INSISTS HE MUST HAVE TIME TO RECUPERATE

Has Uncovered Fifteen Bulging Files of Letters, Many of Them Said to Be Political Sensations—Insist that Some of the Critics Stop Too Quickly—Inquiry Starts Before House Committee Monday.

(United Press Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The examination of Mitchell will probably start before the house committee next Monday. Mitchell appeared before the committee Friday and protested that he was worn out as the result of the long ordeal before the senate committee and demanded that he be excused for a rest.

"If you compel me to testify," Mitchell declared, "I will get a physician's certificate showing that I am not physically able to testify and will be under the doctor's care for a week."

Mitchell by way of voluntary information, asserts that he has just found 15 more files of letters that he overlooked before and has letters containing further interesting political sensations. It is his statement that when these new letters come out there will be a large vacant silence from some of the politicians who have been making considerable noise recently and asserting that he, Mitchell, had lied.

Chief Counsel Murray for the Mann-Whitney association testified before the senate committee today. There was a continuous squabble from beginning to end. Murray was examined by McFarlar, his attorney. The committee members insisted continuously that McCarter ask specific and not general questions. McCarter declared that he would ask any question he deemed necessary of his witness in order to bring out some point in mind.

'FOOT' THE BALLOT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Miss Kitty Smith, aged 23 and armless, used her toes in the election in Maywood, a suburb. She is the founder of a home for crippled children and can do almost any stunt with her toes that the average individual does with the fingers.

When a man's feet cut with some empty seats in his automobile it is considered an admission that he hasn't telephoned around to everyone of his neighbors to find if they want a ride.

If congress does not wind up its business and adjourns pretty soon the president may go over and lock them all out of the capitol.

THE YOUNGEST IN THE RACE

Miss Beato Sullivan, who won second prize in the first district in the big contest recently held by the Daily News, was the youngest contestant entered. She worked faithfully and is to be congratulated on her success in reaching third place in the entire contest and winning the second prize in her district. Very few winners of the contest were under the age of Miss Sullivan when she won her bedroom set. Miss Beato writes as follows regarding her appreciation:

"I desire to express my sincere thanks to my friends and the publishers of the Daily News for the prizes and courtesies shown me during the contest. I am delighted with the handsome bedroom set which I received as second prize in the contest."

(United Press Dispatch.)

REDONDO BEACH, Cal., Aug. 6.—E. Johns of Watts, Cal., thought it would be great sport to falsify driving while taking a trip in the surf. Life guards who rushed to the rescue were so proud at his endeavor at "boating" that they docked him until he was strangled.

EXHIBITS OLD STAGE COACH.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 6.—A relic of the early western days, the old Wells-Fargo stage coach that carried gold and passengers over the old Overland route to California half a century ago, was one of the features in today's parade in Milwaukee's celebration of the centennial of Perry's victory on Lake Erie. The old coach is one of two which survived the San Francisco earthquake.

DOCK STRIKE SPREADS FAST

From Strike for Safe Conditions of Handred Men, Whole Lake Front Threatens to Go Out.

(United Press Dispatch.)

DULUTH, Aug. 6.—Six hundred workers on the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern ore docks struck through sympathy for the Alton dock workers who are demanding both higher wages and safer working conditions.

The clash brought on by railroad bumping a heavy string of cars onto cars being loaded, resulting in the death of several of the dock workers, threatens to ultimately tie up the entire shipping traffic on the great lakes. The sentiment that all workers should go out and get an increase of wages while they are about it is spreading like wild fire and from some quarters it is predicted that the men will all be out outside of a week.

"Yast quantities of stuff of all kinds await loading or unloading and if a general strike is declared the shipping interests will be heavy losers."

EXPERTS FIGURE APPLE SHORTAGE

THREE-FOURTHS 1912 YIELD IS ESTIMATED

Half Less Than Half Crops of Peaches and Other Canning Stuff Makes Further Inroads—Hot Weather at Close of July Further Complicates Situation.

The apple crop is on the home stretch and the finish is being watched with intense interest in all sections that produce this variety of fruit. There are reliable publications of the past week which devote their entire issue to the apple crop of 1913—Fruit Man's Guide and the Chicago Pack.

The Guide says: "Growers and speculators in the various apple districts are anxious as to the total in estimate. The consensus of opinion is, barring adverse crop conditions between the end and harvest, there will be something under 15,000,000 barrels short of the big crop of 1912. In round numbers this means the crop will be around 65,000,000 barrels.

