GREAT OHADI CHIEF GREETED BY MANY THOUSANDS IN FESTIVAL

SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT ARRANGED BY COMMITTEE

Daily Aviation Event, Baseball, CIVIC Parade, Pavement Dancing Features

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS EXPENDED IN PROVIDING A GOOD TIME FOR ALL PEOPLE IN THE GREAT SNAKE RIVER VALLEY—CELEBRATION IN HONOR OF BOUNTIFUL YIELD OF CROPS.

Following this is the official program for the closing days of the great Ohadi festival, Friday and Saturday. A study of it will show a list of free attractions such as has never been offered to the public in this country before. Something is on for the amusement of the visitors from 9 a. m. until 11 p. m., at which hour the free dancing ceases. Everything on the program is a free attraction except the baseball games, two each day, and for these there will be no inflated charge, simply the actual price of 50 cents and 25 cents, and all those who pay this small admission charge also see the start and finish of the aeroplane flight without additional cost, just remain in their seats and see it start, while flying, and when it lights at the finish. The business men of Twin Falls have spent thousands of dollars freely on providing this program for the people of Southern Idaho, and are giving it to them free of charge. In place of charging for each attraction. The aeroplane flight alone is an attraction that is never seen for less than an admission fee of $1, and this together with numerous other attractions, as seen by the program, are to be without cost to the guests of Twin Falls during these days. These three days have been provided for as a thanksgiving period, for the unprecedented prosperity being enjoyed by citizens of the Twin Falls country, in marked contrast to a large portion of the balance of the United States, where crops are either ruined or shortened through drought or other troubles. Here we have enormous crops and good prices for all. We have much to be thankful for. Let us all set aside these three days as a vacation and enjoy the good things so generously provided. Following is the program:

BARNES' BIG SHOW COMING

Tucked away deeply in the innermost consciousness of every human being is the remembrance of the first circus ever attended. In the onward progress of the A. G. Barnes' Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus has forged in the front until now it is the largest exhibition of its kind in the world. This big show will give two full and complete performances in Twin Falls on Saturday, October 4th. The A. G. Barnes Circus is the one show that is different. It is in a class by itself. The feats performed by the manhandling "foremost animals" have never been duplicated in any exhibition. With the show is carried 350 educated and trained animals. Among them are thirty African forest-bred lions, a herd of elephants, a caravan of camels, leopards, cheetahs, tigers, jaguars, hyenas, scorpions, monkeys of every known species, dogs and ponies. Every animal carried with the show is a performer. All the wild animal acts are performed in steel arenas weighing many tons, under the supervision of a corps of the world's greatest and most celebrated trainers. Although there are more than half a hundred heart-breaking acts, each of which has never been duplicated with any animal exhibition in the entire world. Some idea of the magnitude of the show may be obtained when one takes into consideration that it requires twenty-five specially constructed railroad cars to transport this zoological parade. Three hundred employees are required to operate it. A. G. Barnes personally supervises and directs each and every performance. He prides himself on the clean and high-tone standard he has always maintained for the show. No gam-

OGDEN CLOSSES BALL SEASON

Two Men from Salt Lake Union League Gird and Miller of Tri-State League to Wear Twin Falls Uniforms—No Expense Spared to Give Fans a Bare Feast for Their Money—Fire Aeroplanes Flight from Baseball Ground Immediately After the Game.

The baseball fans of Twin Falls and the surrounding country are going to have a rare treat in the way of high class baseball during the Ohadi Carnival the last three days of the present week.

The Magicians will have an affair opposite the Ogdén Union League ball park for two nights each day, games commencing each day at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. respectively.

The Magicians have had to engage two pitchers in addition to the regular staff consisting of Hering and Ansell, because of the fact that the local pitchers cannot pitch two games a day for three days in succession with a possible seventh game on next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock between the same two teams. And because of the number of games they also had to engage two additional outfielders one of which is a catcher, to have on hand in case of injury to any of the local players. In order that the fans will see extra class baseball the management has engaged the following four men as extra men in city and Metzer of Holte Tri-State League and Huelman and Morgan of the Salt Lake City Union League, all four high class players.

