

CITIZENS' NAME STRONG TICKET

NOMINATIONS MADE AT MASS MEETING.

Plan Adopted Two Years Ago is Followed, Candidates for Mayor, Aldermen and City Officers Being Selected solely on Merit.

- For Mayor—Carl J. Hahn, assistant cashier, Twin Falls Bank & Trust Co.
For Councilmen—First Ward: J. H. Sweeney, cashier, First National Bank; L. Pettit, auditor, Western Lumber Co.
Second Ward: L. E. Salladay, Twin Falls Hardware Co.; J. J. Pilgerrim, Adams & Pilgerrim, planing mill and lumber yard.
For City Treasurer—H. E. Nixon, assistant cashier, First National Bank.
For City Clerk—Stuart H. Taylor, of Hill & Taylor, present incumbent.
For Police Judge—W. J. Smith, present incumbent.
For City Engineer—E. V. Berg, of Berg & Bybee.

Every seat in the rink was filled on Thursday evening and the space back of the rink was occupied by citizens and taxpayers who gathered for the purpose of selecting candidates for the city election which will take place on the first Tuesday in April. The candidates' names were cast and the men best fitted for the positions were chosen. This plan was followed two years ago, with the result that Twin Falls obtained a capable business administration of city affairs. It is realized by all that city affairs will receive the same attention during the next two years. Vast sums are to be expended in improvements and the city's finances will be inadequate. It is felt that the most capable and the members of the council should be shrewd business men who enjoy the confidence of the people and upon this theory action was taken on Thursday evening.

In a brief address Mayor Voigt explained the condition of the city's finances and mentioned some of the fixed charges and unavoidable expenses. He showed that the fixed charges would eat up all the revenue that is received for the city. The city was growing at such a pace that its revenues were insufficient, said Mr. Voigt, and extreme care was necessary in administering civic affairs.

Following the address of the mayor, Everett M. Sweeney was chosen chairman to meet and select a ticket for secretary. A hearty vote of thanks to the outgoing administration was passed before the business of the evening was commenced.

There was but one name placed in nomination for mayor, that of Carl J. Hahn. It received considerable support in the first round of the nomination. However Harley Miller, but Mr. Miller positively declined to run. Mr. Hahn represents large vested interests in the city and is not a native of the city. He is justified in whom the fullest confidence. It was represented to him that some sacrifice had to be made after the election until the eleventh hour he consented to serve.

For councilmen in the first ward, John M. Maxwell, L. L. Pettit and Stuart H. Taylor were named. The ballot resulting in the selection of Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Pettit, 62, Pettit 62, Taylor 62. Only the first round of the election was held. In the second round, Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Pettit, 62, Taylor 62.

For city clerk Stuart Taylor received 149 votes and Chester Baird 139. Taylor receiving the nomination.

For police judge, E. V. Berg and James A. Bybee were nominated for city engineer and the ballot resulted in the selection of Mr. Berg who received 102 votes, Mull 73 and Bybee 28.

SALT LAKE MAN GETS CONTRACT

FOR ERECTION OF THE COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

George Curley, of Salt Lake City is Awarded the Work for $123,000— Will Be of Bedford Stone Up to the Top of First Story.

George Curley of Salt Lake City was awarded the contract for the erection of the county court house, his price being $123,000. The building will be of Bedford, Indiana, stone up to the top of the first story and brick, with stone trimmings, above. The stone to be used is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Bedford stone $150,723.00; Stone $146,857.00; Terra cotta $142,738.00; Terra cotta and brick $137,565.00; No. 2—Murphy & Hinster, Spokane, Brick $110,564.00; Stone $117,950.00; No. 3—George Curley, Salt Lake City, Utah, Stone base and trim brick face $123,000.00; All stone $152,000.00; No. 4—H. H. Taylor, Salt Lake City, Utah, Per plans $136,000.00.

As it will be necessary to furnish the building with the funds remaining after its construction, the committee determined to send down the price as low as possible. Murphy & Hueter bid $110,000 for a brick structure with stone columns and trimmings and they were the lowest bid they had been willing to underbid Curley, which they declined to do on the ground that such action would be unfair to Mr. Curley.

All the contractors agreed that the specifications called for a class "A" building which would be the best of its kind in the west. They were very much pleased with the specifications which, they said, were plain and easy to follow, yet providing for the best of the material. Mr. Curley will begin work as soon as possible. He is engaged in building the big union depot in Salt Lake City and will have to give his attention to that work. He is one of the most noted contractors in the intermountain country and has built some of the best buildings in this section.

COMMISSIONERS LACK AUTHORITY

CANNOT REFUSE LICENSE IN AN INCORPORATED CITY.

Judge Walters Reverses the Order of the Board in Declining to Issue a Liquor License to Moore & Wamsley of Twin Falls.

