that he may be induced to visit Idaho during the campaign. His health permits. He has been ill since his nomination but is rapidly improving. Mr. Sherman is as good a statesman as his nephew is an engineer, he should carry Twin Falls county by an overwhelming majority.

FOUND EXISTENCE TOO BURDENSOME

W. F. HUGHES CUTS HIS THROAT WITH A POCKETKNIFE.

Suffered from a Severe Attack of Pneumonia, and Brooded Over Loss of Money Intrusted to His Care for Purchase of Cattle.

Exhausted by a probably fatal attack of pneumonia, and disheartened over the loss of a considerable sum of money intrusted to him by another person, W. F. Hughes, of the farm of H. H. Hughes, a mile south of Hansen, cut his throat with a pocket knife on Monday morning and died a few hours later. The funeral services were held on Wednesday in the undertaking parlors of H. E. Hunt and were under the auspices of the M. W. A., of which order Hughes was a member.

The case of Hughes is the most pathetic ever brought to public attention in this part of the state. He was a widower with nine children under age and one married daughter. About eight weeks ago Hughes was sent east by P. H. Smith, whose farm he occupied, to purchase a carload of cows, with which he returned in Idaho. On Monday, May 18, he started for Topeka, Kan., to buy more stock for Mr. Smith. He carried $3500 in New York drafts of $500 each in addition to ready money for expenses. On the 8th of June Hughes returned to Twin Falls and informed Mr. Smith that he had met with foul play in Denver and had been robbed of $2500. He stated that shortly after his arrival in Denver he made the acquaintance of a man who pretended to be a cattle buyer. The stranger claimed to have located a bunch of good cows a short distance from Denver which, he stated, could be bought reasonably as they were being held as security for a mortgage. He persuaded Hughes to accompany him to the place where the cattle were supposed to be, also inducing him to bring $2500 in cash, on the representation that it was necessary to bring ready money in order to close the deal. It was late in the afternoon, said Hughes, when they started from the city. They went to the end of a suburban car line, whence they were to walk a mile or so to the ranch. They had not proceeded far when the stranger, snatched Hughes' money and fled. Hughes was left alone and conscious on the roadside all night. There was a painful contusion on the back of his head and a handkerchief bound over his mouth, leading him to suspect that he had also been chloroformed. He was unable to find any trace of the stranger and after notifying the police he left for home. Hughes was all of pneumonia when he reached Twin Falls. At the request Dr. Boyd said he had examined Hughes and found his lungs plugged with blood. He had been ill about a week, said the doctor, with pneumonia in an advanced stage. On Sunday night, while delirious, he jumped in to a coulee. The loss of the money meant ruin to Hughes, who was very dependent. On Monday forenoon he gashed the right side of his throat with an ordinary pocket knife, severing the jugular vein.

Hughes had been downcast since the death of his wife, two years ago. His brother committed suicide last spring. Mr. Smith said he had implicit confidence in Hughes and expressed his profound regret at the turn of affairs. He had spoken to Hughes shortly after his wife's death and had advised him to take good care of himself and regain his health before considering his loss. Hughes' family has many friends in Hansen and vicinity who are doing all in their power to mitigate the suffering of the orphan children. Deceased was 45 years of age.

BREVITIES

Mrs. George Dow of Los Angeles has been visiting her sister, Mrs. H. W. Parker, the past few days.

Services will be held in the Episcopal church at the usual hours on Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Chamberlain.

E. T. White of Herriott & White left the city yesterday afternoon for Spokane, where he will spend the next two weeks. It is said that Mr. White will not return alone.

John Maguire and John Cutcuweg were in from Antelope Springs on Monday. They reported the range in fine condition and stated that the sheep were doing splendidly since the recent wet spell.

President Frank H. Buhl of the Twin Falls Land & Water Co., George E. Baird and E. T. White stopped over in Twin Falls on their way east from Boise on Tuesday. Mr. Buhl and Mr. Baird were very much pleased with the appearance of the tract and well satisfied with the recent sale of land and town-lots.

B. McKillup of Humphrey, Neb., and E. H. Chambers of Columbus, Nebraska, arrived in Twin Falls yesterday and are inspecting the North Side tract. Mr. McKillup was here for the annual meeting of the Twin Falls Improvement Co. Mr. Chambers to accompany him on his second visit.

The Salmon river has been out of its banks for several weeks and is still booming. Measurements show more than enough water to irrigate the entire tract. The water is in fine condition. During the past week the precipitation on the Salmon tract was almost one inch, while no rain fell on the Twin Falls tract.

G. C. Taber of Lanark, Ill., and Mr. Wyatt, formerly cashier for the Short Line at Twin Falls, have purchased an interest in the Twin Falls Transfer Co. Mr. Taber has been in the livery and transfer business all his life and is an expert. Mr. Wyatt has made many friends in Twin Falls who wish him well in his new venture. If hustling and prompt attention to business count for anything, the new combination ought to be a winner.

The county has received a large quantity of galvanized iron pipe which is to be substituted for culverts at several crossings. This kind of pipe has been tried elsewhere for the purpose and has been found to answer admirably. It will do away with the bumpy and shriveled wooden culverts and will vastly improve the roads. It is being distributed throughout the county and will be set in place as needed.