The lineup in these baseball games that will attract the most fastidious fans in the country. The strength of the locals has been proven all through the 1913 season and with the addition of the four artists named above, the Magicians will have a team to place in the field against Ogden that will make that fast bunch go the limit each and every game, and then some.

We predict some hair-raising hair balls. It will be a treat for the local sports fans staged in Twin Falls County and is costing a lot of money to bring it about, however nothing will be too good for the enormous crowds certain to be present on these three big days.

On Friday and Saturday afternoons, immediately after the close of the baseball game and on the baseball grounds, will occur the flight of the aeroplane. All those in the grounds remain for the aeroplane flight free of charge. The aeroplane starts and lands immediately in front of the grandstand in the ball park. The starting and lighting of an aeroplane is fully as great a sight as to see one in actual flight in the air, one does not get a correct idea of what they are and how they work without seeing the start and finish. The price of admission to both ball game and aeroplane flight is but 50 cents and 25 cents—usual prices, no inflated charge because of big days and extra attractions.

NEW IRRIGATION BOOK

W. A. Bartlett of the International Correspondence Schools, has received from Prof. W. H. Olin the agricultural expert of the University of Idaho, a copy of Prof. Olin's new book, American Irrigation Families. A systematic and practical treatment of every phase of irrigation farming. The book contains a number of very fine illustrations, some of which were taken from Twin Falls views. There is a big demand for scientific study of irrigation in this state, as well as all over the west. Printing is allowed on the show grounds by city streets on the day of exhibition. A gorgeous street parade, headed by two trumpeting military bands, will leave the show grounds at 10:30 on the day of exhibition. Two performances will be given in the water-pool fountains—at two o'clock and eight o'clock p. m.

ALERT INSPECTOR STOPS SPREAD OF PEST

THREE CARLOADS DISEASED FRUIT CONFISCATED IN QUINCY AND DESTROYED BY C. W. BRANNON—SHIPMENT WAS FROM BINGHAM, UTAH, WHERE FUNGUS HAS DESTROYED HALF OF CROPS—ACTION INCURRED BY FRUIT GROWERS.

Alert Fruit Inspector C. W. Brannon seized and destroyed three carloads of peaches at Quincy last Monday. The fruit was shipped in from Utah, where half the crop is a total loss from "shot hole" rot, a disease that affects both the leaves and the peaches.

The shipment to Quincy was in the nature of an experiment. If the officials allowed it to go through, the Utah shippers were prepared to flood the state with the diseased product, and such action would have ruined the peach-growing industry in Idaho. Considerable controversy arose over the condemnation of the shipment, and the Twin Falls Fruit Growers' association as well as the county commissioner took a hand in the matter and made the authorities at the state capital realize that a grave danger existed. Deputy Inspector Brannon was backed by the state horticultural inspectors and the governor.

The point from which the peachery aise shipped was the so-called shot-hole blight generally throughout the state. Five times have the orchards been sprayed without checking the increase of the disease. Had the three carloads been turned loose on the Twin Falls fruit it would have

SPUDS FROM VALLEY OF SHAKE GOING TO CONSUMERS IN VIRGINIA TERRITORY—PANAMA CANAL TO BE SUPPLIED—BIX TO TEN CARS BEING LOADED EACH DAY AT LOCAL STATION.

The first two carloads of early Idaho potatoes from Twin Falls sold for one dollar per cwt. They were shipped through the North Pacific Fruit Distributors' Association. Sales Manager A. E. DeClafin is receiving inquiries for prices on lots of fifty cars and less in markets that have never handled Idaho potatoes, which indicates that the new production is getting into the game in good shape. The sales department is now busy during the Panama Canal zone with their potatoes. Several commission men are in the field here and are bidding for the shipments. Six to ten cars per day are being loaded. The price is ranging around 75 cents per hundred weight. The potatoes are taken direct from the fields to shipping and there is, therefore, very little shrinkage in weight.

follow in irrigating crops. Mr. Townsend believes that the results obtained on the Twin Falls county farm will be of benefit to the farmers always known in a general way. The quantity of water used on a given acre of crop and the time of its application had more or less to do with the yield and the quality. It was up to Twin Falls county to undertake in cooperation with the department of agriculture, a five-year experiment, which would be tested by the actual root crops now grown in a commercial growing of crops a standard method to way in this section of the country.

