

Diseased Conditions Among Hogs

Killor's Note: Prepared by Dr. Frank T. Kenaley, of the Twin Falls Veterinary Hospital, at the request of The News, in answer to inquiries from farmers on the exact desiring information as to the best means to combat prevalent diseases among hogs.

Twelve years ago this part of the state was quite free from hog plague. But as we have been receiving shipment of hogs from all over the country, carried by railroads, and as they exist here with such opportunity for the disease to enter through the shipment of hogs from an infected district, the state regulations in regard to this disease are too mild in all states. For if any disease of domestic animals should be regulated, this is the manner in which it should be done.

When the disease broke out on this tract two years ago this spring, its progress for a time was slow, but by the middle of the summer it had spread all over the eastern part of the tract. During the fall and winter it was nearly at a standstill, only to break out again in the spring, and at the present time I believe there is no part of the tract but has not been visited with the disease. The work is done under the state veterinarian's office, but they did very little to prevent its spread. Some of the farms where it occurred were quarantined, but this was a very small percent of the farms that were quarantined. This last summer the quarantine was made more strict, and the state officials paid more attention to the disease, but as summer carries it over, and it has already spread all over the tract.

How Disease Spreads.

The only possible condition for the rapid spread of a disease like this is the water. It is carried through a farmer's place, in which he waters his stock, is again used by the water carrier to other hog raisers, thus carried from one tract to another. In some places the farmer is in the habit of allowing his hogs to run about freely, and they are infected with the disease, they deposit the infection in the field, and when the field is watered the water carries it to other farms.

Another means of spreading the disease is the purchase of animals from an infected herd, and this occurred very often because so many of the farms had no means of testing the water, and a rapid interchange of hogs all over the tract is the hog industry in very many places, and many of the farmers are just shipping.

Serums Not Practicable.

Many of the farmers being aware of the fact that we had a serum for hog cholera, wonder why it is not being used. The reason for this is that we have two different serums for the hog cholera, "Hog Cholera" and "Swine Plague." Now we have a preventative for hog cholera, but not for swine plague, and both these diseases are operating on the tract and in several places where I investigated the disease, I found both the water carrying and in some hogs I have found both diseases existing in the same hog. Now if you would immunize the hogs from hog cholera, you would not be able to swine plague, and the two diseases do not differ much in their mortality, and to use the serum necessitates considerable expense, and it would not be practicable.

In regard to the symptoms of hog cholera and swine plague. Now the symptoms of hog cholera are vomiting and they are seldom prominent enough to be convincing, but I have advised all owners of hogs to be suspicious of any sudden illness or sudden death in the herd at the present time, on account of the disease being so widespread.

Mark of Disease.

The changes that take place in the internal organs are the most important, and so marked as to make it impossible for the inexperienced eye to detect them, and for me to outline what have would only be confined to the following:

In hog cholera the changes chiefly found in the internal organs of a hog, dead with the disease, involve the intestines, and the liver. The intestines are swollen, and the liver is enlarged. We find them blood stained, and on the interior of the intestines we find characteristic white streaks of fat. By button shaped I mean elevations shaped like a button extending beyond the level of the mucous membrane. This is also generally an enlarged spleen.

In swine plague, the changes of the internal organs are chiefly found in the lungs, and the liver, and the spleen, and the kidneys, show a dark red color in contrast to the healthy pink.

Means of Prevention.

The information which should obtain in the mind of every farmer, in order to prevent the disease, is that a farmer would follow out a good, rigid disinfection, instead of resorting to worming, which is a most futile and expensive result. When a disease appears in hogs, many persons are quick to advise worming, and the owner of the hogs, who is not a wormer, will be very much surprised, and in treating his hogs with his wormer, the valuable time he spends has been wasted. It is better to have the hogs wormed, and to have the wormer used in the proper way, than to have the hogs wormed, and to have the wormer used in the proper way, than to have the hogs wormed, and to have the wormer used in the proper way.

Prevention.

We should start keeping the hogs in a healthy vigorous condition. The hogs should be kept in a clean, dry, clean water, and avoid running water, and pastures that drain swine on the ground. It is better to have the hogs in a clean, dry, clean water, and avoid running water, and pastures that drain swine on the ground.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT BREAKS ALL RECORDS

SECOND SEMESTER WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY MORNING.

Beginning Classes Will be Organized at All Buildings—Additional Teachers Are Secured—School Districts Will Remain the Same.

The enrollment of the city schools, for the semester that is just closing, was the largest in the history of the Twin Falls schools. The enrollment constitutes 1622 scholars distributed in these numbers: High school, 255; Lincoln school, 62; District school, 45; and grade in the high school building, 264.

The second semester for the present school year will begin next Monday morning. At that time about 50 pupils will enter the high school from the grades, increasing the high school enrollment to nearly 350. The names of those completing the eight grades at the time will be announced later. There will be no formal distribution of certificates from the eighth grade at this time.

