Twin Falls royally entertained the surrounding territory Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week by a splendid free-for-all carnival.

There was something doing every minute of the time. It was a first-class free-for-all carnival.

At one time a serious accident of a serious nature happened during the evening show. The account of this appears in another column.

The carnival was held as a celebration of a season of good health and bountiful crops. It was a first-class free-for-all carnival.

The parade Thursday afternoon was a surprise to every spectator. There were in all 1,600 of these coming men and women in the line of march.

When the last lot had passed along, there were many who wondered how the school buildings hold so many. And when the year of the school is through, according to past records there will be 500 additional registrations.

In the parade Friday were several blocks of automobiles and thirty motor cars. At least 500 of these were in the parade.

The weather prevailed throughout the entire celebration. The breeze of Wednesday night when the street decorations were brought to the ground were brought to the ground in a comfortable opening day, but the day passed into history as a model one.

It took work and lots of it by the committee in charge. It was a first-class free-for-all carnival.

The citizens are entitled to the heartfelt thanks of the citizens of the town.

BEAUTIFUL FLIGHT 1,000 FEET IN THE AIR

CONTINUES FLYING 30 MIN.

Dr. Frank Bell, noted Aeroplane Expert, sailed 85 Miles in Circles Over Heads of Spectators at Ball Park Yesterday—Lighted for Second Time in Spud Patch.

The first aeroplane flight ever made in Twin Falls county occurred yesterday afternoon at the ball park in the presence of a vast audience.

The start was made to the south of the grounds. The splendid machine sailed higher and higher until the mere outline of the machine were visible. A height of 1,000 feet was attained.

The final appearance of the operator and his machine was when he attempted to alight in the ball park. The speed was too great to permit a safe landing in the little park, and passing fifty feet above the heads of the spectators, the aeroplane sailed on westward and disappeared amid the house-tops.

The intention was to return and attempt landing in the park, but something went wrong with the engine and the stop was unexpectedly made in a spud patch west of town.

This is the second landing made by Dr. Bell in a potato field.

"The most spectacular landing I ever made," said Dr. Bell, "was at a former day celebration. They had a party about the size of the one here. I hit the ground at a fast clip, the machine tumbled through a high-board fence, and played havoc with the Japanese outside. I tore a tire hole in one of the tires and the engine quit. I had to disembark and the remainder of the happy home."

The conditions for the trip yesterday were all that could be desired. Frequently these bright, balmy days are the most dangerous. We run into unexpected "hot" patches, the wind rises and all these parts of things happen to change the calculations of the man in the air.

LIKES TWIN FALLS AND BUYS GROCERY

J. D. Cress, a well-known St. Louis, Missouri, business man, has purchased and taken possession of the grocery store owned and operated by G. B. McAuley and J. B. Glendon.

This establishment is located on South Main and carries a fine cash grocery. Mr. Cress wanted to get into a growing, prosperous country with a future to it and therefore picked Twin Falls.

PURE LUCK SAVES MAN FROM DEATH

E. N. Day and son, Lambert, narrowly escaped death at the home during evening. They were in the root cellar doing some repair work. The root was being jacked up by Mr. Day's Lambert was sent to the house for the ax, which was to be used in the work.

Scarcely had the lad gotten out of the cellar when the beam broke and let the roof, covered by five tons of earth, down. With the falling warning of a second, Day sprang towards the door, and luckily for him he got out immediately under a section of timber one end of which rested on the floor and the other on the side of the cellar.

AISHIE ADDRESSES LOCAL ODD FELLOWS

Chief Justice J. D. Aishie was guest of honor at the local Odd Fellows lodge last Sunday. There was to have been a picnic at the city park, but weather conditions made such an event impossible. The basket dinner was held at the local hall.

After the dinner George Schwab, president of the meeting, J. W. Thompson delivered the address of welcome. J. H. Wino introduced the speaker of the day, Judge Aishie, deputy grand master and the next grand master of Idaho Odd Fellows.

"Old Fellowship" was the subject of Judge Aishie's address. He gave a splendid statement of the history of the order from its beginning down to the present day. Such meetings as these are of the greatest value to the minds of the members a realization of the real part that a fraternal order plays in the human scheme of things, and the net result is a better attendance and better interest in the lodge.