Crawfish from the plant of the Idaho Crawfish Co. at Bliss have made their appearance on the Twin Falls market and are pronounced dainty. The crawfish are cooked in wine and spices and are very toothsome. They come in hermetically sealed cans and as a delicacy they are superior to crabs or lobsters. Manager Jake Freeman reports a steadily increasing demand for the crawfish but he declares that the company is able to supply all customers promptly.

An effort is being made to establish a postoffice at the new townsite of Hilldale, on the first North Side segregation. A large number of settlers are now located on the segregation and postal facilities are urgently needed. Mr. Nathan will in all probability be the postmaster. There is a splendid well on the Hilldale townsite and settlers in that vicinity are not obliged to drink ditch water. The first segregation is being settled up rapidly by a splendid class of citizens.

Andrew Rogerson came in from Three Creek on Monday to visit his father and sister, who arrived that day from Emmetsburg, Iowa, to meet him. Mr. Rogerson, Sr., was greatly surprised at the appearance of the country, concerning which he had heard a great deal. He knows what it is to pioneer and he was very favorably impressed with what had been accomplished in this part of the country in so short a time. He and his daughter went out with Andrew on Tuesday to his ranch.

All members of the K. P. lodge are requested to attend the Memorial services which will be held in K. P. hall Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The address will be given by Everett M. Sweeley and the music will be furnished by a male quartet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McManis entertained the members of the Methodist church at a lawn party given at their home last evening. Several tables were set on the lawn and all were treated to ice cream and cake. During the evening piano solos were given by Miss Wall and vocal solos by Miss Swanik and Frank Lytle.

About 40 ladies of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Edward Davis at Kimberley yesterday afternoon. The affair was made in the hotel bus and Mr. Davis brought the ladies home on a hay rack. The afternoon was passed in a very pleasant way and all enjoyed a very pleasant time.

In compliance with the will of the taxpayers, expressed by ballot the school board has decided to call the new school building in Twin Falls the "Lincoln." Sixty ballots were cast, 20 voting for Lincoln, 17 for Carey, 26 for Sharon, 8 for McKinley, 7 for Buchanan, 2 for Washington, 2 for Helen Keller.

The ladies of the Baptist church are requested to meet with Mrs. Beebe on Saturday afternoon, June 27 at 2 o'clock, for special business. Every member of the church is urged to be present also, this being the time for the regular business meeting of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson and family, who arrived from La Grange, Ill., two months ago, are now settled in their new home on Second street and Seventh avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who are members of the Hinsdale Golf club and La Grange Suburban club in La Grange, have invited many of their friends to invest in this section of Idaho and expect to have quite a number of them here next year, amongst whom will be Dr. Richardson and family. Dr. Richardson is a noted specialist who intends to enjoy a well earned vacation in Twin Falls. His selection appears well for the climate of southern Idaho.

Gus Johnson, proprietor of the Shoshone Falls hotel, has expended a considerable sum of money in improving the grade on the south side at the falls, which is now in much better condition than ever. He has also spared no expense in putting in comfortable little homes and tents to give the simple life with all the yearning of a Roosevelt convert. His Wallace friends are anxiously waiting for bulletins from the "Deacon" can make water run up hill. If he fails, it will be the first failure recorded against him.

M. M. Murtaugh, C. J. Hahn and W. O. Taylor, who constitute the new lateral sewer commission, will commence work here for the first time. Returns from Salt Lake City. The lateral sewers in district No. 2 will be constructed in the same manner as were those in district No. 1, the most economical construction possible. The second district is large and it will require some time to complete the work, which will cost approximately $100,000. A large number of residences are being erected in the new district and the lateral sewers will be a boon to residents in that section.

Mrs. Grace Lance, wife of John M. Lance, proprietor of the Colorado resort, has passed this morning of pneumonia, aged 34 years. Mr. and Mrs. Lance came to Twin Falls from Delta, Colorado, six weeks ago. Mrs. Lance was stricken with pneumonia on Sunday last. A child was born to her on Thursday night, but lived only a short time, and the mother passed away a few hours later. The body was taken to Hunt's undertaking parlors, whence it will be shipped to Delta, where the funeral will take place on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Lance is survived by her husband and five children. During her short stay in Twin Falls she made many true friends whose hearts go out to the bereaved father and surviving children.

Dr. E. J. Perry and Dr. F. E. Roach of Chicago, who have farms on the North Side, have been here for several days looking over the country. They declared that Twin Falls looked better than ever to them and they are delighted with the outlook. Dr. Roach, who has an international reputation in the dental fraternity, due in a measure to the many useful inventions he has perfected, is reported to be working on a device for the final curing of teeth with a powerful volcanic ash soil. He has not confined his theory to anyone, but Jake Fritz says he proposes to tie the rocks to the brush and retard its upward growth until they weather is suitable, when the rocks will be removed and the brush will shoot upward so rapidly that it will pull its roots out of the ground. The device will not be patented, so Jake declares, and anyone who desires may use it.

