TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1911.

CLEAN UP TWIN FALLS

THREE CONVICTS SO FAR
In three of the bootlegging cases which have been tried in the district court, convictions have been secured by the state, the jury returning a verdict of guilty in the case of Charles Howard, William Hill and P. L. Beason.

On the present trial Howard is the only one having been sentenced. Three months and 15 days, a fine of $400 and costs is the penalty of his crime. The other two defendants were committed to jail on Saturday.

The cost of the action is estimated to amount to about $400. Hill and Beason were convicted of bootlegging, under the provisions of the state law. Beason, it is claimed, was acting only in the capacity of an agent of Burgoyne & Green, but neither of the court will take the testimony of a reporter who claimed that he ordered three bottles of beer and received same. This was not denied by Beason, who claimed that the beer came in packages of three bottles each, and that the Twin Springs Mercantile company had made an error, sending three packages instead of three bottles, as ordered.

BOOTLEGGING CASES MAY COST $20,673.80

Average Expense of One Offender in Bootlegging is Computed to Be From $721.65 to $730.35, Based on Evidence Upon Present Experience in Twin Falls County

Violation of Liquor Laws in Most Degrees Form in Heaviest Burden Borne by Public—Contest Against Bootlegging Must Continue to Avoid Degradation—Apprehension, Prosecution, Conviction and Imprisonment Followed Step by Step.

There is no offense which so materially impugns public respectability and purity as that so flagrant in its violation of the laws of a community, as bootlegging. It is as a snake which attacks the well-being of a society from a hidden hole. To combat this evil, it is necessary to take the most arduous and expensive burden to which any people can be subjected.

Flight Must Continue.
This bill is but the beginning of Twin Falls city and county. And bootlegging, in spite of the efforts to exterminate it, has like the most noxious weed, flourishes and grows to greater proportions here. Yet, to oppose it, at all ultimately would drag the community into utter degradation. The contest of law, order and morality against this iniquity must continue.

Cost $20,673.80 to $20,673.80.
The News does not presume to offer any alternative. Now that the district court has adjourned its recent session, it means to take this opportunity to review one salient feature of the bootlegging evil—the cost to the citizens of Twin Falls city and county of the apprehension, prosecution, conviction and imprisonment of bootleggers. The figures used are an average, based upon the three or four late cases. And if all of the 23 cases which have been instituted in this county, the estimate that has been set as the result of those already actually decided, they will cost the taxpayers about $20,673.80.

In the police court alone, where the defendant is prosecuted merely under the ordinance and then bound over to the district court, the average expense is computed to be $108.60. In a justice of the peace court where but a preliminary hearing is given and the case is carried to the district court, it is found to be $95.10. The heavy burden comes in the district court, where it averages $297.76 per case.

Exceptions to Frugal Bootlegger.
The average case considered is that of a bootlegger who is tried by a jury in the police court and then by a jury in the district court, and who, failing to pay his fine in either instance, is imprisoned until such a time as he has served them. It is true, as in the Webber case, that the defendant will plead guilty, and thus reduce the cost. But the average bootlegger is only a dependable one, without friends or family who must become a public ward.

In the Howard case the cost was much higher than the average, the defendant being fined $200 and $27 costs in the police court, and sentenced

FORMER GOVERNOR LIKES TWIN FALLS

FRANK GOODING IS VICTOR IN RACE FOR MAGIC CITY
Says Development Simply Merit and Not Political Favor of Legislature in Assuring Rights for Large Water-Tariff for Benefit of Idaho.

FRANK GOODING is victor in the race for the position of Governor of Idaho. He has secured the support of the majority of the voters of the state, and is expected to be elected on November 7th.

Gooding's victory is a significant one, as he is the only candidate who has secured the support of the majority of the voters of the state. He has also secured the support of the majority of the voters of the state who are in favor of a large water-tariff for the benefit of Idaho.

Gooding's victory is a result of his long and successful career in public life. He has served as a member of the legislature, as a member of the cabinet, and as a member of the executive branch of the government. He has also served as a member of the judiciary.

