A. Y. M. C. A. PROPOSITION

Recognizing the splendid efforts of the businessmen of this county to secure for the benefit of Southern Idaho, a Y. M. C. A. building for the moral uplift of the youth of this community, The Twin Falls News desires to offer a somewhat unique proposition.

Believing that there can be no better or broader charity than that which has for its object the raising of money for the purchase of a lot for this purpose, and desiring to offer every aid in its power toward this end, The News makes the following offer:

With every new $2.00 subscription to this newspaper received by mail or over our counter from anyone in Twin Falls county, The News will issue a receipt showing a payment of half of this amount to the Y. M. C. A. Committee, the money to be applied to the purchase of a lot for a Y. M. C. A. building subject to the plans of the Y. M. C. A. Committee. In other words The News will give to the Y. M. C. A. Committee one-half of all moneys received for new subscriptions between now and January first. To all present subscribers who pay up all arrears and one year's subscription in advance, the same offer is made.

Every man and boy should be interested and every mother and every daughter. There can be no greater upbuilding moral force than that which comes from the establishment and operation of a branch of the Young Men's Christian Association.

If you are not already a subscriber to The News, send us $2.00 for a year's subscription to the leading weekly of Southern Idaho, and at the same time lend a helping hand to a worthy and deserving cause.

An honor roll of those subscribers for the paper under these conditions will be carried on the first page of The News.

LATEST PLAN OF RAISING MONEY FOR LOT IS ENDORSED.

Sale of Buttons Attended With Good Results—Holiday Dance Expected to Raise the Remainder.

As a means of raising money for the purchase of a lot in Twin Falls upon which to later erect a branch of the Y. M. C. A., the committee in charge of the financial end of the move have decided to give a charity ball in the near future, the date to be decided upon later.

This action was decided upon at a meeting of business men held Tuesday evening, when plans for the raising of cash for Y. A. C. A. purposes were discussed in detail.

The proposition to give a dance, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Y. M. C. A. movement, was unanimously endorsed, and it is generally felt that the committee's action will be well received.

The plans of the committee for the building of a Y. M. C. A. have not so far progressed beyond the preliminary stage, and it is understood that at this time only the purchase of a lot for this purpose will be taken up, the work of erecting a building to be postponed until such time as the building site is secured.

JURY OF WOMEN IN JUDGE SHIELD'S COURT

UNIQUE TRIAL OF RANCHER'S WIFE ATTRACTS INTEREST.

Wives of Well Known Local Men Sit in Judgment and Return Verdict of Guilty.

THE JURY. Mrs. W. F. Pike, foreman. Mrs. F. W. McRoberts. Mrs. J. H. Seaver. Mrs. D. E. Moore. Mrs. J. B. Hall.

After hearing the evidence, six representative women of Twin Falls, as jurors, decided against the defendant, a woman, in Judge Shields' court yesterday afternoon. This is the first instance in which a jury of women ever sat in justice in this part of the state, and perhaps one of the few instances in the history of Idaho. A decision was reached after more than an hour's deliberation. The clemency of the court was recommended.

The defendant, Mrs. Edward Bots, who resides two and one-half miles northwest of this city, was charged with drawing a revolver on Arthur Requa, and later striking him with the gun. Mrs. Bots denied having pointed the gun at Requa, but admitted having struck him. She was found guilty and released on her own recognizance, pending the court's decision on the Bots farm, and to have assumed active possession in February, 1913.

It was alleged by Requa that he understood that he had the privilege of storing goods on the Bots farm but was taking possession. Acting on this understanding of the agreement, accompanied by Mrs. Requa and a son, Mr. Requa went to the Bots home last Wednesday and proceeded to carry a box of apples into a cellar.

He alleged that Mrs. Bots came out of her home declaring that he could not bring the apples there for storage, at the same time brandishing a gun in his hand and threatening manner. He further claimed that as he attempted to pass around her she administered him a blow on the head with the gun. Mrs. Requa reported to the Bots home last Wednesday and proceeded to carry a box of apples into a cellar.

TO REBUILD LOCAL CLUB ORGANIZATION

ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING ENDORSES PLAN FOR SWEEPING CHANGES.

Usefulness of Commercial Body Believed Assured Through Introduction of Modern Methods of Operation.

