

Week in Society

Owing to the warm weather, most of the affairs of the past week have been of an informal nature, automobile parties being perhaps the most popular, with breakfast-and-morning bridge as a close second.

First Annual Entertainment of Emerson Club

The members of the Emerson club celebrated their first anniversary at the home of the president, Miss M. E. Hamelin, at which time about thirty-five friends were invited to enjoy an informal tea, followed by an excellent program, which showed much earnest work on the part of the club members.

The home of Miss Hamelin was very attractive with fragrant summer blooms, punch and wafers were served during the afternoon.

The program opened with a dissertation on the "Early Life of Emerson" by Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. C. R. Scott following with "Emerson's Travel and His Friendship with the artist, Mrs. Alton Kent with "Emerson as a Poet," Mrs. Arthur Seaver with "Emerson as an Essayist," and Mrs. B. E. Morse.

Miss Hamelin introduced the speakers with appropriate remarks, welding the different numbers together to make a complete story of the life of Emerson.

Miss Helen Michter of New York, a niece of Mrs. Daubö, who with her mother spent the last two weeks in the city, rendered a delightful piano solo, and responded to an encore.

The club, whose meetings are limited to twelve, has done much serious work during the past year, and the friends who were present on Friday afternoon were delighted with the results.

A short business meeting was held last night, the tea, at which Miss Hamelin was presiding, and Mrs. Alton Kent secretary, Mrs. Oldham, who has been the secretary for the past year, and who is leaving the city to the other state, was presented with a beautiful sash in offering the spoon Mrs. Morse made a few appropriate remarks, and Mrs. Oldham responded in a charming manner.

Enjoyable Dinner

Mrs. Gault was hostess at a delightful dinner on Tuesday evening in honor of the house guests of Mrs. Stella Daubö, the "magnificent" lake formed of roses occupied the center of the table, around which were seated Mrs. Blatcher and Miss Helen Michter of New York, Mrs. Little of Chicago and Miss Katherine Miles of Chicago, Mrs. Augusta Lindner of Chicago, Mrs. Debus, Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Erbe.

Luncheon Club Entertained

Mrs. M. J. Swolow entertained the luncheon club at her home last Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. C. H. Robbins received the prize for high score at bridge.

Miss C. W. Walton entertained the club on Tuesday morning of this week, Mrs. McCollum winning the prize, Mrs. Alton won the next prize.

N. N. Club Entertained

Mrs. Coughlin entertained the members of the N. N. club last Wednesday at her home, Mrs. Coughlin was the prize. Mrs. Coughlin entertained the club this week, when the prize was awarded to Mrs. M. J. Swolow.

Family Telephone Organization

Modern conditions have brought about the need for what might be called a long distance telephone organization of the family. "When in doubt, telephone," is an axiom that ought to be impressed upon every member of the family going on a journey or to live at a distance. The mother can reach her children at school, and children should be required to telephone home occasionally. When husband or wife set out on a journey a telephone itinerary should be jotted down and left behind. Members of the family traveling should not be content with providing means by which those left at home may reach them quickly, but should communicate with the home frequently, and particularly when there is bad weather, transportation delay, disturbance of public order, or any other unusual condition where the traveler happens to be. Bad news flies fast, and is magnified by distance. These things cause apprehension at home. No other medium conveys the personal assurance and causes such peace of mind as the long distance telephone talk can give.

HULL-SMITH WEDDING

Well-known Young Couple of Hansen Are Married Tuesday Evening—Yellowstone Wedding Trip

The wedding of Miss Mary Ellen Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Hull of Chicago, was united in marriage to Daniel John Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Hansen. The Rev. Frank Hardin of Kimberly performed the ceremony, using the ring service, in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends. Miss Suzette Hilly played the wedding music during the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nabella Elizabeth Hull, and the groom's brother, Herbert Alexander Smith, was best man. The bride was suitably attired in a marquisette and lace over cream silk and carried a train of gold beads, an heirloom of her mother's. She looked charming in white, scarce trimmed in silk lace. She carried pink roses. Following the congratulations a very delicate repast was served.