In the case of Moore & Wamsley versus the commissioners of Twin Falls county, wherein the appellants protested against the action of the board in refusing to issue them a liquor license, the supreme court of Idaho in its recent decision in the district court has decided that the commissioners cannot exercise authority within an incorporated city. The court held that the board of county commissioners is not authorized by the court and remanded to the commissioners for further action. In his decision, which is published in the order, Judge Walters first calls attention to the fact that the commissioners gave no reason for their action.

The court understood that the case will be carried to the supreme court, J. H. Way having been retained to prosecute the action to the highest tribunal. The decision of the court is as follows: In the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District of the State of Idaho in and for Twin Falls County; Moore & Wamsley, appellants, versus Board of County Commissioners, respondents. Written depositions on the part of the appellants were filed on the 11th day of February, 1909.

On the 11th day of February, 1909, the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, in acting upon the application of the appellants for a license to sell intoxicating liquors, entered the following order: "The board considered the application of Moore & Wamsley, together with the liquor dealers' bond and the sheriff's receipt for $750.00 accompanying the same for the issuance of a liquor license, and such application was by the board refused and denied by a vote of two in the negative, and one in the affirmative, Messrs. Moore & Wamsley, together with the granting of such license, and Sherman voting in favor of the granting of the license."

BLUE LAKES WATER

J. B. Perrine Is in Pittsburg with the Proposed Bridge across the Snake River below Shoshone Falls.

Mr. Perrine is in Pittsburg with the proposed bridge across the Snake River below Shoshone Falls. Mr. Perrine also has a plan for supplying the city of Twin Falls with water from the Blue Lakes water. He will present to the American Waterworks & Irrigation Co. a plan for a bridge of 446 feet across the river, with a dam on the northwest corner of the townsite; the construction of 1000 feet of new ditch at the mouth of the river, with a dam on the ditch to the south side of the river and 13,200 feet of pipe line to the townsite. It is proposed to construct a sufficient electric power at the lakes to raise the water to a height sufficient to provide for the city of Twin Falls. Blue Lakes water would be a great advantage to the city of Twin Falls and the citizens would doubtless welcome its advent at almost any price. The plan has been presented quite feasible by competent engineers, who estimate the cost of the work at about $100,000.

WORKING CAPITAL AGAIN INCREASED

KIMBERLY BANK TO INCREASE STOCK TO $50,000.

Business Has Increased to Such an Extent That Directors Feel Justified in Enlarging the Capital—Hay in Good Demand.

KIMBERLY, Idaho, March 3. — H. Hills was in town Tuesday after lumber. He is improving his place southwest of town.

J. P. Hogan & Co. have their new store open for business. It is well arranged and the showing of fixtures show the stock off to good advantage. Mr. Hogan has the reputation of keeping one of the nicest and cleanest stores in the country and he is welcomed to Kimberly and will undoubtedly do a good business.

Professor E. C. Davis has resumed his school duties after a few days' absence on account of sickness.

A. L. Deaire has a large force at work excavating on his contract which he recently took for the bank's basement.

The friends of Mrs. J. E. Henley are very sorry to learn of her serious illness in Twin Falls, but hope that she will soon recover. Mrs. Henley was one of the pioneers of Kimberly, having proved up on the farm just north of town, but recently moved to Twin Falls.

Land buyers are getting plentiful on "Poverty Flat"—the homesteaders' paradise—just east of Rock Creek, and those who have land there will have to stay close to home or they will lose it, and by consent.

B. C. Carroll is spending a few days at his home in Logan, Utah.

George Holyoak and Joseph Nielson returned from their trip to Utah where they went to look at land. They report Kimberly land ahead of any they saw while gone.

Mr. Hill and wife, parents of W. C. Hill, connected with the Western Lumber Co. at this place, moved here from Twin Falls this week and will reside on the McCay property which they purchased last fall.

O. F. Peterson and W. F. Brechon went to Jerome last Saturday to assist in the installation of the new lodge of Old Fellows at that place. They report an extra nice time, and that a large and flourishing lodge was established at the metropolis of the North Side.

Messrs. Bonny, Osborne and Merdell were at Twin Falls Monday interviewing the county commissioners in regard to opening roads near their homesteads at Rock Creek.

Jos. Nelson bought 120 acres of land near Hinkley, Utah, and Mr. Holyoak bought 80 acres. The land is under a reservoir site, and while very good, does not count Idaho.

W. E. McMaster has a public sale today two miles south of Kimberly. He is disposing of surplus stock and will not leave Idaho, but will farm the same place as last year.

Alma Pratt is building a new residence a mile east of town.

Jas. N. Clyde has a sale at Kimberly on March 9th. He will dispose of stock and household goods, and also the remainder of his furniture, and by renting his house will take a trip to California. We hope that he and Mrs. Clyde will soon return.

