SUCKER FLAT THRESHING COMPANY IS NAME OF BIG POOL

Over 50,000 bushels are represented by combine which will thresh wheat and oats of members and sell directly.

The farmers of the Sucker Flat section of the Twin Falls district have combined upon a co-operative basis to protect themselves against, or at least, under themselves independent of, the big combine.

Prices are fixed. Felix Turpin was elected manager of the new organization.

Altogether, about 40 farmers have pooled their grain, making a total of about 50,000 bushels under the control of the company.

Hard wheat the new order. The elevators declare that $1 is the most that can be paid at this time, and that the quotation on soft winter wheat received from Portland is but 50 cents per hundred pounds.

TWIN FALLS GETS CONFERENCE

Methodists to convene in Maple City in 1912.

That Twin Falls is rapidly coming to the front as a convention town, even if it is not on the main line, is becoming more apparent every day.

On August 19, the secretary of the Methodist State Conference will have acceptance of Twin Falls as a meeting place for 1912, which was doubtless largely due to the efforts of the members of the local church.

Methodist conference care Bishop Smith, Caldwell, Idaho.

Twin Falls will give you a genuine old-fashioned Methodist welcome.

OFFICIALS NOW INSTALLED IN NEW COUNTY BUILDING

Magnificent $150,000 Structure the Finest in Idaho—Architecture, Construction and Arrangement Adapted to Purpose—Offices Commodious.

The new magnificent Twin Falls county building is now occupied. Formal possession has been taken of the $150,000 court house, which, in point of architecture, construction and arrangement, is the finest in Idaho.

New Court House Now Occupied by County.

After waiting through three administrations, the officials and their office forces devoted Saturday and Monday morning to moving into the building.

Location is ideal. The location of the structure, in the center of an entire city block across from the city park is regarded as ideal, being near to the business district and to permit of easy access, and yet far enough away to avoid congestion and add to the city's civic beauty spots.

Building fire proof. The exterior of the building, yellow brick with huge stone pillars and cornices, is considered exceptionally handsome, even for a public edifice.

Broad stairways lead from floor to floor, but these are complemented by a modern elevator, the first of the kind in Twin Falls.

In the basement has been built a heating plant which is thoroughly adequate.

The first floor contains the offices of the county superintendent, attorney and sheriff, a ladies' waiting room and a farmers' assembly room. On the second floor are the offices

TWIN FALLS TAX ROLL CUT OVER $5,000,000

State Board of Equalization Grants Reduction of 25 Per Cent on Patented Lands and City Lots, 20 Per Cent on Merchandise and 65 Per Cent of Canal System.

County Stands Third in Point of Concessions Granted Owing to High, Although Strict, Valuations Made by Assessor in Comparison With Those Reported by Officials Elsewhere—Mistake is Corrected in Case of Salmon River Assessment.

Twin Falls county was the fortunate recipient of a substantial equalization of taxable property at the hands of the state board of equalization during its final session in Boise last Saturday and Sunday.

State Auditor Taylor contended for deeper cuts in land assessments throughout the meeting of the board; whereas, Governor Hawley protested against reductions of any sort.

City Lots Reduced the Same. Twin Falls county also got a 25 per cent cut in the valuation of city lots in both instances, the action being exceptionally favorable, but at the same time it was in strict conformity with the ratio of valuation made by the various counties.

Reduction in Figures. The valuation of patented lands in Twin Falls county reported to the state board was $10,760,689; it was reduced to $2,450,000.

Report of Canal System. The report of the action of the board of equalization upon the Salmon River canal system assessment, as contained in the Capital News is as follows:

Boise, August 28.—The question of the adjustment of canal valuations in Twin Falls county was finally settled last Sunday, although the Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water company had been assessed $1,500,000 for its canal and dam in spite of the fact that a majority of its stock has been sold to settlers; it was the first time an effort had been made to assess a canal company for its entire value after its water rights have been disposed of.

Two Counties Fare Better. Only two other counties fared better.

U. S. JUDGE IS HANGED IN EFFIGY

SEATTLE PEOPLE HOLD MEETING TO DENOUNCE HANFORD
Newspapermen, Labor Leaders, Congressmen and Lawyers Are Organized for Effigy Speeches in Result of Injunction Against Interference with Railway.

Seattle, Washington, August 22.—Charged with conspiring to obstruct the administration of justice in a United States court, Oliver T. Bradford, a member of the Seattle city council; Leroy Sanders, editor of the Seattle Star; B. H. Canfield, publisher of the Star and manager of a big string of newspapers on the coast; John S. Ferry, attorney for Canfield and Sanders; Deputy Sheriff Hugo Kelly, Paul M. Mohr, a labor leader; Thomas Horner, a real estate dealer, were arraigned today on warrants sworn to by United States District Attorney Elmer E. Todd.

A warrant for the arrest of A. V. Felt, who was ousted from the office of mayor of Tacoma in a recent recall election, was issued and served in Tacoma.
The warrants were issued as the result of the hanging in effigy of United States District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, and the utterances at mass meetings last night of inflammatory speeches, denouncing the court for having issued an injunction restraining the people from interfering with the Seattle, Renton & Southland railway, which is involved in a dispute with its patrons.

