

IMPORTANT WATER CASE IS DECIDED

PRIOR FILING OF ANOTHER STATE HELD VALID

Chief Justice Carl A. Davis, in his decision rendered today in the case of State of Idaho vs. State of Montana, has held that the first filing of a suit in any state in the union is valid, and that the second filing of a suit in another state is invalid. This decision is of great importance in the case of the water rights of the state of Idaho, which has been the subject of a long and bitter controversy with the state of Montana.

The case arises from the fact that the state of Idaho has a claim to the water of the Snake river, which flows through the state of Montana. The state of Montana has also a claim to the water of the Snake river, and has filed a suit in the federal court at Butte, Idaho, to have the water of the Snake river declared to be the property of the state of Montana.

The state of Idaho has also filed a suit in the federal court at Butte, Idaho, to have the water of the Snake river declared to be the property of the state of Idaho. The federal court at Butte, Idaho, has now rendered its decision in the case, and has held that the first filing of a suit in any state is valid, and that the second filing of a suit in another state is invalid.

This decision is of great importance to the state of Idaho, as it means that the state of Idaho's claim to the water of the Snake river is now valid, and that the state of Montana's claim to the water of the Snake river is now invalid.

JARBIDGE FORGES AHEAD DESPITE STRINGENCY

Extensive Development Work a Surprise in View of Existing Money Conditions Throughout Country.

Clark-Fletcher Mill on Bourne Property, Will Meet Payroll with Product of Mine—Payroll Mill to Have Trial Run—Bluster Has Vein Opened 650 Feet in Length—Rich Ore Encountered in Buckeye Source of Talk in District.

Jarbridge, Nev., Dec. 6.—When one takes into consideration the business conditions that have existed for the past two years and the stringency in the money market throughout the whole country, the amount of development work at Jarbridge is truly surprising.

So far, the mines of Jarbridge have not been producing; only preliminary work has been in progress, so in consequence, the promoters have had to depend upon outside money to keep the different properties in motion. That money was very often hard to raise and much valuable time was lost when weather conditions were ideal.

But all the money sent in was judiciously spent, and most encouraging results have crowned the efforts of those who have confidence in the future of this great gold camp.

Producing Bullion

A short resume of the past year's developments will show that Jarbridge is in a most prosperous condition. The Clark-Fletcher mill on the Bourne property is now grinding away in a most satisfactory manner and will distribute the November payroll from the product of the mine. More and better adapted machinery has been added, which is doing all that was expected of it. About 40 to 50 tons of ore is being milled every 24 hours, yielding approximately eight ounces of amalgam. At the present rate, the net product of gold is averaging, it is said, over $400 a day. There are some improvements to be added to the mill which will increase the output and make a greater saving. It is now an assured fact that the Clark-Fletcher mill will be a steady producer and distribute a big bunch of money in the camp every month from the proceeds of the mine.

The Pavlak About Ready

Concerning the big Pavlak mill, it can only be said that the people are anxiously awaiting its starting up. The new machinery is on the ground, and

The Buckeye Bonanza

This property is more talked about just now than any other in the camp. Any visitor to Jarbridge must climb Gold Hill to inspect the rich ore that is being encountered in the Buckeye. Don G. Bryan of Twin Falls has become interested in the property and is now driving a 500-foot tunnel on the lead. So far, about 75 feet has been driven, and the developments are causing an increased interest in that section. On the foot wall there is a 7-foot streak of hard quartz that shows free gold in liberal quantities. The quartz was all portions of free gold out, shows a value of $157. About 10 inches of soft reddish stuff lies

WOMAN SHOT FOR HER JEWELS

Wife of Chicago Commission Man Murdered by Armed Highwayman.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Edith Kaufman was shot and killed here Saturday night by robbers who descended from an automobile to hold up the woman and her husband.

Mrs. Kaufman and her husband, Edmund Kaufman, were returning after attending the opera and were directly in front of their home when the automobile came up behind them and stopped at the curb.

Three men were in the machine and two of them got out. One commanded the Kaufmans to hold up their hands. Mrs. Kaufman, frightened, stepped back and her husband moved toward the robbers to protect her. The robbers fired twice. Mrs. Kaufman fell to the walk and the two men jumped back into the automobile and escaped.

