

Carey Act Land Opening

35,000 rich, level, irrigated acres of land are offered to you within the WEST END TWIN FALLS CAREY ACT SEGREGATION

In Twin Falls and Owyhee Counties, Idaho

At the first Big Land Opening of this Segregation to be held at

Buhl, Ida., Sept. 28, 1909

The land costs 50 cents an acre, and the water rights $40.00 an acre, payable in ten annual payments, with interest on deferred payments at 6 per cent per annum.

This will be your last chance to secure, free from frost, FRUIT LANDS AT $40.50 PER ACRE

The D. B. Hartwell orchard near the center of our tract tells the story.

R. W. FERRIS, one of Idaho's eminent engineers, says: "The Hartwell orchard is one of the finest orchards I have seen in Idaho. This orchard is heavily burdened with apples, peaches, pears, plums, prunes and other fruits, all of fine quality, and small fruits of every variety grown in this latitude."

PROFESSOR P. G. HOLDEN of Ames, Iowa, Agricultural College said, after a visit over Southern Idaho's inland irrigated empire: "Of the whole section of irrigable land that I visited, the WEST END TWIN FALLS TRACT, considering the price of land and water, offers the best opportunities. I feel safe in saying that with five years' cultivation of orchards just coming into bearing will make these lands worth $300 to $500 per acre."

The five irrigated ranches on our tract, ten years old, with big fields of alfalfa, oats, wheat, etc., will convince you that this is the best opportunity to secure a farm at $40.50 per acre.

COME NOW and cruise the land; pick your selections in 40, 80, 120 or 160-acre tracts.

$3.75 AN ACRE is the amount of first payment, and entitles you to register and secure your drawing number.

THE BIG CEDAR CREEK DAM and canal lines are now under construction, all under the supervision of

IDAHO'S STATE ENGINEER

THE CEDAR CREEK RESERVOIR will hold over 80,000 acre feet of water, warranting abundant water supply.

The corner posts are all set at section and quarter corners, properly marked.

Come and see this great level, rich-soiled tract, FREE FROM ROCKS, LAVA REEFS, SAND, GRAVEL, GULLIES OR COULEES. YOU'LL BE SORRY IF YOU DON'T!

For booklets, maps and powers of attorney of the

If Applicants fail to secure land after their numbers are called, their deposit money will be returned. Title acquired with only 30 days' residence.

Registration must be made between Sept. 22 and the morning of Sept. 28 1909

RAILROAD GOING INTO HAGERMAN

CONSTRUCTION UNDER WAY IS A BIG SURPRISE.

Indications That Much Other Trackage Will Be Laid During the Coming Winter in That Section, to the Great Advantage of Land Owners.

Last week the Idaho Southern Railroad Company sprung a great surprise on the people of Wendell, especially, and incidentally upon the residents of the entire tract, says the North Side News. Without any preliminary flourish or press agent the company unloaded a large grading outfit at Wendell and at once proceeded to business. The business is building a branch of its line from Wendell to Hagerman in the Hagerman valley.

Right-of-way for this road is reserved by the company in a contract with the entryman, the same as it was for the main line right-of-way from Gooding to Miller. Hence there were no preliminaries to contend with or negotiations to be concluded to arouse the public. The company just went ahead and had its grading gang at work before the residents knew what was "in the wind."

The alliance by way of the right-of-way from Wendell to Hagerman is approximately fourteen miles. The road will be electric. Monthly, the cost of the Idaho Southern eventually. Meantime the grading force on the extension of the Idaho Southern from Jerome to Milner and Oakley is being rapidly increased. On Monday another camp of ten teams and a corresponding number of men was added to the force working out of Jerome. It is reported that Donald Grant & Co., the contractors, have contracted the building of a large warehouse at Jerome necessary to house the company's large orders for supplies, fuel, etc.

All of this indicates that there will be something doing all along the line on the North Side this fall and winter and that ample railroad facilities will be afforded the settlers so soon as such facilities are needed to move their crops another year.

H. K. Silversmith of Scattole, is representing the Pacific Monthly in Twin Falls, and will probably write for this magazine some favorable observations on its resources and rapid progress.

Miss Ethel Clark has returned to Twin Falls after being absent for some time, purchasing a large stock of fall millinery for the La Vogue.

MRS. JARR WILL RESUME SINGING

HAS A HEART-TO-HEART TALK WITH HER HUSBAND.

They Discuss in Characteristic Manner Many Domestic Affairs Incident to Her Resumption of Music Lessons Long Neglected.

"Look at this advertisement," said Mrs. Jarr to her husband.

"I don't believe what I see in the papers, not even what's in the advertisements," said Mr. Jarr. "And furthermore, did you ever notice that while they are always announcing the prices of goods are reduced things get dearer all the time?"

"This isn't that kind of an advertisement," said Mrs. Jarr. "It's somebody in the next house advertising they will give vocal lessons in exchange for washing and ironing."

"What of it?" asked Mr. Jarr. "You'll see a lot of advertisements like that. Piano lessons in exchange for laundry and gent's cast-off garments, or 'Widow lady has parrot she would like to exchange for two sad-irons.' But why sad-irons? Oh, yes, I guess it's because she's a widow and wants everything around her to be sad. The parrot is blithe and jolly, perchance, and it does not accord with her unavailing grief."