W. L. Good was here from Hansen Tuesday on a business trip. He reports business good at his town.

N. H. Nichols was here a few days ago. He runs one of the stores at Hansen, but it is reported that he will locate on the North Side, either at Jerome or Wendell, and engage in the mercantile business.

At the last meeting of the directors of the Bank of Kimberly it was decided to increase the capital stock to $50,000 and a meeting of the stockholders is called for the 3rd day of April to vote on such increase. All of the capital will not be paid at once, but the board will be empowered to issue stock as the business demands; the $20,000 paid in capital now proved to be insufficient to supply all demands for those who want it. This will probably make Kimberly bank the largest capital in proportion to its deposits of any bank on the Twin Falls tract—a very good way to insure bank deposits.

E. W. Davis is shipping wheat and oats from Hansen this week.

M. Elkon has returned from his recent trip to the Contact country and has a very promising claim over there.

Work will begin on the clearing of the land north of the mill this week if the weather continues good. Quite a number of houses have already been received in regard to acreage tracts into which this land is to be divided at once.

Several new buyers were in town the past few days looking for hay and the price is going up for first-class hay. A great deal of hay has been damaged by the recent rains. Some plowing is being done these days and the farmers are very much in hopes that they can continue such operations and get ahead with their spring work.

FORM A STRONG COMBINATION

Judge Frank E. Chamberlain and W. W. Chisman—John Perce.

It has often been said that the man who is really imbued with the true Twin Falls spirit and who understands conditions can keep out of the real estate business. Judge Chamberlain came to Twin Falls with the intention of leading the simple life. He made a success of farming although E. T. Hill was in possession. When he relinquished the office of probate judge on the first of January, it was his intention to practice law, but he was consulted so often on real estate matters and had to answer so many letters that he was literally forced into the real estate business. Judge Chamberlain has been prominent in public matters ever since he came to Twin Falls more than three years ago. He knows the value of land from actual experience for he has grown two of the largest crops of potatoes produced on the tract. His pet hobby is good roads and he does not lack for support on the score. His judgment on farm and city property is excellent and his reputation for fair dealing is above criticism.

W. Chisman is a young gentleman who recently came here from Pine Hall, N. C., where he was secretary and treasurer of the Consolidated Brick & Tile Co. He was induced to come here by Mrs. Mary Wall, who was his neighbor down south. Mr. Chisman is a bright and active gentleman of pleasant address. He is delighted with the country and he has just enough southern tobacco anteo in his personality to make an excellent citizen. Mr. Chisman is fortunate in being associated with Judge Chamberlain and the combination should be a winner.

Twin Falls county has reason to feel proud of its representatives in the Idaho legislature. Senator Sweeley has been the bulwark of the Republican party in the upper house. As chairman of the judiciary committee he has made an enviable reputation for himself, his party and his country. He has borne the brunt of the battle all through the session, being put into the breach time and again to stem the hostile tide and put through the party pledges. In every instance he has risen to the occasion and has won praise even from the Democratic press. Mr. Sweeley is conceded to be the ablest man in the senate and his work is a credit to himself and the county. Representative McKinlay has been a leader in the house from the beginning and has repeatedly been honored by his party and his colleagues. His committee work has been excellent and as an organizer he has shown marked ability. Tireless and conscientious, he has given Twin Falls county the best there is in him and no criticism of his performance can be made. Those who have watched the work of the legislature all agree that Twin Falls county is better represented than any county in the state.

The last booklet issued by the North Side company is one of the most beautiful and best advertisements Twin Falls and the Twin Falls tract has had. The North Side company is usefully advertising Twin Falls. It appreciates that Twin Falls and the South Side tract have been its best advertisements, but it has repeatedly gone out of its way to compliment this city and the South Side. It is bringing people here every day who invest in patented land of city property. Let there be harmony and good will between the two tracts and let no radicals stir up ill feeling. There are enough good citizens on both sides who respect each other to hold these two great tracts together and make them the greatest agricultural sections in the state. H. L. Hollister is sending out tons of Twin Falls literature and his lecturers are constantly advertising the entire project. The result of this work is apparent and the hope is that the work will continue.

Three miles of paving in one year is a big undertaking for any city, but it is not beyond the capacity of Twin Falls. The property owners are willing to make the outlay, and they are paramount in such matters. The spirit which they display is highly commendable and it reflects the progressive sentiment which has made the city what it is. When a city like Spokane puts down two miles of paving, the land is called out and the fact is heralded to the world as a wonderful achievement. When it is Twin Falls is not making much noise, but the pavement will be laid just the same, and the improvement will be of immense advantage to the city.

If I. B. Perrine should succeed in putting through his plan to furnish Blue Lakes water in Twin Falls, he will have added another to the many benefits he has secured for the community. Mr. Perrine has always believed that Twin Falls should get its domestic water supply from Blue Lakes and he is now in a fair way to realize his hopes. Good luck to him.