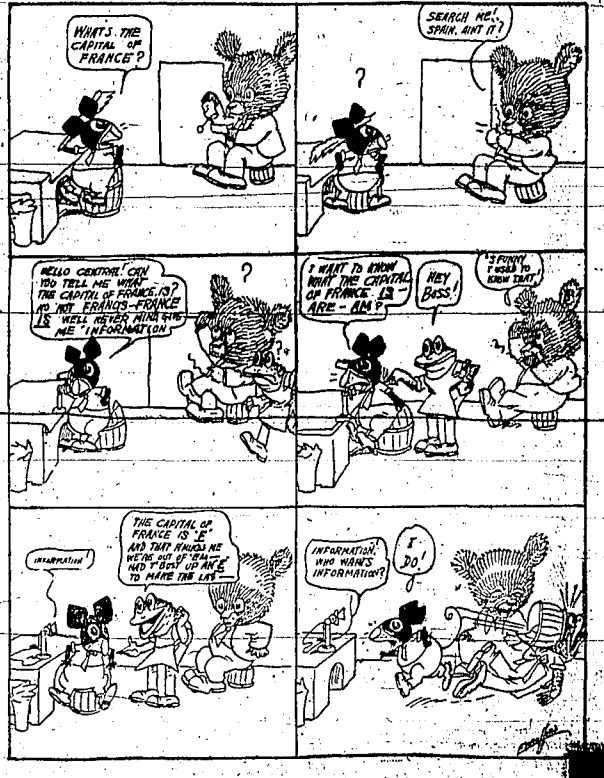

EXPERIMENT STATION TEST EFFECT OF IRRIGATION

GOVERNMENT AGENT SELECTS SITE FOR NATIONAL BIRDS—FIELD OF DEPARTMENT BELIEVES THAT RESULTS OBTAINED AT TWIN FALLS WILL BE OF VALUE WHEREVER ARTIFICIAL WATERING OF CROPS IS PRACTICED.

Don Clark, the Idaho agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in all things irrigation, was here Tuesday and actually selected the ground for the new irrigation experiment farm. Several locations have been under consideration, and the one finally chosen is located just east of the cemetery on the Wapleworth estate. The land is well located and will be convenient for the greatest number of farmers on the tract to visit it. It has been secured for a term of five years and will at once be fenced and plowed. The tract contains 20 acres and will be divided into four-acre plots with walks and drives between them.

Chief Townsend, of the Irrigation Investigation work in the United States, was here last summer and went over the proposed work with Mr. Clark in all its various phases. It is something that has never been undertaken. The practice of irrigation runs all the way from the mountains to the plains. The quantity of water used on a given acre of crop and the time of its application had more or less to do with the yield and the quality. It was up to Twin Falls county to undertake in cooperation with the department of agriculture, a five-year experiment, which would be tested by the actual root crops now grown in a commercial growing of crops a standard method to way in this section of the country.

THE MARKET.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Sept. 15.—Cattle received here this week $7,000. Last week $2,000, same week last year $3,000. The breaking up of the drought in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma this week checked the cattle speculation, and at the same time stimulated the country demand for quality cattle for higher prices. Buyers have bought freely, and everything on the list is 25 to 50 cents higher for the week, with the single exception of good to prime heavy fed steers, which are a shade under the best time of the week. Prime heavy steers, and 1 1/2 yearlings, brought $9.35 here Tuesday. Kansas grass steers have ranged up to $18.00 and quartering grass steers up to $18.50, fed quarterlings at $7.25 to $8.25. Grass cows have been selling exceptionally well, fair to good cows at $4.75 to $5.00, canners and killers at $4.00 to $4.65. Demand from the country has exceeded the supply, and stock cattle and feeders are 25 to 50 cents higher for the week, and almost up to the highest time this fall. Stock buyers range from $12.25 to $17.50, feeders $8.00 to $10.00. Indiofolians point to smaller cattle supplies at Kansas City through September than during August, and to strong prices here as a result. Kansas stockmen who were forced to dispose of all their cattle account of the drought will be in the market to buy up this month and next, as pastures have been revived and there is considerable forage food growing that will be available for raising stock cattle through the winter. Hogs sold well here this week, except for a break yesterday, which was common at all the markets. Order buyers continue to be the strong feature here, their purchases this week exceeding 15,000 head, one-fourth of the total supply. Receipts today 4,000 head, market strong to be higher to order buyers, for shipment to various points in the East, but few to the lower to packers. Top today is $3.65, bulk of sales $3.00 to $3.50, top to packers $3.10. Sheep and lambs are 10c to 20c higher this week, various kinds of Utah lambs today at $7.10 to $7.65, some heavy lots at $7.15 to $7.75. Feeding lambs $6.25 to $6.50, ewes $3.00 to $4.00. Receipts have been light since Tuesday, and the week is closing strong.