"Nonsense!" said Mrs. Jarr. "A sad-iron is an iron with a removable wooden handle. The handle is always cool, because you slip the handle off when you put the iron on the stove to heat it. And that reminds me: Do you know that Gertrude used two of my best sheets to cover the ironing board?"

"No, did she?" asked Mr. Jarr, but he was not much impressed. "Yes, she did, and she's ruined half the clothes by using too much washing fluid. It's just eaten them all up. She was too lazy to rub things out, and so she's just ruined my things, and I can't find but two sheets of those new napkins I bought her for I went to the country. And yet they seem like nice people, they are all so dark, although the children are very quiet and have nice manners, think they must be Spaniards."

"Well, could anything be plainer?" replied Mrs. Jarr. "I was reminded of the way Gertrude has ruined my linen by your speaking of sad-irons, but what I really was talking about was the people next door who have advertised they will give vocal lessons in exchange for washing and ironing. I used to have a nice voice, but of course I've neglected it since I've been married. I've neglected my music, too."

"You haven't neglected your voice. That is in excellent condition through constant practice. I can vouch for that," said Mr. Jarr.

"I suppose you think you are smart," said Mrs. Jarr. "You should have a wife that scolds like Mrs. Rangle does. She's at it morning till night. I'm sure I never say a word to you, although the way you get would drive a saint out of all patience. And yet," here Mrs. Jarr hit her brow, "I think I could do it."

"Certainly you think you can do it, and certainly you do do it," replied Mr. Jarr. "If you think you do not I'll remind you of it the next time you start to give me a railing over."

"What are you talking about?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"I'm talking about your talking. What are you talking about?" asked Mr. Jarr in turn.

"I was talking about the vocal lessons," said Mrs. Jarr. "Now that the children are getting bigger and are less trouble I think I should take up my singing again, but the charges are so excessive; but here is a chance in the advertisement of these people next door."

"Why, surely you are not going over to do washing and ironing for people in exchange for singing lessons, are you?" inquired Mr. Jarr.

"Certainly not," said Mrs. Jarr. "I was going to discharge Gertrude for ruining all my table linen. But instead of that I could send her over to these people and let her do their washing and ironing. That would only cost me part of Gertrude's wages by the week, and as you can't get a vocal lesson under $2 I could save a lot of money."

"And if Gertrude ruins their clothes they'll turn around and ruin your voice," suggested Mr. Jarr.

"That's so!" said Mrs. Jarr. "Oh, dear, there's always something!"

W. Mabbutt of Shoshone, with M. Mabbutt of Scattole, his brother, were Twin Falls visitors Wednesday. This is the first meeting of these brothers in thirty-seven years. The first named came to Idaho in 1884, settled at Shoshone, and says there is no better country. All his people are prosperous, he declares, and he emphasized his statement that everybody thereabout is a property owner and free from debt. He concluded: "We have a good country and are proud of it."

The intention is to plant a large tract for commercial purposes, and these gentlemen believe in earning capacity will prove excellent. There is a big interest developing in this industry in that state, because eucalyptus is such a substitute for hardwoods such as hickory and oak, and which latter are almost exhausted in the United States.

W. H. Berry of Wendoll, who has charge of the milling operations at the Independence mine, 100 miles north of Ketchum, and is visiting Twin Falls announces that a new strike was recently made in the face of No. 4 tunnel on that company's property. The indications are, he says, that an enormous high grade vein has been intercepted by this cross-cut, as the entire face of the now shows ore that carries about $200 per ton in silver and lead and is similar in general character to two carloads which were marketed last fall and yielded about $3,000 per car.

John W. Trewelma, well and favorably known throughout the Idaho and other intermountain territory as a traveling salesman for Homonway & Moser of Salt Lake, will not be affiliated with the Knights of the Grip longer, and will be missed much by the hundreds of friends he has made among merchants and dealers here, while his routes. He has embarked in the pool room and clear business in Missoula, Mont., with Fred H. Knalcy, and is closing his affairs in Zion incidental to removing to the scene of his future work. Success to him is the best wish of his hosts of friends in Twin Falls.

FALL PASTURAGE IN STUBBLE FIELDS

ALL THIS IS BEING LOST TO THE FARMERS.

Expert in Fall Feeding Falls to Secure Twin Falls Land Growers' Cooperation in Effort to Utilize These Pastures for Sheep Herds.

"There are thousands of dollars worth of feed, which should be utilized throughout the Twin Falls South Side tract, going to waste in stubble fields this fall," said Alex. McPherson a few days ago, and he further expressed the belief that sooner or later the farmers hereabout will all realize the value of flocks of sheep and herds of milk cattle on these areas. "There are several months of growing weather during the autumn months," he explained, "during which the alfalfa fields especially produce much pasture food for these animals. The wheat and oat stubble also afford considerable that sheep would thrive on. It believe the time is not far distant when the farmers will recognize the advantage of buying sheep and cattle for fall and winter feeding, and market the herds and flocks so fed in the spring. I am sure that the money for this operation can be borrowed right here in Twin Falls, by any man who owns a farm. In fact, I know that the banks will make loans to any such land owner who may desire to engage in the production of milk for dairy purposes and may want the capital to buy milk cows. The creamery here cannot procure all the milk it wants for butter making, and there is money in feeding milk cows, especially when the stubble range is available, as it is so generously, every fall after the crops are harvested.

