

TO FACE TRIAL ON CHARGE

THREE BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT FOR ALLEGED RECEIVING OF STOLEN PROPERTY.

Charles B. and William C. Janke, and J. L. Kirkbride Held Under Bond.

Charles B. Janke, William C. Janke, and J. L. Kirkbride, prominent Twin Falls business men, were Wednesday bound over for trial in the district court on charges of receiving stolen property.

The case promises to be one of the most sensational to come up in this section of the state.

The defendants are owners or employees of the Robert-Janke Packing company, of Twin Falls, one of the best known wholesale and retail meat concerns here.

The arrests in the case grew out of an alleged theft of cattle from the Idaho Land and Livestock company, which, it is claimed, were disposed of to the Robertson-Janke Packing company.

Later a party of officers watched the plant during one night and succeeded in surprising two men in the act of driving a bunch of 20 cows into the pen at the plant.

Because of the unusual nature of the alleged offense and the prominence of the individuals involved, the case is attracting unusual interest.

Mr. Storer, well known real estate operator, answers last summons.

Mr. Storer, one of Twin Falls' pioneers and best known real estate men, died Sunday night at 6 o'clock.

The operation showed blood poisoning had set in, but Mr. Storer, who was otherwise in good health, was thought for several days that he would survive, but later had a relapse and from that time on he was unable to stand.

DARK HORSE IS COMING UP

E. H. DEWEY, OF NAMPA, PROMINENTLY MENTIONED AS LIKELY TIMBER FOR SENATORIAL TOGA—BALANCE OF CANDIDATES WORKING HARD WITH CONTEST ANY MAN'S RACE.

INTIMATE GOSSIP OF TRENDS OF POLITICS AT CAPITAL

Borah Regarded as Certain to Be Elected Without Much Trouble, But the Chances of Deadlock on Colleague Loom Daily Larger.—Roosevelt Decision Likely to Cut Good Deal of Figure in the Result.

(News Special Service.)

Boise, December 17.—Watch E. H. Dewey, of Nampa, in the race for the United States senatorship.

This is the word that is going about quietly here in the state capital, the senatorial center of political interest at the opening of the legislative session draws near.

E. H. Dewey is a man to be watched. He is a tall, slender, and well-dressed man, and is public spirited, and is ambitious for public life.

Wesley Dewey died ten years ago, but he left a large estate, but his affairs were horribly tangled.

His son has made a fine record in straightening them out, and the judge has seen the admiration of those who worship at the shrine of men who do things.

Short Line May Be Willing.

Dewey pushed his road north from Emmett in the direction of Payette Lake, and in doing this demonstrated his ability for doing big things.

He has now disposed of his property to the Oregon Short Line, and there is a suspicion that the short line was back of him all the time, but in spite of this he is given credit for common sense, public spirit and enterprise in pushing the project.

Dewey is not a candidate for the senate—at least he is not in the open—So far as the general public is informed he has not moved a peg in the direction of securing support.

He is in the "dark horse" class, and those who are named as likely to be in the race are not likely to be in the race.

Those who are named for the senate are not likely to be in the race.

TO ELECT DIRECTORS IN SOUTH SIDE CANAL

COMMERCIAL CLUB SCENE OF A LIVELY MEETING.

State Named as Means of Stirring Up Interest—Full List of Working Users Being Compiled.

With the idea of arousing interest among the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company, so that a larger representation may be secured in the annual meeting for the election of directors, January 14, a meeting of several of the settlers was held in the Commercial Club rooms Saturday afternoon, and two sets of five candidates each for directors were named.

The candidates named by the meeting are: West End—C. E. Bennett, T. H. Wagar, Duhi—W. R. Morrison, Casey Jones (candidate).

Pilot—A. H. Houghbottle, T. D. Conroy.

Twin Falls—W. L. Taylor, Kimberly and East End—John W. Hurlin, Hyrum Pickard.

Nominations Met Binding. The nominations met binding by this meeting are in no wise binding upon the annual meeting, and were made simply as suggestions, the whole purpose of the meeting Saturday being, as stated by Chairman J. A. Crom, to create and crystallize sentiment among the settlers in relation to the canal.

Because it was considered that sufficient publicity had not been given (Continued on Page 12.)

WILL TELL OF WORK AT BIG LAND SHOW

D. M. DENTON EXPECTED TO RETURN WITHIN FEW DAYS.

Glendard Results Secured in Windy City and Hundreds Express Interest in Twin Falls County Land.

D. M. Denton, of the Twin Falls Real Estate and Trust company, is expected to reach Twin Falls this evening from the Chicago Land Show, where he went in the interests of this section.

