WINTER DRAINING

The farmer who keeps cows, especially if he be new to the dairy business, is likely to fall in a considerable measure of getting the results to which his labor entitles him, through the lack of understanding of the advantages to be obtained by having his cows freshen in as possible during the fall months.

The fall and winter dairy requires the greater amount of labor at a time when the farmer has disposed of his crops and field work and can devote little time to the care of the cows and the care of the calves. It is well to freshen in the fall, if it were possible to get the calves started on his hay and pasture ration, the skimmed milk may be turned over to the spring-pipe-making line, the best of the milk to be used for butterfat.

The other important feature of winter dairying is that the greatest production of milk and butterfat comes at a time when dairy products sell most readily and at the highest prices.

Any one who has kept posted on the current market prices of dairy products through a series of years knows that although the comparative value of milk and butterfat is higher in winter and winter to summer is practically as constant and certain as the ebb and flow of the tide, that in spite of

WHEN THE WORM TURNED

"No power on earth shall break me to it," he declared, firmly. He approached close to his side. Her eyes blazed and his hand was raised. "You shall do it! However you dread it, it must be done! You hear?"

"Refuse utterly! Such a thing is unworthy for a man of pride and honor to undertake!" he repeated, drawing back from her as from a scorching flame.

Quickly she was at his side again, grasping his arms with fingers still, but hard as steel.

"She slipped a small knife into his hand—a thin, sharp-pointed piece of steel." "There," she said. "His obstinacy was momentarily driving her to desperation."

Her voice broke with passion and she cried in a loud, angry tone: "Will you not, Tompkins, if you don't do what I say, go to the bottom of the sea with my own two feet—some position at once will do it without any danger!"

"If you are a know-nothing you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing household work all day, and coming into bed at midnight. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day, and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking this medicine, you will see, if you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers."

TOO EASY!

Parson White's precautionary measure in providing his chicken coop with chicken wire bars was futile, for that very night four more of his choice Lezhorns disappeared, leaving 127 birds in the pen.

"I have no doubt of the thief. However, this suspicious pointed to his next-door neighbor, who had been prowling about his yard that day, and accordingly he had his suspect up in the police court the next morning.

"If the prisoner can fit on an alibi bill, he will be set free with a suspended sentence," announced the judge at the end of the evidence. "Can you file an alibi?"

"I will, your honor," eagerly replied the suspect. "If it ain't any harder, I'll have my chicken coop built like Parson White's chicken coop here."—San Francisco Star.

THE THIRD PARTY.

The introduction of a third-party national ticket into Idaho politics was to be expected and is, in fact, in line with the views of a large body of Idaho citizens. In Twin Falls county a goodly measure of support is assured and the movement as a whole is looked upon as but the natural outcome of the political unrest of the people which may be said to have reached its culmination in the Chicago convention.

But it is a matter of deep regret that the playing of a state and county ticket in the field should ever have been considered. Such a course could have but one end, namely, the defeat of Borah and the turning over of state and county machinery, lock, stock and barrel, to the Democratic party. This is the sure and certain effect, and the move should be viewed from every angle and the consequences well weighed before any steps are taken in any manner endorsing such a proposition in Idaho.

As far as Twin Falls county is concerned it does not seem reasonable to suppose that the men whose names appear in connection with the third party could possibly be so blind to the interests of Republicanism as a whole as to be willing to place in jeopardy the ticket just selected. There is not a man selected so thoroughly up to date as the most fastidious could wish, and the Republican legislative ticket is perhaps the strongest ever put up in the history of the county.

The quarrel of the National Progressive party is with the head of the ticket, the office of president, and if confined to this issue alone for the present there will be plenty of support from all the indications. On the other hand, the proposed entry into state and county will merely serve to obscure the real issue and probably defeat the Republican ticket from start to finish.

At this time third party sentiment can best be tested by placing in the field a ticket of third party national electors. Such a step would undoubtedly be well received by the people as a whole. Four years from now is quite soon enough to talk of entering state and county in Idaho.

