Every man who returns from the coast reiterates the need of more extensive advertising of this section among the middle west, with greater emphasis put upon the ideal climatic conditions of southern Idaho. The contention is that the severe winter of the middle west is creating discontent among prosperous farmers who are turning their attention to the south and the Pacific coast. Idaho's climate with her mild winters, is not advertised as much as her bumper crops. The suggestion is worth considering in the next booklet gotten out by any realty firm in this city.

Gov.-elect Hawley's promised appointment of Sam Rich as immigration commissioner is raising a protest from a good many parts of the state, owing to the fact that Rich is a Mormon. The office is one of the most important ones in the state and should not go to any man representing any creed or sect. Mr. Rich may be well fitted for the office in many ways, but his appointment should not be confirmed by the legislature in case Mr. Hawley is "killed" enough to appoint him. Mr. Rich secured his appointment by his influential church position and would beyond a doubt use the office to aid the church, hence the objection to his appointment or any other man in the same situation. The lecture in this city on Friday evening by Judge Alden of Boston, on "The Needs of the Hour," was one of the strongest array of the popular trend of today. Judge Alden made his applications on the people of other places, but the truths presented hit this nation as a whole needs the awakening of the individual conscience will appeal to any thinking man as the truth. He said that the cry of graft against those men of great wealth were sometimes made by men who were guilty of petty grafting themselves and that the needs of the hour were not more laws to lie dormant but the getting back to the old-time puritanical standard of individual honor. To make this business, religious, political and social relations all conform to the same standard in the individual life. Reform and thorough house-cleaning of the individual would re-establish and re-habilitate the national life. National reform could not come before that of the individual.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. The President's Message, which was communicated to Congress this week, will be read with more than common interest because it is the first expression of political and governmental policy by the Chief of the Republican party to be made since the election in which that party was deprived of the control of National legislation. The Message is a review of the course of government during the past year rather than a statement of specific policies to be followed or specific acts to be performed in the immediate future. It contains nothing startling, although much is interesting, and a few particular recommendations that are noteworthy. The spirit in which it is written is well portrayed in its final sentence, in which the President says: "I believe it to be in the interest of all the people of the country that for the time being the activities of government, in addition to enforcing the existing law, be directed toward the economy of administration and the enlargement of opportunities for foreign trade, the conservation and improvement of our agricultural lands, the building up of home industries, and the strengthening of confidence of capital in domestic investment." As to foreign relations, Mr. Taft points out the fact that the successful settlement of the fisheries dispute with England and the case of the Orinoco Steamship company against Venezuela by the Hague Tribunal gives assurance that in the future international arbitration will largely take the place of international war. He observes with justifiable satisfaction that the relations of the United States with the Orient and Latin America were never on a better footing, and urges the continued improvement of the diplomatic service, which has already made great advances as an important agency in our growing foreign intercourse. In domestic affairs he recognizes that the Payne Tariff Act did not honestly and sincerely adhere to the principle enunciated in the Republican platform which asserted that the measure of the protective tariff should be the difference between the foreign and domestic labor cost of manufacturing, plus a reasonable profit to the home producer, and urges that in the future the tariff shall be reformed schedule by schedule, under the expert advice of a permanent tariff commission. The reports of the Department of State, the Treasury Department, the War Department, the Department of Justice, the Post-Office Department, the Navy Department, the Interior Department, the Department of Agriculture, and the Department of Commerce and Labor, are summarized.