Mr. Denton has succeeded in interesting a number of Chicago men in the sale of land in the Twin Falls section, many of whom will shortly pay a visit to Twin Falls with a view of investing in land.

Mr. Denton distributed thousands of copies of an especially designed plan of literature, dealing with this section and setting forth the advantages of southern Idaho. He reports a feeling of widespread interest on the part of Chicago men and is confident that his efforts will be the means of much good to this section.

As a means of learning at first hand from Mr. Denton just what he accomplished while at a Chicago show, he was planned for his reception, upon his return to be held at the Rogerson hotel.

Stress of other business of the past few local business, coupled with the inability to be present of a number of guests who were expected from outside points, a postponement was found necessary.

CHECK ARTIST BUSY

Local Business Men Have No Heaviness in Cashings Checks Carrying Forged Signatures.

The name of W. W. Patrick, a well known Twin Falls farmer, forged to a check—collection of checks of various amounts, succeeded in forging several local business men's checks.

Most of those receiving the checks have a personal acquaintance with Mr. Patrick, and the checks were cashed without question. In each case as far as learned, a small quantity of goods were purchased and paid for with one of the forged checks.

The authorities have the case in hand, but the incident was in a wise remarkable, and coming in the midst of the Christmas rush, much of the victims are unable to give much of a description of the swindler.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL

Skin Grafting Process With Splendid Results in Case of Mrs. Taylor, of Kimberly.

Mrs. Alta Taylor, whose hand was so badly burned in the mangle of a laundry at Hopley several weeks ago, is now at home, and the hand which she will have at her disposal in a few days.

It was thought at first that the amputation of the entire hand would be necessary, but under skillful treatment the hand was saved with the exception of three fingers.

The skin grafting operation to which she was subjected, and to this was due the saving of the hand. Sixty-six small pieces of skin taken from the thigh were used in the grafting process.

EXPLAINS CHANGES

Boasting Literature Used at Chicago Land Show is Highly Effective.

With reference to the special literature issued and distributed at the Chicago Land Show, it was stated that the Chicago Land Show a number of changes were made from the original plan.

The following explanation has been received from Mr. Denton: Our entire exhibit for the Land Show was delayed three days, and it was not until the last hour of the show that the exhibit was ready to be shown.

We were therefore compelled to eliminate all individual advertising, and to trust that subscribers to the Twin Falls tract as the limited time and available resources would permit. It is felt that subscribers to the tract will appreciate and make allowance for difficulties that could not be foreseen or avoided.

Twin Falls Has First Storage Battery Car West of New York City

Type of Car to Be Used on Twin Falls-Shoshone Falls Line.

The first Edison storage battery cars to operate west of New York will, within a few weeks, be gliding over the new Twin Falls electric scenic route to the Shoshone Falls. Thirteen carloads of rails have arrived of the second shipment, and the third and last shipment of 11 cars is on the way and expected to arrive here this week, also several carloads of ties. The track has been laid from the Oregon Short Line depot through the city to the corporate limits, and the entire line would have been finished by the first of the present month had all materials arrived on schedule time. The rails are of heavy steel, standard gauge, to permit of running regular freight and passenger cars from the Oregon Short Line over this route. The Twin Falls railway has a 25-year contract with the Oregon Short Line for the interchange of traffic and cars. Passengers may board one of these splendid, modern, 50-passenger cars at the depot, swing across Shoshone street—along second street west and north, glide around the broad curve through what was called the "Porcine pit," which about a year ago sold for $100,000, across the city limits and down Blue Lakes Boulevard two miles to the canyon, opposite L. B. Forriest's famous Blue Lakes ranch in the broad Snake River canyon. Here it swings a broad curve and continues east to the falls, skirting the rim rock and affording a splendid view of the interesting canyon and passing Pillar Falls, a picturesque rapids swirling about two towering sentinel pillars, which stand a few feet apart in the center of the river. From the Shoshone falls, the line swings due south for two miles, thence west to the city again, carrying one back past scores of beautiful farms and orchard.

FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

Fourth Annual Livestock Exposition at Lewiston Well Attended from All Parts of Country.

Lewiston, Idaho, December 14.—The fourth annual show and sale of the Northwest Livestock association held in this city this week has been remarkable in several important particulars. The entries of stock of all classes approximated over 2000 head. This, according to the judgment of persons familiar with the facts, places the Northwest Livestock show this year in a class with the Chicago International. The interest of both breeders and growers has been remarkable and leading stock-men from the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana have been constantly in attendance at the exhibition in addition to this, distinguished visitors embracing representatives of agricultural newspapers and daily journals, principal officers of the railway companies of the northwest, professors of colleges, representatives of packing industries, and others, honored the show by their presence and active interest. The attendance was unusually large, rivaling in interest and numbers the district and state fairs of this region.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Twin Falls People Know How to Save It.