"owing to extreme climatic conditions of the late spring a vast amount of fruit was clipped and as a result there will be advanced prices all along the line and the demand for fresh fruit will shorten the supply of dried and canned stuff as well.

"As a matter of fact canners estimate 50 per cent peaches, 60 per cent apples and 65 per cent prunes. This shortage will make further raids on the apple yield.

"The apple box of the Pacific coast is made up of a yield approximately of 12,800 carloads, as compared with 23,600 a year ago. With the exception of New Mexico a decrease of 10 to 25 per cent is claimed. Carload shortages reported are: Washington, 2000; Oregon, 1400; California, 2800; Colorado, 800; Idaho, 300.

"Great differences will be found between prices. The buyers have all along been well organized and of late the growers have united their efforts."

Less Than Three-Fourths Crop. The Chicago Packer has carefully canvassed the apple growing states and gives the proportion of the average crops for the states as follows:

- One-third—Missouri, Ohio, Delaware,

VENIRE IN DIGGS CASE HALF MADE

GOVERNMENT WINS FIRST BIG POINT IN CASE

Caminetti Forces Aiding in Defense Two Cases Regarded as Identical—Half of Foreparenty Challenge Is Sustained—Jury Expected by Night—Jurymen Against Enforcement of Law Excused.

(United Press Dispatch.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The examination of prospective jurymen to the Mary Digg's white slave case proceeds slowly. There is every indication that it will be hard fought. Digg's has all the money he needs to put up the fight of the Caminetti force, and his attorneys are doing their best to suit the Digg's case, it is believed, will have a strong bearing on the Caminetti trial.

The defense and the prosecution had exhausted half of their peremptory challenges of veniremen at adjournment at noon today. It is expected that the jury will be completed by tonight.

The first straw to show the current was brought out today when three veniremen were excused for prejudice against the enforcement of the law.

Kentucky — One-fourth—Maryland. — One-half—Colorado, Oklahoma, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Oregon, Arkansas, New Jersey, Indiana, Nebraska. — Three-fourths—Michigan, New York, Montana, Oregon, Wisconsin, Utah plus, South Dakota, Minnesota plus Normal—New Mexico.

The government reports show that the yield is about normal. The Packer's reports are from the state representatives of the publication: The reports cover the period up to the beginning of the fourth week in July. Since the figures were in extreme dry and hot weather has prevailed in the east and middle west and the damage done at present is impossible to estimate.

Everything considered, the yield of apples this year will be decidedly lower than last year.

The Northern Pacific Fruit Distributor's association apple reports over the nation up to the third week of July are as follows:

- Large crop very favorable.
- Virginia—Will have a fair crop particularly in Ben Davis and York Institutes.
- California—Crop is reported light and probably will not be more than 25 per cent.
- Oklahoma—Will have 25 per cent crop of previous years.
- Missouri and Arkansas—Will be fair in all varieties excepting Ben Davis, which will be short.
- Ohio—Crop will be in the main satisfactory although Cleveland points will be but a little lighter than last year. It is estimated.
- Iowa—Will have in summer apples a 75 per cent crop, fall apples 70 per cent and in winter apples a 60 per cent—80 per cent lower than 1912, at which time 4,500,000 bushels were harvested.
- Pittsburg—And vicinity will be very light and will all be consumed wherever.
- Maryland—Early apples are reported a failure and the estimate of the later varieties is a 40 per cent crop.
- Roanoke, Va.—Reports a sufficient quantity to supply all the local needs.
- North Carolina—Crop will be slightly below last year, although the increased acreage will bring up the tonnage practically equal to that of 1912.
- Colorado—Reports a fair crop.
- Utah—Only 50 per cent of a crop.
- New Mexico—Crop will probably be plentiful and reasonable in price.
- Connecticut—Reports crop light over the state generally.

SENDING OF EMMISSARY PROTESTED

SENATE NOT CONSULTED HUERTA NOT RECOGNIZED

Administration at Washington Wishing Results of Landing of American Embassy in Mexico—President Determined for Peace—Members of Senate Foreign Relations Committee Angered at Not Being Consulted.

(United Press Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The administration is marking time until the arrival at the Mexican capital of the American embassy. Despite the assertion of Huerta that interference in any character by the United States would be regarded as an insult, the president is still confident that peace can be established in Mexico by mediation.