Want Bridge Across Snake River Below the Dam Thrown Open to the Public Instead of Being Maintained as a Toll Bridge.

MILNER, Idaho, March 4. - Considerable feeling is being stirred up among the residents of the east end of Twin Falls county and the adjoining portions of Lincoln and Cassia counties over the toll bridge at Mill Creek. The citizens of this end of the county feel that they have never received fair treatment in that no improvements have ever been made in this end of the town and they are entitled to some consideration. A petition has been circulated and signed and was taken to Twin Falls Tuesday by Fred Weston, asking that Twin Falls county do its share toward throwing the bridge open to the public.

SENATOR SWEELEY FRUSTRATES PLOT

PREVENTS NULLIFICATION OF LOCAL OPTION LAW.

Was the Only Man in the Upper House With Sufficient Acumen to Detect the Scheme and Finally Won Out by Large Majority.

An attempt of the most flagrant character, the success of which, it is believed, would have repealed the local option law, was dealt a blow in the senate on Wednesday afternoon that laid it forever to rest. Senator Sweeley, the quiet leader of the majority, foiled the attempt to nullify part of the very important work of the session.

The success of the movement to repeal is shown in the action of the higher body at the forenoon session, when the bill that was to be used as the instrument to defeat the local option principle was actually passed. It had been rushed over to the house and was due to be considered there in the afternoon, but was brought back and killed, after an effort to prevent its being taken from the assembly room.

The bill was introduced by Whitaker by request. It decreased the bond of saloonmen from $3000 to $2000 and provided that anyone applying for a license must be a resident of the county in which he applied, 21 years of age, of good standing and recommended by substantial citizens.

Joker in Bill. The bill provided further that when an applicant had met those requirements the county commissioners shall grant him a license, in this clause the "joker" which was contained on the floor of the senate, would, with a clause repealing all acts in conflict and declaring an emergency, repeal the local option law. Attorneys in the senate, however, disagree on this point.

Sweeley Gets Busy. Sweeley alone voted against the bill in the forenoon, and before the afternoon session had convened had "read the news" of his reasons for opposing the measure.

It was found that the bill had been rushed to the house immediately after it was passed, as one of the last acts of the higher body in the forenoon, and the afternoon session convened Pugmire moved a reconsideration, which prevailed.

Davis is Opposed. Goodnight and Freacher, staunch supporters of local option, and Davis rushed out to the house side, where Goodnight hurried to Speaker Clagston's desk to ask his support in getting the bill returned. Freacher apprised house friends of local option of the movement to repeal the law recently enacted. Davis whistled to Farraday and it is believed, asked him to oppose taking the bill from the house, which Davis does not do.

Farraday was among those who opposed permitting the bill to be taken out and, although there was a division, Speaker Clagston declared and carried a motion by Aivord and seconded by Webster of Fremont to return the measure to the senate.

Belongs Change Attitude. The bill was returned to the senate and discussed.

Freacher argued against the measure, declaring that it conflicted with the senate majority local option measure to the grave extent that it would make it ineffective throughout counties voting to become dry.

"Are we going to spoil all the good work of passing a local option law which precluded the biggest fight of the session?" asked the Washington county senator.

Whitaker replied, stating that he was requested to introduce the bill, the object of which, he said, was to raise the standard of the saloon business.

He would not state, when asked later, who requested him to present the bill.

Sweeley, who voted against the bill in the forenoon, said he feared it would result in incorporated cities being excluded from the provisions of the local option law if the county in which the city is located voted for local option.

Its Good Features Emphasized. A motion by McDevitt to send the bill to the committee of the whole was supported by "over 25" he contended, that the bill had many good features and should not be unceremoniously defeated because of a surmise that it might conflict with some other law. He insisted, however, that it did not repeal any law relative to the liquor business, only adding restrictions and providing regulations in wet territory.

It was clearly evident that the senate was not in favor of repealing the law giving county commissioners discretion to refuse a license or to affect the enforcement of the local option bill recently enacted, for all disclaimed any intention to vote for a measure to that effect, the only dispute being over the meaning of a bill which had been permitted to go through without due consideration.

Result of Vote. On final passage the bill was killed by a vote of 14 to 9.—Stateman.

Workmen while blasting across the street from Eldridge to Wendell, caused such damage to the roof of the building that the opening of the store will have to be delayed for at least two weeks. So much dynamite was used in the blasting that the railroad iron used to prevent the rock from flying was raised in the air to such a height that when it came down it landed right on the roof of Eldridge's new store, damaging it to quite an extent.

