

TRICOUNTY FAIR AMAZES

FIRST ANNUAL EVENT ON NORTH SIDE PROVES A BIG SUCCESS

Lincoln, Minnesota and Gooding Counties, also via with each other in exhibiting products of the field and farm.

The people of the north side tract of the Greater Twin Falls district, during the past week have witnessed a most successful and well-kept exposition...

Visitors wandering through the large tents and examining the exhibits expressed themselves as feeling like one in a dream who sees everything twice, and many times more...

One of the most interesting and instructive displays of the fair was that of potatoes from the government experimental potato and sugar beet farms located near Gooding...

The space allotted for the display of livestock was inadequate for the demands, it being necessary to keep some of the horses in the iverly barns during the night.

The exhibit that drew probably more interest from the general public than any of the other exhibits...

The domestic science and art exhibit would have been a credit to a much larger fair than that held by the Tri-county association.

Some good races were run each of which proved a good amusement for the people. The events consisted of half mile trotting, half mile running, half mile pacing, quarter mile green harness racing by horses never started before, one mile run, and pony racing, with a total of $395 in purses.

COURT OPENS WITH HEAVY CIVIL DOCKET

NINETEEN CRIMINAL CASES ARE SCHEDULED FOR THIS TERM

Applications Will Be Made for Naturalization—Many Interesting and Important Causes Will Be Considered—Seven Divorces Are Asked.

Court convened Monday morning with a heavy docket up for consideration. Sixteen cases in all are scheduled, 10 of them being criminal, seven divorce, and 41 civil suits.

The docket reads State of Idaho vs. W. H. Connors, attempted mayhem. Mrs. Ed Botis, exhibiting deadly weapon.

A divorce, grand larceny (2). Charley Janka and J. S. Kirkbride, receiving stolen property. J. E. Henley, maintaining nuisance.

Civil suits: Klunze vs. Weaver; T. F. Hank & Trust Co. vs. Palace Meat Market; Sams & Bluff vs. Hamm, larceny.

One of the most interesting and instructive displays of the fair was that of potatoes from the government experimental potato and sugar beet farms located near Gooding...

The Tri-county Fair association is planning to hold the second annual fair next year, the time and place to be determined by the board of directors.

It is not hard for an old settler, once he has been established in a new district, just struggling out of the sagebrush, can put on such a fair as that just held at Jerome.

Five silver cups were awarded, as follows: For best county exhibit, Lincoln county; for best district exhibit in Gooding county, Bluff district; for best district exhibit in Lincoln county, Jerome district; for best district exhibit in Gooding county, Bluff district; best individual agricultural exhibit, D. C. MacVatters, Overbrook district.

NEWS PHONE 32

One of the losses of the News, by the removal of its plant, was its old phone number.

By long association "29" had become to be looked upon as part of the machinery and re-ordered as a member of the office staff.

As the new number does not appear in a new directory, subscribers and friends will please take note that the News phone is now 32.

A comprehensive history of Idaho is shortly to be issued, and in order that the Twin Falls country might have adequate representation, the secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial club has prepared an historical sketch for the book, and it is published herewith:

The conception of the Twin Falls country as an irrigation project is due to A. D. Fiske, a talented engineer, who organized a company called the Idaho Irrigation and Reclamation Co. in 1892.

The village form of government was in effect until April 1, 1907, when by petition a charter for a city of the second class was granted and the first city election was held.

The growth of Twin Falls has been marvelous. From the age group of 1895 we now have a population of 8,000. Our schools are the pride of the city, the buildings and equipment are the finest in the state.

While it is true that we are now, this very fact enables us to have a much larger and more improved water supply than we have had in the past.

The first electric flow mill belonging to the Twin Falls Milling & Elevator Co. fifteen physicians are in the city, and the Twin Falls hospital is one of the best in the state.

RED CLOVER, GOOD CROP Red clover is a good crop to raise according to a statement by the Idaho Herald to the effect that J. E. Blacklock, living north of Elmer, threatened to burn down seven acres of red clover for more than enough to pay for the land.

COUNTY TO SEND CAR FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

MRS. BERTHA NOEL SUPERINTENDS

County School Superintendent Will Give Fair Exhibits to State Society—Will Observe Thanksgiving Week, Oct. 12-13.

Thanksgiving Week for the benefit of the Children's Home Society is being observed throughout Twin Falls county from October 12 to 13. This effort is being superintended by Miss Bertha Noel, county superintendent of schools.