WREATHING POST IS ADVOCATED

Many and unimpaired the methods adopted by Judge J. W. Shields for forming officers in juvenile court, but probably no more unusual punishment was ever meted out than on Monday last when the judge ordered (or rather insisted upon) the national "wreathing" in open court of Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff.

While this was not out of the ordinary, the offense was an unusual one and this method was adopted as a punishment for sending the boys to the reform school. The boys were actually held up since Saturday evening last, and had been being kept at the street corner of school house and relieved him of 60 cents, his total salary for the day. The juvenile judge would take place on Shoshone street corner, and the boys were held up by a bright electric light so that the Swenson boy had no difficulty in identifying his assailants, and Police Officer Shields, in the vicinity, placed them under arrest.

As soon as Judge Shields learned the facts in the case he sent for the mother of the boys, who pleaded with him not to send them to the reform school, as an older brother is already an inmate of that institution. The only alternative which the judge could see was to discharge the boys, and dismissed the offenders with the warning that if they ever appeared before him again they would be sent on a lengthy visit to their brother.

WILL INCREASE LENGTH OF RUN
Alfalfa mill at Kimberly Targed to Increase Capacity to Supply Demand.

Manager J. A. Gates of the Kimberly Alfalfa Milling company of Kimberly reports that the mill can keep up with orders for alfalfa meal now, but to increase the run to 15 hours per day, it will be necessary to run 10 hours and turning out 100 tons of alfalfa per day. It is expected that this time which is not sufficient to keep up with the demand.

During the recent wet weather it was necessary to close down, as the dam was not high enough to run the mill, but they are now running full blast, and the farmers are rubbing their hands.

The alfalfa product is shipped to Mississippi river points, due, no doubt, to the shortage of forage crops in that locality, but many orders have been received from eastern and New England states.

FAIR-SIZED SUM IS DROPPED

Burley Sports Said to Have Grabbed Wrong End of the Stick.

Large sums of money are reported to have been dropped by the sports of Burley as a result of the wrestling tournament at that place last night. Griffo had thrown his man twice in previous bouts, and with the excellent wrestling he had shown in the course of the tournament at Denver and his achievements in Salt Lake and other large cities his friends and fans were not surprised to see him win the match, and they said to have given odds as high as two to one. Details of the match are lacking, and it is not known just how low Griffo lasted.

HORSE THIEVES GIVEN SENTENCE
Henry Workman and Ray Armstrong, of Burley, and Fred and Ray Armstrong, convicted horse thieves, were sentenced last week to an indeterminate sentence in the state penitentiary for a term of from six months to two years, where they had a carload of stolen horses in their possession, many of which came from Twin Falls and Cassia.

M. J. Sweely assisted the county attorney for the state and W. P. Guthrie and E. V. Larsen appeared for the defense. The prisoners were taken to the penitentiary on Tuesday.

MURDER CASE IS UP FOR TRIAL
Judge Stocklecker Goes to Malheur for Purpose of Holding Court.

After disposing of the first installment of bootlegging cases on Saturday last, Judge Stocklecker adjourned court for two weeks in order to take up the cases on the criminal calendar at Malheur. One of the important cases which he will take up is that of a man charged with the holding up of a resort in the restricted district of the Wood River town, in which one man was killed and a judge will return to Twin Falls on Monday, however, to try a couple of civil cases which have already been set. The trial is set for November 8.

NOT GUILTY, VERDICT RETURNED
The jury in the case of the state versus Virgil Hill, who was tried in the district court, returned a verdict of not guilty. Hill was arrested on a charge of larceny for alleged theft of a horse from James L. Hancock of Twin Falls.

DECLARES TWIN FALLS PEOPLE LOST HEAVILY BY NEGLECT

John W. Hardin of Kimberly Claims That Failure to Provide Exhibit of Literature at Omaha Loan Show Worked Hardship on Travel—Every Other Town in Idaho Well Represented, This Town Completely by Its Absence.