The members of the senate foreign relations committee deny that they are angered because of the action of the president taking the bits in his teeth and naming John Lind to go to Mexico City. They feel that they should have at least been consulted before the nomination was made.

Lind wrote to a friend at Minneapolis that under no circumstances would he accept a permanent post in Mexico. He expects to return to the United States as soon as his mission is fulfilled in Mexico.

NO NEED FOR MEXICAN WAR, SAYS BRYAN

Secretary of State Declares that if Huerta Will Remain in Favor of Some Less Obnoxious Person There Will Be Peace in Mexico—Mines Owners Prominent in Intervention.

"The public has been deceived by owners of mines in Mexico into believing that the Mexican nation were behind the present war in the United States to receive territory in Mexico. There has been no demand from any government for action on the part of the United States. The prospect of new territory the ruling of Huerta in favor of some one less obnoxious as president in Mexico are very favorable."

W. J. Bryan.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—The United States government has received an "word from our foreigner" demanding that this government take any action whatsoever in Mexican affairs. In the statement given out officially by Secretary of State William J. Bryan.

"There has been a determined campaign by mine owners and other interests in Mexico to have the United States take radical steps in Mexican affairs. They have deliberately misrepresented the conditions with the hope of creating a demand from this government that the government would be forced to act.

"The conditions in Mexico have been exaggerated more or less for the same purpose.

President Wilson and Mr. Bryan conferred for several hours over the Mexican situation. They are said to believe more than ever that their stand in the matter has been the correct one all along.

President Wilson believes that the prospect of peace now stronger each day—it is believed—that the friends of Huerta will prevail upon him in the name of peace to retire in favor of someone who will be recognized by the United States and thus circumvent the so-called Constitutionalists.

COMES TO A HEAD.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Open hostilities on Ambassador Henry Wilson by President Wilson it is believed foretell the dismissal of the American diplomat. Ambassador Wilson telegraphed on the eve of his departure from New York to Chairman Flood and was immediately wired an invitation to return to Washington and face further testimony.

President Wilson "heard of the incident and at once went to work to have the invitation recalled, not desiring to give the ambassador opportunity to "furnish misrepresent the conditions in Mexico." It is believed that the quarrel between the president and the ambassador has come to a head and that his resignation will be forthcoming, and if not that dismissal will result.

"DRUGLESS HEALERS" CONVENE

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 1.—A movement to obtain legislation localizing the practice of several systems of drugless healing plans for which were started today, will be inaugurated at the annual convention of the Washington association of Drugless Healers, which will convene here September 13, to last two days.

President of the association, made this announcement today.

"Many of the systems as represented in the association," said Dr. Lydon, "have been here the public for the past 20 years and have demonstrated that many diseases and cases of deformity may be cured or prevented by properly educating the people to a better understanding of the fundamental laws which govern health. There will be clinics during the convention to demonstrate the efficiency of the methods for the drugless methods of treating chronic diseases and deformities, physiological treatment and exercises, scientific food, chemistry and hygienic medicine."

SOME PREPARATIONS MADE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The government has options on dozens of vessels for transport service. Within two weeks 75,000 men could be landed on Mexican soil. The battleship U.S.S. Oregon is within call and the eastern coast of Mexico could be attacked in a week. An effective blockade could be established on the Pacific coast in two weeks.

Yers Cruz would be the storm center of Mexico. This port is nearest to Mexico City and it is where all soldiers would be landed in case of intervention.

ON TRIAL ON GRAVE CHARGE.

Drew Caminetti and Maury Dipea Face Court on Charges of Violating the Mann White Slavery Act.

(United Press Dispatch)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Drew Caminetti and Maury Dipea, indicted on charges of having violated the Mann white slavery act comes to trial today in the United States district court here by Judge Van Fleet. Matthew I. Sullivan, chief prosecutor for the government, will personally conduct the case against the young men. The trial has attracted wide attention throughout the country because a former postmaster caused the government to ask for the prosecution of Clayton Harrington until recently, special prosecuting attorney, who criticized Attorney General McPherson for granting the postponement. Harrington will follow the trial closely as a spectator. The people are much aroused over the case, because it is said they fear that young Caminetti will receive special favor on account of his father's high political position.