The Home is looking for such favors. It has been the practice that in the home school, and Mrs. Noel's offer was accepted.

The car was decorated with suggestive banners from the various schools and was much admired as it transited. The Home papers were enthusiastic about the enterprise of the Fremont county people.

HOT TAR CAUSES SCARE

Fire Department Wrestles With Small Blaze at Laclede Building

NORTHWEST FRUIT IS IN BIG DEMAND

ENTIRE CROPS ARE BEING PURCHASED ON CASH BASIS IN WASHINGTON

Situation at Wenatchee, Where Entire Crop is Sold, Evinces Good Market for Idaho, Oregon, and Washington Fruit.

The activity of foreign fruit buyers in Twin Falls at this time is another evidence of the increasing demand for northwestern fruit. The following report from Bellingham, Washington, is of interest to local fruit growers.

The apple deal is practically closed for 1913, for the Wenatchee crop, 85 to 95 per cent of the crop remaining, but what has either been bought outright or signed up with some selling agency. Three weeks ago the situation was one of chaos.

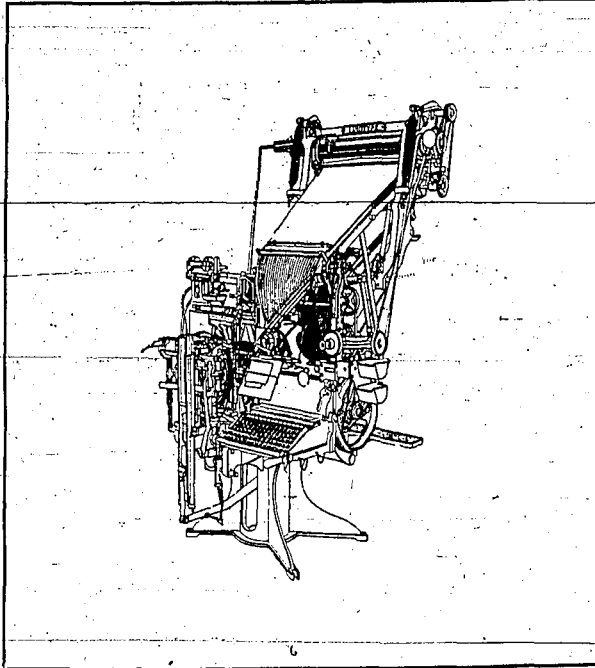

Never before in the history of the valley has so much cash been invested in the fruit market. The Carrol investigation reveals that for one-fourth the apples produced in the Wenatchee district this year have already been bought under contract to pay cash on delivery at the cars.

Cash buyers in the last two weeks have established minimum prices for the season. J. M. Wade, who came here a few days ago through the instrumentality of the Carrol investigation, has bought 30 tons of crops for cash. His prices are better than $1.25 orchard-run, and he has been buying in quantities of 100 tons at $1.50 per ton; Jonathans, $1.25.

These figures show the value of the Wenatchee crop this year to be $2,000,000. One-fourth of this brought some $500,000 in the market. That means that 750,000 bushels will bring the gross $750,000, cash within the next 60 days. Fully 2,000 carloads will be shipped through agencies and dealers whose average advance has been 70 cents a box, amounting to $1,000,000. This means that this valley will have received a cash advance of $1,000,000 in cash before Thanksgiving time.

Small Blaze at Laclede Building A barrel of tar that was being cooked in the alley at the rear of the Laclede building on Shoshone street last Wednesday morning, it overflowed and started to run through the grating into the basement, and at the same time the tar was being poured into the alley.

Shifting the Scenery

SUCH is the work in which nature is now engaged—and the change is not without its joy and compensation. The season of growth is past and bountiful harvests are gathered. The tapestries of green are being replaced by the sombers of autumn. The birds are seeking more genial climates. The bee with ample stores has retired to its winter home. The leaves having fulfilled their missions, are dropping from their branches, but the work of turning the gathered sap into woody fibre goes on, and when spring returns the tree will be one ring larger.

And all this man finds to his own advantage as he adjusts himself to the changed conditions. The porch is exchanged for the fire-side, the putty shelves are filled with the fruits of farm and orchard, and the family reunited, after summer outings, enters into the joys of autumn and winter evenings around the library table or hearth-fire of home. Father with his pipe, mother with her needle, the children with their books and games—what fairer picture can summer produce? Nature has many beautiful pictures painted on earth, sea and sky, but what beauty can match the picture of the happy, contented home?