Kaufman is a commission merchant. His wife wore valuable jewelry, and it is the husband's idea that the robbers sought this. The police learned that the three men had with them a chauffeur. The husband said that when his wife stopped back and screamed, he advanced toward the men and offered them his money if they would not hurt his wife. She ran to him, and it was then that the robbers shot. It developed, from the stories of pedestrians, that one of them knocked Kaufman down, but the merchant was so wrought up, he said he could not recall that incident.

TYPOS AGAINST THE McNAMARAS

DYNAMITERS' REPUOIATED IN STRONG RESOLUTIONS

Los Angeles Typographical Union is First to Take Official Action on Condemnation of War, who Blows up Times Plant.

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—The Los Angeles Typographical union, a local of the international body to which James B. McNamara belongs, has repudiated him and his brother, John D. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Iron Workers, in resolutions adopted. The resolutions, adopted by the membership, instruct the officials of the union to make a statement, the tone of which is included in the resolutions themselves.

"Now that they have confessed their guilt, having duped, deceived and betrayed us and our officers," Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, by the commission of such dastardly acts, we repudiate all connection with them or their kind."

Stands for the Law

The union stands, the statement declares, for "rigid enforcement of law," expresses its belief in the right of every man to a fair trial, but declares today's meeting was called for the purpose of expressing "our repudiation of such dastardly methods."

The statement further points out that the officials of the union at the time of the Los Angeles times was blown up asked that a special grand jury be impeached to investigate the tragedy and asserts that it instantly came to the aid of that newspaper and composed the issue of that morning.

The action of the union was about the only positive development of the day. The resolution about the prisoners was not penetrated, even by their counsel today, although Attorney Joseph Scott interviewed them for about an hour today.

Attorney Darrow, seemingly greatly refreshed, walked about a little late near his home, chatting with friends. "I slept all night," he declared, referring to the preceding two weeks which have driven him near to nervous breakdown. He said he had no statement to make about the case.

THE McNAMARA CONFESSION
 Second only in interest to the news of the actual dynamiting to the Times building, comes the announcement of the full confession of the crime by James B. McNamara.

Rarely in the annals of the criminal history of the country has there been a more dramatic ending to a prosecution, which, from the first has been rich in dramatic incidents. The perpetrators of the outrage, together with their villainous associates, will get off all too easily, if they escape with their lives. Many less grossly guilty, have been promptly hanged, and the entire civilized world has approved the punishment.

There is another phase of the situation, however, which is equally important; namely, the effect of the confession upon the attitude of the world toward organized labor.

Union men and the unions generally cannot be blamed for the interest which they took in the affair, involving as it did the good names of men high in the ranks of unionism. But the union men, unfortunately, did not stop there. Led by the Socialist press of the country, anarchists and radicals generally, they rushed to the defense of the accused men, condemned their arrest as a part of a conspiracy aimed directly at the unions by the representatives of law and order, indulged in harsh and inflammatory speeches against the entire procedure and declared the men innocent of any and all charges.

These men, if innocent, needed no such defense. The vindication which would have been given them at the hands of a jury, had they been innocent would have proved the greatest victory possible under earthly conditions. Then would have been the time for the unions to have taken action. Then, indeed, might their virtue have been paraded from one end of the land to the other, and all the people would have cheered the righteous procession.

Since the publication of the confession, the unions, many of them, have done all they could to repair the wrong done. They have repudiated the McNamaras and the entire system of which they were a part and have come out before the people in statements condemning in the strongest terms the lawlessness and violence of which the McNamaras were representatives. Resolutions, which leave no room for doubt as to the attitude of the framers, have been passed freely in the larger union centers, and in other ways the union men of the country have shown their manhood and their respect for law and order.

AN UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR
 A shooting affray in the town of Hansen Saturday night may cost the life of the man who was shot. The entire affair is most regrettable and the sincere sympathy of the community should go out to both the stricken man and his assailant.

The facts in the case, however, would seem to indicate that the use of a gun under the circumstances amounted to a more violent defense of the premises than the occasion demanded. The victim is said to have endeavored to enter the bank by the front door, not the rear, but had turned away and was, in fact, standing on the public sidewalk with his back to the institution when he was shot. From his character and reputation it is safe to assume that his efforts to enter the building had nothing whatever criminal in their motive.

