AGREEMENT MADE ON COURT HOUSE

SETTLEMENT BETWEEN COMMISSIONERS AND CONTRACTORS

Cost of Construction Will Total $158,000, About $10,000 Over Original Contract, but Structure is Declared to Justify Extra Expense.

After a protracted disagreement, in which the board of county commissioners refused to meet the demands of Contractor George Curley of Salt Lake City for extra work done in the construction of the Twin Falls court house, the additional cost above the original contract amounting to about $10,000, this settlement, in spite of such conditions, is considered most favorable than anticipated, as it is the opinion of architects and contractors who have inspected it for the commission that the value of the structure will justify the money expended.

The following are the statement of credits and the agreement accepted by the commissioners and agreed to by Curley today:

General contract	$123,000.00
Extra—Four columns, N and S, entrances	2,000.00
Stone course under cornice	8,000.00
Stops masonry, and iron coil for windows	354.40

FIRST REPRESENTATIVE ARRIVES

Invitations Sent Out by Commercial Club/Produce Results.

Chas. C. Williams, representative of the Jersey City Chamber of Commerce, called on Secretary Spangler of the Twin Falls Commercial club this morning presenting one of the letters recently sent out by him extending invitations to the different eastern chambers of commerce, making the second copy presented by Mr. Spangler last week. Mr. Williams is principal of the Jersey City high school. He will remain several days looking over this district and then proceed farther west and examine conditions in general with a view of future investments. Spokane is his objective point, as he is a devotee to the convention of representative of Chamber of Commercial clubs at that place.

POLICE CALL

to be installed by the city.

A special line will be run to connect with the operating search light. The telephone office, which can be put into immediate operation upon the receipt of a police call.

Council Finance City Levy.

After a careful investigation covering several days the city council fixed the levy for the city taxes at ten mills, which will on the five million valuation recently turned in by the city treasury, approximate $50,000 to liquidate the municipal debt.

PUMP TO RECLAIM LAND

Water For Three Hundred Acres of Land Below Salmon Ditch to be Irrigated.

About 300 acres of lands not reached by gravity delivery of irrigation water under the Salmon River system, south of Toltville will be reclaimed by a pumping plant being installed this week. A centrifugal pump throwing five second feet of water, operated by electricity will be installed Monday on the ground. Water will be taken from the irrigation lateral 1600 feet from the pump and raised to a point 25 feet higher than the level of the ditch into a small receding basin already completed from which it will be diverted to the lands to be reclaimed. Excepting the 170 acre desert claim owned by Isaac Goheen in this tract, all the lands included under the pumping system are to be reclaimed under the Carey Act, and a greater part of the land has already been taken up by entrymen.

Other land near Hollister which will be reclaimed is owned by the Carey Act and is a greater part of the land has already been taken up by entrymen. Other land near Hollister which will be reclaimed is owned by the Carey Act and is a greater part of the land has already been taken up by entrymen.

To provide for the increased demand for power, the Great Shoshone company is preparing to install another generator at Lower Salmon Falls.

ASSESSMENT OF SALMON RIVER COMPANY INVOLVES SERIOUS QUESTION

Action of Twin Falls County Assessor and Board of Commissioners Taken Without Due Consideration of Law Relating to Tax Exemptions.

Situation With Reference to Future Irrigation Development in Southern Idaho, at Time when Construction of Bureau Project is in Balance, is Cleared by Attitude of Officials Who Set Precedent That Probably Will Be Taken into Account for Adjudication.

BY KARL HALL DIXON.

The most difficult situation to which a conscientious editor can be subjected is the necessity, in his own sincere opinion, of criticizing an official who believed he was doing right, when, in fact, he committed an injustice that is not only detrimental to the community, but perhaps, also disastrous to it. And if that wrong is perpetuated when there has been a financial depression, and a revival of business prosperity rests dependant in a measure, upon his act, if, while commercial conditions are in this critical state and every new burden added, although but a straw in the aggregate, may be the crucial one, any condemnation, by very compulsion, is rendered the more severe.

I write this editorial in the first person, because I wish to represent my own individual and independent attitude toward the valuation fixed by the County Assessor Hayford and County Commissioners Taylor, Zuck and Stronk, upon the basis of which an assessment will be made, of the property of the Salmon River Land and Water company.

The News formerly was regarded as a "company" newspaper, as expressing the position of the Twin Falls Land and Water company upon matters affecting it, because of ownership by men who were interested in that corporation, and there is a suspicion lurking yet in the minds of some few that such is still the case, but, as a preface to what I am candidly styling an attack upon the officials mentioned for the action taken by them, I desire to say that I purchased the entire stock of the News company one year ago, selling a part interest to men who are in no way connected with that or any other irrigation or townsite enterprise, and, without reflecting upon its previous policy, to add that it has been the honest endeavor of myself as well as the other owners, to always be fair with every man, espousing the cause of the people where their rights are involved and carefully weighing the merits of any controversy in which a corporation is in the same way concerned, with its incidentally being the purpose of the News to encourage the farmers, merchants and others within the scope of its influence to pursue lines which will lead to their ultimate welfare; and to extend the same encouragement to the further investment of capital by corporations operating in the state.

A stringency, not of the panic type, but, tightening in its effect, extends over the entire nation, and Idaho, with mainfolds resources undeveloped, seeking the investment of large amounts of capital, while logically expected to suffer first, is actually least injured. In this sense it is favored by the attention devoted to it by capitalists, who, it is of course admitted, anticipate adequate returns for money expended. But to willfully repudiate and probably retard this development by a misconception of the law for the purpose of increasing county revenues, is just as culpable as to violate it to the advantage of the corporations.

County Assessor Hayford placed a valuation upon the holdings of the Salmon River Land and Water company of $1,500,000. He asked for a list of property which was furnished to him. This included, after a second request, the land which had been purchased for a reservoir site. The company set no value upon its holdings, until the matter came before County Commissioners Taylor, Zuck and Stronk acting as a board of equalization. For this omission it is open to criticism, but it should not be made to suffer at the expense of a continuance of irrigation development throughout the state.

It has been the custom in the other counties in Idaho to tax irrigation companies upon their unsold lands, or rather upon the proportion of their investment which relates to the unsold lands. This practice is based upon the law which exempts from taxation all irrigation canals and ditches and water rights, where the water is used by the owner upon his land. Whenever a company sells or makes a contract for the sale of a water right, it then becomes merely a trustee for the state, which will transfer to the landowner the right to use the water when the contract price to the company has been paid. The company in both theory and practice has relinquished its right to the canals and ditches and water rights, except that it occupies the position of a mortgagor who can foreclose the contract in the event that the price is not paid. An instance of the necessity of a regular foreclosure proceeding in such a case is the suit now in the district court brought by the Twin Falls Land and Water company against George W. Bice.

The statute in question was enacted for the encouragement of irrigation development, and the two provisions in point are as follows:

Sec. 1644.—The following property is exempt from taxation: 12. All irrigation canals and ditches and water rights appurtenant thereto when the owner or owners of said irrigation canals and ditches use the water thereof exclusively upon the land or lands owned by him, her or them. Provided, in case any land be sold or rented from any such canal or ditch, then, in that event, such canal or ditch shall be taxed to the extent of such sale or rental.

12. All dues and credits secured by mortgage, trust deed or other liens.

Now, by his own admission, the pretext upon which Assessor Hayford made his valuation of the holdings of the Salmon River Land and Water company is found in another statute that is applicable only up to the time when the prospective settler makes

NO MONEY BEFORE SETTLEMENT

State Engineer Robinson Declares Clear Lake Bridge Site Must Be Agreed Upon Before Surveys.

In a communication to C. H. Mull, a member of the Clear Lake bridge commission, State Engineer A. E. Robinson, who was also appointed to that commission, declares that until the people of Twin Falls county agree upon the location of a site for the proposed bridge across the Snake river at Clear Lake, the state of Idaho will not expend any of the appropriation even for the surveying of a site. The letter is as follows:

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 2, 1911. Ho Clear Lake Bridge, Mr. Chas. H. Mull, City Engineer, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Mr. dear Mr. Mull: Replying to yours of the 1st inst. I do not think it would be wise for us to have the site surveyed unless you know where the money to pay for the survey is to come from. I have no question about the money being raised, we have no authority to incur expense, because if the additional money is not raised, the surveying party will be unable to do so. When I suggested that we make a preliminary survey of the sites it was with the belief that this survey would enable the interested parties to come to some conclusion about the site and a speedy termination of the matter to a speedy termination, and put up the money. As long as they show no inclination to come through, we will not go to any expense, but if they show a desire to settle this matter, we can help them in any way, we should do so.