Patriotic Songs in Public Schools

IN the mad rush of every-day life some things very necessary to the preservation of good government are sadly overlooked. And one of the most important of these is patriotism. There are times when the wisp of patriotic banners low and its lamp needs re-filling.

The superintendent of the Portland public schools has happily hit upon the true source of revival. He has ordered that the pupils be taught at least three patriotic songs each year. The three songs selected by Superintendent Alderman to be taught this year are "America," "The Star Spangled Banner," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." This is beginning at the right place—in the public schools—and using the right means.

The American spirit that breathes in every line of those grand old songs, drilled into the minds and hearts of our youth, will soon bring rich results. And not too soon has the superintendent of the Portland schools struck the patriotic chord. For it may not be known to everybody just what there are those who pose as American citizens, but who owe allegiance to a foreign potentate, beseeching legislators in many states to eliminate the use of these same patriotic songs, not only in the public schools, but in all public gatherings. If America is to remain American, the American people must see to it that the spirit of the curriculum taught in the school room corresponds to the spirit of the stars and stripes that float over the school buildings.

Religious Campaign

THE local pastors are to be congratulated in their effort to arouse a deeper interest in religious things. "If there is any strength," Twin Falls should expect great results from the united efforts being made by the various churches during this month. And yet the result in the end will depend upon how far the people will respond to the call of the ministry. Remembering the origin of the church, its mission, and what it has accomplished in the world, it seems strange that this special effort has to be made. But since it is true, that these special efforts are necessary, it will well repay it, the various churches are crowded next Sabbath. It should be remembered that these local pastors utter up year before a congregation exhausted by the toil of the week, and it requires superhuman effort at times to plant religious truth in minds and hearts fatigued by life's hardships. If the people want to encourage and assist hard-worked men, they will fill our churches during the fall and winter. There is inspiration in eager, expectant faces, but no inspiration in empty pews.

Theodore Roosevelt--Missionary

THEODORE ROOSEVELT started last week to conquer South America, and for a time at least he will be absorbed in the study of his contractors, chimpanzees, howls, and other harmless pets to be found in the jungles of the southern half of the continent. Whether or not these become converts to the Roosevelt doctrine time alone can tell.

Like his East African trip, the South American journey is undertaken with the Colonel proposing to make it one of many aspects aside from pleasure.

His chief interest probably lies in the proposed penetration of the interior of Brazil with a party of fellow naturalists under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History, but the earlier part of the six months which he will spend in South America will be devoted to addresses on American Democracy, which he has been invited to deliver before universities and other bodies.

A trip into Patagonia to visit an out-of-the-way mission, and two crossings of the continent to Santiago de Chile and back to Buenos Ayres, will be other features of his journey.

Daring Air Voyage

NOW that a young Frenchman, Roland G. Garros, has crossed the Mediterranean, a distance of 650 miles, by aeroplane, aerial travel, that was thought only a short time ago would buffet the genius and courage of man, is accepted as a settled fact. The trip was made last week in eight hours, at a high altitude, with a speed of seventy miles an hour, and is regarded as a remarkable example of sustained flight. The French people are not only proud to claim the hero, but feel that if the cables between France and her African possessions were cut, quick communication would still be possible. Only a few years ago the crossing of the English channel by aeroplanes was considered an astonishing accomplishment. And now that an alpslip line has been established between Europe and Africa, the aerial passage of the Atlantic looms up as a near possibility. Roland G. Garros, the Mediterranean hero, says it will be done some day in a light, swift monoplane, flying from England to Ireland, thence to Newfoundland.

Give the Baby Water

DR. JACOBI said recently: "When you are hungry, you want to eat; when you are thirsty, you drink. Baby wants its equal rights. But no matter whether it is hungry or thirsty, it is condemned to receive the same food to quench both its hunger and thirst. When it cries with hunger it justly receives food from the bottle or breast. When it cries with thirst it is given the same food from the same source. I have often felt like presenting a bill to the legislature, enforcing, when father, mother, and physician are thirsty, beef steak and potatoes.

"Perhaps if father, mother, and physician had to quench their thirst with beef steak and potatoes they would feel more sympathetic toward the thirsty baby, and give him what he is craving for—water. Milk is not water, and will not take the place of water for thirsty baby or child."

