Warning!

Railway Officials Predict a Great Car Shortage

There are some straws in the coal trade, and these straws seem to be indicating the approach of one of the most serious car shortages that this country has had in a number of years. In this respect, we are not making any prophecy on our own account. On the contrary, we are repeating the words, not of men with coal to sell, but of various railroad officials, who have made confessions of railroad incapacity and want to warn business men to prepare for a squall.

A railroad president, who has been at the head of transportation lines for over twenty-five years, made the definite and positive prophecy that the shortage of cars this year will be more distressing than it has been in twenty years. To substantiate his statement, he recalls the rather acute shortage of short duration which came in 1918, which was caused by railroad territorial adjustments and which was rather serious for a matter of several weeks. He recalls the definite car shortage which came the first of January, 1910, and lasted for something over three weeks. He recalls other definite periods of car distress of short duration, and points out definitely not only the cause but the effect of those shortages.

Thus he makes the startling announcement that the shortage of cars which is coming, as he says, on or shortly after the first of September, will be not only more intense than those shorter periods, but it will last in all probability through the remainder of this year, and will likely last until the weather moderates again next spring.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

ALL PUPILS ARE URGED TO BE ON HAND.

City Has Been Divided into Districts—Books Will Be For Sale Only at High School Building—Heavy Enrollment is Expected.

The Twin Falls public schools will open next Monday morning, September 23. Superintendent Elliott and the school principals will be in their offices today and tomorrow during the regular school hours for the purpose of classifying and assigning new pupils to their proper buildings and grades. All pupils are urged to be present on the opening morning so that there may be no further delay in the organization of the work for the coming year. All high school students will assemble in the auditorium Monday morning at 9 o'clock for the announcement of courses, classification and assignment of rooms. Students desiring to enter the high school must furnish evidence of having completed the eighth grade. Students desiring advanced standing in the high school must present a certificate of work completed in former schools attended.

School Districts.

The city has been divided into two sections by Shoshone street, the same as last year, for the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. All pupils in those grades living east and south of Shoshone street will attend school in the Lincoln building. Those living north of Shoshone street will attend school in the Lincoln building. Pupils in these grades are requested to assemble in the rooms designated when the residence is changed. It will be useless to request the transfer from one district to the other except when the residence is changed. The text books are all in place and will be sold only at the high school building. New or second-hand books may be purchased at the book room. Free-board has purchased a cash register for use in the sale of books. Any pupil who purchases a book or supplies at the book room will be given a check receipt for the amount of the purchase, these receipts to be given to the parents.

Delayed Opening Registered.

It is a matter of regret, especially on the part of the school officials and instructors, that the city schools are so late in opening. So many delays have occurred in the getting of material for the new school building that an earlier opening has been impossible. There may yet be some inconveniences in the high school building before the building is completed and equipped, but there will be no more annoyance than is absolutely necessary, and the school year may be organized during the first week. Superintendent Elliott announces that the enrollment this year is undoubtedly exceed that of last year, but with ample buildings for all who may come, the coming year should be the best in the history of the Twin Falls schools. The opportunities to be offered this year are not surpassed in the northwest. Equal attention will be given to cultural and vocational training. The continued support and cooperation of the citizens interested in the welfare of the schools will be appreciated by the teachers and school officials.

FINE PEACHES NEED NOT SEEK MARKET

FRUIT OF THE CRYSTAL SPRING ORCHARD LOOKS WINNER.

Carload of Elberta Peaches from Three and Four Year Old Trees Are Among the Finest Ever Seen in Twin Falls.

Some of the most magnificent peaches ever seen in Twin Falls were brought to the city a few days ago by Miss F. L. Thomas from the Crystal Spring orchard, which orchard company Miss Thomas is an officer. The peaches were of the Elberta variety and were taken from twenty-year-old trees. The average weight was nine ounces, and eleven peaches placed in a row measured one yard. For the first time this year for the orchard, and the carload of peaches that have been disposed of did not have to seek a market; in fact so many orders were made to this city, the entire lot having been contracted for at the orchard by residents of the tract. A good price was secured for each box of fruit.