In so brief a resume as this must be it is impossible to report all the definite recommendations for legislation or for the improvement of administrative processes which the President makes. We must content ourselves with stating a few of the more important and significant ones. "A careful plan is being devised and will be presented to Congress" for the improvement of the bookkeeping and auditing of the Treasury Department, in which many of the methods now used are antiquated. There are entirely too many customs districts and too many customs collectors. "As an illustration, the cost of collecting $1 of revenue at typical small ports like the port of York, Maine, was $50.04; at the port of Annapolis, Maryland, it cost $309.41 to collect $1 of revenue; at Alexandria, Virginia, $22.48." The Panama Canal will be completed in four years and within the estimate of cost, $375,000,000. It is time to begin to consider what tolls shall be charged, but for many years we should not expect to charge sufficient to pay the interest on the investment. If the Canal had been considered merely as a commercial enterprise, it "might well have been left to private enterprise." We believe the President is sound in his contention that, on account of general benefits accruing to the whole country from the operation of the canal, part of the expense of maintenance should be raised by general taxation. He reiterates his previous recommendation that the canal should be fortified by the United States. As to postal matters, the President commends the establishment of postal savings banks, recommends the further removal of the appointment of postmasters from the field of politics, the reduction of the franking privilege and the charging of the expense of franking to the various departments of the Government instead of to the Post-Office Department, the establishment of a rural delivery parcel post, and the increase of the rate of second-class postage for the magazines as differentiated from the newspapers. Discussing the Interior Department, the President recommends the leasing of public coal lands under a minimum removal of the appointment of postmasters from the field of politics, the reduction of the franking privilege and the charging of the expense of franking to the various departments of the Government instead of to the Post-Office Department, the establishment of a rural delivery parcel post, and the increase of the rate of second-class postage for the magazines as differentiated from the newspapers. Discussing the Interior Department, the President recommends the leasing of public coal lands under a minimum removal of the appointment of postmasters from the field of politics, the reduction of the franking privilege and the charging of the expense of franking to the various departments of the Government instead of to the Post-Office Department, the establishment of a rural delivery parcel post, and the increase of the rate of second-class postage for the magazines as differentiated from the newspapers. # The Deciding Issue

In Diamond and Jewelry buying is at the cross road of quality and price. Many houses use "quality" as a term of convenience, a playground where price romps about until it becomes unruly and runs away. "In this way "quality" is a much abused excuse for high price-making. "Quality" is either good or not at all. It's the good quality that rules this house, and it's the extreme smallness in price, coupled with that "quality," that have made of this the most popular house in its line.

PROFIT IN SOUTH PARK.

Dr. Duckett Clear Neat Sum in Short Time.

That South Park lots are a profitable investment, is the conclusion of Dr. W. F. Duckett, who this week sold lots in the above named addition for $300, which cost him but $45. The purchaser, J. W. Beasley, also purchased another lot adjoining from Powers & Dew, and will put up a grocery store and feed store as soon as the conditions permit such investment. Dr. Duckett immediately purchased more lots in South Park. Only fifty lots remain unsold in the whole suburban tract, and with the increased amount of building upon the lots they should find a ready sale.

Died—On Thursday, December 8th, after only a short illness, occurred the death of Daniel L. Bellville, aged 77 years, at the home of his son, Frank Bellville, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Third street East. Mr. Bellville was born in Ohio, but most of his life was spent in Colorado. He came to Twin Falls in July, and has made his home here since then. Three sons and one daughter are left to mourn his death. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Mr. H. W. Parker officiating. Interment was made in the Twin Falls cemetery, under the direction of Chas. J. Walker.

SHIPPING BY EXPRESS.

Suggestions to Shippers of Christmas Packages by Express.

1st. Ship your package early—by the 15th of December, if possible. The express company will give you a small label to paste on the package reading "Do not open until Christmas." This will give opportunity for the package to reach its destination before Christmas and give the additional pleasure to the recipient of the gift of having it on Christmas morning.

2nd. Use wooden boxes for packing, especially for glass and other fragile articles, which should be well protected. It may cost a few cents more, but the danger of damage will be very much reduced, and you should do your part to make the transportation of your gift safe.

3rd. Write the address in full—state, county, city, street and number—on the box or package, with or without tags are frequently torn off and lost.

4th. If you want to insure the charges, write the word "Paid" in large, plain letters on the package.

5th. Insist upon a receipt and see that the amount paid and the value is marked on the receipt and on the package.

6th. Write your own address in full somewhere on the package, following the prefix "From....."

7th. Enclose a card in each box or package reading:
 From.....
 (Your address)
 To.....
 (Consignee's address)

This in order that, should the outer marking be destroyed, the inner mark will insure prompt forwarding and delivery.

8th. If not convenient to ship in wooden boxes, use tin, wire, or wrapping paper (not newspapers) and tie with string cord.

9th. If package contains anything of perishable nature, write the word "Perishable" in large plain letters on the box or package, which will call for special attention and delivery.

If you will observe these suggestions, you will greatly assist in the prompt delivery of your gift in good condition.