Very dollar spent on health boards should be regarded as an investment and not an expense. It is not the babies born, but the babies saved, that count.

The Mission of Women

A MOTHER was passing The News office a few days ago, pushing a baby cart in which were two, in snowy white, twin baby boys. Stopping to speak to a friend, and it being the hour when many were passing to and from the post office, the mother and her treasure-laden cart were immediately surrounded by an admiring throng. The mother could not conceal the delight playing upon her face as she saw her baby jewels were the center of attraction. But only the woman, young and old, seemed drawn by an invisible power around the baby cart. Men hurried by, but either had not time or did not feel the attractive force that drew the fairer sex. The office man turned from the scene convinced that woman, when left to herself, unconsciously reared her high mission and God-given sphere in which love is the incisive and governing power.

THE MEXICAN TROUBLE

The great source of trouble and strife in Mexico is the monopoly in land, according to a writer in the New York Times. The great majority of the land holdings are concentrated to a greater degree in Mexico today than they were in any other country practically all the arable land. If the distribution were proportionately as in the United States, one million Mexican families would be in possession of the titles to landed properties.

In the state of Morelos, the center of the Zapatist revolt, twelve proprietors own nine-tenths of the farming property. In Chihuahua, the center of the agrarian revolution in the North, the Terrazas family holds nearly twenty million acres, which comprise nearly all the tillable soil of that state. The same tendency to the concentration of the land is held by thirty men, kids of siñal hemp. The territory of Quintana Roo, "is divided among eight companies. The typical farm in Mexico is not of 100 acres. The average size of 1000. The statero holdings in Cuba run into the millions of acres. Nowhere in the world, not in India, nor Egypt, nor any country are found the vast cotton plantations that are discovered in the state of Durango. A news dispatch regarding the operations of the rebels, which recently appeared in the Mexican papers, it was casually mentioned that on one farm in the state of Puebla, the Antencingo, the rebels had burned 500,000 worth of sugar cane. If the crop standing in the fields was worth 2,000,000 pesos, how much might the farm be worth? Instead of showing a tendency to break up, this system has been steadily growing stronger. Always, since the rule of Spain was fastened upon Mexico, land has been held in huge tracts, and there have been feudal lords and serfs. The reason Mexico is so backward is because of the concentration of the land in a few hands. It is not that the people generally have nothing to lose and are, therefore, ready to follow any leader who promises plunder, or better conditions of any kind."

HEALERS REQUIRED TO REPORT

Christian Science practitioners must report all rashes and diseases that may possibly be contagious to the board of health, according to an order issued this morning by Dr. James M. Perkins, commissioner of social welfare. The order was a result of the discovery that a boy suffering from scarlet fever was treated by Christian Science and no report of the disease was made to the board of health.

Polymers street, 1 years old, of 4612 Tompkins street, applied to Dr. Elliott for a certificate of examination of school children, this morning for a permit to return to school. Dr. Elliott says that the boy was still suffering from scarlet fever, and the boy said that a Christian Scientist had treated him and declared him cured.

Dr. Elliott sent the boy home in an ambulance and ordered the Gibson home-entrusted and then Dr. Perkins was notified. Dr. Perkins instructed the health department to summon the practitioner who had been treating the boy, and when she reported she instructed her to report all cases she did not understand.

"I have no quarrel with the Christian Science religion," said Dr. Perkins. "But I have with those practitioners who do not report such cases as scarlet fever and other contagious diseases or other ailments that they do not fully understand, for those of us who are not protected by Christian Science must be protected by the general health department. I have notified the Scientist who practices that they must report every case, and if one falls ill I will have him or her prosecuted under the state laws."

A SUPREME TEST

From all accounts the earthquake shock experienced on the isthmus of Panama 6 day or two ago was about as severe as any that ever visited that region. It came as a timely and supreme test for the canal works, and the works stood the test without the slightest damage.

It may be said that this disposal of the canal is a disaster. It is not so, but what we have listened with more or less feeling since long before the first shovelful of dirt was thrown. The earthquake has been the last resort of the croakers. During the time that the sidings at Culebra were incessant and persistent the earthquake prophecy was not very hard, and since then, in the face of such marvelous achievement, as that which characterized canal construction on the isthmus, the dismal prophecies have had the courage to strum on the earthquake string only occasionally. Now that string is broken. The earthquake has put the camel to the test and there is nothing to but count the big ditch as a permanent success from the engineering standpoint and in every other purpose for which the canal was constructed.—This State Journal.