On the other side of the question, it should be borne in mind that the cashier was the custodian of a large sum of money which he was perfectly justified in defending from anyone having designs against it. Within a day or two, the post office at Kimberly, only a few miles away, had been robbed, and it is perfectly natural that the first thought to enter his mind when he saw a man apparently endeavoring to force an entrance would have been of robbery. McNamara and armed himself—also a very natural and commendable action.

The actual shooting, however, is a matter for deep regret. That the unfortunate victim will make a speedy recovery, should be the earnest hope of all concerned.

A LESSON LEARNED
 The movement which has been inaugurated by Chairman Charles L. Heltman of the Republican State Central Committee for perfecting the organization of his party and eliminating whatever friction remains from the last campaign, indicates efficient political leadership. The necessity for the work is too apparent to be argued. In initiating the movement at this juncture, he insists that the gubernatorial and other official aspirants remember the discord resulting from the last primary campaign and refrain from a repetition of its inharmonious. The position of the chairman is well taken; the candidates should wage their contests for nominations along dignified lines and avoid personal attacks calculated to create division in the party ranks. If the office seekers and their friends will heed this sensible advice, next year will be a victorious one for the Republicans of Idaho.

BOOST THE CLIMATE!
 One hundred and one degrees on Wednesday, at 3 o'clock p. m.
 Sounds impossible, but it is true. The thermometer on the veranda of the Oxford hotel duly recorded this temperature at the hour stated. Moreover, it also marked 70 degrees in the shade.

Now, if the Twin Falls boosters have run short of everything else to boost, let them boost the climate. This is an extraordinary record, but a mild, equable climate during the month of November, lasting well into December should prove attractive to many besides agriculturists, and its importance should not be overlooked.

PROGRESS MADE IN JARBIDGE
 Next the quartz which shows no free gold, but assayed $28.8 a ton.

Outside these two rich streaks four feet of milling ore showed an average value from ten assays of $20.85 to the ton. The last streak, showing better values as the work progresses. Mr. Bryan is now in Twin Falls getting supplies for winter. He expects to have his contract fulfilled in April, after which time the company will make further arrangements to put the Buckeye in the line of producers.

At the Wingfield Properties, the term, "Wingfield Properties," is used from the fact that it is considered almost certain the Goldfield magnate will take over the Success group. The time of his option has not expired yet, but from the amount of work done and the showing made, any one ought to be satisfied that he is getting good value for his investment.

The Judge Ray Strike
 For reasons best known to the owners the rich, find made on the claim owned by Judge Ray and partners, has not been developed to any extent.

A cabin was built, and work on the lead was done to some extent, but nothing large was undertaken. Several lamping offers were made to the owners, but all were side stepped for a time. The lead shows a high grade of milling ore, about $35 to the ton, has a good width and promises to become a rich producer before 1912 is far gone.

The Flexie
 This mine at the head of Bourne gulch was recently acquired by the Park company. Seven or eight men are at work driving a drift tunnel, which shows ore in good quantities and value. This property was discovered by Harry Deane, who followed a small streak of quartz a long way before he broke into four feet of quartz that showed good values.

Other Properties that Show Well
 The Last Chance group, which is contiguous to the Buckeye, is owned by Parks, McMaisters and Taber. In doing their annual work, a couple of weeks ago, a foot lead was uncovered that resembles the Buckeye ore in character and values. The owners are confident they have a rich streak of ore and will start development work after the first of the year.

S. G. Hull started a good sized cross-cut tunnel on the Cold Springs claim, and advanced it 40 feet. This tunnel, when extended, will lay the Buckeye lead at a great depth. When completed, the Buckeye ore could be mined through this outlet, which would bring the ore further down hill by 2000 feet. In running the tunnel, all the cross-roads will be cut and put an increased value on the Alice May-Cold Springs group.

It is reported that $50,000 is to be secured at once to erect a mill to treat the Bluster ore; work to commence in the spring.

A GREAT MEETING AT CALDWELL

A fine meeting of the Men and Religion Forward Movement was held at Caldwell on Tuesday evening of last week. The meeting was in the form of a dinner, at which more than 100 men were seated.