At one of the most enthusiastic and well attended meetings of the Twin Falls Commercial Club held in some time, plans for the reorganization of that body were listened to, discussed and heartily endorsed, and arrangements made for the beginning of a campaign for new members and the new order of things generally, at once.

The Wednesday meeting, was presided over by President Hance, and plans for the reorganization were explained by C. L. Dolzang and A. J. Peary.

The proposition of the committee which for some time past has been engaged on the subject of working out a new scheme of operation for the club, were received with hearty approval. These plans provide for the organization of the club membership into various bureaus, each to be presided over by a governing board of members and chairman, the work of each bureau to be subject to the approval of the board of directors of the club, the club was performed, and no participation in the work on the part of every club member, and an opportunity will be given to each member to hold a general meeting of the club.

The primary purpose of the move is to overcome any prejudice which may have existed up to this time on the part of the general membership on the ground that the actual work of the club was performed, not by the club members, but by officers and directors. Under the new plan every member will have a share in the work of the club, and it is expected that the members to help in the upbuilding of the Twin Falls club.

At Wednesday's meeting it was decided to hold a general meeting on Monday evening next, in the form of a smoker to organize teams to work in each precinct in securing new members on the subject of working out a new scheme of operation for the club, were received with hearty approval. ALLEGED DEAL NOW THOROUGHLY DENIED

REPORTED ALIBIE-BUDGE COMBINE STEPPED ON.

Governor-Elect Haines Will Hold Aloof From Senatorial Contest—Keen Interest Among the Politicians.

(Special to the News.) Boise, December 3.—That reported Alibie-Budge combine has been denounced from three different angles in the past week, and it is safe to assume that it is now dead beyond the hope of resurrection. If it ever had an existence of any kind, it is now dead beyond the hope of resurrection. If it ever had an existence of any kind, it is now dead beyond the hope of resurrection. If it ever had an existence of any kind, it is now dead beyond the hope of resurrection.

Judge Alibie followed suit with a statement given out in Spokane which, he denounced the report as false in every particular so far as he was concerned. He was never mentioned to him by any one either before or since the election. Governor-Elect Haines says the claim that a statement given out in the capital in which he denounces the report as false. He says he never saw the statement, and that he was never mentioned to him by any one either before or since the election.

The terms of the alleged combine are pretty well understood by this time in all parts of the state. The story that Judge Alibie and Judge Budge were to be appointed supreme court judges to fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Judge Alibie, and Attorney General D. C. McDougall was to succeed Judge Budge on the bench.

The argument was that this would bring North Idaho and the southeast section of the state into perfect working harmony. The plan was put forth as explaining the heavy vote cast for Haines in the southeast—the understanding that he had agreed to the combination, and that he was coming governor. Appointing Judge Budge to the supreme bench, and Attorney General McDougall to the district bench, would be a complete success. Now this combination is knocked into a cocked hat by the vigorous repudiation of the plan by the people. All fair men are now compelled to justice to the men mentioned, to drop all talk of the combination.

What Principals Say. Judge Budge admits that he is anxious to be on the supreme bench, but he insists that he will never take an appointment to the position; that if the honor comes to him at all it must come by the hands of the people of the state.

Judge Alibie admits that he is a candidate for the senate, but he insists that he will never take an appointment to the position; that if the honor comes to him at all it must come by the hands of the people of the state.

Interpreting Haines gives out the impression that he has thrown the weight of his influence in favor of no one, but that he is not to be influenced by any one. He insists to keep out of the contest.

This clarifies the atmosphere in one direction, and leaves it still foggy in another. It is not to be assumed that Judge Alibie will command strong support from North Idaho. Could he but have the solid support of that section, he would be a dangerous contender for the short term in the senate. North Idaho claims this particular honor by a sort of divine right and it is not to be south demanding the office for any particular candidate. It would be unfair say to secure it, especially with the strength of the south scattered among a number of strong men.

Who Oppose Alibie. But unfortunately for the north, it is not united. Many of the radical Progressives are bitterly opposed to the plan, and they are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot. Some of these men are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot. Some of these men are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot.