LaMoure, N. D., Nov. 8, 1910. It is safe to say that the concert given by the Cartwright Concert company November 8, 1910, was the best given in this city in many years. It was a clean entertainment—the kind that a man likes to have his family attend. The opera house was filled by the best people of the city. The company is composed of people of culture, refinement and character. A great welcome awaits them when they return to LaMoure.—D. L. Jones, Ph. D., Pastor Presbyterian Church.

OHIO MAN WANTS INFORMATION

Seeks Information About Tract and Asks About Roads In Particular.

C. W. Bloom, a prosperous farmer living near New Paris, Ohio, has written the secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial club for information about the Twin Falls country, and asks especially in regard to the roads. Mr. Bloom is president of the Franklin County Good Roads Association and a member of the National Good Roads Association, and he says that good roads are almost as important as good soil in a new country—or an old country, for that matter.

In referring to the conservatism of the Ohio farmer, Mr. Bloom says: "It is uphill work, for it is very hard to arrest public attention and get people to thinking along a new line. We are going to try to get a few farmers here to take up the plan of continuous road maintenance and try it out, believing that thus its merit will be so fully demonstrated as to cause it to take root and grow. The conservatism, indifference and selfishness of human nature is the great obstacle to be overcome. We never had a road in this country until we have continuous maintenance, and if we cannot have the co-operative kind, then we'll have to put 'section hands' on the roads just as the railroads do, and tax the people to pay them."

If President Bloom will come to Twin Falls and see the miles of macadam roads under construction and learn something of the plans for good roads in the near future, he will be so greatly surprised that he will make this his permanent abiding place. Twin Falls county is gaining a reputation for good roads along with the many other things with which it is justly credited. The Twin Falls Automobile club is preparing a campaign for good roads—next spring—and acting in cooperation with the Idaho State Automobile Association and the American Automobile Association, the work cannot help but bear fruit.

LINCOLN HAS A CONTEST.

Another County Furnishes Alternatives to Election—Lady Contested at That.

Other counties besides Twin Falls are having election contests. Lincoln county is somewhat excited over the contest that was filed there on Monday on the office of county superintendent, Miss Meade. The contest was on the executive committee of the central committee through their attorneys, Johnson and Haddock. The contest was on the grounds that at the time of the election she had not been a practical teacher in this state for two years, and had not taught one year under a first grade certificate and she is not the holder of a first grade certificate, as required by law. It appears that for want of these qualifications Miss Meade is ineligible and her election void. The outcome will be awaited with interest as it is understood a stiff contest will be made.

IDAHO ATTRACTS IMMIGRATION

Out Ranks Total of Four Neighboring States.

The number of new settlers that have come to this state during the last year has been very large, according to the Union Pacific Railroad company, the report being that "more people came over the Union Pacific and its allied lines to Idaho between March 1 and April 15, 1910, than went to Montana, Utah, Wyoming and Nevada points combined, with a very large percentage to spare."

The Union Pacific company further states that it delivered more passengers to Idaho than it did to Portland or to other Oregon points.

This report assumes greater significance when it is remembered that by the Union Pacific and its allied lines is meant practically the whole Harriman system in the west.

The data in detail is given out in part as follows:
 The number ticketed over the Union Pacific Railroad to various western points during the colonist season of the year 1910 was as follows: Colorado, 528; Portland, 235; other Oregon points, 2377; Puget Sound and Washington, 2558; Idaho, 2442; Montana, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming, 1512. The increase of Idaho over the colonist period of last year was 597. This is an indication of Idaho's rapid growth in population, and this is but a beginning of the great increase that will come during 1911.

Have You, Personally, a "Selling Task" on Hand?

The conduct of the average business constitutes a "continuous selling task," of course.

But aside from one's regular business there comes—frequently—the need, or the advisability, or the necessity, to sell something. Perhaps it's real estate in some form; or an equity; or a leasehold; or a stove; or shop or machinery; sometimes it may be furniture, jewelry, clothing paintings, securities, mortgages, an automobile, carriages, livestock.

Whatever it is, if circumstances pounce upon you, personally, the duty and the task of "turning it into money," you must resort quite as a matter of sensible business policy, to advertising.

And if the selling task is of even moderate importance you will do well to enter upon an Advertising Campaign to continue until the "Selling Task" is completed!

ARE JOINING FOR RESULTS

Plans Made For Bringing Together Opposed Factions—

PROVISION MADE FOR FEDERAL AND STATE CONTROL.

Regulation the Power of the State—Development Duty of Federal Government.

