DARK HORSE IS QUITE LIKELY

PRE-CONVENTION DOPE POINTS TO ENDORSEMENT OF SOME OTHER THAN PRESIDENT TATT FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

ROOSEVELT HAS GOOD CHANCE TO LAND IDAHO DELEGATES

Selection Badly Mixed and Warm Reaction Confidently Looked for—Majority Held to Favor Colonel, But Plugs Will Cut Important Figures and Strongly of State May Be Thrown to Senator W. E. Borah—Deadlock Not Unlikely

(Special to The News) Boise, May 14.—President Tatt will not get the delegates from Idaho. This much is now certain. They may not vote for him at all, and the chances are that they will not be instructed for him at all. They will go uninstructed and be in position to vote for Roosevelt and for the other candidates.

This statement is made after a careful inspection of the returns from every county in the state. The candidates with the Tatt and Roosevelt vote are in the state capital, and at the same time, the views of a number of the delegates from the counties are known.

In the past week the sentiment in favor of an unopposed delegation has grown considerably. The sentiment is in favor of a dark horse in preference to either President Tatt or Senator Borah. Roosevelt has grown in equal rapidity.

Even State Chairman Charles J. Helms is quoted here as saying the present sentiment in the county is in favor of a dark horse in preference to either President Tatt or Senator Borah. Roosevelt has grown in equal rapidity.

Chairman Helms is also in favor of an unopposed delegation to the Chicago convention. Helms has had a long and successful career in the state and has been recognized as one of the foremost politicians in the state.

This attitude of Chairman Helms is still more significant meaning to the close student of conditions in Idaho. It is a sign of a change in the sentiment of the people.

Chairman Helms is also in favor of an unopposed delegation to the Chicago convention. Helms has had a long and successful career in the state and has been recognized as one of the foremost politicians in the state.

"THE PURE FOOD GROCERY"

"First Quality Groceries Most Important Factor"

These days we are learning that the best is the cheapest. That used to be a mere saying of advertising and people did not really attention to it.

But we have all become wise and now quality is the first consideration. We look for quality in everything we buy, and if the quality is lacking we quit at any price.

Of all the things we buy there is nothing in which first quality is so important as in our food.

First quality in groceries is not simply a matter of freshness and flavor, but it is a matter of health. If it costs a little more in price, it makes up the difference in little or no waste, while poor quality always carries a good deal of waste.

And then we are looking to our health more than we used to, and we naturally buy first quality groceries.

Not only first quality but the most perfect sanitary conditions of handling and are essential to keeping the quality first-class until you receive it.

FIRST QUALITY and SANITARY CONDITIONS are the primary factors in our food.

Cottolene

THE hospitality of the South is proverbial; a great factor in the success of Southern hospitality is Southern cooking, for good cooks make or mar the meal. Cottolene is a Southern product, made from pure, refined cotton oil, and Southerners know of its purity and healthfulness better than Northerners.

It stands to reason that a cooking fat which is of vegetable origin, free from hog fat and indigestion, will make purer, richer, more healthful food than the product of the pig.

LOOK HERE FOR IT Many a Twin Falls Reader Will Be Interested. When people read about the cures made by a medicine endorsed from far away, it is surprising that they wonder if the statements are true. But when the name of the doctor is well known, the proof is within their reach, for close investigation is an easy matter. Read Twin Falls endorsement of Don's Kidney Pills. Don's Kidney Pills, of Twin Falls, Idaho, says: "I have taken Don's Kidney Pills often and for one year and they are the best kidney medicine that has ever come to my attention. I have suffered for years from pain and lameness in my back and I also had trouble from the kidney secretions. I was un-able to get any work and nothing that I took did me any good. Since using Don's Kidney Pills, however, my kidneys have become normal and the pain has left my back and lameness in my health is greatly improved. I would not be without a supply of Don's Kidney Pills on hand, and in view of my experience I feel certain that all kidney sufferers would do well to try them. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Don's—and take no other."