STORM ENDS SEVEN LIVES

Wind at Rate of 84 Miles an Hour Plays Havoc.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 23 (Via Summer, S. C., Aug. 23).—As the result of a freak storm which struck this city and Savannah last night, and which reached hurricane proportions, Charleston has been practically isolated from the world for 24 hours. Seven persons are known to have been killed near here, and property losses, it is estimated, will reach $1,000,000.

The harbor is filled with wreckage of small boats, schooners and launches; many piers are washed away, and in the city the streets are strewn with fallen trees, roofs, fences and other debris.
The street car, electric, telephone and fire alarm systems are out of commission. All trains are leaving the city and Savannah last night, and the new station and the trucks being under water. The wind velocity increased from 48 miles an hour, at 1:25 p. m., to 84 miles an hour at 11:29 p. m., when the wind gauge was put out of adjustment.

PANIC CLAIMS 27 LIVES

Stampede at Moving Picture Show in Canonsburg, Pa., Leaves Horrible Catastrophe.

Canonsburg, Pa., August 21.—Twenty-seven persons were suffocated or trampled to death, 23 were seriously injured and 80 were less seriously hurt last night in a senseless panic in a moving picture show in the Canonsburg opera house, according to revised figures compiled tonight.

How foolish the panic was developed fully today, when those involved returned to their homes enough to relate just what occurred. It transpired that there was no fire. The fatal rush for the exit was due alone to baseless fear.

Not Even a Spark.
It developed that not even a spark flashed. The film broke with a snapping noise and bright light burst through on the screen. A frightened boy imagined it was fire and shouted out the death knell of more than the score of persons as he started to rush for the exit.

BOY ADMITS KILLING FATHER

"The bones of Lee's father, mother and brother were found in their burning home early yesterday and Young Lee was charged with their murder," said his statement today. Sheriff Scates, fearing the prisoner would be lynched, secretly took him to Evansville.

TAFT OPENS FIRE ON INSURGENTS

LA FOLLETTE AND CLARK ARE CHARGED WITH INCERTY

Speech is Beginning of 1918 Campaign and Branda Efforts to Revise Tariff as "Playing Politics"—Cut Will Have President's Support.

Hamilton, Mass., Aug. 22.—Denouncing as "tariff for politics only," work of the Democrats and Republicans progressives in the session of congress just closed, President Taft this afternoon opened his campaign for re-election, which he will continue on his long western trip.

The president accused Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood and Senator La Follette with passing bills they did not intend to become laws. He charged them with inconsistency in repudiating the tariff commission, for which he said they had previously "clamored."
Mr. Taft indicated that he regarded the proposed revision as injurious and dangerous to business, but made it plain that, if the tariff board in December reported that downward revision of the cotton and wool schedules should be made, he would ratify a reduction.

OVERTURNED UNTIL HE COME

Exalt. 1:10, 25-27—Sept. 3
"Depart from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it."—Psalm xxxiv, 14.

At the giving of the Law God plainly told the nation of Israel the terms and conditions upon which they were received as His people. It would be obedient to the Divine Statutes and become idolatrous, the Lord would oppose them and would deliver them into the hands of their enemies for chastisement; and "their iniquity should pass over them."—Leviticus xxvi, 18, 21, 24, 28.

God of course knew the end from the beginning. Nevertheless, Divine patience is manifested throughout the experiences of the nation leading up to the overthrow of Zedekiah's government—he being the last king of the line of David to sit on the throne. We have seen how evil followed good, in the practices of the nation; and how Divine providence chastened the people, yet repeatedly brought them back from idolatry. Now had come the time for the complete overthrow of the national polity, for a period of "seven times" or seven years, as foretold by Moses. In this case, however, the years must have been symbolic because frequently they had captives of more than seven years. Accepting, then, as a fact that these seven years or "times" were symbolic years, how long a period do they indicate?

It is an accepted fact that in Bible symbolism each day represents a year; and that seven years had twelve months of thirty days each. Thus each year represented symbolically three hundred and sixty years, and the seven years of chastisement represented seven times 360, or 2,520 years.

When, therefore, we read that the kingdom would be overturned, overturned until Messiah should come, we are to understand that the period of the overturned condition, as a whole, would be 2,520 years, beginning with the time the crown was taken from Zedekiah—in 606 B. C. (70 years prior to the proclamation of Cyrus permitting the people to return—536 B. C.)

A Look at the Facts.

It is always interesting and profitable to students of the Bible to note the fulfillment of Divine predictions. It establishes faith, it makes all of God's promises more real. It assures us of Divine supervision in respect to Israel's affairs and thus gives ground for confidence in the supervision of the affairs of spiritual Israel—the Church.

As we look back along the aisles of history we see the fulfillment of the declaration that the nation of Israel would be overthrown and overturned. After its restoration by Cyrus, B. C. 536, it continued to have a sort of national existence for 600 years; yet in all that time it had not a king of the line of David—the line of Divine promise—and it was ruled over by the various adjoining nations, as it is written, "Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles until the times (years) of the Gentiles be filled full." Some may point to the Maccabean kings. We answer that they were not of the line appointed, not of the royal family. Does some one else remind us of the reign of Herod at the time of Jesus, at the beginning of Anno Domini? We reply that the Herods were not of the line of David—they were Edomites, or of the Esau branch, who ruled over the children of Israel as the representatives of the great Roman Empire.

The Time of the Gentiles.

