L. H. SWEETSER.

Hon. L. H. Sweetser of Durley is one of the strongest candidates on the Republican state ticket. Twice a member of the legislature, he left behind him a record bristling with accomplishments and without a single blemish. He filled his places on the most important committees with credit to himself and his constituents. He came to the rescue and made it possible for the Albion State Normal school to be enlarged to meet its needs, and he conducted himself in the most statesmanlike manner at all times. Mr. Sweetser has farms at Durley and Yale, Idaho. He grew alfalfa seed this year well and is bringing him $10,000. He has a fine Idaho man, broad minded, liberal, well balanced, earnest and clean and Government Engineers Inspect the Reservoir Sites.

Project Engineer Cam returned last Saturday from his trip to the headwaters of the Snake, upon which he was accompanied by Chief Engineer David L. Davis and other engineers. They went clear to the head of the south fork and the north fork, inspecting all of the reservoir sites very thoroughly. Chief Engineer Davis was in charge of the trip, and stated that all of the flood waters of the Snake can be stored when it becomes necessary. The total storage capacity of all the reservoir sites is over three million barrels. The total amount obtained on this trip, with the surveys that have been made, will be submitted to the consulting board, which will decide which reservoirs it is advisable to construct first.

The present temporary dam at Jackson lake, near Camp steven, has given very satisfactory results. This year 175,000 acre feet were stored and next year about 220,000 acre feet will be stored. The permanent dam will greatly increase the storage capacity of this lake.—Rupert Plouffe, Record.

MORE MATERIAL FOR SALMON DAM

PUMP FOR THE WATER WORKS
ARRIVES.

No Faults or Seams in the Rock Foundation Are Developed by Tests—Road Between Twin Falls and Dam Is Being Improved.

SALMON RIVER DAM, Sept. 16.—The diamond drill testing for the bedrock of the Salmon dam will be completed tomorrow. None of the testing has shown any faults or seams in the bedrock, although the borings in one case were carried down 105 feet. Although the loose rock which forms the talus over the dam site is Snake river lava, the foundation of the dam will be on the older formation, which is Columbia river lava. The stripping process will require an excavation of about 15 feet. Work along this line has already been started but will necessarily be slow until the derricks have been installed.

The bottom section of the canyon stairway is now dangling in the air about 40 feet from the ground and will be connected up with the earth and ready for use sometime this week. This stairway is one of the points of interest to the sightseers.

The traction train has just delivered the large pump for the water works, the stone crusher and a load of heavy timber to be used in the construction of derricks and cableway towers. The work of framing the timber will be started as soon as the stairway is completed.

R. J. Newell, assistant engineer, is busy cross-sectioning the dam site preparatory to clearing work.

George Irving, carpenter foreman, has returned from Boise, where he had been on business for a few days. A. J. Lucker recently went to the North Side, where he met his wife, who came from Denver. Mr. Lucker filed on land near Jerome.

C. W. Joslyn, in charge of cost-keeping at the dam, will start tomorrow for Milner, where accounting matters will keep him busy for several days.

"Duck" Rice and George Scott, who were in Twin Falls recently with the intention of taking the contract for furnishing the camp with beef but contracted an awful case of pedal frigidity, have disappeared again.

Assistant Engineer A. M. Gilbert is contemplating a trip to Boise some time in the near future. It is said that his errand is dentistry.

A crew of men under the direction of A. C. Miner is engaged improving the traction road between Twin Falls and the dam and will reach this end of the line some time tomorrow. Mr.

Horn expects the present road improvements to make the automobile cover the distance in less than three hours.

The river at this point, has passed the low stage and may be expected to continue rising for the next few weeks.

Although the duck season has opened, the ducks are not much in evidence here.

Clay, Robinson & Co.'s Live Stock Report.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 14.—The offerings of cattle on this market last week were not heavy and the market was active and higher up until Friday, when it eased off and closed around 10c lower than the high time the middle of the week on steer stuff and just about steady on cows.

There were 1600 cattle here today, consisting mostly of beef steers. Trade was a little slow in getting started this morning and the bearish news from eastern markets had a depressing effect here but everything was bought at steady to 10c lower prices. Best steers, weighing around 1250, brought $4.25, and beef steers sold at from that down to $3.75 and even lower on the light and common grades. Most of the good cows sold at from $3.25 to $3.45, the top being $3.75 for some 1025-pound Wyoming white-faced cows, which we sold for A. D. Adamson of Meadow, Wyo. The mutton market has been very quiet, most of the good lambs selling at around $5.25 and good yearling wethers at $2.55 to $3.00; ewes sold around $2.50.

The manner in which the lateral sewers are being built in district No. 3 reflects the spirit of civic pride and loyalty which has made a city of Twin Falls. The estimated cost of the system is $55,000. No portion of this amount is legally overdue until January 1, 1909, but in order that the work might be done quickly and economically the lot owners have, to date, paid in $23,000. The sewer commission had to have money to start the work. Material had to be paid for and payrolls met. To provide funds the commission arranged for a credit of $5000 with the First National bank, but it has not had occasion to use this credit, and from indications it will not be obliged to do so. Material is coming in and Superintendent Murtaugh is working all the men he can economically handle. If he has good luck he will finish the system for less than the estimated cost and the lot owners will have a "come-back," as was the case in district No. 2, where a refund of $6.97 for each 25-foot lot was ordered. The system is the best known to modern engineering and when it is completed all that portion of the city north of Main street will be covered. Hundreds of homes have been built in that section this year and the fact that sewers are available had much to do with the growth. When it is recalled that the sewer bonds were voted by a majority of only one, those who opposed them must feel pretty cheap. This should be borne in mind now that the proposal to issue bonds for a county court house is before the public. Let there be no diminution of the real Twin Falls spirit.

