"Always a Good Show— Sometimes a Great Show."

Monday and Tuesday Feb. 16-17

WILD BEASTS AT LARGE

—or "Where the Menagerie Broke Loose"

One of the most amusing and most "thrilling" photoplays ever thrown on the screen. Before half of the first reel is over you will be shaking with laughter.

A train-load of wild animals is wrecked near a small town. Just think of a marionette, a bear, a leopard, a monkey, and snakes enjoying a vacation in the homes and shops of the townspeople.

See the monkeys in a fruit store, the lions and tigers in the houses, the leopards in a barber shop and the bears in the grocery store.

Don't miss the accidental meeting of two of the enormous cats. They have it out by themselves.

Wild beasts at large is warranted to cause more comment than a local election.

Also two other good pictures.

NOTES: On account of this being an extra-priced feature, the prices will be: Children 10c, adults 15c.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO NOTES

Desiring to encourage tree planting about the homes of Idaho the department of forestry has been for the last five years experimenting with various fruit and shade trees suitable for the climate, soil, and altitude, etc., in the different parts of the state.

This department now has several thousand trees, representing some of the most desirable fruit and shade trees which the people of the state may obtain at the cost of nothing.

For descriptive list address C. H. Shattuck, Dept. of Forestry, Moscow, Idaho.

Business Transacted by Board of Education

In addition to the election of the university president the board transacted a mass of routine business. Three resignations of university professors were accepted. Professor T. S. Caffery who goes to the University of Wisconsin, Professor H. H. Hines who becomes secretary to the State Normal School and Professor W. H. Wicks, who goes to the University of Arkansas as professor of horticulture. Professor Livingston Vincent and McConnel resigned the university were promoted to the positions made vacant by these resignations.

Poultry Pays in Northern Idaho

Mr. Phillips moved to Bonanza Berry about two years ago and was advised that poultry could not be made to pay in that locality. Being an old poultryman, he concluded to give it a try. On January 1st, 1917, he began keeping an accurate account of all the expenses and to credit the flock with the income.

EXPENSES.

On hand Jan. 1, 1917, 80 fowls,	at 50c	$ 40.00
Cost of feed and incidentals	61.25
Total		$101.25

REVENUE.

Sold 4245 eggs (at 34c)	$144.25
Home consumption and hawks	10.00
Vincent, 184 dozen at 34c	67.10
Powis sold	65.25

The Shadow Social which was to have been given Friday evening, Feb. 13th, has been postponed until a later date.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the church Wednesday, Feb. 14. A ten cent lunch will be served. Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Shinn and Mrs. Shaffner, hostesses.

The services at the Methodist church have been changed materially so far as the hours. Sunday school will now be held at 10:15 the morning, preaching at 11:00 and services at 11:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening, followed by the usual evening service by the pastor at 7:30. An invitation is extended to all to attend any of the services.

On the evening of the 11th of February, Mrs. Costello and Mrs. Meagher will give a dance at the hotel house for the benefit of Maria School and on this occasion it is hoped that a goodly number of our people is well represented.

The ladies and men will be entertained with the ladies and make the occasion one of the best of the season. Excellent music will be furnished by an excellent orchestra and the dance will be of such a nature that you will regret if you do not arrange to be present. The proceeds of the dance will go to the fund for the cause that all should heartily support.

The services at the Methodist church will still be kept for another like period the following year.

The idea of making such a vast expenditure in great city pavilions has been to exhibit exhibition pavilions to the people to see when the season is over. Think of the millions of dollars expended in buildings that are to be of value when the exhibition ends. The great cost of buildings has presented the holding of exhibitions in all people a few cities.

Millions of people who are most in need of the inspiration which an exhibition gives never see one. To all the people this exhibition will be free admission to at least five of the great pavilions and will amount to the absolute free. This is one of the compensations to the fact that the cost of buildings and expensive grounds has been largely eliminated by the use of tents.

New Plays for Advertising State

Most plays of American origin are reason why we shall miss the best of our architecture of great and really exhibiting interest, but this one will be the greatest attraction of the season. This is a new and radical departure from former exhibitions. The novelty of the plan insures the interest. The period of each exhibition is short. The whole city will celebrate it as a festival that will keep it going too soon. The appetite

New Curtain Nets at Booth's Specially Priced

The bi-yearly house renovating time is at hand—with its unusual spring offerings in draperies.

It's "good bye old lace curtains." The newest are filet nets that require no trimming—just hemming up and you have the required length—absolutely necessary for the modern bungalow home styles, where windows are odd sizes. These are the draperies best selling in the largest eastern houses.—They drape soft and pretty—clean easily—most beautiful.