If it is necessary to make any surveys to determine the most practical site, I would suggest that they pay the expense of this survey themselves, but I will not object to the state paying for the survey, whom I presume would be Mr. Smith of Gooding. If they are willing to work on that basis, we will do the work as well as we will perform remain inert.

I am enclosing a copy of bridge specifications which, of course, will not go to any expense, but if they are willing to work on that basis, we will do the work as well as we will perform remain inert. Very truly yours, A. E. ROBINSON, State Engineer.

Form Pleno Association

The local Modern Woodmen camp held a meeting on Wednesday last week and formed an association to be known as the Central Idaho Pleno association with the following members in office: President—H. E. Lue. Secretary—J. W. Bailey, A. F. Hauser.

The association plans to hold their first camp some time early in the month of October, at which time the National Woodman lecturer, J. O. Davis of California will be present. Visits will be made to the district and U. R. Smith, who is elected lodge deputy, will have authority in all the camps in the county.

Bungalow of H. S. Green Burns

The bungalow of H. S. Green located near the pumping plant of the High Line Canal Pumping company burned down Wednesday evening. The bungalow is supposed to have started from a gasoline stove. Mr. Green is one of the party that arrived here but a few days ago to prove up on Salmon tract land.

THREE PROJECTS TO INSTALL PUMPS

GREAT SHOSHONE COMPANY ENTERS MOUNTAIN HOME FIELD

Twenty Thousand Acres of Land Will Be Reclaimed by Electricity in Addition to the Lighting of Another Southern Idaho Town.

Three irrigation projects will reclaim an irrigated area of 20,000 acres of land near Mountain Home within the immediate future by the installation of pumping plants, the power for which will be furnished by the Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Light and Power company, and in addition, Mountain Home itself will be lighted and provided with electric power by the same corporation, a franchise having been recently granted by the council of that little city.

The announcement of the installation of these plants is considered important, in as much as it is believed to mark the beginning of the second chapter in irrigation history. The High Line Pumping company, the project located but a few miles from Twin Falls, is really the first of any magnitude in this section of Idaho, and can logically be considered to stand at the head of this new sort of development, the era of which has just commenced. The power for this project is also provided by the Great Shoshone company.

The Mountain Home companies which will install pumping plants are the Grandview, which is reclaiming 8000 acres in this way, the Brown's Flat, which will pump water for 4000 acres, and the Snake River Irrigation, which will reclaim 7000 acres. Edwin W. Bolze represented the

FARMERS ORGANIZE DAIRY ASSOCIATION

IMPORTANT MEETING HELD LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Prof. A. K. Riser, Government Dairy Expert in Western Field Explains Purpose and Value of Organization—Board of Directors Elected.

A meeting of much weight and special importance of dairymen, was held last Saturday afternoon, at which time initial steps were taken that may lead to important undertaking in the dairy line on the Twin Falls tract, and establish dairying as one of the most profitable industries in this section of the country.

The meeting, which was called at the instance of Professor A. K. Riser of the Colorado Springs, director of the dairy division of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Professor R. V. Ellington of the dairy extension work of the Colorado Springs, was attended by representative farmers from this district. The object of the meeting was to consider the advisability of organizing a county dairy association, and to elect a board of directors, and to elect a secretary and treasurer.

Prof. Riser was called upon to explain the purpose and benefits of a dairy association, and the work of a field man. He stated that the object of the organization was primarily to derive ways and means for securing a market for the dairy products of a field man. He stated that some associations adopt the plan of membership fees and others the subscription plan, but he suggested that the best method was to elect a board of directors, and to elect a secretary and treasurer. He stated that it was desired through organization and the dairy industry to be successfully carried on, and to be successful, it must be carried on in a systematic way.

Prof. Riser's remarks on the dairy question made the fact clear that a broad knowledge of the dairy business was necessary for success, and that only practical education along the line of intelligent judging of the value of cows, the care of pasturing, and feeding of them, etc., would be of any value.

It would be hard to place an estimate on the material value of a field man to the Twin Falls tract, so the county dairy association, of which he is the field man, is a most important one in its bearing on the production of butter, fat, etc. His highly recommends the site for a dairy farm, and stated that the site is a most important one in its bearing on the production of butter, fat, etc. His highly recommends the site for a dairy farm, and stated that the site is a most important one in its bearing on the production of butter, fat, etc.

The problem of pasturing in connection with feeding was dwelt upon to some length by Prof. Riser. The question of feeding is a most important one in its bearing on the production of butter, fat, etc. His highly recommends the site for a dairy farm, and stated that the site is a most important one in its bearing on the production of butter, fat, etc.

nothing is equivalent to corn. The field man would also assist the farmer in remodeling barns to the best advantage for dairymen, and in another feature of the service of the field man was explained by the professor. This was the teaching of the farmer how to keep individual records of his cows, and to keep the farms and personally assist in starting the record keeping. This would show the outside world what cows are worth on the Twin Falls tract, and nothing is equivalent to corn. The field man would also assist the farmer in remodeling barns to the best advantage for dairymen, and in another feature of the service of the field man was explained by the professor.

Prof. Riser also suggested that during the winter months the field man could assist the farmer in teaching the boys of the public schools of the district along this line, with great advantage to all concerned. The field man would be an expert dairymen's cows, and to keep the farms and personally assist in starting the record keeping, which is a most

GENERAL NEWS OF THE WORLD

REVOLT AGAINST CUBAN GOVERNMENT

ACEVEDO GIVES GOMEZ 15 DAYS IN WHICH TO RESIGN

Threatens to Apply Torch and Reduce Whole Island to Ashes if Warning is Not Obeyed—Rumors That a Fight Has Already Occurred.

Havana, Aug. 1.—An uprising against the government apparently of a serious nature occurred last night at Regia, a suburb of Havana, situated across the harbor, when Gen. Guillermo Acevedo, a revolutionary leader, with eight or ten companions, armed and mounted, took the field. It is reported that the party was reinforced later by 200 men.

Before leaving, Regia Acevedo issued a manifesto denouncing the administration of President Gomez as scandalous and corrupt and adjuring all patriotic Cubans to rise and overthrow him. He declared that he would give Gomez fifteen days in which to resign, after which, if the warning was not obeyed, he intended to apply the torch and destroy property indiscriminately until the whole island was reduced to ashes.

Setting forth from Regia, the insurgents started for Pinar del Rio, seemingly bound for Pinar del Rio. They halted at the suburb of Luyan, where they seized a citizen named Naranjo, demanding that he act as their guide. On his refusal, Naranjo was shot dead. The party then rode on.

Early today strong detachments of rebels and regulars were dispatched in pursuit of the rebels. The country where they are operating is thickly settled and it is probable that the rural life will have no difficulty following the trail. There are rumors that a fight has already occurred.

FACE PROSECUTION

Other Trusts Charged with Illegal Trade Agreements Abroad.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The coffee trust, the steamship trust and other concerns which are charged with making illegal trade agreements abroad and carrying out their effect in the United States, it was said today by the attorney general, will face the department of justice, probably under the anti-trust sections of the Wilson tariff act of 1894, which contains five sections designed to meet just such cases.

The Wilson law provides that any persons or corporations who import commodities to the United States and combine to restrain trade or fix prices, although the trade agreements are made outside of this country, may be fined or imprisoned and the property may be confiscated by the government. Decisions of the courts regarding the applicability of the Sherman law to combinations conceived outside the United States prohibited, will face the government to fall back on the Wilson act in these particular cases and others which are similar.

Robert Stahl Taken with Cramps While in Swimming.

Glenns Ferry, August 1.—Robert Stahl, a fireman on the Short Line, running between this place and Nampa, was accidentally drowned in the Snake river here yesterday while in swimming with a number of other men. Stahl, who was a good swimmer, was evidently taken with cramps and sank before assistance could reach him.

Heroic efforts were made to recover the body, many heavy charges of dynamite were exploded in hopes it would dislodge the body to rise, but without avail.

Mr. Stahl was well known here and in Nampa, his parents residing in the latter place.

BIG PROFITS FOR STEEL TRUST

Hundred and Seventy Millions Cleared Up in the Deal.