Great local interest is being manifested in the west of Salmon extension, which is receiving the enthusiastic support of the south side settlers. The farmers see in the development of the big west end a home market for the next five years, during the construction period and while the new settlers are getting started. They appreciate the fact that the passing through the enlarged high line canal of the immense amount of water needed west of Salmon will make the south side water rights the most valuable in the country, as with decreed prior rights the south side must first be served. Another feature which weighs heavily in the proposed improvement of the main and high line canals. It is definitely known that these canals, already equal to the very best, will be made models of water transportation. The high line especially will be rebuilt with concrete, cement and rip rap work and finished to the highest efficiency. In consequence of these improvements the cost of maintenance will be reduced to a minimum and there will be more than double the acreage to share it. Skilled engineers, familiar with the work, predict that the maintenance charge per acre on the south side when the west of Salmon extension is completed will be but a small fraction of that under any system in the country. While the extension is being developed, thousands of land seekers will come to the Twin Falls tract. This has been demonstrated by the development of the North Side, and the benefits resulting therefrom. Many of the people attracted by the opening of the new territory will invest here. The value of farm lands will be increased, the home market improved, the expenses of the land owners on the original tract reduced to a small percentage of what they are at present, the assessed valuation of the county greatly increased, the value of water rights enhanced and a railway outlet, westward assured. When all the resultant benefits are considered it will be seen that there is every reason why the west of Salmon extension should be encouraged. Nothing but good can come of it and the man who places a straw in the way is not a loyal citizen.

The usual autumn coal famine is prevalent in Twin Falls and even the customary rainbow promises of relief are lacking. This time, the public is informed, the Wyoming coal miners are responsible for the shortage, having quit work on September 1 rather than submit to a reduction of wages. The best excuse for curtailment of wages is over production. This cannot be pleaded in the present instance, for the effects of the strike were felt within a week and it has been fully demonstrated to the satisfaction of all coal users, in this section of Idaho at least, that the mines are not producing any more coal than the trade demands. It required all the pull that could be exerted to obtain three carloads of coal for the traction engine which hauls material and supplies to the Salmon river dam site. Local dealers cannot obtain any assurance from their sources of supply that they will be able to furnish coal even within a reasonable time. If the Wyoming mines cannot be relied upon to supply the Idaho market, it is high time that steps were taken to remedy a condition which is becoming well nigh intolerable. Last year the people of Twin Falls were compelled to pay $12 per ton for coal which they could have purchased a few weeks later for half that figure. The railroads plead that they cannot haul coal when there is none to haul. Then they should join with the people in developing other supplies than the Wyoming mines. If, as the railway officials assert, the railroads are not interested in these mines, they should not hesitate to bring the product of other mines into this state. The development of the state is being retarded by the uncertainty of the coal supply. Less than a year ago schools were closed because they could not be heated; electric lighting plants were shut down and other inconveniences and hardships resulted from the scarcity of coal. Present conditions do not indicate improvement. The state of Idaho is about to elect a legislature and it might be well for the voters to ascertain the views of those who aspire to represent them on this important question. Continual chaffage may generate a certain amount of warmth but it becomes very tiresome in time.