THE FIRE LADDIES PUT OUT A BLAZE

The fire company made a spectacular run last evening at 7:30 up Shoshone to a point opposite the saw house, where a huge pile of boxes had been piled and fired. The run was a fast one and the connections were quickly made. The ladders were in setting the water turned on.

Both sides of the street were lined for two blocks by spectators, who entertained themselves by yelling "Fire" and calling for water on the hose was in place.

After the "raging flames" had been put out of business the band entertained the crowd. Several vocal solos were rendered by the Apollo club.

"After the concert the band moved to the corner of Main and Shoshone and furnished music for the dancers. The street for a half block was turned out and handed for the convenience of the dancers.

Everything was free and without price, and the guests of the city had nothing but happy reminiscences of which to complain.

CLOSES MIDST A BLAZE OF GLORY

The closing hours of the day, festal occasion will be this evening. The air will be filled with laughter, music and content.

At the hour of eight the Great Chief Ohadi will for the first time this year make his appearance. A dramatic parade in his honor has been arranged. At this will appear the most marvelous creations of human hands.

All the heroes of history and famous characters of mythology will mingle on the pavement of Twin Falls, a weaving, dancing, heterogeneous, pleasure-loving people.

Accompanied by war-whoops perhaps as blood-curling as in days of old when the Ohadi tribe avenged the slaying of their brothers, they will lead the cry of the tumult of battle. Instead of the poisoned, burning arrows and tomahawks sent hurtling through the air will fly the harmless confetti, lighting alike on the just and the unjust.

At midnight the thanksgiving celebration will close and the Great Chief Ohadi will retire to his temple in the fastness of the canyon of the Snake, where he will slumber for another year.

In Society.—The Amosa class of the Baptist Sunday school held a reception in honor of Miss Leona Kinney, who leaves in a few days for Nebraska, where she becomes assistant to the pastor in one of the churches. The event was also the third anniversary of the organization of the class.

Special speakers scheduled for addresses are: H. W. Smith, of Pocatello; Miss Isabelle Crawford, of Chicago; Dr. C. T. Cook, Spokane; G. I. White, Portland; L. B. Bowman, Salt Lake City; Miss Carrie Millspaugh, Portland; L. Clark, Helena, Montana.

A splendid pennant will be awarded to the delegates representing the town whose combined mileage is the greatest.

Judge Dietrich will be president of the convention and W. H. Willey, of Pocatello, vice president.

The work of a Baptist convention is very similar to that of a Methodist conference, except that at the convention there is no assigning of pastors to their respective locations.

City Excited by a Sensational Arrest

Police Court Jammed to Sidewalk by Eyewitnesses of Bloody Encounter—Experts Testify While Lawyers Dattle for Client's Life—Decision Taken Under Adversity by Judge Smith.

Did "Kelley" show his teeth in a threatening manner and hiss through thin curtains and inmates that no self-respecting dog could stand, and did "Tige" rush through the screen door, and valiantly defend his honor and integrity, or did "Kelley" merely make a bluff and in the language of the law "ask for the money and go on" and "Tige's" disposition to slay that the neighborhood and good cheer of "Kelley" grated on his dissipated nerves to such an extent that he murderously attacked his caller.

This is the weighty problem that Judge Smith is spending the entire day in solving.

The whole story is, "Kelley," a well known and popular Twin Falls man, who has been arrested in front of the Dow establishment. A fight resulted that brought man running for two blocks. The innocent bystanders separated the dogs and, owing to their activity in doing some additional separation, prevented additional fighting.

"Kelley" swore to a warrant charging "Tige" with assault with intent to kill. Chief of Police Thompson ordered Judge Smith a well known criminal lawyer, locally represented the defendant.

In addition to the eye witnesses of the fight, A. C. Christensen, who has been named expert witness, was called to appear before the trial by Ashton, were as follows: He wouldn't have a flea. He was walking peacefully along the sidewalk as "Tige" rushed out to disfigure "Kelley" in a very bad manner and only his timely retreat saved him from a "Tige" attack. "Tige" is a dog that has a growth on his chest said to be a very malignant. "Kelley" is a mischievous, malicious, vicious animal and will kill unless he is killed.