The Progressives of North Idaho are trotting out Paul Clagstone as a candidate for the senate. Some of them are trotting out Paul Clagstone as a candidate for the senate. Some of them are trotting out Paul Clagstone as a candidate for the senate.

These are not the only discordant notes in the north. The conservatives are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot. Some of these men are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot.

These are not the only discordant notes in the north. The conservatives are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot. Some of these men are not to be ruled by the Roosevelt electors of the official ballot.

FAMOUS BARYTONE
WILL SING HERE

ALFRED BERGEN WILL GIVE THE "SONG OF THE BIRCH"

Telented Quartet Comes Tomorrow Evening at Second National Musical Dinner—Rarity Musical Trust is Promised.

A request has been received by the lecture course committee that Alfred Hillis Bergen, the famous barytone, appear here Friday evening, December 6, at the high school auditorium. Mr. Bergen has achieved success as a song writer, and the song "Birch" is considered among his best efforts. This is an Indian song, and is said to portray American Indian melodies more truly than any other work along similar lines. A resident of Twin Falls who has heard Mr. Bergen sing this song, has asked that it be given here. Accompanying Mr. Bergen on his tour are Leonard Marx, noted violinist; Hans Dressel, the great German cellist; and Herman Renschard, a pianist, who is considered one of the best in the lycosum breast list of pianists.

While about two-thirds of the seats for the entertainment have already been sold, there are a great many good seats left, and the plot is now open at the Skelso-Wiley drug store.

NATIONAL POULTRY SHOW

Will Be Held in Connection With the Stock Show at Denver Beginning January 20.

The National Western Poultry Show, which is held annually in connection with the National Western Stock Show at Denver, and which will open on January 20, promises to be of more than usual interest. This year a number of eastern exhibitors have made arrangements to bring their fancy birds to Denver in January. There will be a special emphasis on Massachusetts, and from several of the states in the Middle West. Every effort is being made to make this poultry show one more attention to the quality of the exhibits rather than to quantity.

White Colorado breeders will be well represented in the show, and expect to hold their own, they are all very much interested in the opportunity that will be offered to compare their breeding with the best that can be produced in the east. Two of the most prominent poultry judges attending have been engaged to place the ribbons. These are W. B. Russell, of Oklawaha, and James A. Tucker, of Concord, N. H. This is the first time these two judges have been together in the West, and this of itself is an attractive feature. The exhibitors who are anxious to have these men (both of whom are authorities in the poultry world) pass upon their breeding.

The poultry show is proving one of the most interesting sections of the Stock Show, and plans are being made to make it more interesting than ever at the coming season.

IDAHO'S GRAIN YIELD.

Crop for 1912 Estimated at 23,000,000 bushels. Government Geologist Cass L. Livingston, Idaho, Nov. 20, (Special.)—Official estimate on the grain production of the entire state for the year 1912 place the yield at 23,000,000 bushels of which amount approximately 17,000,000 bushels are produced in the south and southeastern parts of the state and the balance of about 6,000,000 bushels in the seven northern counties.

The above estimate is given out from the office of Daniel W. Greenberg, chairman of the Idaho State Grain Commission, the figures being compiled by that official from reports received from various grain sections of the state, and Mr. Greenberg is sanguine that in the rough the figures are approximately close.

The figures in the north as those are given by counties, but those from the southern and southeastern parts of the state are embodied as a whole, as having been inspected. This secure accurate data from the individual counties in that part of the state. The figures as supplied from the northern counties indicate that there has been a decrease of about 30 per cent from the grain yield of 1911.

ALL AMENDMENTS CARRY

Light Vote Cast on the Eight Constitutional Changes—Referendum Leads.

It has been officially announced at the state capital that all of the eight amendments to the state constitution, submitted to the voters at the recent election, carried by large majorities.

The initiative, referendum, and the recall (excepting judges) will be in force when the legislature prescribes they shall be used.

The amendment allowing convicts to be employed outside the state prison and upon other than state work, received a substantial majority.

Amendment No. 8—having passed, the state now has $3,000,000 more at its disposal for the completion of the state capitol.

Each county in the state will have a state senator under the new apportionment.

A state board of education was created. County treasurers were made ex-officio tax collectors.

Ada and Bay Lake counties were the only counties to vote against the convict labor amendment.