GOOD REASON FOR HIS ENTUBIATION.
When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially in the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Turning Dull Months Into Record-Breakers

There's no excuse under the blue dome of heaven for a wide-awake resourceful merchant or manufacturer having a dull month—not as long as the columns of a newspaper with its thousands of readers who buy hats and shoes and coats and frocks, and homes and beds and food—are at your disposal.

Dull months are a "habit" and a "state of mind" more than anything else. They don't belong in the scheme of modern business economics.

There's always a way to get more business. There's always a way to stimulate sales. There's always a way to bring the buyers to your store or the orders to your desk. If you'll tell the public what you've got, tell it to them in the right way, and keep at it, you can turn the dulllest month in the year into a RECORD-BREAKER.

Go to the great buying public through The News Display Columns.

Go to them through The News Classified Ads.

Go to them through The News, the paper that has built up the largest circulation of any paper ever published in its territory.

Put every string. Use every resource. Develop every possible angle.

And your old fogy ideas of dull months will vanish like the morning mist. In this wonderful age there's NOTHING impossible to the man who works and thinks and ADVERTISES.

Lots of it in Twin Falls, But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed; not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

GOOD telephone service depends largely upon mutual courtesy. The telephone is more useful to those who talk as if face to face, for civility removes difficulties and facilitates the promptest possible connections.

As in other intercourse, it often happens that two or more people wish to talk with the same person at the same time. Without courtesy confusion is inevitable, and the confusion is greater when the people cannot see each other.

The operators must be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet patience and politeness on the part of telephone users.

The Bell Telephone Service enters intimately into the social and business life of each individual. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

has been constructing a line railroad via the old Overland Road paper route, has become offended at Boise for inducing two rival railroads to build along his route and to give the business of the citizens of Caldwell making him to assert that there is no real reason why the Western Pacific will extend from Caldwell to Boise.

The Tribune is wrong. There is a real sure enough reason why the Western Pacific will not extend from Caldwell to Boise. The reason is Twin Falls. If any "extending" is done it will be from Twin Falls to Boise and then on to Caldwell.

A WORD OF COOPERATION

A farmer who lives west of Twin Falls noticed one or two of his hogs sick. He killed them, burned the remains and notified the state veterinarian. He was unable to understand the nature of the disease. None of his neighbors, he says, had the trouble on their ranches.

Living on the same place a quarter of a mile or so from a neighbor who has had sick hogs, it is said, for the past month. Had the warning sounded in these columns more than six weeks ago he would, in this instance of letting swine plague hang on for thirty days and thus, communicating other herds and spreading the disease would not have come to pass. The law reads that any man who has swine plague in his herd and fails to notify the state veterinarian, is guilty of an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment. And to have knowledge of swine plague in a neighbor's herd and fail to report it is likewise punishable by fine and imprisonment. It is the duty of every man keeping hogs to make it his business to know whether swine plague exists in his neighborhood, and to report it when found. Cooperation between the state veterinarian and every farmer on the tract owning hogs in this matter of reporting sick animals will stamp out the disease. And nothing else will. As long as this plague is not cleaned up there is no hope of profit in the raising or feeding of hogs on the Twin Falls tract.