The bride and groom are both well-known young people in Hansen and vicinity. Mrs. Smith was graduated from the Englewood high school, Chicago, and is president of the Phi Kappa Delta sorority. She came west last summer and has since made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Vanderpool. Mr. Smith is a young business man of Hansen.

They are now going to the Yellowstone park, and after September 30 will be at home to their friends in Hansen.

KNOWING HOW TO SELL

The late John R. Arbutckle, the coffee king, who left an estate of $100,000,000, often said that a part of his will lay in his knowledge of human nature. "In selling coffee," Mr. Arbutckle once said to a coffee broker, "you should exercise the same keen discretion which the druggist showed."

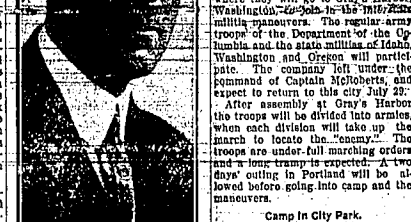

"A woman, you know, a woman will in ten years confer a druggist's and a druggist's wife will in ten years confer a woman's."

"Have you got any cream for restoring the complexion?" "Restoring, miss? You mean preserving?" "And he then sold the woman $10 worth of complexion cream—$2 change."

THE ONLY QUESTION.

There is just one question which Idaho voters would do well to ask themselves at this time, and which has very little to do with the respective merits of Taft, Wilson, et al; namely, whether or not they are willing to make the usual volume of business in Idaho without a protective tariff.

This is one case where the principles of Republicanism should be regarded as bigger than its leaders. A Democratic administration means the elimination of protection from the competition of foreign mills, mines and stock-masters, and there is no state in the country which would suffer as a result of such a move as would Idaho.

POLITICAL SKIEES ARE CLEARING

the Taft and Roosevelt Republicans struggling for places on the senatorial ticket, but Democrats as well as showing a tendency to get out of the race. It is indicated that a number of the Democrats aspirants for the senatorial honors have declared in private that if elected they propose to vote for Senator Borah. Fortunately for the Democrats the count against the Democrats is adding his materiality in this respect.

Many Democrats look upon Governor Hawley as a reactionary. They charge that he was elected by the vote of the Oregon Short Line and the liquor interests of the state, and that he has done nothing but to assume office to give effect to the interests of these powerful interests in the politics of the state. These radical Democrats go further and declare that Governor Hawley, whose administration is reactionary, is controlled by the corporate interests of the state, and that if elected to the United States senate he would do very much less for the cause of reform than Senator Borah. In other words these Democrats have convinced themselves that in case of a Democratic administration in Washington William E. Borah would do more for the hands of Woodrow Wilson in the matter of progressive legislation than would James B. Hawley.

Break Among Democrats.

The open break between the friends and enemies of Governor Hawley, who the Democratic Party came to the platform convention in this city two weeks ago. Up to that time the progressive Democrats had been united and planned to elect Governor Hawley as a candidate for the United States senate. They were satisfied that Governor Hawley, whose record is, but they were determined to send some other Democrat to the senate if given the power. They picked George W. Thornhill as the nominee. In the platform convention these progressive Democrats were whipped out of their heels by the backers of Governor Hawley. Not only was a reactionary platform adopted, but Thornhill was left standing in the dust of the annual convention. It is to be noted that the nomination of a senatorial candidate at the primaries, and the party in the hands of Governor Hawley and his coteries.

TWIN FALLS TRACT BEST.

A large attendance heard the address yesterday, more than fifty business men and farmers being present. The speaker was well received and those who could not secure seats at the long tables, presided in honor of the Commercial club president and announced that the club were preparing to acquire in securing the movable agricultural school to come to this city during the coming fall.

NERVE.

Proprietor of Health Resort, 214 W. W. Way, writes that he has only one charge of 10 shillings a day, but if he got the nerve to charge 25 cents.

