AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Shall there be an election for judges in the fourth judicial district this fall? In other words, was Judge Stockeager appointed for the period ending with this year's general election or does his term of office continue until the next general election for judges?

The law under which Judge Stockeager was appointed is not specific. The title to chapter eight of the 1911 session laws which, was the measure under which the judge assumed office, provides as follows:

Authorizing an additional district judge for the fourth judicial district, providing for the fixing of the terms of court in said district and authorizing the appointment of said additional judge to hold office until the NEXT GENERAL ELECTION and providing for electing such additional judge at the NEXT GENERAL ELECTION.

So much for the title. But section two of this act provides that the governor shall appoint such additional judge to hold office until the NEXT GENERAL ELECTION FOR DISTRICT JUDGES.

It will be seen that this title fails to conform to the provisions of the act, however, additional light is shed upon the point by article three of the state constitution which, in section sixteen provides as follows: Every act shall embrace but one subject and matters properly connected therewith, which subject shall be expressed in the title; but if any subject shall be embraced in the act which shall not be expressed in the title such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be embraced in the title.

The point is an important one by reason of the fact that the "next general election" is this fall, while the "next general election for judges" is two years from this fall.

The question is, can an act be broader than its title?—and by omitting from the title the words "for judges" after the words "next general election," did the legislature place upon the statute books an act intended to provide one thing but which in reality provides something quite different?

There are numerous cases which would seem to indicate that not the title but the body of the act is to be accepted as authority and in view of these it is believed that a supreme court decision alone will serve to unravel the tangle.

MEMORIAL DAY.

It has been a full half century since the north and the south were in the throes of an awful, terrible conflict. The feet of marching men trampled the grain and flattened the meadows; heroic bugles greeted the sunrise; the thunders of war rent the sky; the shouts of men broke the silence of the quiet valleys; national dissolution was imminent.

It was a time of bitterness, of death, of destruction, of deep sorrow. The pages of history do not show a conflict more terrible or an issue more important. There are among us today a few grand old men who faced the storms of shot and shell on those frightful battlefields. Their numbers grow less each year, and these men who remain in the ranks of the living belong to the greatest of our history.

The present generation have the duty of remembering the price that has been paid for this union of states; the battlefields with the white faces of the dead—the ashes of young manhood—the shattered, broken men crawling through the smoke and roar of cannon shot—the weeping women who waited in vain at the doorstep, and killed the startled cry of little children—the young maidens who waited in cool shadows of evening, fearful of the future—the old men whose lips trembled as they asked the news of the only son, the pride; the joy, the hope of the fireside.

Let none forget this duty.

IN THE SHADOW.

One of the most pitiable things in this world is the fall of a great man. One who has climbed the heights and has, after years of arduous labor and unceasing vigilance, reached a commanding position in the world of affairs may, by the merest circumstance, be brought down into the dust of degradation. There is something inexplicable sad about the ashes of a once beautiful edifice. So, also, is there a touch of deepest sorrow about the ruins of a life once grand and powerful.

Regardless of the verdict that the jury may render in his case, Clarence S. Darrow is now in the deepening shadows of grave suspicion. The profession of which he has so long been a brilliant member, will await the verdict of the jury with apprehension. His friends throughout the country, many of whom are national figures, would gladly rush to his aid and save him from humiliation.

Darrow's life has been full of dramatic periods and splendid victories. But today his feet are entangled in the meshes of terrible suspicion; and the greatness of yesterday cannot avail him now; while he turns this way and that to free himself, the world looks on with feelings of pity that one so powerful should, himself, be brought to the dock where so many of his clients have sat charged with crime, confident that the brilliancy of Clarence S. Darrow would throw wide the prison doors.

IDAHO-PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS.

In looking over the field of candidates for Governor on the Republican ticket, three names if not more stand out prominently, namely, Haines, Morrison and Clagstone, the latter, unlike the first two largely on account of the platform Clagstone has selected for himself.

There can be no question but what the principles of Progressive Republicanism have come to stay and that the progress made in the past few years will be as nothing to the strides which will be made in the future. The day of the stand-patter and the reactionary is past and the new thought of today occupies the center of the stage.

The direct primary, the short ballot, the popular election of United States senators, the initiative, referendum and recall—all these things belong to the new order of things and each and every one carries with it the endorsement of the leading Republican minds of the nation.

