POWER EXTENSION PROGRAM OF KUBNS

SOUTHERN IDAHO TO BE SCENE OF VAST DEVELOPMENT Construction of Lines Westward from Twin Falls Means Irrigation by Pumps of Many Thousands of Acres...

In an interview given by Attorney S. H. Hays, the publication of which was authorized in Boise yesterday, an announcement was made of the plans of the Kubns of Pittsburgh, which bars the full significance of the recent visit of W. R. Kubns and J. H. Purdy to Twin Falls and other places in Idaho.

The conditions of the Java restaurant were said by the officer to be among the worst encountered, but the firm was closed for a week by the fine of $500 recommended by Mr. Parker.

Important Effect Upon Twin Falls. This public statement is regarded as the most far-reaching in its important effect upon Boise of any ever issued in the Capital City, but the benefit to be derived by Twin Falls of an intercity railway system, in any other municipality in Idaho, is as much as the Magic city, which is the center of operations for this tremendous program.

Total of 300 Miles. The lines are now approximately 150 miles long. Construction is going forward as rapidly as men and money can be had. The total length of new line will be added soon, making a total of 300 miles of line.

Heavy Horsespower Possible. The hydraulic development at Shoshone falls is 10,000 horsepower; at Snake Falls, 100,000 and 150 miles of power, and current is now being furnished to the Twin Falls country from both of these plants.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE WORLD

FINAL IRRIGATION BEGINS SATURDAY

TEN DAYS' DELIVERY IN SALMON SYSTEM.

Fulllest Advantage of Delivery Should Be Taken by Settlers in Irrigating Crops and Filling Cisterns—Settlers Continue Installing Headgates.

Announcement was made Tuesday by E. B. Darlington, chief engineer and water master of the system, that the beginning of the third and final delivery of irrigation water on the Salmon tract this season. The delivery will begin about next Saturday, August 12, and will continue for a week or ten days, and its completion will have exhausted, it is presumed, all of the available water supply collected during the season. It is very important, therefore, that arrangements be made by settlers to employ this water to the best advantage possible in the way of filling cisterns in the way of water for domestic use, and in irrigating such crops as require it at this time.

About 3000 acres of land will be served by this delivery, an amount equal to half the acreage covered by the second delivery. The discrepancy is occasioned by the removal of many of the larger crops of grain. Only late planted grains, alfalfa or fruit trees will need irrigation at this time. The advisability of providing periodical deliveries of water during the winter season to keep cisterns for domestic water supply filled has been referred to the authorities of the irrigation company, and while as yet no action has been taken by them, it is anticipated that a favorable result will be obtained, and a portion of the autumn run-off delivered to the settlers for this purpose.

In anticipation of this water delivery, a number of settlers have recently begun installing headgates preparatory to beginning at this time the first irrigation on their Salmon lands. During the past fortnight water has been cut out by Wm. B. Schermerhorn, Harry E. Kemp, Lucia M. Carter, George Baxter, A. B. Moorman, Perry A. Lint, Richard Woodruff, Neil Bonar, Vma Wilkinson, H. W. Cloucheck, J. F. Cloucheck, J. C. Minor, Halvor Overjord. Records kept at the company's headquarters in Hollister show the total of 127 headgates have been installed up to this time by settlers this year on the tract.

RANCHER RECOVERS HORSES

Dick Gray Finds Stock in Laramie—Thieves to Be Returned.

Salt Lake, Aug. 6.—The car of 23 stolen horses shipped out of Wendover for Grand Island, Nev., Aug. 1, was stopped at Laramie, Wyo., yesterday and Roy Armstrong, believed to be the accomplice of a gang of stock thieves and another man, whose true name has not been definitely known, were arrested.

Through brands and other shipping markings, 10 of the horses were identified as those stolen from the ranch of Dick Gray, ranchman of Rabbit creek, Twin Falls county, Idaho, several weeks ago. Gray came to Salt Lake and entered into a conference with Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp and Sheriff M. M. Dash of Toole county. He left Salt Lake for Laramie to claim his horses.
Sheriff H. C. Vanuoladen of Twin Falls county telegraphed the sheriff in Salt Lake that he was making arrangements to have Armstrong and his accomplice returned to Idaho.
The horses in the car stopped at Laramie, and which have not been identified by Gray are said to have been stolen from ranches in western Boxelder county.