For the second semester the rooms will be organized on the basis of 35 pupils to the room. This will require three additional grade teachers and one high school teacher. Miss Helen Cook, of Watertown, South Dakota, a graduate of the University of Michigan, has been secured for the high school position. Miss Nelson will have the second grade in the Lincoln school. Miss Laura Younger, who has just graduated from the Albion Normal, will have the first grade. Mr. and Mrs. Warren, of Victoria, Mississippi, has been secured for the other positions.

To Reorganize Classes. Pupils desiring to enter the high school or the grades should report to the high school principal or to the district principal on Thursday or Friday of this week for designation. The schools will be reorganized on Friday afternoon ready for the beginning of the second semester next Monday morning.

Beginning classes will be organized in each of the three buildings. Pupils of hogs, and children of the high school building will go directly to room 2, Miss Combs, teacher. At the Lincoln school pupils will go to room 2, Miss Pierson, teacher. Beginning pupils will not be received into the first grade after March 25. Pupils who are six years of age, or who will be six years of age before March 16, may enter school at this time. The position of the district will be the same as announced at the beginning of school in September.

AGAINST ZACK CURTIS

Stories of Good Reputation Reported by Ranchers Who Claim to Know Him.

A good deal of feeling appears to have arisen over the county in connection with the extradition proceedings in connection with the case of Zack Curtis, recently taken back to Oklahoma to stand trial on a charge of all breaking.

While a certificate of good character was circulated and widely signed in Twin Falls and Hollister, in which it was set forth that Curtis was of good reputation, many stockmen take the position that Curtis is not entitled to confidence and that the section where he lived is wild of him. A counter petition, stating that this fact has also been circulated.

It is the general impression that Curtis will not return to Idaho.

"You are charged with going forty miles an hour," said the rural justice. "And you are fined $100."

"Judge," said the triborial, "I have not got $2."

"Well, you've got a nerve going forty miles an hour," said the rural justice. "And you are fined $100."

TWIN FALLS LOSES GAME TO HEYBURN

SOUTHERN IDAHO CHAMPIONSHIP TAKEN FROM LOCAL TEAM Hand Contested Game Ends in Tie With Visitors Securing Winning Score—Heyburn Comes by Car Loads. Those followers of the game of basket ball who saw the game played between Heyburn and Twin Falls last Friday, witnessed by far the best and closest game ever played off in Twin Falls. This applies only to the boys game as far as the boys are concerned. The boys' game was a hummer from start to finish. The teams were well matched and the game was a hard struggle. Heyburn had lead in the first half of the game and both sides played an open game. The ball was in the air most of the time, and the passing by both teams was far above the average. The final score was 37 to 34, in favor of Heyburn, and the defeat put Twin Falls out of the championship race as far as the boys are concerned.

GOVS COVENANT WITH NOAH

Genesis 9: 8-17

8. And God spake unto Noah, and to his sons with him, saying,
9. And I, behold, I establish my covenant with you; and with your seed after you;
10. And with every living creature that is with you, of the fowl of the air, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.
11. And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.
12. And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you, and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations:
13. I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be seen of the earth, and the bow shall be in the cloud;
14. And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you, and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.
15. And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the covenant which I have made between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.
17. And God said to Noah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.
Golden Text: "I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth."
—Gen., 9:13

that time on they should think of it as a token of the covenant.
It is not our business to explain here the reason for the appearance of the rainbow. That is the province of the school-teacher. But it is our duty to say that the bow is formed by the shining of the sun on the round drops of water, as they fall from the cloud, or as they rise from the earth—(as they do over high hills)—so that the sun must be behind us and there must be a rift in the cloud; and that signifies that the rain is passing away or that the sky is not all overclouded.
15. By this repetition God emphasizes and explains, so that there can be no misunderstanding, "God will never again send a flood to destroy all flesh." God does not need a remembrance, and yet he speaks to us as though he did, thus adapting himself to human conceits and human weaknesses. No doubt God always looks upon the rainbow, and as he has promised, remembers this covenant; but the bow is for our sake, and for God's.
17. So, the covenant is confirmed, and made sure.

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED BUT COUNTY DIVISION

NEED OF ACTION IF SESSION IS TO BE PROFITABLE

Many Needed - Measures - Introduced, But Little Done Towards Passage - Closing Days to be Exciting.

(Special to The News) Boise, February 4.—With the session of the legislature now fully half gone, men are beginning to wonder what is to be the outcome in regard to important legislation. The record to date is not especially encouraging. Four new counties created is probably the only accomplishment to date...

Ignoring Wishes of Farmers.—There seems to be a determination among the legislature to ignore the earnest recommendations of Governor Haines for retrenchment and economy. County division bills, bills for the creation of new counties...