Here's a few reasons why our prices make a few of our competitors eye-balls stick out till they look like grapes.

1. We have no exorbitant rent and we do our own work.
2. We pay cash, sell for cash and need the cash just enough to make a bid that will get yours.
3. C. E. Evans OWNS this business—no one else.
4. C. E. Evans RUNS this business—no one else.
5. We allow NO ONE to dictate to us prices, terms or method of business.

NOTICE TO DAIRY INTERESTS

Instructions Given on Grading of Cream by Cominsale Board.

At the annual convention of the Idaho State Dairyman's association, held in Coalinga the 27th part of this month, State Dairy Commissioner James H. Wallis discussed the necessity of the grading of cream used by the manufacturers of butter, and of the method held by the creamery interests that same might be in accord with a standard conforming to a ruling covering this subject to be issued by the Commissioner. Commissioner Wallis has issued the following bulletin, which he is making out to the dairy interests all over the state:

month, State Dairy Commissioner James H. Wallis discussed the necessity of the grading of cream used by the manufacturers of butter, and of the method held by the creamery interests that same might be in accord with a standard conforming to a ruling covering this subject to be issued by the Commissioner. Commissioner Wallis has issued the following bulletin, which he is making out to the dairy interests all over the state:

This department wishes to state that it will use every means to bring about a statewide grading of cream with uniformity thereof according to quality or grade.

Endeavoring to improve the quality of all butter, to increase the proportion of butter grades and to increase the proportion of unpalatable and market grades, which are the best interests of the dairy industry of our state demand the department establish the following grades and recommend them to you:

First grade to be cream, clean of flavor and showing not over 0.10 per cent acidity and not under 25 per cent butter fat as read on the tinnet test.

Second grade to be cream, clean of flavor and showing not less than 18 per cent butter fat as read on the tinnet test, without any need of reconditioning.

We recommend the rejection of all cream that will not meet the requirements of second grade, as goods manufactured from such cream would be unpalatable and undesirable.

ments of second grade, as goods manufactured from such cream would be unpalatable and undesirable.

Yours very respectfully, JAMES H. WALLIS, State Dairy, Food and Sanitary Inspector.

It will be noticed that this cream grading circular says nothing about the use of cream. This has been purposely omitted for the reason that in some of the more ordinary and more highly developed dairy districts, cream three, four and five days old will be better than cream from another district that is only a few hours old.

As the cleanliness of flavor and the acid are really the governing factors of good cream," says Commissioner Wallis, "they have been made the basis of this circular, and to further set them to skin a thick cream rather than a thin cream, we do not recognize anything as cream that goes below 18 per cent butter fat, which is the state standard."

The creamery men themselves recognize the necessity of some uniform action in the grading of cream, for so long as one man will take a run of cream that another creamery refuses, just so long will that farmer be careless in the care and handling of his cream. Of course, this applies to cream that is fit for food, and not to cream that is putrid, filthy and decomposed, such as we sometimes find in our baggage cars or on our local platforms, enroute to the creamery, so that the action we have taken is purely for the betterment of the grade of butter that the creameries are making, and to enable them to manufacture more extra and low "grade" and "seconds" and which in turn will enable them to sell their product at a higher price and thus pay the farmer more for the clean, raw product—Capital News.

ON WOOD RIVER BRANCH

Plenty of Snow and Ice in That Region.

The railroad company is having more trouble than usual this year, on the Wood River branch. The switches and sidetracks are especially troublesome. Though cleared of snow after each storm the rails are coated with ice that throws cars and locomotives off. This has compelled the trains to keep the main track and as there is no Y this side of Fortwinn they must be hauled up there and back.

The freight train that arrived last night was of nine loaded cars and a caboose. Eight of the cars were for Halley. They were brought back this morning and the train detained until the sidetracks could be cleared. All the section hands between Shoshone and Halley were brought up on the passenger train today. There were 20 or more of them and immediately on arrival they were put to work with pick and shovel to clear the sidetracks and switches. It was expected that they would get through with this work by this evening.

The small rotary snowplow was pulled on the Central Idaho line this morning, but it was expected to be returned today and to be then sent over the Wood River branch. It is accompanied by a flanger, so that if it comes it will throw all the snow from the track for a width of six feet while the flanger scrapes off the rails.

The section crew from Ketchikan and Bellevue were also called to clear the tracks. The freight engine, ran down to Bellevue this morning and brought the Bellevue section crew and the Ketchikan crew having come down on the freight this morning. The track was cleared just before the arrival of the 4th passenger, which arrived at 11:10 and the switches and sidetracks are now clear—Wood River Times.