FALL TERM OF COURT

Judge Stocklager Wipes A Few Cases from the Docket. The fall term of court is making good headway in starting the docked Judge Stocklager presiding.

The first case up was that of Peter Canaris, the Greek boy who is charged with a statutory offense. He was sentenced to 10 months in the county jail, but the judge ordered that he be kept in the county jail for six months to keep an eye on the clock. The judge decided that it ought to be worth $500 of any man's money to stay with the county for that length of time and asked that one Healey as well as the half year's job.

George F. Baxter and Lulu Baxter did not get along to expectation at the time they were married, and on an unaccounted plea the husband was granted a divorce. Mrs. Whetzel got along even worse than Baxter and wife. Mrs. Whetzel decided that there was no further hope for the Whetseles as a family and told her troubles to the court. The spot was united.

CROP NEWS FOR IDAHO

The Department of Agriculture is furnishing, in supplying, state crop news by telegraph through the weather bureau stations to the newspapers of certain states will be extended to Florida and Idaho this month. As soon as the crop report for the state is prepared, the Department of Agriculture will telegraph the facts to the central weather stations in Florida and Idaho, and these weather stations will duplicate the facts to the local weather stations in Idaho at once, to all papers in these states.

Under the system used by the Department of Agriculture has to telegraph only a few figures under a code system, and the weather station enters them in blanks already supplied. The list of telegraphing these figures is only about 75 cents for each state.

PENITENTIARY NEWS

Guard Jolly arrived from Boise Wednesday noon and returned this morning with Peter Canaris, this Greek boy, who goes to serve a term in the penitentiary for a statutory offense. Jolly states that Whetzel, who was sent up from here on a horse-stealing charge, is a very sick man. The attending physician does not seem to know what is the matter with his patient, and his recovery is doubtful. Dolan and Armstrong, who were sent to the popular Boise institution "from here," are making good records.

The Markets

PORTLAND STOCK MARKET Portland, Ore., Oct. 4.—Receipts for the week here were: Cattle, 1,271; calves, 265; hogs, 2,192; sheep, 1,415. A very unsatisfactory trade in cattle this week from a seller's standpoint. There has been a very slow demand for beef, especially the half fat stock being marketed....

KANBAS CITY STOCK MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 4.—Cattle receipts are nine thousand last week this week, but the market advanced on everything. Fed steers are unevenly higher, Kansas pasture steers 10c higher, butcher calves 10c, yearlings 10c, lambs were 25c higher, hocks and feeders 10c to 20c higher. The advance indicates that while receipts have been swamped and a weakening of present price range would occasion little surprise.

Turning Dull Months Into Record-Breakers

There's no excuse under the blue dome of heaven for a wide-awake resourceful merchant or manufacturer having a dull month—not as long as the columns of a newspaper with its thousands of readers who need hats and shoes and coats and frocks and homes and beds and beds—are at your disposal. Week in Society

Now that the winter social season is opening, a number of new bridge clubs and Kenalutians are being formed, while the older clubs are gathering together to renew their after-noon and evening parties. Many club dances are to be given, and altogether the social affairs are being held in social affairs the coming winter.

Mrs. M. J. Swooley entertained a number of the friends of Mrs. Aracel Klerted at an unique luncheon at her home Monday. Miss Klerted was in Berkeley, California, where she will become interested in a chicken-ranch. The table decorations represented a nature chicken ranch and the place cards were decorated with chickens. During the afternoon, 700 was played. The gift prize to Miss Klerted was a hand-painted plate, the work of the hostess. Mrs. H. O. Attoner was awarded the first prize, which she presented to the guest of honor.

Mrs. W. O. Taylor entertained at a luncheon at her home in Alton, Kansas, who were the guest of Mrs. and Mrs. Logan, and Mrs. Taylor gave a number of gifts to the guests. During the afternoon, tea was served in the dining-room, the center table being decorated with green tarragon fern and white carnations. Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Greenhaw poured and Mrs. Margaret Roberts and Miss Blaker assisted in serving the guests.