THE PARDON OF ORCHARD

Harry Orchard, the many-times murderer, has applied through a Wisconsin business church association for a pardon from the Idaho penitentiary. In a general sense, penitentiaries do not exist for purposes of punishment. Their mission is to take up the stray misfits and, in the course of time, make smooth their rough corners so that they will harmonize with the general scheme of society.

Orchard was a sworn enemy of society. He wanted a "witness" and a reasonable warfare as any Indian savage. He took human life without giving his victim a single chance. After being prisoner he was made to realize the enormity of his crimes. Months of isolation from vicious men and the reading of good literature, it is claimed, has created in a thorough and complete change in Orchard's character.

Orchard is now at Caldwell for him, and that if released he would live to the end of his days a strong, useful member of society. There is another feature to consider, his release and its effect upon society. Orchard put under the men that he fancied were his enemies. He took the penitentiary "cure" and, if pardoned, would again be as free as any man in the nation. Other vicious criminals, having their spiritual act on Orchard's good fortune would be justified in envying the taking of his life, spending a few years in the keeping of the state, well fed, well housed and comfortably clothed.

Harry Orchard owes a debt to society. He owes his life to the state. He can best repay the obligation by remaining within the proper walls and by his daily example teaching thousands of lesser degree in man's wickedness of themselves even though it is a last ditch.

KNOWLEDGE AND HONESTY

The baseball grounds in a recent review of "The Game" in some towns the baseball grounds are being used for other things. The grounds are being used for other things. The grounds are being used for other things.

In other towns, the baseball grounds are being used for other things. The grounds are being used for other things. The grounds are being used for other things.

their intellects by criticizing everything that is done. There are many places where almost every one that attempts to do anything is made to feel himself a fool.

There are some people who enjoy the wagging of a free tongue better than a general advance in prosperity.

TIRED OF FROZEN WIND

For years no cooling function has been deemed properly conducted unless less in some form appeared on the menu of the midnight supper. The argument in favor of the frozen dainties was that dancing young people demanded coolness for their panting palates. And so, from time immemorial, shellfish, chocolate and strawberry ice cream and orange and lemon froze the "rummies" of society.

It is pleasant to note that at some notable social occasions this summer the caterers broke away from the time-honored custom and served instead eggs and toast and coffee. Moreover, this supper was really refreshing, as it followed hours of strenuous dancing of the popular athletic type.

Recently a dance given by one of the most lavish entertainers in New York society, lasted so far into the morning that buckwheat cakes and sausage were served to the dancers loaf to leave. The spectacle of men and women in the present style of evening attire, wrestling with syrup and gravy must have been exciting from the standpoint of entertainment.

While it was not stated that the purpose of the hostess was to chase her guests, certain it is that even the most ardent devotee of Terpsichore would not care to linger to indulge in the Tango or the One Step after such a meal at five in the morning. With considerable courtesy society has been invited to discontinue its dietary regimen, provided by caterers, in quest of propriety.

EXACT KNOWLEDGE VALUABLE

Objections are being raised by Paul and Gustafson farmers to the plan of the canal company and county commissioners appropriating money to provide an experimental farm near Twin Falls.

They are of the opinion that the benefits from such an institution would not be local but of any great benefit to the land as a whole. They are of the opinion that one of the chief reasons for the establishing of such a farm is to determine the exact amount of water required for an acre of land on the tract. Where they would be benefited in this they cannot see. The argument is advanced by them that should the experimental farm prove that this land will raise better crops with more water, the water could not be had, while on the other hand if it were proven that better crops could be raised with less water (which is no doubt true) some other irrigation system might cut out our water right.

An article from some one informed on the subject would be appreciated by the Herald, Paul Herald.

After carefully analyzing the foregoing the News agrees with the Herald—an article in its columns by some one informed on the subject OUGHT to be appreciated.

The Herald concludes that it is likely farmers are using too much water on their crops, but reasons it is better to keep right on doing so rather than run the risk of some one "contesting" the water right.

It is a reflection on the intelligence of a Twin Falls county farmer to state that he would pay a dollar in railway fare to visit an experimental farm and see side by side 500 plots in the kind of crops grown here for profit, each plot in wheat, for instance, given a different water application, to test it worth something for him to know under given weather conditions, what state of the plant's growth water should be applied, and the amount that will give the best result.