Dipea is represented in the case by former Federal Attorney Woolworth. Robert L. Devlin, N. J. Costan and Luke Howe. The examination of the defendant began after Judge Van Fleet was asked by the defendant.

MARRIAGE BY LOTTERY.

VIENNA, Aug. 1.—Because of the alarming decline in marriages in Trieste civic dignitaries today are seriously considering the suggestion recently made that the government establish a marriage lottery. The plan is to draw all single women of 25 and all bachelors of 30 present themselves on a given date to the authorities in whose jurisdiction they reside. After medical examination, the names of all who are physically sound would be placed in two urns, according to sex and then drawn out one at a time. Those who are thus "vibrated" would immediately be married by the Byzantine form of marriage.

PROMISING MINES TENNESSEE GULCH

DISTRICT TWENTY MILES WEST JARLDIGE OPENED

Being Freight in from Old Camp—Will Not Repeat Selling Contest for Song—Error—Gold for Souvenirs.

Jarldige, Nev., Aug. 1.—Theodore Parks and associates are preparing to resume work on the Gold Bug and the Oro Fino mines in Tennessee Gulch, 15 to 20 miles west of Jarldige. The mines are also being secured by Mr. Parks for the freight in to the Jarldige. The mines which he recently purchased, and before now the stamps should be pounding on the ore.

When one who is familiar with Jarldige camps examines the network of veins, even the visible gold in placer after place of the ore, and learns the history of these mines, a natural query is: Why have they laid the so much of the sixteen years since discovery of the mines? The answer is: Because of those familiar with the facts.

The owner, Emanuel Perrod, was one of the original locators of the Jarldige mines, which produced to the tune of millions of gold and silver in fact many claim that the great lode should have borne his name instead of O'Connell. Perrod, however, sold his share for the proverbial song and left Virginia City broke. He was 71 years old when he secured the Gold Bug and Oro Fino mines and from them he determined to get the fortune which he should have made had he retained his holdings on the Comstock.

But it takes intelligent work and money to make even a rich mine pay. Perrod, and the properties were worked by him until he died of the death of Mr. Perrod, a few months ago. He was then 90 years of age and, of course, had no money. The work was entrusted to others the results did not satisfy. Yet such was his confidence that he refused to sell except for a price considered exorbitant, even for the good showing.

A. J. Lund, of Jarldige, had charge of the Gold Bug and Oro Fino mines for several years and made many efforts to secure control, but was not successful until recently when he was finally induced to sell to him and Theodore Parks, D. B. Parks, a retired banker of Portland, Oregon, who had years of experience in mining, later bought an interest in the Gold Bug and J. Memhard, a merchant in the Oro Fino mine.

On the Gold Bug there is a network of veins and three distinct ones have already been opened up. The main vein has been worked to a depth of 185 feet. At the apex it is only a foot wide, but at the bottom it is 20 feet wide and contains all fine-looking ore. Assays from seven samples taken from a drift at the bottom of the shaft west from Mr. Perrod's prospect show that the vein is rather flat, but at the 185-foot point in the shaft it straightens up to a pitch of about 15 degrees.

At the 100-foot point in the shaft a cave-in exposed a cross-vein which is about 30 inches wide and panaling with fine-looking ore. The surface while specimens are occasionally encountered in the free gold is plainly visible. In fact, gold in the veins is so abundant that it is visible in the deepest workings—and in the float rock, one can get many specimens of fine gold in the surface. To the naked eye, it is the belief of the owners that, with depth the different veins will come together and form a big body of very fine ore.

Mr. Macaulay was greatly impressed with the showing in the mine and he bought back samples of the rich ore. On his return he invited some friends to see the "big grade," but on opening up the package a pair of ladies who had sent the package to him, responsible for all the color in his face as he explained that one of the ladies had sent the package to him. He took over a package to the ladies. The package contained candy and the ladies' friend presented it to Mrs. Ketchup as his own gift. Mrs. Ketchup had been thoughtful enough to enclose his card, and when that was uncovered the friend made Mr. Ketchup Angel get busy again. In the hurry of his departure, he explained, he had asked Macaulay to buy for him a box of the finest candy in Jarldige. "And," he indignantly added, "it is evident that he is trying to take credit for my thoughtfulness and generosity."

