Camp Correspondent Says Jarbidge Has Much To Be Thankful For—News of the Week.

Washington, Nov. 27.—When congress meets a week from tomorrow it will have three months in which to perform whatever may be the demands of a Republican administration. After that the fate of the Taft legislative program will depend on the Democratic house and a Republican senate.

The success or failure of the approaching session gives the president believed to rest with the character of the executive message to be sent to the legislative bodies.

Many of the Republicans defeated in the recent elections are not expected to carry with the best of grace the blows so harshly administered, and the fact of election gives the president a task full of difficulties far more serious than any that have been presented up to an executive.

Realizing that he will be criticized if he fails to demand congress further revision of the tariff, especially of the wool and woolen schedule, and fully cognizant that the prospects would be all against the success of such a program, if submitted, the president has his mind definitely what his course will be.

The chances are he will not insist upon action within the approaching session, but that he will offer a Democratic house a year hence a program for tariff revision which will be bolstered up with facts and figures gathered by the tariff board.

Out of the whole membership of congress comparatively few have reached the city and there has been little opportunity for exchange of views. So far as there has been expression, the prelections of congress are against an extended program.

Personally the president has made it clear to his callers that he does not

With a view to putting the ranchers with to the proper method of handling live stock for the market, Mr. C. M. McAllister of the Portland Union Stock Yards, will address the ranchers of the tract at a mass meeting which will be held in the Union hall in this city next Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Mr. McAllister has had charge of the buying and selling of the Portland stock yards and has been instrumental in getting large shipments for Portland. In speaking of the possibilities of this tract he said that the Twin Falls county could not raise too much live stock and that every fat beef and every long horn steer could be raised could be used in the west without the expense of shipping to eastern packing houses. He stated further that already two of the western houses had branch packing plants in Portland and that the others would come as soon as the stock raising would justify the establishment of a complete plant. He stated also that the ranchers here do not realize the bonanza that they could have if the sheep and cattle were brought in for the winter feeding and the fattened product shipped out.

MAKES CROP REPORT.

A. L. Houghtaling Quotes Figures Representative of Crop Results.

After four years spent on the Twin Falls tract, A. L. Houghtaling, since a farmer, has a far better outlook here. In a report of his crop yield to the Twin Falls Agricultural club, he says that his wheat has averaged 30 to 40 bushels per acre; barley 42 to 48 bushels; oats 40 to 55 bushels; potatoes 40 to 45 bushels. In this season his alfalfa crop yielded 7-1/2 tons per acre, and his red clover 5 1/2 tons. These yields were from the soil in its natural condition, without having been fertilized in any way. He says that his neighbors who have plowed under alfalfa or clover soil, are reporting much better yields than these figures. Mr. Houghtaling says this is a good pasture country, and during the past season up to October 15, he pastured 130 sheep on horses and a cow and one cow on 17 acres of mixed grasses.

Whether or not Twin Falls will join the league is a mooted question will be decided Friday night. At the meeting held last night the matter was left until Friday night before which time an effort will be made to get the consensus of opinion of the business men by a committee that was appointed.

Mr. Kelly, a baseball man of experience, was asked to propose for the franchise to the proposed league the club organized ball. Mr. Kelly explained that the intention of the promoters was to have a league composed of six clubs—Salt Lake City, Ogden, Duffie and Great Falls, Boise and Twin Falls. These are the cities that have been selected to advance the preliminary effort. The franchise is to hold for five years.

Twin Falls, if a member of the league, will have advantages that it cannot enjoy under unorganized ball, was the opinion of Mr. Kelly. In proving his point he explained a number of factors that he deemed important in connection with the league. The league will play 120 games in a playing season of five months. This will mean baseball here six days in the week, one day being allowed for the jumps. It would probably be the policy to play a league holder on Sunday. The league will be organized by a committee of business leaders. Under the present system there are no baseball clubs and there are no facilities to protect the club. If the franchise is taken over it will mean that National Commission rules will hold. Twin Falls will be listed as a Class C club. The league will be organized by the major leagues or Class A or B leagues which to draft, the local club pays $500, which is the drafting price for some time. The franchise is to be placed that have been witnessed in the past can be eliminated as the players are subject to fines. In summing up the expenses of the proposed league, Mr. Kelly enumerated the following: Better class ball, full control of the club, full control of the franchise in next four years if successful the first.

In order to join the league it is necessary that Twin Falls advance a cash of $500 before December 10 and the remaining $500 to be in the hands of the league president at the opening of the season. The organization of the league is to be a proposition and mere might be required later. This depends on the turnout of the clubs. The league will be divided equally between the two clubs playing in each city after ten per cent has been deducted for general league expenses. The league will be organized to pool the gate receipts in all towns and make an equal division to all the clubs.