When God removed the typical kingdom of Ishmael and his typical throne in the world, as represented by David's family, He gave over the earthly dominion to the Gentiles; and this transfer of power, as represented in Daniel's prophecy, was to continue for "seven times"—2,520 years. In other words, during the same period that Israel would be having "seven times" of tribulation and subjection the Gentiles would be having "seven times" of prosperity; and both will terminate at the same time—2,520 years from G. C. 606—October, A. D. 1914. If any dispute as to the exactness of these figures, we need have no quarrel, but simply say that any difference in the calculation must of necessity be, but small—possibly one year, possibly twenty years—but in so long a period how trifling would be such a variation.

What we are especially interested in are the facts of the case, and what will occur when this long period terminates.

(1) The facts are, as already noted in Israel's case, a national subversion for nearly seven hundred years, and a national destruction for more than 1,800 years; and so far as the Gentiles are concerned, a lease of power for 2,520 years, as follows:—For (a) Babylon, the first Universal Empire; (b) Moab-Persia, the second Universal Empire; (c) Grecia, the third Universal Empire; and (d) Rome, the fourth Universal Empire. According to the Scriptural view of the matter, this fourth Universal Empire is still represented in the Papacy and the four so-called Christian governments of the world.

These have prospered and prospered during this long period of Israel's subjection and the overturned condition of God's typical kingdom. It is well to note particularly the dream of Nebuchadnezzar, as recorded in Daniel ii, 31-45, and its interpretation by the Prophet Daniel. Daniel does not here state the time for the end of these Gentile governments; that we find elsewhere. But every foretold circumstance indicates that the end is at hand. The dream of Nebuchadnezzar, which smites and scatters the Gentile powers, represents the true Church, the Kingdom of God. When completed it will smite and destroy the kingdoms of the world. Not the people, but the governments are symbolized by the image.

(2) The next thing in order, then, following the expiration of the "seven times" (2,520 years, to 1914 A. D.), will be the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom and its recognition by the children of Israel, and the blessing of all the families of the earth.

The date, October, 1914, and the setting up of Christ's Kingdom, let us remember, have not the beginning of what St. Peter styles "The Times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His Holy Prophets since the world began"—Acts iii, 19-21.

Because we believe that spiritual Israel is nearly complete, therefore we are expecting blessings upon the Gentiles according to the flesh, natural Israel, and the turning away of their blindness, anticipating that they will be the first of the Restitution class to be blessed by Spirit Israel, and so "obtain mercy through your mercy" (Romans xii, 31).

JARBIDGE SCENE OF TWO NEW STRIKES

JUDGE RAY FINDS RICH ORE AND TRUS FISSURE OPENS LEDGE

Disclosures Are Believed to Be Among the Most Important of the Season—Dr. D. E. Buckley, President of American Mining Congress Leaves.

Special Correspondence.

Jarbridge, Aug. 28.—During the past week two new strikes of ore are reported that count for a great deal in the way of proving the immensity of the ore deposits in the Jarbridge district. When I say two strikes, I mean something that will make history in the mining industry of Nevada, but more than two strikes are reported, some of which may be as rich and become as prominent as the two now considered the most important.

Judge Ray's Good Luck. Jarbridge is a law-abiding town and a judge can sometimes get a chance to go out into the hills and prospect for some of the precious metals. The prospecting for ore has been going on a short time ago, and discharging the grime of the bunch he argued himself with the necessary facts and proceeded to his claim, the Alfa, which is located about 3000 feet east of the Big Horn mine. The judge has parties in the claim, but not waiting to get them together, he commenced digging a crosscut to cut a ledge which he had reason to believe ran through his property. After digging a slight distance he was rewarded by cutting into a blind lead three feet in width. The ore is characteristic of the Jarbridge group, and is pure white, sugary quartz, resembling very much the ore on the Buckeye. It is all pay. The lowest assay taken shows a value of $40 per ton, while the highest was $300 per ton.

Crater District Bonanza. In my last letter I told of a strike on the Bacon group which is located in the Fifth Crater. Now comes the True Fissure Mining company, which is about a mile north of the Bacon group and, seven miles from Jarbridge, with a discovery of a continuation of the lead reported last week. The True Fissure company is under the guidance of J. T. McCormick, the leading merchant of Jarbridge. McCormick has had William Jewell, an experienced prospector, looking over the company's ground for some little time and his search has been rewarded by finding a lead 50 feet wide that passes well the whole distance. A conservative estimate of the milling value of this large lead is placed at $12,000 per ton.

Harry Deise Has a Mine. The Flaxie group lies about a mile east of Jarbridge and north of Judge Ray's Alfa. The claims are owned by Hodge brothers of Brynau, but are now under lease to Harry Deise. He started on a strike of ore which has widened out to four feet at the present depth. The ore is high grade, but the exact value will not be given out by the owners. A party who examined some of the ore says he would judge the value at $30 to $40 per ton. Business Elsewhere.

Dr. D. E. Buckley, and wife who have been in Jarbridge for some time, have left for the east. The doctor had some intervals to attend to but cut his stay in Jarbridge somewhat short.