The vote for the constitutional amendments was about 85 per cent of that cast for presidential electors. This applies only to the referendum amendment; for other amendments it was less.

THE TRUE TEST

TRIED IN TWIN FALLS. IT HAS STOOD THE TEST.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Twin Falls. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

G. W. Secord, carpenter, Fair-avenue, Twin Falls, Idaho, says: "In my old home in Atlantic City, I had Doan's Kidney Pills for pains in my back, caused by kidney trouble and I will say that they gave me great relief. I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a first-class kidney remedy and I can say that kidney sufferers will do well to try them." (Statement given June 2, 1911.)

No trouble since. Mr. Secord was interviewed on October 10, 1912, and he said: "Continued use of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of every symptom of kidney complaint, and for over two years I have had no sign of the trouble. I can safely say that Doan's Kidney Pills have permanently cured me."

BOISE HIGH WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

PILES UP 113 TO 8 SCORE AGAINST
TWIN FALLS.

Perfect System of Forward Passing
Fula Ball Over Goal Repeat. edly—Twin Falls Team.
Fula Up Stubborn Fight.

The overwhelming score of 113 to 8 in favor of Boise, was the result of the championship football game played in the capital city of Idaho yesterday afternoon. A perfect system of forward passing by the winning team made possible the almost record-breaking score. The Twin Falls team made a stubborn fight, and many witnesses of the game believe that had the old style of play been used, the team from Boise would have won. Twin Falls is not claiming the game.

Boise's high score demonstrates the open play when used by a well drilled machine. Forward passes and runs repeatedly netted large gains and touchdowns. On many signals, however, the Twin Falls team tore gaps in the Boise-line and worked the forward passing and throwing that team for losses. Murria secured the ball on Boise's 35-yard line and ran through a broken field for a touchdown, making the only Twin Falls score during the game.

Second Team in State.
The Twin Falls team was the only contestant with hope for the state championship, as all other teams in the state had been eliminated in the championship contests in the four districts of the state. The Twin Falls team was a dangerous proposition to Boise at many stages of the game, but inability to make the forward pass being the only leading play prevented them from having her a good share of the score. Practices of the game with Boise next year are already being heard.

Boise's scoring was 13 points in the first period, 27 in the second, 40 in the third, and 33 in the fourth, totaling 113. The game was drawn out owing to the officials not being thoroughly acquainted with the rules of the game. Frequent pauses to allow the officials to read the rules took much of the playing time. The crowd was one of the largest that ever assembled at a football contest in the capital city. Before the game was finished, many of the spectators were compelled to leave the grounds on account of the cold.

HEAT WITH ELECTRICITY

A. M. Dowers Tells of the Advantages of Living at Twin Falls.

That heating by electricity in the Twin Falls country is as common as heating by coal or gas anywhere else is an item of an interesting interview given out by A. M. Dowers, of Twin Falls, during a recent visit to Boise, and published in the Boise paper.

"I have an 8-room house at Twin Falls and it is heated in its entirety by electricity," says Mr. Dowers. "Now, you may sound surprising to some who are not familiar with electricity as for heating purposes or who have never enjoyed the advantages of electricity compared to coal or gas. Electricity is delivered at a flat rate for heating purposes. I pay something like $180 a year to heat my home and I want to tell you it is certainly like that. The heating stores, small affairs with coils of wires in them and which can be easily moved from one part of the house to another, are placed in the rooms and the current turned on.

For Cooking.
"For cooking, the stoves are larger, having the various cooking appliances. They have them so arranged now that the current is automatically turned on to suit the convenience of the owner. For instance, if the lady of the house wishes to go down town and do some shopping and yet be anxious to have part of the dinner prepared by the time she returns home, all she has to do is to place the food to be cooked on the stove, regulate the time adjustment and leave."

"Twin Falls is taking rapid strides, rapidly becoming the metropolis of the state. We have a great city and it is growing. Crops were big this year. Wheat and oats produced from 80 to 100 bushels and over to the acre. The farmers are practical. They are not only growing grain and along scientific lines and know their business. That is why we have such good crops."

A WORTHY CAUSE.