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCormick and the children, Clifford and Fay, together with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Parks, who were on a camping trip in the vicinity of Charleston, Sheriff Harris and Game Warden George B. Hunting sage chickens is the most popular pastime. This week Miss Parks, who is visiting the Dick Stearns, accompanied by Jack Davidson, spent yesterday in the hills west of town. Soon after their departure on their recent trip to Elko, was asked to call a meeting of the local "sage" could command a view of the trail which the handsome couple took. He found the water against a rock and their return kept one eye on the timepiece and the other on the high point of the trail. And any one who has not had some of the best honey informed that the two points vary in altitude about eleven hundred feet.

The ladies are becoming quite expert in panning gold from the high grade of the mine and are saving the gold from the panings, to be made into jewelry later.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

Miss Moomaw and Grandmother Painfully Hurt.

Miss Ethna Moomaw and her grandmother, Mrs. Noble, who resides at Holtter, were painfully injured in a runaway near the Moomaw home three miles east of this city. They had taken their, supposedly gentle horse to a neighbors to hitch it to the buggy preparatory to coming to town. As they started to drive off the horse became frightened and ran. Turning sharply it tipped the buggy over and Miss Moomaw and her grandmother were thrown violently out. Miss Moomaw sustained a compound fracture of the left arm and the grandmother a broken nose and broken arm, besides a severe shock. Both are getting along as well as could be expected.

A COUNTRY OF VAST RESOURCES, SAYS RAILROAD MAN

PRESIDENT BUSH SAID

All of us are surprised at what we have seen.

We operate 12,000 miles of railroad in 16 states but I want to say that this is the most promising country I have seen for tonnage.

You have a permanent country.

Your water supply, your diversified farms all guarantee a vast production. I hope that the Western Pacific will be in a position to get her share of this tonnage.

"We have never had the pleasure of visiting any finer agricultural country than the Twin Falls section." This is the verdict of the Western Pacific officials who are our guests today.

"A party of representatives of the Western Pacific officials visited this section just a year ago to a day, and when President Bush began talking of building the Western Pacific, they all began singing the praises of the Twin Falls country so lustily that this tract was one of the very first districts to be considered. The people of San Francisco are more interested in having the Western Pacific build into the Twin Falls country than any other extension that we could make."

"I am not at liberty to make any promises for President Bush," said Mr. Bush, "but I can say that the Twin Falls country is a most promising one. Although elected to the presidency of the Western Pacific railroad less than a month ago, the vigorous personality of Mr. Bush has made it self felt in every department of the road. Tributary to the Western Pacific is remarkably rich and fertile tonnage territory. Mr. Bush has a reputation for getting business and he will recommend to the directors of the road the constructing of feeder roads. The foregoing is the statement of one of the officials with the Western Pacific party in Twin Falls."

Committee Meets Party

The Twin Falls committee arrived at Wells, Nev., Saturday night, put up at the hotel there and took breakfast with President Bush and party on the diner. Immediately after breakfast they made the run to Contact. They arrived there at 11 o'clock and before lunch was served Mr. Bush had made a flying trip of investigation through the Twin Falls mines. The Contact people offered to sign up at any time contracts to ship 1000 tons daily.

The run to the Salmon dam was without incident and the wonderful triumph of engineering was thoroughly inspected.

Coming on to Twin Falls the party ran through a muddy streak of country, back into the dusty roads and then into a blinding rainstorm. Dust was encountered from the high line canal on into the city of Twin Falls.

The distinguished visitors spent the evening just visiting with the townsfolk. Several acquaintances and near-acquaintances were scraped up.

This morning bright and early the entire party, piloted by local citizens, made the run to Bush and beyond, stopping occasionally to talk to a farmer and go through his field or orchard.

It is not a stultifying gathering, for they have the facts and figures about the Twin Falls country all tabulated and verified in the office in San Francisco. It is a seeing-for-ourselves tour.

Impressed by Country

R. A. Wadleigh, for years a high official of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad with headquarters in Denver, is with the party. When asked by a representative of the News what impressed him the strongest about the Twin Falls country, he said:

"This winter, everywhere we see the ditches full of water. The main canals—big ones, too—are running full, and ditches and farm laterals all are running. It is the season of crop-ripening. Being a Colorado man and thoroughly familiar with irrigation sections, I know very clearly what full ditches in August mean. You don't need to tell me a thing.

"The next thing that interests me very much is the signs of the country. And probably after that comes the diversified features of your farming. I noticed in our trip through the tract that some of the ranches had sheep, hogs and milk cows pasturing on them. The same ranch had grain growing, potatoes, peas and an orchard with healthy laden trees.