That the Twin Falls tract has lost thousands of dollars and perhaps its opportunity to secure hundreds of new settlers for the land throughout its full extent, is what John W. Hardin, of Kimberly, claims in a letter to the Omaha Loan show, which was held in Omaha, Neb., in the statement of John W. Hardin, of Kimberly who returned to his home the latter part of the week after his visit to the Omaha Loan show. He said that he had been to the Omaha Loan show, and that he had seen the exhibit of the Twin Falls tract, and that he had been disappointed to find that it was not there. "SONGS IN THE NIGHT"
Psalm 130—Oct. 23

"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."—Psalm xxxvi, 2.

We are still in the night of weeping, sickness, sorrow, sighing and crying continue, and will continue until the glorious morning of Messiah's Kingdom. How glad we are that we have learned that the glorious change will come to earth. The prophet David expresses this thought saying, "weeping may endure the night, but joy cometh in the morning" (Psalm xxi, 1). St. Paul breatheth of the same sentiment when he declared, "The whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now, waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God" (Romans viii, 19). The sons of God in glory will, with their Lord, constitute Emmanuel's Kingdom.

At present these sons of God are comparatively little known or recognized among men; frequently they are considered "peculiar people," because of their zeal for righteousness and truth and for God. "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear when we shall appear we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is;" and we shall share His glory, honor and immortality with Him as the Divine Heirs of all the families of the earth.

"A Song of Deliverance,"
Our lesson, the 6th Psalm, may properly have several applications. The first of these would be to Israel's deliverance from the Babylonian captivity, when Cyrus gave permission that all who desired to return to Palestine. About fifty-three thousand, a small company, availed themselves of this privilege and of his assistance. The people rejoiced in their deliverance from the turning away of Divine disfavor and the return to them of Divine favor and blessing. The pardon of their transgressions was a new sign of His presence in this privilege of returning to God's favor.

A secondary application of the Song is just before us. Israel has been in a far greater captivity in Christendom during the past eighteen centuries. She has the promise nevertheless of a mighty deliverance. The Cyrus who gave them liberty to return from the city of Babylon was a type of the great Messiah who is about to give full liberty for the return of God's ancient people to their native Palestine. St. Peter refers to this coming deliverance of Israel, in Romans xi, 25-26. The Deliverer will do more than merely together them. He will do that which the 6th Psalm has promised as the Apostle says, "This is My Covenant with them when I shall take away their sins." See also Jeremiah xxxiii, 16. Hebrews ix, 14.

Israel's sins have not yet been taken away, even as the world's sins have not yet been taken away. The great Redeemer indeed has died for sin, and He is the living Christ, but as yet He has only appeared in the presence of God for us—the Church—not for the world. He is only the Church's Advocate before the blessed, none except for those who desire to approach God, and these are the saintly only—such as love righteousness and hate iniquity.

The world is enslaved by sin. Death, the twin monarchs who are now reigning and causing mankind to groan. We were born in this enslaved condition, as the apostle declares, "Behold, I was shapen in iniquity, in sin did my mother conceive me." Our

"Songs in the Night He Sings"
While the whole creation groans under its load of sin and sorrow, the saintly few may sing, may rejoice, even in the midst of all the sorrows and to a worldwide Paradise which the results of sin as fully or even more fully than do others. The secret of their joy is two-fold: (1) They have experienced redemption from sin and death. (2) They have submitted their wills to His will. They obtained this new relationship by the way of faith in the Redeemer—faith in His blood of Atonement. They are under the "narrow way" of consecration to God—surrendering their own wills and covenanting to do the Divine will to the best of their ability, and the realization that all their life's affairs are in God's keeping and under His supervision gives rest to the heart. They have a rest and peace in this surrendered condition which they never knew when they sought to gratify self-will and ignored the right of their Creator to the homage of their hearts and the obedience of their lives. Those who have come to Jesus in response to His invitation find in Him a peace, a blessing, far beyond anything they could at first understand.