Thomas E. Collins of Meridian, Idaho, and Miss Elsie Venable of this city were married Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. H. V. Parker. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will make their home in Meridian.

The members of the Twin Falls school board have decided to purchase a corner stone for the new school building which will be laid by the Masons at an early date. The stone will contain the usual records and the ceremony incident to the installation will be public.

George Bassett deplores the loss of his favorite driving horse "Old Ned," one of the truest equines that ever wore a collar. After years of usefulness "Ned" quit for the first and last time in his life and his career is now beneath the sod. He was a fine, upstanding roaster, with a splendid turn of speed and great stamina. He stamped his individuality on every horse he met and will show the way on the roads of Twin Falls county for many years to come.

Deputy Sheriff C. W. Dyer is $100 richer than he was a week ago as the result of the capture of James Britt, who was wanted by the sheriff of Elko county, Nevada. Dyer, after receiving notice from the Nevada sheriff containing Britt's description, Mr. Dyer located the man in a room over the White Front restaurant. Britt was wanted in Elko county for felony. He was taken back by Sheriff L. G. Clark of that county, who came to Twin Falls for him this week.

O. D. Jones and family of Wallace, Idaho, are making final proof on Mr. Jones' farm on the first North Side segregation near Hilldale. Mr. Jones swings the grub hoe with the skill of a true pioneer and is doing some fancy stunts in the irrigation line. He has a comfortable little home and he intends to love the simple life with all the yearning of a Roosevelt convert.

Herbert Lambing and Miss Mollie Schubert were married at the home of the bride's parents on the Kimberley road, Wednesday evening by the Rev. J. C. Hanchey, pastor of the Christian church of Twin Falls. The ceremony was witnessed by about 30 guests, among whom was the father of the groom, W. M. Lambing and wife of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The house was very prettily decorated with roses and old foliage plants. Following the wedding a splendid dinner was served. The young couple returned here for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. Lambing will make their home on Mr. Lambing's ranch near Hanson.

While Dr. Clouche was driving past Martin Sullivan's farm near Kimberley a few days ago he encountered a badger along the road. The badger could not get through Sullivan's fence and the doctor had him shot. The physician claims that he roped the badger fair and square and strangled the animal. Others assert that Mr. Hess put the bullet on the badger with a bullet. When the doctor was informed of this, he testified that an autopsy would show.

The Misses Sheffield of Twin Falls are candidates for the free trip to the coast offered by the Pacific Monthly to those who secure 400 subscribers for the publication prior to August 1. The Pacific Monthly has been exceptionally kind to Twin Falls and is by long odds the best magazine for the west. Under the circumstances the young ladies should have no difficulty in securing the requisite number of subscribers as the magazine on its merits is worth more than the subscription price to any friend of the west.

J. C. Moore has transferred his allegiance from the North Side Land & Water Co. to the Idaho-Nevada Southwestern Railway Co. Time has proved the futility of trying to convert an old railroader. He snorts like an old fire department horse when he hears the clang of the bell. Mr. Moore's desk is in the office of the Irigait-Landa Co. Those who want passes to Hollister, Deep Creek or Intermediate stations should apply before 7 o'clock in the morning as Mr. Moore is violently opposed to issuing transportation during business hours.

Herbert R. Grant, who has been in the employ of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Co. for the past year has accepted a position with the First National bank of Twin Falls and will begin his new duties on July 1. Mr. Grant has frequently been in Twin Falls, having been detailed to work here for the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power Co., and he handled the cash during the Salmon opening. He is a splendid acquaintance to Twin Falls and he and his family are heartily welcome. Mr. Grant will bring his family here from Miller so soon as he secures a home.

that the animal died of strangulation and offered to produce the rope he used in the operation. The badger was skinned and an examination of the pelt connected with the case was very satisfactory. Meanwhile public opinion is divided. It is a jettied fact, however, that the badger is dead, and that it died a violent death.

J. R. French of St. Louis, Mo., is the guest of his brother-in-law, H. E. Powers of Twin Falls. Mr. French, who is connected with the Pacific Express Co., arrived at Wednesday and is quite enthusiastic over the Twin Falls country. Being from Missouri he found it hard at first to believe all the tales he was told, but his confidence is growing every minute. Miss Charlotte Powers, Mr. Powers' daughter, also arrived from Woodbine, Iowa, on Wednesday and has accepted the position of stenographer in the office of S. T. Hamilton, with whom her father is associated.

On Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McManis, occurred one of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in Pocatello. At 8:30 Rev. Hunt pronounced the solemn words which made Myrtle McManis and John Voorhees man and wife. During the ceremony Miss Bessie Kingsford played "The Kover's beautiful" on the Promenade.

The bride was dressed in an exquisite white satin gown, her only ornament being a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. Her maid of honor, Miss Kate McManis, wore a dainty blue silk evening gown. Mr. Morgan Hop of Twin Falls acted as groomsmen. About 30 all the immediate friends of the family witnessed the ceremony, after which was held a reception, when all of Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees' friends had an opportunity to show them their congratulations and best wishes. Miss Morn McManis, Miss Nielson, Miss Supper, Miss Harrison and Miss Bethel served punch. Miss Brown of Salt Lake, Miss Kingsford of Ogden and Mrs. Sothello assisted Mrs. McManis in the dining room. The house seemed a tower of fragrant flowers, the wedding room being all hung in white. Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees will be at home at Twin Falls July 1. Pocatello Tribune.

