CAPITOL CULLINGS LATEST NEWS FROM THE LEGISLATURE

WHAT THE LEGISLATURE IS DOING AND WHAT IT PROPOSES TO DO.

Details of Organization — One Official From This Co.

Representative Barker "Takes the Count"—Millia Fay Bill Passed—Moody Secures His Critics—Zuck Is Blamed for State Land Appraiser—County Divisionists Active.

(Editorial Correspondence)
BOISE, Jan. 11.—Bill county is knocking at the door of the legislature for admittance. Fred Nihart, the eastern west end legislator, is the Buhl county idea. It is here on the job with his pet measure, feeling out the sentiment of the members of the fourteenth session and waiting for the creation of new counties, doing a little quiet lobbying and, no doubt, seeking some auspicious avenue for the carrying of the bill into the senate's house.

It is an idea to say that no member of the Twin Falls county delegation will stand sponsor for or even introduce the bill, all members having pledged themselves against the proposition of dividing of Twin Falls county, and the campaign having been fought with that issue in the foreground. As the result of the campaign Nihart was defeated in his candidacy for the legislature, but his ardor for county division was not dampened thereby, and he is now occupying a conspicuous seat in the so-called "third house," awaiting his opportunity.

There is considerable expectation here as to who will introduce the Buhl county measure, whether it will come from the Democratic or the Republican side. Nihart is a Republican and as the Republicans are in the minority, it is suggested that some member from the Democratic majority, hoping to gain weight for it in that way.

Speaking of the subject next to his heart, in an interview published in the Capital News, Mr. Nihart said: "I cannot say whether I am a member in the territory seeking to become a new county voted in favor of its creation. We have the assessed valuation, both sides we believe in, and the county will ask for recognition from the present legislature."

So far as is yet apparently there is but one county division in the legislature, that being the delegation from Blaine county, where there appears to be a harmonious agreement to divide the county into three sections, due to physical barriers separating the territory.

"BUFFALO BILL" FINDS THE "HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS"

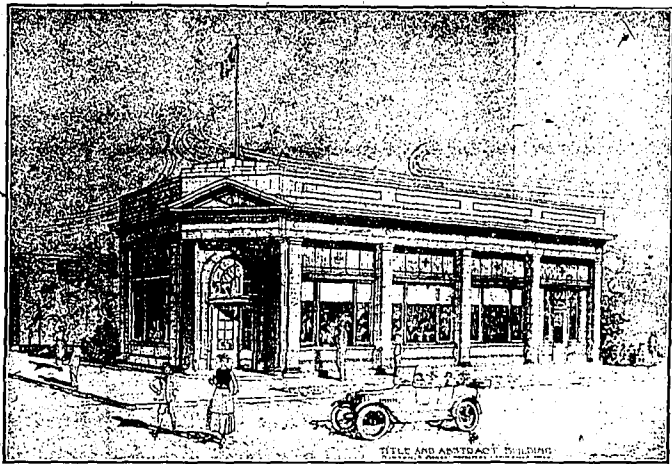

The Curtain Hung Down Upon the Long and Wondrous Career of the Veteran Scout and Showman.

With the news by wire of the death in Denver, at noon yesterday, of William F. Cody, better known to both old and young as the "Buffalo Bill," there in ended one of the most strange and romantic careers developed in the west and wonderland country of the Horn near Denver, Iowa, seventy-three years ago, Cody, as a child, went with his parents to the far west, where his name and fame as a pioneer, hunter and scout became not only nation, but world wide. There he served various generals as a most intrepid dispatch carrier and scout; and there he earned the sobriquet which stuck to him through life in an actual buffalo-killing match with the celebrated competitor who could be found.

Mr. Cody was also a regularly enlisted soldier in the Civil War and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic; in connection with which it will be recalled by Twin Falls people generally, and by the members of the organization named in particular, that on his last visit to this city, less than two years ago, with the Sells-Floto Circus, the local G. A. R. met him at the station and rode with him in the street parade. A courtesy which he greatly appreciated and abundantly reciprocated.

SPONTANEOUS IGNITION

RESULTS IN BLAZE.
Fire evidently of spontaneous origin broke out in the welding shop of C. F. Rukes and Son at No. 141 Second avenue east at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The fire quickly came to the spot promptly and prevented any destruction of machinery. The fire burned through the partition separating the welding shop from the building owned by J. B. White. The total damage amounted to about $500, partly covered by insurance.