Similarly, these have joy and peace and songs of thankfulness to God because to them He grants a knowledge of His Divine purpose, and shows them things which are beyond the trials and tribulations of the present time—they see the glories that will follow the present time of suffering. They see that the Church, the saintly few of all denominations and of all nationalities, are prospective heirs of God—heirs of glory, honor and immortality and association with the Redeemer in His glorious Kingdom. This encourages them. They see also the outlines of the Divine Program for the blessing of all the families of the earth. When they thus perceive that God is interested in their dear ones who are not saints, and interested in the whole human family, very few of whom are saints, it causes them rejoicing. When they thus perceive that God has arranged that through Christ and the glorified Church all the families of the earth be blessed, it makes them joyful in the house of their pilgrimage—while waiting for their own change from human to divine nature. Seeing that God's divine plan for the redemption of the world of mankind, they are contented, and are glad to have God's will done in themselves and in all the earth. They continue to pray for the Kingdom of God, which is to accomplish God's will on earth as it is done in heaven.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, nervous diseases, foul breath, salty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't sleep a minute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Expecting it to prove a "cure-all" It is only adapted for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "hooze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the best pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy.

AMERICAN INDUSTRY ABROAD.
 Commercial Agent Wood, reports that the use of American sewing machines continues to increase in that country. The adoption of Western styles of clothing is in part responsible for the enlarging demand for sewing machines. Mr. Wood remarks that if the native prejudice against machines could be overcome, or if a machine could be devised for invalids, the making of kimonos alone would add wonderfully to the demand for this article of American invention. Most Japanese articles of clothing are simply basted together; they are taken apart for washing, and the threads are used again.
 The manufacturers stimulate sales by establishing schools to which the people are taught to use the machines, or agents visit homes for the same purpose. In China prizes are offered for the best work done; and the enclosed needlework on colored silk in these countries excites the interest and admiration of patrons of art. Says Mr. Wood:
 "Six makes of American sewing machines are handled in the principal cities of Japan, but most of the orders go to one firm. Two others are reported as showing gains and two makes are new to the market this year. Advertising has been utilized in pushing some of these machines, but much improvement could be made in this feature.
 "The prices of treadle machines range from $20 to $40, and one agent was reported as advertising to rebate half the price to the buyers of the first 50 machines. Hand machines for table use are sold for $3.50 to $4, some German single stitchers selling the lowest, but results are not satisfactory. The use of the latter style of machine is probably an educator or incentive to the early purchase of standard treadle machines, and manufacturers can probably afford to charge them off to advertising and relegate them to the scrap heap."
 He notes that the new duties laid on machines and needles have considerably advanced their cost, but believes that the sewing machine trade in the far East is destined to rapid advancement.

IS IDLENESS INCREASING?
 Returns for the first six months of this year made to the bureau of labor statistics from 190 trades unions having an aggregate membership of 130,000 show that the percentage of idle members was larger than for the corresponding period of any previous year since 1908, when it was affected by conditions resulting from the panic of 1907. The percentage of idleness from all causes for the periods under review were 24.8 for the present year, 19.4 last year, 22.3 in 1909 and 24.7 in 1908. It is significant, however, that a detailed consideration of the various causes of idleness shows that nearly the whole increase in the percentage this year is due to "unemployment" of men able and willing to work but unable to obtain it. Another notable feature of the returns is the showing that the increases do not run evenly through the various trades represented. In the clothing, food, printing, liquor and tobacco trades nearly any increase in the percentage of idleness is recorded. On the other hand, an increase is quite distinct in the metal, building and transportation trades.