There are now 70,000 head of range cattle in the hills between here and the Nevada line, and they will be maintained there for years to come probably every season. Thousands of these animals could be "topped" in Twin Falls county stubble fields, while the growing season of the fall continues, and then absorb some of the farmers' hay during the balance of the season, thus providing the grower more money per ton than if the same were sold and hauled away.

George Coates from Bellevue has been circulating through this district a week, trying to trade sheep for hay, or buy fall pasture for the sheep he desires to feed on the stubble fields, but I understand he has not been able to effect any such arrangements, because the farmers do not seem to have understood the proposition as I believe they will ultimately. When they do, there will hardly be a vacant stubble field anywhere in the district throughout the fall and early winter months."

As an indication of what will be generally done as the conditions improve, E. R. Gray, said to be one of the largest sheep dealers in Eastern Idaho, is said to have already contracted for 1600 tons of hay in the vicinity of Twin Falls, and intends to drive his flocks here and feed them the balance of this winter. Gray is credited with having expressed a desire to buy additional hay, to be delivered during the next five years, under similar circumstances, and to be used in this same way.

So competent an authority as A. Harder of the Twin Falls creamery, says: "We could use twice as much milk and cream as we have been able to secure the past year. We are paying a good price, but there apparently are very few milk cows on the tract. No business as we have been more profitable, in my opinion, than the dairying business.

PURE-SEED LAWS ARE RECOMMENDED

IDAHO FARMERS ADVISED TO LEGISLATE AGAINST WEEDS.

Visitor Recites How Sales of Impure Seed Have Been Stopped. In That State and the Agricultural Interests Thus Vastly Benefited.

Before departing last week for the Northwest William Renschneider of Laurel, Ia., who had been investigating the status of his Twin Falls land secured at the time the tract was opened four years ago, declared that he was surprised to find that many weeds in fields which are so newly passed under cultivation.

"I am familiar with new countries," he continued, "having come to Iowa where it was common to find the same unusual condition that influences the extraordinary weed growth that I observe hereabout. These are mostly foreign weeds, and should not have arrived here for many years, judging by the history of land development in the older states. Therefore there must be some agency introducing these weeds, and we did not have to baffle with in the early days of the more Eastern states. Whatever the cause, it is unnatural, it may be ascribable to the seeds which Twin Falls farmers are using. I cannot think of any other reason why these fields should be afflicted as they are.

"It is true, that immediately upon cultivation of wild land, certain kinds of weeds will appear, whether or not the seed thereof comes mixed with seed of the crops sown.

"However, it is scarcely of any use to waste time discussing the cause of foreign weeds around Twin Falls. It may be granted that the responsibility rests primarily with the crop seed and the first effort that should be made to remedy this condition is legislation such as we had to enact in Iowa.

"For many years the farmers of that state had suffered from a constantly increasing affliction of weed pests, which investigations traced upon producers of seeds, most of whose establishments were in other states. It seemed that everyone of these producers who raised a batch of impure seed, and sold the same into the Iowa market. Laws were finally passed, however, which prohibited the sale of any but absolutely pure seed, and several hundred were prescribed for all local dealers who might be convicted of selling seed containing a particle of anything except the plant purporting to be contained in the package as described by the label. Since the adoption of these laws, which have been enforced, Iowa has had a far less sufferer from weeds, and the same has disappeared entirely from the fields.

"Farmers of Idaho should adopt these same measures as soon as they can. Impure seeds will not be handled by local dealers, if they even fear that the same are not absolutely pure, when it is known that the purchaser of an impure batch of seed has it within his power to prosecute the retailer and have him convicted and heavily fined for the offense.

"I will say, furthermore, that here in Twin Falls the opportunities of farmers are much greater than exists back east for the man desirous of getting a start. Here diversified farming will be found most profitable. Southern Idaho, in my estimation, be found adaptable especially to dairying, and I believe it will develop some very profitable examples in this line.

Mr. Renschneider spoke very much in earnest on these matters. He holds Twin Falls county in extremely high esteem, is confident that her agricultural interests are immeasurably at this time, and expects to obtain greater holdings of land here during the coming year. He is also one of the most wealthy farmers in the vicinity of Laurel, having raised 600 acres of corn this season, and much additional of miscellaneous products. With corn at 65 cents, he said, everybody engaged in that business this year has done pretty well.

Thinks Criticism Unjust. In an interview with the Idaho Statesman, A. C. Bost of the Bolso Book & Music Company expresses the opinion that criticism against the state's exhibit at the Seattle Fair have been unwarranted. He said: "The showing made by Idaho is very satisfactory when the amount that was appropriated and the time to do things is considered. Of course, we have not as fine an exhibit as California or Washington, but that is not expected. I heard some very strong expressions as 'Good for little Idaho' who in Seattle and the people are favorably impressed with the showing of this state. The people here do a whole lot of knocking, which is unjust and it takes a lot of boasting to overcome the knocking.

"The hostesses in the Idaho building make it very pleasant for those who visit the place and do everything to make it agreeable to the callers. Our building is well arranged and artistically built."

Climate Hatches Chickens. Emmett Index: John Callender is authority for the following hot story, and Will's veracity has never been questioned yet: He had a hen setting on eggs in the lot of his barn. Five little chicks were hatched on schedule time. After waiting a couple of days and no more chicks appearing, Mr. Callender concluded the remainder of the eggs were bad. The hen and her brood were removed to a coop, but the next day two more chicks appeared, and a day later two more hatched in all—five hatched by the hen and four by this glorious Idaho climate.