The News does not regard the national progressive movement as centering around the figure of Theodore Roosevelt, but rather as providing the means whereby Roosevelt hopes to again make himself master of the White House. Roosevelt is in many respects a great man, but it is a question if the man big enough to successfully head a movement such as this has yet been mentioned. There must be nothing of selfishness in such an one, and there must be a complete absence of more than one of the Roosevelt characteristics. Probably such a figure may again arise from the plain people. If he does the support of the people will not be lacking.

The News recognizes President Taft as the choice of the Chicago convention for presidential nominee, but it does not recognize him as the choice of the people for such office. Personally honest he may be, but politically he must always be regarded as having accepted the nomination for president at the hands of a political ring working solely for the aggrandizement of its own members and the thwarting of the schemes of the hated Roosevelt. For Roosevelt, as far as the Taft-supporters are concerned, is the best-hated man in the whole country today.

Getting back to local issues, The News has faith in Senator Borah. It recognizes his political views as being for the most part in line with the best interests of the country at large, and it will devote its best energies to the election of a legislative delegation which may be depended on to support the reelection of Borah to the Senate and to assist in the passage of such legislation as is best calculated to benefit the people of the state of Idaho.

For the balance of the ticket, political faith will not be allowed to obscure the issue as to general fitness for office of the various candidates. The News proposes to work for the election of the best man to office, believing that the people are entitled to a clean-cut, economical business administration of the affairs of state and county within the statutes.

TRUE SPORTSMANSHIP.

A recent issue of Collier's Weekly contains an editorial on sport in connection with the recent Olympic games, the subject matter of which should be drilled into the rising generation through the medium of the public schools.

The point aimed at is that the underlying principle of sportsmanship goes farther than the mere winning of the race. It is not enough to win if by so doing even a trifling advantage has been taken of an opponent. True sportsmanship has nothing in common with subterfuge, unfair tactics, the wearing down of an opponent by a series of false starts; the taking advantage of an opponent's nervousness, and when such conduct shall be well within the actual rules of the contest.

Perhaps the best rule is to play the game as you would have your opponent play it. Play it so that afterwards you can look your adversary in the eye and find there the admiration due the victor. The unanimous verdict of fair play is better than many a win, and the rule may be carried far beyond the realm of sport and into the daily life of the youth of the country and no one be any the worse for it.

MILLIONS IN IT.

It is a question if the financial interests of Southern Idaho have fully sensed just how big a proposition the bringing of milk cows onto the tract really is.

While detailed figures are not available, it is safe to say that the placing of a cow or two in the hands of every farmer on the tract would result in an increased income annually running into the hundreds of thousands.

The only profitable way to market alfalfa is to feed it to stock, and this is one of the smallest advantages which the dairy industry would bring.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.

An advertisement in a Boise newspaper for an ice cream lawn social under the auspices of one of the churches lists among its attractions "ice cream, thirteen kinds of cake, pretty girls."

Without knowing exactly why, there is something offensive about the idea of advertising pretty girls as an attraction to help raise money for a church or brother. Of course it is a far cry from the slave markets of the far east to a church social in Boise, Idaho.

CASH NOW AVAILABLE.

Shorn of technicalities, the passing of the three-million-dollar trust deed recently filed of record may be accepted as signifying that the cash for the completion of the street railway to Shoshone Falls is now available.

Twin Falls people owe a lasting debt of gratitude to L. B. Perrine, not alone for his efforts in this case, but for many others of the splendid achievements of the man in the interests of the Twin Falls tract.

RETURNS IN TWIN FALLS COUNTY

With a registration which surpassed the fondest expectations, with a heavy percentage of the registration going to the polls, and with weather conditions over the county which could not have been improved on, Tuesday's primary election will long be remembered in the politics of Twin Falls county.

In the city the vote was unusually heavy among the Republicans and unexpectedly light among the Democrats. Party lines were not closely drawn, and the fact that there were fewer contests on the Democratic ticket than on the Republican caused a good many Democrats to support Republican friends. A number of well-known Socialists also cast votes, but for which party they acted could not be determined.

Some of the candidates made phenomenal runs, while in some other cases the result was very close. For the most part good feeling prevailed among the crowds in the city all day long. The vote in each party by precincts is herewith given in as much detail as could be secured.