The demonstration train pulled into Twin Falls last Friday afternoon, when a large number of farmers gathered in the cars and listened to the addresses. The speakers were Professors H. T. French, E. McMillan & Son, who handle the famous Bedford building stone was here during the early part of the week, conferring with the contractors who bid on the court house. Mr. Bracewell stated that the Bedford stone used in the building would be cut in Twin Falls and the money expended for this labor would be spent in this city. It was the custom of the company he represented, said Mr. Bracewell, to cut and trim all the stone on the ground where it was to be used and this item alone would mean the expenditure of several thousand dollars in Twin Falls.

TWO BRIDGES ARE AUTHORIZED

On Main Canal between Murtaugh and Hansen. The county commissioners have contracted with the Denver firm for the erection of two bridges across the main canal between Hansen and Murtaugh for $260. These bridges were urgently needed and their construction will save the farmers many a weary mile.

made more apparent, and that is the only question that can concern this court. He cannot be guided or controlled by his personal views as to the desirability of the incorporation of the law as it seems to him to be written in the books; so that in considering this application again, the county commissioners shall determine whether or not the city of Twin Falls is an incorporated city of either the first or second class, and if it is, they shall place in their ordinance of incorporation under the statute above quoted. But if this application is made for the sale of intoxicating liquors "for the place as a whole or any incorporated city," they may exercise the authority above enumerated.

This court, quite likely, cannot take judicial knowledge of any fact regarding the incorporation of the town of Twin Falls, and therefore cannot make his directions any more specific than above enumerated. Council for the board of commissioners urged that the order of the board of county commissioners should be sustained. Inasmuch as counsel contended that the application for license did not state the precinct within which it was proposed to conduct such business; that it did not appear that the land here offered was approved by the board; that the bond was insufficient in that it did not run to the state of Idaho. I have considered this entire matter carefully and exhaustively and in regard to these last mentioned matters, will merely say that they appear to me to be technical and without merit. Counsel for petitioner will prepare the proper order for signature herein. EDWARD A. WAJTERS, District Judge. Dated February 27th, 1938.

TELEPHONE TALK

The attitude of telephone users determines largely the character of telephone service in a community. Without the co-operation of its subscribers no company can give ideal service, but co-operation will help subscriber and company alike.

HERE IS ONE IMPORTANT POINT—When your telephone gets out of order or your service becomes unsatisfactory in any way, advise the manager of the telephone company immediately. Do not wait a day or a week, but tell him about it at once and he will have it corrected. That's what he is here for. Don't bother your neighbors with your telephone troubles—both of us. The neighbors can't help you, but we can and will if you give us a chance. We expect you to complain when things go wrong, but we ask you to complain to us and complain promptly so the trouble can be found and corrected. That's one thing we mean by co-operation.

EPITAPH FOR THE DEPOSITORY BILL

SENATOR SWEETLEY CONVULSES THE SENATE.

Although Unprepared, He Takes the Floor and Slaughters the Democratic Measure, Concluding With a Humorous Poem That Made a Hit.

"A certain man of curious mind. Of animals of every kind Had wondrous information. He knew them all and knew them well And said that what he had to tell Need have no confirmation. One day, while walking on the strand, He saw a track upon the sand And stopped to see by what 'twas made. And to that end he stayed and stayed. It here toed out and there toed in. At times 'twas broad and then seemed thin; But how 'twas made he did not know. Because its maker wobbled so. He studied it for many a day, But to this time he has not said Whether the thing that made the track Was going or coming back."

Loud and prolonged peals of applause in the form of uproarious laughter and hand clapping on the part of both the Democratic as well as the Republican senators, greeted the recital of the above piece of poetry by the well known "all very tongue orator of Twin Falls," Senator Sweetley, as he fitted the above lines on the end of the address he gave just before the senate adjourned late last evening, and which marked the killing of the Democratic guarantee bank depository bill, by the majority, the poetry being used as a parting shot at the peerless leader, William Jennings Bryan. The lines will in the future no doubt mark the epitaph carved by the Republican party on the tombstone created over the bill.

The address by Senator Sweetley was only given after he had been urged to take the floor by his colleagues and he returned to the debate which was in progress on the bill. Sweetley took occasion to refer to the Nebraska statesman both in a personal and friendly manner. He stated that he had known the Democratic leader for many years, and at one time he believed greatly as he did. He alleged, however, that Mr. Bryan and himself traveled on opposite sides of the fence. When the Democratic statesman advocated the bank deposit guarantee law, he (Sweetley) began to think there must be something wrong with himself, as he has somewhat favored a similar law, so he changed his views.

The Twin Falls stoneman made the statement that President Roosevelt had received more votes than Bryan did and that the next president had secured more votes than Bryan ever would. The mention of the names of both President Roosevelt and President-elect Taft was greeted with prolonged applause. In giving the climax to his address he tucked on the poetry as his parting tribute to Bryan.