Many Twin Falls people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys, when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Twin Falls citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. L. E. McCRAW, Lower Lincoln street, Twin Falls, Idaho, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used by a member of my family for three years, and the best of results have always been had. Whenever kidney trouble comes on, he uses Doan's Kidney Pills and they give him quick relief. He always has a supply on hand, and says he couldn't get along without them. Knowing of the benefit Doan's Kidney Pills bring, I advise all kidney sufferers to use them."

FOR AND AGAINST HIM.

FOR AND AGAINST HIM.
 Luke 9:49-52.

49. And John answered and said unto him, We have steadfastly set our face to the iniquity, and we forbode him, because he followed not with us.

50. And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

51. And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should go to Jerusalem, that he said to his disciples, I have sent messengers before my face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.

52. And they did not receive him: because his face was as though he would smite them, and he said unto them, I know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

53. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou command the fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

54. But he turned, and rebuked them, saying, I know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

55. For the Son of Man is not come to destroy man's lives, but to save them: and he that will save his life shall lose it: and he that will lose his life shall save it.

56. And it came to pass, that as they went in the way, a certain man said unto them, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

57. And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man hath nowhere to lay his head.

58. And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

59. Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

60. And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home with me.

61. And Jesus said unto him, Man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

Golden Text—"He that is not against us is for us."—Luke 9:50.

Expository.

49.—The name of Jesus had become so impressive, and so many things had been done by him, that the disciples, that others beside the immediate twelve were induced to undertake to do the same, or similar things. John and his companions thought it wrong for any one to take the name of their Master, and yet do less, or neglect, to associate themselves with the twelve. Jesus did not regard it so. He would teach that every one who could use his name for such a purpose must be friendly to him, and not be antagonistic to him.

50.—To use the name of Jesus signifies friendship, not enmity. Every one must belong to one or the other of two classes, must be either for or against Christ. There is no medium ground.—Every man is on either one side of the other.—In Mark 9:38, the disciples were "expanding" the name of Jesus in his name, that he might speak evil of me. Let us notice that it is the name of Christ, who is the subject of it.

Chronologists put considerable space of time and place between this verse and the next (Matt. 17: 27 to 18: 35, and John 7: 2 to 10: 21). These passages include a journey to Jerusalem and imply a return. Now, however, another journey to Jerusalem is beginning.

51.—Now his face is set steadfastly towards Jerusalem, though recent experiences tell him, and also his disciples, that it is a journey beset with danger.—The time was at hand when his work would be accomplished, and he would be received up into heaven.

52.—He would have the people in the section through which he would pass to know of the opportunity, to see and hear him, of whom they had previously heard, but whom few of them had ever seen.—The direct way to Jerusalem was through Samaria, and some of the messengers went that way, and told the people to get ready for his coming.

53.—But, when these Samaritans came forward to bring them to Jerusalem, or though they give him influence in favor of the Jerusalem worship, they would not receive him, this made some of the disciples very angry.

54.—James and John, in particular, were greatly vexed, and they felt like using force to bring these Samaritans to their senses. They would have fire come down from heaven and consume them, as the fire of God had consumed the sacrifice of Elias on Mount Carmel, or as it had consumed those who came to arrest him, as told in Kings 19: 18.—Such conduct was altogether different from that of Jesus. He had never used force, had never resorted to any treatment except out to him by men, and he never would do it. It was not to be persuaded by reason and understanding, they must go their own way and perish. He would never compel them to receive him.

55.—These disciples had not yet learned the true spirit of the mission of Jesus. They could not think it possible that he who had so great power would suffer himself to be treated contemptuously. They had yet to learn what sort of spirit a true Christian be, some possessed of it.

56.—He would have them understand that, however it might have been with Elias, in the day, it was not the business of the Son of Man (Messiah) to destroy the lives of men. He came to save men, not to destroy them. Punishment would come soon enough, in another world. So, instead of pushing themselves into the village where they were not welcome, they went to another, where they were treated more cordially.

In these following verses we have remarkable reasons.

57.—As they were going along, a man came to the Master, saying, "I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest." He did not know what he was talking about, what his words meant. He had not counted the cost.

58.—Jesus would have him understand that to follow him involved hardships and dangers. It might involve hunger and thirst, and weariness and sleeplessness. For the Son of Man had no home, no place of rest, to which he might resort.

59.—At another time, he called a man to follow him, and the latter made excuses, asking time to go and bury his father, the most sacred duty which one can perform.