"The office should seek the man, you know." "That's all right," replied the avowed aspirant, "but I gave it a fair chance, and it seemed diffident." Philadelphia Public Ledger.

day and while there posted our Fourth of July advertisements and program.

All arrangements for the celebration of the Fourth are completed. The committee has the money and they are not in the least worried as to how to spend it. The merchants have caught up and are now suffering from severe attacks of the patriotic fever. Not satisfied with what they have already done in contributing money, they are giving prizes of their own for the contests. Some of them have declined to tell the committee yet what they are going to give. The Trading company has announced a pair of riding boots to be given to the winner of the first prize in the bucking contest, the successful rider to take his choice of any pair in the store. So there will be other prizes than those announced in the list. The committee will have prizes for any old kind of a contest they wish to give. The ladies choir will sing patriotic songs. The brass band is practicing the national airs as if their lives depended on success as musicians. A place for the band and the race course is being under the supervision of Commissioner J. B. Hinckley, is assuming a fine appearance. The fireworks have been ordered. A number of individuals having joined with the committee to purchase some for themselves, thus assuring a splendid display. The spirit of '76 is being kept alive and the ladies are visiting with everybody else to be in the lead in doing the most for the celebration of the nation's birthday. It is expected by the committee that the day will be a rivalry some of the citizens are playing politics, that is, they are on all hands, waiting to see what the others will do, and when the latter have committed themselves they will come in and outdo them. Copies of the posters and the program have been sent to Miller, Gooding, Jerome, Wendell, Hagerman, Roscoe, Blaine, Blaine and Three Creeks, from which points large crowds are expected, and they are not circus advertisements. Everything announced will be given and every prize awarded. As a result, as said above, the committee has the money and it goes. Your correspondent fell into error last week in mentioning that no admission would be charged for witnessing the ball game. What the committee meant was that no entrance fees would be charged in any of the other contests, but entry would be free to all, professionals excepted in the races. Admission to the ball game will be charged, but the game will be more than worth the money. Manager Andy Wilson is sparing neither pains nor money to give us a good game. He has the boys out on the diamond every evening practicing and he makes them work. He promises to bring in a team worthy of the Boosters, and who will give them a hard rub for the money. A prominent Boise lawyer will deliver the Fourth of July address. A copy of the program and list of prizes announced: Opening exercises in City park, 10 a. m.; music by the Bull brass band at 11:30 a. m.; patriotic exercises, 12:30 p. m.; bucking contest, first prize, $100—addio, bridle, quilt and blanket; second prize, $35; third prize, $15. Cow pony race—first prize, $25; second prize, $15; third prize, $5. Foot race—first prize, $15; second prize, $5. Boys' race (boys under 15 years)—first prize, $10; second prize, $5. Third prize, $2. Ball game at 9:30 p. m. Bull and Anderson's hall, 9:30. Additional prize, Buhl Trading Company to winner of first prize in the bucking contest, a pair of riding boots.

LIKES THE TWIN FALLS TEAM

Boise Sportsman Speaks Highly of the Local Nine.

Sports Editor—Enty Stewart of Boise, Idaho—Dear Sir: I saw by this morning's paper that the Twilight League was thinking of getting the Twin Falls team to come over here to play at the celebration on the week of the Fourth, but at the same time was thinking of arranging a game with some local team, and I want to say that as a drawing card and a fast team, I don't think there is a team anywhere in this part of the country that has anything on that Twin Falls aggregation, and I know what I am talking about, because I have seen the best teams in the country play. From time to time I sold peanuts at the Polo grounds when Ward and Rorer corner and "Shorty" Murphy used to play with New York before the American league was ever thought of, to the present day.

The Twin Falls team at the three games I saw beat Pocatello 12 to 0, and then beat Burley 15 to 1, and then beat American Falls 11 to 0, and I would like to see them matched against some strong team, as I am sure that everybody who saw the game would get their money's worth, because they play fast and snappy ball and there was not a dull moment in any of the three games. I saw, regardless of the big score, and it was not a bluff had no scales, just seems as if they never will quit, so try to get them together and give Boise a good treat to the national sport.

SKETCH OF OUR NEXT PRESIDENT

AND HIS RUNNING MATE ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

William H. Taft, Skilled and Experienced in Statesmanship, Successful in All His Big Undertakings—The Man for the Place.

William H. Taft's candidacy for the presidency four years ago, immediately after the receipt of election returns indicating the overwhelming victory of President Roosevelt, at that time President Roosevelt issued a statement in which he looked upon his election as his second election to the highest place in the land, and that for the reason he would not again be a candidate, he would not seek a third term.

With this statement was born the Taft boom, and the movement given it at that time accelerated until it included most of the states in the Union and won for the war secretary the majority of the votes of the convention.