VALUABLE INFORMATION

Bulletin is issued by Department of Agriculture Relating to Evaporation from Irrigated Soils.

A new bulletin has just been issued by the Department of Agriculture... The bulletin may be obtained by writing to the Chief of Irrigation Investigations...

The experiments upon which this bulletin is based were carried out at Caldwell, Idaho, Davis, California, Reno, Nevada, and various places in the West...

The bulletin also shows up strikingly the great saving that can be made by cultivating the soil after each irrigation...

An average of the results at two stations, namely, Davis, California, and Reno, Nevada, showed an evaporation from a free water surface of 10.40 inches in 23 days...

This is by far one of the best bulletins ever published regarding the prevention of evaporation losses from irrigated soils...

the state. All of those interested are urged to write to the Chief of Irrigation Investigations at Washington, D. C., or to DON H. BARR, irrigation engineer in charge of irrigation investigations in Idaho, at Boise, and ask for the bulletin.

NOTHING WASTED IN CHINA.—The Chinese are not wasting anything. The Shanghai pits—up parcels with half the paper and string used by Europeans. Servants collect and sell matchboxes and things which seem to us useless—in the country you will see a boy in a tree heading down a single leaf with a letter for fuel. You won when you do it for any work collect dry grass for the same purpose. A man collects his fowls and then beats them and other terms jump and the fowls have a meal that costs nothing. You give a couple an old coat that you are ashamed to wear, and they will probably get a tailor to transform it for 30-50 cents into two pairs of excellent trousers for himself.—Detroit Free Press.

GOOD NEWS FROM SALMON

Engineer Darlington States There Will Be Ample Water Supply For All Settlers. That all present indications point to a successful year on the Salmon tract was voted by Canal Engineer and Superintendent E. B. Darlington at his Hollister office last Saturday.

Outside of the towns on the tract, more than fifty families have taken up their residence this season on the Salmon and others are coming in. Mr. Darlington states there will be at least 15,000 acres irrigated this year as compared to about 8,000 last year. He also states that much of the land that is being turned for the first time this year is being done on the large acreage plan. An encouraging feature of the opening work on the Salmon tract according to Mr. Darlington is the large number of orchards that are being planted. Many of the new farmers are equipped with the best and latest machinery and are prepared to stay.

TRACTS LOOK GOOD TO MINNESOTA-MEN

CAPITALISTS SATISFIED WITH IDAHO INVESTMENTS.

Members of Minneapolis Money Firm Visit Tracts in Interest of Investments and May Place More Capital on Strength of Development.

For the purpose of seeing the progress of development that has been and is taking place on the North Side of Twin Falls, Idaho, a party consisting of H. D. Thral, Minneapolis, president of the Minneapolis Money Firm, last week. Messrs. Durant and Thral are vice president and secretary, respectively, of the Minnesota Trust and Loan Association, a firm that is heavily interested on these tracts.

After an inspection of the dam and canal systems at Minnetonka, the visitors were accompanied over the North Side tract by Major Fred Hood, who they were highly pleased with the developments. From Twin Falls they were accompanied to the Salmon Dam by D. W. Weaver and E. H. Oliphant, of Minnetonka, purchasing agent and objector, respectively, in the company of offices. The day was spent in going over the tract by different routes, and being the most highly interested in the way of opening up large areas to cultivation. Speaking of their trip Mr. Durant said:

"This is one of the most satisfactory trips we have ever taken in the interest of our company. We have been interested in these tracts for more than two years and are satisfied in all particulars with our investment. No one can look at these tracts on the North Side and in any doubt but what it is a great tract and one of the best places in the country to which to have a home. The North Side of the Salmon Dam, is one of the best pieces of construction work I have ever seen and gives evidence of having been built to endure for ages. That tract is also assured a great future. I am glad to see the immense work that is being done in the way of subdividing these tracts into farms and orchards. The men who have been the pioneers in this work of reclamation certainly deserve the greatest credit and praise as they have made it possible for the providing of homes for thousands of people."