Before leaving Mr. Buckley visited the Bluster, Success, Paylak and Success. He took note of everything which was but refrained from expressing any opinion on just how he was impressed. The doctor is interested in some place claims two miles from Jarbridge. While here he visited and with which he was well pleased that he will return next year and superintend some work he intends to have done. I am quite positive that Dr. Buckley left with a good opinion of the mineral possibilities of this camp and that he will speak well of Jarbridge as a place for investment. The position he occupies in the mining field does not give him the liberty to express himself as freely as he would so highly desire.

F. M. Buckley came out from Twin Falls last Wednesday to accompany his family back to their home. They left Jarbridge Sunday. While here Buckley visited the Buckeye strike and appeared to enjoy her vacation.

Alce-May Incorporated. The Alce-May Gold Springs claims have been incorporated and the articles have been filed with the county clerk in Elko. The incorporators are F. M. Buckley, J. A. Malone, S. G. McNeil, C. E. Gadsden, J. E. Chaborn and Arthur Duffrany. It is the intention to plant the stock on the Twin Falls market at a moderate price and with the prospect of sales prospect the ground thoroughly.

Windy Point Has Good Showing. G. H. Foster left Thursday for his claims in the Fifth Crater district. His property is known as the Windy Point group and joins the Hazel Dean claims on the south. Mr. Foster has been showing some very fine ore recently that came from his claims and good results are looked for as work progresses.

Paylak Wheels Turning. The Paylak mill is now about completed. Wednesday the company gave a barbecue to the people of the district and a large crowd came up to enjoy the big spread which the company generously set. The mill will not handle any ore for some little time until everything is properly adjusted.

HOUSEKEEPER'S CORNER

Conducted by Mrs. E. E. Dean
(it is the purpose of this department to furnish an exchange whereby the problems of the housewife may be met and answered, and "tried and true" recipes passed on to others. Probably every housekeeper has experienced more or less difficulty in adapting her favorite recipes to this altitude. If you have discovered a happy combination, send in the result that it may help to cheer some discouraged new-comer. Suggestions for entertaining, new and time saving ways of performing the daily household duties, hints about dressmaking, simple remedies for sickness, or any information gained by experience about the care of the home will be welcome, and questions on the same subjects will be answered or referred to readers.)

THEN AND NOW
A legislator who is in the minority, can play politics, without injury to his constituents, to his heart's content. He can perform all manner of eloquent antics before an admiring audience back home without approaching any danger more serious than that of straining a vocal chord or bursting a button hole. But the moment he becomes a member of the majority, the burden of his duty rests heavily upon his shoulders, or should, at least, and he must necessarily be more constrained in his utterances and his acts. If every one is not weighed with due gravity, he is apt to commit an indiscretion that will work havoc for the public dependent upon him. For that reason when the insurgent and democrats in the last congress entered upon a new term with the reign of government in their own hands, they hesitated in their own minds, they hesitated in their own hearts, they hesitated in their own consciences, they hesitated in their own souls, they hesitated in their own spirits, they hesitated in their own minds, they hesitated in their own hearts, they hesitated in their own consciences, they hesitated in their own souls, they hesitated in their own spirits.

HANG HIM.
Will the person who has the key to the opera house kindly return same.
-Filer Journal.

Some people are so mean that they would steal a nursing bottle from a hungry infant or rob a child of a pony which was to have been sacrificed for an all-day sucker. It goes without saying that either crime is horribly reprehensible, but compare them with the vile depravity that will lead a man to walk off nonchalantly with the key to the town opera house in his pocket. Thoughtlessness is no mitigation of the sin, the negligence, in such an aggravated case, is grossly culpable. Are not the citizens of the village entitled to some enjoyment in life? Is the act of one individual to close their sense of pleasure against them? This is a free country and liberty means the right of access to the local opera house upon payment of the usual admission fee. No, let not that intolerable injustice be perpetuated upon an innocent public.

CHEER UP.
The Power that watches over babes, et cetera, must have interceded in behalf of Twin Falls county before the state board of equalization. When mistakes are made the one so unfortunate as to commit them usually suffers the consequence. A depressing situation has been relieved to some slight extent, for which the taxpayers of Twin Falls county are duly thankful, but the worst is yet to come, the tax notices are still to be received, and, in as much as the county's wealth is supposedly three times what it was last year, even after the state board has alleviated the pain by about $5,000,000, there will be a surprise in store for those who piously pounced upon the cash value scheme as a remedy for existing evils before amending the constitution and the statutes.

COURT HOUSE IS OCCUPIED.
of the auditor and recorder, assessor and board of commissioners. The room occupied by the last named was originally intended for the treasurer. Cornish pillars stand on either side of the doors leading into these offices. The third floor is devoted to chambers of the district judge and the probate judge and a well lighted court room.
Jail is Complete.
The entire fourth floor is taken up by the county jail and the jailor's living quarters. There are several workbenches in the jail, and equipped with steel cages holding 12 prisoners. Two of the wards are for men, one for women and one for children.

Hints for Canning.
Every piece of fruit, meat, or vegetable, no matter how fresh, is filled with tiny invisible parasites which cause it to spoil. The air no matter how clear it may look, is filled with the invisible organisms which cause food to spoil, and these germs are on the surface of all dishes.