The proposition of the league was unanimously with regard to advantages of organized ball as opposed to the present system. The hitch came on the discussion of the expense of the new plan and upon the feasibility of playing six days in the week. The matter is being left to the committee which is endeavoring to get the expression of the business men. The action, if any is taken, must be taken there, for it is necessary to deposit the $500 member fee. If the plan receives favorable consideration.

Henry Workman, named by Jack O'Brien of Milner as the hold-up artist, was arrested this afternoon on the streets of Twin Falls. He has been wanted since the robbery at Milner on November 18. He will plead not guilty in the court when arraigned later this afternoon.

Workman and Chas. Eucher, his partner, are accused of being the robbers who pulled off the hold-up at Milner between six and seven o'clock the evening of November 18. Four men were held up and a small amount of booty was secured.

The men made their escape and Eucher, alias Smith, was captured by Sheriff Zug of Lincoln county, on the train between Milner and Middok. Workman succeeded in escaping the sheriff and has been sought since that time. It was not until today that he was captured, when he put in an appearance upon the streets and was arrested upon the complaint issued by O'Brien. He was locked up and will in all probability be arraigned in court later this afternoon. It is understood that he denies connection with the crime and will make a vigorous defense.

He was represented by the firm of Perky, Williams & Hornbrook, who will also have charge of his case in the trial proper.

Jarbidge, Nev. Nov. 24, 1910.

Thank you for this "beaming gold camp" with many things for which we are greatly thankful to the kind Providence which is looking after our welfare. To bring this weather, which has been for the past week, of all sorts and most despicable, has cleared off and given us a most beautiful day. The Commercial building, the most extensive and grand building north of the Western Pacific railway, in the state of Nevada, has been completed by the strenuous assistance of the members of the club and is in splendid shape for the grand opening ball of the season, under the auspices of the Dance committee, assisted by the special committee of all the ladies of Jarbidge. The building is a beautiful structure 23 by 50 feet floor of partly asbestos pipe, with a size of matched boards, planed and smoothed to a nicety. The party New-England was very beautifully decorated with evergreen. Opposite the entrance and extending across the full width of the back end of the hall is a row of party sashes, with a camp worked in evergreen in a very artistic style in letters about three feet high. At the door the guard was very beautifully decorated with a half or in part board equivalent, in the person of Mrs. F. J. Murray, a member of the refreshment committee. The "BEEHIVE" symbol of the camp, worked in evergreen in a very artistic style in letters about three feet high. At the door the guard was very beautifully decorated with a half or in part board equivalent, in the person of Mrs. F. J. Murray, a member of the refreshment committee.

ESTABLISH SAVINGS ACCOUNT.

New Industry in the Valley Started by a Bank.

The prosperous times this valley is enjoying makes it possible for hundreds of good people to start in and build up savings accounts, and they will do so. This matter is carefully explained to the wisdom of saving money, if possible, and especially when it can be deposited in a thoroughly established bank, paying four per cent compound interest, is admitted by all people with the slightest inclination to be thrifty.

Holding these views in reference to these matters, The Farmer & Merchants Bank of this city, has out a copy of a trained collector. They will tell you all about it, and are authorized to loan little Home States and collect money to start accounts.

Some of the good friends of this bank may be surprised that a bank should go out after business. They will be interested to know that over 800 banks in this country and Canada have employed this method of increasing their business and acquaintance, and have created over 1,750,000 depositors.

Hence it will be seen there is a new industry in this valley, viz.—that of making Saving Bank Deposits.

TO WITHDRAW FROM LEAGUE

High Schools Will Not Have to Compete With Normals and Academies.

Friday at a meeting of representatives of the high schools, at Boise, a motion was made by Superintendent Elliot of Twin Falls and championed by Superintendent Crandall of Idaho Falls, that the fact that the College of Idaho, Albion normal and the Academy of Idaho had now grown to a plane in advance of the high schools of the state, that they should be excluded from the Idaho State League, which league these three institutions started a few years ago, and since starting have been the prime movers in all of its branches. This motion met with general approval, and the representatives of the high schools, their contacts with high schools will not take the form of championship meets.

PURCHASES O. K. SHOP.

J. F. Johnston and A. Z. Hagar Will Conduct Barber Shop.

The deal was closed this week whereby the O. K. Barber shop, owned by Walter Hollingsworth, was sold to Johnston & Hagar, who will take possession December 1. The members of the new firm, J. F. Johnston and

A. Z. Hagar, are both best barbers and will conduct the shop on up-to-date lines.

The former has been well and favorably known in the real-estate business in Twin Falls, while the latter comes from Portland, where he was employed in one of the large shops in that city.

It's Dark For Taft's Program

purpose to withdraw any part of his program, although compelled to alter his plans somewhat, just because the Democrats are about to come into control of the house. The short time that remains to Republican majorities in both houses is used by him as an argument in favor of pressing forward. Many of his callers conceded the point he makes, but being more familiar than he with filibustering methods, they are not so sanguine of the feasibility of the administration ambitions.