In a few days the voters of Twin Falls county will be required to pass judgment on the proposal to issue bonds to the value of $150,000 for the purpose of erecting a court house and jail. The necessity for a court house is apparent to all who are familiar with the needs of the county. The present quarters are inadequate and expensive. The records are in constant danger of destruction by fire. The vault is not large enough to hold the constantly increasing number of record books. The offices are too small and the officers are consequently hampered in their work. The jail is a shack. Larger quarters might be obtained but a change would involve greater expense and would be as profligate and imprudent a move as the erection of a temporary building. In no more convincing way could the people of Twin Falls county show their confidence in their county than by putting up a court house which would answer all purposes until the empire builders of today have passed and are forgotten. In considering the bond issue, it is necessary that those who will have to pay the taxes should be thoroughly informed with respect to the proposed outlay. The most economic and popular county bond matures in twenty years and the seller has the privilege of retiring it at the end of 10 years or refunding at maturity. No sinking fund for the retirement of this bond is required until the eleventh year after the issue. Twin Falls county bonds of this character should command a premium of 2 per cent. The interest on $150,000 for one year at 5 per cent is $7500. The assessed valuation of the county this year is $4,323,193. To pay the interest on the basis of this year's assessment would require a levy of 1.73 mills. Lands outside the influence of towns were assessed this year at $10.80 per acre. They then the owner of 40 acres would have to pay 75 cents, or less than 2 cents per acre additional taxes as his portion of the interest. The assessment on 40 acres at $10.80 per acre is $432 and a levy of 1.73 mills on $432 is equivalent to 74.73 cents, or, practically speaking, 75 cents. This year 110,000 acres of patented Carey act land was assessed in Twin Falls county. The Twin Falls Land & Water Co. has sold to date water rights for 189,000 acres. This insures an increase of 70,000 acres on the original Twin Falls tract alone. Assessed at $10 per acre, this increase alone will add to the valuation of the county $700,000. Perhaps not all of it will come in next year, but most of it will. What does not will be more than offset by the acreage upon which final proof will be made during the year commencing on the date on which the assessment was made. The assessed valuation of improvements in the city of Twin Falls alone will increase more than $250,000 this year. If not another rail is driven or a brick laid. It is thus an absolute certainty that the assessed valuation of the county will be increased by more than $1,000,000 during the present year, which will make it $5,500,000 next year. On this basis, the owner of 40 acres, assessed at $10.80 per acre, would have to pay 69 cents as his share. This is pretty cheap advertising and cheaper insurance. Before the first installment of the sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds would be required, 11 years hence, the Salmon tract will have been added to the county. This will add another million to the assessed value of the county on farm lands alone, not considering the possibility of additional railway mileage or improvements of any kind. Long before this time is reached the assessed valuation of the county will have passed the $7,500,000 mark, which would impose a gigantic burden of 10 cents, one dime a year, on the owner of a 40-acre tract. Adding the sinking fund levy and not deducting the decrease in interest, the fortunate land owner would have to pay a premium of 20 cents a year to clear the debt. How much will it amount to if the west of Salmon extension is built? Perhaps as much as a nickel a year. Surely there is not a land owner on the tract who would begrudge paying 75 cents next year toward building a court house, with the positive knowledge that his tax would be reduced to 59 cents the year after and down to 10 cents a year before he is 10 years older. The tax levy for state and county purposes in Twin Falls county this year is 21 mills. Last year it was 22.5 mills. In the adjoining county of Lincoln the tax levy for state and county purposes this year is 32.5 mills. On precisely the same assessment basis our neighbors are required to pay one-third more taxes in an old county. Twin Falls county has had to bear the burden of organization with the attendant expense of transcribing records, buying record books, purchasing furniture and office fixtures, to say nothing of spending thousands of dollars in bridging new roads, and yet the citizens of this county will probably pay a lighter tax this year than those of any county in the state. Last year there were but two counties in the state, Ada and Nez Perce, that had a lower tax levy than Twin Falls, and both will likely be higher this year. Twin Falls county is healthy, physically, morally, financially and mentally. We have clean and honest county government, and we are the most progressive people in the west. We are the heart of the greatest irrigation project that was ever conceived and we are not going to continue to do our public business in a rented building or a temporary court house. There are enough liberal men in the county who will not hesitate to pay "six bits" or a dime for the privilege of living in the best county in the country. Vote for the bonds and vote cheerfully.

J. H. Grieco has completed one of the best dwelling houses on the tract built for him by Cunningham & Scamman, the City Lumber Co. furnishing the material.

Joe Hulse dropped in from the west on Wednesday to see how Twin Falls was getting on. He left here for the Nevada field. He was warmly greeted by his many friends.

Charles J. Roberts, aged 40 years, died in Twin Falls on Sunday, Sept. 13. The body was shipped by H. E. Hunt & Co. to the brother of the deceased, F. E. Roberts, Rawlins, Wyo.

At the council meeting on Monday night Alderman Pilgrimage was appointed a committee to purchase 20 additional fire hydrants. Many thickly settled sections of the city are in need of protection from fire and the hydrants will be installed immediately on their arrival.

A. C. Croft, Jr., has resigned his position with the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power Co. and has gone to Denver, where he intends to remain. He will soon be succeeded by one of the city's prominent citizens who will be hailed with delight by the many friends who regret his departure.

The Famous Shoe store has rented the quarters now occupied by the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power Co. and the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Co. The latter companies will move their offices to the new building now in course of erection opposite the news building.

C. H. Hewitt, superintendent of the Sparks-Harrell Co., was in Twin Falls on Tuesday with John Tinnin of Tex. Both men are stockmen and have cattle on the Twin Falls tract in the 70's. Mr. Tinnin said he could scarcely believe it was the same place, he recognized a few of the old landmarks, notably the old desert station and Shoshone falls. He thinks it has been a marvelous development.

Dan Sierer has a four-year-old Bartlett pear tree on his farm, eight miles west of Twin Falls, which bore fruit in the autumn of 1907. It is unusually large and shapely. Mr. Sierer picked half of them in order to give the tree a chance. His other fruit trees are in excellent condition. Several of the apple trees planted two years ago having fruit on them now equal to the best.

In the orchard of A. V. Debut, formerly owned by Nels Lind, are a number of four-year-old peach trees in bearing. Some of the trees have more than 100 peaches. The fruit is maturing nicely and will compare favorably with the best grown. The orchard is in excellent condition. Mr. Debut also has quite a number of winter apples and a few prunes. His trees are healthy and well developed for their age.