60.—But Jesus said, no; he who would follow me must renounce every other obligation. He must break with every custom. He must sever home ties—worthy of respect. Let those who are dead (in sin) bury those who are dead as to the flesh. In other words, let nothing stand between the soul and Christ—salvation. Let him, who is called to preach the kingdom of God go without making any excuse.

61.—At another time, one came saying, I will follow thee as a son, and I will call thee my father. This seemed like a very reasonable thing. But Jesus would not allow that. He would not have any man who would follow Jesus, or obey his will, must be ready to do it "at whatever sacrifice." He must forget all other relations, and go forward. He who thinks more of home and kindred and comfort than of Christ and his kingdom is not fit for the latter. Jesus puts that first, and goes on to say to us of today, The things of life must be subordinated to those of the life to come.

And so we close the advance lesson for the year 1912.

ADDISON T. SMITH STILL AFTER TITLE

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT WORKING HARD FOR PATENTS.

Secretary of the Interior, Asked to Take a Hand in Settlement of Long-Standing Difficulty.

(News Special Service.)

Washington, D. C. December 16.—Congressman-elect Smith has made a vigorous protest against the delay in issuing patents to the state covering lands on the west end of the Twin Falls tract near Idaho, so that the settlers may secure patents.

He explained that many of the settlers had moved up on their lands four and five years ago, but because of the delay in patenting the land to the state, the settlers were unable to borrow money on their farms or dispose of the same to advantage. Notwithstanding the fact that the lands have been under cultivation and that the water supply was ample, the technical objections raised by the government inspectors have appeared to be sufficient to warrant the government in delaying patent.

Mr. Smith contended that the law had been complied with when the lands were actually reclaimed, and the attitude of the department was working great hardship on the farmers and retarding the development of the country. The same condition, he explained, exists on the Salmon river tract west of the river, near the mouth of the north side of the state, and that unless the government is more liberal in its construction of the law with respect to settling the desert land, it will be difficult to induce settlers to go upon those lands and incur the expense and labor incident to their reclamation.

MAIL TO BE DELIVERED.

Additions to Have Free Delivery by February First.

Postoffice Inspector Perkins was in the city the fore part of the week in connection with the consideration of the additions to the city, with a view of establishing the free delivery system to the residents living outside the city limits.

He has recommended that the following additions shall receive the service: Elm Park, Senior, Newton subdivision, Merriam, Jones Park, East Lawn, Ashton, Golden Rule, New School, Five Point, and Terrace Park. There are certain requirements that will have to be met, however, before the service is assured. All houses will have to be numbered and a box placed conveniently on the front of each house to deposit the mail in. Sidewalks will have to be in such condition that will enable the carriers to cover their routes without hindrance. The last requirement is that the routes be well covered, and there is hardly any chance that the present condition of walks would interfere with the carrying out of the service.—Another rule that the government insists upon strongly enforcing relates to dogs. The carrier is not to be compelled to deliver mail to any house where a vicious or apparently vicious dog is kept. The government does not ask or compel the carrier to deliver mail on premises where there is any risk, and he has the right to be the judge in the matter.

The past week has been very quiet socially, the approaching holidays claiming most of the time of the hotel hostesses. There are one or two large events planned for holiday week but most of the affairs will be of an informal nature, family dinner parties taking the lead for Christmas Day.

Entertains Club at Luncheon.

The beautiful home of Mrs. G. D. Alken was the scene of a very pretty luncheon last Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Alken entertained the bridge club of which she is a member. The table was most attractively laid for twelve, the centerpiece being a tall vase of scarlet carnations. The favors were red and white carnations. At the game of bridge following the luncheon, Miss Boyd received the prize for high score, and she was the guest of the club, received a beautiful bunch of carnations. Present were Mrs. Ortrander, Mrs. Sweoley, Mrs. McCullum, Mrs. Welton, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Read, Mrs. Craven, Miss Boyd and Miss West.

Beautifully Appointed Dinner.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McCullum gave a beautifully appointed dinner party, followed by auction bridge. The house was very artistically decorated in the Christmas colors, red and green. Tiny Christmas bells were hung from the electric chimes, and festoons in the archway. The guests were seated at three tables, which were also decorated in red and green, the attractive centerpiece of one being a beautiful potted fern, surrounded with scarlet carnations and red shaded candles. Mrs. Read and Mr. Welton received beautiful prizes for high score at auction bridge.

The Misses Jane and Georgia Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Craven assisted in entertaining the guests during the evening. Place cards, which were dainty little Christmas scenes, were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Alken, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Felling, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ortrander, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Read, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sweoley, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Welton, Miss West, and Mr. Kenyon.