JAP PLEASUED WITH RECEPTION

Admiral Togo Praised Hospitality of American People.

Washington, Aug. 7.—A brief speech, the first he has delivered in this country, was made by Admiral Count Togo before the National Press club of Washington tonight at the close of a strenuous day's program. Following his visit to the navy academy at Annapolis, the Japanese visitor was the guest of Senator Knox at a banquet at the Pan-American union building. Later he was given a reception by the newspapermen.

The admiral spoke in Japanese, his remarks being interpreted by Lieutenant Commander Taniguchi, his naval aide.

"Since my arrival in this country the president of this great republic has received with the greatest honor and hospitality, your government has extended to me innumerable courtesies and your fellow citizens have given the most hearty welcome. Following this visit to the navy academy I am entitled to and I take them as meant toward my august sovereign and his subjects. Nothing pleases me more than to take home the most happy remembrances of my visit to the United States."

DEATH ROAD INFERIOR.

Jarbridge Freighters Prefer Route for Easter Haul from Idaho.

That the Death road recently completed from the Nevada town into the Jarbridge mining district will not seriously affect the trade from the Twin Falls country is the opinion of numerous Jarbridge carriers, who while stopping in Hollister. While affording a good road into Jarbridge, the Death road is built on a continuous grade expensive of time and energy in making the trip, and it is presumed that drifts of snow will render the road impassable for more than six months each year. Several freighters who at first had planned the road from Twin Falls to the completion of the Death road have resumed the former route as the most desirable one, and the elimination of Jack Hole grade on the Twin Falls road now being effected will constitute a direct and easy route into the district which will favorably affect the trade relations with the Idaho points. The early establishment of telephone connection between Jarbridge and the Death road will also influence trade toward the latter point.—Hollister Herald.

WESTERN RAILWAYS FACE BIG STRIKE

EMPLOYEES MAKE DEMANDS WHICH WILL BE REFUSED

Workers Want Conditions Changed Which Officials Say Will Mean Additional Burden of $50,000,000 a Year Upon Companies.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—That the railroads of the west are threatened with a general strike was indicated here tonight by statements of Julius Kruttschnitt, vice president of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific roads. According to his statement, unions have presented demands that would mean an additional burden of $50,000,000 a year to the western roads.

Employees of the railroad shops, including blacksmiths, car workers, iron molders, machinists and pattern makers are said to have presented demands calling for a strict enforcement of the eight-hour day, employment of union foremen exclusively, various changes in working conditions and more pay.

It is said that the roads have agreed to inform the men their demands would not be granted.
"The railroads are paying top-notch wages now," said Mr. Kruttschnitt, and the demands that have been made are unreasonable. I am merely guessing, but I say the plans the unions have mapped out would mean an additional burden of $50,000,000 a year to the roads, but it is certain the additional expense would be large."

POWER PROVIDED FOR PUMP

Pumping Plant Will Furnish Water to High Lands This Week.

Hollister, Idaho, August 8.—To stall the electrical connection between the local station and the pumping plant to reclaim high lands south of Hollister, O. L. Hennah and a force of fifteen men were dispatched to this place Monday by the Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Light and Power company. A contract of poles to be used in constructing the connecting line was received in Hollister last evening. Another generator is being installed by the company at Lower Salmon Falls to provide for the increased demand for power. The work will be completed in time to start the water on the third irrigation delivery beginning Saturday.

ROAD DISTRICT ENLARGED.

Overseer Heck Notified of Addition of Rogerson to District 15.

Road Overseer I. E. Heck received advice Saturday from the Board of County Commissioners of the addition of the township including the township of Rogerson to road district 15, over which he has supervision. This addition will bring the total number of townships on the Salmon tract wholly or in part included in road district 15 up to a total of nine, and includes a greater portion of the Salmon tract. Mr. Heck has been instructed by the commissioners to report to them such road improvements in the way of bridges, etc., as may be needed in the district, and immediate attention of the board to these matters has been promised.

DESTROYING GOD'S WORD

Jeremiah 36—Aug. 18.

"The Word of our God shall stand forever."—Isaiah 40:8.

The Prophet Jeremiah was shut up in prison. The disaster upon the king, had to some extent, awakened the people to a slight repentance in which the king joined, yet it was a repentance of fear rather than heart repentance. The king had comely against Jeremiah because the Divine message came through him. He seems to have hoped to restrain the Prophet from further proclamation of the coming trouble through fear. However, the Lord directed the Prophet to write out all of his prophecies on a scroll, after the ancient style, in columns. Jeremiah dictated and Baruch served him as amanuensis.

