Baking Powder Biscuits

Light as a Feather
By Mrs. Jennie McKeachie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Baking powder biscuits made by this recipe are so far ahead of ordinary baking powder biscuits that, if once tried, you will never use any other recipe. Try it the next time you run short of bread. Save this recipe.

Light as a Feather Biscuits
Three cups flour, 1/2 to 1/4 cup shortening, 1 level teaspoon salt, 2 cups baking powder, 1 cup milk or water, 1 teaspoonful salt.

Sift three times, the flour, salt and baking powder. Work into the flour the shortening, using hard, low speed, and shortening. Then mix to a very soft dough with the milk. The softer the dough, the easier to roll. The lighter it comes out. Never exceed baking powder. Measure the shortening by shape and not by weight. Cut in small pieces and fold on a sheet or very shallow pan in a hot oven. In placing biscuits in the pan place well apart, not allowing edges to touch. Small biscuits are better than large ones. Bake biscuits 10 to 12 minutes. The proper amount of time to raise and bake.

They are seen in the new C. C. Cook's book, entitled "Appetizing Recipes that stand up to successful every time." The few simple directions are carefully followed. You would hardly expect to see such a good recipe that is so simple. The book is packed in every 2-cent store of C. C. Cook's Food Store, Chicago, Ill. The book costs 10 cents per copy. The book contains 100 recipes.

SENIORS LEAD IN HOME TRACK MEET

SPLENDID SILVER TROPHY GIVEN WINNERS BY GLENN COX

Weight Events Fall Short of Speed Records—Improvement Expected Before State Meet Here Saturday, May 10.

The annual high school inter-school track meet was held at the ball park last Friday and the seniors, as usual, showed their superiority. At the end of the meet the points were divided as follows: seniors, 67; juniors 7; sophomores, 4; freshmen.

The meet failed to show any record breaking tendencies among the track men and as a rule the results were disappointing. In the track events some good time was made, as was also the case in the jumps, but the work in the walking and steeplechase was poor. There may be some excuse for this in the fact that it was just about a few weeks since the meet. Hazard, '15, and Hazard, '16, were the work horses of the day and were entered in nearly every event. The high jump and pole vault were the last two events. Hazard, '15, and Hazard had a hard time to get the high jump. He won with a mark of 5 feet 1 inch, but he lost out to the seniors in the first heat. Hazard, '15, and Hazard, '16, were the pole vault, at nine feet, and Hazard, '15, and Hazard, '16, were the pole vault, at nine feet, and Hazard, '15, and Hazard, '16, were the pole vault, at nine feet.

Close Mile Race.
The mile run was the one of the closest races of the meet. The seniors, in this section, the time was 5:11, was slow, but in a couple of weeks it will be lowered considerably. Atherton, '15, was the winner in the four mile, a worthy opponent in Bowtell, '14. At the finish Bowtell led by a scant two feet. Girardin, '14, finished third.

In the low hurdles, Hazard and Bonion ran a pretty race. Height finished first in 32.6 seconds. Bonion made faster time in the first heat than the winner did in the final.

Surprise In Half.
In the half mile Halloy proved a big surprise, as much to himself as to the winners. Hazard, '15, was the second and both men show promise of great improvement in the next two weeks. The time, 3:27, was good, considering that the only training Halloy had had was in his basketball work.

Hazard took the broad jump, in 19 feet 8 inches. He had not intended to enter this event and he only jumped once, but he no could not miss.

By winning the meet the class of 1916 became the first winners of a loving cup, presented by Glenn C. Cox, of the Western Palace Country store. The cup is silver and stands about 16 inches high and is certainly a trophy worth striving for.

In the school and every year it becomes the property of the class winning the home track meet.

Records of Meet.
100 yard dash—Hazard, '15, first; Williamson, '13, second; Benton, '13, third. Time, 11 seconds.

Shot Put—Walters, '13, first; Hazard, '15, second; Williamson, '13, third. Distance 35 feet 3 inches.

1 Mile run—Bowtell, '14, first; Atherton, '15, second; Girardin, '14, third. Time 5:11.

100 yard low hurdles—Height, '13, first; Hazard, '15, second; Benton, '13, third. Time 32.6 seconds.