LONG TERM IN PENITENTIARY
 Joseph Miller, who was on trial in the district court on a charge of forgery, was found guilty by the jury, and given an indeterminate sentence of from two to 14 years in the state penitentiary. Some months ago Miles passed a check purporting to be signed by the Bridge Clothing company on a ranch near Three Creeks. The money was soon discovered, however, and Miles taken into custody.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS
 (Receipt by "Marion Harland")
 Creab and roll several handfuls of friable crackers. Put a layer in the bottom of a buttered pudding dish. Wet this with a mixture of oyster and milk, slightly warmed. Next, have a layer of oysters. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and lay small bits of Cottolene upon them. Then another layer of moistened crumbs, and so on until the dish is full. Let the top layer be of crumbs, thicker than the rest, and beat an egg into the milk you pour over them. Stick bits of Cottolene thickly over it, cover the dish, set it in the oven, bake half an hour. If the dish be large remove the cover, and brown by setting it on the upper grating of oven, or by holding a hot shovel over it.

YOUR SAFETY

All cases of impaired vision cannot be cured by glasses, but by far the greater number can. However, it is of great importance that your eyes are not experimented with, for if glasses are not the remedy required, their use is most dangerous. If you submit your case to me, you are safe whether you need them or not. If you need them, proper ones will be furnished; if not, you will be promptly informed of the fact.

SOCIETY

A "pink wedding" of the week was that of Miss Bessie (Katherine) Glenn and Mr. William (Katherine) Brown, which took place on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. L. L. Brockbridge on Seventh street north. Rev. John J. Gourley officiating.

The cozy luncheon in the large living room of the Brockbridge home where the ceremony was performed was banked with palms and ferns and ribbons of similar to form an improvised altar. The same color scheme of green and white prevailed throughout the house, palms, ferns, similar and white carnations being used most effectively.

Miss Bessie Glenn, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, Miss Marie Elouaugh served as best man. Master Herman Brockbridge bore the ring on a silver tray. Miss Sarah Halston bore the wedding march from Lehighville, while the bridal procession took their places, and during the ceremony softly rendered the "Flower Song."

In the dining room where an elaborate wedding supper was served, the large table was centered with a handsome fern, about which similar and white carnations were attractively arranged. From the chandelier ropes of similar and satin ribbon were draped to the four corners of the table where they were fastened by candle sticks.

The ceremony was strictly private. Only relatives and close friends being present. Miss Glenn, whose home is in Grove City, Pa., has been visiting in the city since last December. Mr. Brown came to Twin Falls in March from Nevada, and is employed by the firm of Strauss & Glazier. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip and upon their return will be at home to their friends in the east.

Chaffing Dish Supper

Miss Vesta Thomas was hostess on Tuesday evening to a number of girl friends at a chaffing dish supper and theater party at the Isis theater. The guests each prepared one course to the supper on a chaffing dish, the whole party later giving a chaffinard for the Glenn-Bunce wedding in return for which the groom invited them to have supper after the theater at Elbert & Rumbold.

The party included Misses Margaret Conway, Mary Miller, Leola Williams, Bird Wall, Harriet Warner, Marie Sawyer, Marie Rose, Margaret Wilson, Nellie Teasdale, Fern Costello, Florence Costello, Eugenia Hall, Ruby Booth, Allene Graham, Floss Brunk and Hulah Henstock.

Quiet Wedding Solemnized

Miss Pyl Underwood and Mr. B. Frank Foreman, both of Buhl, were quietly married at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning by Rev. John L. Gourley at the pastor's study in the Presbyterian church.

DAINTY

There is something dainty about eating on the Westinghouse Electric Heater. Stoves that appeal to the majority of women. Maybe it's because a woman doesn't like the kind of stove, maybe it's because she likes to talk to her husband while she cooks, or maybe it appeals to her.

One trial makes it necessary. If you are willing to do without it, that means you haven't tried it.

Save Time Now—Dangerous Delay

A small pain now may not seem important, but it may be a warning which nature is issuing that something serious is about to take place. Rheumatism seldom develops in a night. It might pay you to heed the warning now and thereby save much time, to say nothing of possible suffering.

Hot Lake Sanatorium is conducted especially for the benefit of sick and tired people, and nature has here established a sure place which with the aid of skilled physicians and attendants has really cured thousands.

Write for booklet which in a readable way describes the method of administering nature's cure. Ask railway agents for special rate tickets.