New York, August 1.—C. P. Ferriss, W. M. Givens and Walter Moore, mining engineers, who examined and reported upon the Tennessee Coal and Iron company before the Schley-Hanna syndicate purchase, it was the only witnesses interrogated today by the congressional committee investigating the steel trust. But three members of the committee were present—Chairman Stanley and Representatives Young and Danforth. The other six members are detained at Washington to attend party caucuses and committee hearings.

The three experts testified that the Birmingham district is a far more valuable one than that of Lake Superior because of the juxtaposition of the three chief elements in the steel industry—iron, coal and fluxing materials, mainly limestone. The Tennessee company, it was testified, at the time of its absorption owned or controlled 70 per cent of the ores and materials in the district.

"Pig-iron can be produced $4 a ton cheaper in the Birmingham district than anywhere else in the world," declared Mr. Ferriss in reply to a question by Mr. Stanley.

Although the testimony of the engineers was largely technical, it showed that the property of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company was worth over $200,000,000 when it was absorbed by the steel trust for $30,000,000, a 5 per cent second mortgage bonds of the trust.

Grant B. Schley will appear before the committee tomorrow to tell of the circumstances of the Tennessee company to the steel trust.

CLASS RATES TO GO UP

Rise to Offset Recent Reduction in Commodity Rates Expected.

Chicago, August 1.—A step by which the transcontinental roads hope to offset the recent reduction in commodity rates, to western ports ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission, is expected to be taken at a meeting of the traffic and executive officers of the transcontinental lines to be held here August 7. The plan now under consideration comprises the abandonment of the present method of meeting water competition on the Pacific coast at a class rate basis, and a substantial increase in rates.

Since the Interstate Commerce commission issued its lower ruling on the intermountain cases, reducing rates to Spokane and other intermediate points, the roads are said to have been seeking means of overcoming the loss of revenue caused by the cuts.

Class rates were not involved in the intermountain cases and as they cover only high grade commodities, the railroads are said to feel there is no imperative need of meeting competition of the water carriers.

THRESHERS FORM ASSOCIATION

Meeting Held Saturday Afternoon and Officers Elected.

The Southern Idaho Threshers' association formed last Saturday at a meeting of the threshing machine operators at Union hall. The following officers were elected: W. S. Starr of Kimberly, president; George Moore of Kimberly, vice president and R. H. Sale of Twin Falls, secretary. Headquarters will be in this city. The purpose for which the association was formed was as reported by the secretary, the mutual benefit of operators and farmers, giving better opportunity for exchange of ideas, systematizing their work, improving the service and formulating a scale of rates. On account of the inability of the machine owners to make sufficient profit to enable them to meet their annual payment of the old scale, a vote of threshing was raised one cent per bushel. The present scale is as follows: 65 a bushel for oats and 65 a bushel for wheat. The new scale is 65 a bushel for oats and 65 a bushel for wheat. For further details, write, D. B. Burley, General Passenger Agent, O. S. L. R. Co., Salt Lake City, Utah.

FARMERS FREE LIST BILL PASSES SENATE

DEMOCRATS AND INSURGENTS COMBINE FORCES

Close Vote on Original House Measure—Favorable Report from Conference in the House Now Expected—Will Then Be Sent to President.

Washington, August 1.—The Democratic tariff program was moved up closer to President Taft today when the senate by an other-remarkable coalition of Democrats and Republican insurgents, passed a farmers' free list bill after voting down the original house measure so closely that only Democratic senators would have changed the result and left the entire revision issue squarely before the president tonight.

"The unity alliance," the Republican wing said and the Democratic party has been called, swept aside a "bet of amendments," voted down by a 60-40 vote the original house measure and then carried by a surprising concentration of strength a measure differing from the house bill only in comparatively unimportant particulars.

Now the bill goes back to the house and Democratic Leader Underwood of that body tonight confidently asserted that it will be finally agreed to in conference between the two houses and sent to President Taft.

CUT-OFF IS COMPLETED

New Townships of Coppdale Now Being Platted.

The last rail of the Rupert-Bliss cut-off was laid on Tuesday afternoon of this week at Coppdale, the North Side town, located on the Shoshone Falls road exactly half way between Rupert and Bliss and six miles from Jerome. The first-train expected over the road today but the regular train service will not begin until about the 15th of this month. The railroad has eight and a half acres laid out for a depot 22x77 and six tracks, two of which will be for the passenger, two for siding and two for stock yard tracks.

Messrs. Copp and Turlington of the North Side are plating the townships of Coppdale, which is situated at the crossing of the main wagon road between Jerome and Miller, and Shoshone and Twin Falls. This new town now has a store, a school house and a postoffice. Arrangements are now being made for the drilling of a deep well with which to supply the town with an abundance of pure water for all domestic purposes.

PROPHECY SMOOTH THINGS

Jeremiah 25—Aug. 6

"The Lord is my Righteousness—My Salvation, whom shall I fear?" Psalm 71:1.

Our last study related to the times of King Josiah and his reformation. At about that time the Prophet Jeremiah began to speak in the name of the Lord. Josiah was succeeded by his son, who proved himself another had son of a good father; and, by the way, we remark again between the ages of twelve and eighteen would appear to be the time when the majority of boys reach some mental decision respecting the future. So far as we remember, the majority of them that start in evil-doing at this early age.

It has been remarked that the disturbance in Russia leading up to the Douma was largely higher schools, male and female. We urge again upon parents and guardians the importance of giving proper care and counsel to the blossoming manhood and womanhood may be the proper channel and a blessing to themselves and others.

Prophecy Against Jerusalem.

Under the evil rule of King Jehoiakim, Jeremiah, under the Lord's guidance, foretold the coming destruction of the city and the effect of such a prophecy should have led the people to self-examination, prayer and fasting, and a full return to loyalty to God. But according to Jeremiah's account, it was a time of great moral delinquency. He pictures a terrible condition of the people—a prevalence of dishonesty, murder, adultery, false swearing and open licentiousness.

The press led the people in an angry attack upon the Prophet. He was arrested, charged with speaking evil of his city and declaring its forthcoming destruction. How foolish! Could merely the Prophet's declaration bring the thing to pass? And if it were the Lord's Prophet could their assaults upon him turn aside the Divine intention? But the spirit of sin is not the spirit of a sound mind, as is the spirit of the Lord.

It is noteworthy that it was the priests and the false prophets who, on this occasion, called the Prophet a liar. A true Prophet. And alas! this has not infrequently been the case. Nearly all the persecutions of Jesus and His Apostles, and His followers through out the age have come from these servants of God. What heart searching this should bring to everyone of us, particularly those who are similarly overtaken in a fault and are found fighting against God, and should bring upon ourselves the severe condemnation.

No doubt these religious teachers twisted their reasoning faculties to such an extent that they considered their course as justly reprehensible. They even thought that it was love on their part for those persecuted; or perhaps they persecuted themselves that by being moved in the persecutions they would be hated, envied, malice, but by love for God. At all events their course shows what an easy matter self-deception is, and their mistakes bids us beware and scrutinize carefully our own conduct.

Jeremiah told them of the time of coming desolation, and some day are declaring that the greatest time of trouble ever known in the world's history is probably but a few years off—that it will mean the most terrible anarchy, the only relief from which will be the establishment of Messianic Kingdom in power and great glory. There are some today so foolish as to think that the trouble could be put off or avoided altogether by attending those who are in power and great glory. There are some today so foolish as to think that the trouble could be put off or avoided altogether by attending those who are in power and great glory. There are some today so foolish as to think that the trouble could be put off or avoided altogether by attending those who are in power and great glory.

Jeremiah impressed the Jurors—the princes of his people. He reaffirmed every word that he had uttered, and declared himself ready to die if it were; but he urged reformation. The princes, more just than the priests and false prophets, acquiesced in Jeremiah's words, and promised that they would be reformed. So it has been at various times in the history of the truth; if it had not been for the moderation of the civil power, many a reformer would have been put to death. Note, for instance, Martin Luther's protection by the Landgrave of Hesse.

Reformer Anthony Comstock.

And so today. For years Mr. Comstock has been fighting valiantly, almost single handed for social purity. Realizing to what an extent vice is spread by vile pictures, and vile literature, this man gave much of his life to their suppression. How much good he has accomplished no one in his life may ever know. How many boys and girls have been aided and no one may know, but all the same a noble man has fought a noble fight against impurity. Of course such a man who stands for truth, and righteousness, is bound to be maligned and slandered. He would gladly see him dead. It is said that Mr. Comstock has effected the destruction of many a vile picture, and many thousands of pounds of electro-plate matter prepared to print more.