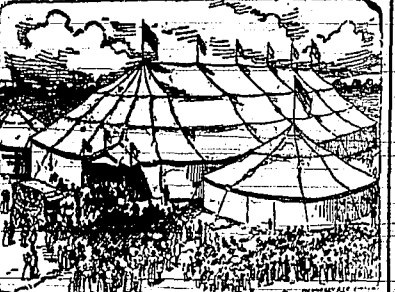

The Crystal Springs orchard is located in the Snake river canyon about ten miles west of Blue Lakes. The trees were set out in 1908 and have made rapid growth each year. The orchard tract contains 150 acres, 100 acres of which are now set to trees. Fifty acres are set to Elberta peaches. Three hundred apple trees were planted this year and were planted in 1911. The fruit yield is expected next year, especially from the peach trees on the fifth year growing. For the first time in the history of the Crystal Spring is making one of the best showings on the tract. Owing to its location it has a temperature of about 10 to 15 degrees warmer than on the bench lands. This is a prime element in the early ripening of the fruit. The peach crop this year has been picked the first of the month, and the entire crop has been disposed of. The members of the company believe that the rapid growth and yield of the orchard evidences a highly profitable investment from now on.

THE KEYNOTE SPEECH.

Senator Borah's keynote speech may be said to have more or less covered the ground. Upon the closest kind of scrutiny it does not appear to have left the senator's position in doubt upon any particular issue, and he made it, Oh, so plain as to one William Howard Taft.

I think 78 delegates were seated for Taft, and fifty tribunes would have given to Roosevelt, and 52 delegates were seated for Taft, that no honest tribune could have denied that the majority home-stead bill, which gives to the settler a chance to overcome adversity and win a home, un-Republican.

The first home-stead law was signed by Abraham Lincoln, and it was the best of laws, which enables man to reclaim these vast areas of desert and make them habitable and fruitful, un-Republican.

The Children's Bureau bill, which uncovers the hideous grip of eastern manufacturers and retailers in the slavish slavery the girls and boys coming to the responsibilities of citizenship, un-Republican.

Is the bill that I now have pending to create a department of labor and make the secretary thereof, a member of the cabinet un-Republican. Is the title bill which gives the settlers on reclamation projects a chance to buy their own land at a low price, un-Republican.

Who are the three or four congressmen un-Republican? What bill have I advocated, that they will condemn? Who are these self-styled cardinals of the Republican party, these plous-faced political Pharisees, who stand on the street corners and denounce all creeds except their own?

Is the Republican who will defend upon the western frontier for the farmer and protection for the manufacturer, free trade for all your grain and farm products and protection for the blanket industry, un-Republican?

Where is the Republican who will oppose in the open the election of senators by popular vote? Where is the Republican who will meet me in debate in defense of the eastern manufacturer and retailer, in slavish slavery the girls and boys coming to the responsibilities of citizenship, un-Republican?

date for the senate and run as an independent.

If he assumes the right to repudiate Lincoln, is the best of laws, which enables man to reclaim these vast areas of desert and make them habitable and fruitful, un-Republican.

And again:

"When you ask me if I am a Taft man you cannot get me to give you a view of what constitutes Republicanism. Every man who asks that question knows that I should answer 'Yes' in the affirmative. I would be a liar, that I would be lying for the purpose of gaining votes, that I would be repudiating my record of six years in the senate and miserably stultifying myself before the people of the state."

Let it be borne in mind that this is the keynote speech—the speech of the campaign upon which all those to follow will be fashioned. The essential principles will not be changed. Borah has made his choice.

If Roosevelt should happen to be elected, as now seems extremely doubtful, there will be no place for the standpat Republican in American politics. If Woodrow Wilson is elected, as seems extremely probable at this time, the two branches of the Republican party must get together if another Democratic victory is to be avoided four years hence. Which set of rules shall the judges declare for? Will they go back to the old order of things which was the cause of the party split in the first place, or, looking the situation fairly in the face, will they declare for the modern tenets of the People's Republicanism of today and write the whole party Republican and Progressive in the highest sense?

The fight of today may mean victory at the end of four years.

FRANKNESS IN ORDER.

Some of the Democrats appear to be greatly perturbed over what they are pleased to term "evasion" on the part of Republican candidates with reference to the head-of-the-ticket. With laborious effort they attempt to create an issue where none exists. They assert with great vehemence that the hour has come when evasion can no longer be tolerated—but the galleries are silent before the cheap-theatrical efforts of the opposition.