Discus—Hazard, '15, first; Benton, '13, second; Walters, '13, third. Distance 63 feet 5 inches.

200 yard dash—Hazard, '15, first; Height, '13, second; Williamson, '13, third. Time 25 seconds.

300 yard run—Bailley, '13, first; Benton, '13, second; Bowtell, '14, third. Time 2:27.

1/2 mile run—Williamson, '13, first; Walters, '13, second; Girardin, '14, third. Time 2:05.

Half mile relay—Seniors first (Bailley, Benton, Marlin, Height); sophomores second (Hazard, Bowtell, Rowell, Height); freshmen third (Walters, Height, High Jump—Hazard, '15, first; Williamson, '13, second; Benton, '13, third. Time 3:27.

THE DISTRICT JUDGE.

No member of a community or no state official has a greater opportunity for the exercise of such ability as he may possess than has the district judge in the ordering of the affairs of his court.

The laws governing the administration of justice by district judges are probably as comprehensive as is possible, yet their application in a general way leaves much to be desired. A district judge may follow the constitution and laws of the state to the letter, and yet fail to carry on the business of his court in the best interests of the community. This is the point which makes possible the opportunity for the display of ability of a high order.

The successful district judge of today is he who conducts his court according to law and who makes it his personal business to see that legal procedure is expedited, jury expense kept down, arguments followed closely and decisions rendered promptly and in a spirit of strict and impartial justice. Particularly must the work of each court term be kept well in hand and the entire machinery of justice made to run smoothly, without false motion and without unnecessary delay.

The matter of unnecessary legal delay in the conduct of the district court is recognized as being of the highest importance in the State Constitution. Section two hundred and seventy-five of Article six says: "The salary of the judges of the district court shall be four thousand dollars per annum. Such compensation shall be paid quarterly out of the State treasury, but no Justice of the Supreme Court or Judge of the District Court shall be paid his salary or any part thereof unless he shall have first taken and subscribed an oath that there is not in his hands any matter in controversy not decided by him, which has been finally submitted for his consideration and determination, thirty days prior to his taking and subscribing said oath."

That the danger of delay in the administration of the law was well understood by the framers of the State Constitution, is apparent from the handling. A quick and expeditious administration of district court business by the district judge is of first importance, not only to the court but to the entire community.

FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

According to the report of the Commercial Club committee investigating the new auto tax it will not be necessary to organize a good roads district in the county in order to take advantage of the provisions of the statute. By the terms of the law, seventy per cent of the tax upon auto may be devoted to the payment of interest upon county bonds issued to raise money for road improvement. Roughly, there are two hundred autos in Twin Falls county, the owners of which will be called upon to pay an average tax each of fifteen dollars per year. The fund thus raised would pay the interest on a substantial sum.

By taking advantage of this law, all classes of road users, except the auto owners, would reap the benefit of the improvements absolutely free of cost. The auto man keeps up the interest on the road money—the farmer gets the benefit.

This would seem to give the farmer all the best of it, and if the auto owner is willing, no time should be lost in taking the necessary steps to include a provision for a substantial road fund in the pending county bond issue.

A GOOD THING.

The securing of weather bulletins through the courtesy of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company for the benefit of fruit growers of this section is a distinct step in the right direction. The Commercial Club, to which credit is due for the departure, is to be congratulated on the outcome of its efforts. There is no more important factor in the growth of fruit than advance knowledge of weather conditions. The growers may be dependent on the state for the weather, but they can take advantage of their opportunity.

THE NEW FRANCHISE.

With the granting of a franchise by the council this week the Deaver River Power company may be said to have entered Twin Falls. The action of the council was a foregone conclusion for the reason that there could not well have been any other action in the premises. Moreover, a majority of residents are outspoken in their approval.

From a purely economic standpoint, it is a question if very much will be gained. Two plants cannot be operated as cheaply as one, and eventually the price of electricity must become just a little greater than its cost if there be no one plant offering it or fifty. The price of electricity, like every other commodity, must be based on its cost. To determine this cost and fix the rate of sale is supposed to be a part of the duties of the recently named Public Utilities Commission, and, theoretically, the cost will be higher with two companies in the field than would be the case with one.