Horses! Horses!! Horses!!! Having definitely decided to locate in Twin Falls, and having bought property on Blue Lakes boulevard, I expect to build my importing and breeding barns there; but for the time being my stallions will be for sale at the McMaster & Smith sale barn. I am shipping to Twin Falls four of the very best stallions, three Belgians and one German coach horse. They are on the road now and will reach Twin Falls in about a week. I invite all interested in good stallions to look them over and I assure prospective buyers that I will sell them a better stallion for less money than they have ever bought before. Besides, they can make their own selection at the barn. My being a resident and property owner, they will know where to find me if anything is wrong. I don't handle very many horses, but I do claim to handle the best. There is big money in raising good colts and there is no better country in the world in which to raise them.

MARTIN SCHWAB, Jr., Salt River Valley Stud Farm, Thynae, Wyoming.

REMARKS ON BLACK LOCUST BARK

Unsustained Contentions That It Is Poisonous to Horses.

The following letter from the last issue of the Breeder's Gazette is interesting to us, as it is a growing black locust tree. Notwithstanding the contention of the writer, there are a number of well authenticated cases on the Twin Falls tract where horses and cattle have pooled the bark from black locust trees without harmful results. While locust tree bark is not recommended as a diet for horses, it is certainly not so harmful in this part of the country as might be imagined from the following:

To The Gazette.—In your issue of February 10, note the question of Y. A. C. Winnebago, Ill., asking if the bark of the black locust tree is poisonous when eaten by horses. I have no experience of my own in this matter, as there are no locust trees in this locality, but in the July, 1908, number of the "American Veterinary Review" there is an article by Dr. C. A. Waldron, a Michigan veterinarian, in which he relates some experience he has had with cases of locust bark poisoning, from which I will give a few extracts.

One peculiar symptom noticed was thought at first to be the beating of the heart, which shook the horse at every breath and could be heard outside the barn. However, Dr. Waldron thus explains the true condition: "The sound was caused by the action of the diaphragm. It was greatest when the ribs were at their fullest expansion and could be heard most distinctly at a distance of 10 feet. I tried to locate or rather find out what produced the sound, but I am as ignorant now as I was then." In questioning about where the team was hitched at the mill, it was found he had tied them to a young locust tree which had been cut down a few years before. This was a sapling of about four inches in diameter and had probably made a very rapid growth. The bark, from this reason was tender and easily peeled. They had done a very good job of peeling, but as they had their bits in it, they were not able to get it out. The reason obtained from this bark is, in my opinion, the cause of the trouble."

Dr. Waldron also cites another case of "mare that bit rimmed up a young growth of locust trees set the spring before. It is needless to say that this man has no more locust groves, and neither have I, except more in that section." This mare died of the effects of the poison, and the doctor says that those in attendance had said that the terrible hearing, evident in the other cases, was also in this one.

Dr. Waldron says that the symptoms otherwise were about the same that occur in belladonna poisoning, and they were about as follows: "Extreme lassitude, which includes almost imperceptible pulse and which, when found, is weak and prolonged; respiration less than the normal; third and snoring; temperature normal; no pain, no appetite, mucous membrane congested, of a blue, rusty or yellow color; mucous membrane of the mouth some swollen, caused by the congestion of the capillaries; slight pyralism, and above all, the dilation of the pupil of the eye; in fact, I should judge we have nearly or the same symptoms we get in belladonna poison."

"Now, I am willing to say that I did not know that locust bark was poisonous, and that I did not know what the trouble was with these horses, nor what to do, so I consider it as one on me, and admit that I have searched high and low for something on this subject and all that I can find is what is in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, which says: 'U. S. Dispensary, N. Y., N. J., Jan. 22, 1887, reports the poisoning of 23 boys from chewing the bark of the locust. In the mild cases he reports flushed faces, dryness of the throat and mouth, and dilation of the pupils. In severe cases was added epigastric pain, extremely feeble intermittent heartbeats, and stupor.'"

From what Dr. Waldron says it can be seen that there is not much literature on the subject, and so it must be supposed that such poisoning does not occur often. Dr. Waldron does not state if it was black locust or any other kind; in fact, I do not know myself if there is more than one kind of this tree as we have none of these trees. HERMAN GROSSE, Day Co., S. D.—Breeder's Gazette.

FILER COMMERCIAL CLUB TAKES UP QUESTION.
 Clark's Grade No Longer Sufficient for Traffic Needs—Proposal to Build Another Bridge Across High Line Canal Southwest of Filer.

FILER, Idaho, March 3.—At the meeting of the Filer Commercial club this week, the question of building a new grade into the Snake river canyon at Cedar draw was discussed. The grade in use at present, which is known as Clark's grade, is rather too steep to negotiate with a heavy load and as there is a possibility of a fire at some point on the river not far from the mouth of Cedar draw, the grade question becomes one of considerable moment. Another bridge across the high line canal southwest of Filer was also talked of. This bridge is necessary to open another road to the Salmon tract.
 Last Monday, March 1, to Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Van Ausdine, a daughter, Charles Lusher of Filer is spending a few days in Boise.