In looking over the promises and pledges of the Idaho gubernatorial candidates it must be admitted that Clagstone comes closer to the true spirit of progress than any.

The game as a whole is not so much a fight for men as it is a fight for principles, and this as it should be.

WHY NOT THE STATESMAN?

There is just one point which presents itself from a purely unbiased standpoint as worthy of comment in the controversy now on between the Statesman and former Governor Gooding. Gooding's views as to the relative fitness for office of Taft and Roosevelt are largely his own business but it does seem rather queer that when Governor Gooding desired to make reply to the Statesman criticism he should carry that criticism to some paper other than the Statesman. Governor Gooding has been quite closely in touch with a good many newspapers for a good many years and is not unfamiliar with the rules governing the handling of news matter. He cannot have supposed that the Statesman would decline to publish his reply to its article.

Governor Gooding's attitude towards the Capital News has been so well understood among his friends that it seems doubly odd that he would place himself in the position of asking as a favor the publication of an article which would have been a mere matter of newspaper ethics in the case of the Statesman.

FOR STATE SENATE

The fact that C. A. Robinson, manager of the Farmers and Merchants' bank, will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the state senate at the coming primaries is meeting with a good deal of general approval in the party.

Mr. Robinson is, strictly speaking, a politician, and this fact is regarded as perhaps one of his strongest claims to office. His record in a business way is a splendid one and his fitness for the office is questioned by all.

THE NEW JERSEY PRIMARIES.

The result of the New Jersey primaries may be regarded as finally settling any lingering doubt which may have remained regarding the Taft nomination following the Ohio voting. President Taft is no longer a factor in the Chicago convention except as he may elect to lend his influence for or against another candidate.

PROGRAM FOR GOOD ROADS

Prominent Speakers Will Attend Meeting at Logan, Utah.—A Large Attendance is Expected.

The American Automobile association will be represented at the meeting of the Interstate Good Roads conference at Logan in June, by A. G. Shober, chairman of the executive committee of that association. Secretary Wm. Wallis this morning received a telegram from Mr. Batchelder which reads: "Please put me on the program second day. Letter follows." This makes it certain that the greatest automobile association in the world will be represented at the Logan good roads convention by the executive head of the association, Mr. Batchelder has been expecting to attend the meeting at Logan, Utah, for some time. His attendance at the Logan convention will be good news to all members of the association and to all automobile motorists.

The speakers program for Interstate Mountain Good Roads association is gradually forming. President of the association and its executive committee have already announced, an invitation was yesterday sent to J. T. Ryan, warden of the state prison at Carson City, Colorado, to attend. Mr. Ryan is an unquestioned authority on the subject of prison labor on public highways, and is expected he will attend the convention.

President Frank N. McCandless of the Pacific Coast Good Roads association will be in attendance. Mr. McCandless will be invited to attend a meeting of the Interstate Mountain Good Roads association. He is quite a good roads booster.

The attendance of more than 12,000,000 for improvement for highway work. Tacoma has been easily offset by secured improvement, said Mr. McCandless. As a result, the 12,000,000 are placed on a par with city residents. The freight capacity of many of the trucks running into the country has been increased, and the result is seen in increased orders and a far better condition of farm products that come into the city for marketing.

And in this respect the good roads work affects a community in much the same manner as the good roads work. The money is put into immediate connection with a profitable market and is likely beneficial business opportunity.

The coast and intermountain associations should cooperate in establishing some of the best roads of the country for practical purposes, and tourist travel. The transcontinental automobile route is now being had will uniform throughout the country.

NATIONAL NOTES

Most revolting stories of unsanitary conditions in the slaughterhouses of New York City and Newark were told last week to a House committee by a former government inspector.

The Supreme Court has held that the State of Oklahoma cannot tax the lands held by the 8,000 Indians who are less than half-blood. This means a loss to the state of many million dollars in taxes.

The long-delayed trial of the government's suit for the dissolution of the state provided that an election will be held if it is appealed to the Supreme Court, probably last at least through all of next year.

The United States now has the honor, if it is an honor, of possessing the most powerful battleship in the world. The super-torpedoed battleship, the USS Oregon, was launched at Newport News, Va., on May 18. It is named after the famous warship of the Spanish-American war, the USS Oregon. It is the first ship in the world to carry 14-inch guns, of which it will have ten, supplemented by sixteen 6-inch rifles. The cost of the battleship is about $10,000,000.

