

LOCAL TRAFFIC IMPRESSES OFFICIAL

NEW VICE PRESIDENT OF U. R. AND O. L. INSPECTORS DURING Development of Possibilities During Four Years Since Last Visit is Source of Surprise to J. A. Monroe, who is Making Special Trip West.

The traffic possibilities of the Twin Falls country proved to be of considerable surprise and interest to J. A. Monroe, who a month ago was elected vice president of the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line railroads, in charge of the traffic of the Harriman system in this territory, and who, immediately after this promotion began a thorough trip of inspection throughout the West, visiting Twin Falls and other points along the Minkola branch last Saturday.

Different View of Situation "The progress that has been made in the last four years between my last and present visit to the Twin Falls territory is astounding," declared J. A. Monroe in conversation with a representative of the News. "I now have a new premise upon which to base my plans regarding the traffic of this country. You have a live city and an established agricultural community surrounding it, something that was only speculatively expected at the time of my previous trip.

"This tour of mine is merely to get better acquainted with this territory, and I surely think that what I have seen on this branch will be of much ultimate benefit to both of us."

O. S. L. Officers in Party. Accompanying Mr. Monroe, were J. A. Reeves, general freight agent; D. E. Burley, general passenger agent; C. J. McMill, general auditor, and Joe Priest, industrial agent, of the Oregon Short Line. Upon the arrival of the party in Twin Falls, C. D. Thomas and J. Wright placed their automobiles at the service of the officials. During their stay also, an informal reception was held at the Commercial club.

OPTICIAN REPUTATES WRITER Twin Falls Man Defends Profession Against Magazine Attacks A Reply to "Why Glasses Don't Fit," the recent article published in the "Facts" magazine, written by Algermon Tassin on the subject, "Why Our Glasses Don't Fit," has aroused a great deal of interest to members of glasses. They tell how Mr. Tassin was fitted with a pair of glasses that were all wrong, and state further that all the trial cases used by oculists and opticians all over the country are inadequate and unreliable. As this seemed to be a broad statement from one who is not versed, Dr. Robert A. Parrott of the Parrott Optical company has written an article in opposition to the optician, oculist and optometry in general, writes for one of these two reasons: Either, he has been the victim of a fake, or he is ignorant of the subject which he attempts to discuss. The article by Mr. Tassin, mentioned, is without foundation, unsubstantiated by any good named authority, and is easily refuted and refuted by any man who understands opticians and oculists, when he accuses of being incompetent, and the editor of one of the magazines states that the article is "a piece of distinguished oculists, but does not give their names. Hence, the weight of the whole article falls flat. Had Mr. Tassin been a bona fide optician, instead of the second best, he would not have suffered the damage to his eye. He falls to say who that best optician was, and he does not say he was more than an ordinary "fakir" in the optical business.

"Mr. Tassin's article is interesting reading from a humorous standpoint, if from no other, for it shows a lack of knowledge of facts regarding the question which he has tried to elucidate to the reading public. If he had been more careful in his examination and not confined his investigation to a few fakes, as I am led to believe he did, he would have discovered the difference between oculists and opticians in states where the practice of optometry is regulated by law, and where men well educated in their profession and well known to the public, by their eyes scientifically and give relief to thousands of sufferers from defective eyes.

NEW QUARTERS ARE SECURED Public Library to Occupy Two Rooms in Court House After First of the Year

After the first of the new year the public library, which becomes the prototype of the city on January 1, will remove to more commodious quarters in the new court building. Two rooms, handsomely furnished, have been donated for the use of this public institution on the first floor where it will be most easily accessible to the reading public for whose benefit it is conducted.

The election of the new board for the coming year resulted in a continuance in office of all of the old members, except C. H. Robbins, who has hitherto acted as treasurer, his office being given to W. H. Nixon, the city treasurer, with the transfer of the library to the city. The board as it now stands consists of the following members: C. M. Elliott, president; Zena Smith, first vice president; Mrs. W. F. Pike, second vice president; Mrs. Burton E. Morse, secretary and W. H. Nixon, treasurer.

Plans are now practically completed for the benefit dance to be given on December 15 at Dreamland, at which time it is expected that a large sum will be realized with which the board intends to clear up all the present library debts, that it may be turned over to the city with a clean slate.

Dance, Costume Affair The dance is to be somewhat in the nature of a costume affair, each dancer to represent either by dress or decoration of some form a well-known book. Invitations will be issued to all the names available to the patronesses, but there are more to be given as a reminder, for the dance is open to the public and attendance by everyone cordially urged. The tickets will be $1.00 each, and will be on sale at the City Pharmacy, Sedgwick store and the Skeels-Wiley Drug company.

The patronesses for the occasion will be Mesdames G. W. Kennell, the Hon. H. Graham, Mrs. H. C. Colburn, Harry Allen, D. C. Watson, H. R. Grant, K. H. Dixon, W. H. Greenhow, C. H. Chapin, O. M. Elliott and C. D. Thomas.

BEET FACTORY FOR TRACT IS PROPOSED TWIN FALLS FARMERS ASKED TO CONTRACT 5000 ACRES Utah Interests Behind Movement for Establishment of Industry—Price Offered is $4.95 per Ton at the Cars—Location, Indefinite at Present.

Twin Falls is confronted with the possibility of having a beet sugar plant in operation either contiguous to the limits of the city or somewhere in the Twin Falls country, if the plans of a certain individual, David Eccles of Ogden, Utah, aided by a committee of three of the Magic City's business men, materialize. Monday morning a meeting of the farmers was called to discuss the plan in the Commercial club rooms, at which time the proposal to construct the factory, upon compliance with certain conditions, was discussed. The condition imposed is that 5000 acres for five years be contracted for the raising of beets at $4.75 per ton, f. o. b. the cars.

Thanksgiving

Arain God's bounteous hand has spread The tables of the poor with bread— Arain our grateful fervent songs Ascend to Whom all praise belongs; Acost, O God, our thankful hearts To Thee on this Thanksgiving Day.

The husbandman has sown the seed, And Thou didst bless his work indeed; He trusted in Thy said Word, And harvest gave to his reward; So on Thy promises we stay On this our best Thanksgiving Day.

The cattle on a thousand hills, The wild bird with his thrilling trills, Fish of the sea—the lion, bear, All yield to Thy protecting care, May all creation own Thy way, Thank God of this Thanksgiving Day.

We thank Thee for the sun's bright light, The silvery moon, the stars of night, For water pure—for fragrant air, And for Thy tender watchful care— For all the blessings Thou dost send On this our best Thanksgiving Day.

We thank Thee for the Gospel truth, For bread of life—for hope and youth, E'en troubles great—for grief and care, Knowing they will our souls prepare, Straighten the path and clear the way, For God's own best Thanksgiving Day.

Great God, accept our thankful songs, While hymns of praise swell on our tongues; Touch us in mercy, now, in our need, Grant we may ever with Thee stay And join in heaven's Thanksgiving Day.

FINE ELK HEAD BROUGHT HOME

J. H. Beatty of Twin Falls Captures Splendid Specimen in Jackson Hole Country. A six-point elk's head, with a spread of 49 inches to the antlers attracted considerable attention on the street last Friday, and was said by many to be one of the most perfect specimens seen in many moons.