It was brought from the Philippines to take charge of the war portfolio at the time that President Roosevelt elevated Secretary Elihu Root to the post of secretary of state, and from that time until the present the unceasing endeavors of the administration, with all of its immense influence, was exerted in the direction of securing the presidential nomination for Taft.

There were many doubts in the minds of the people concerning the attitude of the president, there were still more doubts in the minds of the politicians, but there was only one purpose in the executive mind—to secure the indorsement of Taft, and thereby secure an indorsement of the Roosevelt administration, a virtual continuance of it in fact.

The first step in this direction was the gradual forcing into the hands of the federal machine, made up of the thousands of federal officials throughout the country. Slowly, silently, but for that very reason, effectively, the work of molding this great army into a Taft machine was pushed.

Upon every possible occasion the war secretary was pushed to the front, where he held a great array in the public prints, and the expert publicity service of the administration was thus put absolutely at the beck and call of the presidential aspirant.

The settling of the troubles at Panama, the work of forming a new and stable government on the canal zone, the reorganization of getting the work of the Panama canal under way, the adjustment of the troubles in Cuba and Porto Rico, and the launching of the new legislative assembly in the Philippines fell to the lot of Taft. Each of these things at the time was the focus of the eyes of the country, and Taft, being at the center of the activities concerning them, was the real object upon which the attention of the American people was centered.

Finally for the purpose of winning the attention for the purpose of making it world-wide instead of merely national, President Roosevelt arranged the round-the-world trip for the war secretary, and in this way introduced him to the leading circles of the leading nations and won for him world-wide acquaintance.

The "press hunt" of the president admitted the most complete and the best that has ever been organized, made use of every opportunity to picture the war secretary, to write of him and his work, to keep him ever before the minds of the people, to keep his name ever before the eyes of the nation.

Taft has never yet stood for an election, he has never yet gone before the people and asked for their votes. All of his public positions have been appointive positions, and he has been holding and with the exception of four years, ever since he was 21 years old. He has had abundant experience in the affairs of the nation, but the people have never had an opportunity to express their opinion of him. For that reason President Roosevelt realized that his candidate needed careful grooming.

With the advantage of this great power behind him, Taft took the lead as a candidate from the start, and as soon as the first convention instructed for him the ball was started rolling that gathered up many other states by the sheer force of its momentum. The candidacies of the "favorite sons" recalled Hildt, and in the states where these favorite sons resided the Taft managers laid their nets, and as a result most of the favorites were scorched, delegates were taken away from them through the workings of the Taft machine, and it became apparent at the start that there was only one candidate in the field, and that the voters that were not instructed for Taft would be split up among the half a dozen, none of whom had sufficient strength to form a rallying spot upon which a real fight could be projected.

The first real brush of the campaign, the test of the Taft strength, really the test of the administration, came in Ohio in the early part of 1904, when the primary campaign opened in that state.

Senator Joseph B. Foraker, who, as far as often decreed, was the man who first put public life, who was regarded as the political path, is as ardent an enemy of the war secretary as he is of President Roosevelt, and in Ohio was a life and death struggle.

Foraker, through deals with Boss Cox of Cincinnati and other anti-administration forces in the Buckeye state, built up a formidable opposition to the presidential candidate.

Foraker, himself a candidate for the vote of Ohio as its candidate for president, assailed the record of Taft, attacked the national administration, made use of the Brownsville affair to count to his disadvantage on the state, and used every possible means to bring about the defeat of Taft and his own indorsement by the people of the state.

He was beaten in the primaries of February 11, and the subsequent state convention held at Columbus March 4 was a Taft field day, and the Foraker Cox forces had to content with what the Taft forces gave them, their voting power in the convention being too small even to trade on.

The pledging of the Ohio delegates to Taft was the real formal opening of the Taft campaign. The management of the Taft boom in Ohio has been in the hands of Arthur I. Voras and Charles F. Sherman, the two candidates and owner and publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, who is one of the powers in Ohio politics.

Frank Hitchcock, former first assistant secretary general, was financial manager of the national campaign, as assistant to Secretary Cortelyou, who managed President Roosevelt's campaign, he has taken command from his former chief in the matter of running the Taft campaign and collecting the needed campaign funds. It is estimated that the money spent by Taft will reach many times more than any campaign fund ever spent in a pre-convention canvass.

With the pledging of the Ohio vote to Taft the long months of years of work preceding that event bore its first fruit. Fairbanks, Cannon, Knox and other favorite-son candidates sewing their states into indorsements of themselves, but with the exception of Cannon, who got two votes each from South Carolina and Michigan, the vote-getting of the Taft opposition stopped there.

The Republican nominee for president of the United States is not yet 61 years old. He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16, 1857. He has held public office longer probably than any other candidate ever nominated for the presidency. He received his first appointment when he was barely 23 years old, within a few months after his graduation from the Cincinnati College of Law. Since that time he has held office for 23 of the 28 years intervening. One year of the time he has been engaged in the practice of the law and for four years he was dean of the law department of the University of Cincinnati.