PLAYING SAFE.

Mother-The teacher complains you have not had a correct lesson for a month. Why? It is a hopeless task, and those close to the governor said that even at this early stage of the campaign he is willing to admit that he has no chance.

Blitter Fight for Governorship.

On the Republican side of the con-

Under Republican administration Idaho has prospered mightily. Her three main industries, lumber, lead and wool, are thoroughly and firmly established and the profits to Idaho as a result are enormous.

Under a Democratic administration, pledged to a policy of tariff for revenue only, all three of these lines would presently cease to be profitable. There is no guess-work about it, this is precisely what would happen in Idaho upon the removal of the protective tariff.

The question is, which do we want—a continuation of the prosperity which comes from the development of the states raw material, with its busy workers and huge pay-rolls, or the making-of-an-experiment which threatens to strike directly at the root of the state's main industries?

THE LORIMER FINDING.

The outcome of the Lorimer investigation may be regarded as teaching one lesson thoroughly and well, namely, that the time has come when the representatives of the people at Washington can no longer afford to use the whitewash brush indiscriminately. This is shown more particularly by a comparison of the votes now and formerly. There were many changes in the roll call of the last ballot; some saw fit to explain their vote, others simply saw the light and voted accordingly. Lorimer himself is perhaps not the only surprised man at some of the changes.

In looking over the result the question naturally presents itself, To what cause may be attributed the verdict?

Here's the answer: To the moral pressure brought to bear through the awakening of public opinion on the question and to the absolute conviction on the part of the general public that Lorimer's election was brought about by fraud. Lorimer is not now even an ex-senator, and this is eminently satisfactory.

The lesson may be read in the result. When the great mass of the voters of the country make a demand for action which they believe to be right, they usually get it. The monarchical attitude of House and Senate is not as pronounced as it was a few years ago.

A MATTER OF REGRET.

It is to be regretted that a disposition to "throw mud" on the part of the cheaper element of politicians in the county is already beginning to be noticed.

The News had hoped that the coming contest would be fought out along strictly political lines, with personalities, details of private life of candidates and similar things barred, but apparently this was expecting too much.

It was also hoped that the liquor question in the county would not become an active-factor in the contest. The "drys" have shown a disposition to stand on their former victory, and this victory should be accepted as the last word by the "wets" as well. But it would appear that this is not being done.

The securing of affidavits and counter-affidavits containing charges of various kinds against candidates goes merely on, although it is but fair to say that The News has not heard of a single charge against any candidate on either ticket which has not already been disproved by sworn testimony which will be exhibited at the proper time.

The News regrets the necessity of touching upon this topic at all, but is well prepared to go even further should circumstances seem to warrant it.

WHAT WOULD LINCOLN HAVE DONE?

"It was my fight and my victory," says Theodore Roosevelt in commenting on the result of the Lorimer finding. There is more, but it is in the same strain.

In every word, even between the lines one looks in vain for a single syllable outside the note of personal triumph in another's downfall. "I done it, bully for me," about expresses his attitude. It is not a pretty picture.

Not a thought as to the possible effect on the country at large, not a word as to the conditions which render such things possible, no hint as to future prevention of like acts, and note one note of regret at the finding on personal or political grounds.

This may be all right; but it is widely at variance with the accepted standards of true greatness. In dwelling on the result it is well to contrast the attitude of Roosevelt with the characteristics of some others who have been elevated to the presidency.

What would Lincoln have done?

THE COMING ELECTION.

An interesting possibility is brought to light in connection with the coming election when it is remembered that should any candidate fail to receive a majority of votes in the electoral college, a president is then elected by the House, one vote going to each state. Should the House fail to return a majority the matter of a selection from the two highest candidates goes to the Senate.

With a Democratic House looming large in the foreground and three well-defined candidates for president in the field the situation is worthy of reflection.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

The prowess of Americans at the Olympic games should prove a splendid incentive to the youth of the country along the lines of athletics. This country carried off more victories than did any other among the competitors, which is to say the picked athletes of the world. The country may well be proud of her young men.