By the decisive vote of 244 to 91 the House passed on May 14 the Clayton anti-trust bill, which is one of the most advanced steps ever taken in the interests of organized labor. This bill provides that an election will be held, without previous notice, to the parties interested and an opportunity for them to be heard, injunctions for seven days, and injunctions cannot be granted in labor disputes unless there is shown to be absolute necessity in order to prevent irreparable injury to property.

Upon request of the government of Panama and two political parties of that republic, President Taft has appointed a commission to supervise the registration of voters and the subsequent election in Panama. This mission is composed of the American minister at Panama, Colonel Goethals, who is digging the Panama Canal; and Colonel Greene, commanding the Tenth infantry in the Canal Zone. It is possible that a portion of the Tenth infantry will be taken into Panama to preserve order during the registration and the election.

TEDDY SWEEPS JERSEY

The Colonel Gets All Delegates in Primary Election—Wilson Altra Leads Among Democrats.

Newark, May 28.—Indications based on fairly conclusive returns, that Roosevelt has won all the 23 delegates elected today at the New Jersey primary.

The first returns came from Newark and Cape May county, at almost opposite extremes of the state, and the few voting precincts which had counted their count at that hour gave Roosevelt a slight lead on the Republican side, while the Democratic struggle, which was a fight for and against Governor Woodrow Wilson, seemed evenly balanced.

Early returns from Cape May, one of the four sparsely settled counties in the second congressional district, showed a majority of 600 for Roosevelt.

At the same time F. W. Gray, Roosevelt's former business manager, in a league notified the Taft bureau in Washington that the president had carried Newark by a safe majority. He based this claim on the first 10 Newark districts to report, which gave on the presidential preference vote 512 for Taft and 460 for Roosevelt.

ONE TRICK OF THE TRADE

Old Meat Dealer's Method of Getting a Reputation for Giving Very Good Weight.

The very latest trick of the trade was taught to the young butcher by the marketman who gave him his first employment. The old dealer pointed to trays of beef, lamb and pork trimmings, and said: "Most of these things they want the corners sent home so they can weigh the whole business and find out whether they are getting full weight or not. Enough extra pieces to tip the scales—half an ounce beyond the supposed weight—will get anybody and will give us a good name."

Shortly after that the new clerk heard one of his regulars say to another: "Oh, why don't you look at Blank's steaks. Give such good value for the money. I've had a lot of good things from him, and he's made a deep study of all the problems concerning the agricultural interests for very many years."

himself for these principles, or advocate the adoption of our magnificent leader, Theodore Roosevelt, I took up the fight for these principles four years ago, at a time when they were very new and far from popular. I was called an extreme radical at that time, and had to bear the brunt of a great deal of abuse, but continued to argue what I believed to be the best citizenship.

When I became a candidate for the speaker of the tenth session, I found myself elected to nearly every machine politician in this state, but after a very hard fight we were able to perfect the organization of the legislature very early in the session. At the political bosses, for the first time in the history of Idaho. As soon as I was elected I immediately bent every

Has Fulfilled Pledges.

"In addition to fulfilling the party pledges, I secured the passage of legislation including our splendid direct primary law, without which we should not be in the category of states which count on the machine politicians. I also absolutely nullified the influence of the lobbyists during the tenth session, by enforcing the rule which compelled every one but members to keep out of the legislative hall, unless they secured a pass from the speaker. As a result, the lobbyists were not able to come to me for these passes; they shortly afterwards left the city of Boise and I do not believe that any election politician was able to make one dollar while I occupied the position of speaker.

"I also secured the passage of legislation for the reformation of the trust holding classes, and believe that we must look for our best citizenship to the people of our own country. I am an ardent believer in the right of every man to make a dollar while I occupied the position of speaker.

Progressive Platform.

"In the present primary campaign I am making my fight on a platform of advanced progressive principles. I elected, I shall try to put through a law like that obtained by La Follette in Wisconsin, compelling all lobbyists at the capital to register at the state house and make known their business.

"I shall also do my utmost to secure a stringent corrupt practices act, which we need very greatly in our direct primary law, in order to prevent the kind of thing that has happened here, and to prevent money by candidates or powerful interests who are urging their claims.

"I am also advocating the short ballot, such as has been obtained by Governor Johnson in California, the initiative and referendum, and the recall.

years hence to succeed Senator Hoyt, the election of John T. Morrison as governor next fall, the reelection of Burton L. French to congress, the election of Judge Alfred Bugbee to the state senate, and the election of Governor George H. Stewart, and the election of Chairman Charles L. Holtman to the supreme bench of the state.