 Nick Smith of the Farmers' Real Estate & Live Stock Co. is en route for Twin Falls with another carload of brood mares and work horses, which will be placed on sale at the big barn, just south of Filer.
 This company sold 20 head of horses last week. This, with the heavy sales of the preceding week, furnishes more evidence that its buyers know the right kind of horses—the kind wanted in this market.
 Watch for the NEW ONES. They will be in soon and will be on sale at the new barn, Second street and Third avenue west, the farm stock headquarters of the Farmers' Real Estate & Live Stock Co.

Miss Kinney is out of school this week. Miss Irma Swan is taking her place as teacher of the primary department of the Bickel school.
 The high school boys have begun practicing basketball. It looks as though we would have a good team this year.
 The senior class of the high school will give their annual entertainment in an "Evening With Tenyson," Friday evening, March 12th. They have been working hard, and promise us something good.

As shown by the last monthly report the enrollment of the city schools has passed the 1000 mark, just doubling in two years.
 The eighth grade of the city school will graduate about 50 pupils this year, and the high school nine.

LIBERAL OFFER FOR LOCATION AT BUHL.

Commercial Club Raises Funds for Construction of Road From Buhl to Roseworth—Large Crowd Attends Lectures at Demonstration Train.

BUHL, Idaho, March 3.—Judge Lawrence Hansen of Rock Creek came in on the train Wednesday and spent the time between train times visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Albee, and returned home on the train today.

D. R. Guild, proprietor of the Idaho Rooming House in Twin Falls, and who owns a ranch northeast of town, was in Buhl Saturday on a business visit and for the purpose showing his ranch to a prospective purchaser.

The Idaho Live Stock company is already doing business at its new sale stable on Eighth avenue. They have several good teams for sale and report that business is good.

Mrs. C. W. Hall and Miss Leona Eaton, sister and step-sister of Leonard Wiseman of Miles City, Mont., arrived in the city on Wednesday's train and will spend some time visiting their brother.

W. J. Tull sold his Broadway property on which is situated the Elison Drug Co. drug store to E. Elison, father of Ross Elison, manager of the drug store, on Thursday, and immediately invested the proceeds in that part of the town, the block originally set apart for the schoolhouse.

Rehbein sell Buhl property only to reinvest in more Buhl property.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Buhl is about to be called for Friday evening, the 12th instant, for the purpose of nominating candidates for village trustees for the spring election.

The farmers' institute special car arrived in Buhl Saturday on the regular train, and the gentlemen in charge of the car immediately commenced their lectures on the subjects announced by them for discussion to an anxiously waiting crowd that congregated in and around the cars.

Great interest was manifested in the milking machine. Ticket Agent C. H. Taylor's son enjoyed the distinction of having been the first victim of the machine on this end of the tract, but she did not seem to realize the great honor thus conferred on her.

For she simply continued to eat her alfalfa as if nothing unusual was going on, and herself the center of attraction of a curious crowd. She evidently did not even know that she was being pumped dry, or if she did she did not make the slightest objection to the proceedings. Much valuable information was imparted by the professors on many other subjects as well as that of the milking machine, which will no doubt be utilized by those who received it.

W. S. Harris' residence north of the new schoolhouse is about completed. We don't care, Mr. Harris never did have any legal right to be a member of the Bachelors' club. He faked the club and had a good time until he was exposed. The status of applicants for membership in the club will be more carefully inquired into hereafter, so as to prevent impositions on the genuine members of the organization.

N. Lane purchased the old schoolhouse property last week from Clinton and Harp, who had recently purchased it from the bank. The consideration being $2700. The sellers made $1000 clear profit in less than 30 days.

Attorney O. Clark Stone is in Salt Lake on business.

It is reported on what seems to be good authority that the Buhl Townsite company has offered to take $100,000 in stock and furnish a site for a best sugar factory to any person or corporation who will build a best sugar factory in Buhl or in the vicinity in the near future. This is a generous offer and Buhl is an ideal place for such a factory. More sugar beets of the very best quality can be grown on the land around Buhl than anywhere else in the country, and it will be strange if the company's offer is not accepted by some corporation. The means to build such a factory.

Buhl has a moving picture show permanently located in the Buhl Trading Co. new building on north Broadway. The first performance was pulled off last night and was a grand success. The house was crowded, standing room being at a premium. The neatly provided benches were so overtaxed that many of them broke down. The new play house bids fair to become a popular resort for the town, and is a fine thing to have, even though they do spend a great deal of time chasing the almighty dollar.

A large number of the company town lots were sold last week. They seem to have taken a boom.