Mr. Sherman has made the unique record of never having been legislated out of office, never having been put out through the success of rival political aspirants and never left out at the expiration of a term through the appointment of a rival within the ranks of his own party. He has always resigned from every position he has held in order to accept another, and if his candidacy for president is successful he will resign his present position of secretary of war in order to assume his new duties.

During the time that the war secretary has been in public life he has held the following offices:

- 1880-1—Assistant prosecuting attorney, Hamilton county, Ohio.
- 1881-2—Collector of internal revenue, First Ohio district.
- 1882-3—Practiced law, Cincinnati.
- 1883-5—Assistant county solicitor, Hamilton county, Ohio.
- 1885-90—Judge of the Superior court of Cincinnati.
- 1890-2—Solicitor general of the United States.
- 1892-6—United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth circuit of Ohio.
- 1896-1900—Dean of the law department of the University of Cincinnati.
- 1900-1—President of the Philippine commission.
- 1901-4—First civil governor of the Philippines.
- 1904 to present time—Secretary of war in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Strange as it may seem, Mr. Taft received his first political appointment from the man who is now his greatest political enemy in Ohio, Senator Joseph B. Foraker. Through the influence of the senator, Taft, who was then a brilliant barrister, just graduated from the Cincinnati College of Law, was made general prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county. He held that position for a little over a year when he resigned to take the position of collector of internal revenue in the First district of Ohio, to which place he was appointed by President Arthur. It was from this position that he resigned in taking up the practice of law, to which he devoted himself for a period of one year, and then returned again to political office.

Our Next Vice President.
James Schoenecraft, Sherman of Utica, N. Y., nominee on the Republican ticket for vice president, has a distinguished legislative record that peculiarly fits him for the office. Since 1886, with the exception of the two years from 1891-93, he has continuously held office as member of the houses of representatives, from the Twenty-seventh New York district, comprising the counties of Oneida and Herkimer.

Mr. Sherman is an out-and-out Roosevelt man. As late as last August he was publicly declaring that the only logical candidate was Roosevelt himself, that his objections must and would stand to stand up against the Taft machine, and that he would be nominated and elected. In that, of course, he was in error; but his position at that time shows the enthusiasm of his support for the Roosevelt policies as well as his personal regard for the president, with whom he has been on intimate terms for many years.

Beginning with a term of two years as mayor of Utica, from 1881-86, Mr. Sherman's career has been one of ceaseless activity in the service of his people. He has before this been nominated and elected to other offices, but has consistently preferred to retain his seat in congress. He had been nominated for the vice presidency, but "unhappily" would have been returned to congress by his constituents of Oneida and Herkimer counties.

Mr. Sherman is two years older than his companion on the Republican ticket, Mr. Taft. He was born in Utica, October 24, 1855. His father,

OUR LITERARY CLUB.

We always like to meet with Mrs. Brown. She has the coziest home there is in town. A "Homey" kind of home; you know a place.

Where you can sit and sort of rest your face.

I know of houses gewgawed so with style, that when you enter you put on a smile—A sort of social smile, as you might say. So that you'll harmonize and be at fault. But oh how dread I find it should get. If I should train forever with that set. No, give me Mrs. Brown—whose happy guest.

Can't lounge down and rest, and rest, and rest.

Her rooms are low and broad, and quiet.

That restful green, and all the pictures lean.

At comfortable angles, and you chat a bit. In low and cozy tones—and there's a cat. Of course a cat, that yawns there in the sun. A picture of content, like everyone.

Then Mrs. Brown brings out her dainty set of tea things, and we know that we shall get.

The very nicest, dearest cup of tea—THE CHERRY & SANBORN'S brand, you know, and we.

Have all of us been using it round town. It's always safe to copy Mrs. Brown.

PRINCIPLES OF REPUBLICANISM

NATIONAL PLATFORM ADOPTED AT CHICAGO.

Contains Ample Assurance That the Beneficent Policies Inaugurated by President Roosevelt Will Be Perpetuated by Taft.

Once upon the Republican party, in national convention assembled, solemnly affirmed to their constituents this great historic organization that destroyed slavery, preserved the Union, restored credit, expanded the national domain, and developed the industrial system of the country and gave to the nation her post of honor in the councils of the world, know the people that the government with the same courage and capacity with which it solved the old.

In this the greatest era of American advancement, the highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is an epoch in American history. In no other time was a nation so thoroughly preserved under Lincoln has there been such a mighty progress in the ideals of government which make his justice, equity, and fairness among men. The highest aspirations of the American people have found their most exalted servant represents the best aims and highest standards of all his countrymen. American manhood has been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. Confidence and courage in public station and the highest respect for the rights of wrong in private life have become the cardinal principles of political faith; capital and labor have been made to cooperate in the work of industry and interdependence. Abuse of wealth, tyranny of power and all the evils of privilege and favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple manly virtues of justice and fair play.

Tribute to Roosevelt.