Great will destroy these organisms, boiling or sterilization as it is called. Some foods have to be boiled many hours before they are absolutely freed from these invisible destroyers. Once sterilized, the food and the inside of the jar must be protected from the air. Light does not burst sterilized foods; the tiny invisible germs in the air do the work, hence it is not necessary to protect sterilized goods from the light but if it is to be kept sterile it must be put boiling hot into jars that will stay airtight. For this reason the Economy Jar are so recommended. The Economy Jar seal is itself absolutely airtight and if all the germs in the food were not sufficiently sterilized they cause a gas in the jar which loosens the cap and warns one in time to prevent the contents from spoiling. If perfectly sterile the food after being placed in the Economy Jar shrinks while cooling and in shrinking draws the cap down tight by atmospheric pressure so that when cold if the cap does not come off when lifted the housekeeper may rest assured that the contents are safe until opened, be it one year or five. There are two ways of canning. Fruits may be cooked in a kettle and then put into jars or they may be placed in the jars raw and cooked in the jars. It is believed that fruits and vegetables keep their natural flavors, lusciousness, and original color better when handled in the latter way. Only perfectly sound and fresh fruit should be chosen for canning. Spoiled or over-ripe fruit is neither healthful or economical.

All large fruits should, as soon as pared, be immersed in cold water, to prevent discoloration.
Use a large porcelain-lined granite or aluminum kettle, rather than deep, and a silver, wooden or granite spoon.

Seasonable Receipts.

5 lbs. of grapes.
5 lbs granulated sugar.

The subject of newspaper advertising was under discussion. Mr. Spangler read a paper on "The Press Agent," conveying some new ideas on newspaper work for commercial club executives. The Idaho Statesman made the following comment upon his address:

"The paper was one of the cleverest read at the convention, and it brought forth a round of applause. Mr. Spangler attempted to impress on the minds of his hearers the fact that if they expect the newspapers to print their stuff they must tell the truth, and he declared that the commercial club executive, who is a real press agent, earns his salary by telling the truth about his community, and that if he tells the truth the newspapers will print his stuff and be glad to get it."

Why Is a Corset?

Most every teacher of physiology tells the girls not to wear corsets. What nonsense! In practically every case the teacher is wearing one, and most of the girls wear an excuse for one. Why don't they teach what kind and how to wear the corset? They all need it as a matter of hygiene, if for nothing more. Every growing girl needs a form builder and a body support. Every woman should wear a corset for the same reasons. It's no longer a matter of vanity, but at the same time the basis of all good-fitting gowns is the corset. Everybody can buy a corset to fit their form. The Royal Worcester and Bon Ton Corsets are made for particular people and are no higher in price than other lines. For one figure they are boned in one manner, and where a support is needed in another figure a corset is made with that feature. Royal Worcester Corsets are all guaranteed. Carry a fit for every figure. My customers come back.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Twin Falls Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Twin Falls readers.

D. Doman, of Buhl, Idaho, says: "For seven years I suffered from pains through my loins and kidneys and there was a severe ache across the small of my back that lasted for days. I often felt dizzy, weak and languid and after a few hours' work my back became so stiff and lame that I was hardly able to straighten. The kidney secretions were highly colored, contained sediment and were too frequent and painful in passage. I tried a number of remedies but without success until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. After I used this preparation the dull ache in my back disappeared, my kidneys were restored to a normal condition and my health improved." For sale by all dealers. Price 60 cents. # AGRICULTURAL NEWS AND NOTES

SUCKER FLAT TAKES ITS PLACE AS A PROSPEROUS FARM COMMUNITY

A Story of Agricultural Achievement Upon Land Not Six Years from Sage Brush—The Wonderful Success Made by F. E. Drake.

To the north of Filer lies a district generally known as "Sucker Flat," the name originally being intended as a slur upon the business judgment of those who first settled upon it. That this asperation was unwarranted and unjust is today apparent from the great number of prosperous and progressive farms which are revealed in a drive through that section. No bet-and all grain is ground for feed, the work being done upon the place, a trucking engine furnishing the motive power, which will also be utilized for the domestic work, such as washing and churning.

A Domestic Ice Plant.

Ice for domestic purposes is manufactured upon the place, a reservoir will doubtless be of interest to the farmers of the tract, or those intending to engage in the business, at showing the possibilities in this line.

In 1905 Mr. Drake brought into the country a single brood sow, and from the offspring of this one animal sold during the year of 1909 over $5000 worth of hogs to local buyers at prices ranging from 5 to 6 1/4 cents per pound.

Following is the account of sales for that year:

Mr. Baldwin, 40 head, weight 10,355 lbs.	$21.30
Ogden Packing Co., 30 head, weight 7,185 lbs.	443.45
Mr. Baldwin, 45 head, weight 8,540 lbs.	529.45
Vannutson, 65 head, weight 9,945 lbs.	617.20
Dave Jenks, 81 head, weight 15,950 lbs.	764.40
North Side, 4 head	65.60
Total	$3,040.45

The above sales were made during the fall of 1909, and in previous years several hundred dollars' worth had been sold. With the exception of the stock is either registered or eligible to registry, the owner is very particular in the selection of animals for breeding purposes. Not only must an animal have the necessary pedigree, but must also be a good individual before he will place it on sale as a breeder. Those not developing the

The photograph of the sheep was taken on this place, there being 3500 head of ewes this year, the lambs having been cut out. The sheep are grade Shropshires and Lincolnshires, and although young, sheared an average of 8 pounds per head the past spring.