The people are vitally interested in the reelection of Senator Borah. The people will elect a legislature this fall, which in turn will perform the important function of electing a United States senator. The Democrats will attempt to elect to that legislature three members—in the house and one in the senate from Twin Falls county. If successful in that attempt, whom will those four men vote to send to the United States senate?

So far as the people of Twin Falls county are concerned, they are entirely in the dark as to what the Democratic candidates for the legislature intend to do if elected. In the all-important matter of choosing a United States senator.

Are they for Hawley? Are they for Tammelin? Are they for Dubois? Are they for Nugent? If not, who are in the world are they for? Or will they attempt to slide into the legislature by keeping the voters in the dark as to their intentions, and then do some cheap political trading for the most important office in the gift of the people, defeat Senator Borah, and place the toga upon the shoulders of some man that the people do not want?

and maintenance charges on government irrigation projects. With this idea in mind he has been busy for some months ago looking the matter up with the proper authorities in Washington and insisted upon relief being given, and it was to some extent done. At least partly due to my efforts that such extensions were granted.

"Upon the Carey act projects many changes are needed in both state and national statutes. Our party is pledged by its platform to safeguard by adequate laws the rights and interests of the settler on these projects and to the enforcement of which I pledge every effort of which I am capable."

Praises for Wilson.

Wilson was endorsed upon the leading platform of the county. The governor took occasion to pay tribute to Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Marshall, and predicted their election as president and vice president in the November election. He pronounced it the first and highest duty of all party members to secure by all fair means the selection of Wilson and Marshall for office. He spoke of them both as living examples of all that is best in American citizenship.

The governor's address was given in the county hall. At the close of the address, chairman of the county committee, James H. Dorr, well of Shoshone, candidate for county general, accompanied the governor to his car.

CAR SHORTAGE THREATENS.

They, I can use several but I cannot get them. The railroad people are apparently doing the best they can, but this does not alter what we want, to the man who wants the cars.

Will Need Cars Soon.

F. C. Harder, president of the Fruit Growers' association, says that that organization is not as yet in need of the cars, at least not in a hurry need for shipment, but is anxious that the situation greatly improve within the next two weeks, as after that time large quantities of fruit will be ready for movement to distant points. J. G. Magel, of the Southern Idaho Pro-

The voters of Twin Falls county will want the Democratic candidates to answer these questions as frankly as have the Republican candidates.

A VIOLENT ASSUMPTION.

The supposition that a public officer will do the work for which he is employed and paid is occasionally given a violent jolt by a showing of fact to the direct contrary.

The prosecuting attorney is paid a salary that should amply compensate him for doing the work incident to that important office. If he assumes that he is hired by the people merely to look after formal matters, and to select assistants to do the real work, the assumption is, to say the least, a violent one. If the prosecuting attorney is lacking in proper initiative and energy to carry on his work, he should step aside and allow some one to take charge whose capabilities are unquestioned.

The record of the prosecuting attorney's office for the past two years is an amazing one from the standpoint of taxes and public morality, indicating an entire lack of economical sense, utter absence of a desire to get to the bottom of vice in Twin Falls, and an assumption that the employment of the present incumbent was in the nature of a life pensioning picnic by the people.

Nothing can be said against Mr. Hicks personally, but his record as a public officer is such as to completely knock into a cocked hat the politically manufactured sentiment that he is an efficient prosecutor.

THE OPENING GUN.

In his keynote speech Saturday night in this city, Governor Hawley put the Democratic commissioners of this county on the defensive.

The governor got under cover and lunged the responsibility of high taxes onto the board of commissioners, thus showing his acumen as a politician by slipping in the bad any attempt on the part of local Democrats to hang the responsibility onto him. It was clearly a case of somebody being the goat, and the governor dutifully declined the honor. Furthermore, the governor was probably hitting nearer the mark of truth than he intended when he placed the responsibility of high taxes at the door of the county commissioners.

The first gun of the campaign in this county against the extravagances of the county commissioners has been fired by a Democrat.

THE PARCELS POST.