A party of 11 bankers, representatives of the houses and sundry corporations visited Twin Falls on Tuesday and enjoyed an automobile ride to Shoshone falls and through the beautiful fishing districts. They came from eastern cities for the purpose of seeing with their own eyes how the Carey act operated and what there is behind the assurances which they constantly hear. They were well and fully satisfied that nothing had been overestimated.

DEATH OF THREE CREEK CHILD

William Faraday of Mountlhome Mourns for Daughter.

Mr. Faraday, of Mountlhome, died in the Twin Falls hospital on Sunday, Sept. 13, aged 3 years and 11 months. Her twin sister is being treated at the hospital for the same complaint and is reported to be improving.

The case of little Lila is particularly sad. William Faraday brought his young wife to Boise two years ago when the twins were born. She gave her life for that of her children and left the sorrowing husband with two precious, motherless charges. The little ones were taken to the home of their grandmother in Three Creek, the effects of whose tender care was apparent in their bright and healthy cheeks, sturdy limbs and plump bodies. A few weeks ago both children were stricken with dysentery. A physician was summoned and in record time with fresh relays of horses over a few miles. He gave the little ones medicine and were brought to Twin Falls being met on the way by a local physician in an automobile. Little Lila's condition was so bad that no other treatment was available. Little sister rallied and strong recovery was on the way. The same services were held in H. E. Hunt & Co.'s chapel and the body was expressed to Boise to be interred by the side of her mother. The funeral was accompanied by the remaining surviving child.

He found some of his former patients here, among whom are James Wheat and family, J. B. Simmons, Geo. Trueblood, the Nicholls family and others. They report him to be a good doctor and he has had many years of experience. We are all glad to welcome him and his family to our city and hope he will get his share of the business.

OPERATORS WANT LIVING WAGES

EMPLOYEES OF BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY STRIKE.

Girls Are Paid Less Than $1 a Day for Nine Hours Work—Their Grievances Are Now Being Considered in Salt Lake City.

The operators employed by the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company in Twin Falls struck on Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock of Tuesday.

The operators employed by the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company in Twin Falls struck on Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock of Tuesday.

The Bell Telephone company is one of the most egregiously corporations on the face of the earth. Under the slightest cause, it recently raised its rates in Twin Falls, secure in the knowledge that it had a monopoly and could do as it pleased. In this connection the people should remember the members of the city council who issued such burdens upon a competing company that it could not afford to do business. Perhaps these aldermen will now come forward and serve the patrons of the company the amount advanced from them by the corporation.

The salaries paid by the telephone company would shame a Chinese laundryman. Fancy requiring a young woman to work nine hours a day for $28 per month! No woman can live on $28 per month for $28 per month, and what is the caliber of a corporation that will deny its employees living wages?

The youngest boy in the employ of the News gets $15 per week and his work is not nearly so confining or difficult as that of the telephone operators. But dividends must be paid on watered stock and the result must be squeezed from womenhood to do it. A corporation that prays upon defenseless women is unworthy of public support, and the man who will attempt to defend such a corporation should be scourged.

One of the operators had over 100 calls in four hours and was paid a public paid sweetly for the service, but what did the operator get? About enough to pay the line charges on one call, scarcely a nickel. The telephone company never overlooks a nickel. It demands its pound of flesh and gets it, but it is unwilling that its employees should live. Its plan is that a girl who lives at home can afford to work for less than $1 a day. In other words, her parents who support her must contribute their mite toward the support of the telephone company. The company is virtually an object of charity. The real pity should be bestowed upon its patrons.

There are 325 telephones in Twin Falls and all are liberally patronized. The operators have no time to waste and they earn every cent they receive and much more. In their effort to better their conditions they have the hearty and united support of all patrons of the company.

Loyd H. Fuller resigned his position as head bookkeeper of the McCornick bank last week and has left the city for Northfield, Minn., where he will enter Carleton college this fall term. Mr. Fuller has been at the McCornick bank for over two years and has made a host of friends through his courteous treatment and pleasant disposition who will learn with a great deal of regret of his departure. All wish Lloyd the greatest of success in his school life.

Big Wood River Project

Now under construction by J. G. White & Co. of New York.

This project adjoins the Twin Falls North Side tract on the north and embraces some of the best agricultural and horticultural land in Idaho. Within its confines are farms which have been developed for years and on which unexcelled fruit is being grown. A portion of the segregation is now open for entry and the remainder will be opened next spring. The water supply is obtained from the Big Wood river, one of the most dependable streams in the state, and the storage capacity provided for is far more than sufficient for the lands to be irrigated. Fifteen miles of the main canal has been completed, the diverting dam is ready for use and work is in progress on the reservoir. Water rights cost $35 per acre and there is no better value for the investment.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 17.—Returning to Boise yesterday from his home in Wallace, Chairman H. F. O'Neill of the Republican state committee declared that the prospect of a strong party majority were as definitely promising as in previous Idaho campaigns.

Everything points at present to a complete Republican victory this fall. There is no doubt that every man on the ticket, without exception, will be elected. For the first time since Sherman, of which we may be proud, will be recorded. The situation does not admit of a single discouraging element.

HOW IS THIS FOR PRODUCTION?

Heifer Gives Birth to Twins at the Age of 15 Months.