By the Lord's direction this book of Jeremiah was to be read to all the people, in the temple, on the occasion of a general gathering for worship and repentance. Since the Prophet himself could not go, he directed Baruch, who took the scroll and read it in the hearing of the people. Its prophecies of dire disaster made a deep impression on the hearts of the people. They were deeply impressed and concluded that it should be brought before the king. But meantime Baruch and Jeremiah were hidden in the probability of the king's displeasure being great.

Hearing of the manuscript, the king was anxious to have it read before him by the scribe. During the reading, after two or three columns of the manuscript were read, the king cut them off with a pen knife and threw them into the fire—until the entire manuscript was heard and destroyed. By the Lord's direction Jeremiah dictated his prophecies afresh. Baruch again acted as amanuensis. The new transcription was made still more complete than the former. Amongst other things included the Divine edict that none of Jehoiakim's posterity should ever sit upon the throne of David.

God's Word Indestructible.

Thomas Paine, Voltaire, and Jager-soll imagined that they had made the Word of God to appear so ridiculous that it would never have any influence amongst men. Robert Ingersoll is quoted as having said, "In ten years the Bible will not be read." How little the poor man knew on the subject.

The frontpiece of a well known Weycliffe Bible pictures Satan and others, religious and irreligious, blowing with all their might to put out the light. In proportion as they exhausted their energy the light burned the more brightly.

A story is told respecting the Tyndale Bible which illustrates the point we are making, namely, the impossibility of extinguishing God's Word. Tyndale, while at the university of Cambridge, England, devoted much of his life energy to the translation of the Bible. He remarked to an opponent, "If God spare my life, many years I will cause a boy that driveth the plow to know more of the Scriptures than thou dost."

Tyndale's project of publishing the Bible in the English language was so seriously opposed in England that he removed to German cities and, in the year 1525 A. D., his translation of the New Testament was issued. Copies of it poured into England. The Bishop of London was so opposed that he collected and burned as many copies as he could, at St. Paul's Cross in London. Yet more copies came. He could not destroy them. The Bishop collected monies wherewith to buy up the whole edition. The purchase was entrusted to a merchant named Parkington, who went to Germany and purchased the books. Addressing Tyndale, he said: "William, I know thou art a poor man and hast a heap of New Testaments and books by thee, and I have now gotten a merchant which will ready money will buy all thou hast." Tyndale inquired, "Who is this merchant?" Mr. Parkington answered, "The Bishop of London." "Oh!" said Tyndale, "that is because he will burn them." "Yes, he will," said Parkington. Tyndale was glad because thus he could get out of debt and be said, "The world will cry out against the burning of God's Word." The money, from the same enabled Tyndale to get a new edition, with errors corrected and much better than the one that Better Interpretations Opposed. Although we have passed the day when any would attempt to destroy the Bible, we have not passed the day of opposition to the truth. Satan would fain have the people of God worship him book rather than study and appreciate its contents. In consequence, not a few are opposing the light that is now shining from the Word of God—discussing to us the fact that much that came down to us from the Dark Ages is contrary to the Bible as well as to reason. Many of the professed teachers of the church are heartily opposed to Bible study, although their opposition is advanced as cautiously as possible "for fear of the people."

As the time of natural Israel's visitation was a time of darkness, so the time of spiritual Israel's visitation is at the Second Advent. As natural Israel stumbled and was blinded and failed to see the light, so the blessing, so will it be with spiritual Israel. Thus it is written, "He shall be for a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence to both houses of Israel." As with the Jews (ever "raile indeed" in whom was no guile, was specially blessed and kept and saved; so it will be here. All others will stumble and, as it is written, "A thousand shall fall at thy right side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nigh thee. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked" (Psalm xc, 7, 8).

Scripture truth is a scarce commodity at the present time. The world is full of error and sin and unrighteousness. The Lord's disciples must so love truth and righteousness as to have their eyes fixed for it. To such spiritual food will be granted. Truth will be dispensed to them as "meat in due season."

The Scriptures from first to last give us to understand that God's Word is to shine more and more brightly down to every end of this Gospel Age. St. Peter declares that, "His more sure Word of prophecy, to which we do well that we take heed, as to a light shining in a dark place until the Day dawn and the Day Star arise in your hearts" (II Peter 1:19).

