"PROOF OF THE PUDDING" Kimberly Business House Makes Vigorous Statement on Advertising

Kimberly, Idaho, June 17th, 1914. Mr. Willard Hill, Editor Twin Falls Times. Dear Sir: No doubt you have by this time been made aware of the fact through the "Idaho Call", that as an advertising medium you are doing "not there", and furthermore all you are entitled to in the way of corporate funds is to be given in the business...

It is quite right and proper for your Twin Falls merchants to advertise in the Idaho Call, but for a Kimberly advertiser to do so is not only unfair to the Twin Falls Times but also to the Twin Falls Times as a whole...

Now, Mr. Hill, I'll be frank with you in this matter. The reason we have not advertised in the Idaho Call is owing to the fact that our clerks do not want to do so...

The Idaho Call made the statement that the last week we advertised with you our business was "frayed" such a name for a business man who is "frayed" in Kimberly on that date we assure you that it was not in our place of business.

THE PROPOSED INTERURBAN RAILWAY.

The question of giving financial support to the interurban line through the Castledale country should be given serious consideration by the business men of this city. The proposition appearing on the front page of this issue should be read and treated as a business proposition by business men who discern what they say. It is to be true that in the majority of his community for the construction of this line we have to invest that spent money for which no visible return appeared. We have donated many times when the chances of success were remote at the very start. We have helped when the money should have been used for other purposes. All of the above reasons combined have caused the business men to view new propositions with a healthy skepticism. It is to be true that the present group of men who had nothing to do with those railroads. Every business man should be broad enough to figure it out on that basis. The proposition that no money shall be paid until the railroad is assured by active construction looks reasonable and indicates good faith on the part of the promoters. The business men are certainly not out of any thing on such a plan. There is another feature in the need for support which should be held up against the present group of men who had nothing to do with those railroads. Every business man should be broad enough to figure it out on that basis. The proposition that no money shall be paid until the railroad is assured by active construction looks reasonable and indicates good faith on the part of the promoters. The business men are certainly not out of any thing on such a plan.

The proposition that no money shall be paid until the railroad is assured by active construction looks reasonable and indicates good faith on the part of the promoters. The business men are certainly not out of any thing on such a plan.

The business men must consider, too, that interurban lines are usually community projects. They have to traffic support across the community and that the profits do not accrue for years after operation, while the community gets its benefit in the meantime. The Times believes that the promoters of the Castledale railroad have made a fair and square offer and that it should be investigated by every booster in the community as marking the beginning of a new work of lines that will make this city force to the front.

MORE SOLAR BURGERY.

The remarkable results obtained in France and elsewhere by treating tuberculosis simply by exposure to the sun's rays are further elaborated by Dr. Guy Hillaudet, of Hot Springs, Va., in The Internate Medical Journal, (St. Louis). The open-air treatment for consumption is of course universally known, but according to Dr. Hillaudet the part played in it by exposure to sunlight has not been sufficiently recognized. To this he alludes as due the success of the great cascade sanatoria. In the Alps, results described by him the effect of the sun is recognized and directly utilized. In our previous article Professor Poceat was recognized as the first to devise this method, and Dr. Hollier, of Leyden, as the first to propagate it. Dr. Hillaudet gives credit to the French surgeon and the Swiss surgeon Bernhard of Samaden, but says most emphasis on Hollier's treatment, which has been tried in substance as follows: "The patient is clothed in linen or white flannel, according to the season; he wears a white hat and is protected from direct sunlight on the face by a screen, and wears smoked or yellow glasses. "And now comes the peculiar and interesting method of exposure. It makes no difference where the disease is located, whether in the lung, spine, or the cervical glands, the principle is the same. The patient is taken to the beach or to the foot of the mountain. The next day the legs will be exposed for the third day the thighs, on the fourth day the abdomen is exposed; on the fifth day the thorax. Finally on the sixth or seventh day he exposes the neck and head with careful supervision.

The whole system of heliotherapy aims at acquiring a protective pigmentation of the skin; this is the underlying basis of the whole matter. It is nearly always proportional to the resistance of the patient and enables him to bear the sunlight and cold air in a most satisfactory manner.

The active solar rays are arranged outside to the interior, and that is not to be denied. Browning of the skin varies from a copper to a chocolate color. Without it no one could endure the sun-cure for so many hours a day or engage, as some of them do, in winter sports with scarcely any protection at all.