The revolt against Cannon rules, which the country applauded only a short time ago, will not tend to heighten the chances of quick action for administration measures at the coming session.

Within the short session 14 regular appropriation bills, carrying an aggregate of a billion dollars or more, must be passed. Otherwise there would be necessity for an extra session in the spring. The result of such a session would be to bring the Democrats face to face with the necessity of doing something nine months in advance of the time they would ordinarily be called upon to assume responsibility.

For many reasons, neither Democrats nor Republicans want to precipitate this situation, and it will be avoided if possible as far as corporation bills are concerned, as it is not believed there will be lack of co-operation to facilitate their passage. Leaving the appropriation bills out of consideration, the Democrats are disposed to take the broad position that legislation of a general character should be postponed until they come in. Contending that the last election was an expression of the popular will, it should be justified to the extent of permitting the Democracy to take the initiative in whatever new action is to be considered.

But while so doing the Democratic leaders are much embarrassed by the position in favor of beginning the revision of the tariff schedule. They are even further than Mr. Taft in their denunciation of the wooten schedule, and while preferring themselves to designate the way of its rewriting, they admit that they would find it difficult to resist an effort at reduction whenever and by whomsoever it might be undertaken. Such, also, the case with reference to other schedules. They could scarcely do less than co-operate in reductions at any time. There is sympathy among Democrats with the president's plan for a federal incorporation act and for the modification of the laws relating to injunctions and trusts. All these questions along these lines. Under the circumstances the chances are strongly against most of them.

the amendment of the postal laws so as to provide for a parcels post along rural delivery routes and for increased postage on the advertising portions of magazines; the granting of ship subsidies, the pensioning of superannuated employees of the civil service, the creation of a public land court and the establishment of forest reserves in the White mountains in the north and in the Appalachians in the south.

Opposition to the naval program for the annual addition of two battleships to the navy may be expected, but it probably will not be effective in the approaching session.

The forest reserve bill occupies a favorable position and probably will become a law. It has passed the house and a day for a vote on it by the senate has been fixed.

The ship subsidy bill is the unfinished business in the senate, but some Democrats say even now that any persistent effort to pass it would result in an extra session.

They are ready to talk it to death. This bill also is expected to be presented to the house for a vote in the session, and in the chance there are doubtless the measure has once passed the house and has been once defeated by that body, the majority being small in both instances.

There are enough Republicans to pass the bill if they can be prevailed upon to accept it as a party measure. Many of the Republicans are, however, strenuously opposed to the measure, and in case of a vote the result would be determined by that element.

The present congress, it is expected, will provide for a reappointment of the house of representatives to conform to the developments of the thirteenth census, and any measure with that end in view is liable to become the subject of sharp controversy. There is a noticeable change in the attitude of the stalwarts towards this faction of the party. Generally there seems to be a tendency toward accepting the result of the polls as an expression of a sentiment in the direction of progressive action, although some of the members of the old guard combat this idea and attribute the overturn of the Republican house to a "landslide," with a variety of meanings attached to that expression.

Governor Brady Plans Big Increase For Hydro-Electric Plant.

Governor Brady, who returned to Boise on the first of the week from a trip to Salt Lake, made in the interest of the Idaho Consolidated Power company, of which he is the head, announcements that final arrangements have been completed for increasing the capacity of the company's hydro-electric plant at American Falls from 3,000 to 30,000 horse power. Work will commence as early in the spring as weather conditions will permit. The plant of the company now provides power and light to the towns of Pocatello, Blackfoot, Rockland and American Falls, as well as to one or two minor points throughout southern Idaho. With the completion of the work decided upon the capacity of the plant will be increased to a point whereby power and light from this plant will be available over a greatly increased area, not only in Idaho, but in Utah as well.

In discussing his plans upon his return, Governor Brady said: "With the added capacity of the plant it will be possible for the company to provide all the power that is needed for years to come in southern Idaho and we could enter into a contract for its transmission clear to Salt Lake City, but it is not likely that this will be done, as I think the plant being an important industry, Idaho shall reap the benefit."

"Work on the plant was begun in 1908 and has been steadily added to ever since. The great dam is now built one-third of the way across the river and this will be completed at once. Because of the demands upon the proposed new plant the plant and dam will have to be practically a part of each other and this will necessitate a large amount of construction."

"With the three thousand horsepower now being developed we are enabled to provide light and power to many of the towns of southern Idaho, but nothing like the number it will be possible to serve when the capacity shall have been increased to 30,000, for which the plans provide."—Pocatello Tribune.

NORMAL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

State Normal Defeats Spokane For Final Championship.

Thanksgiving day, the Lewiston State Normal, decisively defeated Spokane College, 12 to 3, in the most spectacular game of the season, thus giving the State Normal the historic poloatic (foot-ball) championship of the Inland Empire. Although the Normal boys were out-weighted thirteen pounds to the Spokane team, they were victorious and terrific line-plunging, the State Normal team held the ball in the enemy's territory throughout the game. The foot-ball season by the Normal has been the most successful one in the history of the State Normal, due very largely to the excellent training of Coach Chaseman.