All carnal and profane and profane of righteousness to the same extent as Jeremiah. Luther and Comstock. Every child of God, however, faithful to his consecration, is a servant of righteousness and, proportionately, should be a foe to sin in its every form. Such must be prepared for the fangs of scorn and the lip of sarcasm and slander. Such may take to themselves the words of our text and rejoice saying, "The Lord is my Light and my Salvation: whom shall I fear?"

These trials would evidence that God found them worthy of shaping and polishing for His service, whereas others without such persecutions would have every reason to doubt that they were in preparation for the Kingdom. Such should rejoice and be glad. They should realize that the more they suffer for righteousness, the higher they stand in the estimation of God, and all those afflictions are past.

These are the "elect according to the foreknowledge of God" through sanctification of the spirit, in the belief of the Truth," writes the Apostle. God designed the election of this Age. He desired to separate to himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works, their Redeemer, in His subsequent work of uplifting the willing and obedient of the world of mankind. But God has not predetermined nor desired the election of any except a sanctified class, a class not sanctified through stripes, not through force or compulsion, but sanctified through a knowledge of truth.

Many a suffering woman. Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks, suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, loss of appetite and poor sleep, not knowing her life due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery and the prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to neglect Foley Kidney Pills. Bedford Drug Co.

When You Think

Of the pain which manhood, especially with women, it entails the depression and kidney strays associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural consequence there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Female Prescriptions makes weak women strong and sick women well, and drive them freedom from pain, restores health, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and securely confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. J. C. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advice—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

We are now prepared to again make

ASSESSMENT OF SALMON RIVER COMPANY INVOLVES QUESTION

a contract for the water right and nothing but a lien is left in the trustee company. It is as follows:

Sec. 1658. Water ditches constructed for mining, manufacturing and irrigation purposes, and wagon or turnpike toll roads, must be assessed the same as real estate by the assessor of the county, at the rate per mile for that portion of such property as lies within his county, and extended on the assessment roll as real estate, indicating by initials the kind of improvement.

Now, after determining the total investment of the company to be $1,500,000, the legal course for the assessor to pursue, which should have been acceptable to the commissioners, would seem to have been to ascertain from records available what amount of the lands was unsold and then what its proportion was to the total number of acres included in the segregation. As a matter of fact, it was known that such proportion was five per cent. Then the basis of assessment would be five per cent of the entire investment. Upon the assessor's valuation of the initial holdings it would be $75,000.

However, instead of conforming to this plan of taxation, the assessor and later the commissioners, clung to the original valuation of $1,500,000. Representatives of the Salmon River company appeared before the assessor and the board of equalization, making the statement that their total investment was about $1,093,000, to which might be added almost another million for the extension of the power line to the dam and other work done not of a permanent nature. In accordance with this valuation of a little over $1,000,000, but reduced to five per cent, the proportion of unsold lands, they asked to be assessed upon a valuation of $50,000, not to be preferred above any other sort of business but in compliance with the law cited. This was refused, and instead of using the $1,500,000 valuation of the assessor or paying the original investment at $2,000,000, and assessing five per cent of that figure, a proposition was entertained by the commissioners whereby the dispute might be arbitrarily settled, which was that a $600,000 valuation be entered on the books, just 12 times that previously requested by the company, its representatives also conceding that it would deed to the county a right of way across the Salmon dam and build the approaches thereto at a cost of about $6,000. This plan was not an admission by the company that its former stand was untenable, but rather a partial submission of the position of the assessor and the board of equalization. The commissioners, although at first favoring the proposal, finally rejected it, when the representatives of the company met with them by arrangement to complete the agreement. The matter will probably now be taken to court for adjudication at considerable expense to both the county and the company.

The most regrettable phase of this situation is that it comes at a time when no discouragement should be offered to the construction of the great Bruneau project now under contemplation. Almost immediate prosperity to the entire Twin Falls country depends upon the decision of the men who will finance it, and their names have been arrested by the action of Assessor Hayford and Commissioners Taylor, Zuck and Stronk. The undertaking of that mammoth enterprise is by no means assured, in spite of unauthorized statements appearing in a few newspapers. At present, any apparently unjustifiable hindrance, however insignificant in itself, is a serious obstruction. It is because of this broad view of existing conditions, together with the law as I have endeavored to strictly construe it, that I protest against the undue assessment of an irrigation company.

It has already been suggested even that the Bruneau engineers, instead of building 80 miles of cement canal on the South Side in Twin Falls county, locate their reservoir site farther up the Snake river and construct their canal along the high lands on the North Side to their project, crossing the Snake river with a mastodon siphon at Lower Salmon falls. And this suggestion has been made merely because the attitude of Twin Falls county officials is regarded as inclined to be unfriendly to the investment of capital, as indicated by the recent action of the assessor and commissioners.

It is my belief that the officials in question were honest and upright, and that they were guided by some of the legal advice which they sought. I also have an idea that they were hedged about with threats made by the governor of the state that, unless they followed his policy of extreme taxation, he would subject them to prosecution.

But a mistake has been made and a wrong perpetrated, at a time when a continuance of irrigation development in Idaho is in the balance and the Salmon River Land and Water company is not the one placed in greatest hazard; the people of Twin Falls county and of the southern part of the state are most endangered.

ORGANIZE DAIRY ASSOCIATION

first, on his training and practical experience, which counts 60 points; and second, on his knowledge of the theory of dairying, which counts 40 points. A sum of $2000 would place such a man in the field at a salary of $1000, with the expense of the county commissioners have been asked for an appropriation of $1000 for the fund.

Prof. Nisner also stated that the state dairy association and the U. S. department of dairying would probably be able to appropriate something toward this fund.

After a short-time spent in general discussion, it was moved and seconded that the association be organized as the Twin Falls County Dairy Association. It was then moved and seconded that a board of directors, two from Twin Falls and one from each of the neighboring cities, Kimberly, Filer and Buhl, be appointed. The directors elected were: C. E. McLain, S. E. Neher, Twin Falls; J. E. Musser, Filer; A. Stone, Buhl; D. P. DeWeller, Kimberly.

It was voted that the board of directors elect the president, secretary and treasurer of the association, and also draw up the duties, by-law, rules and regulations with the assistance of Prof. Ellington. The meeting was then adjourned, until called by the board of directors.

DISAGREES IN ASSAULT CASE

Frank Sizemore of Milner Charged With Attacking Game Warden.

The jury which was out six hours Tuesday evening, in the case of the State of Idaho vs. Frank Sizemore of Milner, failed to agree. The case was tried in the probate court before Attorney Hornbrook and Hornbrook for the defense. Sizemore was charged with assaulting a game warden of Hayburn, at Milner on July 26.

PUBLIC AMBULANCE ARRIVED

Grosby and Company Install Elegant New Equipage.

One of the finest ambulances in the West was shipped into Twin Falls last week for Grosby and Company, funeral directors. The new equipage is of the same class used in the large city hospitals with heavy white enameled surfaces, both inside and out. The interior is fitted up to give the patient the greatest comfort enroute, contains a reclining chair suspended by heavy springs from the ceiling, a chair for the nurse, and one for the attending physician. Heavy rollers on the chair permit of its being rolled easily out of the ambulance to the hospital platform. Ventilator has been provided for by several open windows which are accessible to those inside the ambulance. Electric lights and a speaking tube are two of the innovations which the new equipage possess over the cheaper kinds. The ambulance is in keeping with the other fixtures and appliances recently introduced by the Grosby company. It is the intention of Mr. Grosby to make the ambulance a public conveyance and calls sent in to him or to the Farmers Corral will be promptly answered.

Grandview company in closing the contract with the Great Shoshone company for power, Captain Oberlin M. Carter, the Brown's company, and Attorney Taylor of Boise, the Snake River irrigation company. All of the projects are located south and west of Mountain Home.

The franchise for furnishing Mountain Home with high pressure power was negotiated by Lee Glass and E. A. Wilcox. Poles are now being erected and it will be but a matter of comparatively a few days when electric current will be transmitted. This is the thirteenth town in Southern Idaho to be provided with light and power by the Great Shoshone company, the others being, Buhl, Piler, Kimberly, Hollister, Jerome, Wendell, Gooding, Hagerman, Riffe, King Hill and Glenns Ferry.

money to cover the deficiency. He had failed to do this when his options expired and was then that Mr. Allen exercised secondary options, availed himself and his opportunity to purchase them.