It has been calculated that the sunlight has considerably more active force at the seashore, and hence the time required for the solar cure is probably less than elsewhere. Hillaudet records of about 1,200 patients and about 1,000 cures is one of the greatest contributions to modern surgical progress, and especially to the fight against tuberculosis.

In this country, Dr. Hillaudet tells us there is every opportunity for practicing heliotherapy for tuberculosis, but he knows of only one hospital where there is any attempt to practice it by the manner described, namely St. George's Hospital, at Geneva, Ireland.

Of the trials he says: "It is probable that the very contractor responsible for the last two years will lead to the adoption of Hollier's method in all its details as modified by the less favorable climatic conditions of this part of the Atlantic seaboard.

Results at St. George's Hospital in the treatment of tuberculosis on the bones, joints, and glands have been so good that the city of New York has acquired a new tonation with 1,000 feet of beach-front on what is known as Rockaway Point, ten miles beyond Connetquot Island. The plans include an arrangement of grounds and buildings which will involve a total outlay of $2,500,000, and there will be accommodations for 1,000 patients. Literary Digest.

TALKS ON THRIFT

No. 45—Success Demands Sacrifice

"The unrequited thrift of the French people makes France the world's banker. They save five hundred millions of dollars a year which they put into the hands of a syndicate of their bankers to invest. There is now over a thousand millions of dollars in France awaiting investment and hoarded, because Europe is a powder magazine and plenty of fools around with matches, and because of a deep distrust of American securities. Besides the propaganda, France has loans abroad of two thousand million dollars, one-third of it, nearly, to Russia, while Germany is borrowing at high rates of interest wherever money can be had."—C. M. Dewey.

Louis J. Horowitz, the sky-scraper builder, who in twenty years has risen from a position of $3 a week to one of $100,000 a year, in speaking about success, said: "I go to bed at nine o'clock and I get up at five o'clock. I have had no sleep for the last three months. I have had no sleep for my office. I play to work as other men work to play."

This little aphorism on a successful man emphasizes the fact that success demands sacrifice. If you want to get ahead you must make up your mind to give up some things now for the sake of enjoying them at a later time. In this we can learn a lot from the immigrants who come to our shores. Mr. Horowitz, above mentioned, came here from Russia as a youth. Six years ago a Russian girl, the Almyr, then sixteen years old, came here, unable to speak a word of English. She got work in a Massachusetts shoe factory. The pay was small, but she attended to business, lifted herself to earn more, her mother, her brothers and her sisters came over, all on money that Ida had sent them.

Have you noticed that, in the case of both old settlers and new comers, those who are able to take advantage of the opportunities that arise are those who have some ready money? They are not ready to get ready. If you are not ready now, get ready. You can do so by adopting a regular plan of saving and sticking to it. Thousands of other men and women have successfully trod this path of industry and thrift. You can do likewise. A Savings bank will encourage your thrift by providing you with a place of perfect security for your savings and by paying you compound interest on your money.

GOOD HITCH FOR TWO TEAMS

One Shown in Illustration Has Been in Service Twelve Years and Proven Satisfactory.

This sketch shows my four-horse even, which I find hard to beat. I have used it for twelve years and it has proven particularly satisfactory for a wagon as both teams suit pull their portions, writes Ed Kraus of Hays, Kan., in Farmers Mail and Breeds. However, the leader may be used anywhere that a lead team is needed. To make it take two pieces of iron 2 feet long and 2 1/2 inches wide and drill two 1/4 inch holes 2 1/2 inches apart through both pieces. Drill another through the center for the wrench bar. These two pieces are marked A in the drawing. The pieces fit well between them—the loose washers on either side of the pieces B.

Four-Horse Even.

do as to make them work freely back and forth. Each piece B is 13 inches long with the outside holes 15 inches apart, and a hole in the center of each. The four pieces are cut about 10 inches long, with holes drilled in each end, then riveted to D at one end and III at the other, one above and one below. These pieces are stamped 1/4 inches wide and 1/2 inch thick. D is a triangular plate about 5 inch thick and the holes are about 3 inches apart. Use a 1/2 inch rod with link for the lead team.

BACK TO MEXICO

Big American Mines Will Re-open for Business.