Don't Fit All Around.—There was an illustration of this in the senate one day last week. Senator Deland introduced a bill to cut the pay of election judges from $4.00 to $2.50 a day. The senator explained that such a law would have saved the state considerable money...

More County Division.—Four new counties have already been created in the territory and two from oneida. It is now practically certain that at least two others will be carved out of Fremont, one out of Boise and one from Canyon. This will make eight new counties...

It is not strange that this landlubber of new counties in the senate is causing the north to be so anxious to take notice. It means that the north is to be cast into a more hopeless north than ever. It is a true fact that there are plans afoot to divide Blaine and Kootenai counties, but it is doubtful if either county will be divided because of the opposition that has arisen.

Situation in North.—Here is the secret of the humiliating position the north occupies in the present legislature. Internal discord has completely destroyed whatever influence the north might have wielded. This was true in the senatorial fight. Had north Idaho presented a united front in favor of some strong north Idaho man, he would have won a down. The south was ready to swing the line for the north...

This same lack of harmony, this exhibition of party jealousy crops out on every proposition that affects any section of the state. It is a sad condition...

Week in Society

Beautiful Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Taylor entertained the members of their bridge club at a beautifully appointed dinner Saturday evening. The table was covered with a pink and white checkered cloth and the decorations and favors tied with pink and white ribbon...

Informal Bridge.

Eight ladies spent a delightfully informal afternoon at bridge at the home of Mrs. Chas. Robbins, on Ninth avenue, last Thursday. They were Mesdames Walton, Boyd, Lewis, Fallis, Roberts, Read, and Miss Egan.

Dainty Luncheon.

Extremely dainty in all its appointments was the one o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. W. O. Taylor on Monday afternoon at her home. Mrs. Fallis, Mrs. Greenbow, Mrs. Dodd, and Mrs. Allen.

Pennsylvania Club Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fitzcarrald entertained the members of the Pennsylvania club in a delightful manner at their home on Tenth Avenue last Tuesday evening. The program consisted of a form of musical and several delightful selections were rendered by different members of the club...

Delightful Bridge Luncheon.

On Thursday at one thirty Mrs. Lawrence Clois gave the first of a series of delightful bridge luncheons to a few friends at her home. The luncheon was extremely dainty, and was centered with a large, antique Chinese box filled with carnations, resting on a dainty square. At the close of the games, Mrs. Wright received the favor for high score and Mrs. Alken the consolation. The others present were Mrs. Craven, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. McCollum, Mrs. Sweeley, Mrs. Senator, Mrs. Hartedgan, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Grant, and Mrs. Baker.

Compimenting Mrs. Booth.

On Friday evening of last week Mrs. G. F. Morse gave a delightful informal bridge party in honor of Mrs. C. W. Taylor's return to Boise. The party was to remain during the balance of the legislative session. A delicious collation was served at a late hour. Present were Mesdames Alken, Booth, Hollis, Burton, Senator, Morse, Sweeley, Senator, McCollum, Craven, Lewis, Alken, Nixon, Bedford, Grant, Long, Taylor, Dodd, Hill, Woods, and Miss Maxwell.

Second Party of Series.

Mrs. Lawrence Clois was hostess on Monday afternoon at the second of a series of small card parties which she is giving. "600" was the game for this occasion, at which Mrs. Senator and Mrs. McVictoria captured the favors. At five o'clock a bountiful repast was served. Mesdames Orsby, Spafford, McVicar, Butolph, Monroe, Roberts, Husted, McCollum, Alken, McRobert, Senator, Hill, Wright, Burton, and Morse were the guests.

Pleasant Informal Dinner.

look after the educational institutions, one to look after the state departments, and one to look after the penal and reformatory institutions. It is the desire of Governor Haines and the majority of the legislature to get a chance to consider this bill long enough to make an adjustment of all changes if changes are found desirable. Two years ago Governor Hawley cut the general appropriation bill in place of the legislature had adjourned, and some of the institutions claim that they were crippled by having their appropriations cut.

A Serious Problem. Senator Robinson and Representative Booth, of Twin Falls, are up against a serious problem. One of them is a member of the Finance committee of the senate, the other is a member of the appropriations committee of the house. Early in the session resolution was passed calling upon these two committees, working in conjunction, to report the regular general appropriation bill to the legislature by the 28th day of the month. When the 28th day arrived, last Tuesday, the committees were compelled to ask for additional time to prepare their bill...

Senator Egan's bill is drastic. Under it a person, before purchasing alcohol, must get a prescription from a physician, he must file an affidavit with some officer qualified to administer oaths, and he must swear that the alcohol is to be used for medicinal purposes. The drugist must keep a complete and accurate record of all liquor sales; he can have out 80 gallons in his place of business at one time; all liquor shipped in must be branded as such and stiff penalties are provided for violations of the law by the doctor or consumer of the liquor or by the drugist.