Washington, Dec. 8.—A plan to bring together the opposing advocates of the federal regulation of water power and those who stand for state regulation, on a water power policy upon which both can agree, is being considered by the executive committee of the National Conservation association, of which Gifford Pinchot is president.

The object of the plan, which was drafted by Philip P. Wells, counsel for the association, who, as former law officer of the forest service had a large share in devising the system of water power regulation in national forests, is to afford a water power platform on which both sides of the water power controversy may unite to protect the public interest and at the same time encourage the development of the many millions of horse power now going to waste in the mountain canyons of the far west and the great rivers of the central and eastern parts of the country.

The proposed plan, which is the result of long and careful study of the water power question, has been laid before competent engineers of wide experience in water power development and officers and managers of hydro-electric power companies, who have criticized it and approved it.

The basis of the plan is development without delay, waste or the sacrifice of other and higher uses of flowing water. For this the plan holds, private capital must be added by the state or nation through corporate franchises, condemnation of private property and leasing to use public lands and obstruct public waters, etc. Under the plan the power companies are to have certainty of tenure for a reasonable time, and a chance to recover profits upon their actual investment. For the public, the plan promises good service, fair rates, and publicity as to cost, benefits, certainty and fair return of the energy used by it.

It is contended that the federal government should, or should regulate service securities, and that the national government has the duty of securing prompt, full and orderly development, a reasonable time limit for the public sale of land to financing and fair rentals for federal property used, perhaps paying a part of the proceeds to the state.

GET ANOTHER CONGRESSMAN

Idaho's Census Insures Second Representative in Lower House.

Idaho probably has the largest per cent gain of any state. Of the other seven states none approach the Gem State record. Colorado has a gain of 48.0 per cent; Nevada 33.4 per cent; Oregon 22.7 per cent. Idaho's gain is 100 per cent.

The great increase in the population of Idaho, besides indicating a most substantial growth, insures an additional representative in the lower house of congress. He will be elected two years hence and will take his seat December, 1912, in the second session of the sixty-second congress.

Other figures given out by the census bureau are as follows:

Colorado, 739,234, an increase of 259,324, or 48.0 per cent over 1890

In 1900, when the increase over 1890 was 127,502, or 20.9 per cent.

Nevada, 81,315, an increase of 39,540, or 53.4 per cent over 1900, when the population showed a decrease of 3,425 or 7.5 per cent from that of 1890.

Oregon, 672,765, an increase of 259,229, or 62.7 per cent over 1890 was 99,769 or 31.8 per cent.

KIDS MUST SWIM.

New York Board of Education Makes Swimming Compulsory.

New York, Dec. 7.—The teaching of swimming will be made compulsory in the New York public schools. If a movement started by a committee of prominent athletes and Y-M-C-A leaders is approved by the board of education. The movement was started as a result of recent prominence given to reports of swimming instructors at two of the colleges which have made natation a compulsory part of the curriculum. Coach Kletler of Pennsylvania says that out of the students so far this season over 40 per cent of them were unable to keep afloat.

The committee which is urging the adoption of swimming to the school curriculum says: "England can be taken as a good example of what may be done in this line. London boasts some 110 public baths, which school children are made to frequent from the earliest ages. As a result in England 90 per cent of the population of the cities can swim. In this country the figures can be reversed."

A large amount of money to loan on improved farms at the lowest rates and most attractive terms, is granted Lands Co., office rear of First National Bank building, Twin Falls.

Think of that Christmas Present Now. Plan For It Saye For It Buy It NOW 11 DAYS Until Christmas

To the Jarbidge Commercial Club.

In the days when old Ja-ha-bich Scared the credulous red man, Scared him with a storm of boulders, Scared him so he turned and ran. Old Ja-ha-bich changed the mountains, Tore this down, made that more bold, Made the features and the rock slips, Hid in them the gleaming gold. Dreamed, the while he toiled and sweated, While he wrought in Titan wrath, That no man would dare to trespass O'er so bleak and rough a path.

But Ja-ha-bich failed to reckon With the men of slant-of-ten. He indeed had naught to go on, Naught to tell him of such men. Old Ja-ha-bich knew the red skin; Know the men who run away. When he roared and shook the mountains, Hurled the boulders down like spray. What knew he of men like Pavlak? Thuro, Escallon or Bourne? Men who'd face the wildest country In the wildest, darkest morn.