Four-Fifths of Your Store's Patrons Were Won By Advertising --- And Four-Fifths of These Would Be Lost If You Stopped Advertising. :- :- :-

Newspaper advertising is a part of all worthwhile store service—a part of it which patrons particularly value. For it keeps them in touch with your store-events, your sales, the arrival of new stocks, the showing of novelties, the buying opportunities which your store must create for its friends.

The advertising becomes the link between the store and its clientele. They expect the store's advertising to SERVE THEM—not "now and then," not partially; but ALWAYS, and fully! To curtail the advertising—in volume or frequency—would make the same impression on them as though you moved into smaller quarters and cut down your force of clerks and workers. To INCREASE your advertising—to make it more complete as "store news," as a "market letter," as a bulletin of bargains—will have the effect of enlisting a lot of new store-friends every day, and of winning anew all of the old ones!

Jardidge Camp Has Celebration.

road into the camp is a very poor affair and was put in early in the spring, simply as a makeshift, with 22 to 25 per cent grades, frequently. The Twin Falls people have come nobly to the rescue and are rushing with all available speed a new grade out of the camp, which will give a good road with only 10 per cent grades. But as they were not informed of the so early arrival of this big amount of freight, the road is not ready for the first of it, but everything is being done to complete the new grade in time to make the transportation of the large and heavy pieces of the machinery for the new safe and easy.

The Elko county road, from the south, is rapidly approaching the camp, pushed along by a large force of men and teams, backed by an abundance of capital from the Death and Elko people. The storms of the past week have made road building somewhat disagreeable work, but the construction camp has moved steadily ahead and is now on this side of the summit and they expect to win through to the great good camp within the next two weeks.

Mr. George Crippen, an experienced road builder, with considerable experience on the property and who figured that the ore in sight was more than the owners had themselves estimated it to be. They have been working in Oregon, Washington and Alaska mining district, where he has encountered even rougher country than in the Jardidge section, has, with great public generosity, taken charge of the construction work on the new road out to Twin Falls. He has a camp established near the heavy part of the tunnel, with a large force of workmen, which is a guarantee of the early completion of this needed road.

The camp as a whole is looking better every day, new prospects are being opened with very satisfactory results and the older companies are getting into better shape. With the Pavlak building a mill, the manager of the North Star is sprucing up the vein from the lower tunnel with a good grade of milling ore in sight. The Tibbets mining engineer is developing milling ore and figuring on a mill early in the spring, the camp has a very promising outlook.

The Clark and Fletcher lease on the North Star is sprucing up the vein from the lower tunnel with a good grade of milling ore in sight. Their mine was recently examined by Capt. Tibbets, a mining engineer, a considerable note, who was highly pleased with the showing made in the two ing for some time and have done quite a lot of work underground and have their mine well opened up, with considerable ore reserves in sight. Entering the vein just completed a survey of the entire workings of the mine and made a plan of same, which, with an assay map, was taken out by Mr. Tibbets.

The "Ham And" lease on the Pavlak property is working in their tunnel, where they have 18 inches of high grade ore. They have started work in their lower vein cut tunnel and are driving work with two shifts. They have built a good blacksmith shop and are in shape for steady work. They have had a survey made for a tunnel way from the new tunnel to the Pavlak mill site, and have ordered a "TRUCK" for hauling "TIBBETS" three ledge showings, a good group of claims on the Colorado group of claims on the surface. They are the Taft vein, the Ham And vein and the Bar Boy vein. All of these veins will be cut off by the crosscut tunnel now being run.

Mr. Richard Swanson is working on the Daily News claim just west of the town and joining the claims of the Nevada Jaridge Co. on Malahoy Flat. He is working on a shaft which will take him down to the claims, which shows a vein about three and one-half feet wide of well mineralized quartz. Mr. Swanson is also in charge of the little long up to their ground, built a log house, and taken in supplies to carry on the work all winter. Their tunnel is now in about 40 feet and the showing is very encouraging.

Mr. Ed Dufresne is in charge of the work on the Alice May group east of the Pavlak, and has opened several very promising veins, having found the same on all the claims. Alice May, the Cold Springs, the Gold Springs No. 1, and the Cold Springs No. 2, and the Lucky Fraction. His assays on one vein giving returns from picked samples of $450 to $500, and planing from $300 to $1000 ton.

The tunnel on the Good Luck is producing well and the values are showing more regular with the sulphide contents of the ore becoming quite general and the free gold showing better. It costs a mine to make one of the great mines of the Nevada Jaridge camp. Mr. Theodore Parks, the manager of this property, deserves great credit for the quiet and systematic manner in which he has been developing this mine.

AMENDMENTS ARE CARRIED.

All Five Constitutional Changes Seem To Have Majorities.