Mrs. L. F. Morse, Mrs. Young, and Mrs. Payne will entertain at 7:00 this afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Morse will entertain at bridge this evening.

QUILTY OF MURDER.

Guilt of murder in the first degree, was the verdict returned by a large audience at the Plinney Theatre, Boise, Idaho, on December 14, against "The Missouri Girl and her associates."

BLANCHE EDWARDS.

The company was duly sentenced to play a return date. The murdered parties, Messrs. "Grouch," "Allice," and "Deponenter" were very unpopular in that community. If you fall to laugh after seeing "Zeko" and "Daisy" better see a doctor.

AMUSEMENTS.

A Great Comedy Success. "The Missouri Girl," famous the country over as "The favorite comedy of the continent," will be seen at the new Culliton Theatre on Monday evening, December 24. Many people will no doubt say: "Why, they cannot pay it on this stage," etc., but the management guarantees the entire production. The fact that the company carries two complete sets of scenery, (special the number of which will fit the location, assures the same show exactly that is given in the regular city theatres. The production is a clean, up-to-date America comedy, with music and high class specialties interspersed throughout, and you'll laugh till you are blue in the face.

NEW ROUTE LIKELY

Manassas People in Line for Improved Postal Service Through Efforts of Congressman Smith.

(Special News Service.) Washington, D. C., December 16.—Congressman-elect Addison T. Smith, after making an earnest personal recommendation, has received assurance from the postoffice department officials that an inspector will soon make an examination of the proposed rural route from Manassas. Several petitions have been filed during the last year for this service, but this is the first indication that the department has really given the matter serious consideration. It appears that all of the requirements have been met with regard to construction of bridges, number of patrons, etc., and the report of the postoffice inspector is favorable, the route will be established.

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast
 By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.
 There is no warm bread quite as appetizing for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double rate Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as it raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; 2 level teaspoons K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 2 cups sugar; 2 eggs milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups; stir all together with inverted spoon to stiff batter. Turn into heated pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

Dutch Apple Cake or Prune Kuchen can be made with this same batter by covering the top with pared and sliced apples, or cooked prunes with the pits removed, skin sides down. Dredge with sugar and cinnamon the same as for Coffee Cake.

"The Cook's Book" costs 50 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Liqueur Mfg. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

READING AND THINKING.

A great philosopher once said, "The surest way of having no thoughts of our own is to take up a book every time we have nothing to do."

The thought that the philosopher wished to impress was that people were worse off for reading if they do nothing but read. That is, it is the thinking that pays, not the reading. The purpose of reading is to cause people to think, but many persons forget this. If the yells of applause and exciting controversy are any criterion, much of the reading of the present day is done without thinking. The way to get permanent benefit from a book, or written article, is to read a few pages, or lines, then stop and think—turn over and over the thoughts of the writer, and then ask oneself whether they are true. By such process individual thoughts follow, to be placed away on the shelves of memory far after use.

It requires skill to wade through the multitude of books, magazines, and papers of the day, and read to a profit. Much of present day reading passes through the mind like the information of a moving picture show before the eye—with a twinkle, and it is gone. As the time of year to stock approaches, it might be well to take an inventory of our knowledge and determine whether we have been reading to a profit. Right reading creates thought, and thought determines destiny.

WHERE ADVICE FAILS TO ADVISE.

The "Shop Early" slogan of the local merchants comes with a rather bad grace in view of the number of sales now going on.

There may be other sales, or again the present sales may just consist of "clearings" with a gradually decreasing scale of prices. The attitude of the merchants themselves would seem to suggest the idea that those who shop late rather than early, will carry away the better bargains.

Sales may be all right in their way, but the people of this section of Idaho are not fools.

IN THE INTERESTS OF FAIR PLAY.

"A gentleman who is close to Judge Aitshie states that the latter is in no sense a candidate, but desires a very complimentary vote as an endorsement of his candidacy two years hence. Justice Aitshie's friends desire the votes of all Republican members from northern Idaho, and of course as many votes as possible on the first ballot, after which, it is alleged, the judge will formally withdraw from the race."

The above is an excerpt from an article published in a number of Idaho newspapers during the past week or so. There is more in the same strain which is of interest only in view of the fact that Justice Aitshie has seen fit to make an unqualified denial of the truth of the allegations.

There are still three strong candidates in the race for the United States Senatorship, namely, former Governor James H. Brady, former Governor Frank R. Gooding, and Chief Justice Aitshie, in addition to a host of minor ones.

The purpose of The News in calling attention to the article in question and its denial is merely in order that its readers may know, so far as possible, the true status of the senatorial campaign in Idaho to date.