W. C. Taylor, Jr., who with his family has been visiting here for a month or more, received word Friday that conditions were such that he could go back to Mexico and resume work on the mines which he has been superintending for the United Mines company. He came up here after the war broke out in the earliest this spring, and the company advised all its American employees that they'd better jump their jobs while the jumping was good. Mr. Taylor has seen not a little real fighting, and at one time when there was a heavy fight at his house, and some men were killed, whom the victors afterwards hanged to the trees out of pure enmity, the citizens had to protect against the bodies being left there so long as to be a menace to everybody. That was only one little incident, however, of many that has made him familiar with what a revolution really means in Mexico.—Richfield Recorder.

UNABLE TO AGREE

Jury in Case of Nanpa Bankers Is Discharged.

Calwell, June 15.—The jury in the bank case, after being out 40 hours, was discharged at 8:50 o'clock this morning after reporting to Judge Bryan that they were still unable to agree upon a verdict. It is understood that the jury stood nine to three in favor of conviction. The defendants were J. A. Gibben, vice president of the Bank of Nanpa, and G. A. Lore, cashier. The charge against them was the making of false reports of the condition of the bank to the state bank commissioner with intent to defraud. The case was begun last Monday and was given to the jury Saturday evening; the jury being out until this morning. The defense rested at the conclusion of the introduction of evidence on the part of the state, and presented no evidence on its own behalf, relying upon the admission of evidence from the witnesses on cross-examination.—Capital News.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Twin Falls, Idaho, June 17, 1914
To the electors of the Fourth Judicial District—State of Idaho.

I am a candidate for the nomination for District Judge in the Fourth Judicial District.

In making this announcement I desire to assure you that should I be nominated at the primary and elected in November, I will exert my utmost ability and conscientiously devote my time and energy to the performance of the duties of the office, to the end that litigants may secure a speedy and just determination of all actions brought in the courts of the district.

I will stand for and not one of my best interests without fear or favor. I will secure a strict enforcement of the criminal statutes of the state, including the local option laws.

I have been in the practice of my profession for the preceding years and feel that I am qualified and fitted to perform the duties of this office.

This office is non-partisan and I earnestly solicit the support of all voters, regardless of party affiliations, who may be satisfied as to my qualifications for this position and desire that their support will be gratefully appreciated.

Very truly,

expeditious attention to every detail of the work to the end that justice may be served—without unnecessary delay and with the diligence to the rights of the taxpayers as well as those of litigants.

A legal practice of eighteen years and a residence in Twin Falls dating from 1907, combined to prompt the belief that a knowledge of man and events is not in the least necessary, of those qualifications which go to the making of a successful occupant of the District Court Bench.

It will be my purpose to see that litigation is fairly and promptly conducted.

—Adv.— JAMES H. WISE.

JOHN EAGLESON, JR., FINE DONOR THE STATE BAR.

Well known Man Announces Candidacy for State Position.

John W. Eagleston, of this city, formerly county treasurer and for years identified with financial institutions in this part of Idaho, is a candidate for state treasurer, subject to the Republican primaries. His formal announcement follows.

To the voters of the state of Idaho: I hereby announce my candidacy and ask your support for the position of state treasurer of the state of Idaho, subject to the will of the electors of the state at the general primary to be held September 1, 1914.

I have been a life-long Republican and believe in the principles of the party and in its ability to legislate for the benefit of the people. Its retirement from power nationally has always been fraught with instability, chaos and disaster to the industrial life of our people, while its ascendancy has always brought confidence, business activity and prosperity.

Regarding my qualifications for the position of treasurer, I have had 20 years' experience in financial institutions and have managed the business of my county for five years as county treasurer. If elected treasurer I will give my entire time and best efforts to the business of the office in the interest of the greatest possible efficiency and economy.

Respectfully,
JOHN W. EAGLESON,
Idaho Statesman, May 21, 1914.

VOLCANO IN CALIFORNIA

Expert Says Lassen in Hellish Crucible in Java.

Red Bluff, Cal. June 15.—Ninety miles south of the Oregon line and almost west of the Nevada line, Mount Lassen, the world's most active volcano, spluttered through the early hours today. What may come from her two new cones, which she opened into existence last night, or the old crater, still a burst of smoke rising 2000 feet yesterday morning was followed by a deluge of fire and clouds, clearly visible a hundred miles away in the Sacramento valley, convincing the most skeptical that, for the present, at least, the volcano is active and that the eruption is no longer a theory and its scientific predictions were not reassuring.