The advantage gained through the granting of the franchise is, therefore, for the most part, a temporary one. There will be construction work to be done, and a fully organized commercial force will be placed in the field at once. Local men and teams will be hired to do the work as far as possible, and an influx of money may be expected as a result. Looking a year or two ahead, prices of electricity may be expected to adjust themselves on a basis of cost, irrespective of the number of companies engaged in the business. For the present, rates will be lower, which, for the present, is a very good thing.

THIS MUST SURELY COME.

There is one departure in the realm of politics which has one day surely got to come—namely, a modified form of ballot.

The so-called "short ballot" has paved the way. In its entirety it may never be adopted, but the absurdity of the present form of political expression is apparent to all, and a change must be effected if the element of farce in elections is ever to be eliminated.

The commission form of government in cities and towns is merely an application of the short ballot principle under another name. And it is regarded as the modern method of civic government.

The same principle can be carried out in the government of counties and states, and in the opinion of The News it will be, eventually. When the day comes the people of Idaho will have an efficacious weapon against the unscrupulous politician, for the first time in the history of the country.

THE STEALING OF FLOWERS.

A good many complaints have reached this office as to the stealing of flowers in the yards of Twin Falls residents by ill-trained boys and youths of the city.

It is unfortunate that the law does not permit the infliction of a thorough horse-whipping by the victim upon the person of the thief, if caught, but this cannot be done. Lawbreaking vandals of this description, however, should bear in mind that there is a penalty for such offenses and that the average jury would probably take pleasure in recommending it in cases of this kind.

There can be no denunciation too severe for this class of offenders. The flowers in the yards of many Twin Falls homes have taken weeks and months of careful preparation and their owners should be despoiled of the fruits of their labors at the hands of hoodlums. It is unjust and not to be tolerated.

AN ELEVATING RECREATION.

Amateur theatricals should be encouraged at all times. There is no clearer or more elevating form of recreation. The training for performance imparts grace of carriage and ease of expression and the influence surrounding the giving of a performance should be, and as a rule is, the best.

Moreover there is enough natural talent in Twin Falls to permit of the creditable staging of almost any average production. This has been shown to advantage not only in the rendition of The Chimes of Normandy this week, but in The Mikado a year ago, as well as in many other minor productions.

There can be nothing harmful in the influence of the stage under such circumstances, but there can be and is much of good.

ASHES AND ROAD MAKING.

There are a good many alleys in town which could be built up and made into clean and well kept thoroughfares in a very simple fashion, namely, through a liberal use of the ashes from the stoves of the owners of property adjoining.

This is prohibited under a recent city ordinance, which, all points considered, seems unreasonable.

A game of "snip the whip" with the drowning of the "tail" would seem to transcend the limits of ordinary sport. The burly quality of men responsible for the death of a young negro in a Vermont town in this manner recently constitutes a sad commentary on the supposed nobility of the human animal.

THE NEWS Washington Letter

Political Comment, News, and Gossip of the Capital

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Among the many features of the new tariff bill, as drafted by Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee of the long house of Congress, are free raw wool; heavy cuts in pig iron and steel products, a graduated income tax on salaries exceeding $4,000, reduced rates on butter, eggs, and other necessaries, meat, bread, flour, potatoes, milk salt and fish, on the free raw wool, and in manufactured wools, such as blankets, flannels, ready made clothing, and women's and children's dresses, and hosiery, knit caps, wood pulp, printing paper, bluishness coal and leather to be free.

In submitting his measure Representative Underwood affirmed that the present condition of the revenue legislation of the United States is the result of years of ad hoc arrangements, protective tariff policy, and that the enactment of the tariff revision measure in 1909 was unavoidable, political, in origin from the view point of the high protectionists. Many points in Mr. Underwood's bill are worthy of consideration.

Modification Demanded.

Following the tariff law of 1909 the country demanded of the then dominant political party a modification of the extreme policy which was enacted into law. This followed a series of tariff bills which were passed at the first session of the Sixty-second Congress, during the summer of 1911, only to be presented to President Taft, and to be vetoed by him. This came the election of 1912 which gave to the Democratic party the present control of both houses of Congress and turned over to them the necessary machinery to effect tariff legislation.

Placed upon them the responsibility of revising the tariff downward in accord with the urgent and repeated demands of the people.