THE MISSION OF JUSTICE.

Judging from the tenor of comment heard on the street and the number of complaints which have been received at The News office, the verdict in the Buchannan case does not meet with the approval of a large number of citizens.

Without wishing in the least to reflect upon the character of the members of the jury, it does seem passing strange that so light a view should be taken of so serious an occurrence.

Granting that the homicide was partially a justifiable one (and those who knew the dead man find this difficult to believe) there would still be ample ground for a different verdict to that returned.

Many persons unfamiliar with the facts will regard the outcome of this case as virtually upholding any citizen who, upon becoming involved in a personal quarrel, sees fit to draw a gun and shoot. The verdict does not exactly place a premium upon murder, as has been suggested by a good many, but it does lead to the belief that the average murderer has little to fear of the law in Twin Falls county.

From the standpoint of the accused man, his family and his friends are to be congratulated, but how about the wife of Fisher and the mother of Fisher's children? What of the verdict in the minds of the Buchannans and the Fishers over the state of Idaho?

The mission of justice is not alone to punish but to protect. There is no question as to the protection extended in this case, but it is difficult to see where the commonwealth benefits by it. The jury saw fit to protect the accused man from the consequences of his own deed.

The prosecution was in the hands of County Prosecutor A. R. Hicks; the jury was composed of the following:

- J. M. Goodman, Wm. Voorhees, Wm. Spencer, W. L. Martin, H. S. Harder, B. L. Johnston, Fitch Bell, J. A. Vandenberg, Harley Butler, E. P. Polken, J. C. Maxwell, Rufus Rogers.

CONCERT GREATLY ENJOYED

E. C. Rowdon and Miss Ethel Terry Score Splendid Success Under Auspices of Apollo Club.

To a small but appreciative audience in the high school auditorium Friday evening, E. C. Rowdon, baritone soloist, and Miss Ethel Terry, pianist, presented a musical of merit rarely met with. The program consisted of a diversity of themes and the several numbers were well received without exception. Mr. Rowdon's interpretation of the results of his selections was sympathetic and convincing. It is stated by local critics who have had opportunities to hear the foremost singers, that Mr. Rowdon's work is excelled by none of them.

It is the intention of the Apollo Club, under the auspices of which the programme Friday evening was presented, to secure Mr. Rowdon and Miss Terry for another engagement here some time in January. The matter of presenting "The Masala" under Mr. Rowdon's direction, will then be taken up. It is asserted that "The Masala" can be put on by local talent alone, without the assistance of other performers.

By request, Mr. Rowdon included as special numbers, "Der Abend Stern," from the opera Tannhauser, and Schumann's "In May." Miss Terry responded to an encore following the two piano numbers. The program follows:

Gounod—It Is Not Always May. Clay—Olney John.

Schubert—(a) Serenade. (b) To Be Sung on the Waters.

(c) Der Erl Konig.

Histon—To Anthea.

Johnson—Gray Days.

Schumann—Die Heiden Grenadier. enquo.

Piano—(a) Poldini—Eldo Japanese. (b) Chopin—Nocturne (Op. 48, No. 7).

Part II.

Hizat—Toreador Song (Carmen). Old Favorites—(a) The Low Backed Car. (b) Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes. (c) All Thro' the Night. (d) Annie Laurie.

Danrosch—Danny Deever. Metcal—Love's Elegy. Leckwies—Medouni Love Song. Leckwies—Prologo "Fragliacci." Presented by Mr. E. C. Rowdon, baritone, and Miss Ethel Terry, pianist.

MOOSE ENTERTAIN

Musical Program and Addresses Were Greatly Enjoyed by Members - New Members Initiated.

The Loyal Order of Moose, who now have a membership of nearly 600 in Twin Falls, held a meeting at the Masonic Temple last week, when the new members were given a royal greeting. After the rendering of a fine musical program, addresses were made by Attorney Booth, Senator Robinson, Attorney S. T. Hamilton, W. E. Nixon and others.

Last Friday night a large number of the members of the local lodge journeyed down to Buhl, where a large class was initiated into the mysteries of Moosehood.

Tonight a pilgrimage will be made to Darley, where over 200 members of the local lodge will assist in the organization of a branch of the order. Special rates have been secured and a good time is expected by all those who will take the trip.

Where everything, now, is in a boom. And things are sure to go.

Where local men, with spirit true, Are spending their hard earned cash, In spreading-far and near the news. That gloom has had a crash.

Here everything is improving. And farmers all are flush With money to invest in land— There is sure to be a rush. Farm lands will soon be higher. For they are worth much more Than the price they now are bringing. The price will surely soar.