ENTHUSES OVER THE TRACT.

Assistant Attorney General Van Duzen Tells of Impressions of Visit to Twin Falls.

On his return to Boise after his recent visit here, O. M. Van Duzen, assistant attorney general, who is one of the candidates for the republican ticket for the nomination as attorney general, was quoted in the Capital News as follows concerning impressions received on his first trip to the Twin Falls county.

"Every one who has not seen Twin Falls, especially regarding of this state, should not fail to do so at their earliest possible convenience. It was my first visit to that city and to say that I was surprised and amazed is not mildly. In many ways I was dumfounded. Fortunately for Twin Falls people, it founded a city out of everything new. There was no old city and its buildings to be torn down. The result is that Twin Falls has the most modern of houses blocks. It has a fine civic center, the finest courthouse, I believe, of any of the 27 counties in the state, and is now erecting a high school building the equal of which, when completed, can not be found in Idaho.

"The section of country surrounding Twin Falls never looked better, green with its grain and alfalfa fields, its orchards and crops, it is certainly an magnificent sight."

INSPECTING ALFALFA CROP

Representative of Department of Agriculture Looking for Weevil on the Tract.

T. H. Parks, representing the United States Department of Agriculture, with headquarters at Salt Lake, was in Twin Falls last week in connection with the secretary of the Commercial club.

Mr. Parks is investigating the alfalfa tract to see if there is any trace of the alfalfa weevil. He spent two days here traveling over the tract, but could find no trace of this pest. He expects to spend the week at the Twin Falls Commercial Club, and the farmers of the tract are invited to call and see it.

The exhibit shows the original worm, the cocoon and the beetle. The government is making a thorough investigation for the purpose of preventing the spread of this pest, which will be a serious menace to the alfalfa crop if it once gets a start. Every farmer on the tract should become familiar with it so he can head it off in its incipency.

The alfalfa weevil belongs to a group of weevils all of which attack clover, alfalfa and allied plants. It was first reported in the United States on the outskirts of Salt Lake City in the spring of 1904. The following spring it worked its way over the state and reached Fish Haven, Idaho, in 1911.

A new insect may be introduced into a new section in the wrappings of nursery stock shipped into the country or in the household effects of immigrants.

TO THE VOTERS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY

I am a candidate for the office of Assessor and Tax Collector. For the past two years I have served as county commissioner, in which capacity I have been brought in close contact with all county offices, especially that of the assessor and tax collector, and have become thoroughly familiar with the needs of that office.

Desiring to stand on my record as commissioner, should you believe that I have faithfully served the taxpayers in this capacity—endeavoring at all times to work for their best interests—I would appreciate your support at the primaries July 30th.

BAD WRECK ON BURLINGTON

Injured Persons Killed and Score Hurt at Western Springs, a Chicago Suburb. Chicago, July 14.—Thirteen persons were killed and 29 injured in a wreck on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago, at 6:30 a. m. today.

Coming through a fog, with supposedly a clear track ahead, train No. 1 in a fast mail, ran full speed into the rear of a freight train on the Overland express from Denver, which was standing still on the track, telescoping the two of the Overland's Pullman coaches.

Tramway officials refused to fix the blame until after the wreck had been investigated thoroughly. Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, who was in charge of the train, from which the block signals were controlled, said she was certain the block was thrown against both trains.

SABBATH SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 21, 1912

Lesson III—July 21. THE GROWTH OF THE KINGDOM. Mark 4: 26-32; Matt. 13: 33.

1. And he said, So is the kingdom of God. It is a man who sows seed into the ground; and he should sleep, and rise again, and grow: so shall also the kingdom of God. But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come: and he said, Whosoever shall liken the kingdom of God to what comparison shall we compare it unto? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seed that be in the earth; but when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out branches, and becometh a tree, so that they of the east and of the west shall come under the shadow of it.