The going into effect of the parcels post bill January first next will mark a new epoch in the mercantile development of the country. While the new order of things will undoubtedly make it easier for the mail order houses to do business, it is a question if it will result in any greater volume of business being done by these outlaws, for the reason that they are now operating at very nearly capacity.

On the other hand, the advantages to the local merchants will be many in the delivery of goods to interurban customers at cheap rates, and should more than compensate for any trifling loss which may otherwise result through the system.

MORE CASH FOR IDAHO.

The Kuhns have contracted to purchase for over two million dollars the power plant at American Falls. Former Governor Brady says he will immediately invest this sum in Idaho. This means four million dollars in Idaho investments where there were previously two.

Apart from the financial advantages to the people of Idaho, the sale opens up a wide field for speculation. It may have a distinct bearing on the Bruneau project, or again it may mean the electrification of certain Idaho railroad now operating under steam.

Much might be done with two million dollars.

WHEN STATES SPEAK.

The primary election law was framed to give the people an opportunity of expressing their preference in the matter of United States senator. The clear purpose and intention of the law was absolutely nullified by the Democrats in the recent primary election by their scheme of placing no name on their ballots for that important office.

The Democrats, however, will say that they are in favor of the direct election of United States senators by popular vote. Their action in the recent primary is a direct, unqualified contradiction of that claim.

THE NEW POSTAL RULING.

The new postal ruling prohibiting the delivery of Sunday mail works a hardship on the public without any compensating advantage to the postal clerks. In towns situated as is Twin Falls a Sunday delivery of mail means much—and when, as seems to be the case here, there is not a single advantage gained by the ruling it would seem that the proposition is not without an element of weakness.

WHERE WIND STORMS ARE NOT.

Twin Falls fruit-growers were treated to a few hours of very last week. A very fair storm for this section broke over the county on Friday night and at first it was feared that the damage to orchards would be heavy.

Judging from reports the actual damage was very slight where any occurred at all—and the storm was the most severe in a number of years.

EVIDENCE OF GROWTH.

The American Express company has installed an up-town office here in order to take care of its rapidly growing business. The move is a distinct tribute to the growth of the city, and should the Oregon Short Line see fit to follow suit and install an up-town ticket office, local business men would feel distinctly gratified.

Local shippers for the most part take the position that the Short Line is not doing as well equipped this year to handle the traffic as it was last year, and that for years past the same trouble has been experienced by the

OFFICIAL RIVER SURVEY

Height of Shoshone Falls is Now Given as 200 Feet Instead of 212.

Interesting and official figures of dimensions of the Shoshone and Twin falls and Snake river canyon are being compiled by a party from the department of the United States Geological Survey who are making their headquarters at the Shoshone falls hotel. The party began making the canyon westward.

According to the figures compiled, Shoshone falls has a height of 200 feet, instead of 212 feet as heretofore reported. The elevation at the top of the falls is given as 2,355 feet; and at the bottom 2,155 feet. The elevations of Point Garfield, on the north side, and Point McKean, on the south side of the canyon, are given as 2,745 feet and 3,700 feet, respectively. The distance between Garfield peak and the brink of the falls is given as 400 feet, giving the canyon wall a height of 500 feet below the falls. Figure 111 shows that the falls are about 300 feet wide at the base. It is expected that further interesting data will be compiled by the surveyors.

RAIL FOR TWIN FALLS SPUDS

Letters from Los Angeles say Idaho potatoes excel anything of the kind in California.

Portions of a letter recently received by Carl Forsell from Los Angeles, speaks for itself and reads as follows:

"When we returned home the other day we found a crate of Twin Falls spuds awaiting us—they are as good of the work of the church for the past few years as we ever saw. I want you to tell you what you can do here. Los Angeles has to take off her hat to Twin Falls when it comes to the potato and drawing card."

"We haven't seen any potatoes since we came to California that compared to those you sent to us. My—but they are fine baked—if we could get to open a cafe in our new hotel we will sell lot of those potatoes shipped down here and we will make a specialty of baked potatoes."

The potatoes which Mr. Forsell sent to his Los Angeles friends were grown by A. P. Senler.

WILSON OR SHERMAN?