"Indications are that Lassen will continue the same course as Mount Fuji, a volcano on the island of Java," said "Krankton, in 1853, after a few minutes' observation, of the volcano's present activity, burst into an tremendous explosion which destroyed the mountain and spread a pall of darkness over the country, which, in some places, some of its volcanic dust fell in the streets of London.

"It is a mistake to put the present observations in the class of guesses. (They do not eject rocks, acids, explosives and ashes. These are the characteristics of genuine volcanoes, Lassen is in a class by itself, which, it is believed, may have been before it, but it is not one of them."

Professor T. J. J. See, observer at Mare Island yard and a scientist of international reputation, was more comforting.

"I hardly think the activity of Lassen will become so great as to produce a hot and dry summer. It is to be expected to maintain a feeble and comparatively harmless activity. Lassen is 200 miles from the coast, and it is not likely that it will become a source of much real danger."

"The really dangerous volcano of the present on this coast is Mount Lassen, and it is now active over 12 miles from the ocean, and in fact, it is now active. They all die out inland. The chances of any real danger arising to us are so small that I should not be troubled by the reports of the mountain and look into it."—Salt Lake Telegram.

FAMILY FRUIT GARDEN

HAVE A FEW SELECTED VARIETIES AND GIVE PROPER CARE.

Dwarfs Are Excellent, as They Require Less Room Than Standards, and Come Into Bearing the Third or Fourth Year.

(By E. KNIBBLELAND. Copyright, 1914.)

Fruit for the family table throughout the growing season finds a surplus to sell need not mean a large orchard, but only a few well selected varieties properly cared for. First, then, for a small list of fruits, and the dwarfs and half standards are excellent, as they usually bear more than the standards and come into bearing the third or fourth year and are easily pruned and sprayed. The trees should be set eight feet apart, and eight trees will provide fruit from June to November. This variety will depend on the latitude and altitude. The United States government's "Farmer's Bulletin No. 208" gives a very complete list.

What to Plant.

Four sweet cherry trees and four sour one will supply enough fruit for the table and also for pies. The following are recommended: Cox's Transparent (June), Downer's Late (July), Windsor (July) and a Dwarf Montmorency (August). The variety of eight years would be Empire and may all be of the dwarf type, such as two Bartlett's (August and September), Clapp's Favorite (August and September), Louise Bourgoin Jersey (September), Electric (September), Howell (September), Beurre d'Angon (October), Wear of Winkfield (winter). Plums may be grown in the backyard and the garden space saved for other fruit. Grapes are always welcome, and one vine of each of the following will do well: Concord, Niagara, Delaware, Fox current bushes, and eight Fay's Prolific. There are endless varieties of raspberries, but ten Blackberry Queen and ten St. Helens are recommended; for blackberries, ten Brice, ten Jaybirds and ten Wilson's Early. Currants are as easy to grow as gooseberries, and five industry and five Sumner's improved will provide a good supply.

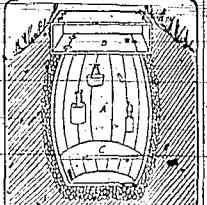

Prepare the land thoroughly, provide plenty of manure to start things and keep the soil cultivated under the trees and bushes. Set the standards eight feet apart, the dwarf standards and the canes three feet. Fruit trees, bushes, etc., live many years, but their value depends upon their vigor, shape and ancestry, so be sure to buy only from a reliable dealer or nurseryman and when selected a good standing, do not let the price govern the purchase. The saving of a few dollars may result in a much greater loss later. Finally draw a rough plan of the garden, marking where each tree, bush, etc., is to go, and then mark the places according to the nurseryman's directions.

KEEP DAIRY PRODUCTS FRESH

Large Barrel Sunk in Ground Will Afford Convenient and Serviceable Place for Summer.

A very convenient and serviceable place to keep dairy products may be made by sinking a large barrel in the ground. A shady spot should be chosen, writes G. C. Aub of Berlin, Neb., in Missouri Valley Farmer. Fill in around the barrel with sawdust, gravel and sand, and dampen. Put a box over the barrel and back up with solid earth, preferably clay. This drains off the water when it rains and also puts the barrel further below, which tends to make it cooler. Make a light lid for the top of the barrel, and a spring for the cover, if possible. Put the box on near night if possible. Sprinkle a little dampened sand over the bottom of the barrel and the little cellar is finished. Pails of cream, milk and butter may be hung from nails on the sides of the barrel. Air the barrel out occasionally to prevent odors from collecting.