It appears from the reported returns from the various counties, as near as can be judged prior to the official count, that the five constitutional amendments adopted at the November election have all carried by substantial majorities.

The first two of these amendments are mentioned as so much alike that they may be considered together. They pertain to removing the constitutional inhibition against assessors and sheriffs succeeding themselves in office.

The next amendment made to the constitution provides for the calling in of a district court judge to sit as a member of the state supreme court in case any of the three justices be prevented from the performance of this duty as a judge.

The next amendment to the state constitution removed the bar against the state in the amount of the bonds it could issue and gave permission to the legislature to issue additional bonds in sufficient quantity to complete the state capital building.

The last amendment for consideration is the most important one. It so amends the state constitution as to break five, instead of four, members of the Idaho state board and committee. The other member which the people have added to the state land board is the state auditor.

HARRIMAN LINES' MERGER.

Fifty Million Corporation Will Include All Branches in the Northwest.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 26.—The Oregon Railroad & Navigation company into today made official announcement that all the Harriman lines in the Pacific northwest, including the North Coast Railroad company, but excluding the Southern Pacific and company line and the railroad water line subsidiary to it, have been merged into one company to be known as the Oregon & Washington Railroad and Navigation company.

The articles of incorporation of the new company demand as the principal piece of business. The capital stock is $50,000,000, and the incorporators are M. J. Buckley, general superintendent of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company; R. Miller, general traffic manager of the same company, and R. Koehler.

The announcement states that the roads which will be taken over are the Oregon & Washington Railroad company, the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, Spokane and Inland River & Oregon Central Railway company, the Columbia Southern Railway company, Deschutes Railroad company, Ilwaco Railroad company, Shoshone, Dalles, Crook & Coeur d'Alene company, Oregon & Eastern Railroad company, Oregon, Washington & Idaho Railroad company, Spokane and Inland River & Oregon Central Railway company, Northern Pacific company, Snake River Valley company, Southern Extensions Railway company, Umatilla Central Railway company, North and South Forks company, Idaho Northern company, Northwest-ern Railroad company, Malheur Valley Railroad company, and the Inter-est of the Oregon Inland company in the Camas Prairie Railway company, which is jointly owned with Northern Pacific company.

The total mileage under the control of the Oregon & Washington Railroad & Navigation company will be 3079 miles.

The purpose of the merger, according to the statement, is that further bond issues are required to carry on new roads and extensions now under way and that the project. It was found necessary to form a corporation with enlarged powers, one especially having the right to make a larger bond issue.

SMALL FRY HIT HARDEST.

Experts Declare Proposed Freight Increases Favor the Big Shipper.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Expert freight tariff legislation, under the auspices of the Interstate Commerce commission, which is investigating the proposed advances in rates in the official classification territory. Several of the witnesses told in detail of the effect of these scheduled increases by the eastern trunk lines, dwelling on the fact that the small shippers would be hit hardest. He estimated that the railroad plan to meet the alleged needs of more freight revenue, Henry C. Barlow of Chicago, a director of the Chicago and North Western company, who has twenty years experience in railroad business, testified that the class rates between New York and Chicago were advanced 10 per cent. He stated that the proposed advances were not fairly distributed. He said the railroad plan to meet the entire increase on only 10 per cent of the total freight tonnage.

He declared the proposed advance plan to be a "big burden" on the first class freight and that substantially 75 per cent of the burden rested on shippers of first, second and third class freight. He estimated that it substantially 10 per cent of the total railroad tonnage to the territory affected would bear the burden of the advance.

He said that substantially 85 per cent of the total increase would be commodity rates. His conclusion was that the big shippers would not bear as much of the burden as the small shippers and that the shippers under class rates during the past decade had contributed their full share of the proposed increase.

Mr. Barlow's declaration that, as increased freight rates always fall on the consumer, regular with the public contents of the ore becoming quite general and the free gold showing better. It costs a mine to make one of the great mines of the Nevada Jaridge camp. Mr. Theodore Parks, the manager of this property, deserves great credit for the quiet and systematic manner in which he has been developing this mine.

Mr. Barlow explained that he recently had been shown some figures regarding shoes, which he had verified. The manufacturer had increased his price 15 cents a pair, but the retailer 40 cents a pair, under a requirement from the manufacturer and owing to the freight increase.

Mr. Barlow said that when a manufacturer shipped 100,000 cases of shoes it was probably on 3 or 4 per cent profit, and when a 15 per cent increase in price was imposed on him he probably would raise his price 10 cents a pair, as the manufacturer would not be willing to suffer this loss. Then the retailer would increase the price to the consumer.

While discussing the packing house products rates, Mr. Barlow again brought the name of George W. Perkins of the J. P. Morgan company of New York into the argument.

Mr. Barlow said he understood Mr. Perkins agreed with the packers on an advance of only one-half of what had been proposed.

WILL SOLVE POWER QUESTION.

What Early Completion of the Ox Bow Project Means to Idaho and Oregon.