The Real Political Situation as Seen by "The North American Review"

The nominal candidates for president of the United States are Woodrow Wilson, William H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt; the real candidates are Woodrow Wilson and James B. Sherman, with a remote possibility of Philander C. Knox becoming acting president pending a new election in 1913.

It says the editor of The North American Review, in the current number at the beginning of a leading article on the political situation—"The City Condemns Deceit,"—has developed an analysis of the unprecedented political situation which has developed as the consequence of the formation of a Wilsonian and Rooseveltian popular leadership.

The true appraisals of the three leading candidates, in addition, are: Wilson, Conservative; Wilson, Liberal; Roosevelt, Radical. He declares: "The contest has already narrowed, is in 1912, to the Democrat against the Republican; and the issue is really assured—a plurality of votes in the electoral college; and now, as his actual withdrawal from him an actual majority over all, thus again imposing the election of a president upon the house of representatives.

One Possible Result.

If the states should vote in the electoral college as they now represent politically in the house of representatives elected in 1910 the result would be: Wilson, 239; Taft, 137; Roosevelt, 126. The electoral college would be found in the law of Succession (Chapter IV of the acts of the Forty-ninth congress); which provides that: "In case of the removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the president and vice president, then the secretary of state, shall act as president until the disability of the president or vice president is removed, or until a president is elected. . . . The acting president must, upon taking office, convene congress, if not at the time in session, in extraordinary session, giving twenty days' notice."

If this statute was enacted by authority of Article II, Section 6, of the constitution, which confers upon the president the power of "declaring what officer shall then act as president until the disability be removed or a president shall be elected." The plain meaning of the statute is that "such officer" shall only act as president until a president can be elected, and the mandatory provision requiring him to convene congress forthwith is obviously for the purpose of enabling congress to call a special election under authority conferred by Article II, Section 6.

Knox in the Saddle.

In the event, then, of the house of representatives failing to elect a president and the senate refusing to elect a president, the procedure would be as follows: President Taft's fixed term of office would expire at midnight of March 4, and the secretary of state, Mr. Knox, whose official life is indefinite, would become acting president. He would be obliged to convene congress in extraordinary session on the 24th of March, and congress would "declare" the time of change the object of the forthcoming year. In this manner Mr. Roosevelt and his new party would have a second opportunity to win the presidency within a twelve-month, greatly, no doubt, to the satisfaction of both.

But if the probability in fact can be conceived that might reverse this mode of procedure. It is possible, of course, that Roosevelt and Taft might receive a larger vote in the electoral college than Taft and Sherman; in that case the senate's choice of a vice president would be restricted to Marshall and Johnson, the two highest on the list. What Roosevelt's attitude would be in that improbable circumstance can only be imagined, but it need not be considered, for the reason that the power of installing Roosevelt or Knox as president would then be vested in any four regular Republican senators, who might conceivably refuse to do so.

The contest then resolves to Wilson against the field, and "there remains the vital question: Is it within the range of possibility that any combination, Taft or fixed, can withhold from Wilson and Marshall, whose plurality is virtually assured, an actual majority of votes in the electoral college.

Some Interesting Figures.

From the Wilson column representing the actual Democratic standing in the present house of representatives the editor deduces as doubtful New York (16), Ohio (24), Colorado (6), and West Virginia (8), leaving a net secure total of 215 out of the 286 required, and adds: "Apparently it is a fact that the two pivotal states—both possibly, and one or the other in any case—are New York and Illinois. It is in a fact of the first magnitude because in these two states 'votes' by groups is a more important factor than in other conventional 'realities.' These groups are classified roughly as follows: Organization men, railroad men, business men, and prohibitionists; Roman Catholics; factory workers; farmers, foreign-born voters, and negroes.

After analyzing the proclivities of each aggregation, the editor concludes that "the most 'plausible' combination suffices to show that the strong appeal of Governor Wilson to the whole people, without need to segregate interests and prejudices, would constitute his chief strength as a candidate, nevertheless contains elements of no little weakness." Assuming for example that Roosevelt should draw two-fifths of the Republican vote from Taft, and one-fifth of the Democratic vote from Wilson, Taft would still carry Illinois by 10,000 and Wilson would have a scant 12,000 in New York. Contrary to the general view, Roosevelt's candidacy is regarded as a hazard rather than a help to Wilson, chiefly because he will get the far western states, which otherwise would have gone to Wilson. The editor continues:

The Workingman's Vote.