The efforts of the business men of this section to raise sufficient cash to permit of the purchase of a lot on which some day be erected a branch of the national Young Men's Christian Association should be given all the support of which the people are capable. A Y. M. C. A. is a power for good in the land. Being non-sectarian in character its scope is as broad as the section which it serves. The religious feature is not its only recommendation yet along other lines its influence accomplishes just as much.

Southern Idaho needs an institution where boys and young men may spend an hour or two a day in healthful recreation, reading or writing under proper influences and in a clean moral atmosphere. The athletic features are of particular importance not only to young men, but to the tired business man willing to devote an occasional half hour to mental relaxation in cheerful surroundings. List but by no means least, the establishment of such an institution would strike a blow at the illicit liquor trade which would perhaps be of more real benefit as far as the juvenile element of the population is concerned than almost anything else that could well be imagined.

The News believes in the Y. M. C. A. cause and in this connection would call the attention of its readers to the announcement on page one of this issue, wherein The News proposes to give to the Y. M. C. A. committee one dollar of every two dollars received from new subscribers to this newspaper between now and January the first.

If you are already a subscriber send out a few complimentary subscriptions to your friends and help a worthy cause.

A LAUDABLE VIEW.

"Keep the judiciary out of politics," is the keynote of the views of Judge Alfred Budge, of Pocatello, as set forth in a recent statement in which he takes occasion to deny all knowledge of an alleged political plot to place him in line for the vacant United States Senatorship.

The sentiment of Judge Budge is in line with the convictions of the better element of men, not only in Idaho, but all over America. The judiciary and politics should have nothing in common, indeed there is grave question as to the wisdom of continuing to elect to office by popular vote those men called upon under the statutes to determine the guilt or innocence of their fellow men.

But even under present conditions, there is room for improvement, and Judge Budge is to be congratulated on the manner in which he has crystallized the general feeling in his statement on this most important point.

THE STEEL MAN'S CHARITY.

Andrew Carnegie never conceived a bolder idea than that which had for its object the pensioning of American ex-presidents. The wonder is that a popular wave of indignation did not follow upon his remarkable proposition rather than the good humored ridicule of press and people.

Andrew Carnegie is one of America's foremost citizens and his charities are world wide in scope. He gives for the pleasure of giving, rather than from any finer or more unselfish motive, and who shall say that the sensation of virtuous satisfaction arising from his bequests is not well worth the money to him.

He is the owner of some fifteen million dollars' worth of New York City real estate, on all but three million of which he declines to pay taxes. He accomplishes this annually merely by swearing that the property is worth not fifteen millions of dollars, but three millions. The annual taxes which he thus avoids paying amount to considerably more than the twenty-five thousand dollars a year which he is willing to pay to former presidents who are willing to accept it.

Even if this country were unable to take care of her ex-presidents, the proposition would still be a little out of the usual. As matters now stand, this particular charity will probably go begging. In the meantime the borough of Manhattan would probably regard the payment of its taxes as a very real charity indeed.

THE LEGISLATIVE NEWS.

The newspaper which prints the news is the newspaper you will want during the coming session of the Idaho Legislature. The session bids fair to be one of the most interesting and important in the history of the state. In addition to the selection of two United States Senators, other matters of grave importance to the taxpayer will be taken up and disposed of.

To its readers The News announces the completion of arrangements for a special news service from the Capital during the two months' session. The news will be handled with a particular view to giving to the people of this county information as to legislation in which this county is particularly interested. It will keep you posted on the work of our own delegation in a manner which the Boise newspapers cannot do because they are state papers, while the Twin Falls News is essentially a county newspaper.

THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

Remember that when Christmas shopping is delayed until the last day or two the Christmas of the host of men and women in the stores of the city is robbed of half its joys.

No man or woman should be expected to work until midnight clear up to Christmas Eve, and then participate in the merrymaking of the Great Holiday in a frame of mind compatible with the spirit of the occasion.

Remember, eleventh hour shopping is a form of selfishness at Christmas time, and selfishness has nothing in common with the spirit of Christmas.

THE NEW COMMERCIAL CLUB.

The general awakening of interest in the plan of reorganizing the Twin Falls Commercial Club should prove highly gratifying to all classes of citizenship. Recent meetings with this end in view have been well attended, and a feeling of general confidence in the future of the club is rapidly taking the place of the old-fooling-of-apatly.