Her Much-Discussed Desire to Wed Some Honest Idaho Farmer With Overall Appears Now to Have Been Merely a Ruse.

The romance of a widow's infatuation for the picture of a senator who had never seen—and that man a United States senator, is told in a special dispatch to the New York World from Chicago.

The woman, Mrs. Hartman, discussed in the News last week under the caption, "Senator Borah's Matrimonial Bureau." Therein was described the history of her waiting Senator Borah a letter asking him to find her an over-earring husband among Idaho's farmers and saying she was anxious to see the state which he had so glowingly pictured in speeches and newspaper interviews. According to the World's Chicago correspondent, Mrs. Hartman's later statement is as follows: "I really want Senator Borah to get me a husband. I wanted Senator Borah himself. I thought that if in the manner I adopted his likeness was called to my attention that I had the yearning I felt. I thought there must be a response in the senator's soul."

"I am sure the atmosphere of Washington is not suited to the transmission of soul messages. So Senator Borah did not see the point and is trying to get me an Idaho husband from a picture. He is not a farmer of him, but a woman knows what she wants. My plan was too subtle, I'm afraid.

"His soul has failed to respond to the yearnings of my heart, but his photograph will ever be cherished by me as that of the ideal man. I will always love this photograph, how now he—how handsome—how full of life—love he looks is all one feels, but none of the sentiments with which I have endowed him. It is better to have a false picture than never to have loved at all.

"Certainly if I were looking for a husband from the great prairies of Idaho I have every opportunity to select one. There are scores of letters and all of them are from men who appear to be in earnest. But I do not think I shall make a selection from among them. My little nest has failed. I shall fall back upon my original love, the old picture in my writing desk. It's Senator Borah or no one."

The senator married at 30, 14 years ago, but the widow does not know even yet that he has a wife. The photo that caused her admiration was seen by Mrs. Hartman in a magazine story advertising Idaho's manifold wealth-yielding agricultural resources.

Following are a few of the hundreds of letters Mrs. Hartman exhibited as having been received from the Gem State bachelors:

1. I will marry you if you are a working woman, but I don't want these wealthy dames, I don't. Good by, write soon.

OSCAR JOHNSON, Pocatello.

2. From the tone of your letter it seems that you must have loved some one desperately. Are you sure that love is obliterated and that you could honestly be so good as marry me? WILLIAM HORST, Nampa.

3. I am a man in the overalls. I am "bacheling" on a 240-acre farm. You really think a woman can love and labor at once, let us try it. DWARD JO CORNVAN, Long Lake, Idaho.

4. I have not much of a life to offer a woman. It is on the farm here. I rise at 2 a. m. and go hay-vesting. I don't get home until dark, and then I work two hours. I want a wife, but I can't see why a woman would want to share with me a life of suffering. WILLIAM DITTMAN, Taylor, Idaho.

5. You say "Nothing doing but overalls." All right, I'll have mine made by a good tailor. I know a woman of your intelligence doesn't want to see a man looking frowsy. E. EVERMAN, Payette.

Twin Falls "Kid" Ball Players. North Side (Jerome) News: According to advertisement, Jerome's second baseball team played a match game with a team of Twin Falls kids at the local grounds before a small audience last Sunday. The Twin Falls team was composed of several "school boys" who for their size and age have pretty well caught on to the game. Their opponents of Jerome far outclassed them in both age and size. Some of the local men, who ever make the eighth grade, did so a number of years ago. Even the Jerome fans sympathized with the plucky little fellows. They were very snappy and some real earnest work on both sides. The game was called in the seventh inning on account of intense heat with the score standing 9 to 4 in favor of Jerome. In a job victory there was not much glory, in future when there is a kid game scheduled the kids ought to play it.

AGED, YET—AND YET ON JOB

EVENTFUL CAREER OF PIONEER IDAHO FREIGHT PACKER.

Life's History Which Sustains Theory That 'Out-Door' Life and 'Roughing It' Are 'Influentially Conductive to Extended Human Longevity.

Among the visitors to Twin Falls last week there were probably none whose memories run so far into Idaho history, nor who has done so much service to the state, in his modest way, than J. Arquide, who is making his temporary home at Buhl and may be found doing active physical work, notwithstanding he is 73 years of age.

Arquide's career has been extraordinary in many ways. He declares that he came from Sonora, Mex., to the region of what is now the city of Boise in 1859. When this early date is contemplated in all its meanings, it is easy to recognize the fact that this unusual Mexican came a long way from home at that time, and that he has possessed unusual "staying qualities." Throughout those forty-nine years of residence in the state he claims to have been more or less continuously engaged as a freighter, and emphatically declares he is the "oldest packer" in the United States.

There can be little doubt that this honor belongs to Arquide, for there are comparatively few men whose lives have been devoted to packing who are yet in the harness. Most of them were physical wrecks at 70. If they lived so long. Quite a number of old-time Arquide meets in various parts of the state, furthermore, remember him and his operations when they were youths around Boise. He says he packed for Uncle Sam's soldiers in the earliest military operations in this part of the Northwest. Later he did similar service for the pioneer mining operators of Idaho, Montana, Washington and California.