There remain the great bodies of workmen in both New York and Illinois who comprise a large percentage of the Democratic party. To whom will they turn? Mr. Taft offers them the constitution. Mr. Wilson points to his record of official achievement—as evidence of his effective friendship. Neither, it must be told in truth, and in his speech of acceptance one convincing word of sympathy with the toiling masses. Roosevelt not only promises but proposes to overthrow. He will work to raise their wages; he will reduce their hours of toil; he will pension them in old age; he will insure their lives; he will lift the burdens and lighten the honors of their women; he will protect and safeguard their children.

Do these millions of men have a love he can or will do all of these things? Probably not. But he says that he will try. Does any one else? Where else have they any glory? And why believe that he could not and would not if Lloyd George can and does, why cannot we? Why will not Roosevelt Grant that he may be a demagogue, a hypocrite, and a false friend, what of it? He is at least a concrete man; he has his own language; he shakes their hands; he is neither a theory of government nor a set of platitudes. When given prompt attention at this time serious men may be advised. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

STONE ROAD, COAST TO COAST, PLANNED

LARGEST MOVE YET MADE FOR GOOD ROADS ANNOUNCED

Effort to Raise $10,000,000 is Now On Secretary Urging Commission to Choose Route That Will Pass Through Twin Falls.

One of the biggest plans for the building of a stone road from New York to the Pacific coast was announced in Indianapolis and Detroit last week and which already was made known that a movement had been started to raise over $10,000,000 in these cities and from motor companies throughout the country with which to purchase crushed rock for such a roadway. The building of such a road will be left with the state and federal authorities, with whom contracts will be made for the completing of the work.

The plan to raise the $10,000,000 is one of the most practical yet suggested in the good roads movement. It was originated over a year ago by Dr. Fisher of Indianapolis speedway fame. Mr. Fisher has been making a thorough study of the plan, collecting data on the cost of construction and all necessary adjuncts to the building of the road. The plan is meeting with the approval of the lead motor car companies and accessory manufacturers, and they are ready to assist in launching the scheme as outlined by Mr. Fisher. The road is to be raised by January 1, 1915, according to Mr. Fisher's plan, and the work of raising the money will be vigorously pursued, as he believes that three months remain in which to raise the amount.

Went Twin Falls on Route. At the present time the plan is to do a lot of call for any particular route across the country. Robert W. Spangler of this city, secretary of the Automobile Association, is a personal friend of Mr. Fisher and has written him regarding the action recently taken by the association in Idaho toward the good roads work.

to be included in the proposed transcontinental route. A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the executive committee of the American Automobile association, spent a week here during the summer and was impressed with the merits of having the Shoshone and Twin Falls placed on such a route, and is recommending such a decision by the promoters of the automobile road to the beauty and attractiveness of these spots.

By getting the required amount necessary for the construction of the road guaranteed by January 1, 1915, it will be possible to complete the work in 1915, so that the road may be used by the automobile tourists attending the Panama Pacific exhibition which opens in San Francisco in the spring of that year. Whether any of the present transcontinental routes will be selected or an entirely new course will be decided upon, will be left to a commission of motoring interests. It is expected that the action of the Idaho State Automobile association in arranging for a $200,000 bond issue, for the widening of the good roads, will appeal to the commission in their selection of a cross-country road that will pass through Twin Falls.

COMING TO TWIN FALLS.

Burk's Big Uncle-Tom's Cabin Company Under a Mammoth Canvas. Will exhibit at Twin Falls Thursday night, September 23.

Among the many talented organizations in America, that have become famous, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey shows are conceded to be the largest and most popular circuses. But the largest, dramatic organization exhibiting under canvas is "Burk's Big Spectacular Production of Uncle Tom's Cabin." This mammoth management enterprise is the acknowledged champion of all Uncle Tom's Cabin companies. Like the big circuses, they travel in their own cars and require a special train of their own to transport their paraphernalia from one city to another. This organization embraces more men, women and children, more horses, ponies, donkeys and Siberian bloodhounds, more chariots, floats, tableaux wagons, etc., than any other similar organization in America.