Eighty acres of orchard was set out on this ranch this year, and it is the intention to plant several hundred acres in the near future. The owners are in the banking business in Maroa, and it is understood are forming or chartered companies with the intention of selling in small tracts.

QUICK WORK ON CLAIM

Land Prepared in One Day to Meet Proof Requirements.

Arriving in Hollister Monday for the purpose of making final proof on his 100 acre claim near Rogerson and finding the final delivery of irrigation water on the tract upon which he had depended for water to fulfill the irrigation requirement in making final proof, already well under way, Chas E. Welch of Lafayette, Indiana, getting busy immediately was able to have the 20 acre field prepared in one day to meet the requirements. The ground had already been cleared and plowed and two teams of the Farmers contracting outfit working at the same time Tuesday seeded and leveled the field followed the lines laid out by the ter examples of husbandry on the average are to be found upon the Twin Falls tract than upon this same "Sucker Flat," which, it would seem, is entitled to be known by a more dignified appellation, and one which would be more suggestive of the true conditions.

One of the most productive and up-to-date ranches in the Sucker Flat district is that belonging to F. E. Drake, situated 4 1/2 miles north of Filer and 9 miles to the north and west from Twin Falls. Mr. Drake settled on this land 6 years ago, and in this short time has brought it from the sagebrush to a fine modern, profitable ranch.

Splendid buildings, as shown in the accompanying illustrations, have been erected, the handsome new residence, modern and complete in every particular, having just been completed this summer.

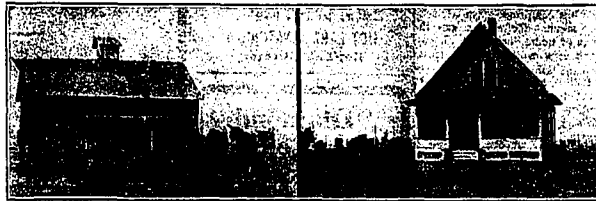

A trip over the ranch will reveal grain, alfalfa, fruit trees and garden, all flourishing as only they can under irrigation.

Corn a Success.

Mr. Drake came to this state from Odell, Nebraska, and, like many others from the middle west, is rather partial to the culture of corn. He has experimented to a considerable extent with this staple with very good results, and has found it to be a very profitable crop, especially for hog feed.

Careful attention is paid to the feeding of stock. Long in advance of the milling idea, alfalfa was cut to a fineness closely approaching the meal, having been formed by throwing a dam across one of the irrigation ditches, and during the winter months is stored in an ice-house near by. This is a convenience, which has come to be looked upon as almost a necessity upon the ranch, which practically every rancher in the Twin Falls tract may have, and which is made possible by the continuous flow of water.

New Residence and Barn on the F. E. Drake Ranch.

$3000 from Hogs in One Year. Special attention is given by Mr. Drake to the raising of pure bred Duroc Jersey hogs, both for breeding and packing purposes, the accompanying illustration being of a portion of the herd of 80 now upon the place.

Something of a record has been made by the owner in this special branch of animal industry, the details of which are necessary points of this breed are sold as packers, and as such show a good profit.

Good Money in Dairying.

While dairying is not entered into extensively on the Drake ranch, four or five cows are milked, which are producing good results in the way of butter fat, and a ready local market is found for the finished product at from 20 to 25 cents per pound.

This is only one among hundreds of fine ranches located in the famous "Sucker Flat" section, and it is doubtful if anywhere there could be found a better exemplification of "peace and plenty," or a more contented people. The telephone, rural free delivery of mails, excellent schools, with wagons to take the children back and forth each day, all add to the comfort and convenience of farm life.

3500 Head of Sheep.

engineer that day in making ditches, corrugated and had water running over the land that evening.

NOVEL SAGE BRUSH ROLLER

Device for Removing Brush Easily Built and Effective.

Although there is nothing new under the sun, the settlers on the Salmon River tract are continually contriving new and novel devices for the removal of the brush that would amaze the sage. One of them recently witnessed in operation consists of a number of heavy planks set on edge about the circumference between two large wooden wheels on an axle. The roller thus made is weighted down and drawn by four horses over the brush which it effectively mashes making it more easily to remove either by burning or by grubbing by hand. The ease and economy of the construction of the device described and the effectiveness of its use should commend it to other settlers who have brush to clear on the tract.

Housework Dragger

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. The dragger, which is on her feet, all the drudgery of the heavy details of the household, her feet aching, temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest is had in wet washing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" contains the most potent of women's medicines. It is a complete and perfect substitute for cod liver oil, and is the only medicine that is so palatable and so effective. It is the only medicine that is so palatable and so effective. It is the only medicine that is so palatable and so effective.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of medicine is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head!

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure liver ills.

Kevin looked quietly up at her. She was a picture of calm beauty, but the moonlight had a certain strange, such as a Lacerata Borgia might have had. Kevin thought, or such as animated the woman features of the French revolution.

Henry Breed was possessed of no such dramatic qualities. "The moonlight," he said curiously. "She whirled upon her heel and strode out the door, slamming it behind her."

Dr. Zolphan followed her with his eyes, but a half mile was still lurking under his beard. "The other two heavy-duty eyes when she was gone. Breed dismissed the episode immediately.

"Now you may explain," he told Kevin.

"Well," said Kevin, "the entire railroad map is changed since the panic. All the names familiar to the railroad world have passed into history. Next week they will have been forgotten. Not one of them can rise again from the wreck."