Subsequently some of his largest contracts were for the United States government, "and I have letters," he said, with much pride reflecting from his yet bright, dark colored eyes, "from representatives of the government which show that all my work was done very satisfactorily to the men who hired me."

Arquide did yeoman service for the surveyors who laid out the first western railroad lines, and later packed many a ton for the contractors on this same railroad construction work.

One of Arquide's largest and most extensive contracts consisted of transporting a heavy wire cable over a trail that would not accommodate anything on wheels. This huge roll was so heavy and cumbersome to load on mules that a few pack animals were therefore unneeded and were produced by Tolman and Walker of Murtaugh. J. E. Steiner has purchased a hay baler and will press hay for the people of this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper returned from Twin Falls last week and brought a brand new boy with them.

FILER TO MAKE ALFALFA MEAL

MILL WILL BE BUILT THERE AT ONCE.

Twin Falls and Other Local Capital Behind an Enterprise That Promises to Pay $7 to $8 per Ton for This Crop.

FILER, Ida., Sept. 1.—The Filer Alfalfa Meal Milling Company, Ltd., which is composed of wide-awake business men and ranchers of Twin Falls and Filer, hold a meeting in the Filer school house Friday, and after accepting this name, elected the following directors: M. B. Hardor and F. G. Lester of Twin Falls, and H. B. Lorain, E. J. Finch and M. G. Ripley of Filer. The directors then chose the following officers: M. B. Hardor, president; H. B. Lorain, vice president; and F. G. Lester, secretary and treasurer. The plant and general offices will be in Filer. The directors decided on a tract of 30 acres as the site for the mill. The building will be for 200,000 feet long and two stories. The cost of the plant will be $10,500, exclusive of the site, and will have a daily capacity of fifty tons. The plant will be manufactured by the Williams Hay Pulverizing Machinery Company and is sold and installed by E. E. Boster of Boise. This mill will be a boon to the ranchers around Filer, as it will pay $7 to $8 per ton for their hay, delivered loose, and in return the ranchers can buy the milled product, which is the finest kind of feed for all kinds of stock and cows. The alfalfa meal sells in Portland and San Francisco at about $2.00 per ton. This is the first such mill in Idaho, but the alfalfa milling industry is a big thing in Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, and first alone operating twenty-five plants in Kansas. Mr. Duster says that the finest alfalfa grown in the United States is grown here, being more nutritious and having better color than that grown elsewhere. The milled product is packed in 100-pound sacks and is shipped and retained in that shape, making it very handy to feed. The installing of the plant here in Filer has already had a tendency to uplift the hay market, as Frank Brown of Sucker Flat reports three hay buyers at his place last week and he contracted 700 tons at $5.00 per ton in the stack. The grain men of Filer are very busy now days. L. M. Smith of the Highline Grain Company reports three cars of wheat loaded at the Penney switch last week. I. S. Lambing, manager of the Tibb-ditch elevator, claims to have shipped the first car of oats from the Twin Falls tract last Saturday, and that he now has orders for nine more cars. H. H. Schindler of the Idaho Store Company, is setting in considerable grain and has wheat and oats. The Filer Fuel and Produce Company have shipped one car of wheat and have placed orders for another. The grain men on this part of the tract and quality first-class. A. H. Sooner threshed 14,000 bushels from 220 acres and Thursday morning he went to Seattle Wednesday to see the big show. W. Waters and wife started for Seattle Sunday evening. Mr. Walter E. Bidley was in Buhl Tuesday, making arrangements for the Filer big day Sept. 18. Mr. Chas. Wheeler was over on the main line Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. J. G. PER DAY AT ARCO

HUNDREDS WANT THE BIG LOST RIVER LANDS.

The Opening on Sept. 14 of This Tract of 80,000 Acres Attracts Seekers by Thousands from Many States and Will Be a Hummer.

Public interest increases day by day in the opening of the Big Lost River irrigated lands. Reports from Arco, Ida., where the drawing will occur Sept. 14, say that enthusiastic inquiries are reaching 1000 per day, all of which indicate the probability of this event being one of the greatest in the history of Carey Act land openings in the state. There are also noted many arrivals of land seekers at Arco daily who will stay until after the drawing and the crowd there then will be enormous.

Registration for the drawing is large, and there is a likelihood that by the evening of the 12th, when we understand the time within which registration may be made will terminate, there will have been, recorded more than sufficient applications for every acre of the entire 80,000 acres to be allotted.

That all this acreage is good, fertile, level ground, all susceptible of easy irrigation, and that there will be ample water for every acre in the tract, appears to have been quite thoroughly understood throughout the

BUHL PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

MANY EASTERN VISITORS ARE ATTRACTED TO INVEST.

Missouri and Iowa. Among the Guests Entertained—Constant Expansion of Business Illustrated by Merchants' Changes of Location.

BUHL, Idaho, Sept. 1.—Dan Conner was up from Pler Thursday with several cans of fine cream for the creamery.

Under Sheriff F. C. Schneider was up from the county seat Friday on official business.

M. Ware returned Saturday from Seattle where he had spent several weeks visiting the fair and his family which is spending the summer in that city.

Miss Elsie Hubbard is employed at the creamery as bookkeeper. The business has grown so rapidly that a bookkeeper is necessary to keep his affairs straight.