This distribution of the high honors was agreed upon, it is asserted, when Judge Allshie visited Washington, not only to see the president, but to see Senator Hoyt's health has been in a precarious condition. There might be a vacancy to fill at any time.

French are so hard to bring about the nomination and election of John T. Morrison as governor.

Still Another Side.

There is another side to this picture that is equally interesting. It is asserted that Frank R. Gooding, who is now in the United States at Hoborn in the United States senate, and that is why he passed up the nomination for governor this year. He is fighting so bitterly against the nomination of John T. Morrison, although his old friend of Hoborn, Frank R. Gooding and E. H. Dowry are strenuously opposed to the nomination of John T. Morrison. The same taken it is expected that before many days both will be out in the open working for the nomination of John T. Morrison.

There are looking forward to an appointment in the state with Frank R. Gooding and E. H. Dowry are strenuously opposed to the nomination of John T. Morrison. The same taken it is expected that before many days both will be out in the open working for the nomination of John T. Morrison.

Of course an eruption in national politics may knock these and all other pretensions into a cocked hat without a hour's notice; but under such conditions this is how the fight seems to be shaping up among Idaho Republicans.

Clark and Hawley Safe.

It is much easier to anticipate what will take place among Idaho Democrats. The Calumet d'Alone convention will send to Boise an untested and untried delegation made up largely of backers of Champ Clark for the presidency.

That same convention will turn back behind Judge K. I. Forney and Frank R. Gooding, and under such conditions this is how the fight seems to be shaping up among Idaho Republicans.

In state matters the Democrats will nominate Governor Hawley, and will support him. The death will now prevent this. It is equally certain that the Democrats will not nominate a candidate for United States senator in this Governor Hawley will have his way, and if the next legislature should be Democratic, which is not at all likely, Governor Hawley would make the best of his life to go to the United States senate.

With these main points disposed of the Democrats anticipate their trial in an exciting out-of-the-state election, and in agreeing on a platform.

It is agreed on all sides that the Democrats at this stage of the campaign occupy a much better tactical position than do the Republicans. It is also agreed on all sides that the Republicans must use exceedingly great care and attention in order to beat Governor Hawley this year.

With the Democrats united practically to a man back of their governor and the Republicans still divided in the nation and still in doubt as to a standard bearer in the

HYPOCRISY AND SINGING.

The Golden Text: "Take heed that ye do not sing with the organ, as if ye were men, and ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven."—Matt. 6: 1.

Text of Lesson, Matthew 6: 1-18.

1. Take heed that ye do not sing before men, to be seen of them; ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2. Therefore when thou dost thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

3. But when thou dost alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth.

4. That thine alms may be in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.

5. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they stand to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

6. But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7. And when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8. Be not like unto them, for ye know what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

11. Give us this day our daily bread.

12. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14. Forasmuch as thou art a merciful Father, thy Father will also forgive us.

15. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16. Moreover when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, who disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

17. But when thou fastest, wash thy face, and wash thy feet.

18. That thou appear not unto men to fast; but unto thy Father which is in secret; and he will reward thee openly.

In our last lesson our Lord taught us the folly and danger of the misuse of our tongues. In this lesson he teaches us to win the praise of men among the Jews. In that day there were three forms of piety in which hypocrisy (in feeling to be what one is not) was rampant. The first was in prayer, the second in fasting, and the third in giving.

The Pharisee imagined that he had reached a very high degree of righteousness in the exercise of his spiritual life, but his spirit of bondage and hypocrisy destroyed the power of these works and in the eyes of God he was as dead as the stone with which he was rolled away from the tomb.

It is very important that we understand the right and the wrong use of these forms of piety in our relationship toward our neighbor (alms-giving), our God (prayer), and ourselves (fasting).

Let us note that spiritual religion is not a mere outward and becoming expression, chiefly, however, in the quiet and devout worship of the church. It is the great evil that is the sin of the Pharisee, and it is the sin of the hypocrite, and it is the sin of the man who is proud of his own piety.

In public, to close the eyes, that he did for the time being may be shut out. Then he charges not to use vain repetitions, but to be simple in talking. He means us to understand that we are not to be seen of men speaking, but because of the earnest desire of the heart.