Mostly because the credit of bringing down the monarch of the forest, although W. L. Helenecke and C. L. Smith of Hollister brought home a fine specimen, but the only thing which mars the glory of their adventure is that no one knows which did it. That is—no one outside of Helenecke and Smith. They each claim to have special inside information as to who was the "man behind the gun," but it is a notable fact that they are "diverging" up on the question.

Mr. Beatty had a hard chase, disabling his horse, but says the sport was well worth the hard work. He jumped the animal in the thick brush and wounded him the first shot, but it took two more to bring him down. The head has been sent to a taxidermist in Salt Lake City to be mounted, and the friends of all the party are feeling very good about the success.

Mr. Beatty believes their lack of success earlier in the hunt was due to the fact that insufficient snow had fallen at the time. However, snow fell just after they left, it was about three feet deep, which causes the elk to come down out of the mountains for food, and he is of the opinion the hunting will be better a little later.

Horse is Disabled Mr. Beatty had a hard chase, disabling his horse, but says the sport was well worth the hard work. He jumped the animal in the thick brush and wounded him the first shot, but it took two more to bring him down. The head has been sent to a taxidermist in Salt Lake City to be mounted, and the friends of all the party are feeling very good about the success.

LINEMAN HANGS DEAD FROM POLE

Death is Supposed to Have Resulted from Contact with Wire Carrying 2300 Volts—Train is Held While Telephone Men Remove Remains. Suspended from the first pole outside of a station on the Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Power company's plant at Wendell, the dead body of W. L. Rose was found Friday evening at about 8 o'clock, having occurred as the result of contact with a live wire.

The body was removed by O. M. Dow of the Mountain States Telephone company, who happened in Wendell at the time. Mr. Dow was about to board the Oregon Short Line train, when his attention was called by one of the trainmen to the body hanging from the pole. At his request the train was held, and a set of spurs provided from the depot. He removed the body from the pole, and the body was taken to the crew working over it for an hour, without avail. Rose is said to be working alone, and from the fact that he was alone, it is believed that the man who was running what is known as a "hot wire" and if so, had completed his work.

It is said that 2300 volts passed through Rose's head, which was found hanging by the safety appliance used by linemen, the body bent backward with the arms extended, but neither touching the wire.

The dead man had lived in Wendell for some time, where he is spoken of in terms of the highest esteem. He leaves a wife and three small children, the youngest being only two and the youngest boy ten days ago. The inquest was held Friday night, but the finding of the jury has not been returned. The body was shipped to Ohio Sunday for interment at the home of Mrs. Rose's parents.

Boys Plays with Death It is a peculiar coincidence that the following day, Saturday, another death occurred at a station on the Great Shoshone Mountain Home. John Rohrer, the young son of C. T. Rohrer of that city, in company with another boy, who had been playing in the vicinity of the power lines of the Great Shoshone company, and contrived a hook with which they grasped the lines. The coils of the hook broke the instant the boy touched the wire, but the other, although knocked down, escaped unharmed.

INTEREST GROWS IN MOVEMENT Men and Religion Propaganda Gaining Ground Throughout East On Sunday November 29, a great meeting was held at Boise in connection with the Men and Religion Forward movement. It was addressed by Henry W. Arnold, who is assisting the work.

Mr. Arnold spoke on "The Kingship of Man," and his address was devoted to demonstration of what is necessary to bring about a better world. He gave four requisites of Christian character. The first, he said, was conviction—not a mere professed belief, but a true conviction of right. The second, was necessity for right thinking. The speaker declared that the man who allowed himself to be taken in by the wrong thing would soon be the wrong thing presented to his mind. The third, was the responsibility of a man for the influence he exercises in connection with his religion. Mr. Arnold spoke perhaps more forcefully than during any other portion of the address. There was no limitation in the number of those who attended. It reached on an on, he said, for generations after his death. The fourth requisite designated by the speaker was to go on to oppose evil. There was no man, said the speaker, who could fight temptation successfully, unless he had the power that comes through Christ's redemption.

MAN YARBIDGE MINES ARE SHOWING SPLENDID PROMISE

Don C. Bryan Says Excellent Results Are Being Obtained by Many Operators and Prospects of Camp Warm Water Better Since Inception—Bulk of Freight Now Going in Via Twin Falls Route.

That general conditions in the camp of Yarbidge are improving steadily and that the outlook in a mining sense was never better, is the opinion of Don C. Bryan, superintendent of the Yarbidge mine, who is now engaged on a 500-foot contract for tunnel work on the claims.

Mr. Bryan in discussing the various mines of the district yesterday said: "On the Yarbidge we are now in about 75 feet drifting with the vein. We are taking out rock with an average value of over 20 to the ton from a vein varying in width from three to five feet."

Mr. Bryan has with him some splendid samples of this rock showing free gold plainly. The ore is a soft quartz, very easy to work but will not all likelihood haul with depth. The vein is a true fissure outcropping in several places up the face of the hill, and a number of holes have been put down to enable them to accurately estimate the extent of the ore body. If the vein holds at depth, and there is no reason whatever to suppose that it will not, it is expected that it will be put in early in the spring. A force of six men is now being worked in three shifts on the property.

Mr. Bryan is taking in a supply of rails, all pipe and a car, as well as general winter supplies and does not expect to come out again until the first of December. The roads from Twin Falls are in good shape and on the trip coming out he passed about 30 freight outfits going into camp. The death road has been sandy interfered with by inclement weather conditions, he says, and the great bulk of the freight now going into the district is being shipped via Twin Falls.

CHURCHES UNITE FOR THANKSGIVING

UNION SERVICES TO BE HELD—REV. SHOEMAKER TO PREACH. Presbyterians Provide Meeting-Place for Morning's Program, Which Will Be Marked by Anthems and Sermon by Christian Pastor.

Thanksgiving Day will be duly observed by the churches of Twin Falls this year with a union service to be held at the Presbyterian church 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Rev. B. F. Shoemaker of the Christian church, presiding over the program for the occasion will be two anthems, "Break Forth Into Joy," and "Holy Art Thou." The following is the order of the service: Prelude—Orchestra. Doxology. Invocation.

Reading the reading, selection 51. Anthem, "Break Forth Into Joy"—Caleb Slippor. Scripture lesson. Hymn 497. Sermon—Rev. B. F. Shoemaker. Anthem—"Holy Art Thou" (Largo, from "Korsets" Handel). Benediction.Dismissal.

BEE-KEEPERS TO FEDERATE. Steps Taken at Enthusiastic Meeting to Join National Association. The meeting of the Bee-keepers' association held at the Commercial club rooms Saturday afternoon was well attended and much enthusiasm was displayed.

The conclusion of routine business, the matter of joining the national association was taken up and favorably received by all the members. It was explained that it would be necessary to add to the membership of the local association before it would be possible to join the national organization. One of the great advantages in taking this step is that Twin Falls will then be entitled to an inspector for the purpose of placing the bees in the bee industry—and all members were urged to use their personal endeavors to help increase the enrollment.

POOR HOUSE FOR GOOD PLAYERS

Josephine Dreyfus Company in Excellent Melodrama. By Nox. Twin Falls does not deserve the new "opera-house," that has been newly awarded for as long a time as now. It is not the famous halls whose literature companies hold forth at the present time—if its support of an excellent actress in a live bit of dramatic play is not a credit to the degree of appreciation which either brings a traveling production to an out of the way town or warns away because of a record of starvation nights.