"Kelley" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog.

"Tige" was asleep and "Kelley" awakened him. What the intruder said, "Tige" is a dog that has a growth on his chest said to be a very malignant. "Kelley" is a mischievous, malicious, vicious animal and will kill unless he is killed.

"Kelley" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog. "Tige" is the vicious dog.

The girl of the testimony of the eye witnesses was that it was a fine dog fight.

On page 3 is announced a meeting of the citizens of the city for the next Saturday evening. It will be held at the big room occupied by the Commercial Club.

Barnes' Big Three-Ring Trained Animal Circus

The education of animals has been an interesting study, and the control mind of man over beast treatment always one of admiration.

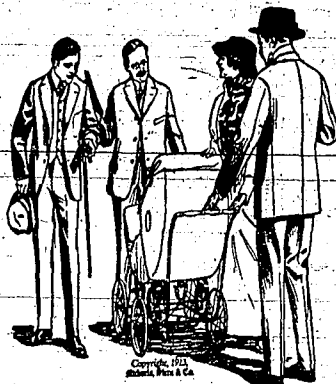

When the celebrated Al G. Barnes' three ring trained Wild Animal Show comes here, people will have an opportunity never before offered to see the finest collection of trained animals ever placed on exhibition. They are not the animals that have been educated with the cruel whip of one not trained in the general acceptance of the term, but are educated by fearless male and female trainers. They seem proud of what they can do, and appreciate the applause as much as the most vain artist. Barnes' Animal Circus has been seen in all the leading cities, and in every one they have been accorded the palm for their level and perfect organization. Col. Barnes is as well known throughout the show world as any show man, and the very fact that it is under his personal supervision is a guarantee that it will be up to the highest standard.

Among the special features will be: Maudie Thornton, introducing "Nero," the African lion, who rides a white running horse; Capt. Stonehall's educated sea lions; "Florence," the French animal trainer, and her group of Persian leopards, lions and panthers; Thornton's 12 Siberian bears; Emery's Siamese ologhans; Dolly Castle, dancing in a group of lions; Ad- bel Stark and her royal Bengal tigers; "Rampson," the aviatron lion; "Blondie," the rope-walking Sheikland pony; "The Little Four," lion, bear, monkey and dog, on aviation stalleons; Callahan's goats, dogs and baboons; Morrow's famous pointer; Banta's zebra, rufus and sacred cattle; high school horses, the finest draught horses on earth; Toto Ducroc, the famous clown, with ten other fun-making assistants, making a host of big-class sensational attractions.

Barnes' military band of 30 artists give free concerts daily, one hour before the big show begins; magnificent waterproof tennis give ample protection to all patrons; no gambling games of any nature permitted. Col. Barnes has a polite corps of ushers, so that ladies and children, who are without escorts, will receive special attention.

Two performances daily, twin o'clock, at 2 and 8 o'clock p. m. The street parade takes place at 10:30 a. m.

TO FORCE UNIFORM RAILWAY SIGNALS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—The recent horrible disaster on the New Haven railroad which resulted in the death of 21 persons, again calls attention to some of the vital needs of the transportation question.

Representative French, of Idaho, has had pending for several months a bill requiring all railroads to adopt a uniform code of signals for the operation of all trains, and while Mr. French's bill has received much support, it looks as though the terrible disaster on the New Haven line would possibly constitute the necessary object lesson to force the measure through.

Mr. French says there can be no legitimate reason advanced why all railroads throughout the United States should not have a uniform system of signals instead of each railroad having a system of its own. "In one instance that I could point out the crew of a train running from Spokane, Washington, to Portland, Oregon, are required to follow five different codes of signals in making a trip and bear in mind the particular trackage over which the train is running at every moment."

"A signal which means 'go ahead' in one place ought not to mean 'stop' a few miles further along the road after a particular station shall have been passed."

Turning Dull Months Into Record-Breakers

There's no excuse under the blue dome of heaven for a wide-awake resourceful merchant or manufacturer having a dull month—not as long as the columns of a newspaper with its thousands of readers who need hats and shoes and coats and frocks and homes and beds and food—are at your disposal.