Modern office building of white terra cotta and plate glass front to be built on corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue east. The plans were prepared by Architect Morse, and construction is to begin immediately.

Canal Meeting Adjourns Until February Twentieth

After a Number of Brilliant Talks Stockholders Disperse to Reassemble for Further Transaction of Business-Hansen Butte Subject of Live Discussion

CANAL BOARD NOTE

W. O. Taylor 36,400.
J. H. Barker 75,514.
L. G. Condon 79,659.
F. A. Kennedy 63,452.
N. H. Seaver 39,222.
Dan Condon 35,222.
W. F. Alworth 15,638.
J. W. Winkler 3,649.

When the canal company stockholders met Tuesday afternoon the water of General Manager C. E. Fiercerfield which had begun before noon was completed. P. W. Mondrian of Buhl County, to the action of the directors in building a house for a director on the west end, saying that the whole board, on the same principle should be housed. The directors explained that the house was built in order to increase efficiency and that the company still owned it so the matter was dropped.

The final report of Vice President J. H. Seaver proved an interesting event as it brought into the discussion the Hansen butte proposition, the question of whether the company had reserved rights to the use of power on the lowly canal and whether it was bound under its agreement to comply with the demand made by the directors by the Twin Falls Land & Water company confined in the following notice:

"The reasons among others that there is a demand from prospective buyers for additional water rights under the irrigation system controlled by the Twin Falls Land & Water company and now known as the canal system of the Twin Falls Canal company and that the unpaid water right held by you in the purchase of the agreement of December 31, 1910, may become lost through abandonment and the failure to make beneficial use thereof, you are hereby requested by the Twin Falls Land & Water company to make sales of such water right without delay and account to this corporation for its shares of the proceeds derived therefrom."

"You are notified hereby that if you fail or refuse to make such sales and that through such failure or refusal the Twin Falls Land and Water company sustain any damages it will hold you and the several members of your board of directors responsible for such damages."

The above notice has reference to the settlement of a dispute between the water company and canal company in which 40,000 shares of treasury stock was to be held until such time as more water could be obtained than needed for land already segregated.

man recently and would take precedence, he contended. He held however that being an artificial stream this offered filing was only an extra precaution. He denied that conditions were such as either demanded or warranted compliance with the demand of the Twin Falls Land and Water company.

The practical and legal conclusions of Mr. Seaver were stoutly disputed by a number of those present and were supported by others. M. J. Sweeley strongly opposed the watering of the Hansen butte, and suggested that should there prove to be water enough to irrigate other lands, it might be possible to adjust things satisfactorily with the Land and Water company, and still make more profit than could be derived from the irrigation of Hansen butte. George Harland replied that should it be deemed well to irrigate lands on the Salmon tract as suggested, even greater construction work would be needed than would be required at the butte. Mr. Seaver dwelt on the waste of water and the great advantage from the more rapid flow resulting from a cemented canal over the phases which are now being used, as well as the gain resulting from

NINE UNKNOWN BUIH RESIDENTS PINCHED

Charged With Gambling They Are Taken Into Custody on Warrant Issued by City.

Answering an S. O. S. signal Monday night, Deputy Sheriff W. G. Thompson went in to help Chief of Police J. F. Barnhill and his assistants in rounding up a bunch of denizens who were charged with dallying with the red devil game of draw with something more valuable than beans. Nine gentlemen were rounded up on warrants issued by Police Judge J. C. Washburn. The names of the men were all new in the community. Having helped take the men into custody the deputy sheriff returned to this city.

NEW MEANS FOUND FOR BUILDING JARRIDGE ROAD

At a meeting held Tuesday by the county commissioners and Secretary James McMillan of the Twin Falls Commercial club a new plan was adopted for furthering the construction of the road along Three Creek through Owyhee county to the Nevada state line. It was proposed that the legislature for a special act permitting the use of a specified sum necessary for the construction of the road by this county. It is declared that this course is entirely constitutional and a bill is being drafted for the purpose.

LONDON WOMEN ASKED TO WEAR WHITE HATS

(United Press)
LONDON, Jan. 11.—Women today are urged to wear white millinery at night so they may be plainly seen by "white drivers" and "white coats" are urged for street sweepers. The recommendations followed a series of road accidents due to the atrocious darkness of London nights during the recent season.