The Bible of London opposed the Tyndale translation because the practices of the time were not in harmony with the Scriptures. Similarly, today, there are doctrines, traditions, creeds from the Dark Ages still revered, and which a better understanding of the Bible would correct and put to shame. Hence the opposition to the better understanding of God's Word. Nevertheless, the Word of God shall stand forever, and the spirit of the truth shall make free all the children of the truth.

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again. The eternal years of God are ours."

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and excretive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. See so. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHILE AT IT

The installation of a public drinking fountain of the sanitary type at the municipal well is a most commendable proposal and it is hoped that each action will be taken, in as much as the chained cup is under the ban of existing statutes, and properly so. The well has been almost a Godsend at times to the people of the city of Twin Falls. But there is one more step, not under contemplation, which the News desires to suggest that would manifest its benefits and extend them to the farmers of the country, which is the installation also of a watering trough for horses. No argument is necessary when this delicacy is considered. The matter perhaps, is not of tremendous importance, but it is well worth the editorial space devoted to it.

AN INSPECTOR ALL OUR OWN

The recent visitation of Deputy State Sanitary Inspector Parker upon the unclean business establishments of Twin Falls has exposed a source of surprise to even the officialdom of the Magic City. Twin Falls has no adequate ordinances governing sanitary conditions. True, there is a health officer, but his limitations are greater than his duties. It would be well to prepare and enact a code of cleanliness, and then empower someone to enforce it. Plumbing Inspector Whittour has been left on guard over the complaints filed by the state officer, and his appointment by the state board of health as a permanent deputy for Twin Falls county would be more than justified by the importance of the mission attached to that place. Even those affected, by recent orders to wash themselves admit that the process is beneficial and regret that a more constant supervision is not maintained.

SOCIETY

Wedding Party at Falls. A unique outing party given last week by a coterie of Shoshone young folks in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Alton, of Denver, Colorado. The couple were on their wedding tour, and while visiting the ruins at Shoshone it was suggested that a trip be made to Shoshone falls to show them nature's greatest wonder. The news of their coming was telegraphed to the hotel at the falls, and when the crowd arrived they found flags and bunting galore, and an immense banquet. "Welcome to Denver's Newly Wedded." After dinner at the hotel, the party was escorted to the rocks in the bed of the river just above the falls, where they were shown the curious formations caused by the water that had rushed so tumultuously over them in the years gone by. Circular openings in the rocks revealed holes of unknown depth, solving in a way the mystery of the whirlpools that are in evidence when the water is high. The giant cliffs with their many curious formations, were interesting and awesome, resembling the ruins of ancient Rome. After exploring until darkness overtook them the party was conducted to a large table rock where a supply of firewood had been provided and soon a huge bonfire cast weird shadows over the surrounding cliffs. The roar of the falls a few feet beyond added to the impressiveness of the scene. When the camp fire died down, marshmallows were brought out, each member of the party was given a long pointed stick, and permitted to toast his share. While the marshmallows were being toasted, songs were sung, stories told, and frightened glances occasionally cast over shoulders to see if any Indians or grizzlies were lurking in the shadows. Shortly after midnight the party returned to the hotel, tired and happy, and were soon in bed where they were lulled to slumber by the roar of the falls, the cool night breeze coming down the canyon adding the proper tonic for sound sleep. The return journey to Shoshone was made the following forenoon, and the newly married pair continued their journey to Seattle the same day. Mr. Alton is principal of the Commercial department of the Denver Business college, and will resume his work there next month after touring the Pacific Northwest with his bride.

Kidney Troubles Attack Twin Falls Men and Women, Old and Young

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quick with little warning. Children suffer in their early years. Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys. Have brought relief to Twin Falls people.

Twin Falls testimony proves it. Mrs. G. W. Rees, Main Ave., Twin Falls, Idaho, says: "Last winter I became afflicted with kidney trouble and I suffered greatly from pains in my back and difficulty with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me at that time and I procured a supply at the City Pharmacy. They took effect on my system at once and continued to drive away all my aches and pains. I think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and in view of my experience, I am able to recommend them."