Dull months are a "habit" and a "state of mind" more than anything else. They don't belong in the scheme of modern business economics.

There's always a way to get more business. There's always a way to stimulate sales. There's always a way to bring the buyers to your store.

Go to the orders to your desk. If you'll fill the public what you've set out to them in the right way, and keep at it, you can turn the dulllest month in the year into a RECORD-BREAKER.

Go to the great buying public through The News Display Columns.

Go to them through The News Classified Ads.

Go to them through The News, the paper that has built up the largest circulation of any paper ever published in its territory.

Pull every string. Use every resource. Develop every possible angle. And your old tired ideas of dull months will vanish like the morning mist. In this wonderful era there's NOTHING impossible to the man who works and thinks and ADVERTISES.

GOOD telephone service depends largely upon mutual courtesy.
The telephone is more useful to those who talk as if face to face, for civility removes difficulties and facilitates the promptest possible connections.
As in other intercourse, it often happens that two or more people wish to talk with the same person at the same time. Without courtesy confusion is inevitable, and the confusion is greater when the people cannot see each other.

The operators must be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet patience and politeness on the part of telephone users.

The Bell Telephone Service enters intimately into the social and business life of each individual. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

THE PROMINENCE OF ATHLETICS

To many social moralists, the athletic field looms too big in the American horizon. The pages of sporting news and gossip fill out daily by the press seem not merely froth, but a positive obstruction to all serious thought.

... Many tedious hours thus pass, while the titans of the ball field are struggling before his maddened eye. It must indeed be a ludicrous philosophy that would deny this diversion to the workman.

THE END OF THE BRONCHO RUSTLER

It has commonly been predicted that the Western cow puncher would be an extinct and historic figure by the year 1920. Plainman says that by that time there will not be a single cattle ranch in the United States containing 1,000 acres, unless present tendencies change.

Here a peculiar interest attaches to the removal of the broncho type that still persists. It is pleasant to note that at Pendleton, Oregon, broncho busting and cow punching, championship contests have been run off with a few days. For a few years these events will be one of the most interesting features of western life.

Afterward, broncho busting will exist as a circus stunt. The paid work of the traveling acrobat will have little likeness to the freckled darlings and gay-hardhood of the real cowboy.

A bronco busting contest displays human skill, daring and endurance at a very high point. Many of these wicker lid beasts will turn a complete somersault, with the rider clinging to the saddle. The cowboy never seems to mind if a horse falls on him. Even he gets a broken leg, he will climb into the plowing saddle again.

When a cattle range is set up into hog pastures or garden plots there is an economic gain. The change is necessary to feed the people. The "neater" or "woolly," as the plainman call the small stock farmer, establishes churches and schools and settled civilization.

The physical courage and quick resourcefulness of the cowboy in moments of danger are not acquired by those who pursue the more stolid and sober arts of the fenced farm. Civilian gains on the whole, but some heroic traits fade away.

CARNIVALS AND BUSINESS

Twin Falls has had two carnivals within the past four months. The local people were entertained. Very few from outside points were drawn to the town. On the days devoted to the carnivals there was little business.

... With the possible exception of hotels, restaurants and lodging houses, the carnival days were the poorest of the year from the standpoint of business. And it has taken some time to recover for the carnival.

There is talk of a permanent county fair. A permanent county fair, with buildings, race track and all that, will win out in ten years. No man should invest a dollar in a permanent county fair unless he is prepared to play the game to the finish.

What Twin Falls should do in the fair line is a good old-fashioned street fair. String up and down the center of the principal streets the exhibits from Twin Falls and ranch. The "tumbler" is merely tucked together and it is not seriously injured. The expense for damages thus incurred is light.

It is pointed out that the board of equalization is raising through direct taxation $24,238.73 more this year than was similarly raised in 1912, and an attempt is being made to use this amount for extravagance and waste of public money.

People Should Have the Facts. It is my belief that the people should be fully informed in this matter so that they may know the exact status of the question and be able to decide for themselves whether or not the state government has been economical and businesslike in its operations.

In Colorado hundreds of people travel for 300 miles or more to take in the Greenwood Springs strawberry day. "Watermelon day" at the Rockford fair brings thousands all the way from the "Lamb" day at Fort Collins.