FINDS PROFIT IN ALSIKE

P. F. Tyrrell Experimented and Now Wants More Acres of the Grass.

P. F. Tyrrell brought in Saturday the champion heavy weight calf of the season. It was of the Early Eureka variety and tipped the scales at four hundred and thirty pounds. Mr. Tyrrell operates a ranch three and one-half miles northwest of town. He has had very good success and finds farming profitable. He has three acres that he would like to alkali grass and several hundred acres more for pasture. The alkali choked out all the other grass and he was just hunting his "luck" to get the alkali to get rid of it and it netted him $60 per acre. He wishes now that he had about 40 acres of the same kind of "luck."

MADE GOOD WITH CATTLE

B. Steels began on 2,000 head of cattle in the year. He has a herd of 100 head of cattle in the "Bureau county" in Iowa Monday. Mr. Steels can do a little business with only a drove of horses. Robert Hogerson cided him to some vacant land on House Creek and Steels has been over since. His annual sale of cattle now amounts to $5,000 to $15,000. Mr. Hogerson says Steels is "cutting a record" by doing the same thing as capitalist, considering the price being paid for beef.

A DRY COUNTY

The rainfall of Wednesday night, Tuesday, and Wednesday morning amounted to 1.11 inches. The heavy drizzle was Monday night, during which time .56 of an inch fell.

WILL LOCATE HERE

TWIN FALLS MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, rheumatic swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder troubles will find satisfaction in this encouraging statement by a Twin Falls man.

William Secord, contractor and farmer, Fair avenue, Twin Falls, Idaho, says: "I suffered a great deal from kidney complaint brought on by a cold. Whenever I strained my back my kidneys began to act badly and the secretions were very unnatural. I had all the pains and troubles which kidney complaint. I never found more than slight relief until I began using the Kidney Pills—thereafter I was cured. I am glad to say that I am certain that they had permanent effect. I confirm all I said about Deane's Kidney Pills, when I publicly recommended them in August, 1910."

JUDGE BELIEVES IN MERCY WITH JUSTICE

SAYS FAMILY SUFFERS MOST FOR MAN'S OFFENSES

W. J. Smith Jots Down His Impressions from Life as He Sees Them in the Prisoner Before the Bar.

Twin Falls had a police judge who tempers justice with mercy, and seasons his daily life with philosophy. A police judge has the right to convict an individual, to fine him and to send him to the city, and he also has the privilege to remit the fine. The Twin Falls police judge believes that when a man goes out on a "high loiter" he has a fine time and he wouldn't do. And having had a "fine" time, he records it that way on the books.

Judge Smith believes that when the head of a family goes out, guzzles beer, and makes a fool of himself, he is not the peace and dignity of the city that he offends. The crime is, in reality, committed against the man's family. More than one family have been surprised to receive direct from the court a sum of money which the husband paid as a fine.

In a memorandum which Judge Smith's secretary writes the following "think" yesterday by him in days gone by:

Humanity is not a failure, but I notice that some of it is not a success. We are all creatures of circumstances, financial and otherwise. If we rely entirely on our own resources, and hard pressed for the cash we owe, most of us would find in the punishment of the law.

Fear God and steer clear of the police court and you will find the justice of the law and a good record.

Man forgets the root at the bottom and sees only the fruit on the tree.

If we would lay up more of our resources in heaven and a thousand dollars we would fare better at the final wind-up.

I started out a few years ago with bright prospects and a thousand dollars. I still have the prospects.

Before you venture too severely on the one who commits the crime, give some thought to the causes that led up to it.

The prophet of old made no doubt of the fact that the crime, given some thought to the causes that led up to it.

It takes a weak individual to build a character, a strong individual can tear one down.

A kind word or a pleasant smile is the cheapest thing on earth, and frequently turns a human life into the right channel.

Wag puzzles me is where they get the milk to plant all the soap bushes. Alcoholic stimulants cause more crime in the human family than the milk of the cow.

Man hatters his health for wealth and then tries to better his wealth for health.

A man who stunk up an enemy that belongs to his family. The court fines him and takes $15 away from his family. He may not be what we call a man, but his family is a family.

One can't afford to take too many chances. Perhaps when you stand on the street corner and talk about the skeleton in the other fellow's closet, some rascal at it may open your door.

If every one looked at it from the other fellow's viewpoint, a police judge would starve to death, and a lot of people would be heartily ashamed of themselves.

