STATE FIGHT IN POLITICS WELL ON

Roosevelt Has Odds in Primary Elections Thus Far.

Both Roosevelt and Haines May Yet Be Set Aside in Choice for Governor—Dubois is Endeavoring to Unite Democratic Faction.

The battle in the convention here will long be remembered. The forces were almost evenly divided. On the face of the returns the anti-trust bill is known that a few delegates were chosen on anti-trust sides who were really in favor of the present.

There was a stormy convention and left side hit feeling in the ranks of Roosevelt. The hypocrisy of the board of Senator Borah for his position was completely exposed in the convention.

RAISING OF BEANS WILL BE PROMOTED

5500 MAN PLANS TO CONTRACT FOR ACREAGE.

Crop of 16,000 Bushels. Was Produced on the Tract Last Year—Many Farmers Willing to Raise Beans During This Season.

With the contracts for the raising of beans being filled, and a considerable amount to be devoted to contracts now being contracted for, all farmers on the Twin Falls tracts who desire will soon have the opportunity of contracting for the raising of beans during the coming season. Sixteen thousand bushels of beans were raised on the tract last season and such a record is the basis of a desire among a large number of the farmers to engage in that culture this summer.

Large Acreage Planned.

In a recent letter to Secretary Spangler, of the Commercial club, O. W. Campbell, representing the Jerome river seed company of Chicago, stated that he is looking for a territory in which to contract for a reasonable acreage of beans for the coming season. Having learned that a large crop was successfully raised on the tract last summer, Mr. Campbell is anxious to enter this field for the coming year, and if the farmers are sufficiently interested to make arrangements for a large acreage of beans for the season of 1913.

Having learned from Mr. Spangler that a large number of farmers were disappointed in not being able to secure seed peas for this year's crop, Mr. Campbell stated that he had the means of the desire for seed peas sufficient to grow in a position to have furnished such seed for at least 1,200 acres for this year. He is also anxious to promote extensive sowing of alfalfa seed.

Many Contracts Possible.

Mr. Campbell has been advised by Secretary Spangler to come to this part of the state and present his proposition to the farmers, as a sufficient time yet remains in which to arrange for bean growing. Mr. Spangler believes that there will be no difficulty in arranging for a large acreage of beans both for this and next season.

AMERICA'S RAISIN CROP.

More than 11,000,000 worth of raisins were exported from the United States in the last fiscal year, the quantity being 13,500,000 pounds, being far in excess of the total exported in any earlier year.
The largest exportation of raisins recorded in any year prior to 1911 was that of 1907. According to the figures of the bureau of statistics, that was a little over 9,000,000 pounds, or less than half of 1911. The largest exportation of raisins on record is that of 1884, when a total of 14,000,000 pounds entered the country, as against but 2,500,000 pounds in the fiscal year 1911. Canada is by far the largest market for American raisins exported, the exports there in the fiscal year 1911 having been 11,000,000 pounds, compared with less than 5,000,000 to New Zealand, about 1,000,000 each to England and Germany, and 3,000,000 pounds to all other parts of the world. Of the 13,500,000 pounds imported last year, Spain, England, Asiatic Russia and Asiatic Turkey were the chief sources. These figures contrast with those of 1884, when nearly 54,000,000 pounds of raisins were imported, Spain was credited with 47,500,000 pounds, England, 5,000,000, and Italy nearly 2,000,000 pounds.

The American raisin industry had its beginning in the great San Joaquin valley and certain counties of southern California, which is still the chief producing area in the United States. In 1873 the California crop was but 150,000 pounds, while in 1910 Joseph O'Neil, D. E. Ford, places take the first among all known flocks and superior to grapes because the sugar has been thoroughly matured and ripened and transformed ready for digestion.

SUFFICIENT WATER ASSURED

Salmon Tract Will Be Well Supplied for Irrigation This Year—Additional Canal Constructed.