"It looks like a country of a great deal of railroad tonnage and from the diversified character I should judge that it would support a shipping person extending pretty well through the year.

"I can assure you that we are well pleased. We expected much and have not been disappointed. I only regret that our schedule does not give us time enough to do more, and take in the entire area of irrigated land in this section."

Governor Sends Greeting

One of the first to meet the party on their arrival in Twin Falls was Major Fred R. Reed, who brought the following letter of welcome to Idaho from Governor John M. Haines:

Boise, Idaho, August 7, 1913.

H. F. Bush, Esq., President Western Pacific Railroad.

Sir: On behalf of the people of the state of Idaho I have the honor and pleasure of offering you cordial and heartfelt greetings.

We feel that your visit to our state is significant of greater development along transportation lines for Idaho. The growth and development of our state is permanent and rapid and we all feel that additional transportation lines are vitally important to us, and knowing full well what the building of extension lines of the Western Pacific would mean to Idaho, I am frank to say that we, as a people, are vitally interested in your visit.

When you have examined the magnificent Greater Twin Falls district which we, as Idaho people, believe to be one of the most promising and greatest agricultural countries in the United States, and have become conversant with the tonnage opportunities that will be presented to you by the splendid people of that part of the state, I extend to you a cordial invitation to visit the Capital City of Idaho and shall take great pleasure in not only entertaining you, but in giving you all the information possible regarding the resources, development and opportunities that are so apparently at hand in every direction in this splendid young state.

This message will be conveyed to you by Major Fred R. Reed—the commissioner of labor and statistics, and also the executive commissioner to the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco in 1915. I trust that your visit to the state will result in more railroad building into Idaho. We feel that while the present transportation facilities have been good and most helpful to our up-building in bringing our state up to the present condition, we now realize that the rapid growth and the wonderful tonnage development during the last few years justify a more liberal extension on behalf of the people of this state of other railroads to the center Idaho and participate in the commercial growth and development.

I regret my inability to be present to meet you personally, but rest assured that the people of Idaho extend to you a most cordial and heartfelt welcome.

Conveying to you my kind personal regards, I am most sincerely and cordially yours,

JOHN M. HAINES, Governor.

After the party proceeded to the Commercial club rooms, where M. J. Sweeley called the meeting to order and introduced President H. F. Bush.

President Bush speaks.

Mr. Bush is not a long-distance talker and his remarks were brief and to the point. He said that the Twin Falls country surpassed anything of the character, he believed, in the world, considering the time expended in development. He only hoped that his railroad would get in here to handle some of the tonnage. The financial condition of the country is in a peculiar and unusual state. Government bonds are selling lower than ever before and he is intimating very strongly that so far as his road coming into this territory is concerned, it is only a question of financing the proposition. Ordinarily it would be an easy matter, but to do any desired extensive construction work under the unsettled conditions, it takes planning on the part of managers and directors of a railroad.

Those who have had the pleasure of being with President Bush on his trip through the country say that he is satisfied beyond any question of the business that his road could do in here and it is their belief that it is his intention to build after taking the matter up with the directors of the road. Doubtless, there is in the program outlined by Mr. Bush to refer to financing construction propositions. There has been much belling of corporations by irresponsible agitators, and talk by politicians of government control or regulation of railroads. All this has tended to make investors slow to buy railroad bonds. Even government bonds are selling lower than for years and years. It is believed that under consideration into Twin Falls would cost not to exceed $100,000 and such a vast tonnage would result from the investment that bonds for the work can be floated by the Western Pacific.

The afternoon was spent by members of the party in making a swing around the circle east of Twin Falls, being as far as Hansen. They took a peep at Blue Lake and Shoshone Falls from the top of the grade and scooted right along, returning in time for dinner and to take the evening train for Ogden, where their special cars await. Members for the trip to New York.

The names and official positions of the members of the party are:

R. F. Bush, president; A. Robertson, assistant; A. M. Cronin, secretary; G. L. Stone, traffic passenger manager; Missouri Pacific; R. E. Brown, vice president; D. R. G. and M. P. F. M. Wadleigh, general passenger agent; D. R. G.; A. S. Hughes, traffic manager; D. R. G.; C. M. Levey, general manager; W. P. R. H.