Through the completion of the mammoth hydro-electric power plant, the largest ever constructed in the northwest, and which is now being installed at what is known as the Ox Bow on the Snake river, southern Idaho and eastern Oregon will be provided with an unlimited supply of electricity at figures, it is believed, much lower than they are now securing it. At least this was the statement made in Boise, says the Capital News, by one of the best known electric men of the west, who has just returned from Ox Bow. He claims that the completion of the plant will mean the distribution of cheap electricity over great power lines to be erected in the western part of the state leading to Boise and beyond.

The Ox Bow project is developing at one of the most favorable power sites in the state, many of which have become famous for their possibilities along this line. By tunneling a rock backside across the river, the Snake river channel, and damming the stream between its rock walls at the mouth of the tunnel, a superb power plant is being developed, and possible development has been made possible.

Where the big plant is being located the river has been made to detour three and one-half miles from its old line of flow. By driving a tunnel through the rock ridge projecting into the river canyon for a distance of 1800 feet, water will be directed into the tunnel, where it will be available for power purposes. The tunnel diameter is 25 feet in diameter, being ample to receive a turbine and generator. The turbine wheels and generators will be placed at the lower end of the tunnel, where the enormous energy of the stream into electric force.

Power lines are being constructed from the hydro-electric power plant to all adjacent districts in northwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon. It is estimated by the builders that power can be transmitted to Boise and farther east without trouble, as well as to Lewiston and other points in the north.

Many milling mills and plants will also be furnished with the cheap power. A large concentrating plant has been erected by the Iron Dike mine-owners at Homestead, adjacent to the power plant, and it will be supplied with electric energy from the big Ox Bow system.

It is claimed that the Ox Bow system will make it possible for the irrigation of high lands now above irrigation ditches for the cheap power of the water in the elevating or pumping of water to these sections, making it possible to irrigate the lands. In other words, electric energy will enable the farmers to push irrigation far up the slopes of the hills and mountains.

Up Snake river from the Ox Bow is a continuous line of the best orchard lands which gradually extends into the marvelous rich sections, making it possible to irrigate the lands. In other words, electric energy will enable the farmers to push irrigation far up the slopes of the hills and mountains.

49 CITIES IN 100,000 CLASS.

List of Large Cities Shows Big Increases Over 1900.

Washington, Nov. 25.—With only Portland, Ore., Seattle and Spokane, Wash.; Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., missing, the cities of the United States of 75,000 and over have an aggregate population of 17,000,000.

This announcement is made in a recapitulation bulletin issued today by the census bureau.

Forty-seven of the cities contain more than 100,000, and of this number eleven have risen into the 100,000 class since the census of 1900. There has been a much larger growth in the cities below 100,000 than in those above, the percentage for the former being 22.4 as against 21.2 for the latter.

Portland and Seattle will be added to the class of larger cities. In 1900 Portland had 90,425 and Seattle 50,071, so that there will be at least forty-nine cities in the country containing more than 100,000 each.

Twin Falls has an opportunity to get into professional baseball class by the raising of a guaranty fund. The question of accepting such offer will rest with the business men who have in times past supported a semi-professional team with varying degrees of satisfaction. The Times does not fully believe that the first two or three years of professional baseball in this city will pay all expenses, but does believe for the same amount of money as expended last year, that cleaner baseball methods will be insured and the public and faster games. The fact that the franchises gained will some day be valuable to the city should also be taken into consideration. If baseball is to be played in this city next year it should be played under the wing of some strong association which will prevent players jumping out on a moment's notice and also insure sober players at all stages of the season. All of the latter gains will be made by entering into the proposed league, together with some wide publicity for Twin Falls. It is worth considering, at least.

One of the prominent educators of the east, more recently of this state, made a hard comment on the Idaho children when she stated before the educational gathering at Boise an apparent truth. She stated that the children of the slum districts of the large cities were far more polite than children of Idaho and laid the blame where it belongs, with the teachers and parents. The statement is the truth, however, and should be faced and remedied rather than scoffed at and dismissed without notice. The editor of the Times has noticed time after time during the muggy weather of years past, school teachers three abreast, cover all of a four-foot sidewalk and not give an inch to pedestrians going in the opposite direction. It is no wonder that a levy of school girls should invite them and force others off the sidewalk into the mud. Nor is the statement true of the teachers alone, parents as well do not set the proper example in the matter of common courtesy to others which is expected of the high class of citizenship of Twin Falls. On Sunday evening the editor, not at least twelve groups of people coming out of a church of this city and "group" out of the "twelve" would make a group you will force to do so. The bustle and bustle of a western community should be no excuse for non-observance of the little courtesies that make life pleasant for all. It should be a part of a child's education even if it is old-fashioned. Some of the old-fashioned things will never grow old. Courtesy is one of them.