That there will be a plentiful supply of water for the Salmon River tract this year has been determined by recent investigations. One of the investigations there are now more than 1,000 acres feet of water in the mammoth reservoir available for irrigation at the present time, and the level is constantly rising.
As an additional source of water guaranteed for this year, there is a much larger amount of water on the water sheds than was the case last year. About a half million acres are included in these sheds, constituting in all about twenty-five townships. More than 245 miles of irrigation canals and laterals are now completed, and 100 more miles of farmers laterals have been constructed.

FIRST IDAHO CHEESE

Product of Clover Leaf Factory at Buhl is Placed on the Market.

The first product of the Clover Leaf cheese factory was placed on the Buhl market last week. The Clover Leaf is the first cheese factory to be organized in this state, and is located three miles southeast of Buhl. It has daily capacity of 10,000 pounds of cheese. The factory is owned by a dairyman, is at the head of the new factory. It was formerly the manufacturing plant of the famous "Williamson cheese" at a large factory in Oregon.

According to the Buhl Herald, Mr. Knuss began the erection of the factory last fall. About two years ago he purchased 400 acres of alfalfa land and started a dairy, terminating in the present cheese plant. The present capacity of 10,000 pounds of milk can readily be increased with the growth of the business. Other factories will be built in the Buhl country by Mr. Knuss in the future. The demand for the product so valuable to the home market of the factory is paying 40 cents for butterfat. It is stated in the Herald that the Buhl country is the richest dairy district in the country.

THE CARE OF ALFALFA MEADOWS.

It is sometimes possible and desirable to take up a stand of newly seeded alfalfa by reseeded. To do this, disk early in the spring, seedling when the weather is warm enough to cause heavy growth, with a spiked tooth harrow. It is not advisable or practicable to attempt to thicken up a stand of old alfalfa, since the younger plants will not successfully compete with the old well-established plants. If the old field has become weedy or full of grass, it had best be broken and reseeded with corn, potatoes, or some other crop before being reseeded. Generally alfalfa reaches its maximum period of production in four or five years and holds this old should be rotated.

It pays to cultivate alfalfa just as it pays to cultivate any other crop, and after the first season's growth cultivation should be given every spring. The first cultivation might better be done with a spiked tooth harrow, but after the second or third year and the plants better established, a disk should be run over the ground to loosen the surface deeper and split the crown.

The presence of fresh air in the soil is necessary in order to insure the best development of alfalfa. The roots must breathe and they require oxygen the same as those of other plants, and the alfalfa bacteria in the tubercles of the roots must have oxygen in order to perform their function of forming nitrates which are a food to the plant as well as fertility to the soil.

Distinctly different from all that have gone before, they still bear many characteristics of last year's fashions. The jackets are for the most part straight cut, though many nobby cut-away styles figure prominently in the list of favorites. They are short in length, 24 to 25 inches being the most approved. The skirts show novel tunic effects, while some are embellished with trimmings on the sides. Serges, Whipcords, Bedford, Novelty Fabrics, etc., are among the predominant materials, while the most popular new shades are blue, white and tan, at popular prices.

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what the substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impure stomach does not properly digest his food and his blood has become weak and impure, and that his whole body is impure and unhealthy. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red and throbbing the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a pure, electric extract (without alcohol) of blood-purifying and blood-strengthening herbs, roots, and fruits, and a powerful purgative. It is the best medicine for impurities of the blood.

A TWIN-FALLS COUNTY FAIR.

The proposition to establish a county fair grounds in Twin Falls county is one which should meet with the hearty approval of every one.

That Twin Falls county needs such an institution there can be no doubt, and if the residents of the county will act as a unit in their efforts to bring this about there can be no question as to the result.

The matter of securing the land necessary need not be difficult, and whether it be at Twin Falls, Kimberly or Elletts, or anywhere else in the county, should be dictated solely by the advantages to be gained. The point involved in the views of those who would solicit the assistance of the new interurban companies towards securing a suitable site is a good one, as it would undoubtedly be an advantage to the lines to have a park or public grounds of some sort at some point on their routes.