Wonderful are the possibilities of the Twin Falls tract. Peach and apple trees bear the fourth year; hens lay eggs with three yolks and cryonic hatchlings marry in a few months. John Peters, who will be the next sheriff of Twin Falls county, reports a new record. He is the proud owner of a heifer which dropped twin calves last Friday at the age of 15 months. The heifer is of the dairy type, half Jersey, and was one year old on June 24 of this year. The calves are unusually large and are thriving nicely. The sire is a red poll owned by Alex McPherson. One of the calves is a male and the other a female. Now who will say that dairying will not pay on the Twin Falls tract?

Provided, however, that in any county in which the total vote for governor at the last general election was not at least 2,000 votes said county be united with an adjoining county in the election of a judge the contract. The house will be occupied by Mr. Hyde when built. It was impossible for the Buhl Brick company to get out face brick for the new schoolhouse in time, and the school trustees ordered Mr. Barrett, the contractor, to get brick from the outside for that purpose. A carload of brick was procured from Harrisville, Utah, which was unloaded and some of them placed in the building, but they did not prove satisfactory to the trustees and they ordered that no more of them should be placed in the building, so that work is temporarily stopped on the structure. Contractor Barrett has purchased 50,000 brick in Idaho Falls, the first carload of which is expected to arrive any day, when the work of construction will be resumed on the building and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

A SALE HERE ISN'T A SALE UNTIL THE GARMENT IS STAMPED WITH YOUR APPROVAL

To the personal element in this business much of its success is due. There is here a close relationship between buyer and seller, which blends itself into a mutual object:

SATISFACTION

A sale here isn't a sale until the garment is stamped with your approval.

This keeps us on our mettle. We cannot afford to sell you clothing that is, by hearsay, "pretty good clothing." We can afford to sell you only the best, and that is where HIGH ART CLOTHING comes in.

The new Fall Models we are showing are illustrative of what metropolitan dressers will don this season. There are some mighty nobby things amongst them, which will be snapped up quickly by wise "early birds."

HIGH ART CLOTHING

Is the evolution of an idea. The idea was conceived some 40 odd years ago by a man who believed in doing things just a little better than anybody else could or would do them, and he made clothes that way.

Today the superiority is as marked as when first the idea was conceived. Every HIGH ART tailor is imbued with this one subject of betterness, and every HIGH ART garment bears the earmarks of finer tailoring, finer fit, more distinctive style.

FALSE ECONOMY AS AN ISSUE

May Catch a Few Votes But Will Not Deceive the Majority.

(From the Washington Star, Ind't.) Economy is a good cry, but to be effective it must be illustrated, so to say. Particulars as to extravagance complained of and as to promised retrenchments must be given.

This is the difficulty with Mr. Bryan's latest campaign deliverance. It is not sufficiently specific. Appropriations have grown. But so has the country. The army and the navy are costing more than ever before. But they are doing more work than ever before. Would Mr. Bryan halt the country's growth? Would he reduce the army to the old skeleton figure and stop all additions to the navy?

Let us see how that sort of retrenchment would work with the Bryan policies in force. The peevish letter would have us haul down the flag immediately in the Philippines, turn the country over to the natives, and warn the outside world to keep hands off as to the native control. But what would such a warning be worth in the face of the continued growth of the naval power of other nations and the decay of our own? What power would heed it? We should in issuing it simply make ourselves a laughing stock.

Then suppose we should brandish a sword in the face of the Orient, Japan in particular, on the general proposition of Asiatic immigration, inviting trouble and certain to provoke it. If we had cut off naval increase and put that service on short commons, what would inevitably be the result? War, with this government unprepared, and European sympathy scant because of our chequered policy toward our national defense. We should occupy the ridiculous attitude of having made a bluff without the means of supporting it.

As to other things, Mr. Bryan should know, and does know, that there has been as much Democratic as Republican support for pensions, for improving rivers and harbors, for public buildings, for extending rural free delivery, and all such matters. When what is called the "pork barrel" is opened, as many Democrats as Republican arms are thrust in, and both sides drive out as large sleds as they can seize.

If Mr. Bryan reaches the White house he will want congress to do for him, and so he will be obliged to do for congress. He will find himself powerless if he vetoes appropriations right and left in order to redeem campaign deliverances about economy. Bills will be passed over his veto—for appropriation bills are always popular—while measures he desires will find hard sailing, and may not get through at all. Uncle Sam's establishment requires a good deal of money, and shifting it would not be economy, but, in the end, the very opposite.

WHAT FREE TRADE WOULD MEAN

Just a Few of the Possibilities for Consideration.

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, in its issue of August 7, editorially refers to the address of A. B. Farquhar, the free-trade farm implement maker, before the Interstate Free Trade conference in London, and the Bulletin's talk in the conference is as follows:

"Now that the manufacturers desire to exert an increasing share of their products, they are learning that they must offer them in foreign markets at prices as low as those of foreign producers. They must consequently lower the cost of their production, and they must encourage the return trade through which the products are to be paid for. Accordingly, they are for removing or reducing all excessive duties and adopting a policy of reciprocity in trade with other countries."

The first scheme, therefore, is, through free trade, to force the price of all American farm and field products down to the lowest competing foreign level, of course, at the same time lowering the American workers' wages to fit in with the scheme.