Because Mr. Allen's move was regarded as a strategic attempt to force the selection of a site elsewhere in the city, those who interested themselves in the establishment of the building in the north end of town have persisted in their endeavors, which will entail a condemnation suit, if it is possible for them to obtain such action.

We re-open our school in our new quarters in the Moorman building on Main avenue opposite the Hotel Perrine on Sept. 5, 1911

This building is now being refurbished and will be fitted with every modern convenience necessary for our work. Both day and evening classes will be conducted.

Shorthand Department

This department will be conducted by W. R. Bartmess, who is a certified teacher of the Graham-Pittman system of shorthand. The James Revised lessons (1911 edition) will be used. These lessons are designed especially for individual work, thus allowing the progressive student to advance as rapidly as he desires. Special attention will be given to those who have studied this system and wish to pursue advanced work.

Touch Typewriting will be taught. Machines of the very latest model will be furnished at no extra cost to students of either department.

Particular stress will be laid on English work as it has been found an absolute necessity in this course.

Bookkeeping Department

We have arranged with T. S. Nicholson to take charge of this department. Mr. Nicholson is an instructor of experience, having been teaching during the past year in Mt. Morris College (Illinois) and previous to that in Chicago Business College.

The Sadler-Rowe Budget system of Bookkeeping is employed. This course is also arranged for individual work, which enables the student to advance as rapidly as he desires and time presents, regardless of others taking the course. The Budget system places before the student the actual forms and entries which he would use in a business office. He is actually employed as bookkeeper throughout the course.

Classes in arithmetic and penmanship are also organized.

Tuition

Tuition is divided into five terms of 10 weeks each. The regular tuition for day work is $30.00 for one term; $50.00 for two terms; $70.00 for three terms; $85.00 for four terms; $100.00 for five terms. Evening classes $12.50 per term. No extra fees.

$50.00 FOR YOU

We desire an opportunity to demonstrate that we can give you just as good a business training as any school in the Inter-Mountain country; and, therefore, we have planned to offer to the first 50 applicants for our Day School a scholarship good for five terms of 10 weeks each for the

Special Price of $50.00

While this amount is payable in advance, scholarships may be reserved now and paid for when the student enters the school. We limit the number of scholarships to 50 and positively none will be issued after Nov. 1, 1911.

These scholarships will enable the student to admission to any of the courses offered and give him time enough to complete a thorough business course.

We are proud of the fact that while our students of last year had insufficient time to complete their courses, several of them have good positions and are doing creditable work. We know that if you will study with us during the coming year, we can fit you for a much better position than you are now holding.

We will be in our new location after August 15th. For information prior to this time, call on W. R. Bartmess, Secy-Mgr., corner Fifth avenue and Second street east, or address

In true soldierly style the members of Company D, marched to the depot Sunday evening and boarded the train for Boise where the 2nd battalion, 2nd regiment, N. G. I., is encamped for ten days, instruction in battalion and other drills and practice in target shooting will be the principal features of the encampment. Camp will be pitched at the Boise barracks and will be under the supervision of officers of the regular army. A number of badges and trophies will be awarded to those making the highest scores in the rifle practice. About 42 enlisted men of the local company went to camp, including the following officers and non-commissioned officers: Captain Van Hook, First Lieutenant Thomas Doversy, Second Lieutenant F. C. Dauterman, Sergeants Winsel, Logsdon, Hendricks and Raymond, and Corporals Daly, Patton and Loomis.

Development Pushed by Promoters Will Open New Townsite This Fall. Berger is a new townsite of the Salmon River tract destined to become one of the important cities of this section. Arrangements are being made by Thomas Sanderson, who is the promoter and owner of the townsite, for its early platting and opening this fall. Contracts have been let for clearing the forty acre townsite which will be sold at the opening, and the establishment of a number of business houses—lumber yard, restaurant and livery—is promised in the near future. A postoffice will be established soon, favorable action having been secured from the postal authorities at the inauguration of the numerous settlers here and about a new town. Its location, eleven miles from Twin Falls and eight miles from Hollister, will give to Berger a considerable tributary territory among the best lands of the Salmon tract. A conservative estimate, according to recent statement of the promoters, places the present population of the country surrounding the new town at 250 persons. Situated on the line of the Short Line railroad to Rogerson, the new town obtains advantageous shipping conditions and a station will probably be established there in the immediate future. The power line passing within a few yards of the present store building on the townsite will afford connection for electric lighting and power as well as telephone communication. The proposition of securing a water supply from a well to be put down on the townsite is receiving the serious consideration of the promoters.

FEEDING LIVE STOCK

Products of Farm Pay Big Profit in Conclusion of Oregon Man. When eastern dairymen and stock raisers can feed with profit alfalfa meal that costs them from $20 to $25 per ton to hogs and milk cows, A. F. Boyer on his eighty acre ranch northwest of Hollister figures that he can expect to make a profit on alfalfa and feeding it to stock right on his farm, a good return may be had on his investment, and that is the plan that he expects to pursue. He is now preparing his land for seeding it to alfalfa this fall, having saturated about fifty acres of land from which the sagebrush has been removed, by irrigation during the second water delivery, before any plowing had been done. Furrows were run at intervals of about four feet apart across the cleared land and water run through them until it had subbed across the intervening space. By plowing now and following immediately with the harrow, Mr. Boyer expects to conserve sufficient moisture in the soil to start and sustain the crop which will be planted this fall. Practically the entire eighty acres will be seeded to alfalfa this fall, while a portion of it will be devoted to raising barley which will be ground and fed in combination with the alfalfa most stocked on the place. A mill for preparing the alfalfa meal on the ranch will be installed. The product possesses superior feeding quality and the alfalfa is of the best and the saving effected in producing at home, will contribute to the true profit of the business. Mr. Boyer believes that he has arrived at a successful solution of the problem of marketing products of the farm, and the success of the enterprise will be attended with interest on the part of other settlers of the tract. The undertaking is not an experiment with Mr. Boyer who owns and operates farms on the Salmon River and his former home in Ontario, Oregon, and is confident of success here that he would not consider an offer of less than $150 per acre for his Salmon land. He figures that he can make profits from the produce of the land each year to more than pay a good rate of interest on the investment and considers Salmon land, even at $100 to $200 per acre an investment hard to find an equal to—Hollister Herald.

INDUCEMENT TO HOLLISTER

Phone Company Proposes to Establish Exchange and Terminal Here. Hollister, Idaho, August 1.—The installation of a local telephone exchange if a sufficient number of contracts can be signed with users in Hollister was promised President E. H. Winters and J. B. Hamby of the Idaho-Nevada Telephone company who passed through Hollister Saturday enroute from Jarbidge. The acquiescence of ten or fifteen subscribers here, stated the gentlemen, will be sufficient to insure the establishment of the exchange, and should any interest in the proposition be manifested here it is probable that the terminal of the line now being built into Jarbidge might be transferred to Hollister. Stringing of the wire on line from Rogerson to Jarbidge began last week and it will be possible to communicate with the camp by telephone within the next ten days. Equipment of the best quality is being installed. The company assures as efficient service as is furnished to any city by any telephone concern, and has arranged for connection with the Bell system out of Twin Falls for communication with long distance points. Winters who for three years represented Elko county in which the Jarbidge mining district is situated, in the legislature of Nevada, and who is thoroughly familiar with conditions there states that that county is receiving an overflow of immigration from every section of the country, and that it is quite likely that many of the newcomers from irrigated sections will be induced by the possibilities of the Salmon tract to build homes here.

BERGER A DESTINED CITY

Development Pushed by Promoters Will Open New Townsite This Fall. Berger is a new townsite of the Salmon River tract destined to become one of the important cities of this section. Arrangements are being made by Thomas Sanderson, who is the promoter and owner of the townsite, for its early platting and opening this fall. Contracts have been let for clearing the forty acre townsite which will be sold at the opening, and the establishment of a number of business houses—lumber yard, restaurant and livery—is promised in the near future. A postoffice will be established soon, favorable action having been secured from the postal authorities at the inauguration of the numerous settlers here and about a new town. Its location, eleven miles from Twin Falls and eight miles from Hollister, will give to Berger a considerable tributary territory among the best lands of the Salmon tract. A conservative estimate, according to recent statement of the promoters, places the present population of the country surrounding the new town at 250 persons. Situated on the line of the Short Line railroad to Rogerson, the new town obtains advantageous shipping conditions and a station will probably be established there in the immediate future. The power line passing within a few yards of the present store building on the townsite will afford connection for electric lighting and power as well as telephone communication. The proposition of securing a water supply from a well to be put down on the townsite is receiving the serious consideration of the promoters.