There were speakers present from the Boise Committee of One Hundred, while a number of the local people addressed the gathering. Before the meeting closed a permanent organization was effected with A. B. Aron as chairman and Professor H. G. French as secretary.

Labor and Church

A very interesting development of the campaign conducted by the Men and Religion Forward Movement at Dallas, Texas, is an agreement entered into by the central labor council and the pastors' association of the city. Under the agreement the pastors' association will be represented in the council and the latter will have a representative in the association of pastors.

The labor people of that city, it seems, had never secured a voice in the council and the result is that the workmen and the church are now coming together to assist each other in promoting such objects.

Next Meeting Sunday

William E. Sweet, the Denver banker, is to address a meeting at the New Bole theater at Boise on Sunday, December 10 at 3:45. This meeting is under the auspices of the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

Mr. Sweet will speak to men on religious questions from a business man's standpoint and his address will no doubt be of the greatest interest. On Monday he is to be the guest at luncheon of the Boise Commercial club where he will address the business men on "Ideals in Building a City."

Organization in Boise

The Men and Religion Forward Movement has perfected a very complete plan of organization in Boise. The city has been divided into two or three blocks in a district in each of these districts there will be a chairman designated to look after the work. These men will gather their neighbors in and hold cottage conferences and thus prepare the way for the larger campaign that is to follow. It seems that the capital city is going to secure all possible benefits from this movement and the men there will, no doubt, carry it out to the auxiliary towns.

Associate Executive Secretary

Will H. Gibson, who is widely known throughout the state, is now associate executive secretary of the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

C. F. Easter, the secretary, was taken ill some weeks ago and is not yet able to attend to his work, while he may be laid up for a long time, Mr. Gibson, much personal sacrifice, has stepped into the breach and will be active in managing the campaign.

GOVERNMENT MEN PRAISE UNIVERSITY

Dr. Frederick C. Babcock of the United States bureau of education made an inspection of the University of Idaho last week. This inspection is part of the work of standardization of the state universities undertaken by the bureau of education at the request of the National Association of State Universities.

Speaking of conditions at the University of Idaho, Dr. Babcock said: "I find matters of general business and educational administration in a very satisfactory condition. The work of the college is carried on with excellent sincerity and good sense and with especially wise adaptability to conditions in Idaho. The mingling of the sciences is surprising, good and well organized. The work as I have seen it, is very well planned and is carried out in good spirits by both faculty and students. If I were a student in one of the schools of the University of Idaho, the spirit would be 'sincere.'"

IDAHO PROFESSOR PUBLISHES BOOK

The Dr. Van Nottelandt company of New York has accepted for publication a book by Dr. D. B. Steinman, associate professor of civil engineering at the University of Idaho, entitled "Suspension Bridges and Cattleways and Their Economic Proportions and Limiting Spans." The book deals with the relative adaptability of the cantilever and suspension bridges to long-span construction—it also deals with several subsidiary problems of design.

Professor Steinman received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University for this investigation.

Two other works by Professor Steinman are to be published in the near future. The first of these, a translation of "Morgan's Theory of Arches and Suspension Bridges," is now being set up in type by Collins and Company of Philadelphia.

GOSPEL MEETINGS DREW CROWDS

C. L. Organ Meeting with Good Success in Work at Christian Church

The Gospel meetings at the Christian church are opening up with a wonderful interest. Already the large church is being over-taxed by the large audience each night, and Sunday evening many were unable to get in. Already 22 have been added to the church, and many more seem to be on the verge of making the "good confession."

The next few days promise to be the greatest and best in this effort. The evangelist in much taken with this country, and the people seem to be well pleased with him. He said the other night, "Don't root, but boost." And he carries that out himself. Monday evening he had out himself in many towns and cities of the west, but Twin Falls looked better to him than any he had seen so far.

A basket dinner is announced for next Sunday. Everybody is requested to be present with dinner. Coffee will be served free. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock the evangelist will give his great sermon on the subject of the "Dance."

The sermons for the next few days are as follows: "Thursday evening, "Knocking out the Props," Friday evening, "The Necessity of Christian Union," Saturday evening, "The Unpardonable Sin," Sunday morning, "The Lord's Supper," Sunday afternoon, "Is the Modern Dance Harmful?" Sunday evening, "The True Basis of Christian Union," Monday evening, "When Will Christ Come Again?"