In spite of a sparsely populated house, I venture that there was not 225 all told in "Miss Josephine Dreyfus" an adaptation of a play which, under another name, has scored a recent triumph at the Lyric theater Monday night. Miss Dreyfus' acting was as good as, if not better than, any ever seen in Twin Falls, and with the exception of E. F. Hawkins, her husband, she was supported by an excellent new company, all of whom were far above the average troupe that dares to face this precarious circuit.

"DEFFREYS" OBSERVE WEDDING

The Anniversary is Celebrated With Due "Formality." The twentieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hawkins, which was celebrated with a Dutch luncheon at the Rogerson cafe Tuesday evening, in addition to the Dreyfus company, now playing in the Magic City, which is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boone, the latter being billed as Miss Margie Harlow, James Ellis, Bert Porter and Miss Naitala Warfield, several Twin Falls friends of the "Dreyfus" were invited guests. Many novelties and unique utensils were bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins, and in turn, the favors given were tin kitchie ware.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES IS FILED

The case of Ellen E. Smith versus Lillian and Joseph L. Daube, in which the plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $100 was filed in her case on November 21. The complaint alleges that the defendants unlawfully entered the premises of the plaintiff at lot 7, block 21 of the original town of Twin Falls and tore down a portion of a fence and removed a small outbuilding, in their answer Mr. and Mrs. Daube do not deny having torn down the fence and removed the building, but believed that the property belonged to them, and that they were acting within their legal rights.

DIAMOND DISPLAY COSTS $5000.

Stack Placed on Sale by C. D. Anderson and Co. in Commercial Club. One of the most expensive and complete displays of diamonds that has ever been exhibited, and placed on sale at Twin Falls, was the stock owned by Anderson and Co., located in the Commercial club, at reduced prices last week. The stones, which are uniformly clear, brilliant and brilliant, are being offered at a very low price, and may recover the money which has been invested in them. Their total value amounts to over $5000. The diamonds include a number of various sorts of mountings, are one of the important features of the holiday unloading sale which Mr. Anderson began three weeks ago.

FILER

Filer, Nov. 30.—Deputy Sheriff Harman was in town Friday on business. Mrs. E. Ripley has a sister from South Dakota visiting her. The dance Saturday night was very well attended and proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

Work on the new meat market building being erected on Main street by Elms & Alexander was started Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tantorfo leave today for their home in Oregon. They have made many friends here who regret their departure.

The time card on the Short Line is in effect. The trains come and go at any old time without regard to the convenience of the public or Uncle Sam's mail.

W. D. Parsons received word last Thursday that his father had died of his home in South Dakota, and he left on the evening train to be present at the funeral.

Mrs. H. E. Curran left Saturday for Portland where she will join her husband for the winter. The house here has been rented during their absence to William Thompson.

The biggest dance of the season will be given at the opera house Thanksgiving night. Be sure and attend. Splendid music has been engaged and a large number of out-of-town dancers will be here.

W. A. Smith and family left Tuesday for Arcadia, Florida, where they have bought land and will make it their home if they like the climate they retain their farm here.

They are dissatisfied with the progress of Idaho in general has lined up behind Governor Hawley on his attitude in the Robbott pardon affair. In fact, it is safe to say that nine-tenths of all the people endorse all that the governor has said in his criticism of the pardon. It is the greatest disgrace of the Taft administration.

Dr. Armes has rented one of the new Dooley houses and expects to shortly move into it and make Filer his home. He will enter actively into the practice here, and, in fact, is already answering whatever calls are made upon him.

Word has been received from the Bowers family that they landed at Los Angeles safely.

MURTAUGH

Murtaugh, Nov. 30.—While on his way to Murtaugh for hay, Oren Strong's team took fright at a passing horse and in endeavoring to stop them, Mr. Strong was dragged under the horses and quite seriously hurt. He was taken to Mr. Edson's and his wife and Dr. Morgan were immediately sent for. A broken breast bone is the most serious injury that occurred, and it is reported that he is getting along as well as can be expected. The wagon was almost demolished, but the horses were practically unharmed.

William F. Jones has sold his ranch to George Tracy. Mr. Jones left last week with his car of household goods for Montida, Mont. Mrs. Jones will visit in Hamsen for a few weeks before joining her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fredrickson were in Milner Sunday looking up business prospects. C. W. Fredrickson and J. F. Ingard went hunting in the hills last week. They were fortunate in bringing back a few sage hens.

HANSEN

Hansen, Nov. 30.—Business has so increased at R. W. Newbery's lunch counter that he was compelled to add more counter and equipment to take care of his trade. He has also installed another pool table.

W. C. Rose was in from Artesian City last Thursday.

Last Thursday evening, as the west bound freight train was switching at Bickel station, a box car was turned over, blocking traffic. The portion of the train ahead of the obstruction ran into Hansen, where it was sidetracked, the engine going down the line for the section crew. With the assistance of the section man, the obstruction was moved sufficiently to permit traffic. Both evening passenger trains were delayed several hours. No one was injured when the car went over.

A social dance was held at the Hamilton hall last Friday evening with supper at Mrs. Pearson's. A pleasant time was had.

Staturday visitors to Twin Falls were as follows: Elvie Laycock, Frank Hampton, Nelson Wilson and Professor Peart.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

A SQUARE DEAL

It is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines... all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle wrappers and these are attested under oath as being complete and correct.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles in them, viz., pure triple-refined glycerine.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or other organs.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hacking coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages— which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof.

WICHITA CRIME

HENRY CLAY BEATLE... TO GALLOP WITH A SMILE... Admits Killing in Signed Statement... Made Game Time... Secret Kept by Official Advisers...

Richmond, Va., Nov. 29.—Henry Clay Beatle, the assassin of Governor Manning, is reported to have written a confession to his young wife, although the confession was not made public until after he had been sentenced to the electric chair.

The confession was made public in the rounds of a "dinner" given by the Rev. Dr. Beattie at the residence of the ministers who had labored with Beatle. As a matter of fact, it was acknowledged by the minister who first admitted his guilt November 18th after he entered the death cell and before the final appeal for a commutation of sentence was made to Governor Manning.

Beatle's confession was followed by the statement of the attending minister, who stated that he had seen Beatle in the two standing ministers and is the only statement that was made and will be made public by them.

Beatle's attitude throughout the trial and the imprisonment was a study for a psychologist. He read the newspapers with avidity, always referring to his crime as "the deed" and never to the crime charged against me. Much that was published concerning the details was not true, but he would not let out the barefaced statements that remained.

SOLDIERS AT BOISE BARRACKS MAY GO TO CHINA... Speculation Rife as to Possibility With Regard to Enforcing of Terms of Boxer Treaty—Men Anxious for Service.

Federal troops at Boise barracks, as elsewhere in the country, are taking a deep interest in the information originating in Washington which effected that the state department would probably make a request of the war department for troops to be sent from Manila to China.

Officers are speculating as to the probable regiment or regiments to be selected for the Chinese port. At present the Third, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Thirtieth, Eighteenth and Twenty-first regiments of infantry, and a part of the Twentieth infantry, are in the Philippines, as are also the Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth regiments of cavalry.

Break Up All Assemblies... Special police were given orders when they assembled at police headquarters tonight to break up any assembly where gathered large numbers, and to arrest those who resisted or who attempted to speak on the streets, whether within proscribed limits or not.

Important Matter Coming up at December Term... The supreme court yesterday set the date of number of trials to be heard at the coming session, beginning December 4, as follows:

Brooks against Capital State bank, December 8. Humphries against Idaho Gold Mines Development company, December 7. Howard against Grimes Pass Placer Mining company, December 7.