A street fair at Twin Falls, with a peach-and-cream day would draw a hundred visitors where an aeroplane brings in one. Let's have the street fair next year.

WENDELL IDAHO, SEPT. 24

The school tax of this district for the coming year has been fixed at $140, on the 1000 valuation. Of this amount, 40 cents goes for wages, 30 cents for interest and 70 cents for general purposes. The monthly payroll is made as follows: wages, $412; teacher, $404; janitor, $35; clerk, $12.50. The state and county levy is $130. The village levy has been fixed at $10.

GOVERNOR-HAINES MAKES STATEMENT

In an "Open Statement to the People of Idaho on the State Tax Levy" issued on Friday, Governor Haines submits facts and figures that will be of interest to every taxpayer in the state. In this signed statement he says:

Why Statement is Made. "The announcement by the board of equalization of the state levy and the amount which will have to be raised this year by direct taxation from the various counties, has been made the occasion by the opposition newspapers for a declaration that the present administration has failed to redeem its promises in the matter of giving the people an economical, business administration of state affairs."

It is pointed out that the board of equalization is raising through direct taxation $24,238.73 more this year than was similarly raised in 1912, and an attempt is being made to use this amount for extravagance and waste of public money.

People Should Have the Facts. It is my belief that the people should be fully informed in this matter so that they may know the exact status of the question and be able to decide for themselves whether or not the state government has been economical and businesslike in its operations.

What Legislature Did

"For instance, the legislature, at the peoples wish, it must be presumed, created a public utilities and tax commission for whose expenses during the current year we were forced to provide 40,000 not previously provided. It also created a state board of education, for which we have had to provide $40,000 not previously provided. It appropriated $7500 to pay for a silver service for the battle ship Idaho, an obligation coming from the previous administration, and $100,000 for the expenses of a state exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition, all of which under the terms of the law must be available within the next year.

... increased elsewhere or met from the increased revenues earned by the various departments, it is believed that the administration which has brought such a result about is fairly entitled to the credit of having been both economical and businesslike.

What the People Gain

"In other words, this administration is making it possible for the people to have a public utilities and tax commission—costing for this year $40,000, a state board of education costing $100,000, to pay an old debt of $75,000 for a silver service for the battle ship Idaho, to place an exhibit at San Francisco costing $100,000, to expand their charitable, penal and educational institutions the increased sum of $121,824.10, and to pay the whole additional bill, aggregating $258,224.10, by raising through direct taxes the small additional sum of $24,238.73."

"I doubt if our people will ever ask or expect any state administration to make a better record than this."

KIMBERLY NEWS

Potatoes are quoted at eighty cents per bushel here by W. Kimberly. T. W. McClain had a potato crop on Geo. Tuttle's place just west of Kimberly that made 1500 sacks on five acres. He got 302 sacks per acre. Selling at eighty cents per hundred it made the crop bring over $240 per acre. Such crops make the pea and corn crop business look small in comparison.

Potato growers are paying five cents per sack for having potatoes picked for about 300 sacks they are turned out by the digger. Some of them are becoming experts and making good wages—the record so far this year for one man in a day has been $123. H. L. Brandt, of Nampa, has been here several days looking after his crop interests on his place southeast of town.

The lumber yards are busy these days as many of the farmers are now building new homes and barns. Mrs. J. Pearson had a public sale Monday of Hays stock. The stock sold well, cows bringing as high as $102.

H. P. Larson and N. Larson, of Rock Creek, were Monday visitors on business. Grain is moving nicely now and many of the ranchers are storing the crop for high prices. The top price here is $1.05 for wheat.

The beet crop will begin to move about the first of October. W. F. Breckton will attend to the weighing here for the company. Mr. Buck, of Near Hill, has been appointed janitor in the schools here in place of J. E. Severance, who resigned. Mr. Diakeloff, of west of Twin Falls, is in this neighborhood with his sheep. Mr. Stoolmiller, of Kansas, a brother of the one living north of Kimberly, expects to arrive in a few days with a new clove muller and will immediately begin work in order that the farmers may get their crops hulled better than heretofore.