It is a well known fact that in many eastern cities ball parks and similar amusement resorts are operated by the street car companies, whose profits come very largely from the increased travel on their lines rather than from the park itself. Given a fair grounds which could also be used as an athletic field, somewhere in the vicinity of Shoshone Falls, and another attraction would be provided to help guarantee traffic over the lines. It seems entirely reasonable to suppose that the interurbans which will build the lines would manifest a very lively interest in such a proposition.

The matter of buildings suitable for housing the various exhibits, together with a grandstand for the benefit of the athletic portion of the patrons, is perhaps more of a question than the grounds themselves. The question of permanent or temporary buildings should be carefully thought out, but if a county fair is established as a definite institution it should be remembered that the first cost is always the biggest item and that permanent structures, once put up, are permanent.

Financially, with the proper support from all classes, the movement could undoubtedly be brought to a successful and splendid consummation. It is only a question of time when Twin Falls county must have a permanent fair grounds if the various products of the county are to be given the encouragement to which they are entitled. There can be no doubt as to the advantages to the county.

The organization of a stock company to operate the fair should meet with hearty approval, and, properly approached, every business man and farmer on the tract would probably be willing to become a stockholder.

Let us first make up our minds that we need and must have a permanently established county fair. Once this is done, the rest will be easy.

THE GREATEST GOOD.

In commenting on the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Scholde case, an action brought to recover damages from the Twin Falls Land and Water company, the Statesman has the following to say:

"There is a lesson for every citizen in the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Scholde case. In that action an attempt was made to recover damages from the Twin Falls Land and Water company because the construction of the Millner dam raised the water of the Snake river to such an extent as to destroy the active current that had turned the water-raising wheel of the plaintiff."

"There is no question that the complainant was put to a great deal of inconvenience and possibly caused considerable loss, but if his contention had been upheld in court a precedent would have been established possibly prohibitive of dam construction in our rivers and of aquatic irrigation works connected therewith that are the means of reclaiming immense tracts of land and providing thousands of new homes in this and other arid states.

"The Supreme Court's decision rested upon the equity embodied in the theory of the greatest good to the greatest number."

"It is, of course, regrettable that even one should suffer in the process of benefiting many and of upbuilding the state, but it seems that it is impossible to construct these great enterprises without disturbing the plans of a few people and possibly causing them loss.

"The march of progress cannot be stopped, however, by any minority interest. This is true in relation to other subjects as it is in relation to industrial effort, and it is true that every citizen should take pains to himself whether it involve some large project or whether it affect a minor civic question."

"The greatest good to the greatest number constitutes a tried and just principle, and while in individual cases hardship would seem to be worked at times, the general results cannot help but be regarded as satisfactory."

THE COUNTY PRIMARIES.

The selection of delegates to the state Republican convention in Twin Falls county serves but to further illustrate the fact that the Roosevelt strength in the rural communities has perhaps not been overestimated. It is worthy of note that in the city of Twin Falls the Taft strength was in the ascendancy, but as the returns from the county began to come in the final choice was not left long in doubt.

It has been said that Democratic votes would be used to place Taft in the lead on the theory that he could be more easily beaten than could Roosevelt for the presidency. There was no evidence of any such action in Twin Falls county.

BALLOTTING EXTRAORDINARY.

From the city of Chicago comes word that a single printing establishment in the city was equipped to print the ballot needed in a recent election. The ballot was over six feet long and probably contained in the neighborhood of a thousand names.

"The fallacy of the present voting system was never seen to better advantage. The idea that any man can make an intelligent choice of thirty or forty candidates for office from a list six feet long in something less than six minutes is so foolish as to render comment unnecessary. Yet the voice of the people must have an outlet, and in an effort to provide this a proposition is pulled up to the voter which, in his hands as far as a choice is concerned, about as effectually as any other system which could well be devised.