The court has also granted the petition for the abrogation of the case of the state and H. T. West against the Twin Falls Land & Water company, which was heard last spring and decision granted in favor of the state and West.

Home Visitors... Excursion East, Via C. & N. October 14th, limited for return to November 31st, November 18th, and December 21st, and 22, limited to 60 days from date of sale.

COLLABORER WITH GOD

Nehemiah, 1-12. Dec. 1.

"Watch ye, stand fast in the faith; hold ye the beginning of the word, unto the end."—1 Cor. 13:13.

Nehemiah's prayer for Jerusalem and the holy interests centered there continued for months before the answer suddenly came. The king, however, served as confidential secretary, made a banquet, the queen being present as well as Nehemiah and others. Everybody was smiling and joyous. He assured the king that he would be a collaborer with God. The king noticed that his trusted secretary had a sadness which showed through his smiles. Finding that he was not ill he asked him what was the trouble of heart and inquired, as to what it was. It was a dangerous moment for Nehemiah, for the king of the time was full of suspicion and suspicious. The sadness might have been construed to mean a loss of interest in the king and his affairs, or a hidden thing discovered for such an occasion of rejoicing.

Nehemiah's prayer instantly went up to God for wisdom to know how to answer for he did not record the answer, although he had prayed beforehand. He knew that the Almighty could hear his desire of heart, uttered or unuttered. He knew that the needed wisdom for a wise and successful reply which did not offend the king but satisfied his interest. He told the king that his sadness was because of the bones of his fathers was ruined. The result was that the king appointed him special governor of Judah with full authority and jurisdiction to the work and to call unto the governors of surrounding provinces for aid if necessary.

Wisdom Shown by Methods

That Nehemiah was a wise man and no more dramatic was evidenced in the practical methods he employed. A man of wealth he had a business and his own expedition, aside from the routine of soldiers, etc. furnished by the king. A few months' journey brought them to Jerusalem. The object of his coming was kept secret. He was merely a visitor for a few days, seeing and hearing. Then by night he made an inspection of the broken parts and the heaps of ruins from which they might be rebuilt. He saw the feasibility of the scheme and outlined in his mind the method. Then he called for the elders and prominent representatives of the people, explained to them his object in coming, and showed them his authority from the king, and suggested a method for the beginning of the repair work immediately.

He perceived the necessity for great caution, for accusations were on every hand as anxious to hinder them as he was anxious for success. The Samaritans were jealous. They had a rivalry of schisms and poverty and helplessness of the Jews—thinking it not wrong to pillage them as opportunity offered. Nehemiah's plan was approved. The leading men in each quarter of the city joined in the work with the laborers, and each built the wall most nearly in front of his own home quarters. This was a wise plan for each would be interested in having the wall strong in his own neighborhood, and a certain degree of proper pride would attach to his work as a prominent monument of the builder's skill—his credit or discredit.

Nehemiah joined in the work with the others, his accompanying servants participating also. His spirit of zeal was an inspiration to the discouraged people, who took heart and hope began to thrive. Then came discouragement and opposition from the unbelief. An attack was even planned, but Nehemiah's prayer for Jerusalem and the holy interests centered there continued for months before the answer suddenly came. The king, however, served as confidential secretary, made a banquet, the queen being present as well as Nehemiah and others. Everybody was smiling and joyous. He assured the king that he would be a collaborer with God. The king noticed that his trusted secretary had a sadness which showed through his smiles. Finding that he was not ill he asked him what was the trouble of heart and inquired, as to what it was. It was a dangerous moment for Nehemiah, for the king of the time was full of suspicion and suspicious. The sadness might have been construed to mean a loss of interest in the king and his affairs, or a hidden thing discovered for such an occasion of rejoicing.

Nehemiah's prayer instantly went up to God for wisdom to know how to answer for he did not record the answer, although he had prayed beforehand. He knew that the Almighty could hear his desire of heart, uttered or unuttered. He knew that the needed wisdom for a wise and successful reply which did not offend the king but satisfied his interest. He told the king that his sadness was because of the bones of his fathers was ruined. The result was that the king appointed him special governor of Judah with full authority and jurisdiction to the work and to call unto the governors of surrounding provinces for aid if necessary.

Stand Fast in the Faith

It may be asked why Nehemiah's faithfulness and character were rewarded and what reward was his. We reply that a reward of character-development follows every good endeavor. The reward of these was his faithfulness. Nehemiah's time differs essentially from the reward of the faithful amongst the followers of Jesus. The latter are promised a share with the Master in His glorious Messianic Kingdom. "Fear not, little flock, it is your Father's good pleasure to give the Kingdom to you." He has said that overmuch will I grant to sit with me in My throne.

But Nehemiah could have no share in the same great lesson of character-development before Pentecost. He and others of his time who displayed faithfulness and loyalty did not personally meet the Lord. Paul in his letters tells they are undoubtedly included in the list. Of them the Apostle declared, "They had the testimony, that they should be made perfect." But they will receive their reward—a share in the earthly phase of the Kingdom, after the Church shall first have been glorified in the heavenly phase of the Kingdom. "For they without us shall not be made perfect, God having in reserve for us a better thing, for us."—Hebrews 11:38-40.

St. Paul's words in our text teach the same great lesson of character-development on the part of all who hope to be heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ their Lord. They must watch as well as pray, they must "stand fast in the faith." They must expect the trials of the world, the flesh and the Adversary. They must acquit themselves like men, "strong in the Lord and in the power of His mighty Word." They must be strongly developed by trials, difficulties and obstacles overcome in the name of the Lord and with His assistance. Thus shall they become more and more transformed by the renewing of their minds, and approach nearer and nearer to the glorious likeness of their Master. Whoever is in the school of Christ is there to study, practice along the lines of justice and of love. It is the work of a lifetime. We should not wait for the Lord to chasten us, but let us be so desirous of having the Lord's will done in us that we will scrutinize our thoughts. We should walk circumspectly.

"We will watch while we pray, With our lamps trimmed and burning; We will work while we wait, Till the Master's returning; We will sing and rejoice While each omen discerning."

BOISE THE CENTER OF NEW MOVEMENT

RELIGIOUS WORK TO BE CONDUCTED FROM CAPITAL CITY
 Organization Perfected at Buffalo a Year Ago has had Marvellous Success. Committees in Important Cities Carry Work to Small Towns.

An organization known as the "Men and Religion Movement," which has its inception at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1910, has reached this state, and headquarters at Boise, and is good work which has been outlined is thus brought home forcibly to the people of Idaho.

The work undertaken is of a religious and humanitarian nature and is being conducted by a committee of seven appointed at the Buffalo conference.

Ninety cities in the United States and Canada have been selected as centers. In each of these a committee of 10 has been organized to conduct the field work. Boise is one of these cities and the committee there is in charge of this territory.

The purpose of the movement is to bring to men to the sense of obligation to the church, and to arouse the church to a realization of its obligations to the people in connection with such subjects as organized work for boys, social service, relations between labor and capital and kindred questions. It aims to vitalize the church, on the one hand, in order that its power may be extended in ameliorating the conditions under which people live and improving the atmosphere through which they breathe on the other hand, it seeks to strengthen the church by bringing men more generally into participation in all its activities.

In each city an 8-day campaign will be conducted by a team of experts sent out by the committee of 10. The experts on each team cover all the subjects emphasized by the movement.