"As to your own tract here, on the South Side, it is simply marvellous what has been accomplished in a few years and I believe it to be the start. The three tracts here excel many; and equal the best of the well-known fertile irrigated valleys of California. We are very well pleased with what we have seen, and it is probable that more capital will be invested by our firm on the strength of what we have found this country to be."

"A Great Fruit Country."
Mr. Thral endorsed the expressions of Mr. Durant on completing their trip. "In all my travels," said Mr. Thral, "I do not recall of having seen such advancement in so short a time. I have especially noted the high grade of stock that has been seen on the tracts, and the large orchard acreage. I believe this is one of the best sections in the country. This is bound to be a great home country, the scenery, climate and good soil are all here, taken as a whole is a great country."

MOLDING OF A CHARACTER

Mother of the Greatest Moment to Whom Too Little Thought is Directed.

"To nothing in life, perhaps, is there directed so little thought as to the molding of a character. 'Thousands of men and women around us live their lives, as they would, and pass away without doing anything really worth while, falling to get out of life his best and most beautiful. We need not achieve wonderful things or become great personages, high in the esteem of the world; it is the molding of a character, or parent, the stamp of merit in these who give their whole attention to whatever they undertake."

Whether it be the making of an intricate capital of workmanship or the molding of a character, whatever is assigned to us should call forth the best that is in us.

Let us not be afraid to examine our faults. "It requires courage, certainly, then bravely to face them; but it is only by so doing that we may overcome them and cast them aside. Shall we be content to drift along without striving to rise above the level of those who do not care? Our character is in our own hands. There is no one else in the world who can make or mar it. We may be influenced, of course, by good or evil associates, but with ourselves lies the main molding of our career. We are the sculptors; our life is the clay. We can make it an indistinguishable mass of material or the masterpiece of a Michelangelo. Which shall we choose?"

OVERWORK'S GREAT POLLY

Words of Two Prominent Men That Should be Considered by Every Busy Person.

"Woman can't fall at the folly of overwork and she gets scant heed. Here is what two prominent men have to say about it. Whether they practice as they preach is best known to themselves, but the sentiment is all right."

Chauncey Depew has said: "I do not believe in overwork, and the body can not endure it."

Kirkham, in his "Resourceful" writes: "If we do not pay enough it is because we are overtired of business and because the modern ideal is, not a well-rounded man of elevated mind, head, body and a vigorous record, but a rich man, a man of property—or one resource only. Another reason is, play leisure—leisure—and leisure—in the cardinal sense, against the religion of toil, the dogma of business, the orthodox view of life of constant effort, followed by retirement and rest. The fruit of that doctrine is a host of prematurely old men, synical, dyspeptic, nervously depleted, without resources, but with money; that is to say, dead weight."

If instead of nagging, the working wife or mother has these two paragraphs stuck in the mirror of the man whose overwork is rankest folly, she may get an impression before the overwork has earned its sure penalty of a bad breakdown.

CHILDREN A RECENT FIND

Not Before the Nineteenth Century. Were They Truthfully Portrayed in Literature.

Children were only found yesterday. Before the nineteenth century—the child mind and the child heart were not supposed to have grown in them to interest the majestic adult. It is true that you find a delightful baby in Homer; that in Virgil there is a preattentive of a little girl; and up and down the child classes you meet half a dozen other pleasant shadows of children. But they are only shadows, only at the most charming pictures. They give you much as if they were painting or sculpture; for in child literature they have since had interest enough—only what a child looks like the pretty weakness, the instinct for play, the naive gesture and movement. Not till the return to nature, not till the spirit of romance moved on in the second half of the eighteenth century, do you find poets beginning to tell of the thought and faith in a child's mind, the mysteries of the child's heart; the child mind and the child heart was not supposed to have grown in them to interest the majestic adult. Not the Real Thing.
From a city correspondent little Jack was going for the first time to spend Christmas at his grandfather's farm. As he ran up the steps of the old house his grandmoother caught him in her arms and put him down, rosy and laughing, before the great log fire in the living room.