Undoubtedly a revolution is pending in the most important element of the present government system. The short ballot is more than a mere theory, it is the one way out of a situation which ever the politicians are finding intolerable. The ranks of the workers for the short ballot system contain the leading minds of the country today, and the movement is growing and will continue to grow.

"The Australian ballot, when it was first introduced, was a great institution, but it has outgrown its usefulness and must give place to the next step in the march of progress.

THE EASTER SEASON.

If any single religious festival should appeal to the average man more than another it must be the Easter services. The story of the resurrection constitutes one of the most beautiful of all Biblical stories, and the settings employed to present it in the Christian churches of the world lend a strength both grand and impressive.

In the modern scheme of life it is to be regretted that so large an element of men make no provision for the time necessary to even a casual church attendance. Yet, apart altogether from the religious significance of the service, nothing but good can come out of the teachings of modern theology.

It would perhaps be better if, instead of thirty or forty per cent of the population being regular church attendants, ninety to one hundred per cent attended a majority of the services. The Easter services mark a good place to make a start, although the matter of regular church attendance should not be confounded with the views of the young man who, being asked by his fiancée to be a regular church attendant, replied, "I should think so. I haven't missed an Easter in years."

Oregon Man Says Government Owns Country, Body and Soul.

Aurora, Ore., Jan. 6.—(The Editor.)—In the Oregonian January 21 I read an article by George Jan Maxwell in regard to conditions in Australia.

I went to Australia, was there six months I took the train from Sydney to Melbourne. Mr. Olds is right when he says each state has a different name railway. A friend came to see me off on the train at Sydney and he was compelled to buy a railroad platform ticket, which cost two cents (4 cents), before he could get on the railroad platform. That will give an idea of government ownership.

All the railroads in Australia are state owned. The government owns the steamship lines, the accommodations being so bad on the train I did not care to publish myself in the paper. I was in Sydney, Australia, a city of 200,000 inhabitants. My surprise I found there were no workers. My stay was about in Brisbane, Queensland, where I was a week. I went to Toowoomba, Queensland, and back to Sydney. I was in Queensland, a distance of about 700 miles, a farmhouse I saw had a galvanized iron tank at each corner of the house to catch rain water, which people use for domestic purposes.

Mutton Chief Food.

The food of the Australian is during bread, mutton and tea. During my travels I saw it so simple there was not enough to eat. I also traveled through hillsides of feet of timber. I inquired the reason of so much dead timber and was informed it was a two-year drought that killed it.

Waggon Road.—The government street car system: I paid one penny to ride in it. I did one section of about five or six blocks. No cars traveled through hillsides of feet of timber. I inquired the reason of so much dead timber and was informed it was a two-year drought that killed it.

fourth mile west of Twin Falls, ranging north and south, beginning at the town. They are good for some eyes.

Country Official Bureaucratic.

Yes, sir, the fact of the government mail railways is to protect the treasury to pay big salaries to the government officials, and you must know there are lots of them, as Australia is an official-bureaucratic country. The railroad corporations are employed in this country they give the traveler better accommodations for less money. There is only one trust in Australia and that is the government trust. There are many good newspapers. Get copies of most of them every mail. The Sydney Herald, the Globe, the Argus, the News, and Truth.

Arrival.—I regard to the cheapness of living. Arrive at my weary journey to Warrack in Sydney. I was about all I got work at 10 shillings a week and I was compelled to live in a cheap restaurant at six shillings a week. Bacon and eggs were on the bill of fare. I called for them and got one egg and a small piece of bacon and a cup of tea. Dinner was brought to me on one plate with bread, no butter, and a glass of water. They don't serve either hot coffee for dinner. I was compelled to work for what small pay I could get while I was waiting for my money to come to me from this country to bring me back to Warrack in Sydney. I last year, arrived in Sydney April 9. When the Australian government board of directors and I got my money my first act was to buy my ticket for this country. I believe I was the happiest man in Australia. I boarded the vessel that was to bring me back to the land of the free and good old Oregon.

Swim for Good Roads.