The parade which may be seen daily on the principal streets wherever this mighty show exhibits, is the largest set of any dramatic exhibition in the world. The immortal play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's masterpiece of dramatic fiction. The management of Burk's big company has agreed no expense in securing a metropolitan cast to properly produce the grand drama in combination with the dramatic talent of high-class vaudeville artists consisting of merry comedians, jokers, singers, dancers, wire walkers, hoop rollers, etc. These artists are introduced during the act and always create the greatest satisfaction. Fred R. Plocher's famous concert band and symphony orchestra is also one of the many strong features of this up-to-date, modern American-amusement-organization, which is coming in all its vast entirety and will exhibit at Twin Falls Thursday night, September 23, under a mammoth water-proof palace pavilion theater seating 2,500 people.—Advertisement.

ELECTRICAL ADVANCEMENT.

Why is more electrical current used for heating and cooking in Southern Idaho than elsewhere? It is not due entirely to the high cost of fuel. It is because our naturally progressive class of citizens have been quick to realize the liberal policy of the Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Water Power Company in its attitude toward the public. They have been able to outdo their less fortunate friends elsewhere on account of the low rates charged for cooking, heating and other purposes. The electric kitchen has proved to be way in advance of all others from the standpoint of economy, convenience, cleanliness and reliability. The Company has employed experts to assist in selecting and making use of all kinds of modern electrical conveniences. engineers and commercial department

The big horse show and parade, which was announced by Smith and McIndoe for next Saturday, September 23, has been postponed, owing to the necessity of taking the imported stock to Idaho Falls the last of this week in preparation for the fair at that place. It had been planned to have the farmers of the tract who are the owners of high-class horse lots in the parade. The show will be given, however, after the Idaho Falls and Boise fairs, at which time the events announced for next Saturday will be carried out.

THE FEEDING OF THE FIVE THOUSAND

Mark 6: 30-44.

30. And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31. And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and ye shall rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure to eat.

32. And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33. And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities round about them, and came together unto him.

34. And Jesus, when he came up, saw much people, and said unto his disciples, We have here five loaves, and two fishes.

35. And he said unto them, Give ye unto them. And they said unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

36. He said unto them, How many loaves have ye? Go and see. And they saw, and said, Five, and two fishes.

37. And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the grass.

38. And he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looked up unto heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes divided he among them all.

39. And they did all eat, and were filled.

40. And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

41. And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

30. And Jesus was now about to go to the cross, and he said to his disciples, I am the bread of life.

Introductory.

The account of this feeding of the five thousand is given in all the gospels.

20. It was now about a year before the crucifixion, and the disciples had enjoyed favorable opportunities for understanding what he meant by his Master.

21. What are they saying?—And now they would like to tell him of all that they have been saying and seeking to impress upon the minds of the people.

22. The "desert place" was at the head of the lake, where there was no great grass.

23. In the sense in which you conceive a desert, "desert of water and vegetation," but a retired, country place, with rocks and grass and fields.

24. Jesus intended to spend a certain time with his disciples alone. But he was not allowed to do so.

25. It is to be presumed that he and his disciples went by boat, and the people watched the boat as it went out, to see which way it went.

26. Jesus could not see a need which he could satisfy, and yet keep aloof, and let his people go without him.

ECHOES FROM BUHL

BUHL HAPPENINGS ALWAYS INTEREST OUR READERS. After reading of so many people in our town who have been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighborhood?" "Yes," says the statement of this Buhl resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

D. Donah, Buhl, Idaho, says: "For several years I suffered four or five times through my lones and kidneys and there was a severe ache across the small of my back that lasted for days. After I took Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt better, work and laughter and after a few hours' work my back became so stiff and lame that I was hardly able to straighten. The kidney secretion was very highly colored, contained sediment and was too frequent and painful in passage. I tried a number of remedies, but without success. Doan's Kidney Pills, after I used this preparation the dull ache in my back disappeared, my kidneys were restored to normal condition and my health improved."

Fall Style Parades On Wooltex Models Lead

New Style is not Necessarily Correct Style Of Street Dresses From $7.50 to $20.00

But there is one way to be safe in choosing. At the beginning of every season a host of new ideas in dress are shoveled out on the market.