Investors all, who know good things, Are tarding, now, this way: You had better be a morning here. Start now, and plan today To come to Twin Falls, Idaho, And buy a piece of land.

For we have got the best of soil, Mixed with a little sand.

Here, everything's abundant. And has the texture true, And while it's only eight years old The country will so grow.

Yet, here perfection now is found In produce that here grows, This fact is easily felted. As everybody knows.

So come and hear the story,

How, in eight good short years, This country has been peopled With folks without ad tears. The choicest spirits, from the East, Have come, the cream of earth. To the land of plenty in the West. That knows no drought, nor dearth.

—S. H. BOLTON.

PEA GROWERS MUST WATCH FOR WEEVIL

PEST IS FOUND IN CROP ON THE TRACT

Professor Heard Investigates Presence of Insect and Traces Origin to Imported Seed—Prepares Information for Growers

Professor C. H. Heard, of the agricultural department of the Twin Falls high school, has lately been conducting an extensive investigation of the pea weevil as found on the tract and has prepared the following data for the benefit of the pea growers:

A sample of infested peas was recently brought to the Agricultural Department of the high school, and examination showed the presence of the pea weevil, one of the most serious insects affecting the pea. As nearly as the writer can find out, about fourteen acres of peas were grown on a farm near Twin Falls from seed furnished by a eastern seed house. This firm contracted for the seed and, with the exception of a small amount which was sold locally, it was shipped to the seed house. The weevil was doubtless present in the seed at the time of sowing. This pest occurs in all parts of the world where peas are grown. It was the cause of the abandonment of the pea growing industry in the central Atlantic States in the eighteenth century. It does comparatively little damage in northern latitudes, and for this reason many seedmen secure their peas from Canada or the northern portion of the United States.

The Adult Weevil

Adult. The adult weevil (which we usually notice in dried peas) is about 1/2 inch in length, and about one-third of an inch in width. It is dirty black in color with a white spot on the thorax, a white T-shaped marking at the extremity of the abdomen and a regular white markings on the wing covers. It is partially covered with a brownish color and pubescence. The weevil passes the winter in the seed stage in the weevil hole inside the pea. According to Sanderson (Insect Pests of the Garden and the Orchard), they make their appearance in the spring about blossoming time. He says that the eggs are laid singly upon the surface of the seed. The eggs are about one-tenth of an inch in length and are yellowish in color. These hatch into the larvae.

Larva. Upon hatching, the young larva bores through the pod and into the seed. It feeds upon the seed and grows rapidly. When grown, the larva resembles a maggot in appearance, being white except the small head, which is brown. It is a nearly cylindrical in shape, is greatly wrinkled, and has three pairs of short, stubby legs. It is about one-fourth of an inch in length and about half as broad. (Sanderson.) Before its final moult, the larva cuts a round hole in the pea, leaving but a thin membrane as a covering. It then lines the inside of the pea with a glue-like substance, and within this coil—transferring to the next stage.

Pupa. The pupa is white in color, showing notches in the thorax, but otherwise it is not dissimilar from weevil pupa in general. The length of the pupa stage is generally from nine to seventeen days. It then is transformed to the adult stage and remains in the seed until the next spring.

Great Damage Done. In large quantities, the weevil leaves the seed in August, but in the north they remain in the seed over winter and are planted with the seed. There is but one generation a year.

Control. No practical method has yet been found by which the weevil can be prevented from laying its eggs in the seed pods, and our ordinary methods of spraying are out of the question. Holding Over Seed. According to Sanderson, a successful method of destroying the weevil, where only a few acres are infested, is to hold them over in a season stored in a tight sack or bin. As the weevil will not breed in dry seed, they are destroyed. If the treatment is to be effective, however, the peas should be bagged and the sacks tied up immediately after threshing.

Scalding Seed.

If the peas contain weevils at the time of sowing, they may be destroyed by immersing a peck in a scalding water. The hot water should be drained off at once and the seed placed in cold water, at the germination be injured. Children should be immersed in scalding water at a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit for about an hour. This is done about the time the peas are sown. It will destroy the larvae which are by this time—about fall ones, and the germinating qualities will not be injured.

Best Method.

Purification. This is unquestionably the best method of combating the weevil, and is perhaps the most generally known of any of the remedies mentioned. Dr. Fletcher, who has made a study of the methods of controlling the weevil, states: "Fungicide with blanching of carbon is a remedy. When properly done, dry weevil is sure killed if the 12-18 hour with this chemical, containing them is fumigated for using one pound of carbon bisulfide to one hundred bushels of seed." Care must be taken to close up all the leaks or crevices by means of which the carbon bisulfide can escape. This method is the most generally used by the large seed merchants. Vigilance and proper precautions on the part of pea growers will be necessary to keep the pest down if it once gets fairly established in this locality.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY IS TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

STUDENTS SHOW MARKED ABILITY IN PRODUCTION.