In re-arranging the new tariff schedule, the committee has endeavored to work along lines that would allow them at all times to keep in mind the distinction between the necessities and luxuries of life, reducing the tariff on the necessities to the lowest possible points commensurate with revenue requirements and making the luxuries of life bear their proper proportion of the tariff responsibility.

Many Ad Valorem Rates.

Few changes have been made in classifications. Specific rates have been replaced by ad valorem rates for the complicated rates of the Payne tariff law. Classifications by values of articles have been eliminated as has been the case in the present tariff.

Schedule G, which deals with agricultural products, has been thoroughly revised in an effort to relieve the consumer and to mitigate the high and rising cost of living. For instance, the duty on cattle has been reduced from 25 per cent to 10 per cent, sheep from 16 per cent to 10 per cent, butter from 45 per cent to 25 per cent, and fruits from 27 per cent to 15 per cent. Other changes in this schedule are in proportion, and the general effect has been to reduce in a material proportion the heavy taxes upon food stuffs.

It is set forth in the new bill that the minimum and maximum provisions adopted in the Payne bill have not been productive of the desired expansion of our foreign trade and commerce. Under the present bill the president of the United States is authorized to enter into trade agreements without limitation, except that such agreements must be ratified by Congress before they become effective.

This legislation is somewhat along the same line as the reciprocity treaties that were authorized under the present bill. There is a difference, however, in that the treaties required a two-thirds vote of the senate, whereas the trade agreements now provided for will require only a majority vote of both houses.

CAR OF FRUIT JARS DESTROYED BY FIRE

CONSIGNMENT TO FALK WHOLESALE SALE CO. GOES UP IN SMOKE

Sports From Passing Engine Ara. Believed to be Responsible for Damage near Station at Milfor.

A car-load of 1500 cases of fruit jars, consigned to the Falk Wholesale company of this city, was practically destroyed by fire at Milfor Tuesday night. The car was delivered to this city last night with the roof considerably burned and a large number of the fruit jar cases either melted or broken. A stream from the engine, however, did not reach a second car of the same shipment, also consigned to the Falk Wholesale house.

The fire originated from the sparks from the locomotive and burned through the roof of the car before discovered. The packing about the cases in the car were heavily ignited, and an intense heat was soon under way. The fire was extinguished by a stream from the engine by means of a small hose, but not until heavy damage had been done.

Luncheon-Club Entertainment.
Fragrant peach and cherry blossoms formed the motif for the decorations at the charmingly appointed luncheon given by Mrs. I. B. Perrine last Thursday afternoon. The tables were set with the members of the Luncheon club and substitute. At either end of the luncheon table were placed vases of cherry blossoms, connected along the full length of the cloth with delicate sprigs of peach blossoms. Great jars and baskets of the blossoms were also used to decorate the living and dining rooms, lending a delightful spring atmosphere to the affair. A delicious feature of the luncheon was the fish course, which consisted of delicious trout from the famous Blue Lakes. Mrs. Robert McCollum received the prize for high score at bridge and Mrs. K. H. Dixon of Hollister received a dainty guest prize for high score in the substitutes. Glass cards, which were also decorated in blossoms, were arranged for Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Hancock, Mrs. McCollum, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Sweeney, and Mrs. Walton. Mrs. Spafford spotted Mrs. Perrine's.

Dinner-for-Bridge-Club.
Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Alken entertained the members of the Dinner Club at a beautifully appointed dinner at their attractive home on Shoshone street Saturday evening. The table decorations were exceedingly attractive, a central vase of carnations resting on an exquisite centerpiece occupied the center, while gorgeous party blossoms were scattered over the cloth for the entire length of the table. The dainty place cards were painted in spring flowers and blended prettily with the decorations. In the game of auction bridge which followed the elaborate dinner Mrs. Oscar Robbins and Mr. Booth won the prize for high score. This dinner, which was one of the most elaborate given during the season, closes the series. Diners were told for Mrs. and Mrs. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Felling, Mr. and Mrs. Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Ostrander, Miss Maxwell and Mrs. Geo. Sprague, of Boise.