The eight-day campaign in Boise will be held February 10 to 18. It is the plan to have a great number of delegates present from the auxiliary towns, and as many other men as possible who may not be delegates. A great day's conference will be held at the same time. After that, campaign teams will be sent out from Boise to repeat the work in the auxiliary towns, as far as possible, bringing all the information gathered from the expert in the various departments of the program of the movement.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz. Mrs. F. H. Rogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

FEAST FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

Eleven Barrels of Canned Fruit Sent to Orphan Youngsters at Boise

Eleven barrels and a number of boxes of canned fruit were shipped from the Commercial club to the Children's home in Boise Saturday evening. In addition to this, a shipment has been made from Murtagh, but the quantity is not known. The goods, already packed for shipment, were noted by the Oregon Short Line officials on their visit, and when they learned who the recipients were to be, they at once offered free transportation, which was gladly accepted.

During the G. A. R. encampment last June, Mrs. Eckman of Boise explained the needs of the institution to the Twin Falls women, who at once took the matter in hand. Mrs. A. L. Bradley and Mrs. W. E. Palmer, being appointed as a committee to superintend the work. A very generous response was made, over 400 quarts of fruit being shipped to Boise.

Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and correct that and the headaches will disappear. For sale by all dealers.

A Thanksgiving

By Mrs. E. B. Darlington
Hollister, Idaho.

Father, I give my thanks to Thee
For the many things Thou hast given me;
I count them as pearls before Thine
eye,
From a heart where a treasure vault doth lie.

For the gracious deeds of a strong right hand,
For the love light gleams from my baby hand,
For the honest look in my neighbor's
eye,
For the strength of his soul where it knows no lie.

For the beauty of thought that remembers me,
And tenders its love and sympathy,
For a gentle word and a look of cheer,
And an understanding true and clear,
For the wonderful things the whole year brings,
With a chant of joy that with pleasure
rings,
Father, I bring my thanks to Thee
For the many things Thou hast given me.

THE BOOSTER SPIRIT

The work of the booster is an established occupation and the spirit of boast has done great things for Idaho. It also has worked wonders for Twin Falls, and so thoroughly has this fact been recognized that a grave danger has sprung into being as a result.

In the past Twin Falls has been a consistent boosting center. Literature extolling the virtues of land and climate, exhibits of grain and grasses which would compare favorably with any under the sun, lectures, lantern slides and picture post-cards have all played their parts, and the people of Twin Falls, at first, helped in the work with right good will.

A potato breakfast has been given to President Taft, and the governors of every state in the Union have been presented with samples of just what the Magic City can do in spud production. Stories of individual farms and newspaper writeups of whole tracts have been spread broadcast until it seemed that there remained nothing further to be done.
Every idea that seemed to contain a single germ of real usefulness has been brought into play, and finally the people of Twin Falls, metaphorically said to themselves, "Now let's sit back and watch her grow."

They had done their work and were ready to reap their reward. They had boasted insistently and scientifically, and the fruits of victory were within their grasp. Then, or so it would appear, they stopped a few minutes, just long enough to get ready to receive the first big consig-ment of homeseekers and settlers.
To a more or less degree they have been quietly receptive ever since.

Now this may not be the true explanation of the present status of affairs in the local boosting business, but it is as good an excuse as any other, and the fact that a halt took place is a distilled certainty. If anybody wants the evidence, he has only to walk up and down the main street of the town once or twice and he will get all that he seeks. If anyone desires to go deeper into the matter let him inquire just how much work has been done in the past 50 days by those whose duty it is to take care of the credit and prestige of Twin Falls abroad. Let him talk to any real estate man or any other business man who depends in part on the community advertising so liberally bought and paid for in the past by the Twin Falls people. Let him ask his neighbor, or, better still, probably himself.

And the Twin Falls Commercial club or any other organization is not as a unit, to blame in the slightest. It is the spirit of the people themselves, those who render possible the Commercial club, or the town of Twin Falls itself, for that matter, which is responsible, and which will continue to be blamable.

There is a remedy for this state of affairs. If there were not it would not be worth while calling attention to a deplorable condition.

All that is necessary is for the business men of the city to take hold of the situation in the old Twin Falls style, everybody pulling together, forgetting personal differences and petty jealousies and promoting the Twin Falls tract as a whole and not them-

Something That Will Interest Everybody

We have a nice yearly calendar laid away for all our patrons and want you to be sure and ask for one when you are in our store. It is the finest one we have ever given out and is yours for the asking. Our prices speak for themselves, but you will have to talk for a calendar and give us a reminder. We still have quite a large stock of diamonds on hand and will be pleased to have you come in and inspect them. We can make you prices that have never been thought of by any other merchant in this city. Every stone that we sell is absolutely guaranteed as represented or your money quickly refunded. We have sold a large number from our stock during the past week and every purchaser has been more than pleased with the money we have saved them. Let us save you some money—not only on your diamond purchase but on every article in our line that you intend buying for Christmas gifts. We know we can do it, and will do it. It's up to you to get all you can for your money—it's up to us to give you the best we can for your money. We will do our part. You will do yours, by coming in and letting us show you through the largest high grade stock in the city.

LOCAL BREVITIES

The next meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held at Pike's hall Friday evening, December 1. There will be an election of officers.

Mrs. B. D. Kerlin, a sister of Mrs. J. H. Wolfe, arrived in the city Saturday from Carlton, Nebraska. She will make her future home here.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday at 11 a. m., at the Episcopal church. The regular Sunday services will be held Sunday evening.

There will be no services at the Baptist church Sunday night on account of the absence of the pastor. The usual morning service will be held.

Mrs. Clara E. Scott and Miss Clara M. Scott of Belvidere, Illinois, mother and sister of Dr. R. C. Scott, arrived in the city Wednesday and will spend the winter here.

Mrs. A. L. Bradley has been appointed a delegate to the National Anti-Saloon congress, which convenes in Washington, D. C. December 12 to 14, by Governor Hawley.

J. A. Waters returned last week from Denver, where he attended the National Apple show, as a delegate from Twin Falls county, having been appointed by Governor Hawley.

Mrs. E. S. Johnson has left for Jarbidge to join her husband who is operating a saw mill in the camp and is very busy getting out lumber and timber for the mining enterprises.

A Harpo of Chicago, the newly elected vice-president of the Filer bank, was in Twin Falls, accompanied by A. D. McKinlay, Wednesday. Mr. Harpo will make his home in Filer.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hunt left for California last evening, where they will spend the winter. They will go first to Los Angeles and will later visit San Diego and do not expect to return until about April 1.

The degree of master mason was conferred upon J. C. Calvert of Hollister, and of fellowcraft upon J. O. and E. M. Gates, at a special meeting of Twin Falls lodge No. 46, F. and A. M., held last Friday evening.

W. A. Kent, the postmaster at Contact, Nevada, passed through Twin Falls on his way to Buhl Friday. He stated that the deal now pending with Seattle capitalists, if consummated, would insure the immediate growth of the copper camp.

Judge James W. Shields again exercised executive clemency in the case of Spencer Boll and Vern McBride, two Filer youngsters who were arraigned before the court Friday, charged with being incorrigibles. The judge released the boys on parole, and they have a reform school staring them in the face if they depart from paths of rectitude in future.

MARRIAGES

Stafford-Glandon

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother on Third avenue and Fourth street north when Elsie May became the bride of Don G. Stafford.