Individual Work is Excellent, and the Well Fitted House Testifies to Popularity of Members of Cast.

The first High School play of the season was presented last Thursday evening at the high school auditorium by the class of 1913. The play was a three act college comedy called, "At the End of the Rainbow."

The production was under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Dawn, and to her credit most of the praise for the creditable showing made by the students belongs. All the work on the play was done in the ten days preceding the presentation.

The football season in a present day college town furnishes the scene for the play, and it was one especially adapted to high school students. Of course it would hardly be called a classic, but there were two or three parts that called for some heavy work for amateurs, and those were all well taken.

Advertisements for the play were scarcely out two days before it was put on. Nevertheless, when the curtain rose the lantern was sold out, and the lower floor of the house filled and at the close the crowd departed well pleased.

Between the acts and before the curtain rose the high school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Spooner, furnished music. The orchestra consisted of one of the prominent organizations in the school, and is one which any student body might be proud to claim.

Elaborate Stage Settings.
The stage setting for the first act, seen in the scenery house, was a striking picture. Walls and curtains were covered with pennants and college pillows were everywhere to be seen. Again, in the last act, in the Athletic Club house, the pennants were used, and the scene was a brilliant one.

Probably the most difficult parts in the play were those of Robert Preston, a middle aged lawyer, taken by Clifford Henson, and Marion Dayton, a young woman, played by Mary Miller. Both characters were well portrayed. Miss Wall being exceptionally fine in her part.

Dana Elliott as a football player and Carmen Cox, an ardent roofer at the games, evinced the play with their enthusiasm and set their hearts to it. Paul Martin and Mary Miller, as the bride and groom, had all the troubles of the newly weds, and their true life situations made a hit with the audience.

tray of the crazy girl made a do- edicted. Paulino Evans, as the Imp, turned out to be an angel in disguise, and played her part very well. Ethel Lyman, Anita Krengeol, and Wanda Gray, as sporty girls, furnished many a laugh during the play and were well received.

In the Athletic Club, after the game, the five boys in the cast made a hit with their singing "Updoo," and many other times during the performance, the applause drowned the players' voices.

The seniors netted nearly $100 on the play, and this amount will go toward the purchasing of a suitable memorial for the Class of 1912.

TO ELECT DIRECTORS

prior to the meeting in order that the sentiment of the whole tract might be accurately known, it was urged by Geo. E. Harlan and others that no nominations be made at this time. The plan of naming candidates by means of primaries in each of the districts was proposed.

It was stated in opposition that the question of time as well as of expense involved the primary plan, and that anything to be accomplished should be done at once.

Would Name Ten Candidates.

As an amendment to the original motion made by W. B. Starr of Kimberly, to the effect that five names be placed in nomination, it was suggested by F. Lee Johnson, of Murtaugh, that ten candidates be named to afford a choice at the general election. The amendment was accepted by Mr. Starr.

The motion was submitted to the assembly for a vote. The result was in doubt, and it was decided to limit the vote to the actual delegates. A roll call of the delegates revealed the fact that several sections were without representation. Election of delegates for the vacancies was made by the assembly.

The question was then put to the delegates, and carried. The necessity for naming two candidates from each district instead of one, as had been decided on in a prior plan of action, brought out some sensational results. It developed that in the country about Buhl and Castleford where an active campaign had been carried on definite choice of one candidate had been settled.

In the case of Buhl, rather than that another man should be named for representation on the board than the one previously selected, the name of one Jones was submitted and regularly assigned a position on the slate. Casey Jones' full name of a dog owned by a Buhl man.

In the Twin Falls district, only one nomination, that of W. L. Taylor, a present member of the board, was made. It was the opinion of Delegate McLean that sufficient sentiment had not been expressed in this district to warrant the nomination of another candidate. The name of J. A. Cron was offered as the second candidate from Twin Falls district, and the nomination declined. It is in his power, Mr. Cron stated, to effect a re- presentation of 10 per cent of the vote among the voters at the annual meeting. This influence he did not purpose sacrificing for the nomination.

The meeting Saturday is the second held recently in Twin Falls, as an outgrowth of a movement to arouse interest among the settlers that had been inaugurated at the last annual meeting in January, 1912. J. A. Cron, of Twin Falls, presided, and E. R. Hobbs, of Buhl, acted as secretary.