GIVE REASONS FOR EXTENSION

Land Board Assisting Entrymen in Intelligent Action. In response to many inquiries from entrymen upon Carey Act lands on the Salmon tract regarding conditions upon which extension of the date of final proof may be had, the State Land Board has issued a pamphlet containing answers to the intelligently setting forth the circumstances which would warrant the extension in each individual case. This pamphlet is available upon application to the secretary of W. M. Hills, engineer for the Board, who made investigations recently on the Salmon tract, a copy of the form is being placed in a file available upon herewith produced.

ACKNOWLEDGE IT

Twin Falls Has to Bow to Inevitable—Scores of Endorsements Prove It. After reading the public statement of this fellow-sufferer given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this: "I suffered for many years with kidney trouble, and finally I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a family and it required only a few doses to convince me that I was being helped. After I had taken the contents of one box I was cured and I am now enjoying good health." (Statement given October 3, 1910.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT. On June 15, 1910, Mr. Cook said: "Nothing has occurred after my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have enjoyed good health during the past two years and I give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PROMOTERS VISIT SALMON DAM

Pittsburgh Capitalists and Noted Engineers on Trip of Inspection. The promoters of the Salmon dam project, including the following: J. S. Oakley, who has contributed so largely to the development of Southern Idaho, James A. Purdy, vice president and D. C. Waggoner, general manager of the Salmon interests in Idaho, were in Hollister Wednesday on a visit to their various Idaho projects, stopping a short time at the company's headquarters here. Mr. Kuhn expressed his satisfaction with the conditions he finds on all of the projects and is well pleased with the progress made on the Salmon tract. "The crops are doing well, the settlers seem satisfied, and everywhere there is an air of prosperity pleasing to see," said Mr. Kuhn. Accompanying the party in a second automobile were F. C. Horn, chief engineer of construction on the Salmon project; P. S. A. Bickel, chief engineer of the original Twin Falls project; R. S. Buck, engineer conducting present investigations of the feasibility of the proposed Bruna project; Archibald Milner of Salt Lake City and L. W. Breckenridge of Twin Falls.

REASONS:

Subscriber and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1911, in and for _____ County. It is the intention of the Board to exempt entrymen from making final proof on their lands at this time, only upon the representation of extenuating circumstances. The original contract of reentry of _____ of _____ proof on Salmon lands before October 1, unless otherwise provided for, will not be evaded by a majority of entrymen, and their residence here this fall, clear up their lands and either put in crops of fall grain or complete preparations for beginning operations another season.

SALE OF LADIES' IMPORTED PURNIBINGS

The store room adjoining Varney's Candy store was rented some time ago by Mr. A. Gilbert for a party of ladies in the East who wished to open a line of fine ladies' fur-fishing goods. His business is so fixed that he cannot leave the East. Some goods arrived here which have to be disposed of quickly in order to rent the room. They are a few fine imported undergarments, tunics, trimmings, lace and gloves, dress and embroidered table cloths, dillies, etc. Also automatic, adjustable and non-adjustable dress forms for the seamstresses and ladies making their own dresses. These goods have to be sold right away to rent the room. Next to Varney's, Main street.

Salmon Tract Entrymen Arriving

Nearly every week at this season Twin Falls is filled with parties from the lands who are arriving enroute to their land on the Salmon tract. On Sunday of this week the following party arrived from Illinois: Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gray, Mrs. M. E. Allen, and sons, John and Sherman; Mr. Morrison; Mrs. C. Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton; of Lyndon; Louis and Oak Park; Gertrude and Smith; Sheldon; and Earl D. Smith, of Shelbyville.

A Committee Appointed

The local Odd Fellows are making arrangements for a big reception here, the Grand Lodge of Idaho, I. O. O. F., which will meet in this city next October. The following citizens have been appointed to arrange for the reception: O. A. Blalock, C. D. Thomas, W. McAttee, A. R. Ostrander and W. McDonald.

THE UNCLEAN DAIRY

Value of Co-operation Between Creamery Man and Patron. It is at this season of the year that the output of dairy products reaches its highest point. The good pastures, warm weather, and absence of flies, not only favors the production of a large quantity of milk but of good quality as well.

The causes of poor quality in dairy products have been discussed so much that one would think every creamery patron must be familiar with them. On the contrary, however, there are too few who understand the nature of the article they are handling.

Grading the cream at the creamery and paying according to quality will do much towards inducing the careless patron to be more careful to be at the creamery when the test is made and as they have no way of checking up the creamery's tests they feel that they are at the mercy of the creamery man who often gives rise to a feeling of distrust.

It is a mysterious process to many creamery patrons. They are unable to be at the creamery when the test is made and as they have no way of checking up the creamery's tests they feel that they are at the mercy of the creamery man who often gives rise to a feeling of distrust.

Will Conduct Hairdressing and Manicuring Parlors. The hairdressing parlors located in the rear rooms of the Twin Falls Floral Shop, and formerly conducted by Miss Goetz, who has left the city, has been reopened by Mrs. Edith M. Haggarty of this city.

LOS OF PLANT FOOD

A certain amount of plant food is removed from and restored to all cultivated soils. If as much is returned to a productive soil as is taken away, such a soil will never become exhausted. Therefore an especial consideration should be given to all phases of the subject that deals with the conservation of the plant food elements that are already in the soil.

In Idaho's irrigated districts the largest part of the plant food taken from the soil is removed by the growing crops, but the amount of valuable plant formation elements that are lost in waste and drainage water may not be inappreciable.

The results of some experiments, conducted at one of our leading experiment stations, located in a non-irrigated district, show that the drainage water carries away an average of 27.5 pounds of nitrogen per acre a year from the top twenty inches of soil. Although potash, phosphoric acid and lime are not dissolved from the soils as rapidly as nitrogen, it has been clearly shown that the amount of these elements in the drainage water is also considerable.

If these mineral plant foods are so easily detected in the drainage from lands watered only by rain, the loss on an irrigated farm, unless the water is carefully applied, will be considerably greater. If a large stream of water is allowed to run all night through short rows of vegetables and berries and for days over grain and alfalfa fields these elements that are assimilated by the growing plants will either be carried below the range of plant roots and lost in the underground drainage, or will be carried off in the waste ditch to enrich some farm further down the canal.

To reduce this leaching of the soil the irrigator should use a minimum of water to a minimum of water as far as possible excessive flooding, resulting in large streams of waste water, should be avoided.

THE ROBBER COW

The greatest source of loss in the dairy industry is the feeding of unprofitable cows. Estimates show that one-third of the cows used for dairying in the United States are kept at an actual loss.

The dairy cow is a machine for the express purpose of manufacturing milk and manufacturing it at a profit. The instant she fails to make up this profit is the time to get rid of her. The dairyman cannot afford to keep a cow at the expense of the rest of the herd.

The production of a cow above a certain standard constitutes the profit. The fact that a cow gives 4000 pounds of milk a year is no indication that she is four-fifths as good as a 5000-pound cow, or two-thirds as good as the one that produces 6000 pounds of milk a year.

In a herd of milkers one cow of No. 4's type would be as profitable to the owner as four cows similar to No. 2, as the operating expense in both instances are approximately the same. It costs practically as much to keep No. 2 as No. 4, and requires four times as much labor to produce the same profit.

The incredible conditions exist as before stated that one-third of the dairy cows in this country are kept at actual loss. They do not even pay operating expenses. How long can the farmer afford to spend $25 feeding and caring for an animal and get only $20 in return?

CHAPTER V.

QUINN thought, came to Pellman. He had been in the city for some time, but he had not been able to get a few ounces of brain that had built up the most colossal fortune in the world, that had subjected to its will the destinies not only of the 100,000 human beings directly or indirectly employed by him, but now in this extremity the destinies of 50,000,000 of people. Pellman was far-seeing. If this calamity could not be averted, it would be likely to be fatal to the world. And one man could do this very day make or mar fortunes, promote or destroy commerce, prolong or end lives. And one man could do it! It was too much power.