Some are experiments, feebly hoping to find favor.

Some are far-fetched guesses at what Paris is going to show later on.

Some are mere fads.

Some are destined to quick oblivion and some are destined to find too much favor and to become too common.

But there are others that are really AUTHENTICATIVE; truly representative of what Paris is endorsing; sure to be worn by well-dressed women the world over.

"How can you tell which is which?"

You are safe if you buy here. There are ways of knowing the true from the imitation; the product of authority from the guess.

And we know them. What we show (and you can check up this statement by the style-developments of the season) are the garments that stamp the woman of good taste—Now, correct, sensible, smart.

You are safe, here or anywhere else, if you buy garments bearing the Wooltex label. That label is a positive assurance of true style, real distinctiveness and certain "fashionableness" as well as of unexcelled value and of at least two seasons' satisfactory service.

Truly such a combination of quality, style and price we have never before been able to find.

The combination of serge and corduroy, serge and satins, that are becoming so popular, are found in these garments at the very nominal prices of $10.00 and $12.50.

Then those pretty creations of Poplin and Messaline, trimmed with heavy beading and trimmings of the very latest kind—and what irresistible charms they do add to the new dresses!

Come in and see them. You will see things that you really can afford to buy.

New Suits at $22.50 to $37.50

Probably you've already been captured by their beauty. If not, then pay us a visit and see the striking new models of Wooltex, Storm Serge, Lorraine, Bedford, Gords and the WhipCORDS, and made in those becoming calway styles. Then the finger-up length, side button, with from five to twelve buttons. Blacks, blue, light brown, dark brown, or taupe colored cheviot or serge in black, navy blue, or navy blue white.

No trouble to find the season's prettiest suit here.

We have other suits (not Wooltex) priced as low as $10.00.

Fall Suitings

Worlds of pretty Wooltex are displayed on our shelves and on our counters. Novelty, Wooltex, Storm Serge, French Serge, Charlotte, Wool Tapes, Diagonals and all the very newest kinds of goods on the market.

Other Serges from 50c to $2.00

WhipCORDS in all colors and in three different widths, 35, 42, 52, sell at $2.00, $1.25 and 65c

ROCK CREEK JIM IS TWIN FALLS VISITOR

OLD-TIME INDIAN SPENDS INTERESTING HOURS WITH FRIENDS.

Views Moving Pictures for the First Time and Manifests Keen Interest in Ingenuity of Pale-face Brothers.

Rock Creek Jim, who is also known as Indian Jim, was a noted character who spent Monday and Tuesday in this city.

Coming from his ranch at Cedar Creek across the river along with his daughter, old Jim was on his way to Blackfoot in search of a son who left some two years ago and has not been heard of since by his father. Rumor that he was in the vicinity of Blackfoot attracted the old Indian, and when he left here Wednesday morning he was filled with the hopes of finding the prodigal.

Although 85 years of age he is as agile as a boy and as interested in the development of the tract as any of the South Elde boosters. For Rock Creek Jim was an inhabitant of this section of the country long before there were many white settlers here, and marvels at the immense change in the country of which he knows so well the early history.

Rock Creek Jim was a true friend of the early settlers, and is one of the most respected Indians that has ever lived in the Snake river valley.

Coming in this city he was taken to a picture show the first he had ever seen, and was greatly impressed, with the wonders of the white man's invention. While viewing the Indian pictures he was held in awe by the Indian Jim will make this city another visit on his return from his mission in Blackfoot.

SHOOT'S PERFECT SCORE

Lieutenant Prator of This City Hits Bullseye 250 Times Out of 250 Shots.

One of the most remarkable exhibitions of shooting ever seen in the west was recorded at Boise last week by Lieutenant E. F. Prator, of this city, a member of Company D, I. N. G. Mr. Prator showed his ability as a marksman by landing in a perfect score at the barracks, scoring a sloucut bullseye each time in 250 shots. This hitting was over the two hundred yard range.

Lieutenant Prator is practicing at the barracks for the elimination matches to be held in a few weeks for the selection of a team of crack shots from this state to compete at the Portland shoot. It is expected that he will be "no accident" in securing his position on the Gem State gun team.