Home Again--Here I Am

Never so glad to get back home in my life. When you travel through the sun scorched East with its withered fields and come into this Heaven Blest Eden you truthfully exclaim "God's Country!" Now I'm digging up every item in summer goods in the store, and marking it way down, in many lines less than cost and I'm hustling them off. Anybody who can use anything in these lines can certainly save money. I've a reason. When East I got the cream of the market in fall goods and they will soon be in and I don't want a thing left of summer stocks. I got the best line of Coats and Suits you ever saw and I'll surprise the natives in value giving. The dresses are wonders in style and price. My trimmer writes me she's coming with the real things in millinery. I only have two summer hats left. That's going some and we'll go some for fall, too.

We've sold over half the Fall Hats she sent by express. Get some of the summer bargains and wait for my fall lines.

Our business is increasing so rapidly that it taxes us to the utmost to keep up with it. The new location will give us much larger salesrooms and we expect to fully meet the demands of the trade at all times.

J. A. SNYDER'S PREPARATIONS FOR ANOTHER PRIZE

WINNER OF BURLEY POTATO CONTEST IS NOW GROWING SPUDS FOR THE NEW YORK EXHIBITION

Because J. A. Snyder won the Burley potato prize contest of $500 for his latest potatoes, he is naturally anxious to enter exhibits in the American Land & Irrigation Exposition to be held in New York this fall. He is by no means confident of the result.

"I have planted some grain and potatoes," said Mr. Snyder, "with an eye toward the exhibition, but it is impossible to tell whether or not they will be good enough for exhibition purposes. If they will make a creditable showing when the time arrives I will enter them; not with the expectation of and the stand is excellent. It is not so far developed yet as it is of different proportions, but at the present time it does not seem possible that there could be a better prospect.

New Apple Being Tried.

In the Snyder orchard is something of a curiosity. A portion of it is planted to what is known as the "Minkler" apple, which is more or less of a stranger in this section. In point of color and flavor the Minkler is about the same as the Jonathan, and the color is the same, except that the Minkler is covered with tiny white extremely healthy condition. It is but five years from cash brush, and no effort is made to force bearing as yet, but it will yield considerable fruit this season.

Many Different Varieties.

On the home ranch Mr. Snyder is growing many potatoes of different varieties for seed. He is trying out a new variety known as the Sir Walter Raleigh, which originated in Wisconsin, and is of about the same type as the Idaho Blue. He also has a large acreage of the standard varieties, such as the Idaho Rural, the Royal White Peach Blow, Dalmeny Challenge and Dalmeny Beauties and Early Six Weeks.

Son Supplying Butte Market.

On the Bruce farm, one and one-half miles east on the Addison avenue road, W. L. Snyder, a son of L. A. Snyder, and to whom the latter gives the lion's share of the credit for his success, has a 40 acre field of commercial potatoes, from which he is at present engaged in filling a car for the Butte market. Eighteen tons of tubers it will take to meet this single order, and a gang of twelve men are hard at work digging, picking, sorting, sacking and hauling the potatoes to the siding. The Early Six Weeks and the Early Bureka are the varieties being harvested, and while it is not known exactly what the yield will be per acre as yet, it is said to be excellent, especially for early potatoes, which do not yield so heavily as the later varieties.

Winner of Prize Contest.

For the benefit of those who may not be familiar with the facts, it may be said that Mr. Snyder was the winner of the Burley potato prize contest for 1910—a check for $500 offered by D. E. Burley, general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line Railway company for the best acre of potatoes grown in the five northwestern states—Idaho, Utah, Montana, Wyoming, and Oregon. The varieties grown was Dalmeny Challenges, and the yield from the single acre was 38,685 pounds or 615 bushels.

A Prize Twin Falls Potato.

winning, as the competition will be very strong on account of the large number of entries which will be registered, but I want the people of the Far East to see what can be done in Idaho.

Field a Mass of Foliage.

Mr. Snyder planted a field of Dalmeny Challenges and Dalmeny Beauties, from which he will select plants of an acre in each field that will be surveyed later and entries made of each variety, providing they develop sufficiently to make an exhibit which will be a credit to Idaho. At the present time it looks as if there could be a little doubt of their being entered for competition. The tops have made such a growth that it is impossible to see the ground either between the rows or at any angle of vision. The field is simply one solid mass of green foliage. One of the singular features is that at the present time no potatoes are formed which are larger than English walnuts. However, Mr. Snyder explains that this is just as it should be; that the tubers will absorb the necessary elements from the tops and from the soil through the roots and be developed to the proper size and quality by the time they are ready for harvest.