THIS TOWN A HUSTLING CITY.
Some people in this city who are complaining that things are a trifle slow here and that business is "not as brisk as it should be, ought to harken to the story that comes by sterling authority from Twin Falls, Ida., that much boosted, boomed and touted community. The letter received in this city says that they might as well send for an undertaker to embalm Twin Falls as everything is dead there and that 17 business buildings stand vacant on the main thoroughfare of the city. There is nothing like that in this city and four big business blocks are just nearing completion to be occupied at once; one of them a five-story fire proof structure. Does it look like this city is not the hustling city?—Grand Junction News.

The above article has appeared in a number of exchanges in the past few months, emanating from a Grand Junction paper, which gave as its authority a letter written by a resident of this city. The story is so absurd that it is really funny to the people of this city, who are acquainted with conditions. It is true that at one time there were fifteen vacant buildings in this city, for the reason that they were under process of erection, all of them erected during the past summer, but the knocker who wrote the letter could not truthfully say so at this time nor within a month after some of the buildings were finished. The throwing of fifteen buildings on the rental market at any one time would have phased any other city but Twin Falls, but then Twin Falls just simply had to grow and rentals have not decreased as a result of the year's extraordinary building record. If Twin Falls is dead it is by far the liveliest and one in the states of Idaho, Utah and Colorado.

EASTERN MAIL-ORDER "MELON."
The directors of a big Chicago mail-order house have decided to divide a $10,000,000 melon among the stockholders. Presumably to cover up the enormous profits as well as they can they have also recommended a stock dividend of 33 1/3 per cent on the common stock, amounting to $30,000,000. Such great dividends, even when distributed by big railroad systems embracing thousands of miles of tracks and employing thousands of men and indirectly affecting the welfare of hundreds of thousands, even millions of people, never fail to bring forth unfavorable comment from the very class on which the eastern mail-order business levies its greatest toll.

In producing the $10,000,000 "melon" which the mail-order millionaires are about to cut, Oregon, Washington and Idaho contributed heavily, along with every other state in the Union, and the contributors incidentally received no benefits, financial or otherwise, from the transaction. There are so many reasons why a consumer living thousands of miles away from eastern mail-order houses should not send his money to them that it is an economic mystery how they annually wheedle so many millions out of victims scattered from one end of the country to the other. To begin with, quality and quantity considered, every order sent out of the Pacific northwest to the eastern mail-order houses could be duplicated here at a saving of from 10 per cent to 25 per cent for the buyer.

In specific cases, which have been reported in the Palouse and in the Big Bend country, the loss to the mail-order patrons has run as high as $10 on a $100 order. In such circumstances, it is easy to understand how $10,000,000 dividends can be rolled up in short order. Aside from this actual loss in first cost to the mail-order patron, there is a heavy indirect loss. The eastern mail-order houses pay no taxes in the Pacific northwest, it employs no labor and loads down the mail carrier on the part of routes with tons of alluring, but misleading, literature. The local merchant is a permanent business failure on a small scale and ill-order, not on a large scale, is the times. The extent of his stock and its importance depends on the support that he receives.

It is not at all complimentary to the intelligence of a large number of people, that by cleverly advertising eastern mail-order houses can sell poor goods in large quantities at higher prices than Pacific Coast merchants can secure in small quantities. The Pacific northwest, which made liberal contributions to the $10,000,000 "melon" will not share in the benefits, but numerous local merchants will probably enjoy the blessed privilege of extending credit to many of the contributors who paid cash for their share of the $10,000,000.—Portland Oregonian.

TRUST FINES AND WORKERS' WAGES.

Attorney General Wickersham, according to a number of the papers, has recently seen a new light. To what extent this illumination may be due to the fact that in this case the "Window Glass Trust" was the guilty party, we are not informed. He expected that the trust magnates, if found guilty, would be jailed, but it turned out that they were merely fined. The trust was dissolved, factories shut down and wages were cut, and the attorney general and observant editors are wondering if the punishment is really reaching the right victims. On November 11, it seems, the Imperial Window Glass Company was fined $2,500 in the federal court at Pittsburg for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law. A fine of $500 was also imposed upon each of the fifteen individuals operating the corporation. A few days later a report came from Pittsburg that the company would dissolve, in obedience to the court, and also that the wages of the men employed by the concerns belonging to it would be cut 30 per cent.

When Mr. Wickersham heard of this, he was angry, or at least, noticeably indignant," to quote one headline. Whereupon he issued a statement, which criticizes the sentence of the federal court, and, according to these same headlines, "insults" and "lashes" the action of the "insolvent, greedy, and vicious" Glass Trust. In the statement given to the press the attorney general says that the Imperial Window Glass Company was simply a selling agency, controlling some 50 concerns, and handling 37 per cent of all the window glass manufactured in the United States.