The American farmer is, to kill his sheep and buy his wool from Russia; that is, cheap foreign wool for American sheep farmers.

The broom makers of America are to stop making brooms, and they are to buy their brooms abroad, and sell them to the manufacturers to sweep out the dust from their idle mills.

There are to be free-trade tools for American toolmakers to buy.

There are to be foreign baskets for American basket makers to buy.

There are to be yarns for American yarn spinners to buy.

There are to be free-trade shoes for American shoemakers to purchase.

For the purpose of underselling a poorly paid worker abroad the American worker is either to quit work or agree to accept wages lower than any paid abroad.

Will he do it?

For Sale.

TWIN FALLS IMPRESSED HIM

W. J. Bryan Speaks of Irrigation in Southern Idaho.

William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for president, in a letter to Col. W. S. Hopewell, chairman of the board of control, gives his endorsement of the sixteenth National Irrigation congress, Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 23-Oct. 10, as follows:

"I thank you for the invitation to the sixteenth National Irrigation congress and regret exceedingly that it will be impossible for me to attend. I need not assure you that I am in hearty sympathy with every effort that has been, or can be, put forth for the reclamation of our arid lands.

While I have been investigating irrigation in this country for nearly 20 years and have examined some of the plants of the old world, I think I was never more impressed by the possibilities of irrigation than I was when I visited southern Idaho last year after an absence of 10 years. The marvelous change that water has wrought in the deserts along the Snake river can hardly be described in words.

"I hope you will send me the proceedings of the convention, that I may profit by the information gathered by those who will assemble at Albuquerque."

IDEAL TERRITORY FOR FRUIT

Many Inquiries Concerning the Kings Hill Project.

The Kings Hill tract of 15,000 acres of Carey act land, which will be opened for entry on October 12, is attracting the attention of a great many who want choice fruit lands. This tract, which is within six hours drive of the city of Twin Falls, is particularly favored in the matter of water supply, transportation facilities, immunity from frosts, early growing season, shelter from wind and frost from all that is detrimental to irrigation projects. It is a snug tract where the soil is rich in humus and every farm unit will have all the benefits of sun and shelter. The canals will be supplied with pure spring water and the drainage is such that every farmer can take the water right out of his ditch with the absolute certainty of obtaining a pure supply for domestic purposes. There can never be any litigation over water rights as the Malad river, whence the water is obtained, is a spring and its waters can never be used for any other purpose.

W. O. WANN LOSES HIS DOG

Old "Tige" Passes to the Happy Hunting Grounds.

The people of Twin Falls are so accustomed to seeing W. O. Wann, the nurseryman, followed by his trusty dog, "Tige," that they scarcely recognize Mr. Wann since "Tige" snarled his last baw and entered upon his last sleep. Mr. Wann feels the loss of "Tige" keenly. The dog had been his companion for years and he is greatly missed. Mr. Wann has contributed the following:

Tribute to Old "Tige,"
Strangers at this spot must pause;
Do not that mound of earth.
Beneath that sod, in cask and shroud,
Lies poor old Tige.

A dog? That's what we say—
A better name might be;
For a truer friend man never had
Than Tige has been to me.

His watchful eye seemed never closed,
With heart unknown to fear,
His courage never faltered
When danger hovered near.

Too tears that dim those eyes
I do not seek to hide;
He loved me through his faithful life,
May his soul in peace abide.

The Only Exclusive
FRUIT LANDS
Ever Offered Under "CAREY ACT"
15,000 ACRES

These fruit lands are conceded by competent judges and men of experience to be unquestionably the best in the entire West for fruits, early vegetables and melons of all kinds.

Here late frosts do not occur; the Spring season comes two to three weeks earlier than in the lands of greater elevation. This early season enables the fruit, melon or vegetable grower to put his product on the market at a time when he realizes the top market price, and before competition interferes with marketing his crop. This mesa, or cove land, lying as it does on the south bank of the famous Snake river, protected from cold and severe winds in the early Spring by high lava bluffs on both sides of the river, makes this possible.

The soil is of the best, composed of a combination of lava ash and sandy, erosive matter; all of which give it productive strength as well as perfect drainage, essential elements for high class fruit and vegetable land.

This tract of land is paralleled its entire length by Snake river and the MAIN LINE of the OREGON SHORT LINE RAILROAD, making easy the shipping and marketing of all products.

A telephone line is being built the entire length of ditch, also good wagon roads. Forty acres of this land planted to fruits, berries and melons will, in ten years, make an independent fortune, and will find ready sale at $1500 to $2000 per acre. This is not exceptional, for good orchard land elsewhere has sold as high as $3000 per acre.

An up-to-date cannery will be constructed at King Hill (which is centrally located to this project) for the express purpose of creating a market for the product of this land and vicinity, enabling settlers to make profit almost from the beginning.

Don't forget the date. The OPENING and DRAWING will take place at KING HILL, IDAHO, October 12th.

SHERMAN FAVORS IRRIGATION

Republican Vice Presidential Candidate James S. Sherman, Republican candidate for vice president, writes in emphatic language concerning the work of the National Irrigation congress:

"I am in receipt of your kind favor of August 29 inclosing formal invitation to attend the session of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress to be held in Albuquerque Sept. 25 to October 10. I thank you very much indeed for your courteous attention and for the honor conferred upon me. I regret, however, that it will be impossible for me to accept."