Weed Seeds.

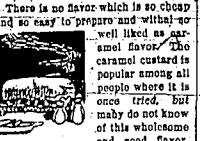

In order to have soil that is comparatively free from weed seeds many gardeners begin a year in advance of planting to prepare the soil. If it is time to be planted next year manure is applied freely this year for a cultivated crop such as corn or potatoes and no weeds are permitted to go to seed.

Box Bugs.

Box bugs are 14-legged animals and feed upon decayed vegetation. They sometimes attack growing plants, to kill them, since potatoes, cut with the green and lay in places frequented by the bugs.

CARAMEL AS FLAVORING.

There is no flavor which is so cheap and so easy to prepare and without well liked as caramel. The caramel custard is popular among all people where it is once tried, but many do not know of this wonderful and good flavor.

To make the caramel put granulated sugar in a clean, enameled saucepan and stir constantly while it is melting, do not let it overbrown, add a few drops of water or cream if it is to be bottled and kept for flavoring and coloring sauces, and then it is ready to use. If making a custard turn into the milk as soon as it becomes a golden color.

Sweet potatoes cooked in this caramel syrup in the oven are most delicious. Apples quarried and baked with the caramel added to them and baked over them while cooking is a most delicious way of serving apples. The fruit may be served with cream and sugar.

Caramel ice cream is a most delicious frozen dessert.

Caramel flavor in bottled frosting for filling in cake is a most delicious one. The sugar may be browned and water added to it, then add the flavoring to boiled sugar syrup, and pour over hot egg whites in making any light frosting.

Caramel Cream—Caramelize one-third of a pound of white sugar, add a few drops of water, stirring constantly to keep the sugar from sticking when it becomes a golden color. Stir quickly into a quart of boiling hot milk. Beat the yolks of six eggs, and pour over them the hot milk slowly. When the eggs are cooked set away to become cold before serving. This is a nice custard to serve with sponge cake.

SOME GERMAN CAKES.

The German coffee cake or Kuchen is as great a favorite among Americans as among the Germans. It is a cake of peculiar character and there are many methods of making them as there are recipes for their preparation.

Plain Kuchen.—Use two and a half quarts of flour, two cups of sweet milk, one cupful of granulated sugar, three-quarters of a cup of butter or shortening, a grain of nutmeg, a teaspoonful and a half of vanilla and one package of raisins. At night dissolve the yeast in a half-cupful of lukewarm water, mix with enough of the flour to make a batter, cover and let stand overnight. In the morning dissolve the other half of the yeast in a little warm water and add the yeast mixture. Scald the milk, and when lukewarm add to the yeast mixture; beat the eggs, add to them the sugar, melted butter, salt, nutmeg, vanilla and vanilla. Stir until well mixed, dust the raisins with sugar and add them to the mixture. Stir in the flour and mix as for bread. Put in a warm place, cover well and let it rise until double in bulk. Then take four to five loaves, brush the tops with egg yolk and let rise again. Put into a very slow oven and bake for an hour and a quarter to an hour and a half. When the cakes are nicely formed cover and bake for another hour and a half. The loaf should be a nut brown and the inside a deep cream color.

Kaffee Kuchen.—Make a dough as for nut cake, using but one egg and a quarter of a cup of butter. When ready to put into the pan form into large cakes and bake. Cover with powdered sugar icing and set in the oven to harden.

Apple Kuchen.—The cake is made as above, ruffled thin in a sheet and eight cups of apples cut up, put over the top. Sprinkle with butter and flour rubbed together and add sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle the top with this and when light brown.

DAIRY TIME THE DAIRY

PRODUCE FINE MILK FLAVOR

Experiments Conducted at Government Dairy Farm in Maryland Favor Feeding Bran and Corn.