"It began business in January, 1910. By October 1, 1910, prices had been advanced 70 per cent over what they were in April, 1909. . . . During the ten months of its business the combination cleared about one million dollars, or 400 per cent on its capital stock. It leased fifteen factories at high rentals for the sole purpose of keeping them closed and removing their product from the market."
This combination, says Attorney General Wickersham, he considered "one of the most flagrant and intentional violations of the Anti-Trust law which had been brought to the attention of the department. The attorney general further informed counsel that he had given directions to have the cases pressed for conviction and to urge the imposition of sentences of imprisonment upon the principal offenders in case of conviction.—Literary Digest.

THE BLIND BOSS.

In Rhode Island one may almost say that the governor is nothing, the boss everything. The constitution of the state does not even give the governor veto power, and the compactness of the political machine is such that one man can control the politics and patronage of the state to a degree hardly equaled elsewhere. Charles R. Bryton, who died last week, has often been called the dean of the political bosses of the United States. Although for seven or eight years he had been, totally blind, he did not for a moment relax his hold on the political machinery of the state. Even in those rare intervals when the Democrats were in power, Bryton continued to have complete control—over federal appointments and kept his party machinery in perfect working order. It is said that at one time when a Democratic governor and lieutenant governor had been elected and the reform papers were rejoicing over the defeat of bossism, General Bryton had some claim to the title, for he had served with credit in the Civil war) exclaiming: "What are they blowing so hard about it for? They've only got a governor who can't do anything but sign commissions for notaries, and lieutenant governor who can't do anything."
The standards of Boss Bryton were those of the old-fashioned ring politician who thoroughly believes that nothing can be done in the way of government except through patronage. He made no bones, as the phrase goes, of encouraging the most offensive kind of lobbying and barter office as if they were cabbage. Personally, he did not care much about holding office, although in his younger days he was postmaster of Providence. But he keenly enjoyed being the power behind the throne, and the subservient

Bryton was a man of considerable sense of humor, and many stories are told of his frank and even brutal methods of emphasizing his power. ### CALL MERCHANTS TO TIME

Postoffice Inspector Issues a Warning Concerning Offering of Prizes.

Alleging that dry goods stores and mercantile institutions are using the mails for the purpose of hooding lottery games and are thereby storing up some trouble for themselves, Postoffice Inspector Nelson of Salt Lake City has issued the following statement:

As the holiday season approaches there seems to be an effort made by merchants to outdo each other in bidding for prizes which they will know will be heavier than at any other time of the year. All sorts of schemes are devised and inducements offered to stimulate trade, the most common one being the offering of prizes to be distributed among the patrons. With every purchase, if it be large enough, a ticket is given entitling the holder to a chance in the drawing.

In order to give as wide publicity as possible to the scheme, circulars are sent broadcast by mail and advertisements are inserted in the local newspapers, many of which reach the subscribers through the mail. The point which I wish to emphasize is this: The assistant attorney general for the postoffice department has repeatedly ruled that such schemes are lotteries and therefore all matter relating to them in any way should be excluded from the mails, and will be if the postmasters exercise due vigilance.

The lottery feature is not eliminated by the merchant giving to every customer value received for the money expended, in addition to the ticket which entitles him to a chance in the drawing, or distribution of prizes. The fact remains that there is a distribution of prizes by lot or chance. Merchants contemplating the adoption of some plan as above described are advised that "PUTTING" TO THE MAILS any matter relating to such scheme will be admitted to the mails. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals are advised that the entire edition of any issue containing any advertisement or notice relating to such scheme will be refused admission to the mails; and further, that all persons who use the mails in violation of the statute prohibiting the use of the mails for the purpose of carrying on a lottery scheme will be prosecuted.—Salt Lake Tribune.

WILL SELL STATE LAND.

Large Acreage Located in Idaho and Nes Perce Counties.

Preparations are being made by the register of the state land board and George A. Day, land commissioner, for holding a sale of 24,000 acres of timber lands situated in Idaho and Nes Perce counties in the near future in accordance with the action of the board of land commissioners on the application of the Potlatch Lumber company for the sale of the same. Sale of the land will bring in $25,000, while it will also bring about relinquishment to the state of 30,000 acres of cut-over lands by the Potlatch Lumber company.

Application for sale of the lands was presented several months ago by W. D. Humiston of the Potlatch company, the board ordering the land appraised preparatory to sale upon the tentative agreement whereby the Potlatch company would bid the appraised value.

The appraisement showed the land listed from $10 per acre, the minimum, to $15 per acre, although the actual value of the land straight through would approximate $7.50 per acre. In view of this fact and also in view of the fact that the lumber company agreed to relinquish approximately 30,000 acres of cut-over lands which they would legally hold for 18 years more under the terms of the timber sale, giving 20 years to cut and remove timber, the lumber company was not inclined to pay the full appraised value per acre on the land and the land commissioner will accordingly arrange for a public auction of the lands as provided for by the statute.

The state will not only obtain a good price for the lands to be sold, but will probably be able to place the relinquished lands which are in the vicinity of towns, upon the market at good prices in the near future.—Capital News.