Breed nodded his head in comprehension, and his thin, flexible lips bent into a cruel smile. "I know," said he. "There is a red mark upon each of their photographs."

Kevin nodded briefly. "But those men have shown us the way. Let me give you an illustration of the control of one man. For five years he denied that he had any interest in a certain large road. But he had a large stake when a holding company in which he was interested had secured 15 per cent of the stock of that road, and this 15 per cent was the largest single minority holding. The man in question held in his own name less than 10 per cent of the stock of the holding company, but it was to the interest of every member that he nominate his own directors and control the destiny of the company. Through this control, therefore, he virtually possessed personally that 15 per cent of the stock of the big railroad. With that 15 per cent he sent in his own name an appeal to the scattered stockholders for proxies, and through his personal prestige he came into the stockholders' meeting of the big road, voting 60 per cent of the stock and put through his own slate of directors and officers. Then, through similar means and through this one road, he controlled all its branches and dependents, aggregating more than 90 per cent of the stock. He exploited the fact that he himself actually held not 1 per cent of the value of all this stock."

Breed nodded his head. "I have a check mark upon that man's photograph," he said. "The dot was a part of the gamma which crumbed him."

"But it can't crush you," returned Phillip. He poised his pencil over different points in his diagram, where opposite the name of each road was put the total number of outstanding stocks and bonds.

"You are the only man in the world today who is able to bring practically endless resources to the support of any project," he continued. "By its means, with actual holdings of less than 1 per cent of the total stock of all the railroad corporations in the United States, you are able to dominate every mile of iron highway, to depose or elevate any man in the railroad business, to make or break an idea—that is, after you have taken the reins. You have only one rival."

Breed raised his head quickly. "Rollins?" he said.

"Wander Rollins," repeated Kevin. "What made you think so? You spoke of him yesterday."

"I met him during the days of the panic. Rollins is a baby with him. He thinks that, with proper management, they can be made practically safe to the public and still yield better dividends. He is a conservative man, who has never speculated upon anything—in fact, he is one of the few men whom you campaign against in the Stock Exchange and Stock Exchange methods could not affect. During the closing days of the panic, when such stocks as Northern Pacific were reduced to the absurd figure of twenty-nine, Rollins was in the market to buy actual stocks for spot cash, and in several of these stocks he is today the second minority stockholder to yourself. I kept close record of his transactions, and, in fact, I sold him some Northern Pacific and some New Haven yesterday."

"You did?" exclaimed Breed, surprised and not altogether pleased.

CHAPTER IX.

KEVIN laid down his pencil and leaned back in his chair. His face was a trifle pale. He was about to reveal himself, perhaps more daringly than Breed would like. "I did not exceed my instructions," he explained. "For the assurance of my plan you merely told me to secure of the six leading stocks all that I could. I did so, but found that I had much more than necessary of some stocks and not enough of others, so I traded. As it stands now, I have sufficient to enable you to get your representation in every railroad, major or minor, in the United States."

Breed studied young Kevin for a long time in thoughtful silence.

"How strong a rival do you consider Rollins to be?" he asked.

"Formidable," replied Kevin. "All the more so because he has a personal dislike for you."

"How does he know I had him let out?" Kevin asked.

Kevin smiled. "He charges openly that he was decapitated because he stood in the way of the scheme by which the Parsons group was deliberately wrecked and laid open to capture by the MacIntyre interests. Don't underestimate this man, Mr. Breed. I don't know where he gets the money, but—"

"The independent steel corporations," interrupted Breed.

Kevin stopped a moment and considered this new thought. "That's not so," he exclaimed. "Breed, look at the margin of his diagram. 'Then he is doubly formidable. He is going to make a strong campaign for proxies, and he is to be feared because, while not so well known to the public as yourself, he is more favorably known, and he has some investments which will find him time to be a man of stern probity.'"

"The people are fools!" declared Breed in some heat. "I know what they think of me, but they have no right to do so. I have given away less fortunes in the way of investments, unutilized, than to public institutions, and they give me no thanks for it—none whatever! It is time that the public was chastised, and mine is the appointed hand!"

"A wireless for you," broke in a new voice.

Kevin, turning, saw Blagg standing in the doorway. How long he had been there none of them could have told. For the first time Kevin noticed that Blagg's thinness was the thinness of a man whose flesh had been reduced to nothing but sinewy muscle.

Breed took the wireless and read it; then he looked up at Kevin, with a curious smile. "So you think I'd better send for Rollins and make peace with him?" he said. "You suggested that yesterday, I think."

Kevin colored slightly. "It seems inevitable to me," he replied.

"Well, I have already sent for him," announced Breed dryly. "Here is his answer. He will arrive here at 3 o'clock." And with an air of triumph Breed arose and, accompanied by the wireless, returned to his room.

"The population of the United States is now almost 90,000,000," said Blagg. "Henry Breed holds, according to my guess, nearly $20 in money for every man, woman and child in the United States. Ten million of these people are on the verge of starvation, and their $20 today would stand between them and hell. Seventy million more are merely living like dogs."

"If they had their $20 applied there as they are now," he explained. "It Kevin, however, and some Breed or other would have it again in no time."

"But if there were no Breeds, to establish enormous money draining systems by means of the excessive rate of interest, and the excessive rate of circulation would stay among the people."