The great accomplishments of President Roosevelt have been the foremost brave and impartial enforcement of the law, the prosecution of illegal trusts and monopolies, the exposure and punishment of evil doers in the public service, the enforcement of regulations of the rates and service of the great transportation lines, the complete overthrow of preference, and the restriction of the arbitrary arbitration of labor disputes, the amelioration of the condition of wage workers everywhere, the conservation of the natural resources of the country, the forward movement of the coast, all inland waterways and always the earnest support and defense of every wholesome safeguard which has made the present era a golden age of life, liberty and prosperity. These are the achievements that will make for Theodore Roosevelt his place in history.

But more than all else, the great things he has done will be an inspiration to those who have yet greater things to do. We declare our unshaken confidence in the policies just inaugurated, and pledge our continuance under a Republican administration of the government.

Wealth of Nations.

Under the guidance of Republican principles the American people have become the richest nation in the world. The people of England, all her colonies and that of France and Germany combined.

When the Republican party was born the wealth of the country was $100,000,000. It has grown to $110,000,000,000 in a generation, while Great Britain has gathered but $60,000,000,000 in 500 years.

The United States now owns one-fourth of the world's wealth and makes one-third of all modern manufactured products. In the great necessities of civilization, such as coal, iron, steel, and other minerals, the chief basis of all industries; cotton, the staple foundation of all fabrics; wheat, corn and all the agricultural products of the world, the American supremacy is undisputed.

And yet her great natural wealth has been scarcely touched. We have millions of acres of unoccupied land, miles literally bursting with untold treasure, still waiting the square of capital and industry to be converted to the practical uses of mankind; a country rich in soil and climate, in the unharmed energy of its rivers, and in all the varied products.

With gratitude for God's bounty, while in the splendid productivity of the present, and with confidence in the plenty and prosperity of the future, the Republican party declares for the principles that in the development of the country will bring the great and blessings so benign there shall be equal opportunity for all. Nothing so clearly demonstrates the wisdom of the Republican party as the fact that industrial, agricultural and commercial interests are founded and the necessity of promoting their continued welfare through the operation of Republican principles. But the great majority of the American people through a financial disturbance which, if appearing in the midst of Democratic rule, the people might have equalled the financial panic of the past. We congratulate the people upon this renewed evidence of American supremacy and will with confidence the recent and complete restoration of business prosperity in all lines of trade, commerce and manufacturing.

The election of William McKinley in 1896, the people of the country have felt the wisdom of trusting to the Republican party through decisive majority the control and direction of the national legislation.

Work of Congress.

The many wise and progressive measures adopted by recent sessions of congress have demonstrated the wisdom, courage of Republican leadership in the legislative department to keep step in the forward march toward better government. Now, with the impending independence of a Democratic minority in the last session of congress many wholesome progressive laws were enacted and we especially commend the emergency currency act, the bill providing for the appointment of the national monetary commission; the employees and government liability laws; the measure for greater efficiency of the army and navy; the widows pension bill; the child labor law for the District of Columbia, the new statutes for the safety of railroad carriers and firemen, and many other acts conserving the public welfare.

Tariff Revision.

The Republican party declares unequivocally in favor of the tariff bill by a special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president, and commends the steps already taken to this end and in the we advanced to the present committees of congress which are now investigating the operation and effect of existing schedules.

In a tariff bill the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries; we favor the establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the president, and limitations fixed in the law, the maximum to be available to meet discriminations by foreign countries against American goods entering their markets, and the minimum to represent the normal measure of protection at home; the aim and purpose of the Republican policy being not only to preserve without exception the duties that actually engage competition to which American manufacturers, farmers and producers are entitled, but also to maintain the high standard of living of the wage earners of this country, who are the most direct beneficiaries of the protective system.

Between the United States and the Philippines we believe in free interchange of products with such limitations as to sugar and tobacco as will afford adequate protection to domestic interests.

Emergency Measures.

We approve the emergency measures adopted by the government during the recent financial disturbances, and especially commend the passage by the last session of congress of the law designed to protect the country from repetition of such a calamity. The Republican party is committed to the development of a permanent system responding to our greater needs, and the appointment of a monetary commission by the present congress which will impartially investigate all proposed methods insures the early realization of this purpose.

The present currency laws have fully justified their adoption by an expanding commerce, a marvelous growth in wealth and population multiplying the centers of distribution, increased demand for the products of crops in the west and south and entailing periodic changes in monetary conditions, disclose the need of a more elastic and more adaptable system. Such a system must meet the requirements of agriculturists, manufacturers, merchants and business generally, automatic in action, and free from the fluctuations of interest rates, and above all, it must be in harmony with the Republican doctrine which insists that every dollar in circulation be based upon and its gold as gold.

Postal Savings Banks.

We favor the establishment of postal savings banks system for the convenience of the people and the encouragement of thrift.

Anti-Trust Law.

The Republican party passed the Sherman anti-trust law over Democratic opposition in the face of Democratic dereliction. It has been a wholesome instrument for good in the hands of a wise and fearless administration. But history shows that its effectiveness can be strengthened and its real object better obtained by such amendments as will give to the federal government greater supervision and control over the secure greater publicity in the management of that class of corporations, interstate commerce having power and opportunity to effect monopolies.

Railroad Rate Law.