The business men of Twin Falls are to be congratulated on their action in this most important matter. Twin Falls is big enough to support a real Commercial Club, and if the plans of the committee are properly supported a real Commercial Club will be the result.

THE THANKSGIVING GAME.

The result of the Twin Falls-Boise football game, played in Boise on Thanksgiving Day, has been a source of great disappointment to many, but when all is said and done there is a good deal in the showing made of which the home team may well be proud.

The individual work done by the players was exceptionally good, in fact judging from accounts given by those who witnessed the game, the extent of the defeat was due more to bad management than to bad playing by the members of the team.

A CHANCE FOR REFORM.

The new state administration cannot do better than clean house at St. Anthony and do it quick. If over a barefaced case of whitewash over a vile blot on the honor of Idaho existed in the history of the state, here is a bright and shining example.

MAY RETALIATE

Idaho May Quarantine California California, Peas and Grapefruit in Near Future.

That the attitude of the State of California, in insisting on maintaining a quarantine against Idaho hay is unreasonable and unfair, is the statement of John U. McPherson, state horticultural inspector, who spent Wednesday in Twin Falls on a brief business visit to this section.

Mr. McPherson says that the California authorities have practically admitted that Idaho hay is free of weevil, but apparently they make no effort to make the quarantine. In discussing the matter with a New York representative, he said: "We are at a loss to understand the position taken by the California authorities. At this time the State of Idaho is in a position to enforce a quarantine against peas, grapefruit, oranges and lemons from California. If she wished to do so, as all of this fruit is infected with three or four different kinds of scale, and therefore comes under the horticulture quarantine law of this state. Of course it is a fact that this scale does not injure the quality of the fruit, and is in no manner infectious. The fruit, after being transplanted to other fruit, and are therefore harmless, but the fact remains that this fruit is amenable to the law by reason of the existence of this scale, and if we care to retaliate upon California, we are in a position to do so."

Mr. McPherson left Wednesday night for Blackfoot, where he will deliver an address before one of the fruit associations there.

WILL ENGAGE IN TEACHING

Miss Nelle Rauch Accepts School at Thousand Springs.—A Graduate of City Schools.

Miss Nelle Rauch, who for the past seven months has been connected with the staff of the Twin Falls News, has accepted the position of teacher of District No. 13 school, at Thousand Springs, and will leave her duties in that capacity next Monday, concluding through the winter term.

Miss Rauch is a graduate of the Twin Falls high school of the class of 1910. A portion of her career was taken in the Spokane schools. She has been a resident of the tract since soon after the opening and has a large circle of friends both in this city and throughout the county.

Doughnuts That will remain moist.

Every housewife who bakes her own bread knows that if little potato is added to the sponge, the bread will not dry out so quickly. In this recipe potato is utilized to make doughnuts that will remain moist and fresh for several days.

K C Potato Doughnuts

By Mrs. Nevada Borge, of Baking School fame.

2 cups flour, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 level teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 level teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoonful milk, 1 cup cold mashed potato, 1 cup milk, or more if needed.

Sift three times, the flour, salt, spice and baking powder. Beat eggs with rotary beater, then stir using rotary beater, gradually add sugar. Beat well. In another potato with a spoon and alternately add milk and flour mixture. Make a soft dough, roll in a sheet, cut into squares, which is laid in the center, with the finger and tip of finger. Fat frying should not be hot enough to brown the doughnut until it has risen. When the doughnut is dropped, into the fat it sinks to the bottom. As soon as it comes up it should be turned and dragged a number of times while cooking. This recipe is especially good if they do not make the fat is frying and will stay moist for days.

IRRIGATION IN CHINA

American, Touring the Empire, Tells of Water Systems and Methods of Agriculture.

Irrigation has been used by the farmers of central China for centuries. It is in that section of the empire that agriculture was first advanced, as regards to early history; even though the methods used today are still primitive. A letter has been received by the Rev. J. M. Anderson from his brother, Mr. W. H. Anderson, who is touring the Chinese Empire, telling of the systems of irrigation and methods of agriculture as used today. A portion of it is given as follows: "They have a complete system of irrigation. The water is pumped from the canals by the most simple process. The farmer does it by his foot, as he has done 4,000 years ago. The farmer is never in a hurry, but he and his wife work from sunrise until sunset. They are willing to learn and can teach us practical lessons. It will be many generations before the Chinese farmer will change his farming methods.