A. L. Swin, president of the Twin Falls, Idaho, road committee, said yesterday that he was very glad to see the work accomplished in one day. I saw a number of a crank on good roads, and I saw a number of a crank on good roads, and I saw a number of a crank on good roads.

Willet Hance, president of the Lincoln Produce company, and one who travels the country, made a great deal of talk. "It is the greatest thing I have ever seen. This applies not so much to the work that was accomplished in one day, but to the fact that the thousands created was more than the thousands that will serve as an object-lesson wherever it becomes known."

PROPER IRRIGATION IS BEING STUDIED

DR. H. BARK, SPECIAL GOVERNMENT ENGINEER, VISITS CITY.

The question of the proper amount of irrigation for all kinds of grain, fruit and hay is the problem that the government engineer is studying through a series of experiments and investigations in this and other parts of the Twin Falls valley.

With the aid of his state assistants in the aim of Mr. Bark to ascertain the proper amount of irrigation for the greatest yields of all grains, hay and fruits with respect to variations of soil and water.

As a result of our investigation of the past two years we have found that the amount of water applied is increased a depth of one and one-half feet, which gives a maximum yield of 100 bushels of wheat.

A LUCKY SHOT.

It helped the Captain Out of an Embarrassing Situation.

In the good old days the revenue cutters carried small rifle cannon, but they were only used to fire salutes with and now and then to break up a dory.

Chaplain E. P. Berthoff told a story the other day which illustrates the conditions which formerly prevailed on the "treasury fleet."

"New gunners could hit a target," he said. "Really there was little need. They used you loaded shells once in a lifetime. But now and then the board of inspectors came on board, and then every one was worked and nervous until the ordeal was over."

The inspectors visited the cutter command by a "brand of mine. They ordered out the firing squad, "ordered" went the time, "the projectile hit the target squarely in the center."

"Chase firing" ordered the captain happily. And he turned to the inspector, pleased as Punch. "There's no chance of missing ammunition," he said. "Our gunners can do that every time!" -Herbert Corey in Cincinnati Times-Star.

Subject, "The Appearance of the Resurrection."
 Golden Text, "This Jesus hath God raised up: whosoever believeth in him shall have eternal life."
 Acts 2: 24.

Lesson Text, "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, and wherein ye stand. The which also ye have saved, for ye are in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain."
 1 Cor. 15: 1-11.

For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures; and that he was seen of Cephas, then of all the apostles: after that he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once: of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen away: after that he was seen of James, then of all the apostles: and last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time. For I am the least of the apostles, that I am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all, yet not for the sake of mine own gain, but for you, that ye might have the grace which was with me. 11. Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believe. 1 Cor. 15: 1-11.

sleep." Note how clear the statement is that Christ's resurrection guarantees the believer's resurrection. The gloom of the dark grave is gone. Hence the enormous importance of having clear understanding, and a firm hold of this great doctrine. The Apostle deemed it of such vast importance that he "endured the loss of all things" that he might "win Christ" and "know him and the power of His resurrection."
 Risen or not risen, that is the great question. No fact excels it. No fact carries so much with it, because the Christian's resurrection or fall, with

It is an easy matter to establish a fact. All that is necessary is the testimony of eye-witnesses. The word of men who say, "We know this to be true because we saw it." We accept such testimony every day as to the verities of the facts of history. And this is the proof the Apostle cites in defense of the truth of the resurrection—eye-witnesses. Eye was seen of Cephas, then of the Twelve. "After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen away. Then he was seen of James; then of all the Apostles; and last of all, by Paul himself." There was certainly sufficient proof. The testimony of two witnesses usually satisfies the court. But here is the testimony of hundreds, many of whom were crucified and buried, and after His resurrection had looked into the empty tomb, and afterwards walked with Him, and saw Him ascend into heaven. There then is the testimony of Christ's enemies. To account for the empty tomb, they persuaded the soldiers to say, and paid them large sums of money to say, "We were sleeping, and our eyes were closed, and we know not where the body is." Look at that story. It falls to pieces at once, because it was the testimony of sleeping men. They say nothing, they sleep nothing. To admit they were asleep was to admit that they knew nothing about the body. It was factored to account for the empty tomb—the silent testimony that Christ had risen.