Delightful "600" Party.
Mrs. Edward Cooper was hostess at a delightful "600" party on Tuesday afternoon. The rooms of the Cooper home were rendered most attractive with an artistic arrangement of fragrant fruit blossoms, sweet peas and pansies, which were massed about the rooms in cut glass vases and bowls, the effect being very dainty and decorated in spring blossoms, carrying out the general color scheme, which was also apparent in the delightful supper served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Senor were hand-maid, and Mrs. Senor was first and second prizes, which were hand-maid, all girls. Mrs. Brockeberger, Mrs. Roberts, and Miss Susie Cooper of Burley assisted the guests. Present were Messieurs Booth, Baker, Burton, Senior, Wright, Cline, Young, Payne, Roberts, Abt, Dutton, Bullis, Mitchell, Mann, Brockeberger, Skeels, and Miss Cooper, of Burley.

Dance at Hollister.
A number of Twin Falls people motored over to Hollister Saturday night to attend the opening of the new Casino hotel at that place. A splendid orchestra furnished music for the dance, and later a delicious supper was served. About fourteen ladies were filled with the visitors from Twin Falls.

Household Shower.
One of the social affairs of the week was the household shower given by Mrs. and Mrs. Alton Miller for Miss Gladys Olanson and Mr. Carlson, Saturday evening, April 24. The house was decorated with hearts, cupid and red roses. The shower was arranged in a large music room and Miss Olanson was seated in the center of the room and the groom stood beside her each gift. Her delight and pleasure over each gift which "it" pleased to see. After refreshments a guest was furnished with a toast and the health of the young couple was drunk from an old living cup. About thirty young people enjoyed contributing toward the occasion.

Reception for Mrs. Buckley.
The Hotel Horizon was the scene of a very pretty reception Wednesday afternoon given in honor of Mrs. Buckley, who leaves this week to spend the summer in Gardiner. The affair was a complete surprise to the honored guest, and was planned by Mrs. Gossart, assisted by Mrs. Martin Hill, Mrs. Seaver, Mrs. Hancock, Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Ostrander and Mrs. Kane. The large parlor of the hotel was most artistically decorated with palms and pink and white carnations, and the pink and white color scheme was carried out in the delicious refreshments which were served during the afternoon. Over one hundred ladies called to wish Mrs. Buckley a pleasant journey.

HOTEL CRAVEN NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS

HOLLISTER'S NEW HOSTELRY IS THOROUGHLY UP-TO-DATE
Large Number From Twin Falls At Grand Opening Last Saturday Night

The formal opening of Hotel Craven was a gala event in Hollister last Saturday evening. At that time the new hotel was formally opened to the public for inspection and was the scene of an enjoyable evening. Dancing and banqueting were the features of the occasion, which a large number of residents of the Twin Falls and Salmon River tracts were present. About twenty from this city attended the opening.

The new hotel was handsomely attired for the formal opening. All the rooms and parlors were brilliantly lighted and the ball room presented an attractive appearance. Following the dance an excellent banquet was served under the preparation and direction of D. H. Hall, proprietor of the People's Club at this city. The food was served in the dining room and Mrs. J. ## CHIMES OF NORMANDY.

noticeable feature of this part of the performance.

Arthur Cleverly Handled.
The story of the Chimes is well known to the average theatre-goer and it is safe to say that the piece told little in its handling by the actors. Twin Falls amateurs. The cast was exceptionally well chosen and the individual work was given with an artistic finish which, at any point, would have done credit to professional actors.

Mrs. F. M. Buckley is the part of Soropole manager to get out of the part. All of this is in it, and a little more. Her solos were well up to her usual form. The handling of the part was exceptionally good. Possessed of a dulcified natural talent, the part was well suited to her and she made the most of the more difficult situations left little to be desired.

Miss Galsgan, as Germaine, the "Tom Marchioness," did excellent work and acquitted herself with credit in a part which is more exacting than the usual run of parts. Her first entrance, her voice was heard to advantage in the solos and the part caught on with the audience from the first entrance.

Village Maidens.
Miss Combs, Mrs. Tucker, Miss Libert and Mrs. Wiloy, as a mischievous loving group of village maidens, contributed much to the success of the piece. Each is possessed of a good singing voice and each showed the result of thorough drilling in the parts. Among the women as a whole the attention was exceptionally well sustained throughout.

The cast included a number of old time favorites among the men, chief among these being G. J. Reid and Dr. Higgins. Mr. Reid again proved his ability in a leading part, carrying the actor forward with a swing and dash which lent much to the piece and gave an air of finesse to his own performance which lifted it above the work of the average amateur.