The open airway was decorated with autumn leaves into a bower. The bridal party came down the stairs and were met at the foot by Dr. Gourley, when the solemn words were spoken that made them man and wife. The bride wore a dainty gown of white and the groom, the conventional black. Only the families of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served, and the bridal party was driven to Kimberly where they took the train to the Capital City.

Musgrave-Humphrey

On Thursday, November 23, Walter Musgrave and Miss Flossie Lucile Humphrey were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Filer. Rev. Garver of the Methodist church officiating. The groom was attended by Clifford Parrott, and Miss Iva Humphrey acted as bridesmaid.

Boys-Stilwell

On Friday, November 24, the marriage of Alvin Boys and Miss Emma Stilwell was performed, Judge W. J. Smith of Justice court performing the ceremony. Both the contracting parties are popular young people of this city, and will make their future home here. The groom is employed by the Robertson-Janka company.

Pure Food or Poor Food?

When so eminent a food expert as Dr. Wiley not only approves, but actually advocates the use of a product, you may be absolutely assured of its purity and healthfulness. In a recent speech Dr. Wiley commended in strongest terms the use of Cotton Oil as one of our most valuable food constituents, stating that undoubtedly better health would follow its general use. Cottonseed—the perfect shortening—has been the leading product in Cotton Oil cooking fats for over a quarter of a century. You will find the doctors all with you when you use Cottolene in place of hog fat.

TWIN FALLS IDAHO.

Thompson Realty Co. SPECIALS

The owner of some Twin Falls dwellings, a widow with a large family, is unable to keep up her payments on the mortgage and is about to lose property by foreclosure. Property consists of two four-room houses and two lots. Will make big sacrifice to save losing all. Only enough cash required to pay taxes and delinquent payments on mortgage. Big snap. Investigate at once.

Here is absolutely the best buy on the market in close-in acreage. Five acres adjoining the city, on main traveled street lays fine. If sold before January 1 $1250. Some terms. This is just one-half actual market value.

No. 46.

40 acres, 3 miles from Twin Falls, all in orchard; 20 acres in bearing apples; 10 acres in 3-year-old apples and 8 acres in 3-year-old peaches in bearing next year. This property should pay interest on the investment next year and will double in value in three years. Price $400 per acre; half cash; balance can be paid from crops.

No. 48.

20 acres in Orchalarn, three-fourths mile from city limits. Lays fine. This property sold for $300 per acre at time of Orchalarn opening. Owner must have money and will sell for $250 per acre; $1000 cash and $1000 annually. Will sell half at proportionate price and terms.

The reason we have the biggest snaps is because we advertise them and the property owner who WANTS TO SELL gives us the listing because he knows it will be advertised.

It's Not Idle Talk

When we tell you that "Arrow" Flour will make better bread than the brands of flour being shipped into this locality by outside mills. We believe it will. And after a fair trial, if this flour does not give you satisfactory results, you can get your money back—yes, every cent of it. The grocer who sells you "Arrow" Flour will guarantee every sack. We contract all our grain from home growers, and our mill merits the support of home trade. Why not buy a HOME product when you get as good or better article?

SOCIETY

The Season's Social Progress

Although the pace in parties has somewhat slackened after the flood with which the season was launched, the numerous card clubs have kept the work from being dull for pleasure lovers.

Now that the first flurry has subsided the individual action of society patrons is being evidenced in smaller gatherings at informal teas or to enjoy a favorite game of cards. In regard to the latter it might be noted that the game of bridge which laured at the opening of social activity in the autumn seemed pertinently near a downfall, due to the popularity of "500," has once more come into its own. Being by nature a game unsuited to the varying likes and dislikes of a large gathering it is being revived by its devotees in clubs and small assemblies. As for the cup of tea, nearly all hostesses keep a supply on tap for the friend who "drops in." Present fad being the orange Pekoo tea with its delicious oriental flavor, which was given a high recommendation at the last demonstration of the domestic science department of the Twentieth Century club.

Bridge Club Enlarges

A small bridge club, which has been in existence for some time, has recently enlarged to admit four new members and adopted the title, "S. N. B." The meetings are held weekly on Saturday afternoons. During the busy season preceding the Christmas holidays, bridge has been abandoned and the time here is pledged to the making of Christmas gifts. The last meeting was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. H. Dixon, President were Mesdames G. W. Kenneth, C. Watson, R. A. Road, J. W. Helness, C. H. Chanin, R. W. Spangler and Edwin Mohrman. On Saturday evening Mrs. L. F. Morro was hostess informally, when a party of sixteen bridge lovers gathered at her home to enjoy the game. Those who played were Mesdames C. D. Thomas, M. J. Sweeley, E. M. Sweeley, H. B. Lewis, Arthur Lewis, G. F. Baker, O. A. Stalker, Ernest White, Charles Bulles, W. S. Hill, C. E. Booth, T. J. Woods, K. H. Dixon, J. W. Craven, R. M. McCollum, G. M. Tier and L. T. Wright, and Misses Tomada and Officer. Mrs. O. A. Stalker carried off the honors in form.

Meeting of Fortnightly Club

The first meeting of the Fortnightly club of the season was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Sweeley. Prof. Elliott, who will be the leader for the year in the study of philosophy, as outlined in Prof. James' text book, "The Meaning of Truth," gave an interesting lecture on "The History of Philosophy" which was followed by a general discussion. The members in attendance were Messrs. and Mesdames M. J. Sweeley, G. W. Kenneth, E. J. Ostrander, R. W. Spangler, O. M. Elliott, C. H. Robbins, and B. E. Morro. "Business Ethics" is the topic for the next meeting and will be

In charge of Mrs. C. H. Robbins and Mr. B. E. Morro. The domestic science department of the Twentieth Century club held its regular fortnightly meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. M. Elliott. Mrs. J. H. Seavers gave a highly instructive paper on "Food Values," which was followed by a talk on beverages by Mrs. C. R. Scott with a demonstration of orange Pekoo tea. With the tea were served oatmeal regulars for the meeting contributed by Mrs. F. M. Buckley.

Ladies Luncheon Club Entertains

The Ladies' luncheon club on Friday opened its fourth year with an evening session at which the members entertained their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McCollum. Ordinarily the entertainment consists of an elaborate luncheon at noon followed by an afternoon of bridge, twice a month, the alternate Fridays being spent in bridge alone. The members of the club are Mesdames H. F. Fulling, B. E. Morro, C. H. Robbins, H. B. Lewis, E. M. Sweeley, J. W. Craven, C. D. Alkon, M. J. Sweeley, C. A. Robinson, R. M. McCollum, E. J. Ostrander, H. P. Allen and I. B. Perrin.

The McCollum home on Friday evening was radiant with mammoth yellow chrysanthemums and palms. At midnight an oyster supper was served. The lady's prize, a silver mustard pot, was won by Mrs. B. E. Morro, the man's prize, a book, was captured by Mr. B. E. Morro.

Surprise Party Given

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Speckman were honored on Saturday evening with a surprise party upon the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Young on Second avenue north. Mr. and Mrs. Speckman were invited to spend the evening at the home of the Youngs, and upon their arrival found about 40 friends waiting to extend congratulations. They were presented with a handsome silver candelabra from those present and a set of silver candlesticks from the Pennsylvania club, besides numerous individual gifts.

Regular Meeting of P. E. O.