At the meeting of the Commercial club Monday night W. J. Tull reported that there were 750 subscribers towards the good roads fund to be used from Buhl to Roseworth. It was also stated that Mr. Perkins, president of the West End Twin Falls Land and Water company, sent a message to the effect that the contractors who secured the contracts for building the dam and canals on the project would start for the field of operations from Buhl Saturday.

C. S. Peck has started excavating on his lot on Main and Broadway for a large building. Sixteen feet of brick will be the main part of the building with the front will be of the fine sandstone found in this vicinity, plate glass and iron. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy in three months. It will face Main street.

Miss Judith Sandberg is employed as one of the clerks of the Buhl Trading company in its Broadway store.

John A. Brown, a representative of Memphis and Nashville, Tenn., capitalists, arrived in Buhl last week for the purpose of making a preliminary investigation into the resources of this country and to ascertain if all that has been said about it is true, upon which he is to make reports to those whom he represents, and also to recommend the country for investment if he is satisfied that the country and its natural resources are as represented.

Mr. Brown is not here to take a birdseye view of the country. His employers require something more trustworthy than can be obtained by a mere glance, and Mr. Brown brought his family with him, intending to remain in and about the west end of the tract during the summer in the way of crop raising, and other things to his company in the fall. He is now investigating the Blue Gulch Reservoir and Ditch Co's project with reference to the site to the lands and the water right, upon which he will make a report to his company some time in the early summer if he finds it a safe proposition. He heard that the Blue Gulch people would sell their holdings for a reasonable sum.

R. M. Hays returned yesterday from Grand Iowa, where he spent several weeks on important business, and fooled the wise ones, who predicted that the Bachelors' club would be one month less on his return.

He still wears that unfettered free and happy smile that is his alone. The first question he asked was, when is the Bachelors' club to be pulled off, to which I am authorized to reply: Pretty soon now, Bob, if we can only hold you and Charlie Coker in town long enough to enable the hotel chef to do the cooking act.

Charlie Coker returned from Buhl badly surprised. He is in an unusual condition, so Charlie is, as generally he is the happiest and most good natured man on earth.

When asked what was the cause of his trouble, he let it to be known that he attended the midwinter conference of the church in Burley, and that he was a candidate for bishop of Burley, but was badly defeated.

Some jealous brother of the church started the story on him that he was vice president of the Buhl Bachelors' club and that he was to be expelled on the ground that he was not an orthodox saint anyhow, and they snowed him under so badly that he says himself he does not believe that he got a single vote, not even his own, which he thinks was thrown out as being illegal. As soon as he heard the result he hit the trail at once for Buhl and said, well no matter what he said, he is going to stay in Buhl hereafter, and be content with being just common Charlie and vice president of the Bachelors' club, and many of us are mighty glad of it.

A musical entertainment will be given at the opera house Friday evening at the home of Mrs. M. F. F. Gordiner and her aged mother, Miss Gordiner is in a very unfortunate situation. She is wholly paralyzed and totally unable to help herself in any way. Her mother is so old as to be helpless. The entertainment will be given for the purpose of raising sufficient money to enable the ladies back east among their friends. Miss Gordiner is finely educated and an expert stenographer and typewriter having won a very valuable prize in a typewriting contest in New York several years ago. The tickets are only 50 cents, and hundreds have already been sold.

DISCUSSED THE POET LAUREATE

Two Tennyson Programs Enjoyed by P. E. O. Society.

On February 12 the P. E. O. society met with Mrs. C. F. Baker. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mitchell. The feature of the business session was the voting of a sum to be sent to the supreme chapter for the educational fund, one of the noblest movements of the P. E. O. organization, the money being used to enable worthy and ambitious young women to secure education.

After the business was disposed of, the literary work was taken up, the members responding to roll call with quotations from Tennyson's "Idylls of the Kings." Mrs. Stalker read "The Dedication" beautifully, one of the finest eulogies to noble manhood ever written. Mrs. Baker gave a bright and interesting paper on "King Arthur and His Knights of the Table Round." Mrs. Greenow followed with an outline of the Arthurian Legend, so beautifully portrayed in literature and art. Mrs. Mitchell closed the program with Merlin, the wonderful old wizard, with extracts from Tennyson's "Merlin and Vivian." On February 25 the society met with Mrs. Greenow. The meeting was presided over by the president. The subject of election of officers was discussed and it was decided to retain those in office another year. The literary program was postponed until next meeting. The members in attendance responded to roll call from "Idylls of the King." Many beautiful ones were given, bringing out a pleasant discussion of the poet in question. Tennyson being one of the centenaries of the year, along with Gladstone, Lincoln, Mendelssohn, Chopin and other great minds, makes the day all the more interesting. The next meeting will be held March 11 at the home of Mrs. Hahn.