Old Ja-ha-bich knew his mountains; Thought he'd hidden safe away All the gold and all the nuggets, All the wealth that in them lay. But Ja-ha-bich didn't plan for Men like those we breed today. Men like Cullum, Morris, Wink, Dendors, Richardson, McCoy. When they heard Ja-ha-bich bid Wealthily to pay a nation's debt, In their game with all the old Bondie, Marquardson, Ber-

So these men made the plan, Made it the law of the Jarbidge district, And they sought for his honor To give up the beetling crags. All the gold and all the nuggets, Made as naught the old man's stealth, Tore apart the hidden caches, Found Ja-ha-bich's gleaming wealth.

Each for each, his own ends seeking, Each man fought his fight alone; Met his crises, made his conquests; Shook something out to alone. Till a few with minds foreseeing, Sought to make a common plan, Sought a plan for all to work on For the good of Jarbidge men. Nelson, Judge Ray, Bettles, Rummel Showed the way and formed the hub; Soon the camp was all enrolled in Jarbidge's Commercial Club.

SPECIAL OCEAN SERVICE.

Western Union Announces Another Innovation On Night Letters.

A. H. Price, local manager, has received notice from western headquarters of the Western Union Telegraph company, that the night letter service will be extended so as to include the sending of messages to sailing points where they will be mailed by the telegraph company for the sender. No only additional charge is the postage required or two cents. The aim of the company is to save for the sender of the message the time that is required to mail a letter to the sailing point. The service became effective December 2.

The innovation in telegraph service is to be called the "Special Ocean Mail Service," designed to save time in foreign correspondence. A letter from San Francisco to London requires as much time crossing the continent as it does crossing the ocean. A New York merchant writing to Yokohama must post his letter practically a week before the mail steamer sails from San Francisco or Vancouver. The Western Union has arranged for the use of its night letters and other telegraphic service in connection with out-going ocean mails so that this week of trans-continental time may be saved. Its New York office will receive telegrams from any part of the country destined to European addresses and will forward them in sealed specially addressed envelopes by the first out-going Atlantic mail steamship. The same plan will be followed in San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver for trans-Pacific mails. This will enable correspondence to be dispatched from any part of the United States for an ocean mail port within a few hours of sailing time, the only charge in addition to the sending telegraphic tolls to the ocean mail port will be five cents for postage. Telegrams should bear the full mail address of the foreign correspondent for whom they are intended and marked "Caro Ocean Mail, New York or San Francisco, Seattle or Vancouver," as the case may be. No charges will be made for the address.

TREAT TO MINING CAMP HOSPITALITY

Pocatello Elks Given Real Wild Time.

LOCAL LODGE PROVIDES UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

Mining Camp With Gambling Devices and General Sporting Element Delect in Novelty Decoration.

The local band of Elks, assisted by a visiting herd from Pocatello, succeeded in pulling off on Thursday evening, one of the biggest social events of the season. The Pocatello "Hoosers" came in a special car on the evening west-bound train. They returned Friday morning.

The affair was in the nature of a come-back for the royal time tendered the local lodge when they went to Pocatello for a dach lunch. When the invitation of the Twin Falls people was read at the Pocatello lodge meeting, sixty members decided to make the trip. Tables were set so that each member should appear in straw hats and dusters, to emphasize the fact that they have heretofore mild weather.

The local Elks had laid big plans for the evening. The Twin Falls band was engaged to lead the procession to the train. The lodge members followed and the parade was concluded by the "Elks band" and it might be truly said that Solomon in all his glory was not arrived like one of these. At the depot the visitors were given a boisterous welcome and a parade to the Perrino corner was next in order. Here to the music of the band and the six shooters, a short halt was made. The procession was started for the Elks' hall, where the merry-making continued.

The interior of the hall was made to resemble a boom mining camp and the committee had provided every feature. Every class to be given were represented: the real mine, tenderfoot, flunkies, dance hall girls and all. Numerous gambling tables were set up in the room and all members of Elksdom were staked for a bunch of phony money. All were compelled to get in on the games, roulette, draw poker, stud poker, faro, chuck-a-luck, and "spinnars." A rudely constructed bar, much the worse for wear, bore signs suggestive of a boom camp. "No minors allowed." "Calling is the only limit." "Egg Nog, two bits a glass, no egg but lots of nog." "Don't sit on the railing."