RONEYMEN CLOSE A SUCCESSFUL MEET

Many Interesting Talks are Made—Co-operation of Farmers Against Grasshoppers is Urged.

The largest and most successful meeting in the history of the Honey Producers association of Idaho closed Tuesday night with a banquet served by the Model cafe at the Masonic hall, at which a number of complimentary and felicitous speeches were made. Dr. D. P. Albee was toastmaster and responses were made by Messrs. Bowman, Harper, Stinson, Leeb Beach, Westfield and last, but not least, by Messrs. Beach and Stinson.

The program published in THE TIMES booklet was carried out to a letter, except in the case of two papers where substitutions were made. Instead of the paper Sweet Clover as a "Probable Product" by E. J. Nohor of Sunnyside, an interesting paper was presented on "Judicious Increase and Honey the Same year" by J. M. Hanson. In place of M. B. Weber's paper on "Technic of Apiary" there was given a talk on "Developing the Market," by C. H. Ribley.

Officers elected were: President, H. Harper, Pilot; vice president, J. H. Stone of Caldwell; secretary-treasurer, J. H. Mowbray of Idaho Falls; assistant secretary, C. H. Stinson, Twin Falls; directors, Frank Beach, Burdell H. O. Newberry, W. E. Krupp, Corzenta, C. H. Coblenz, Ribley, E. E. Laguard, Twin Falls.

Twin Falls generally ships out from two to five tons of comb honey which is pronounced by the largest buyers on earth to be the best in the world. Idaho Falls ships from five to ten tons of strained honey of the finest grade.

The defense of the bee from the charge of responsibility for the fly, as pointed out by Professor A. B. Gahan, entomologist, was a feature of the program, as he avoided the use of technical expressions and made his points very plain to the lay audience. The investigations of Professor Pickett of Illinois with a pre-blossom spray furnished evidence regarding the profitable little insect of the blame.

The resolutions specifically mentioned with approval the elucidation of the subject by the speaker, and the effect of grasshopper spray on the health of the honey bee was treated by County Agriculturalist W. N. Bledsoe. The speaker proved profitable of all. The bee keepers agreed that while the use of the spray for the hoppers would necessarily kill some of the bees and hurt others, they would profit more than they would lose by the elimination of the pests. The question of reducing the price of honey was also discussed. The county agriculturalist suggested the elimination of the grasshopper by intensive culture of alfalfa and clover with a tough harrow to tear up the ground and expose the eggs. He suggested that everyone cooperate in this so that there would be no fields in which the insects could breed and invade the property of others. He also suggested spraying locusts and clover with kerosene and kerosene and alfalfa so as to kill the young insects.

The resolutions strongly endorsed the work of the state university in its experiments and urged the creation of an extension department for experimental and research purposes, and to cooperate in the elimination of disease.

The next meeting will be held at Idaho Falls.

SENATE SUSTAINS

WILSON PEACE NOTE

Senator Lewis Reiterates Assertions of Secretary Lansing That We Are On Verge of War.

WASHINGTON—Approval of President Wilson's request for a statement of peace terms from the European belligerents was voted by the senate Friday night at the conclusion of three days of stirring debate. Action came with dramatic suddenness when Democratic leaders decided to accept a form of resolution that would not commit the senate to indorsement of the whole of the president's note and ten Republicans of the progressive group joined the majority in making the vote forty-eight to seventeen.

Senator Merritt of New Jersey was the only Democrat to vote in the negative. Discussion of the subject had reached a climax during the day with a "sensational" declaration by Senator Lewis, chief spokesman for the Democrats, replying to Republican "criticism of the president's course.

Without referring directly to the submarine controversy, the senator said the United States could not keep out of the war if continued, and that America would not accept mis-conception of orders or zeal of an officer as an excuse for an injury to a citizen or property.

The chief objection urged against the original resolution offered by Senator Hitchcock was that it would indorse the president's offer to join in a movement to guarantee world peace and his declaration of the interest of the United States in small nations. Progressive Republicans joined Senator Lodge and others in this contention.

The resolution adopted was proposed by Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, and was accepted by Senator Hitchcock as a substitute for his own. It provided:

"The senate approved and strongly indorses the request by the president in the diplomatic notes of December 18 in the nations now engaged in war that these nations settle the issues upon which peace might be discussed."