"Breed!" commanded Pellman abruptly. The owner of countless millions looked around at him almost vacantly, but before he could reply, had he been minded to do so, a tall, gaunt man with protruding cheek bones and brilliant red hair and a drooping mustache came in with a slip of yellow paper in his hand. He glanced at Pellman inquiringly, and a gleam of recognition flashed upon his countenance, although Pellman could have sworn that he had never seen the man before. For only an instant the man's gaze swept Pellman. Then he advanced to Breed.

"A wireless for you, sir," said he in a voice of so deep a range that it seemed to jar all the air in the room into quivering.

Breed glanced at the message almost indifferently and handed it back. "Tell him that there is to be no compromise with that firm, Blagg," he directed.

The wireless operator smiled grimly and turned away. As he started out the door the young woman Pellman had seen in the hall came in, accompanied by an elder woman. Pellman saw Blagg's eyes flame as they rested on the girl, and the man turned to look after her to the last as she closed the door.

The elder woman was rather stout, with her head thrown back in a general attitude of contempt. Pellman regarded her vaguely as a Mrs. Henssler, one of the long since impoverished exclusives of old Manhattan, but still a power in the inner circles, and he idly wondered what she could be doing here. The girl came and stood behind the man, her hand resting lightly upon his shoulder, and stared at Pellman with frank impertinence. Her attitude suggested that "Breed" had said something to her.

"You have come to the front and helped to smooth things out. Once you even saved the government. Now you have a worse condition than any that has ever confronted us. The whole country is a mess. The Stock Exchange will be swept out of existence before the week's end. There will be more bank failures than have ever occurred in the United States in any one year. Breed, you must do something, or we are going away from here until you do. Call on your absurd cash grain, announce it to the public and go with us to bolster up the market."

Breed looked around him slowly, and his eye caught that of Dr. Zephan. "The man away," said he. "I am tired, I'll leave."

Zephan stepped immediately to his side, took his arm and started toward the door, on the other side of the fireplace, the girl supporting his other arm.

"Wait!" almost shrieked Pellman. "You are to do all that you cannot talk this matter over. You were well enough just now to put the screws on some concern utterly enough to be under your thumb. Listen to me!" Breed only hastened his shuffling footsteps. Pellman strode after them, but just as they reached the door Dr. Zephan opened it and they stepped back at Pellman a glance of detestation from her dark eyes. She took Breed into the room beyond, and as the door closed behind her she laughed an insolent laugh of amusement.

friends of influence. Two days before he could have secured almost unlimited backing for no one had money, and there was no such thing in existence as a negotiable security. Only one thing could help him—a restoration of the public confidence and a consequent immediate recovery in the price of stocks; and this only one thing could bring about—an announcement by Breed that no more cash would be withdrawn from circulation, and that some of that already retired would be put back into the active channels of trade. He hurried over to the New Jersey office of the United Trust company. He found Ashburn in his private office, watching the ticker board with much interest, but before they had even exchanged greetings he himself hurried to the tape and read with his own eyes the appalling result of the devastation that had occurred within the last hour. Pellman was a heavy holder of Northern Pacific, and as his eyes glanced over the tape it ticked off the latest quotation on that stock at a price so absurdly low that he felt as if he had stepped across the white rabbit.

"You people are responsible for this!" "Pretty clever work," commented Ashburn. "Three months ago I began selling short and now I am closing everything. I found Ashburn in his private office, watching the ticker board with much interest, but before they had even exchanged greetings he himself hurried to the tape and read with his own eyes the appalling result of the devastation that had occurred within the last hour. Pellman was a heavy holder of Northern Pacific, and as his eyes glanced over the tape it ticked off the latest quotation on that stock at a price so absurdly low that he felt as if he had stepped across the white rabbit.

A long sentence was being spelled out on the tape: "Wilson & Woodruff admit bankruptcy." "It is beginning already," said Ashburn. He looked up at Pellman. The face of the latter had turned suddenly to a ghastly greenish pallor. "What's the matter?" Ashburn asked.

"Wilson & Woodruff," gasped Pellman, "are bound up with them, owing to some recent deal, like diamond twins." Pellman's hands were nervously groping from pocket to pocket.

"I was afraid of it," he said humbly, then suddenly dared out again. "You fellows have done this. I tell you!" "No doubt we precipitated the break at this particular moment," agreed Ashburn, "but you and your kind are responsible for the break. It was bound to come, for Wall street is diseased. This thing will turn out right, Pellman. In the end you will find it to have been good medicine for business at large."

"I don't know," said Ashburn calmly. "Orders do not come directly from me. They merely go through me." "They come from Forest Lakes," asserted Pellman. Ashburn only smiled.

"You're actually gloating over it!" charged Pellman, white with anger. "The whole thing is a carefully made panic by which Breed and you head bakers of his profit. Well, there are ways to make you do something, and I intend to evoke them." Ashburn shrugged his shoulders. "Go ahead and evoke," he invited. "In the meantime I would like to call your attention to the beautiful little fact that I have personally cleaned up over $1,000,000 in the past week, and I stand to make another handsome profit if all your manipulations don't go to pieces before I can collect it."

Pellman returned again and again to the attack, but finally was compelled to give up in despair. As he walked away he was impeded by two men carrying an iron bound wooden packing case, and his eye mechanically noticed that there was a cut in the edge of one of the sheet iron bands, the point of this cut turning up in an ugly fashion. He called up Henry Gallean to find out the status of his affairs there. Mr. Gallean was very cold about it. "I must have more margin at once to protect your investment," he declared. "Your balance with me is now less than $50,000, and it will be wiped out in an hour unless you send me a check."

"Who is my principal creditor?" asked Pellman. "Young Kelvin. He has been buying outright all day and demanding absolute delivery of stock. I think it is his intention to force delivery upon all purchasers to whom he has previously sold."

"Where is he to be found?" "In his apartments at the Esplanade," replied Gallean. Pellman hung up the receiver and hurried over to the apartments of young Kelvin. He found Phillip checking off certain items from a thick pile of memorandums slips. Seen here, he suddenly looked up. Pellman had given him credit only for youth and consequent impertinence. He moistened his lips before he spoke. "I understand you sold me 10,000 shares of N. P.," he said.

Kelvin consulted a card index and looked at his watch. "Let me close the door; let me give you my note for the differences between selling price and present market price, you to hold the stock as security."

"I can't possibly do it," said Pellman. "I can't possibly do anything else," replied Phillip, dryly. "I can't possibly do anything else," replied Phillip, dryly. "I can't possibly do anything else," replied Phillip, dryly.

A NOBLE RECORD

Of many hundreds of thousands of cures forms a well sustained basis for every claim put forth by the makers of Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY as a remedy for many of the troublesome affections which afflict mankind; yet it is not extolled as a "cure-all" by any means. No extravagant promises are flaunted before the public to arouse false hopes in the afflicted. Your neighbors probably know of some of its many cures; ask them.

Through strengthening and arousing the stomach, liver and bowels into vigorous action, digestion is promoted, whereby the blood is enriched and purified; disease-producing bacteria destroyed and expelled from the body, and thus a long list of acute, nervous and kindred affections are overcome and sound, vigorous health established.

The "Discovery" contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs, and has its every ingredient printed on its wrappers. This OPEN PUBLICITY places it in a class distinct from the ordinary secret nostrums with which it has no relationship. Physicians, therefore, do not hesitate to prescribe it in bad cases of indigestion, torpid liver or biliousness and in skin and blood affections. People of intelligence and keen discernment employ it. The "Discovery" is a purgative glyceric extract of native medicinal roots of great curative potency, and can in no case do harm to either child or adult. The aged find it a great invigorator. # SOCIETY

An Evening Party.
A delightful evening party of this week was given on Monday evening by Mrs. and Mrs. E. J. Lavington. Seventh avenue, complimentary to Mrs. Lavington's sister, Mrs. M. A. Roberts of Caldwell, who is visiting here. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing progressive 600. Mrs. C. B. Chappel and Mrs. W. S. Oakley receiving the prizes for the highest score, and Mrs. Roberts the guests' prize. The house was prettily adorned with sweet peas and other garden flowers. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames A. D. Fisher, E. J. Hartigan and W. E. Hill. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames H. W. Clouchek, J. J. Costello, H. O. Milner, A. Fisher, C. B. Chappel, F. T. Mitchell, F. L. Nicol, W. S. Oakley, W. S. Hill, W. Wood, E. White, A. E. Senior, O. A. Stalker, L. T. Wright, Mrs. A. E. Gross, Miss Fisher, Mr. Bedford.