We approve the enactment of the railroad rate law and of the vigorous enforcement by the present administration of the statutes against rebates and discriminations as the result of the Sherman anti-trust law. Possessed by the large shippers over the small shippers has substantially disappeared. In this connection we commend the appropriation by the present congress to the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate and to give publicity to the accounts of interstate railroads.

The present law, however, does not secure greater publicity in the management of that class of corporations, interstate commerce having power and opportunity to effect monopolies.

The Army and Navy.

The Sixtieth congress passed many commendable acts increasing the efficiency of the army and navy; making the militia of the states an integral part of the national establishment; authorizing joint maneuvers of army and militia; fortifying new naval bases and completing the construction of coaling stations; instituting a female nurse corps for naval hospitals and ships and adding two new battleships, ten torpedo boat destroyers, three steam coilers and eight submarines to the strength of the navy.

Natural Resources and Waterways.

We endorse the movement inaugurated by the administration for the conservation of natural resources; we approve the measures to prevent the waste of timber; we commend the work now going on for the reclamation of arid lands and reaffirm the Republican policy of the free distribution of the available areas of the public domain to the landless settler. No obligation of the future is more insistent and none will result in greater blessing to the nation than the splendid undertaking is the further duties equally imperative to enter upon systematic improvement upon a large and comprehensive plan to set to all persons of the country, of the waterways, harbors and great lakes, whose natural adaptability to the increasing traffic of the land is one of the greatest gifts of a benign providence.

The American Farmer.

Among those whose welfare is as vital to the welfare of the whole country as that of the wage earner is the American farmer. The prosperity of the country rests practically upon the prosperity of agriculture. The Republican party during the last 12 years has accomplished extraordinary work in bringing the resources of the national government to the aid of the farmer, not only in advancing agricultural legislation, but in increasing the convenience of country life; free rural mail delivery has been established, now reaches millions of our citizens, and we favor its extension until every acre of the land receives the benefits of the postal service. We recognize the social and economic advantage of good country roads, and we favor more and more largely at public expense and less and less at the expense of abject owners. In this

Compensation for Injured Employees.

We commend the government among the most commendable accomplishments of the present administration, and that there is to be done and the Republican party pledges its devotion to every cause that makes for safety and the betterment of conditions among those whose labor contributes so much to the progress and welfare of the country.

Rights of the Negro.

The Republican party has been for more than 50 years the consistent friend of the American negro. It gave him freedom and citizenship; it strived into the organic law the declarations that proclaim his civil and political rights, and it believes today that his noteworthy progress in intelligence, property and good citizenship is the result of the respect and encouragement of the nation. We demand equal justice for all men without regard to race or color; we demand more and without reservation for the enforcement in letter and spirit of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution which were designed for the protection and advancement of the negro, and we condemn all devices that have for their real aim his disfranchisement for reasons of color. We believe that the negro should be equal to the supreme law of the land.

Courts Procedure.

The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers, to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction or temporary restraining order should be amended and that one should not be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

General Richard Udyko Sherman, was a man of large affairs, a Democrat, who held several important state offices. The father was a man of positive political convictions, but it is still related in Utica how at a meeting in his son's interest when the latter was once a candidate for election to congress, the elder Sherman appeared among the speakers and warmly upheld the young man's course in public affairs. Richard M. Sherman, an elder brother of the congressman, has twice been elected mayor of Utica as a Democrat. The father was a native of Oneida county, and Mary F. Sherman, mother of the congressman, was a native of Vermont.

The candidate was graduated from Hamilton college at Clinton, N. Y., in 1878. He is a loyal son of his adoptive state and has for years filled a place on its board of trustees. His three sons have followed him through the college and one of them, Richard Sherman, now fills the chair of mathematics there. Mr. Sherman was admitted to the bar in 1880 and in that year entered into partnership with his late brother-in-law, James Sherman, and H. J. Cookinham, with whom he continued in practice in Utica until recently.

The congressman is largely interested in the affairs of Utah. As president of the Utah Trust & Deposit company and a director in a national bank, he is influential in local financial matters and he also has extensive connections with various local industrial corporations.

His services as presiding officer of the committee of the whole of the house of representatives has brought Mr. Sherman great distinction. Some of the greatest debates of recent years have been conducted under his guidance. He was in the chair in the many weeks of debate in the struggle over the Cuban war revenue bill.

Mr. Sherman's party services have been extensive. He has been chairman of the congressional campaign committee and in the congressional and presidential campaigns his talents for campaign oratory have taken him before the people in many parts of the country. He presided over the New York state Republican convention in 1895. Several times, as this year, his name has been suggested for the governorship of his state. President McKinley in his first term nominated him for the post of general appointee at New York, but in response to the request of the people of his district he declined the appointment.

The vice presidential nominee is commonly known as the bushy man in Utica. He seems to have little time for diversion, but when he can he greatly enjoys games played with his family. He has a large garden in the large garden and greenhouses which adjoin his home.

He is a devotee of golf and enjoys nothing better than a hard match. There are in the records reports of several matches played with brother congressmen of his state delegation which, at the time they were played, attracted a big "gallery."