V. J. Savage sold the Vienna Cafe to D. V. Moore Friday, and left for parts unknown.

H. H. Hargis, one of Buhl's bustling real estate men, has accepted a position as locator for the Arco Arco Irrigation project, and left for Arco today to assume his duties there.

The C. W. & M. Company's big store building, on Broadway, is nearly completed and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Dr. D. P. Albee, Mrs. Albee and Master Joe returned home Monday from their outing in Shoshone basin. They spent last night at the fair.

P. R. Dommeres of Denver, Colo., was transacting business in Buhl Thursday of last week.

J. A. Bliss of Ottawson, Iowa, was among the strangers in Buhl last week, looking over the country for an investment.

Mrs. N. P. Jordan was in from Ottawson colony Friday on a shopping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ward came up to town Sunday to attend mass.

O. D. Coles, formerly employed in the Anti-Monopoly Drug Company's drug store, and now holding a similar position in American Falls, visited Buhl for a few days last week. Dr. Coles owns a fine ranch a short distance south of town, which he leased for a term of years. He went from Buhl to Seattle to attend the fair.

D. H. Anderson of Spokane was a Buhl business visitor Friday.

W. T. Potts has finished putting in the pumping pipe and motor at the deep well and now we can't care for the county does go "dry." We have plenty of good, pure and wholesome water and oceans of buttermilk to drink. So there is no fear of being dry no matter what the outcome of the election may be. Happy Buhl.

Frank Hartweck was over from Ruchel School on a short business trip.

G. W. Gibson and W. W. Clifford of Twin Falls, visited Buhl Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Runnyon, father and mother of Harry Runnyon, of Perth Amboy, N. J., visited their son last week. Mr. Runnyon, Sr., purchased the old building now occupied by the Citizens State Bank on Main Street. The consideration is $4,000. Mr. Runnyon was very favorably impressed with the Buhl country and he predicted that Buhl would grow to be a large city in the near future.

F. T. Hays, father of our general manager, R. M. Hays, W. H. Hays, a brother of R. M., Mrs. W. H. Hays, and their two children, Anell and Gladis, accompanied by Mrs. Orcutt, all of Grinnell, Iowa, spent several days of last week in Buhl—visiting the mayor and looking over the country. They were surprised at the size of the city, being scarcely able to believe that a town could grow so rapidly in so short a time in a new country, which only a few years ago was nothing but a vast wilderness of scrub brush. They were all very favorably impressed and predicted a great future for it. They returned home yesterday. R. M. Hays accompanied them to Twin Falls. He returned to Buhl on the evening train.

V. C. Razor of Salt Lake, registered at Hotel Buhl Friday.

John Buhl of Portland, Oregon, was a guest of Hotel Buhl one day last week.

Maureen V. Wolf, of Jeromes, was in on for a short time Saturday.

J. W. Jackson is in from Castleford on business.

W. D. Southworth was in from the Castleford ranch Monday. He had his grain threshed and said that there was a good average crop of oats and wheat.

J. W. Howe was up from his ranch on the Snake River—today on a short business trip.

D. Cameron of Boise was a Buhl business visitor Saturday.

John H. Hargis of Hagerman was up from that town Friday on business.

M. N. Simons, proprietor of Hotel Buhl, is sick and in the hospital in Twin Falls. Mrs. Simons was taken to the Twin Falls hospital last week. It was thought that she was suffering from appendicitis. It is reported that she is improving.

Elmer Winter is in charge of Hotel Buhl during the absence of Mr. Simons in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Ida Lambert of Twin Falls was a Buhl visitor Saturday.

C. M. Lake of Kansas City, Mo., registered at Hotel Buhl Monday.

C. L. Brackett of Roseworth was transacting business in Buhl Saturday.

Father Joseph Beusmanns, of Twin Falls, read high mass in Buhl Sunday, in the Woodmen's hall on Broadway.

H. M. Ball of Boston, Mass., is stopping at Hotel Buhl for a few days while looking over the country.

Wm. H. Bark, a former resident of Buhl, and foreman of the experimental farm here in early days, but now employed by Uncle Sam to gather data on the various irrigation projects in the State, is spending a few days in Buhl in the discharge of his duties. He says that he has traveled much in the last six months, but has seen no country that can compare with the Buhl country for progress and promises for the future.

Miss Nan Vance is in Pocatello, attending the teachers' institute being held at that place.

Harry Barp traded his residence on Eighth Avenue to C. H. Woodward of the latter's residence, also on Eighth Avenue. Mr. Barp received $1,300 to boot.

Lawrence Allice of Twin Falls spent Saturday in Buhl transacting business.

H. O. Miller came up from Twin Falls Sunday to see how his third crop of alfalfa and fourth crop of peas were doing along. He found both crops doing fine.

Frank Wood of St. Louis registered at Hotel Buhl Monday.

Edwin C. Decker, III, arrived in Buhl for a few days ago and is living on his ranch south of town.

Pete McCabe of Kemmerer, Wyo., was a Buhl country hand seeker last week. He has several days looking over the country.

Florence D. Heap of Twin Falls was a guest of Hotel Buhl one day last week.

Alta Greenow of Twin Falls visited Buhl Sunday on a pleasure trip.

J. A. Cannon of St. Louis, Mo., was a Buhl visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rookstool of Wendell were in Buhl for a short visit Monday.