After the crowd had made their wine and been robbed by the hold-up artists of the outfit, a boxing and wrestling match between local men was the attraction.

The next thing in order was the feeding from the "chuck" outfit. The feed was an elaborate one, consisting of milk meat, chicken, turkey, and all the trimmings. At eleven the lights were cut off and according to the Elks' custom a toast was drunk to the absent and departed members. The feast was one long to be remembered. Among towards sunrise someone of the herd suggested that it was time to scatter and one of the biggest entertainments of the history of the state came to an end.

SCHOOL NOTES.

School Board Calls Mass Meeting of Taxpayers for Friday Evening.

The enrollment of the Twin Falls city schools reach 1330 this week.

At a meeting of the school board Monday night, the question of stopping the construction work before the temporary roof is placed on the new high school building, was discussed. The board decided to call a mass meeting of the taxpayers and citizens of the district, to be held at the Commercial club rooms to consider the advisability of asking for a new bond issue in amount of $1,500,000, to cover the cost of the building which will be constructed. This would give all the room needed for high school purposes for at least a year, and possibly a much longer time.

Because of the increase in valuation of the property of the district, there could be issued nearly $500,000 additional bonds. This money would complete the central portion, install a heating plant, and equip the building for high school purposes. This and other questions will be discussed at the mass meeting Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

The second semester will begin Monday, January 23, at which time beginning classes will be organized in both divisions of the district. It is planned to rent an additional room at the Bickel school, announcements as to the location of which will be made later. Pupils will be admitted at this time who are six or will be six years old before February 1, although on account of the crowded condition of the school it is recommended that only the mature and stronger pupils be sent to school. It is generally better for parents to be in no hurry about sending beginners to school.

The organization of a high school orchestra is being taken up this week and the committee of musical talent directed make the institution of a good school orchestra highly probable.

The boys' basketball team met on the gymnasium Saturday evening at the Airdome ring, by the town team. The boys put up a good game against players much older in experience, and held their score down to 28 to 13. The following is a line-up of the teams:

Twin Falls—Forwards, Tabor and McMillan; center, Simons; guards, Adams and MacCintyre.

JARBIDGE CAMP.

Poet Eulogizes Mining Camp in Poetic Effusion.

The poetic Muse at Jarbridge is busy—so busy that one of the enthusiasts has broken into blank verse. The results of the museer into the green fields of poetry, follow:

We opened the oil-wells of Texas; We mined at the Creek and at Gold-bidge.

We panned in the sands of Nome; And from Mexico to Alaska, Most any old piece is our home. But we knew when we landed in Jar-bidge.

That is roost had been steps on the way; That the mines we had been seeking for ages; Were those that before us then lay.

We opened the oil-wells of Texas; The multicolored swamps of the South; The coffee plantations and nut lands 'Way down at the Amazon's mouth, And wealth in a hundred conditions.

We were sure to seize and to count; But we've never met in all our wandering The equal of Jarbridge's mount.

And some of us mined in Australia; And some sought for gold in the land; We all know Rawlhide and the Klondyke.

All know California's Strand. We've mined and prospected and traveled Over all of the lands, east and west, But we know when we landed in Jar-bidge.

That we'd come to the end of our quest. —E. C. MURRAY.

STILL IN THE LEAGUE.

Salt Lake Packers Still Have Magic City in Tri-State League.

In view of the action taken by Twin Falls relative to the proposed baseball league it is interesting to note what other cities think of Twin Falls as a baseball town. One thing is certain, they do not know that this city is not going to enter the proposed league.

All of the papers in the other cities say that this is a good ball town. The Pocatello News says that "Twin Falls is baseball mad." In regard to the earlier league that was formed, the News says:

"Dodge, where two years ago a small coterie of enthusiastic fans dug down deep into their jeans to get Boise on the International League, is now a member how they were 'stung' by the early death of the league, and now put their foot down flat on the Union association idea. The Capital City bunch, who are good fellows from the viewpoint and earnest in a desire to see good ball in this section of the country, ardently favor the formation of a state league, to be composed of such towns as Boise, Caldwell, Nampa, Weiser, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls and four great baseball towns in southern Idaho are Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Twin Falls and Boise. Pocatello is a better baseball town from the viewpoint of gate receipts than Boise. Twin Falls is baseball mad, and last year's successful tournament, at Halley woked up the fans of that camp in a manner that will boost the game up there for years to come. Such a league, placed under a very strict and handled scientifically, would be not only a fairly good paying proposition, but would afford hot sport for the rooters of southern Idaho.