WHITES AND NEGROES DO BATTLE

Several Killed and Wounded in Bloody Race Conflict

Manford, Okla., Dec. 6.—One white man was killed, another was wounded, one negro is believed to be mortally wounded and another negro is reported dead, the result of a battle recently in a corn field near Manford between two negroes, who earlier in the evening had up three white men, and a posse of farmers. It is expected an effort will be made to lynch the wounded negro before morning.

Fred Evans, a member of the posse, was killed instantly. Johnny Johnson was wounded. Buck James, one of the bandits, was shot through the breast, and his brother, Robert, James declares, is dead in the corn field where the fight occurred.

BARNEY LIKES VANCOUVER CLIM

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 6.—Efforts to get O'Neill to make a statement as to his future course met with failure. He retired to his home and refused to see reporters. Immediately following the statement that he would remain in Vancouver and make it his future home, Attorney Farris made a statement recently indicating he had not dropped the case.

"I cannot say anything as to the future course of the prosecution at this time, but may have something to give out in a few days," was the statement when asked if other charges hinted at by Wayne would be filed here and an effort made to force O'Neill across the line to stand trial.

FRENCH BREAKFAST ROLLS

(Recipe by Mrs. Sara Tyson Rorer)
One pint milk; two ounces Colton's flour; one egg; one-half cup yeast; or one-half cup of yeast dissolved.

Scald the milk and cut into it the Colton's, add salt, and when cool add in the flour; add a well-beaten egg and the yeast. Beat well and stand in a warm place overnight. In the morning form into little rolls, handling as little as possible, adding a very little flour. Place each roll in a French roll pan, stand in a warm place three-quarters of an hour and bake in quick oven about fifteen minutes.

Everyone likes these light, fluffy rolls. Colton's gives just as fine results as you used butter, and at less expense.

MANY REGISTER FOR LAND OPENING

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN NORTH SIDE PUMPING SYSTEM

Monday Drawing Will Be Held at Jerome for 14,000 Acres of Land and Wide Attendance Is Anticipated

A record in registrations, considering the limited access, has been made in the past. Over 14,000 acres of land and under the First Prince of Wales will take place next Monday, December 10, and the record of 1900 has not been broken and probably will not be exactly known until the day of the week following. The number of great many registrations are being received from Chicago as the United States Government has been advised which they are being filed indicating that considerable interest is being shown. The last report being 19,000.

Crowds Expected at Opening.

It is probable that a large number of Twin Falls citizens will go to Junction, Idaho, on Monday, and special trains will be made for the occasion. The railroads have been given the round trip to and from the North Side town consisting of 1000 passengers. On December 6 and 11, return tickets being been received by the Twin Falls-North Side Land and Water company in the effect that many homeseekers will arrive from the East for the event. On the other hand, many who have registered will file upon the land by power of attorney.

Tract Includes Choice Fruit Land

The 14,000 acres which will be opened is declared to be the choicest fruit land on the North Side, and will be irrigated by a modern pumping system. The land is segregated under the Carey act, and the opening will be conducted by the state land board. Estimated by the state land board, 100,000 acres will be made for 40, 80, 120 and 160 acres.

An Attempted Resurrection

And it came to pass that Over-Stocked & Co's. Closing-Up-Down-and-Out-Sale was killed as dead as a dried mackerel in the Battle of Competition with Straus and Glauber's Lower Prices for Better Goods Sale. And so Over-Stocked's hired sales agents, Swiny & Co., weeping bitterly over the loss of coveted commissions, tried to resurrect the deceased, by shutting up shop, remarking the goods, and changing the front, offering merchandise for less than previously priced—an admission that they had not been cut to the bone at first, as advertised. But it also happened that the public was wise, and Over-Stocked's Sale was so dead that when the hired agents attempted to dig it up, buyers crossed to the other side of the street to avoid it. Here ends the lesson.