Wm. Tanner has moved into the house just vacated by W. T. Hardin. All the houses in Kimberly are now filled and others still looking for location. The fruit-growers association has rented the lower story of the old Hall building and will grow apples and other fruits for the eastern market.

R. G. Wilson, of Omaha, is expected to visit Kimberly some time in October. There is a shortage of refrigerator cars as usual at this time of year. The care of potatoes are piled in the warehouse awaiting cars in which shipment can be made. This is a good case for the public utility to look into before the freezing weather causes the farmers several thousands of dollars damage.

A new boy is reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. Stutgen, and the butcher is all smiles these days.

THROWN UNDER THE WAGON AND KILLED

Runaway Team Drags Fremont County Farmer to His Death—Stepped of Wagon Tongue and Thrown Under Wagon—Mother and Brother Survive Him.

SUGAR CITY, Idaho, Sept. 19.—Hans Hansen was thrown under a wagon this afternoon by a runaway team and almost instantly killed. Hansen had just finished unloading grain from his wagon. A neighbor had some trouble and Hansen stepped on the wagon tongue and the team started to run. Hansen lost his balance, fell under the wheels and was unconscious when picked up. He lived only a few minutes before he died. Hansen, mother of the deceased, lives in the old country and had a brother, a resident at Lewick, Nevada. He is said to have distant relatives residing in the Twin Falls county.

STRAWSTACK FIRE THREATENED OUTFIT LIKE MOVING PICTURE SCENE

Pile of Straw Jam Up Against Separator Takes Fire—Engine Hitched on and Outfit Jerked Out as Flames Reach the Stack—Theed Grain Carried to Safety and Ground Flooded to Save Stacked Wheat.

The marvelous work of W. O. Myers and his men in saving their thrashing outfit from destruction last Wednesday when the strawstack at the J. B. Steiner ranch caught fire, had any movie show boasted a city block for fuel and thrilling incidents.

There is nothing that burns much faster than loose straw with a mild wind blowing. The strawstack caught from the engine, and in no time was a seething mass of flames. Myers amid much excitement ordered the engine hitched to the separator. The men, shielding themselves from the heat as best they could, grabbed hold and assisted in getting the separator out of harm's way and then hauled the sacks of wheat out of range of the fire.

A good head of water was turned on from the canal and the ground flooded, preventing the spread of fire in the stack yards and field. Owing to the fast, intelligent work there was no loss outside of the straw.

REVIEW

The Labor Market—There are just about enough men wanting work to supply the demand. Spud pickers are the staple jobs just now. They go at $3 per day and found. The swiftness in this line contrasted at five cents the sack. Regular farm hands get $10 to $15 per month. By the year the scale calls for $35 per month.

W. C. T. U. Convention—The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in their annual state convention at Twin Falls during the coming week.

Read a Quitter—According to papers filed at the court house, George Reed took out himself a wife over in Basin, Wyoming, October 4, 1909. He was a pretty good sort of a fellow for a year or two. He deserted his wife, Mrs. Nellie Reed, a little over a year ago. Not only did he leave her to make her own living, but he put in some nasty licks in circulating reports about her, all of which she alleges were absolutely false, and, being so, they caused her grievous sorrow. Reed himself, so the papers say, flew around with the young ladies just like he was a single man. He courted and made love promiscuously and Mrs. Reed hasn't the slightest doubt in the world that her husband has been guilty of things that will give her a divorce. She asks for absolute divorce and the custody of "Harriet," a three-year-old son.

Married—Miss Carolina Patrick and Ralph Larson, both of Buhl, were married Wednesday at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Woodhull performed the ceremony at 10 a. m. They will reside at Buhl. Frank Atkins and Miss Clara Wilson, both of Buhl, were granted a license to wed.

Guests from California—Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons stopped off here on their way home to Imperial Valley, California, to visit a brother, George W. Parsons.

Home Consumption, Claimed—Bert Chaney and W. A. Pitney were bound over to the district court on bootlegging charges. J. E. Healy waived hearing. Ben Ward and Henry Haynes have their hearings today. In each of the cases, the defense is made that the stuff was for personal use. One defendant says he had a wife and he was going to put in a pint and half-pint bottles and store it away so that ago would add to it. Hearty.