The Model Prayer. That short, beautiful prayer which our Lord taught his disciples is so familiar to us that we often utter it automatically without catching the depth and beauty of its meaning.

Our writer has given us this clear, simple, and beautiful prayer in which we may discover the true spirit that pervades it.

The first prayer: "Our Father." Through the Lord Jesus Christ, we are taught to call Him "Father." This brings us very near to Him as our Father.

The worshipful spirit: "Hallowed be thy name." In the spirit of true worship we lose sight of self in the contemplation of the exalted character of our Father.

The missionary spirit: "Thy Kingdom come." The missionary spirit, which our Lord says, will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

The dependent spirit: "Give us this day our daily bread." He does not teach us to pray for a surplus, but only for what we need. Any surplus is the result of our own industry, and then do nothing to bring in that surplus.

The forgiving spirit: "Forgive us our debts." The forgiving spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

The penitent spirit: "Lead us not into temptation." The penitent spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

The grateful spirit: "Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever." The grateful spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

The obedient spirit: "Forasmuch as thou art a merciful Father, thy Father will also forgive us." The obedient spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

The loving spirit: "But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses." The loving spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

The faithful spirit: "Moreover when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, who disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast." The faithful spirit is the spirit of true worship. It is the spirit of true worship, and it is the spirit of true worship.

LEADING-TALENT BILLED

America's Most Prominent Singers on Chautauque Program at Boise, June 19 to 23.

The third annual assembly of the Idaho State Chautauque association, which is the first of the season, will be held at Boise, June 19 to 23, will present the strongest line of musical numbers yet offered to the people of Idaho, and it is particularly noteworthy in view of the low compared to the cost of similar entertainments presented under other auspices.

The season tickets for the Chautauque are only $1.00 for the first night, and $1.75 for students, embracing all the departments, schools, about thirty lectures or readings, ten concerts and a number of other attractions.

These are all given in the beautiful Flannery theatre, the large assembly room of the Boise high school and the auditorium of the St. C. C. Annex. The seating capacity is ample and the rooms are well ventilated and cool.

The Chautauque association has also arranged for supplying rooms to those who attend its seasons, at a very low cost, thus making it possible to spend the hot days of Chautauque for less than most vacation cost, and at the same time enjoy many rare treats in music, literature and art.

Good Quartet Coming. Five former members of the Theodore Thomas orchestra compose the Schubert Quartet, which will be the first, musical attraction.

They carry with them one of Chicago's best lyric sopranos, a regular soloist at the Lyric Opera house, and one of the fashionable burlesque artists of the city. They also produce scenes from the classics and modern plays.

Willard Andelin and Mrs. Andelin are also noted Utah artists who will do considerable solo work and present short programs on the evenings when a local artist is the principal feature. The former is a case of splendid native ability and excellent training, with a voice of profound richness and depth.

He has been a student and soloist at the best masters of Europe for the past five years, during which time he has filled with distinction a contract with the Royal Opera company of Vienna.

Mrs. Andelin is a dramatic soprano of rare ability and with an exceptionally sweet, pleasing voice and superb acting.

Great-Musical-Triumph. What is expected to be the triumph of the Chautauque is the intended production of Mendelssohn's greatest oratorio, "Elijah," by the Chicago Operatic company and the Boise Choral society combined.

The operatic company will carry the solo parts and the choral society will do all the ensemble singing. Never before has such a high standard of musical production in Idaho, and it will be made additionally notable by the artists who are to assist in the production.

John R. Miller, a prominent local musician, is the director of Professor Westbrook, its organizer and the director of music for the Boise Independent school district. Foreman of the choral society includes practically all the best voices of Boise.

It is a voluntary organization composed of lovers of music who are able to sing. Its ambitions are purely artistic, and for this reason it is able to command the very best singers of the city. The solo parts will be admirably well carried for Arthur Middleton of Chicago will sing the baritone role, the part of "Elijah." Mr. Middleton is acknowledged as the best singer in all the large cities of the east, where he has won unlimited praise.

PLAN OBTAINING OF GOLD BY NEW MEANS

WISCONSIN VISIT SNAKE RIVER CANYON WHERE DEPOSITS LIE

Twin Falls Country Believed to be Rich in Gold Laden Sand—Large Factory for Mineral Extraction Planned for This City.