Entertained at Dinner.
Mr. Curtis Turned entertained a few friends at a seven o'clock dinner at his home Monday evening, the occasion being in honor of his birthday. The table was very prettily decorated with sweet peas, and covers were laid for six, the guests being the Misses Willie Turner, Florence Costello, Martha Taylor and the Mrs. Curtis Turner, Wilton Peck, Harry Eaton.

Entertain Club.
Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hamilton entertained the Keystone of Deschamps club at their home, Seventh avenue east, last Friday evening. This event was the regular monthly social gathering of the club and it proved the largest of any previous gathering in number of members present, there being sixty in attendance. The party lawn was brilliantly lighted with fountains of electric lights in the radiance of which the guests enjoyed various entertainments. Indoor music was enjoyed. Miss Coombs and Mr. Pooler singing solos and Mrs. Regan and Mr. Meroch rendering piano selections. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening, by the hostess.

A Dinner Party.
Miss Faith Gamble entertained a few friends at a delightful dinner party Monday evening at Miss Bittanbender of Nebraska. A most pleasant evening was spent with music, Miss Bittanbender singing several pleasing solos. The guests: Misses Ruth Stafford, Faith Gamble, Beth Gistison, Miss Bittanbender of Nebraska and Mrs. D. F. Sweet of Wynot, Nebraska, and Mesdames Harrington, Mills, Sam and Max Gamble.

Picnic on Sandbar.
One of the jolliest and most unique events of the week was enjoyed by a small party on Monday evening. They left Twin Falls early in the evening and drove to Shoshone Falls on a large sand-bar in the middle of the river below the falls, they built a big bonfire of drift wood and prepared supper. Following the picnic spread the remainder of the evening was spent round the bright fire, telling stories and singing, while the balls roared near by the waves lapped the sandbar. Those who enjoyed the campfire party were Misses Lulu Reed, Edna Dawes, Elsie Mann, Jessalyn Harrington and Virginia Lynch of New York, Mrs. John Dierkes, A. Kingswold.

Both Hamilton Entertains.
A delightful evening party of last week was that given by Miss Beth Hamilton on Saturday evening. Progressive games of various kinds made the evening pass most pleasantly, and Georgia Bittanbender was the prize of the evening. The guests of the afternoon were: Misses Grace Orne Pitarin, Helen Pitarin, Emil Elstad, Gladys Ewila, Gladys Glandon, Ruth Stafford, Faith Gamble, Georgia Maxwell, Emma Thomas, Edith Youngs, Jean McMillan, Alma Benoit, Dorothy West, Miss Ruth Salloe of American Falls, Miss Olive of Los Angeles, California; Messrs. Wolts, Eady, Abrecht, Pooler, Mills, Gamble, Stafford, Green, Keyon Green, Bette Mann, DeWitt, Fowler, Smith, Ashton, Gourley, McCarroll, James Shields.

One O'clock Luncheon.
Miss Beth Hamilton was hostess to a number of friends at a most enjoyable one o'clock luncheon. Presided as a courtesy to Mrs. D. F. Sweet of Wynot, Nebraska. Each of the four tables was tastefully adorned with garden flowers and collars in pink, green, lavender and red. The guests of the afternoon were: Misses Grace Bryant, Ruth and Genevieve Stafford, Elsie Mann, Edith Youngs, Beth and Edna Glenn, Sarah and Mary Ralston, Mary Davis, Coombs, Faith Gamble, Fox, Jane Maxwell, Miss Higbee (Keweenaw), Mrs. Bennett; Misses Lancelot of Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania.

Kensington in Park.
The Misses Shields and Clawson entertained the S. B. Embroidery club Wednesday afternoon at a delightful party. A corner made cosy with settees and sofa pillows was arranged in the shade of the band stand where a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The guests were: Misses O. Anderson, A. Anderson, Brunk, Siggins, Ada Clawson, Leah Woods, and Mrs. Ralph S. Leighton.

Entertained at Breakfast.
Miss Edith Elliott was the hostess to a few young lady friends on Friday morning at a delightful breakfast. The honor of her visiting friend, Miss Ruth Salloe, of American Falls. The table was very prettily decorated for the occasion with pink and white sweet peas. The following young ladies were present at the breakfast: Misses Ruth Salloe, Eugenia Hall, Alline Graham, Burd Wall, Lesley Williams.

Birthday Anniversary.
An enjoyable social event of last week was the party given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wood, the occasion being in celebration of

Mr. Wood's thirty-eighth birthday. The playing of 600 furnished entertainment for the evening. The prizes being won by Mrs. Fred L. Evans and Mrs. H. O. Milner. The hostess assisted in serving by Mrs. W. S. Oakley and Mrs. H. O. Milner. The guests of the occasion were: Messrs. and Mesdames John Cooley, F. T. Cooley, B. F. Hamilton, C. B. Chappel, M. W. Kunkley, W. S. Hill, H. O. Milner, G. F. Baker, F. L. Evans, P. T. Mitchell, J. E. Hartigan, W. S. Oakley, W. F. Fox, A. E. Senior, Ruth Salloe, White, and Mrs. and Mrs. J. A. Malone.

A Lawn Social.
On Friday evening the Misses Umphrey entertained a large number of their friends at their home southeast of Piler. The occasion was in the nature of a lawn social and a jolly day was spent in out-door amusements, at the close of which bountiful refreshments were served.

Complimentary Breakfast.
Mrs. D. F. Sweet of Nebraska, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Gamble, was the guest of honor at a delightful breakfast given by Mrs. H. J. Wall, on Thursday morning. The little tables which the guests were seated were prettily adorned with a centerpiece of pink and white sweet peas. The guests found places by discovering the proper tag for or a Misses with which she was presented, and this plan proved interesting and unique and not a little difficult. In the guessing contest which followed the breakfast Sweet won the prize—a pretty vase. The guests present were: Mesdames Taylor, Hill, Craven, and Sweet, and Misses Bryant, Coombs, Crockett, Edna Young, W. S. Fox, Hamilton, Lance, Gamble, McHester, Neilson, Jane, and Georgia Maxwell, and Miss Salloe of American Falls.

Lawn Party.
A lawn party that was much enjoyed by the guests was that given on Friday evening by the Misses Nolly and Abbie Moseman at their home on west Main. The enjoyment of the evening began when each guest was furnished with a dainty cloth bag containing a card and a pencil for answering any question directly a bean was forfeited. A lively time the one securing the most beans retaining original pairs. Out door games were followed by the serving of refreshments. The guests were: Misses Caroline Hanson, Bertie Pink, Wanda Hoag, Sadie and Ethel Clark, Mrs. J. G. Goodrich, Beatrice Rybnart, Violet Boone, Nola Baker, Rebecca Crom, Messrs. Rolie Carter, Glen Thompson, Claude McKelwait, W. D. Kelly, Arvan Bonard, Lewis Rawlins, Harry Soels, Jerry Siggins, Howard Wertenbaugh.

Entertain Informally.
Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Farrot very pleasantly entertained a few friends informally at their home on Eighth avenue east, Thursday evening in honor of their visiting guests, Mrs. M. H. H. Hickling, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kingsbury, Mrs. A. H. Stewart, W. H. Budd Leitch, Leslie Hicking.

Entertain at 600.
The Misses Fern and Florence Costello entertained ten girls of the younger social set at their home on Second avenue west, Thursday evening. The evening was happily spent in playing 600, prizes being won by Mary Milner and Margaret Wilson. After the games refreshments were served by the hostesses. The young people were: Misses Mary Milner, Burd Wall, Alline Graham, Lesley Williams, Helen Oakley, Beatrice Ostrander, Harriet Warren, Edna Turner, Margaret Wilson, Eugenia Hall.

A Tree Party.
Mrs. A. D. McKinlay was hostess at a neighborhood party given Tuesday afternoon as a farewell to Mr. Sarah Mitchell, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nixon, during the past two months. A chief feature of the afternoon was unique, being designated as a tree party. The idea was carried out through the prevailing color being green, the place cards, decorations, leaves and the refreshments from various trees, even the sandwiches being made of nuts. A guessing game, which engaged the attention of the guests, caused them to wonder that their knowledge of trees was so limited, for with the leaves placed before them, it was found difficult to associate them with the tree to which they belonged. Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Fred Evans proved themselves most apt and were a tie for the prize (a beautiful plant) at a later being consulted on carrying it away. The consolation prize was won by Miss Dodge. Not a feature which could add to the completeness of the afternoon had been omitted by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. George Erhardt, who assisted in receiving and serving.