Dr. Higgins was so fortunate as to play a part which made him a favorite. As Gaspard, the miser of the village, he gave a character delineation which made the part stand out in every scene in which he appeared. Naturally possessing marked ability as an actor, his work in the Chimes was among the best of the kind ever seen in Twin Falls.

Orchestra Work Good.

The orchestra work was one of the features of the evening and the high credit is given not only to Mr. Hurlbridge as leader, but to all the members. The following constituted the orchestra:

- Orchestra.
Miss Alfonso, Dr. Farrell, Messrs. Brown-Raymond, Thorpe-Lentzbohn, Jessup, Olden, Lytle, Wall, Higgins, Head, Prof. Spooner, Mrs. Sprague, J. F. Hurlbridge, director; Mrs. D. E. Regan, accompanist.
- While the piece at one or two points was not up to the high average standard of the evening, none of the criticism was particularly noticeable and the result as a whole was one of the best of the season. The music at times seemed unnecessarily slow and productive of pauses in the action which did not serve to the stage effect, but this was occasioned largely by fidelity to detail throughout the entire score. The musical end of the production carried an air of finish which from a musical standpoint left little to be desired.

Credit to Management.
To Mrs. D. E. Regan, musical director of the Twentieth Century club, and to Mrs. P. H. Kenney, one of the best of actors, credit is due for having a major share of the credit for the entire production. Both gave a large part of their time for weeks before the performance, and both were unflinching in their efforts for the benefit of cast and chorus. Each soloist was carefully trained and instructed by Mrs. Regan and each part of the action was worked out in detail by Mrs. Kenney. Both took their share of the work of starting the production with A. S. Paulin, who for weeks and assisted in the preparations for the production. The rehearsal was in charge of A. W. Hall. Special scenery was painted for the occasion by Mrs. M. J. Sweeney.

The work of the principals and a number of others who assisted in the production were recipients of magnificent bouquets as a mark of thanks from the Twentieth Century club.

Even the most delicate can eat hot breads raised with K C without distress. Try K C Baking Powder breads if yeast-raised bread does not agree with you.

Good in Comedy Role.
The part of Jean Gracochoux was taken by Arthur Jaynes in a manner both capable and pleasing. Jaynes' boldness and vigor was heard to advantage in this role, particularly in the quizzical in the second act which was presented in a manner which made the features of the evening. In his handling of the part, Mr. Jaynes developed a sense of humor which was perhaps the best comedy offering of the piece.

A. W. Hall, as the Bailiff of the village, maintained his part well and did good work throughout. The part required careful attention to detail and might easily have fallen flat in the hands of one less capable.

A. B. Senor took the part of the Notary in very acceptable style, his acting being a feature of the role. Howard Holm, as the Registrar, and Sherman Cox, as the Assessor, both had parts which, while not prominent in the action of the piece, required careful handling and both acquitted themselves equal to the occasion.

The members of the chorus are entitled to the highest credit, as only by their efforts was the success of the cast made possible. Each and all worked with a vim and energy which added much to the action and to the enjoyment of the evening. Following were the members as cast; only one or two being absent from the performance:

Chorus.
Messieurs Kenneth Woods, Holt, Felling, McAtee, Crowther, Karls, Bussell, Bell, Brown, Crozier, Witt, Mitchell, Burton, Abraham, Poole, Powers, Lyman, Higgins, Roberts, McQuinn, Messrs. Weaver, Crouse, Powell, Vandam, Egan, Skeels, Wright,

WHY

The Best Fence Is the Cheapest

The difference in cost between a loosely woven fence made of brittle, poorly galvanized wire and the best fence you can possibly buy is only a few cents at the most. In fact, it is so slight that you can't afford to consider it for a minute. When you stop to think that it takes just as many years and just as much labor to put up a short-lived fence as it does one that will last you two or three times as long, and when you stop to figure the cost of repairing broken-down fences—the loss to your crops from cattle breaking through; horses going over and pigs crawling under—you will agree that to buy any wire fence just because it is cheap is poor economy.

Square Deal Fence

will outlast any other farm fence you can buy and cost no more than any other fence of equal weight and quality of material. Every rod is guaranteed by The Keynote Steel and Wire Company—the mill that makes both the fence and the wire that goes into it.