2. Another parable spake he unto them. The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

3. Another parable spake he unto them. The kingdom of heaven is like unto yeast, which a man hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

4. Another parable spake he unto them. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a mustard seed, which a man sowed in the field. It is the least of all seeds, but when it is sown, it grows up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out branches, and becometh a tree, so that they of the east and of the west shall come under the shadow of it.

WANT COUNTY SEAT MOVED

County Will Be Circulated in Cassia County Asking That Burley Be Made Capital.

The preliminary steps have been taken for bringing in a vote for the location of county seat from the county seat from Albion to Burley. The notice of intention to circulate petitions calling for a vote on the matter was published two months ago.

In order to become effective in securing the election, the petitions must be signed by a majority of the voters of the county. The petitions have been made out and will be circulated in every precinct in the county. Good men will be sent out with the petitions and at the same time that they are getting signatures they will explain the merits of Burley's claim for the county seat.

NOT ALL THE TRUTH. A rough looking man entered the home of a man in a western city, and seeing no one around but a small boy named Willie, said to him: "If you don't tell me where your father keeps his money, I'll knock your topknot off an' afterwards eat it."

Two minutes later a trained and experienced track was pitched through the front door of Willie's home and sat in the gutter and blinked.

WHY JOIN A COMMERCIAL CLUB?

ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP IN A COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION ARE GIVEN BY SECRETARY SPANGLER-FARMERS URGED TO ENROLL IN THE TWIN FALLS CLUB.

During the past year nearly one hundred farmers have joined the Commercial club and the membership has increased from 50 cents a month being fixed by the board of directors. The only restriction placed upon the membership is that they have no vote at club elections.

There are a thousand or more farmers on the Twin Falls tract who are not members of the Commercial club, and these farmers are invited to join the club and thus show they are heart and soul in the work.

Inquiry Answered.

A few days ago the secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial club received an inquiry in response to an invitation to join the club. The inquiry was: "What benefit accrues to me by joining the Twin Falls Commercial club as an associate member?" To this the following reply, which partly covers the ground, was sent:

"It is rather difficult to state the particular material benefits that accrue to an associate member of the Twin Falls Commercial club. A Commercial club is primarily the advertising department of the territory, and the benefit accrues to the member in a greater or less measure to every resident of that territory, whether or not he is a member of the club. It is not intended to give his financial and moral support to the Commercial club shares in its benefits almost if not quite as much as the man who says for what he gets."

"I, J. C. Quinn, commissioner of the Commercial club of the State-Association of the Nebraska State-Association of Commercial Clubs held a few weeks ago stated the situation concisely when he said, 'The broader work of a Commercial club is up-to-date work, as is every road to progress. You cannot keep on doing what you have been doing and expect to get on without cooperation within an organization there can be no broad and progressive work.' Commercial development can only be ordered, not planned, individual striving and pulling, where each seeks the interest of himself, and the result is a chaotic and individual. Consciously striving for the whole body, of which he is a part, and through this body in return deriving benefit for himself. Each for all and all for each' is the accepted motto. We may organize, theorize and legislate, but it is no use unless we make all interest ourselves actively or our efforts will be futile and abortive."

A Detroit magazine in a recent issue, intelligently took the matter to the head when it says: "The man without a country is no worse off than the man without a membership in a local commercial organization."

Things Accomplished.

To get down to some of the tangible things that have been done by the Twin Falls Commercial club, we will mention:

First: The advertising campaign for state senator. The election of Senator Borah, believing that as a business proposition the people of Idaho cannot afford to dispense with his valuable services, and that he is a member of the legislature, not only vote for but will work for his election.

Favors Strict Economy.

I believe that greater economy should be exercised in the administration of state affairs; that state institutions should be run on a purely business basis; that state funds should be collected and used in an economical and for only legitimate purposes, thereby reducing state taxes to the minimum. This does not mean, however, that I would not vote for necessary legislation beneficial to my constituents and the state at large, even though it carries with it the necessity for appropriations and a way to insure the voters that if elected I will do for their affairs the same careful and economical way that I would give to my personal business.