"Isn't that fine, Jackie, boy?" she said. "You don't have big log fires like that in New York, do you?"

"No, but I got a wickered dog, delight at the huge logs as they blazed and crackled in the enormous old fireplace, but he was anxiously loyal to his 'six rooms and bath.'"

"It's nice, grandpa, but it's only an imitation wicker—we've had real ones in my house," Lippincott's.

Dialled the Flavor.
A kindergarten teacher in Philadelphia fell in love at first sight with a certain young man who was brought to her for instruction.

"Oh, what a dear!" exclaimed the young woman. "Have you any brothers like yours?"

"Yes," replied the teacher, "my brother Tom." "And my brother Dick." "I like Dick best."

"And why do you like Dick best?" "Cause he did me a great favor. He hit Tommy's leg."

"But, dearie," protested the teacher, "why should you want Dick to hit Tommy's leg?"

"Cause I hate the taste of Tommy's leg," explained the cherub.

An Indian Day.
In the deep, blue twilight, while the air was caressingly cool, we went forth to ride along the river bank and beside fields of yellow mustard and heads of blue corn on our return to the shadowed interior, a bush broke in the swift dusk of evening, when again five jackals rose to the twilight allures with wailing and demonic wailing, or the silver bark of little foxes sobbed over the dark. We were gathered in comfortable deck-chairs in a great dim aisle of the mango grove, while the tents shone orange in the lamp-light, to tell and stories of the deers of kinds, or lists to the Poles of Chola, when a great, pretty, and brilliant (tenor, singing—"The Long Indian Day," Charles Johnston, in the Atlantic).

Civilized Presence of Mind.
Presence of mind is greatly dependent on knowing what is best to be done under conditions of alarm or danger. If this knowledge is acquired, and a very moderate amount of courage and some common sense will enable the individual to face with discretion and consequent safety in every trying circumstances.

Could Guarantee These Men.
An employer of men was inquiring of another employer if he could recommend him two steady sober men.

"Why, you have just come to the right man," was the reply. "I know two men—the staidest men I could meet in a day's march; in fact, I watched them for one solid year, when they were with me, and neither of them moved."

Turned Her Gold Into Nuggets.
Mme. Couly of Romorin, France, who had concealed $400 in gold in her kitchen grate, has been absent for two months. When she returned, she found all shut off her return; and lit a fire which converted her gold fortune into a gold nugget.

CLAGSTONE REMAINS IN RACE TO FINISH

DEFIES ALL REPORTS OF COMING FOR FUTURE SUPPORT

Former speaker showing strength in State and certain nomination in State. He Campaign in With the People. Not Politicians.

The recent circulation of the report to the effect that State Chairman Clagstone was marshall of the state for the coming year, has been denied by the Governor. Clagstone through the elimination of other candidates on the promise of securing the nomination has been threatened and urged throughout the state. Denials of any such agreement have been registered by such candidates as were concerned, and Chairman Clagstone has also branded as false any report that he had been making any such campaign arrangement.

Among the candidates most affected by the reported "elimination" plan was the Hon. Paul Clagstone, candidate for governor. The report said that Mr. Clagstone was to withdraw from the race this morning; the promise that he would support two years hence. Within the last few days leading papers throughout the state have published statements from Mr. Clagstone denying any part in such an agreement, and that he had no knowledge of any such combine having been arranged.

Story a Fake.

In the issue of the Boise Evening News of May 11 Mr. Clagstone is quoted as saying he believes the whole story is a mere rumor, and that it is his belief that Chairman Clagstone would not make such a combine, knowing that it would mean wreck to the state. His remark being that he does not care for nomination headed to me by a combination of machine politicians, but shall always take my candidate to the people.