Come In and See It

before you buy fencing. See how trim and neat it looks; how easy it handles; see the non-erasable, non-fading Square Deal Lock. See the heavy strand wires that keep Square Deal Fence tight and trim the year around. See the one-piece stay wire that makes this fence self-supporting, non-sagging and non-buckling.

Growing Corn in Idaho

By Professor C. H. Heard, of the Agricultural Department of the Twin Falls High School

Probably there is no state in the union in which the climatic and soil conditions vary so much as in the state of Idaho. In an area extending from the forty second to the forty ninth parallel of latitude, and having elevations ranging from 500 to 12,000 feet above sea level, we must expect many changes in the climatic conditions, wide variations in soil and also in the amounts of moisture and available food.

Because of these widely varying conditions it is practically impossible to write an article which will treat of the state as a whole. There are some sections of the state that will not produce corn, but such sections are not only few, but are also very small and are usually in comparatively small areas.

No Longer Tropical Plant

Corn was originally a tropical plant but the areas in which it can be produced has been gradually widened until it now includes the fields of southern Canada. This fact leads us to believe that corn can be made a profitable crop in Idaho, or at least in some of the sections of the state. Where corn is not produced, corn is usually not only few, but are also very small and are usually in comparatively small areas.

Cause for Failures

The principal cause for failures in corn growing has been that we have obtained varieties that were not suited to our climatic conditions. We have expected Iowa corn, grown in a climate with a long growing season, with warm nights to mature in a country where we have a much shorter season and cooler nights. Some of these varieties may not mature to a small extent in some sections of the state, but they will not mature to a very good condition the first year under these conditions. They are often become discouraged and stop trying to grow corn, instead of selecting their seed from the small amount which may have matured and thus producing a variety which might have been suitable to Idaho conditions.

Time of Planting

The time of planting varies with the locality, from about the first of May to the middle of June. In most sections of the state the best time of planting is from the first of May to the first of June. The thickness of planting depends on the soil, the variety and the purpose for which it is to be grown. Corn grown for silage should be planted in rows 2 feet 6 inches apart each way, allowing two or three ears to the hill and covering them with about two inches deep.

Prof. Keady, of the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station

Prof. Keady, of the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station, said that the average yield of corn in one section of the state for the last four years was 21 bushels per acre. The average yield of wheat for the same period was 21 1/2 bushels. The average price paid the farmer for corn was 83 cents per bushel and the average price of wheat was 62 cents, making an acre of corn worth $22.78 as compared with $20.78 for an acre of wheat.

JOSEPH INTERPRETS DREAMS.

Gen. 40: 4-23.

9. And the butler brought him his dream to Joseph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a vine was before me, and thereon three branches were, and the leaves thereof brought forth grapes.

10. And in the vine were three bunches: and it was as though it budded, and her blossoms shot forth, and the clusters thereof brought forth grapes.

11. And Pharaoh's cup was in my hand, and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Pharaoh's cup, and I gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

12. And Joseph said unto him, This is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three days, within three days shall Pharaoh lift up his head, and eat of his bread: but the three clusters are three days, within three days shall Pharaoh's cup be in his hand, after that manner when thou shalt eat his bread.

13. Yet within three days shall Pharaoh lift up his head, and eat of his bread: but the three clusters are three days, within three days shall Pharaoh's cup be in his hand, after that manner when thou shalt eat his bread.

14. But think on me when it shall be well with thee, and show kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Pharaoh, and bring me out of this place: for I am surely forgotten.

15. For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews, and there also have I done nothing that thou shouldst put me into the dungeon.

16. When the chief baker saw that this revelation was good unto him, he said unto Joseph, I also was in my dream, and behold, I had three white baskets on my head:

17. And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of baked meat for Pharaoh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket upon my head.

18. And Joseph answered and said: This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days, within three days shall Pharaoh lift up his head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

19. And it came to pass the third day, which was Pharaoh's birthday, that he made a feast unto all his servants; and he lifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants.

20. And he restored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and he gave the cup unto Pharaoh's hand: but he restored the chief baker unto his place: for he had interpreted to them.

21. Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph, but forgot him.

vice of his guilt and punish him accordingly, while he would be convicted of the innocence of the butler and restore him to his office.