The regular meeting of the P. E. O. Literary society was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rounds. Mrs. W. H. Johnson had charge of the program. The members present were Mesdames G. F. Baker, Breckenridge, Sprague, Fletcher, Mitchell, A. R. Ostrander, Johanson, Stalker, and Rounds. Refreshments were served.

The P. E. O. is a branch of the national literary society of that name.

Dance at the Justamere

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Murray entertained with a small dancing party on Thanksgiving eve at the Justamere inn. Mrs. Murray arrived from that spot on Tuesday to join her husband who has been staying at the inn.

Mrs. Hill Hostess of Club.

The Wednesday afternoon bridge club met this week at the home of Mrs. Wilbur S. Hill. Present were Mesdames B. A. Hamilton, W. H. Green-low, A. N. Sprague, E. Sweeley, F. T. Mitchell, C. C. Bedford, J. E. Hardigan, C. E. Booth, L. T. Wright, George Lacy, C. B. Chammel, C. D. Tyler, and Mrs. Charles Bulles, and the Misses Maxwell and Officer.

Club Gives Interesting Program On Tuesday afternoon occurred the bi-monthly meeting of the Adrama club at the home of Mrs. Mann on Eighth avenue north. The roll call was responded to with items on acted Spanish discoveries. A program continuing the study of Spain was developed as follows: "The Army and Navy of Spain," Mrs. Thompson; "The Revolt of Castile," Mrs. Rowan; "Religious Life," Mrs. Broeze; "Moorish Occupation of Spain," Mrs. Weaver.

Mrs. Beauchamp to Hostess The next meeting of the Winwood at Kensington club will be held Wednesday of the coming week at the home of Mrs. J. C. Beauchamp on Tenth avenue north.

Miss Kierstead Entertains The Tuesday evening "500" club, composed of guests of the Justamere inn, were entertained this week by Miss Grace Kierstead.

CLUBS

Mother's Day Observed "Mother's Day" was observed at the fortnightly meeting of the Twentieth Century club on Tuesday afternoon and proved one of the most interesting and instructive sessions of the year. The program was in charge of the Parliamentary and Civic department, of which Mrs. M. J. Sweeley is head, in a few profatory remarks Mrs. Sweeley stated that a "Mother's Day" was most fitting, inasmuch as most of the members of the club were mothers and even if they were not, the time has come when every one who has a thought for the future is vitally interested in the proper raising of children. That environment even more than heredity moulds the plastic character of the child into harmony with its surroundings, be they good or bad, was the key note of the meeting.

The complete program was as follows: 1. Lullaby, "Sleep, Little Baby of Mine," by Charles Dennee, sung by Mrs. Kenneth; recitation, "Too Many Chills," Mrs. Kenaley; address, "The Child Without a Home," Mrs. Kennedy Packard. 2. Play dance, Frances Ebeckly. 3. Clog, Master William Kierstead. 4. Song, "Dear Little Dorothy Dimple," Margaret Grant. Address, "What the Mothers of the Twentieth Century Club Can Do for the Public Schools," Prof. O. M. Elliott.

DISCUSS SWAMP LAND DRAINAGE

Many Cities Making Strong Bids for 1912 Irrigation Congress

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 30.—The fact that the Nineteenth National Irrigation Congress to be held here December 5 to 8 will give prominent place in its program to the subject of reclamation of swamp lands will result in large attendance by southern and eastern delegates.

The Irrigation Congress in the 20 years of its existence has never been held further east than Lincoln, Nebraska, except when it met in Chicago in 1900. With a large attendance from southern and eastern delegates at the Chicago meeting there might be a movement to take the next congress into the south or east. There is no doubt that a southern or eastern city might secure the next convention and eastern delegates unite in favor of that city and the western delegates divide their forces between the city of their choice for the next congress. Also there is no doubt but that the next congress held in the south or east will be the most prominent topic.

Among eastern and southern cities considered as hosts for the congress in the event it should go to the east or west are Washington, D. C., New York City, Rochester, Charleston, New Orleans and St. Louis.

Among western cities prominently mentioned for future sessions of the congress are San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle, Missoula, St. Paul, Omaha, Salt Lake City, Denver and Phoenix.

Digestible Doughnuts

"All Gone— and no cause for complaint"

Cottolene

Let the children eat their fill of doughnuts—if made from Cottolene. There's no stomach-ache or indigestion in Cottolene doughnuts, because Cottolene is a vegetable oil product, pure and healthful as olive oil. It makes food rich, without making it indigestible. It makes food palatable without the greasiness of lard-soaked food. It is more economical than butter or lard because one-third less is required.

From the standpoints of health and economy, Cottolene is unquestionably the leading cooking fat on the market.

Use one-third less Cottolene than butter or lard.

Cottolene shortens your food—lengthens your life

THE CASH INTRIGUE

BY GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER

GREY AND LAND

CHAPTER XXXI

PHILLIP stood looking after him for a moment, puzzled, and then he turned back toward the door. "You've seen a goodly number of these spectacles in your day," he said, looking at the man. "Did he borrow any money of you?" he asked abruptly. "No, sir," replied the man. "One hundred and fourteen dollars," replied Kelvin, smiling.

"I know it," declared Zellphan. "Don't let him have any more." The man had gone very mad, every time he sees a dollar of cash he must have it. He borrows my salary from me regularly, sometimes the very day he pays it to me. He borrows money from Mrs. Hensseler, from Rollins, from Herbert, some from the servants, and every penny of it he hoards. I'll give him any of that cash as readily as I pay it back to check."

"I did, not know that he was so weak," said Kelvin, shocked. "I have been aware that the condition was growing upon him, but I had no idea that he had gone so far with his eccentricities."

"Eccentricities!" snorted the doctor. "He's crazy—crazy as a loon! You're all crazy, the whole crowd of you, victims of the American craving for what you call success. Bread is mad for money; Herbert is mad for social position; his nephew is mad for military conquest; Blarg is mad for nationality. You're the maddest of them all—mad with the thirst for power. It is going to end in a crash with all your institutions, all your ideals, all your ends and aims and ambitions clattering down about your ears, the most thoroughly shattered and crumbled wreck and ruin of a social structure in the history of the world. An entire generation, all your life, they fall. Those that have been the most rapid to rise to supremacy have been the most rapid in disintegration. Already your pro rata birth rate is decreasing, and a century will see America as sterile as France."

Kelvin nodded his head with an emphatic jerk. "That is precisely why there must be an utter change in our entire social system. But I did not know that you had devoted so much thought to these things."

"What?" exclaimed the doctor, snatching the fingers of both hands. "I don't talk it, I think. I have talked too much now, but in my desk I have manuscripts so thick, and with his hands he indicated a pile nearly a foot high. "It is my great-boat on national neutralism. I am going to America to study it. Do you suppose that I would have taken the position of house physician to Mr. Bread? If he had not found clustered about him exactly the material I wished for my book on alienism? No! I have spent a lifetime on neural deterioration, constant in America a standpoint. I speak a year and a half in China, one in Japan, one in Russia, three in France, two in England and five years scattered about in other parts of Europe and Asia. Now I am nearly four years in America. I shall write till Henry Breed dies, or I shall die in a year or possibly two. Then I shall go back to Switzerland to publish my great work; I shall die myself soon after that. I, too, have a fatal nervous disease, but it cannot kill me before five years, and I cannot live beyond seven. But my book will live. That will be the valuable part of Dr. Zellphan. Immortality of the soul? No. Immortality of the body? No. Immortality of the brain? Yes. Forever."