Table with columns for Precincts (Twin Falls, etc.) and Candidates (For U. S. Senator, For Congress, etc.) and rows for various candidates and their vote counts.

THE NEWS POLICY.

Just so there may be no misunderstanding during the months of political fighting to come, The News desires to again set forth its beliefs along political lines.

Nationally The News has been, and will always be a Progressive Republican newspaper. It believes in the basic principles of Republicanism as opposed to the tenets of the Democratic party. It is opposed to the enactment of a tariff which shall do away with any and all protection of American industries, and it is equally opposed to a tariff which shall be so high as to have the effect of permitting American monopolies to rob the consuming public through a system of high prices, secure by reason of a too high tariff from the competition of foreign-made goods. It believes in the wisdom of placing the tariff in the hands of a businesslike commission composed of capable men whose business it will be to thoroughly investigate the whole tariff question, and in the meantime it is opposed to any change in any single schedule whatever.

The News thoroughly believes that the last Republican national convention spelled the death knell of national conventions of the old type. Through the inception of the presidential preference primary, the matter of selecting a president will be placed in the hands of the people, where it belongs—not given over to a half dozen political shysters to do with as they please. The functions of the national conventions of the future will consist in ratifying the peoples' choice for presidential nominee in much the same sense as it is now carried out by the electoral college following the national election.

COMPANY D MAKES GOOD TROOP RECORD

CAPTAIN McROBERTS HAS PRAISE FOR LOCAL SOLDIER BOYS.

Idaho Militia Among Leaders in Northwest Military Maneuvers—Red Army Defeats the Blue in 'Sham' Battle in the Gray Harbor County.

Company D, I. N. G., returned home Tuesday afternoon after participating in the military maneuvers in western Oregon and Washington. The Twin Falls company served with the "Red" line, which was victorious over the "Blue" line. The maneuvers comprised several days of marching over broken and timber-covered country and was a thorough test for military service. A high record was maintained by the Idaho troops in all departments of the maneuvers, and the local company holds its own.

On returning home Captain McRobert's spoke highly of the local company throughout the maneuvers. "Our company made a fine record," said Captain McRobert. "Not one of our men fell by the wayside during the entire march, and the test was a severe one, especially for those who are not accustomed to military duties. The country was rugged and marching passed in many places were very difficult. I am proud to say that every one of our members of Company D—'don't know when, if ever, I was associated with a company that did not do so well satisfied and free from fault-finding. Many of us had hoped to be able to get to the coast, and it was a much more than we could expect. Other than that we had a fine time and all are well pleased that the trip was taken, and the record made by our company is a source of pride to us."

GRIFFO-CHESTER MATCH.

What will result in one of the best scuffling matches ever pulled-off in this city will take place at Colton next Monday evening, August 12. Horstmann, known in wrestling circles as Young Griffo, of this city, will take place at Colton, Idaho, will be the contestants.

Both Griffo and Chester have good records in the wrestling line. Chester holds the Open championship and comes to Twin Falls anxious to wear the title of Idaho-Utah champion from Griffo. Besides the Idaho-Utah title, Griffo also holds the middle western amateur championship. Some time ago Chester and Griffo wrestled for three hours and twenty minutes at Pocatello, with Griffo the winner, and a spirited contest may be expected for next Monday evening.

CARD OF APPRECIATION.

To My Supporters: Although receiving the minority vote for nomination as state senator on the Republican ticket I desire to thank all voters who supported me. Very sincerely, MARK M. MURTAUGH.

ROBINSON MAKES RUN.

(Continued from Page 1) did the result of the primary vote. Of course I gave as much time to my campaign as I could, but not nearly as much as I would like to have given had I had the time. I am particularly grateful to my friends for the support they did in my behalf and my sense of gratitude extends clear to the people of the county who by their support gave me such a splendid victory. "The platform on which I will make the race will be that of the platform that announced before the primaries. If elected I will do my utmost to merit the confidence reposed in me by the voters of the county. To say that I am grateful for the vote given me but feebly expresses my feelings."

Week in Society

The younger society set of the city have spent the past week in celebrating in honor of a number of out-of-town guests. The affairs have for the most part been in the form of card parties.