The witness of historical facts. Such as, first, the presence of Christian Church, an organization linked to the times of the Apostles by an unbroken history, and, secondly, the fact of Christ's resurrection. It received its charter from the risen Lord: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. What is its simple creed? Here it is: "If thou shalt confess with the mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." There is also, secondly, the Christian Church as witness of the fact of His resurrection. It dates back to the time when the Apostles saw the risen One, and acknowledge the fact of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, the very foundation of the Christian religion. No matter whether all men observe it or not, it stands out over the world every seventh day, the Lord is Risen.

A Great Mystery.
 But we are told that the resurrection is a great mystery. It is true. We are told we cannot explain it, and that is also true. But our understanding of a process is not necessary to its operation, or to the production of its glorious results.
 We accept a great many things as true, though our finite minds cannot grasp them. The moment we begin to talk of the Word being the resurrection of our Lord, many begin to reason as to the impossibility of the fact. They tell us how the body is dissolved, and how its particles are scattered; how they enter into new combinations and then another, now vegetable, then animal. With no a particle of the Bible says it is folly to talk of the collection of the particles in the resurrection. But we answer it is not necessary to know the exact manner in which the body is re-created, or to insure future identification. Our friends will declare that we are the same persons that we were eight years ago, yet physiology teaches us that there is not a particle of matter in us that was there eight years ago. Yet we will affirm and say that we are the same persons. The story is told of an incident that happened in the workshop of the St. Elizabeth Parry. A workman accidentally dropped a silver cup into a jar of acid. The cup at once disappeared and the workman was distressed, not knowing that the acid held the silver in solution. When Parry was apprised of what happened he threw into the jar certain chemicals, and the silver was immediately precipitated to the bottom. He then lifted out the silver, and sent it to the smith, where it was recast into a beautiful cup. A finite chemist can so reproduce a silver cup, and once dissolved, can do the same thing, so handle the particles of matter that enter into the human body. Admit God as the sole actor, and the whole subject of the resurrection is clarified.

The Apostle says the body is sown (buried) a natural body, but it is raised a spiritual body; and that it will be transformed into the likeness of Christ's glorified body. When Elsh rode to rescue his slave from the fire, it was his mantle, not his body, that he let drop upon Elshah. His body he took with him, and somewhere in his heart, and in the twinkling of an eye, his body was glorified and thereby fitted for a spiritual abode. How do we know? It was thus recorded in the Mount of Transfiguration. The body in which our Lord lived while He was upon the earth was killed and laid back to heaven. But before it had time to die, it came forth a glorified body; yet was recognized as the identical body that had been laid in the tomb. And it is written, "When He shall appear, we shall like Him." It is enough: "What a glorious contemplation!"

This is the day of all days—the glad Easter-day. It is the day in which the world should be "filled with the day" when the joy-bells of earth and heaven should be set to ringing; the day when the Church and all Sabatarians should beat back to heaven earth's glad hallelujahs, and boldly approach the grace with the

IDAHO SITE SELECTED

Ground Upon Which Gem State Building Will Be Placed at Exposition Has Been Chosen.

The site upon which the Idaho state building will be built at the Panama-Pacific Exhibition to be held in San Francisco in 1916, was selected by Governor Hawley and a large body of Idahoans at the exposition grounds Saturday, March 27.

It is planned to build the new building one of the fairest in the group of states buildings. An exhibit will be installed which will convince the American and international visitors to the exposition of the greatness and the wonderful resources of this state, and will set forth the immense development that has been made, and that which is yet still possible to be made in the Gem State. Visitors will be given an idea what Idaho really is, and what awaits them here in the way of a home and opportunity.