Oats Stand Shoulder High.

Mr. Snyder makes no pretensions to being a grain farmer but he has a small field of oats and another of barley which he may enter. The seed he secured from the Agricultural College of the University of Idaho, as being the best for the purpose, and the growing crops seem to indicate that it will take nothing less than a marvel in the cereal line to beat them. The oats are shoulder high, as thick and heavy as they could possibly stand, and it seems to be simply a question of their filling properly with a good plump kernel.

Whatever roofing you are using on any building, you are paying the price of Ruberoid. There are 300 imitations of Ruberoid, and all of them cost more in the end than the genuine. Ruberoid was the first ready roofing and is the only one that has made good. It has made good because it is made of the best wool felt, impregnated with materials manufactured exclusively by the makers of Ruberoid and which cannot be found in any other roofing.

Three year old Jonathan apple tree in the Twin Falls country.

Three year old Rome Beauty apple tree in the Twin Falls country.

For FIFTY DOLLARS PER ACRE LESS than the present price of other orchard tracts in the GREATEST IRRIGATED EMPIRE OF THE WEST, and I will CARE FOR THE TREES FREE until 1915.

The Hardin Orchard Tracts

Ideal both as to soil and location, include 120 acres, 1 1-2 miles north of Filer, Idaho, viz., the east 1-2 of the northeast 1-4 and the northeast 1-4 of the southeast 1-4 of section 31, township 9, north of range 16, east of the Boise meridian. They have been surveyed into and the east 1-2 of each one has been set to fruit trees and the west 1-2 put in alfalfa. The trees were planted in the spring of 1911 and have made exceptional growth since.

They are in excellent condition now, owing to the expert care that has been given them, and I will agree to bring them to a bearing state, giving them professional supervision in return for what I can raise, until January 1, 1915. The value of the improvements already upon the land is $2,000. THE FRUIT SELECTED IS THE BEST ADAPTED TO THE IDAHO CLIMATE, and is mostly the commercial apple, consisting of the Jonathan, Rome Beauty, and Winesap varieties.

THE CASH INTRIGUE

CHAPTER VI.

As usual, it was the poor that suffered quickest and most. Phillip on a day especially prolific of new champagne food paupers was surprised to receive a visit from Elsie White. She was pale and nervous. Much worry had caused her to lose sleep.

"I have come to tell you my troubles, as I have always done," she said. "Let's hear all about it," invited Phillip cordially. "I don't think my little sister ever came to me in the old days that I didn't help her out of her difficulties if possible."

"Indeed, no," she said gratefully. "You were the finest sort of big brother." She lingered a trifle upon that word, unconsciously emphasizing it over so slightly. Phillip outwardly accepted the word as a pleasant expression of confidence. Inwardly he winced at it.

"Who has broken your doll this time?" he asked, with a smile. "It is worse than a broken doll," she said. "When you were in Hampton you spoke about securing employment for father."

"I have thought about it a great many times," Phillip replied. "But on the side of his trade he has so little adaptability that I could not think of a place for him."

Again Elsie clasped her hands and plunged her nails into her forehead. "He must be put to a position to earn some money. We are really in a desperate condition, Phillip. Yesterday we received notice that we must give up our home, and we must move out by Saturday. We shall lose our furniture at the same time. Until recently we had credit at the butcher's and the grocer's, but that has been cut off. Grace's husband is wandering somewhere out west penniless and hunting for work, and Grace and her two little children have come to us at a time when we can do nothing for them, yet they are ours, and we must take care of them. Grace is not strong. Of the seven of us in the house only father and I are physically able to earn a living. The time has come when we must find work."

"She did not tell him of their actual hunger," but Phillip, looking at her drawn face, could guess and was shocked. He longed to take her in his arms and comfort her, but he did not.

"Really, Elsie, I didn't know, I couldn't believe, that the case was so desperate," he said with contrition.

"Just of all, you must let me make your father a loan sufficient to cover all needs, the payments on the house and furniture, the little outstanding bills, enough to cure Ed and to run on. No one outside the family has a better right than I to do this, and no one would be so glad."

"I know," she returned. "You are very delicate, too, so offer to make the loan to father, but I'd rather you would lend it to me, for I have determined to become the business man of the family."

"Just as you like," agreed Phillip. "How much shall you need?" She handed him a little slip of paper upon which the amounts were already set down and totaled. The sum was pitifully small in view of all the wants which Phillip had at his disposal.