It has been asserted by some dairymen that the feeding of crushed oats to cows will improve the flavor of milk. To ascertain the correctness of this theory a series of experiments was made by the bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture at the experimental dairy farm at Beltsville, Md. Six cows were used in the experiment; three were fed a grain ration of corn meal, bran and cotton-seed meal; the other three were fed a grain mixture of five parts crushed oats and one part cotton-seed meal. A number of samples of milk from the cows fed these rations were submitted to various purposes in the dairy division and they were asked to indicate their preference. In all 60 opinions were passed on various samples. Of these, 18 showed a preference for the milk from cows fed on crushed oats, 40 preferred that from the cows fed on bran and white-ripe-cotton-seed-meal-choice. The results show that in these rations, not only was there no marked difference in favor of the crushed oats as a food to improve flavor, but in anything the ratio containing bran and corn was more successful in producing a fine-flavored milk.

WASTE OF WATER

...on the ground water, and as soon as it appears within eight feet of the surface a rigorous system of drainage is put into effect, and the drain trenches are constructed. In nearly every such measure in this country, Sir William thought that the engineers in charge would be voted out of office before they could carry out their policy, but under the autocratic government of India and Egypt they were able to do what they knew to be for the ultimate good of the people, who cursed them at first and blessed them afterward.

When asked the proper duty of a water, Sir William said that in Egypt, where there is practically no rainfall and an extremely hot climate, the traditional practice was to give the canal the head a capacity of one second foot for 100 acres for maximum use at time of flood, the winter duty three times as much, or one second foot to 300 acres. He was pronounced in his opinion that what was sufficient for the hot and rainless climate of Egypt should be ample for our cooler and wetter climate.

He stated that the English government had carried on extensive experiments in a large field to find the proper duty of water. These experiments were conducted on tracts of thousands of acres and on all kinds of crops. From these experiments and from the practice on large systems, he considered the duty of one second foot at the head of the canal for 100 acres as all that the land could use without injury. This would supply all the water the soil could evaporate. An amount that the plants could use and all the soil could evaporate. Any amount in excess of this had either to pass by percolation into the subsoil, where it accumulated as ground water, and unless artificially removed, would result in the ultimate ruin of the land.

Sir William compared the practice in the Boise valley with that in the vicinity of Los Angeles, where the finest orchards in the world were raised one-fourth the amount of water now being used in the Boise valley, the duty of water at Los Angeles being one second foot to 200 acres. This he considered the result of careful and thoroughly prepared soil, supplied by extensive fertilization. They use all the stable manure and other fertilizer obtainable from the cities and import blood and bones from the packing houses of Omaha and Chicago. They pay $15 per acre yearly for their water, $15 for fertilizer, and they receive as much as $100 per acre for their crop.

Too much stress, he said, could not be laid upon the necessity of fertilization. The water is generally devoid of nitrogenous matter, and thin soils have little, if any, of this necessity of plant growth. Trying to force crops from such soil by an excessive use of water is a futile process resulting in the eventual ruin of the land or the construction of expensive drainage works.

When Sir William's attention was called to the practice in the Snake river district, where canals serving horse trails at head are supplying water at the rate of one second foot to 50 acres, and even more in some cases, he was emphatic in his opinion that this was an extremely excessive use of water, which would result in ultimate damage to the land and expensive drainage works for its reclamation.

The warning given by Sir William Wilcocks should carry great weight, as he is an entirely disinterested observer of the greatest possible experience and is probably the greatest living authority upon the subject. His advice as to the more restricted use of water and a greater dependence upon the careful preparation and fertilization of the soil, will, if observed, have some beneficial effects. It will give a greater amount of arable land, greater productivity and increased land values. The neglect of his advice will restrict the irrefragable fund in the Boise valley to about the present acreage, the land will gradually decrease in value, and there will have to be large expenditures for drainage works.—Statesman.

GOV. INVESTIGATING BUTTE

Butte is restored in Copper City—Miners at Work.

Butte, June 15.—With Governor Stewart here conducting an investigation of the lawlessness of the last two days of the city is quiet this morning. Almost all complete forces are working in all mines. When the men went down in the mines no officials of the Western Federation of Miners were present to protest against the men who failed to show cards. Local officials of the miners' union have not been seen since they fled after the parade was broken up Saturday. The insurgents among the union miners plan to vote Wednesday on the question of showing cards at the mines. The police are still looking for the lieutenant who shot $200 from the union safe after it was dynamited by the seceders of the union Saturday night. The governor decided that he ordered the state militia to hold itself in readiness for a call to Butte.—Capital News.