The fact that one farmer raised 60 bushels of wheat to the acre and his neighbor, under the same conditions, raised 50 bushels to the acre means that the extra 20 bushels, is a premium on knowledge possessed by the man who grew the extra, or else he just accidentally stumbled upon the right method.

Men who raise crops by irrigation KNOW that the yield and the quality of the product is governed by water. This being true, why is it not to their interest to KNOW EXACTLY how much water and when to apply it?

There is no occasion for farmers in the Twin Falls country to guess or to trust to luck. Farming is an exact science where the crop growing conditions may be controlled as they can be.

Lesson IX.—Second Quarter, For

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xiv, 4-17. Ministry Verses, 16, 17—Golden Text, Jas. v, 16—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Sizemore.

As much as Judah, the surety brother, plays a prominent part in today's lesson, it may be well to review some of the incidents of chapter xxviii and of that day when these men disposed of their brother Joseph, a sad seventeen years old man of whom they had actually heard nothing all those twenty years since.

They hated him because of his dreams in which his future prominence was foreshadowed, but now, after those many years, his dreams are being fulfilled and their guilt is being remembered.

Just what's lesson we saw there is happy in his presence, but it was because of their surroundings, the bond they knew him not. He had forgotten his sin for them, but they were not yet in a condition to receive his forgiveness.

There must be a confession of sin, and the deeper the help of His Saviour because they did not know themselves as sinners, for His name to save sinners, to seek and save the lost.

It came not to save those who are righteous in their own estimation. For such there is no Saviour. When He told any one to keep the commandments it was the law of love that they might convict them of sin (Rom. 7, 10). When He told the rich young ruler who thought that he had kept all the commandments that he had to sell all he had and give it away He was showing him that he was breaking the very first command by having another god, even his wealth.

For the Pharisee who with discontent varied, "did he intend to make a sinner," and the Pharisee's woman whose tears were quickly forgiven, and who was with him in repentance, we see this in Job xxxiii, 20, 23, where we read that all the dealings of God with man which are meant for that character are intended to turn men from death to life, from darkness to light. So, too, we gather from Rom. 12, 21; xvi, 18, that the fearful judgments of the day of retributions after the church shall have been taken away will be intended to lead some, if possible, to repentance.

In the light of these truths we may better understand Joseph's seemingly hard dealings with his brethren and his object in centering the matter upon Benjamin, his own peculiar brother, the son of his mother. Nothing would break them up like touching Benjamin. It is so now, and has always been so, that the seemingly most severe of God's dealings are all in love and the only way to reach hardened hearts.

If it were as the Pharisee and there come deep conviction and real penitence all is well. But "He that is often reproved hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy" (Prov. xix, 1). See Joseph's kindness in giving them all the cord they could carry, and in restoring every man his money (verse 1). The silver cup scheme was to touch them through Benjamin in a subtle way, and so it worked as we shall see.

They were not sorry any longer when they were overtake the next morning and each man's sack "retained" for the missing cup. Although each man's money was in his sack's mouth, they do not seem to have noticed that in their eagerness to show the impossibility of any of them stealing silver except that one who had been an kind to them (verses 8, 9). The search continued from the eldest to the youngest. "And the cup was found in Benjamin's sack" (verse 12). They sent their children and returned to the city and to the house of Joseph, for he was still there, and they fell before him on the ground (verses 12, 14). Thus for the third time they fulfilled the dream of which they had dreamed their brother told them, Gen. xxxvii, 29, 30.

Yet to this very day there are many who hate the predictions concerning the return of Christ in glory and laugh at those who believe such things. But the word stands concerning His return and His Kingdom, that to every knee shall bow (Ps. lxxii, 11; Isa. xlv, 23; Phil. ii, 10, 11) and will be absolutely certain that so it shall be, for the Bible is a book of certainties (Prov. xxii, 21; Luke i, 3-4). All that have ever lived shall bow to Him either in loving and reverent admiration or in fear and terror cast out of His presence because of their rejection of Him. Now, indeed, they are in a sore trouble, and Judah, the surety, exclaims: "What shall we say? What shall we speak? How shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants" (verse 16). Of what is he thinking? "The Lord is in Benjamin" and he is looking for his plan for Benjamin.