P. O. DEFICIT REDUCED.

Instead of Increase in Deficit, Marked Decrease Results.

Washington, Dec. 11.—In the space of twelve months a reduction has been made in the deficit of the postoffice department of $1,500,000, according to the annual report of Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock, made public today.

While a year ago the fiscal records of the postal service disclosed a deficit of $17,500,000, the largest in the history of the country, the excess of expenditures over receipts for the year ended June 30th last, amounted to only $5,845,566.

The department's policy is to extend its service as rapidly as is warranted by increasing population. In furtherance of this policy 1500 new postoffices were established during the last year, and the number of delivery routes, traversing altogether, 12,226 miles, were instituted. Nearly 3600 new employes of various classes were placed upon the rolls of the department, whose aggregate salaries were more than $2,000,000 annually. In addition to this sum $1,750,000 was added to the salaries of postoffice clerks, $1,226,000 to the salaries of railway mail clerks. All increases in salary were based upon efficiency ratings.

Postmaster Hitchcock says: "In view of the vanishing postal deficit it is believed that if the magazines could be required to pay what it costs the government to carry their advertising pages the department's revenue would soon grow large enough to warrant one-cent postage on first-class mail."

Newspapers are not included in the plan for a higher rate on advertising matter, because, being chiefly of local distribution, they do not employ the mails to any such extent as the wide-circulating magazines.

While the loss resulting from the low postage rate on second-class mail is the greatest in the postal service it is very considerable. The business interest of the consolidation of the rural delivery system, however, as pointed out in the report, are expanded in a considerable measure by the consolidation. Mr. Hitchcock urges the wisdom of further extension of this system, even at a considerable loss to the government. He points out, also, the business wisdom of the consolidation during the last year of the star route and rural delivery systems.

Mr. Hitchcock believes that many abuses of the franking system could be prevented, with marked economy, by supplying special official envelopes and stamps for the free mail of the government.

GALLINER PURCHASES INTEREST

Purchases George McAllister's Interest in Diamond Hardware.

A deal was consummated Saturday when George S. McAllister disposed of his interest in the Diamond Hardware, Jim Galliner is the purchaser. The business will be conducted by W. T. Woods and the new partner.

Both of the men who will continue the business are well known in business circles. W. T. Woods is one of the old-timers of the time that he has been in business has built up a substantial and growing trade. The new partner is also one of the real old timers and fully informed as to the trade needs.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES SUPPLIED

Commercial Club Will Offer Aid to Boosters.

"If you cannot take dinner with the folks 'back home,' send them something that will remind them of you while they are eating their Christmas dinner." In the suggestion that comes from the Twin Falls Commercial club, a Christmas box filled with Idaho apples and potatoes, grown on the Twin Falls tract will prove a most satisfactory gift. Give them some real Idaho baked potatoes for Christmas dinner and then they will know why you think so much of this country. Add a clump of sage-brush to be used instead of mistletoe, and you will have rounded out the Christmas festivities to attend to this at once. Go to the club at once and have a box or two sent to your friends.

In order to facilitate the sending of these Christmas boxes the Twin Falls Commercial club has prepared a number of them, each containing twelve apples, six fine potatoes and a piece of sage-brush, all packed in tissue paper, the lid nailed on and ready for shipping. All that is necessary for the Twin Falls booster to do is to go to the Commercial club, pay for the box and give the secretary the address. He will do the rest. As Christmas is only ten days away, it will be necessary to attend to this at once. Go to the club at once and have a box or two sent to your friends.

ENGINEERS FAVOR STRIKE.

Locomotive Drivers Decide to Walk Out Unless Wages Are Increased.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Counting of strike ballots in the referendum vote of locomotive engineers employed on sixty-one western roads was completed today.

Although the result will not be announced until tomorrow, it was said unofficially, that the result showed 97.52 per cent of those who voted favor a strike unless the demand for higher wages is granted.

The engineers demand an increase of 15 per cent over the present wages and modifications of several working conditions, including the retention of the "100 miles" as the unit of a day's work, and highest wages on the latest type of engines.

An offer of a 9 per cent increase, made by the railroads, was refused.—Salt Lake Tribune.