CHANCE FOR FRUIT-GROWERS

To Show Their Apples at the National Apple Show

The National Apple Show will be held in Spokane, Wash., December 7 to 12, in the state armory. This show is expected to attract the most noted apple growers in the west and to display the finest exhibit of apples ever shown in the west. If anywhere, Mr. Stewart, whose letter appears below, is to be believed, every grower in the northwest, and the interest he displays shows what apple growers think of the show. The first of $100,000 in prize money is offered for the best fruit competing for Mr. Stewart says:

PROSSER, Wash., Sept. 3, 1908.
To H. J. Neely, Secy., National Apple Show, Spokane, Wash.

Friend Neely—Replying to your favor of the 25th ult., I will certainly enter the contest with a carload of apples.

It appears to me that this is a grand opportunity for the different apple districts of the Northwest to show their faith in the value of growing superior apples. I think the matter should be brought to the attention of the commercial clubs of the different districts, with a view of taking the matter up and getting the best equipped grower in each district to enter the competition. It is certainly the best opportunity that has been offered of showing to the East that we are really growing choice apples on a commercial scale, and at the same time can give them then we lead the world in our state and pack.

I would prefer to be in competition with 25 competitors rather than with only two or three, and if it could be shown early enough how many cars could be entered it could be arranged to have an auction sale of the exhibits of this class, on the last day of the show, and the buyer could take his purchase in the eastern market in time for the holiday trade. I believe this could be worked up to be the most important feature of the show, and as the apples would all be the cream of the Northwest I think they would sell at prices never before heard of in any country.

The parties making exhibits in this class would be running no risk whatever, for if they put up inferior fruit they would be certain to sell at a price that would more than repay the extra expense of making the exhibit, without taking into consideration the good money at all.

The competition cannot fail to do a vast amount of good to the whole country, for it should bring out the very best material and the very best ideas and workmanship in apple and pack, and in this way show thousands of visitors the very best methods known. I know that personally I want to visit the show, and I have not out for when I do I am sure to learn something that I can profit by. I thank you for the premium list enclosed in your letter. Respectfully,

(Signed) E. L. STEWART.

TOUCHED THE WRONG VEHICLE

Strange Mistake Made by Two Twin Falls Duck Hunters.

Tuesday was a bad day for ducks. From all points of the compass came all manner of sportsmen, armed with all manner of ordnance, and before the sun was up the ducks were flying so high that they could not be reached without the aid of an airplane. No heavy guns were reported, the principal difficulty, according to the hunters, being the inability of the sportsmen to retrieve their game. This is an eloquent argument for the spangle and retrieve. A dead duck is one duck less, and if it is not put to beneficial use it might as well be allowed to live.

Among those who tried the dry creek course were John Maxwell, Billy Burton, Will Taylor and Harley Miller, who went in Harley's automobile, and Messrs. Lavering, Mull, Fisher and Lacey, who journeyed in Mr. Lavering's car. Harry Allen and Del Sprague, being poor because they are honest, had to use the humble engine. They stayed at the hotel of Mr. Terrell and attacked the game from the south. Finding that they could not wade out far enough to pick up their ducks, they fired Mr. Terrell's cocker pointed down to the reservoir and the dog did valiant work. His retrieve of a muskrat shot by Harry Allen showed considerable class. But he got some ducks for Harry also, which softens the situation materially.

The saddest story of the day came from Mr. Lavering's party. Pooters, weary and thirsty, Harry Allen and Del Sprague spied a familiar looking auto in the brush and hastened to it. "Ah! Ha!" they cried, "here's Harley Miller's car; let us investigate the commissary, eat, drink and be merry, for 'tis a long time since breakfast." From the treasure box they abstracted a bottle of presumably Idaho water, or from view, deposited it, and as the liquid poured down their throats, the team from their hip coppers lifted their hats. Feeling grateful to Mr. Miller, they spared the tempting sandwiches and hard boiled eggs, leaving a note which read: "Here's a dead one on you. Many thanks, Sprague and Allen."

Searched had Allen and Sprague departed when Will Taylor and John Maxwell howe in sight, leg weary and very, very dry. Their appetites were also working overtime and they tucked away large consignments of eggs, toothsome sandwiches and tart. The commissary looked like the wreck of a Sunday school picnic when they got through. There wasn't enough left to feed a canary bird.

What happened when Mr. Lavering and his friends turned up has not been made public. Nobody has the nerve to ask them.

Moral—If you have a car that looks like someone else's car, you better guard it when you go on a hunting trip in order to avoid mistakes.

TRIBUTE FROM IRRIGATION AGE

To J. S. Kuhn and W. S. Kuhn of the North Side Company.