SAYS TRACT LOOKS FINE

R. L. Maupin Thinks Land in Fine Shape This Season.

R. L. Maupin of St. Louis, well known on the tract as a fruit grower, was in the city last Saturday on his large orchard four miles west of town. Mr. Maupin has been on the tract two weeks on his present western trip, and expects to remain about three months looking after extensive orchard interests. He is associated with the Twin Falls Orchard company, which company now has about 200 acres planted to fruit and expects to harvest here to $500,000.

Mr. Maupin states he never saw the tract looking better, and expects to see the best crops yet raised on the tract to be produced this year. He makes two or three trips to Idaho each year, and says he never saw the soil in as good working condition so early in the season as it is this year.

For information you will find nothing better than Maupin's latest report. Try it and see how quickly it gives relief. For sale by all dealers.

DUTCH CAPITAL INVESTING

Head of Foreign Bank Will Soon Visit Blaine County in Interest of Large Holdings.

The Courier office has received word that the president of the International Mortgage bank, of Apeldoorn, Holland, will visit the valley the latter part of April, coming direct from Europe. He will be accompanied by the general manager of the bank's interests in America.

Mr. J. J. van der Meulen, president of the bank, has made a number of visits to the valley in the past few years, and has secured a number of thousands of acres in Canada and in the Palouse country, and the visit of the president to the valley at this time is rather significant. The company has made loans through this office totaling close to $500,000 during the past four months. If they decide to invest here, it will mean a great deal to the valley, as they are in the colonization business as well as the loan business—Soldier Courier.

HOW FISHERS BREATHE

By means of their gills fish breathe the air dissolved in water. The oxygen consumed by them is not that which forms the chemical constituent of the water, but that which is dissolved in the air which is dissolved in the water. Fishes transferred to water from which the air has been driven out by a high temperature or in which the air absorbed by them is not replaced are soon suffocated. They require aerated water to maintain life and they take it constantly through their mouths and expel it through their gills, retaining the air. It follows that if the water in a lake should be completely cut off from the atmosphere, the fish would not be able to breathe long enough to exhaust the supply of air the fish in the lake would die. It would take a few and pretty long conditions of freezing to suffocate them, but it might happen and doubtless has frequently happened with a small body of water.—St. Nicholas.

SOCIETY HOSIERY

THE SILK STOCKINGS, WITH THE STYLE, WEAR AND FIT
Colos Phillips, the famous New York artist, has said woman men lavish most of her attention on the shoes and stockings that dress her feet.
He is right. No woman of today can afford to wear ill-fitting shoes and shoddy stockings, and no shoes however expensive, look well over a flimsy, cheap looking hose.
SOCIETY STOCKINGS
Are worn of heavy pure silk, are exceptionally long, with reinforced heel, sole and toe and double-knit garter top. They have all the flexibility of the old time hose combined with the beauty of the silk. In their wearing the greatest care has been taken, with the result that there is no unseemly bagging at the ankle or instep.
SOCIETY STOCKINGS look their part—they are fine, sleek and thoroughbred.
SOCIETY HOSIERY is not on sale at the shops, but must be purchased from us direct by mail. In this way we eliminate the dealer's profit, greatly reducing the cost to you and also prevent the possibility of an inferior grade of hose.
These stockings positively will not run; they come in all colors and that you are not satisfied—you to be the sole judge—your money is full well refunded.
Special prices to introduce our Society-Hosiery good for ten days only.

A Recipe for Molasses Cake.
(By Mrs. Sarah Tison-Rores)

Those who are fond of a moist, fluffy cake will find this recipe well worth trying; this cake is a favorite with the children.

One cup Sugar, Oregon molasses, two scant tablespoons Cottofine, melted, one cup boiling water, one teaspoon soda or saleratus, three cups flour, eight tablespoons sugar.

Dissolve the soda or saleratus in a tablespoon of boiling water, and add it to the molasses; then add the melted butter, pouring water, sugar and flour—heat until almost boiling, bake in a moderate oven about thirty minutes.

Note the use of Cottofine—the perfect shortening—by this famous cooking expert.