That Mr. Clagstone is in the race to the finish is supported by the activity of his supporters, throughout many parts of the state, especially in the north. The proposition that a candidate should be chosen from the north is being actively received, and the Lewiston Tribune records the organization of a large number of Clagstone clubs who will be headed by the former speaker through the campaign held at the state convention.

Certain of Nomination.

In a communication sent received from Mr. Clagstone he states that he is independent at the statement that he would in any way consent to such a plan as has been mentioned. "Not only would it be ridiculous for me to do so at this time, as I feel that I have always fought such combine in the past and will continue to do so in the future."

Reports that Mr. Clagstone will show unusually hearty support in the north, and that with favor of his candidacy growing in the state, he will be a strong contestant for the nomination.

CLARK AND SMITH WIN

Democratic Primary Vote Results in Favoring Miscellaneous and National Delegate Supporting Him.

Delegates favoring the candidacy of P. Smith as a candidate to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore were elected at the primaries held throughout the county last Saturday. While the complete returns will not be known until the convening of the county convention next Saturday, it is believed that delegates favoring Smith to the U. S. senate were elected two to one.

While passing without excitement the election was popular in many of the precincts. Smith, favoring the city of Twin Falls, for president, carried all four wards of the east, being in the third ward. His tally: First and Third precincts gave their vote to Pike delegates, with the remainder of the county uniting the vote.

Eighteen delegates to the state convention at Coeur d'Alene, June 3, will be chosen at the county convention on Saturday, and it is likely that the delegation will go in support of Champ Clark and P. H. Smith. Saturday's vote places Twin Falls county wholly in the Champ Clark column.

The vote in the city, by wards, was as follows:

Ward	Clark	Wagoner
First	60	48
Second	57	54
Third	51	43
Fourth	48	43
Total	216	88

Miss Gladys McCune left Monday morning for her former home in Chicago, where she expects to remain. Miss McCune spent a year at the professional nurse and during that time many friends who were very unwilling to see her depart.

FINE MUSICAL IS HEARD

Leading Talent in City Takes Part in Excellently Rendered Concert at Presbyterian Church.

The concert rendered at the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening was especially popular, and applause which was granted. Although the attendance was smaller than it has been in the past, the program was of a high order, and the execution of the music was of a high order.

The Twin Falls orchestra's rendition of selections from "The Grand Duke" gave the audience a small but most enjoyable experience. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. J. L. Bouslog, has been especially liked for its excellent attitude for the following weeks. The church orchestra was an excellent one, and very pleasing numbers during the evening, and were enjoyed each time.

the solo, "Marinka" de Concert (Orville Mearns) by E. G. Beck, was an excellent piece of technique, and equally well and extremely pleasing. The closing chorus, "Father" (Gounod) gave an excellent finish to the evening.

The Mixing of Paints

Has a great deal to do with its quality, with its application and covering capacity. It is one thing to paint, and another to know how to correctly mix paint. Fortunately we know both, and understand the exact proportions or exact ingredients to insure a perfect and durable paint. The prices we put upon our goods are very reasonable, though.

FLANDERS 20 Automobiles E-M-F Two Models

Do You Want Your Money's Worth?

Flanders '20' Touring Car, $800.

The next time an automobile salesman tries to sell you a car at a discount, tell him that the old "something for nothing" story can't fool you.

The best automobiles in the world are sold for their list price, not a penny less. They are worth it. But the lame ducks, the second rates, the nondescript and assembled automobiles are in the public market looking for the highest bidder. Look out they don't get you. If gold-brick cars are not worth their list price, how much are they worth? Nobody knows. Cut price deals are frauds.

But if you want a car of one price to all and worth every cent of it, get either a Studebaker E-M-F '30', $1100, or Flanders '20', $800. You can trust them. You get all that you pay for, and that is more than you get with any other car at near their price. Studebaker guarantees them—that's the big reason. No matter what price temptation falls in your way, Studebaker E-M-F '30' and Flanders '20' cars are far bigger bargains, because in years of good service and satisfaction they pay big returns.