E. L. Kowal of Twin Falls was up from his county seat on a short business trip Monday.

P. Hanks and J. Post, of Hagerman, spent Monday in Buhl transacting business.

Andy Wilson was up from Twin Falls Saturday arranging to give a lease on the restaurant room in his building, adjoining the Hub Racquet room. The restaurant will open for business in a few days.

Miss Nancy Ham of Seattle, Wash., is visiting Mrs. Maud Webster and her sister Miss Grace Southworth, for a few weeks. Miss Ham and Miss Southworth are on the big ranch at Castleford having a good time.

E. C. Reamer of the Hub Racquet store is in Salt Lake on business, and Mrs. Maud Webster is attending to the store in his absence.

Miss Gladis Hargis, Mrs. M. and Mrs. George Wado at Castleford, last Thursday. Mother and child are doing well and we are patiently waiting for that baby to come. Good news. He will surely get them as soon as daddy George recovers.

Mrs. Gussie Shidder, a school teacher of Kansas City, Mo., spent a week visiting with the family of J. W. Paris. She was so delighted with the Buhl country and its future prospects, that she invested heavily in building a fine home. She is exceedingly enthusiastic and on her return to her home will do some good work in boosting for this country.

Miss Hargis is the wife of a school teacher who taught in Buhl last year, is visiting with Mrs. F. S. Marshall this week. Miss Nelson will teach at the Hub Racquet school term.

Bert Atwood and Frank Chudas were county seat visitors Saturday.

Miss Hargis, Mrs. Maud Webster and Ethyl Benson, two of our last year's school teachers, will arrive in Buhl Saturday and prepare to take up their duties again in our schools. These young school-grad teachers and Buhl is fortunate in being able to secure their services for another year.

F. S. Marshall and her mother, Mrs. M. A. Webster, spent Saturday and Sunday in Twin Falls visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Baker. Mrs. Marshall returned home Monday, but Mrs. Webster is still in Twin Falls.

The Union Ladies Aid met in the Methodist church Friday afternoon and went up the affairs of the union which then disbanded, as the several churches are going to organize separate and distinct Ladies Aids.

The ladies of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. F. S. Marshall Thursday afternoon and organized a Ladies Aid for that church, with twelve charter members. Mrs. F. S. Marshall was elected president, Mrs. Oliver, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Murphy, secretary, and Mrs. Charlotte McQuown, treasurer. After the organization was completed, the hostesses served dainty refreshments and all present had a fine time.

Dr. J. H. Murphy is in Seattle taking in the fair.

Charles Reider of Grinnell, Iowa, is in Buhl visiting his friend, R. M. Hays. Mr. Reider owns land in the vicinity of Buhl and is intending to take up his residence on it.

M. B. Osgood is moving his stock of general merchandise into the south half of the Van Sycle business block and Ross Ellice is moving his stock of drugs into the north half of the same building. This is the second move Mr. Osgood had to make, as the result of expanding business, and it is only that Mr. Ellice had to make for the same reason. There are others who must soon follow suit.

Probate Judge Shields came up from the county seat Tuesday on official business.

Flying Machines Practical.

Successful tests and exhibitions of various flying machines, at Rheims, where all the principal American and European inventors were represented, have convinced the most critical experts, as well as the general public which witnessed these demonstrations, that practical navigation of the air commercially, is a not very remote fact. A monoplane, invented by Joseph H. Adams, an American, and broken all records up to last Saturday. He traveled 85 miles, at the rate of a little more than forty-three miles an hour, while a violent wind and rain storm prevailed, and also declared that if his tool violent had been kept longer in the air and extended his trip to more distance before bringing the apparatus to the earth. This remarkable incident created intense excitement among the many spectators, and the press reports declare that the fortunate inventor was overwhelmed with congratulations. These successful tests also suggest that the first practical flying machine will be of the monoplane type, operated by what the profession describes as heavier than air machinery, driven by gasoline.

Alfalfa Market at Payette.

The Payette Independent says that alfalfa hay is a trump card in that section, selling for $5 per ton in the stack to the extent of several hundred tons last week. In explanation, the Independent continues: "Fortunately for producers, the alfalfa crop is good in the Payette valley this year, and all of last year's crop had been consumed before the new crop became available. The crop is light in the Boise valley, and the indications are therefore that the demand here will grow stronger as the season advances. Another reason for the large demand, and good prices, is that there is not nearly the acreage in hay in this vicinity that there used to be. Hundreds of acres have been plowed up for orchards and better culture and other crops which farmers considered would be more lucrative; but this year alfalfa has come into its own again. The price for alfalfa hay in Portland is $14, and the price here is higher than it has been for many years."

Private Irrigation Project.

Buhl Herald: Mrs. A. E. Larson and Mrs. Frank Reeder of Deep Creek were in Pler the last of the week buying a stock of provisions for their ranches. Larson and Reeder have a fine irrigation project of their own three miles west of Hollister. Mrs. Reeder informed the writer that they dig a well 11 feet and have an abundance of good water.

ALFALFA GROWS SEVEN FEET HIGH

SAMPLES BROUGHT FROM BUHL ARE PRODIGIOUS.

Will Be Preserved for Exhibition Purpose and to Emphasize the Declaration of Owner That This is the Greatest Country of All.

Don. H. Bark brought to Twin Falls this week samples of alfalfa measuring seven feet in height, and which he will preserve for exhibition purposes in the east.