A large factory or plant for the extraction of gold, platinum and iridium from the black sands of the Snake river is apparently an assured fact for Twin Falls, the plant to be established here probably this year, according to statements made by George H. Bradford, operating manager of the California Extraction company of Oakland, California, here last Monday.

Mr. Bradford, L. B. McMurtry, director of the company, and G. W. Rutherford, chemist, spent several days last week and the first of this with a thorough investigation of general conditions in this locality. They made a number of trips into the Snake river canyon and secured samples of the black sand deposits. From here they went to Boise, Tuesday morning, to investigate the deposits of sand taken out by large dredges which are in operation near that city. The party is making a tour of investigation through a number of the western states in the interests of the business.

The company represents many millions of dollars, collectively. Mr. Bradford, when interviewed at the Fortia hotel, said:

"We are not here to sell—stock—we have more to sell—There are five of us in the company and we have sufficient capital to handle the business very satisfactorily. We are here to interest those who own and operate placer mines and have property containing black sand deposits and to urge them to cooperate with us in getting the full value from these deposits. Our proposition is a legitimate one and has been tried and found successful.

Secret Process Used.

"We have a secret process whereby we can extract from the concentrates of 'leavings' that the placer miners leave away after taking out all the free gold they can secure, much more value than any process has ever been able to obtain hitherto. This is no competition with smelters because smelters are unable to extract the values as we do.

"At present we have only one plant in operation, that is in Oakland, California. To this plant we will have the black dirt shipped from the various districts for the present. We will test these shipments to ascertain what changes, if any, will have to be made in the plant to handle the particular mineral sands from this section. As soon as this is determined and conditions are satisfactory, a plant will be established here. We consider Twin Falls the best location for the placing of a plant for this part of the state.

Will Build Plant Here.

"This plant is built all mineral deposits in a large area will be taken care of here. The plant will include an assay department and all facilities for handling the business. Our proposition is this: After the placer miner has extracted all the free gold he is able to secure from the dirt, the concentrates or 'tailings' are brought to the plant, a careful assay made and 50 per cent of the value is paid the miner at once, the company taking the other 50 per cent. Placing the amount at a low estimate, the miner would receive $15 to $20 per ton after he had extracted the free gold. This amount then would be almost clear profit as under any process now used the tailings, which contain the far greater values, are simply thrown away.

"Our process is patented in the United States and in six foreign countries. We have recently been offered a large sum for the patent for this state, but we refused it. We do not want to sell.

"Outside of California we are receiving steady shipments just now from Coos Bay, Oregon and vicinity, only. We are working slowly and carefully but expect to have our system working steadily and successfully soon in all these states where the mineral sand deposits are found.

"Nowadays when a new process of any kind is placed in the industry is mentioned, people smile and shake their heads. This is not surprising because so far, nearly every process known has been tried, and found wanting. To save the free gold has always been the motto and aim of the past. But we care nothing about the free gold, 'give us the tailings! If we can.'

Samples Are Promising.

Mr. Bradford displayed five very interesting samples of black sand, platinum, iridium and two of gold showing the appearance and quantity extracted from the same amount of sand, one by the placer miner and the other by the secret process used by this company. All were taken from 10 pounds of sand. There was ten times as much, each, of platinum, iridium and the pure gold, as of the amount of gold extracted by the popular methods of placer mining.

The party expects to return to Twin Falls sometime next month. Their visit this week was the first they have made to southern Idaho and they expressed great interest and surprise at the rapid and substantial growth evidenced.

BANKER TO TRY FOR SENATE

more than ten years he had been actively connected with the Shoshone National bank. He has always taken a lively interest in politics, but has never held or held a candidate for office. Since coming to Twin Falls, he has been interested in both banking and farming and in addition to being manager of the Farmers & Merchants bank is developing a 250-acre orchard tract east of this city. He is regarded as one of the most capable bankers and business men of the state.

Robinson is Popular.

The proposal of Mr. Robinson's candidacy has been received with favor, not only in the Republican ranks, but by many of an entirely different political faith from his own. It has been generally conceded that the most necessary qualification for the man who is to be elected in the state from Twin Falls county, this year is that he be thoroughly posted on the needs of Twin Falls county and have the necessary force of character and ability to obtain those things which the county wants. In Mr. Robinson it is believed that such a man has been found. Both personally and in a business way, he is well known to all classes and many of his former neighbors, friends who have located in this country speak in the highest terms of his ability and fitness for the position for which he is mentioned.