A man who spends millions more than he can reap reminds me of the yap who catches more fish than he can eat, and leaves them rotting on the bank.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood will hold its first meeting for the season this evening at the church. A supper will be served at 7 o'clock. All men of the congregation and friends are cordially invited.

TWO CARS A DAY

Over Twelve Hundred Boxes of Twin Falls Apples Being Shipped Daily.

The Twin Falls Fruit Growers' association is shipping two carloads of apples a day, and about 20 people are now employed. On Thursday the entire force was taken to Kimberly, where two carloads were in readiness for loading. The Kimberly packer is flushed, which may be two or three days, the workers will return to Twin Falls.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

C. S. Welser, manager of the Blue Lanes fruit store, celebrated his 63d birthday anniversary Tuesday. He spent the day quietly but industriously attending to business, and it was not until late in the afternoon, when he happened to glance at a daily paper and see the date, that he remembered he had reached another milestone.

He was not surprised as he appeared to have reached the date, that he remembered he had reached another milestone. Then he remembered Sunday and others mysterious actions of his family before he left his home in Suburban Park that morning. Hence, he was not so surprised as he appeared to have reached the date, that he remembered he had reached another milestone.

Stolen Hair Means Death

In many parts of the modern world the believer in witchcraft still gets hold of hair, nail parings and so forth from the man who has been killed and buried, but he does something else with them in order to smelt unpleasant consequences upon that enemy.

Broken Heart Caused Death

"A broken heart, caused by violent beating due to sudden emotion, was said by a doctor to be responsible for the death of Alexander Burgess, sixty-four, a master tanner, at a Longview, Burgess fell and died during an altercation with a former cutter as to the ownership of certain articles which he was about to remove from his former premises to new ones.

Why Do We Want Freedom?

What do we want freedom for? That is "why" the "why" that we can give us, unshackled by tyrannies of custom, fashion or prejudice. And how can we lead a right life unless we learn its laws and render them faithful obedience? Profoundly wise is the prayer which addresses God as "whose service is perfect freedom."

Best Opportunities. We miss a good many opportunities because we do not recognize them. They do not come at the time expected, nor in the way we look for them.

A great many of them are overlooked because that is the only way they can ever get inside the gate of our prejudices. A great many come and go, holding out hands full of good things to us, but we shut our eyes until they are gone. We have a notion that our chief business is to get away from here, or care away from us, and yet under the name and face of carelessness of our best life-building opportunity come to us—The Universal at London.

Tapo Rubber Trees by Electricity. A new electrical tapper for rubber trees is the work of a German in Peru. Hollow iron channels, divided into sections, are fitted on the trunk, the sections containing prickly iron devices that can be worked at varying times by current from the central station.

A replacement in each section catches the latex (plant juice), coagulating it with acid. The attachment may be left unvisited two or three months, and in the time 200, or 300 humps of rubber may be accumulated from a large tree.

The Sweet Young Things entered the department store, and after glancing around in a hopeless way for a few moments approached a floor walker. "What can we do for you, miss?" asked the floor walker.

The Sweet Young Thing blushed and then said: "I would those elastic bands capable of being elongated and put around the lower extremities of the locomotive members to get the proper position and the required attitude for the hallionments of the 'libas'."

Ten minutes later strong men led the floor walker away. He was a raving maniac—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GRAIN FEEDER FOR POULTRY

Newly Invented Device Depends on Same Principle as Is Used in Baiting Animal Trap.

"A newly invented type of automatic poultry feeder depends upon the same principle that is used in baiting a trap, for the feeder has a bait that is pecked by the hungry fowls and in response the machine lets a shower of grain fall on the ground, which they devour, says the Popular Mechanic.

The machine consists of a galvanized-iron supply funnel filled with grain and a revolving toothed wheel at the base of it. This wheel is mounted on very delicate bearings which admit of its movement at the slightest touch. Attached to the wheel is a shaft which supports the bait. The bait consists of a hollow tube of wire unspring containing wheat. The fowls see the wheat through the netting and peck at it, causing the toothed wheel to rotate and throw out grain from the top supply funnel which falls on the lower metal cone and is scattered over the ground almost as efficiently as by hand. This prevents the fowls from gnawing themselves.

After the feeder has been in use for a time there is no great rush by the fowls to peck the bait as one would Automatic Poultry Feeder.

Imagine. Some fowls, the "wise" ones, wait around in a circle where the grain will be thrown and the one which pecks the grain usually gets very little of it.