The stalks were a few of many grown on a farm five miles south of Buhl which is owned by Mr. Bark and Dr. O. E. Hoos of Seattle. They have 22 acres serving as an alfalfa field, and which, with the third cutting will have yielded approximately seven tons per acre this year. It is a three-year-old field and they have a splendid stand. That part of it which produced the seven-foot stalks was not cut, and this growth is therefore representative of the entire season. The stalks would not have supported themselves in any great mass of acreage.

They are valuable, however, says Mr. Bark, as showing the enormous capacity of the soil to yield alfalfa. He is an irrigation engineer by profession, has been connected with many of the western irrigation projects in various capacities and is now in the employ of the United States department of agriculture. His opportunities for observation and comparisons have therefore been extensive. He declared enthusiastically: "I never saw a country where alfalfa looks harder, grows better, and is more prosperous for the length of the season. I do not mean the South Side Twin Falls Tract alone, because there is a lot of other territory around here just as good."

Mr. Bark said that he and his associate-owner of the farm would hold it until next spring when they expect to realize $10 to $12 per ton for their alfalfa, and possible more. He explained that the price now in the stack around Buhl is $6 per ton, which is regarded as profitable, even if no greater price were not likely after the heavy supply incidental to the rich harvest now in progress may have been exhausted.

38,000 Acres Carey Act Lands to Be Opened For settlement at Minner, Idaho, on September 20th. Reduced rates via Oregon Short Line. Tickets on sale from points between Pocatello and Buhl on September 17th to 20th, inclusive. From other points, September 18th to 19th. Limit, September 25th. See agents for further particulars.

FARMS AND LOTS CHANGING OWNERS

TWIN FALLS VISITOR LOOKING FOR MORE BARGAINS.

Sales of Week Include Eastlawn Lots and Several Improved Properties as Well as Farms of Both Classes at Satisfactory Prices.

George F. McClure of Grand Junction, Colo., owner of considerable property in the Twin Falls vicinity, arrived Wednesday to investigate the conditions here, and also with the expectation of acquiring additional holdings, provided bargains come unobtainable. He said it looks good to him and he has decided to make all his future investments in Southern Idaho.

The W. A. Moomaw Real Estate & Investment Company has sold 100 acres Salmon River tract for $2,250 for E. E. Babcock to F. R. and J. R. Nagel. This firm also reports the sale this week of lots 8 and 9, block 141, for $950 for E. B. Lefever to H. Crookham.

Elm Park additional to Twin Falls, located one block north and two blocks east of the Bickel school, will be opened to sale on the 8th inst. Young & Keel, the enterprising platters, of this tract have introduced considerable valuable improvements, having in view the superior advantages for residence, before placing it upon the market.

Channel & White's sale of their Eastlawn subdivision lots commenced Wednesday most satisfactorily. Inquiries are numerous. The lots are located one block east of Blue Lakes boulevard and a block south of Addison Avenue, and purchasers agree not to erect dwelling houses costing less than $2,500.

Woods & Thomas, agents, have sold the H. H. Seebuck forty acres, three miles east of Twin Falls, to J. D. Spencer of Eugene, Ore., on the basis of $115 per acre.

The Farley Real Estate Company has sold eighty acres three-fourths mile from Hanson, for G. Mann to M. Cassel; price $32.50 per acre. S. F. Fry has purchased a lot on Eighth Avenue from K. Boett which will contain a modern residence of the bungalow style, soon to be erected.

J. M. Spackman this week purchased forty acres ten miles south of Twin Falls from V. C. Razor. Terms not made public.

Albert Stabard has purchased a six-room house on lot 6, block 8, from W. Reid, for $2,000, through the Colorado Realty Company. This firm also sold during the week eighty acres on the Salmon tract for Mr. Farrar, and a lot in Eastlawn subdivision to A. Harder.

SCHOOL ELECTION TUESDAY.

New Directors to Be Chosen in Twin Falls District. The school election will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 7, when successors must be chosen for A. H. Howe and B. A. Baker. Geo. H. Smith's name has been presented by his friends; but the expectation is that he may not be a candidate, in view of the efforts that are being made by other citizens who believe the efficiency of the schools will be greater advanced through selection of the new directors from the country section. When the independent district was organized an agreement was reached that there was always to be a director respectively from the northeast, south and west, and that four directors should always be in the country. In pursuance of this plan, Mr. W. M. Stowell will be a candidate from the west, to succeed H. H. Howe, and A. E. Fursker from east to succeed B. A. Baker. The election will be held at the Lincoln school from 2 to 8 o'clock p. m.

WEST END OPENING.
Buhl Preparing to Take Care of Big Crowd.
Arrivals from Buhl are all enthusiastic in their predictions that an enormous crowd will be present there from near and far, on Sept. 23, when will occur the opening of the West End Twin Falls Tract of 45,000 acres. Registrations for these lands are said to be coming from every where, and the list has far exceeded in size the finest expectations of General Manager Charles J. Perkins. All registrations must be filed between Sept. 22 and the morning of the 25th.

The Buhl citizens are co-operating in the arrangements for entertaining the crowd, and declare that all visitors will be made to feel at home. Among these there are expected hundreds from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, and Nebraska, and also a considerable number from various points in Southern Idaho.

Yellowstone Park Excursion. On Oregon Short Line, Sept. 10, for Yellowstone Park. See local agents.