"Possibly," agreed Phillip. "No doubt, doctor, your work will be accepted as a standard. Five years afterward some other savant will write another four volume work upstating all your theories, and five years after that somebody will mention your name to a noted atheist or student of neuritis and he will say, 'Zellphan—Dr. Zellphan? Um—um—um—the name seems a trifle familiar. Did he discover one of those exploded serum treatments or something?'"

"Bah!" snapped the doctor, and his big nose began to reek with his rage, soemed to turn red from the redness of his face behind it. "Bah!" he repeated, but this time the exclamation was weaker, and Phillip as he went downstairs felt a prick of compunction at having hit the doctor such a vital blow.

Phillip found the library door open and sat down with his back to the door to examine a volume on numismatics that lay open upon the table. Soft hands were suddenly clapped over his eyes, and Lillian Breed pressed her face warmly to his. "At the table he craves his arms and returned her kiss with something akin to fierceness. Then he thrust her away from him almost roughly.

"You are most indiscreet," he protested, looking at the wide open door. "Why not?" she demanded, laughing. "If somebody slipped down the stairs you should only have to make an announcement."

He winked involuntarily at that, and she saw it. There had been that between them which makes a woman tender and a man show careless? For a moment she laid her hands upon her breast, but she was surprised to find that there seems no hot resort usually so easy upon her. "Without effort, without exerting himself, do so, Kelvin had for the time being tamed the wild, whether wicked, and she only wishes she could be as good as he is, but she will not settle for anything. Her change of topic that might have been a bar to his mental qualities, but she was there to see an end to the matter in the person of Dr. Zellphan, who called Phillip personally, "Lillian!" he said, "I have found it in his vault, covered for all the gaudy mummies of the age. Lillian, scattered flat on the floor, with money scattered all about him and his old shirt below him on the table. The book is his. Ah!" he is jabbering garbled texts that in his interpretation are worse than blasphemy."

Lillian, left to herself a good moment, her breast heaving, half turned dropped into the chair that Kelvin had pulled up to her, and she found that she had scarcely moved; her feet at the end of about twenty minutes. Herbert Rensseler was announced.

"It is a pleasure to see you alone," he observed. "You are very popular that afternoon, and you will give a noble show to the west. The organization of Washington."

"No," Lillian protested thoughtfully. "I may have achieved some personal popularity, but much more. It is impossible to confess it is due to grand efforts in the world, and the capitalised force it represents. I doubt if even money, however, could have secured me the recognition which Mrs. Rensseler has won for me. The Rensseler name is a powerful one."

"It is just that about which I was going to speak to you," said Herbert with awkward bluntness. "I am prepared to offer you the Rensseler name for you own."

Lillian looked up at him and smiled. "The dream of your respected aunt," she laughed. "Herbert, you're a nice boy, but I'm not in love with you. Are you still in?"

"Well, no," he confessed with infinite relief. "I thought not," she returned, still laughing. "It is a pity to disappoint your aunt, but let's do that very thing. You're too good a friend of mine to spoil."

In beginning to like you immensely. I enclosed Herbert's "shrike" bands on it," which they cordially did. At almost the same moment Sumner Rollins had made a quite different proposal, one with the whole heart and the love and the whole honor of a starwar man and Miss White, with error that it must be so, searched in her heart and found for him only friendship, and the man whose image blocked the way of Rollins was thinking of her even then, to the entire forgetfulness of Lillian Breed.

In a hundred years was hot and discord. In a thousand villages there was grave panic. In a million homes there was hunger. Commerce was paralysed, and three months after Senator Sawyer had threatened a revolt to the entire United States was in a state bordering on anarchy. Proclamations of the unemployed had been clucked into disruption. Street corner speakers, among whom Ben White had become prominent for a certain rosy effective oratory, were suppressed. Gatherings in halls were destroyed by the police, the militia or the rapidly increasing army of regular soldiers, and were broken up, sometimes with bloodshed, at the least sign of inflammatory speech. The consequence was national secret meetings were held everywhere, and the emissaries of Blarg gained converts by the tens and the hundreds of thousands from coast to coast. The chaos that Kelvin had deliberately inaugurated to serve his own ends was serving the ends of Blarg equally well. The throwing of bombs, with terrific consequence to public safety, became common—so common, indeed, that the life of no public man was secure. Yet Kelvin, attended by his usual guard, went everywhere. He seemed to be an inviolable life, and on the very day he declared martial law throughout the Union, when every newspaper was against him and when countless borders were clamoring for his death, he went calmly to Fort Lathrop to keep an appointment with Henry Breed. Five hundred grim, armed men, indifferent to the turmoil of the world outside, now guarded the grounds, and Kelvin spoke of them the moment he met Breed.

"You're just what I need," he said, examining the faces of them. They are mountaineers every one and men of blind allegiance. I need them in Washington."

"No," protested Breed. "I have years in selecting them, and they must stay here to grow. Fort Lathrop and me, and what you know to be in the vault below."

"The vault needs no guarding," replied Kelvin. "We'll remove it's contents very shortly to the government treasury anyhow. The time is ripe, any day, to go in there and get out at once."

"Our plan, you mean," corrected Breed, smiling, whereat Kelvin's eyes contracted for a second.

It was significant of the remarkable control that Kelvin had obtained over his men, whose outwardly he had been their commander of a nation to his own ends, that he protested no order against the operation of his pocket guards. "I would not be brought to the indignity of the same thing," he said. "I would not be brought to the indignity of the same thing," he said. "I would not be brought to the indignity of the same thing," he said.

"I have made some repairs, up that way, Mr. Kelvin," he informed Lillian. "I don't want to change your rooms for this visit."

KILLED IN THE BATTLE OF COMPETITION

Overstocked & Company, the Napoleon of the Twin Falls Clothing Trade, is Dead. His brazenly advertised but poorly faked Closing Out Sale has ended in ignominious defeat at the hands of Straus & Glauber, the Champions of Legitimate Merchandizing, the Wellingtons of German birth but American citizenship, who have brought about this bitter Waterloo by means of the most deadly weapon known in the mercantile business, that of

LOWER PRICES FOR BETTER GOODS

Swiny & Company, the Marshal Ney for Overstocked & Company, whose aid as professional sales agent, with circus side-show tactics, was bought at the cost of 10 per cent added to the price which the buying public must pay for Overstocked's merchandise, weeps vituperously because of the loss of commissions.

In this hour of agony, Straus & Glauber are called foreigners and imitators. True, they were born in Germany, but they are now loyal naturalized citizens of the United States. This nation of ours would not exist had it not been populated by men from foreign shores. And in a free country no merchant, no matter how self-sufficient, can say, "You cannot hold a sale, too."

Confronted with the shame that the public has discovered that Over-Stocked's goods have been marked away up and then down to deceive the buyer, Swiny & Company in a panic has closed his store to

RE-MARK THE STOCK AND CHANGE THE FRONT

They announce that they will close Thursday and Friday. Straus and Glauber intend to close Thursday anyway, for it is Thanksgiving. They do not need to spend a legal holiday in re-marking their goods, for they were marked right at the start. Their front is the same as the inside of their store—always honest. The profit-making season for the merchant is now past. Straus and Glauber cannot expect to make any money this season, but intend to show the people that they CANNOT BE UNDERSOLD.

They are in the fight to stay, as Twin Falls' leading clothiers.