"Our wasteful methods of harvesting, threshing, and feeding in America are not suited to China. Here a farmer, who has five acres, supports a large family. Nothing is wasted. They have no roads, only foot paths from one farm village to another. But a simple system of canals runs through the country, in their highway, crossing each other just as our roads do.

Continental Harvest. "I was told before I started out that I would find China's methods of agriculture would make clear a good deal of our own. The methods of sowing, planting, weeding, harvesting, planting of winter vegetables, peeling wheat, and other grains are all so simple as to be learned by a man in a few days. The ground is a crop is removed, the ground is quickly prepared and planted to winter vegetables, or something to grow in the season. The ground is always occupied. Here in central China there is a crop of some kind maturing every month in the year. Road work, etc. The methods are used in Egypt, but she received her knowledge from China—the oldest of them all.

"So Chow is a walled city of 1,000,000 population. Six canals run east and six north and south through the city. These lead into a larger canal that encircles the city inside the wall, and passes out through a gateway in the wall into a still larger canal that also encircles the city."

ALUMNI TEAM DEFEATED

American Falls Eleven Secures the Thanksgiving Game in Close Score of 3 to 0.

The Twin Falls Alumni football team met their Waterloo by a score of 3 to 0 Thanksgiving afternoon, at the local gridiron. The home team from American Falls invaded their territory. It was a hard fought battle, the superior weight of the American Falls team being made up by the better and more thorough training of the local team. The only score made was in the third quarter, when the visiting team kicked a goal from the 30 yard line. This was a clean game. Few fumbles were made and there were few penalties on either side. The forward pass was used but little, but punting formed a good feature of the game.

A good crowd attended the game and the Alumni Association were able to pay all expenses.

LODGE OF SORROW.

their brothers; but their virtues manifold, their labors for right in the vicar of good humanity, have been written in letters which time cannot efface, on the adamant tablets of love, memory, and fond affection.

We are a fraternal order. Our basic principle is that of brotherly love, unsummarized in the active working principles of charity, which casts its illumining and maturing influence around the sterner qualities of justice, and is kept stern and steadfast to its purpose, the first star of fidelity.

Standing here in this presence, before those whom for years they want to and bid—speaking to those who so judiciously know their deeds of beneficence for the well of others, their unwavering loyalty to right and duty, it need not that I should enter on any extended eulogium, which would be a repetition of a twice-told and familiar tale.

Citizens of Twin Falls—you know them all at the high worth of noble manhood. Brothers of Twin Falls Falls Lodge, you know them in all the generous brotherhood of the fraternalism which linked your lives with theirs in bonds of love. I need not tell you, who were daily witnesses, of the virtues which have embosomed their lives with holy memories and associations pregnant with ministrations of instruction.

And to you, the kindred of our dear and brothers, whose lives were bound up in their love, what words of mine will reflect their worth more clearly than you already know it—can I possibly do so? I need not tell you of the love that flowed between you and them, bondless as the ocean, deep as the fountains of truth, wide as eternity? But no matter of mine can add one iota to your knowledge of them; if no words of mortal can increase the brilliancy of the pasty which scintillates from their lives, to them, I may at least present to your contemplation that calm-breathing consolation, the fabled chalice of their immortality.

our order, "The faults of our brothers we write upon the sands, their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory." Their faults upon the sands—the shifting sands of time—to be washed away by the swelling tides of sympathy and love; their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory, more enduring than marble or granite or bronze, where the fierce storms of hatred, jealousy, dislike or detraction will have them unshaken and undimmed. Many and sharp the numerous ills, inwoven with our frame. None of us, however, make ourselves regret, remorse, and shame. And man whose Heaven excused face, the smiles of love adorn—

Many and sharp the numerous ills, inwoven with our frame. None of us, however, make ourselves regret, remorse, and shame. And man whose Heaven excused face, the smiles of love adorn—

Love has bridged the abyssal chasm which yawns between time and eternity with a passage way strewn with fair flowers and staphyria buds of Heaven.