Methodists Meet—The ladies of the Social League meet this afternoon with Mrs. C. E. at 419 Third avenue west.

WHEN A WOMAN WILL SHE WILL AND WHEN SHE WON'T SHE WON'T

"When a woman will she will, and when she won't she won't, and you may depend on it," holds true about this style business.

The Idaho club women, among other organizations, recently passed the strongest kind of resolutions condemning the slit skirt, the X-ray gown, and all the power creations in cloth.

And forthwith all the ladies called for last year's styles—Navy-cad, "A lot of people have the idea," said a leading Main street dealer, "that new styles are originated singly to sell goods. Nothing is farther from the truth.

"Styles grow. They are based on historical records. Take the Balkan war. In three months Bulgarian blouse creoles the globe because people sympathized with the Balkans in their war on the Turks. The artists who designed the styles felt the pulse of the people. They went to art galleries and from the paintings depicting Balkan warriors, brought out the Bulgarian styles. A few years back it was the queen's jubilee.

"Styles are not artificial. They are a natural growth. The slit skirt is what it is simply because the blouse skirt was not practical. The blouse skirt came into popularity because of the war made on the long, trailing gown that swept up all the space from the streets.

"In New York, where the slit skirt started, such a furor, thousands of the best dressed ladies pass and red men on the street and the slit skirt never attracts a second glance. The styles of today are the most sensible since the day when the most was the proper caper. I am sure that none of us would want to see the blouse skirt in preference to the dress.

"Another thing is the corset. Women do not now lace as they used to. They fit their corsets as they do a shoe. The wearing is beneficial. I can point out a great many men who would be helped from wearing corsets.

"It makes no difference whether the individual be queen or peasant, or where the place of abode may be, or what style is followed. A new fashion style the first season, more than along the second season, and in and everyone without exception.

WORRY AND HURRY

There are two little demons we have to combat. And their names are Worry and Hurry.

They play the deuce with our nerves and all that. But still we keep on with our hurry. We hurry through breakfast, then off like a shot.

We worry through work till the end of the day. We hurry through dinner, after which, like as not, We hurry again to be off to a "play."

We hurry the baby as fast as we can. Kindergarten and high school and college, you bet. And race through in our hurry to make him a man.

Till his hair is a jumble, his nerves all upset. Then we wonder why half of the world's inefficient. As we rampage along in our hurry, I am sure this very good reason's sufficient.

It is due to our Worry and Hurry. Do you think, after all, it is worth what we pay.

In nervous prostration and numbness till? Why can't we take time to live, day by day. For truly and surely it's Hurry that kills.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engles, of Fairbault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

THE CARDUI Women's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble. A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work. For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

ODGEN LEADS IN CLOSE SERIES

In the seventh and final game of the series, Odgen took a lead in the third inning and never was overtaken by the Maglens. The final result gave the visitors one game to the good in the series. This was the first series lost on the home grounds during the past season.

The spectacular feature of the game Monday was the hit-by-Davis, the second baseman of the Odgen team. Davis never got a hit during the entire series until Sunday, when with two men on bases he lammed out one that resulted in three scores.

A great crowd witnessed the contest and stayed until the last man up struck out by Twin Falls, in the vain hope that the ability of the local team to hit the pitcher would at least make the score closer.

Running back and neck for the series of baseball games here are the Odgen, Utah, league team and the Twin Falls champions of Idaho.

Twin Falls after the closest kind of a contest took the opening game. Odgen in the afternoon evening contest in which they triumphed something that no team has ever had the record of doing—holding the locals scoreless.

Yesterday with their usual morning luck the Maglens took the lead in the third inning and held it until the end of the final inning, the score being 6 to 6.

The afternoon game was a thriller one from start to finish. Armed with force for the locals and received right-edge support, barring one inning, when the second baseman temporarily lost the count between the throwing hand and his head. With the ball charged firmly in his right hand he waved it round and round before him, and finally the Odgenite trotted from third home, bringing in the fifth and winning score.

Three balls in the last half of the traditional ninth filled the bases with one out. Two men were sent home by clean-cut hits. The third man was out when a well-timed ball put the home run at first.