James S. and William S. Kuhn are two distinguished men in the business world. They are young in years but masters of great undertakings. They were introduced into irrigation circles by H. L. Hollister of Idaho and Chicago. Mr. Hollister then had in hand with I. B. Perrine the Twin Falls North Side tract of 180,000 acres and the Great Shoshone Falls Power company. The Kuhn brothers saw the possibilities in these great projects and placed behind them the strength of their splendid organization. Every one who is in touch with irrigation progress knows what an impetus they have given to development in the Twin Falls country. Without waiting to complete the North Side system they took up the Twin Falls Salmon tract, which lies south of the original Twin Falls tract. It speaks volumes for the public confidence in the Kuhn brothers to say that 70,000 of the 80,000 acres of the Salmon tract opened for entry were bought by citizens at the opening on June 1, and immediately after, the first payment thus being made two years before water for irrigation will be available. The North Side tract is well sold out and the new towns of Jerome, Wendell and Milner are becoming daily more important as business and social centers. The Kuhn brothers are constructing a railroad from Gooding on the Oregon Short Line through the Twin Falls North Side tract. They are also building a large power plant at Lower Salmon falls. They have established banks at Milner and Jerome and take a leading part in all the work of development. They have delivered water for irrigation to the first segregation of 20,000 acres of the North Side tract and the entire system will be complete this year. An extension is now under way to bring 40,000 acres in Clover Creek valley, lying north of the Oregon Short Line, under water. The storage dam for the Salmon tract is now under way and for the next 18 months 100 to 200 men will be employed in this construction. Besides their interest in irrigation, the Kuhn brothers are men of large affairs elsewhere. Nine floors of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings building are occupied by the executive offices of the Kuhn properties.

James S. Kuhn is president of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, president of the First National bank of McKeesport, president of the Municipal and Corporation Securities company, and director of the Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburgh, the Germania Savings Bank of Pittsburgh, First National Bank of Pittsburgh, and Trust company of America, New York. He is also president of the American Water Works and Guarantee company, which has a paid up capital of $2,000,000 and a surplus of over $2,000,000.

W. S. Kuhn is president of the United Coal company, which owns and operates also important properties in Pennsylvania and West Virginia; president of the West Penn Railways system, which supplies with power, light and transportation some 60 cities and towns in northwestern Pennsylvania, and president of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company, which is spending millions of dollars in irrigation work in Idaho. He is a director of the First National bank of Pittsburgh; First National bank of McKeesport, Pa., the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, the Commonwealth Trust company and Commercial National bank, all of Pittsburgh. The Kuhn brothers and associates are the largest private operators in irrigation and to have them back of any enterprise insures its success. Their broad and liberal policy has won the firm confidence of people who are seeking homes upon irrigated tracts. The cause of irrigation was certainly given a great lift when J. S. and W. S. Kuhn entered the field.

ALFALFA EXCELS ALL PLANTS Is One of Nature's Choicest Gifts to Mankind.

George I. Clothier, a close student in the field and laboratory, furnishes the following eloquent pen picture of alfalfa, the wonderful plant, which attains its most magnificent growth in the Snake river valley, Idaho:

"The cultivation and feeding of alfalfa mark the highest development of our modern agriculture. Alfalfa is one of nature's choicest gifts to man. It is the preserver and conservator of the household. It is peculiarly adapted to a country with a republican government, for it smiles alike on the rich and the poor. It does not fall from old age. It loves the sunbaked converting the sunbeams into gold coin in the pockets of the thrifty husbandman. It is the greatest mortgage lifter yet discovered. The alfalfa plant furnishes the protein to construct and prepare the brain of statesmen. It builds up the muscles and bones of the war hero and gives his star shines of iron. Alfalfa makes the hens cackle and the turkeys gobble. It induces the pigs to squeal and grunt with satisfaction. It causes the contented cow to give pailful of creamy milk and the Shorthorn and white-faced steers to bawl for the feed rack. Alfalfa softens the disposition of the colt and hardens his bones and muscles. It fattens lambs as no other feed, and promises a wool crop that is a veritable golden fleece. It compels skim-milk calves to make milk of two pounds a day. It helps the farmer to produce pork at a cent and a half a pound and beef at 2 cents. It drills for water, working 365 days a year without recompense from man. The labor it performs in penetrating the subsoil is enormous. No other agricultural plant leaves the soil in such good physical condition as alfalfa. It prospects beneath the surface of the earth and brings her hidden treasures to the light of day. It takes the earth, air, moisture and sunshine and transmits them into nourishing feed stuff and into tints of green and purple and into nectar and sweet perfume, filling the busy bees to visits of reciprocity, whereon they carry the alfalfa blossoms, which in their turn pour out acrobations of nectar fit for Jupiter to sip. It forms a partnership with the micro-organisms of the earth from which it is enabled to enrich the soil upon which it feeds. It brings gold into the farmer's purse by processes more mysterious than the alchemy of old. The farmer with a big field of alfalfa will have steady, enjoyable employment from June to October, for as soon as he has finished gathering the hay at one end of the field it will be again ready for the mow at the other."

Dough=Nuts

Is there anything that tastes much better than a GOOD DOUGHNUT? And how disappointed you are when you eat the average baker's doughnut! The secret of a GOOD doughnut is the grease in which it is cooked. Almost all bakers fry doughnuts in COMPOUND lard or COOKING (cotton-seed) OIL, which accounts for that awful odor they have as soon as they get cold. OUR doughnuts are fried in PURE LARD. They have that sweet, delicious odor and flavor that you all enjoy. The truth is,

"THEY TELL AT THE TABLE."

We charge 15 cents per dozen straight for them and make them every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