SIMPLE ECONOMIES SOMETIMES OVERLOOKED

In her anxiety to set a good table, many a housewife often incurs needless expense. For example, in the making of pastry, butter will often be used, which, at its cheapest, is expensive and gives no better results than can be obtained by the use of Cottolene—the vegetable oil cooking fat; yet Cottolene costs about the same as lard, and either one is required than either butter or lard. Lard is more expensive because it contains hog fat and leads to indigestion. You can save on your cooking fat, by using Cottolene in all your shortening and frying.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Miller were the host and hostess at an elaborate seven-course dinner which was in honor of Mrs. Florence Whitney and in celebration of the eighth anniversary of their wedding. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goodspeed, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Jordan and Walter Whitaker, and the Misses Margaret Hamilton, Dorothy and Beatrice Goodspeed, and Messrs. B. Gerger, Jay Bennett and R. Miller.

We properly fit both when you come to us.

For Spectacles or Glasses

For the comfort of the wearer it is quite necessary that the frame should fit the nose and face as it is that the glasses should fit the eyes. In fitting our customers properly we consider the length of the eye-lashes, the shape of the nose at the base, the width of the face, the distance from center to center of eyes, etc., etc. Our prices are no greater than you would pay parties knowing little or nothing of the optical business. Come and see us.

The Power Question

"Besides a saving of over 50 per cent. in our power account, the extreme satisfaction in knowing that we can start instantaneously at any time is worth the price of the motor," so says the manager of a grain and milling company.

How about you? Wouldn't you like to have that satisfaction?

One Westinghouse Motor installed on one of your machines without interfering with your other power equipment will prove it.

Why not try it out?

SALMON-SETTLERS SEIZE OPPORTUNITY

PREPARATION FOR NEXT SEASON FOLLOWS HARVEST.

Important Advantages Secured to Embarking Farmers Who Are Clearing Now—Provision for Immediate Need Not Neglected.

By John Clark Harvey

There is no interim of rest or idleness for the farmer on the Salmon River tract after the harvest season has passed. The work which is being done now by the farmers of the tract is work that will repay them many

During the present cold weather, while plowing is impossible, a great many farmers of the tract are putting in their time to advantage in clearing the sage brush from their lands. The domain of the brush on this tract is fairly extensive. Clearing at this time is accomplished, usually, either by pulling or by use of the frost grub-ber.

Pulling brush is the operation of breaking it off or pushing it down by dragging over it a railroad rail or other device for the purpose. While this operation usually does not remove all of the brush, it does put it in such shape as to be more readily removed by firing with torches or grubbing out by hand. It is stated by several who are using rails now that very satisfactory work is being done by them while the ground is frozen solid on the surface, the brush coming out with less dirt clinging to it.

fold in the results obtained another season.

As soon as this season's crops were removed from the fields, the enterprising farmer started plowing the land, and plowing has been continued until frost made it impossible for the time being. Should the ensuing winter prove to be an open one, such as is occasionally had here, it will be possible for farmers to resume and to A number of frost grubbers are in use on the tract. This device consists of a steel blade set at an angle on a long beam or sweep. In use, the sweep engages with brush on the side left standing, so affording a vantage point holding the blade in place to cut off the brush at the surface of the ground.

The device is said to be doing very satisfactory work by those who are using it.

continue plowing up until seed time.
The wisdom of plowing as much as may be done as soon as possible after the crops are removed is apparent.
Practically all of the most satisfactory crops grown on the Salmon River tract this season were the result of preparation for them during the fall and winter preceding.

There are many advantages to be gained by fall or winter plowing, among them being the greater ease of turning the soil when it has been

But while the Salmon River farmer is engaged in the important work of preparation for another season's crops, he is not neglectful of provision for the present need. With compares in foreign lands he has provided among the equipment for the farm those invaluable factors, the dairy cow and the laying hen. Quantities of produce, butter, eggs and vegetables are brought daily into the local market, and yet the demand is not nearly supplied, nor is there any probability a large extent of weeds, and conservation of the moisture in the soil. All are points to be seriously considered, even the last, which it might be supposed to be unnecessary where iriga-tion water is available. It is asserted by experienced irrigation farmers, however, that the "most satisfactory" results are to be obtained from crops ground, without recourse to artificial ducts here for some time to come.

There is almost unlimited opportunity for the dairyman, poultryman and gardener here, as well as for the general farmer or the orchardist who engages in these industries in a small way as an auxiliary to the main source of revenue or to provide an income until he shall receive adequate returns from the special branch he is following.