"I don't think it wise for you to confine this to actual necessities," he urged. "It would be much better to take a larger sum, one that would cover all emergencies."

Elsie shook her head firmly. "No," she said. "I have already allowed a small leeway. The less I can make the burden the better I shall feel about it, for it must all be paid back. Please let me have my own way."

"I don't see how I can do otherwise," replied Phillip, giving her the money. She took it, gulping down a little lump which rose to her throat, then said with a pretty little assumption of business:

"I want you to write out a note for me to sign."

Without protest Phillip did so and put the note carefully away.

"Now we come back to the question of employment," said he. "You mentioned a while ago your father's gardening hobby. Do you suppose he would take a position in that line?"

"A month ago he would not, but now he would gratefully. If you can get him such a place it would perhaps solve our problem."

"I believe that I can," mused Phillip. "Just wait a minute," and he wrote a note, inclosing it in an addressed envelope, which he handed to her. "If your father will take this note to the address on the envelope I am quite certain they will make a place for him."

"I don't know how to thank you," she said. "You will have to take it for granted."

He took her warm hand in his own.

and it in that moment he had obeyed the impulse that was in his heart. If he had spoken the words that strove to rush upon his lips, the whole course of his life might have been changed—for the better. But again ambition, which grimly forbade any clog upon his movements, interfered, and he held her hand with the tenderness of a brother—no more!

"Really, Elsie, I wish I could have done more for you," he said. "I want you to promise me that if you get into difficulties of any sort you will let me smooth them out for you."

"I have no one else to go to," she replied simply. "Do you know how much suffering there is in the world?" she suddenly asked him.

"I suppose there is a great deal of it."

"Do you understand what suffering is?"

"I do," he returned. "I had my share of it—of illness, of poverty, of cold and hunger, of uncleanness, of the social degradation that belongs with want of money. I know these things not as one emerging from them, but as one cast down among them from luxury. Some people that experience softness, others it hardens and makes bitter. Sometimes I think it had that latter effect with me."

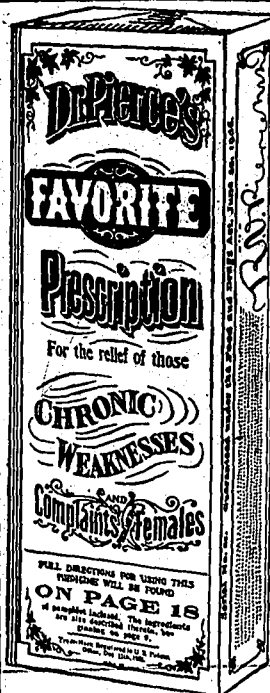

"It must not be!" she said earnestly. "Phillip, what has happened to my family has happened to three-fourths of the people in Hampton, which, as you may or may not know, is composed entirely of poor people, workmen who in better times try to buy their own houses. In that village of four or five thousand people there are perhaps one half of them facing actual starvation at this minute."

"Yes," inquired Phillip, waiting.

"There are hundreds and hundreds of other villages like Hampton, where thousands upon thousands are in the same condition. Things were never so bad as they are now."

"Yes," he asked again. "I want you to say—they say—also halted and stopped, and then, with her face coloring, she stumbled on—"they say that you brought on this panic and that you could stop it. It isn't true, is it?"

"It is a measure I suppose it is," admitted Phillip. "The condition was like a pile of loose gunpowder at the side of a railroad track, where constantly passing engines are sending up sparks. One spark was sure to land in that gunpowder and explode it. I merely happened to be the spark, but with no more power than that spark to stop the subsequent destruction."

She recoiled from him with dilatating eyes. "It is true, then?" she said.

"I suppose it is, even in the way you look at it, but I assure you, Elsie, that it was necessary. Out of this better times will result, and better times could not be reached except through this devastation. It is like a surgical operation, which, painful and cruel as it may seem at the start, is necessary to save the rest of the body from death and decay."

She shook her head. "I cannot understand it, but then I suppose I could never have been a surgeon."

He smiled and laid his hand upon her shoulder. "No, I don't think you could."

She winced under that touch and glance, not because they were repulsive to her—oh, not because of that—but because they were the touch and glance of a brother.

"Remember was announced just then, and the interview closed.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be over-persuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and "headache." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which are sweet and clean. Recommended by doctors for their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.