The question of securing better roads in this new country where the roads are so important and the value of a vital importance and I believe that a plan can be worked out by which funds can now be secured for permanent road improvement without the necessity of an increased tax levy until such time as we are in better position to stand such increase.

We are all interested in the effort to secure the Agricultural School for this section of the state, and this matter would receive my earnest and profitable attention.

If nominated and elected I will honestly endeavor to represent Twin Falls county as a whole and will favor such legislation as will promote the best interests of the various communities of the county.

ENDORSES ELECTION OF SENATOR BORAH

C. A. ROBINSON ANNOUNCES PLATFORM ON WHICH HE WILL RUN.

Well-Known Local Man Promises to Bring Business Training to Bear in Position of State Senator.

The election of Senator Borah and the contest of the office of governor on an economical and strictly business basis constitutes the main plank in the platform upon which Clarence A. Robinson will seek the nomination for state senator from this county.

Mr. Robinson is one of the best known business men in Twin Falls. In addition to his recognized ability as a banker, he is a practical agriculturist and is regarded as one of the most successful farmers in this important section. While Mr. Robinson will make his campaign on the Republican ticket, his circle of friends and acquaintances is not confined to the Republican party alone and it is expected that he will poll one of the heaviest primary votes on the entire ticket.

In addition to endorsing the provisions of the state platform adopted at Boise, June 20, 1911, Mr. Robinson

APRIL 1912

Over 10,300
Applications were received for new insurance in the New-York Life.

Over 98,000
Renewal premiums were paid to the New-York Life.

Thus more than 108,000 people all over the world endorsed the New-York Life Insurance Company in the single month of April, 1912.

The part which this company takes in its clients' interests is brought out in a letter just received from a widow in reference to her husband's insurance (the underscoring is ours):

"The value of this protection is shown more forcibly in this case than in any other, perhaps, of Mr. Lyons called at your office some time in February and asked that these policies be canceled out for cash. I am deeply grieved that you persuaded him to continue them in force. The facts show that if he had surrendered them at that time his estate would have been lessened by over $2,000."
"MRS. MARY H. LYONS."

The New-York Life Paid

In dividends, annuities, cash values, etc. $2,876,689.39 to 5,769 living policy-holders during the single month of April, 1912. Total payments of the month under policy contracts, $5,147,229.30.

ADDISON T. SMITH IS POPULAR IN NORTH

WALLACE MAN TALKS OF SOUTHERN CANDIDATE.

J. L. Dunn, Editor of Press-Times, Says Former Northern Idaho Residents Have Prospered on Twin Falls and Adjoining Tracts.

J. L. Dunn, editor and manager of the Wallace Press-Times, and his brother, Alfred J. Dunn, postmaster at Wallace and associated with the Press-Times management, spent a couple of days in Twin Falls this week, leaving for home on Monday evening.

Mr. Dunn is the owner of a tract of land near Jerome and also has interests on this side of the river. He states that deep interest is felt in the Twin Falls tract by the residents of North Idaho, many of whom are property owners on one or more of the various tracts of the county.

In conversation Monday J. L. Dunn said: "Between 50 and 75 former residents of the Coeur d'Alene mining country have made homes on the Twin Falls tract, some being among the pioneers and others of more recent date. The former residents here, without exception, they are satisfied and all have reasonably prospered."

Addison T. Smith Popular.

Addison T. Smith, the Twin Falls candidate for congress, has hosts of friends in every part of northern Idaho. His thorough familiarity with the resources and requirements of our state, his close connection with the affairs and organization of the Republican party of Idaho and his long service at Washington as secretary to Senators Shoup and Seney—has been splendidly commensurate for accomplishment of beneficial and practical work for Idaho at the national capital. He will have a heavy vote in every county of North Idaho, both in the primaries and at the November election."