20. And so it turned out, for three days after came Pharaoh's birthday, when it was customary, for him to make a feast and at the same time issue certain commands for the delight of some of his people, and it might be that he would remember Pharaoh's dream, and that he would restore him to his office.

21, 22. It turned out to both of them as Joseph had said. Of course, Pharaoh knew nothing about what had taken place in the prison, though still did the work assigned him by the keeper of the prison, who was greatly pleased with his faithful and efficient. And so he went on for two full years longer.

23. The butler, released from prison and restored to his office, thought no more about the young man who had given such evidence of the favor of his God. He forgot all about the incident. So other men have forgotten their friends and have failed to do what they had truthfully promised to do. How many a man is waiting to be remembered. Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph but forgot him. So some Christians seem to forget men who saved them. It is a shame to them.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the hearing nerves. The Kammell Tube, a new invention of the Kammell Tube Co., restores the hearing nerves to normal condition. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is removed, deafness is permanent. Kammell's Hearing Cure is a natural cure for deafness. It is a natural cure for deafness. BACK TO THE WORKBASKET.

By Mrs. F. M. Buckley

Written for and delivered at the annual breakfast of the Twentieth Century Club held at the Juniper Inn, last week:

Though we've heard a lot of Adam, and a little bit of Eve, another story, I now attempt to weave.

Months I hear old Adam say, "I'm hungry, Eve, dear, I wish I might an apple have from off that tree so near."

She plucked the tempting, juicy fruit, that gave her such ill fame, in trying just to please her spouse—of course, took all the blame; for Adam had to eat, you know, in spite of everything.

So Eve, perhaps, must get a meal, and to her Adam bring.

This folk brought wants, new needs appeared, and Eve must still do more.

She must make clothes for these two who were now grown so stern.

Our Eve had will, she used it now; her stock was only leaven.

First clothes she makes, they are too short—the little woman grieves.

And now we see that our first man (with quite a help from Eve), Planned woman's work from the pace, and this without her leave—To sew, to sew, to sew and darn, has ever been her fate.

So my 'n know, up to this day, she's busy has a rote.

Now Eve do this, now Eve do that; now Eve you take the blame, And since she passed that tempting fruit, it's always been the same.

To feed aright is a big job; to cook is no simple matter.

From leaven in all Damascus sacks means tax of mind and store.

Work basket's full to overflow, of things to mend and darn, There's every kind of work in there to keep the home of beauty.

But what the basket holds for her, our modern Eve takes choice.

For what the girls within each day do smartly has a rote.

Just what she'll do, and what do not, she never grows so stern.

She learns to leave the moolah things and take the things that pay.

With honey talks and giggly work she weaves in tangles of beauty.

Her mind's aglow with all life means, 'e'en though 'tis mixed with duty.

To cover all the needs at home—and never does she fail—She adds into the broken laws, and mends the ones that fall.

Customs and laws that in a half-day seem old-fashioned, she never does give new life by placing on new patches here and there.

She does not take to ripping as our English sisters do.

But it's quite the way of woman when she wishes something new, No matter what she makes do, she's never to find a way, Should do the work and never sigh, she'll toil, or rest, or pray.

WILL SELL WATER ON NEW LAND PROJECT

TWIN FALLS-SHOOSHONE CANAL CO. MAY NOW GO AHEAD

Full Permission for Marketing of the Water Rights is Granted by the State Land Board.

Permission has been granted the Twin Falls-Shooshone Canal company by the state land board to sell water rights to the settlers on their project in the Shooshone Basin. The company was organized and constructed its canal systems and had the water ready for delivery to settlers before it was realized that the right to sell water to settlers had to be obtained. Upon her report of State Engineer King the state board decided that the grant to sell the water should be given.

The company was organized and financed by W. H. Long, F. L. Dittendaffler, and J. B. Landis, and approximately $70,000 was spent in the opening of the project. There are not more than 2500 acres to be had in this district, which is located about 20 miles southeast of Twin Falls. The land in the basin is highly fertile and will develop into a thriving agricultural community.

Mr. Long will have direct charge of the colonizing of the basin and expects to locate a large number of settlers in that district in the near future. Mr. Dittendaffler will also have a prominent part in the building up of the country.