"If there were no Breeds," returned Phillip, "you would not have a job here in a wireless I wish you would get out of New York."

Early luncheon at Forest Lakes was usually a deadly dull function, and today it seemed more so than ever. A preoccupation seemed to settle upon them all. At Breed's table they had nearly finished when Breed looked up from the bowl of mush and milk to which Zolphan restricted him at noon, suddenly addressed Phillip. "Kevin," said he. "If you had your own way about things what would you do?"

"I would make myself emperor of the world."

"Good!" cried Lillian. "And I— I would be empress."

"Lillian!" primly protested Mrs. Rosencrutz. "You don't mean anything, I know, but you should be no more bold here, even in jest, than abroad."

"How do you know I don't mean it?" returned Lillian, with an earnestness which could not be altogether concealed by her rally. "If Mr. Kevin could make himself emperor of the world I would exhaust every wit known to femininity, every strategy known to diplomacy, every force known to warfare, to become his consort. To be empress of the world, to have life and death domination over every living creature, to hold in my hand more power than has ever been possessed by any human being—for these things I would jeopardize my happiness, my life, my very soul."

Phillip glanced across at her with more interest than he had yet shown and found, with a thrill which he could not deny, her eyes shining into his.

An hour or so later Phillip had occasion to go into Blagg's room, and there he found Lillian.

"You splendid creature," Lillian said unthinkingly, conscious of her power over the guest operator and perhaps using it to pique Phillip, "here it is," and she indicated the new wireless apparatus which, introduced but recently, was rapidly becoming used all over the world with keys like a typewriter and differed from that machine in only one essential respect—the paper in it was upon a roll, like a ticker tape, and from either side of the contrivance a glass tube led with a phosphorescent greenish light ran straight up to the ceiling.

"With all instruments thrown into key, Mr. Blagg can reach any one of all of the wireless stations on the face of the globe," she continued. "At his finger tips all the world."

As she spoke the greenish phosphorescence in the tubes began to glow and crackle in regular waves, the mechanism of the typewriter device began to click, and upon the tape there appeared a succession of "M's." Blagg self consciously drew out his watch and laid it wide by the wall.

"Noon at Washington," he said. "I am not a second out of the way." Mechanically he reached out to the keys of his machine and wrote upon it the letters of the alphabet in apparent idleness from "A" to "Z" and back again, then signed "O. B."

"Does that idle tampering with the keys carry any place?" asked Kevin.

"Yes," replied Blagg; "every operator in the world got that message."

As Kevin left the room he caught Blagg eyeing him with the utmost malice.

Three hours later old Fergus came shuffling into Kevin's room. "Mr. Rollins wishes me to tell you that Mr. Rollins has arrived and that he would like to see you in the library."

In that dim old room Kevin found Rollins sitting unaccompanied, upright, his lips compressed, his jaw set, his eyes stern. He was a smooth faced man of under forty, with unusually frank eyes which inspired trust at once.

"Mr. Rollins has just told me that he is not here for a compromise," Breed intimated upon their greeting.

"I am sorry to hear that, Rollins," said Kevin. "I have been going over the situation pretty thoroughly and am willing to admit that if you fight us it will annoy us somewhat, but it will be a losing venture for you."

"I don't think it," returned Rollins, his face hardening. "I am willing to pit my reputation with the public against Mr. Breed's at any time."

"Why make it a matter of reputation, Rollins?" suggested Breed. "Why not make it a matter of so interest? I want and mean to have control of the railroads. You want the same thing. I think we both could be satisfied. I consider you the best railroad man in the United States today, and I want you to manage the consolidated lines. Pool your stock with mine, giving me control and you management. Do you accept that?"

"No," said Rollins.

"Then I will take control," returned Breed. "If I do and offer you the general management will you accept it then?"

"If you gain absolute control," said Rollins, with a short laugh, "and if after you have done so, you offer me the management, with a free hand, then I shall believe you."

As Rollins rose Breed rang a bell, and it was Elsie White who answered it.

"This is Mr. Rollins, Elsie," said Breed. "Show him the suit next to Kevin. You can't get a better suit with any comfort except by a suit, Rollins, and we shall be very glad to have you as our guest."

Rollins had intended to refuse this offer, but he looked at Elsie White and accepted.

After Rollins had gone Breed looked at Kevin quizzically. "I suppose you have a solution for our problem?" he suggested.

"I am willing to hear yours," returned Phillip.

"There is one feasible way," declared Breed promptly. "We must subsidize the press."

Difficult Scriptures on Hell.

A little Book selling at only ten cents, postpaid, is having a very wide circulation—running up into the millions. It contains some very startling information respecting the meaning of the word Hell. It claims to demonstrate, both from the Hebrew and the Greek of our Bible, that Hell is NOT a place of eternal torment, but merely another name for the TOMB—the GRAVE. EVERY PART OF DEATH affects to show that man was not deemed from a far-off place of eternal torture, but quotes the Scriptures proving that he was REDEEMED from the GRAVE at the cost of his Redeemer's LIFE and that the Scriptural Hope, for the Church and the World, is a resurrection hope based upon the death and resurrection of Jesus. The book is certainly worth the reading. The information it furnishes is certainly valuable, far beyond its trifling cost. Order it at once from the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.