Reading from his plan for Benjamin, Judah and Benjamin, the child of his father, and his brother, referred to his friend Joseph who had been his father's favorite, and who had also been his father's favorite people when the blood-stained coat was brought to him. "Surely he will be born in prison" (verse 20), it says so in the prediction of the sin against which we have now passed. It is to be forgiven.

SOME TRICKS OF THE LOBBY GAME

Recent lobby investigations in Washington have revealed a number of good stories along that line, known only to a few at the time but now exploited for the benefit of the public.

Several years ago congress was considering the expediency of establishing a court for the trial of lobbyists.

opportunity personally visited each of the twelve towns—to each the made a proposition, through its board of trade, on a committee of citizens to consider in the matter of locating one of these courts, for a retainer of $25,000. The court was located there he was to receive a fee of $500; if not the retainer was all it would cost the community.

Somehow through some believing in the only and dealing with the lobbyist after he had secured a vote in Washington. This was the same time that the lobbyist was on familiar terms with the members of congress.

fact, this particular lobbyist did know any of the leaders of congress, and was not in good standing with anyone who really knew him. His bill had had from the trip was $2500 with expenses not exceeding $2500. When the four courts were located, secured the money and wrote articles and invited him a gift of $100,000, for which he probably had to make a single word to anyone in Washington.

It is to be found, or thought that we had, that our interests were best served when the public interests were best served; and we believe that such service as we have had has been because our business has been conducted on these lines.

Young Women

Read—what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Fairbault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble. A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work. For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION CLOSES

AN INTERESTING SESSION

Three Conventions to Be Held Next Year Instead of One for Entire State—Points Educated are Weiser, Idaho Falls and Twin Falls—Deputy Superintendent Chosen.

The Sunday school convention closed here Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church. It was well attended and those present enjoyed the interesting and most instructive and beneficial one.

Mrs. E. C. Knapp and Dr. W. A. Johnson were in charge of the convention. Mrs. Knapp called a "graded Sunday School" Dr. Johnson closed with an address on "How to Make Our Sunday Schools Larger and Better." There will be three state Sunday school conventions held next year, at Weiser, Idaho Falls and Twin Falls. Hereafter there has been one state convention, but it was thought a better plan to hold three conventions and have the same speakers address each convention.

At the evening session four additional departmental superintendents were chosen. They are as follows: C. H. Wilson, secondary department; J. C. Hauchamps, adult department; Mrs. Alice M. Gibbs, missionary department; J. P. Shepherd, evangelism.

An outstanding feature of the convention was the appearance of a young Laura Childs from Piler. They were several vocal selections and were accompanied by an orchestra from Piler.

been an economical move to have out on the peach-raising business.
The commissioners of Twin Falls county authorized the following resolutions regarding the importation of diseased peaches:
Whereas, It appearing on advice from Deputy Horticultural Inspector C. W. Brennan that the peach crop in the state of Utah is infected with fungus to such an extent as to make the fruit unfit for the Utah eating market;
Whereas, It further appearing that some growers of peaches in the state of Utah, not able to dispose of their crop to the country, are arranging to dispose of this infected fruit in Idaho, and
Whereas, It appears that this fungus disease of the peach baffles the efforts of the Department of Agriculture, the Utah Horticultural Department, from reliable advice, has not been able to successfully combat it. Now therefore Resolved, by the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, that, realizing as we do the importance of the Snake river valley of Southern Idaho as a peach-growing section and desiring the settlement of the fruit growers of Twin Falls county in the matter of raising and marketing fruit of superior quality and free from blemish, we do, in behalf of the tax-payers and the fruit-growers of said county hereby condemn the efforts of unscrupulous shippers in their attempt to ship into this section fruit infected with peach fungus, and we endorse to the fullest extent the action of Deputy Horticultural Inspector C. W. Brennan in refusing to allow peaches infected with fungus to be sold in this territory, and we request that his action in this matter be sustained by the State Horticultural Board.