Neighborhood Bridge Luncheon.
On Friday morning of last week Mrs. E. M. McCallum entertained at a delightfully informal bridge party in the large living-room, which was beautifully decorated with sweet peas. Tables were arranged for a dozen players. At the conclusion of the game Mrs. W. H. Craven received first prize, a beautiful painter, and Mrs. George Aikun was awarded second prize, a dainty hand-painted plate.

At 1 o'clock a delicious four-course luncheon was served. The guests were seated around one large table, which had an attractive center-piece of sweet peas arranged in a large crystal bowl. Present were Mesdames Allen, Swalley, Hobbas, Walling, Conza, Hill, Booth, Ostrander, Felton, Reed and Craven.

Eastern Girl Entertained.
Miss Margaret Wilson was a delightful hostess Saturday evening, July 27, when she entertained a number of her friends in honor of Miss Gladys Wright of Detroit, Michigan. Purple and white were effectively used in the decorations, and a variety of summer flowers were artistically placed about the rooms. The first hours of the evening were spent in playing 500 and after the serving of a dainty lunch the evening was concluded with a number of musical soirees. The prizes for high scores were won by Miss Fern Costello and Claud Micklewell. Other guests were: Mesdames Milner, Tracy, Vesta Williams, LeRoy, Williams, Margaret Conway, Beulah Henstock, Lydia Mc Masters, Stella Perrine, Beatrice Brown, Thelma Castellino, Dina Brock, Grace Harter, Pauline Evans, Lucile Landt, Mesdames H. C. Family Telephone Organization

Modern conditions have brought about the need for what might be called a long distance telephone organization of the family. When in doubt, telephone is an axiom that ought to be impressed upon every member of the family going on a journey, or to live at a distance. The mother can reach her children at school, and children should be required to telephone home occasionally. When husband or wife set out on a journey a telephone itinerary should be jotted down and left behind.

Members of the family traveling should not be content with providing means by which those left at home may reach them quickly, but should communicate with the home frequently, and particularly when there is bad weather, transportation delay, disturbance of public order, or any other unusual condition where the traveler happens to be. Bad news flies fast, and is magnified by distance. These things cause apprehension at home.

No other medium conveys the personal assurance and causes such peace of mind as the long distance telephone talk can give.

Immense Tonnage of High-Class Ore Now Explored in the Tunnels—New Claims Are Being Pushed Forward and Will Be Heard from Soon.

(Special Cor. Twin Falls News.) Jarbridge, Nev., July 26.—This morning your correspondent had the satisfaction of seeing the first section of the shaft taken out at the Alpha mine...

Work Being Rushed. Fourteen men are employed now, which number will be increased to 25 within another week. The shaft is down 110 feet and being dropped as fast as two shifts can do the work.

Another shaft has been started down hill from the tunnel about 400 feet. It is being done to verify the extent of the lead. Already the lead has been traced 500 feet and 8000 ore has been found in all that distance.

The Success and Bluster Blg Showings. In speaking of the same mines from week to week I do not try to impress upon your readers that we have some properties here that will make miles, but that they have already at least made the mine where the "mine" has a far-reaching meaning.

Other Properties. The Buckeye people are starting a new tunnel at the lowest level to be known on the ground. There is plenty of gold ore in the upper workings.

pure guarantee and only the finest and best grades are used.

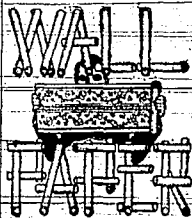

Plan for This Season.

Should the plan of Mrs. Seymour be carried out in the near future she will come to this city and at once instruct the women in the preparation of peaches and quinces for high-class canned goods, the season being now too far gone to accomplish any result in the other varieties of fruits. Much interest is being taken in this plan and it is likely that sufficient fruit will be canned here this summer to be placed on the New York sale market and a large display prepared for the pure food and land show in that city next November.

With the coming of another season one of the largest fruit canning centers in the country will be located here. Many carloads of canned fruits of all kinds will be shipped to New York and other eastern cities, and price will be secured for the fruit in that form far beyond anything that has heretofore been imagined or dreamed of by fruit growers. With such a market for the local fruit opening up, the danger of over-production will be absolutely dispensed with.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all druggists.