When a Woman Goes Shopping

She goes to the store in which she has the greatest confidence. She does not judge stores by what they claim to do, but by what they do do. She goes to the stores that she has learned always give all or more than they promise.

While some stores are always claiming to give unheard-of values, it is quite often the case that some other store, not claiming so much, is really giving better values. While we are firm believers in advertising, we know that people judge us mostly by what we do and not by what we say, hence we depend upon real value giving to get us customers and keep them.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS,
November 30, 1912.—Cattle this week

here $2,800, 1411 week $7,800, same week last year $3,000. Buyers return $2 to the market after the holiday trade in a busy way and sales today were steady to strong, and active. The week is closing at the highest point of the season on range cattle of all kinds, except coal calves, which are steady for the week, but half a dollar below the best time this fall. Short fat cattle are coming freely, but prices on them have held about steady this week. Feeders all over the corn belt exhibit a disposition to sell early while there is a visible profit, and while they still have a substantial pile of corn left. Corn is down to 35 cents in some places, and reports indicate that a good many owners of cattle which are being roughed along stand ready to put them on fall feed whenever the sign looks right. The same disposition impels other cattle men to buy fleshy feeders on the market, which helps middle grade cattle. Nothing pricier has been here this week, tops under $10.00, bulk of the short fat steers selling at $7.00 to $8.50. Colorado spot steers have sold freely at $5.00 to $5.50. Colorado calves at $6.00 to $6.50, odd head $7.00, panhandle cows and canners $4.00 to $5.50, bulls $4.25 to $5.15, feeders up to $5.25, real calves up to $6.00, stock calves $6.00 to $7.00, quarantine feeders $8.25 to $9.25, light yearlings $6.50 to $7.50, low grade South-ero stuff $2.50 to $3.25. Hogs received here this week 70,000, last week 72,300, same week last year 60,100. The market vacillates slightly from day to day, but sellers appear amply able to hold the market up strong. Average weight and quality is improving every week, which is good as an argument by some dealers that there are a good many hogs in the country. Most dealers are on the other side, and look for stronger prices, due to comparatively small runs, ahead to today $7.8, bulk $7.05 to $7.75. Sheep received here this week 45,500, last week 30,500, same week last year 19,000. The market is closing the week firm today, top lambs $7.55, only 100,000, under the best price of the week, paid Monday. Ewes are selling at $2.75 to $3.40, wethers $4.00 to $4.50, yearlings up to $4.00. Feeding lambs around $5.00. Dealers see no reason to check their prediction that winter markets are going to be strong.

DANIEL H. HICKLING,
Administrator of Estate of Annie Hendricks, deceased.

To all Customers and Depositors of the Underlined Bank:
We have been instructed by the national and state bank examiners to the effect that the practice of allowing overdrafts must be discontinued.
Your attention is called to the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States, overruled in L. Peters at page 14, as follows: "Such a change in the legal effect of overdrafts cannot receive any countenance in a court of justice. It could not be supported by any public policy, no matter how formal, and therefore whenever done by the cashier is at his own peril."
You are also referred to Section 1707 of the Statutes of Idaho, which provides: "Any person who shall in the payment of any debt in whatsoever manner contracted, give and check or draft on any bank or banking association wherein such person shall not have sufficient funds or credit for the payment of same shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed three times the amount of the sum so paid, nor to exceed six months imprisonment."
We have decided to set December 1, 1912, as the date on which we will adopt the rule not to allow overdrafts. This rule will be strictly adhered to. We will continue in the future as in the past, to endeavor to further the interests of our customers, and our drafts will be to our mutual advantage. Trusting that our customers will cooperate with us in this effort to promote sound banking, we are, yours very truly,

GOOD BYE AND GOOD BUY

The public have been good to us--now we will give them the greatest opportunity ever offered by a concern to purchase high-class Groceries--new, fresh stock purchased before we knew of a possible business change, have been arriving in car lots the past month, at prices far below what the average merchant pays for them. This is a bona fide sale. We are compelled to dispose of about $10,000 of our stock in the next 30 days. We have sold our business, possession to be given January 1, 1913. The terms of this sale are cash only. First come first served. Many lines will go in a hurry, but every article is a genuine bargain from A to Z. This space allows our quoting only a few of the multitude of reductions. Save this list. It will not appear again.