"The compromise ended the debate when it prepared certain that action would be deferred until Saturday and soon after Senator Borah had begun a vigorous speech against the original resolution. There had been startling assertions from both sides of the chamber during the day, though none attracted such attention as that of Senator Lewis in closing 'the argument for the Hitchcock resolution.

"Let me say on my own authority," said Senator Lewis, "that I agree with the sentiment expressed from any quarter for the secretary of state or anyone else (referring to Secretary Lansing's first explanation of the president's note to the powers) that this country has no right to participate in America's being involved in the conflict.

"Do you feel the people of this nation are in such a temper that they can ever again allow any commander of ships, any captain of army, any officer of diplomacy to visit upon this country the fate of a citizen or of property and escape on an excuse of misconception of orders or zeal of an officer?"

"If these conditions" be repeated again, America will not again accept that form of apology and will resent and punish to the full extent of her power. No amount of logic or participation would prevail.

"I say contribute of the war between the United States and Germany in this I have never a doubt of the comprehension of the United States and of the anxious foresight of the president in his declaration of the effort looking to bring about peace with Europe that we might maintain peace in America."

ADAMSON LAW NOW BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Outcome of Railroad Crisis Depends on Decision Handed Down by the Tribunal.

(United Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Whether the people of the United States again will face a national railroad strike depends on the supreme court's decision as to the law's constitutionality, argument of which is being made before that tribunal here.

The governmental and industrial crisis of which this law is the outgrowth is looked upon by leaders as concrete show down between the powers of labor and those of capital. The measure was rushed through congress last summer by President Wilson to ward off a strike by 400,000 railroad workers that would have tied up transportation in this country and have led to conditions verging on civil war. This strike menace has not yet been obviated.

At the top of the calendar of the United States supreme court yesterday was the case No. 787; Francis M. Wilson, United States Attorney for the eastern district of Missouri versus Alexander Now and Henry C. Ferris, receivers of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas railroad, et al. General Davis acted for the government.

Argument of the Adamson case was begun after the court handed down its decision last summer. Monday being decision day in the court. There was little room for spectators in the tiny supreme court chamber. Attorneys well as out of curiosity to hear plea of the array of lawyers appearing in the case for railroads and the government.

In the first fight before the court, railroad executives had the advantage of a favorable decision in the court when Justice Hook, at Kansas City, declared the law, after a brief hearing, unconstitutional. That, however, was only preliminary. The su-premo court will decide for all time whether congress had the power to legislate wages, providing that eight hours shall constitute a day's work for railroad men, and that for work after that they shall be paid overtime premiums.

What time will be taken by the court after today to decide the case no one knows.

Artesian City

(Times' Special Correspondence.) A large mountain lion was killed last Friday afternoon in dry creek canyon by Herbert Haines and Chas. Matthews.

While out hunting, coyotes Mr. Haines and Matthews saw a coyote as they thought they were a rock not far from them, but in a position so that its head was away from them. Taking aim they both fired at the animal, but the animal fell off the rock dead. Only one bullet hit the animal going through its head, but it is uncertain to whom the honor belongs.

The animal was much surprised on seeing what they had killed and said afterwards, if they had known what they were shooting at they might have hit it. The animal is a large female mountain lion, measuring six feet six inches from tip to tip. It had been in the same place for three or four years and was much tracked in the snow. It had killed and dragged a deer beneath the rocks it was seen lying on and the deer was heavily tracked in the snow.

THE GOVERNOR, LEGISLATURE AND CAREY ACT PROBLEMS.

It is significant that the general subject of Carey act projects occupies a greater portion of Governor Alexander's message to the fourteenth session of the legislature than does any other topic discussed in this extraordinary address. There are between twelve and thirteen hundred words in the message. Approximately one-fourth is devoted to matters pertaining to irrigation. That portion treating with the problems that have arisen under the Carey act includes over two thousand words, and comprises a very comprehensive handling of the entire subject.

Of no less significance was the reception this portion of the Governor's address received at the hands of the senators and representatives assembled in joint session Tuesday afternoon. Not only was the reading of this section of the message given the most earnest attention, but as point after point was scored, the assemblage manifested its approval by hearty applause.

"The period of compromising seems to have passed, and the hour for action in my opinion is here," the Governor insisted emphatically amid applause that indicated that everyone in the house thought the same.

"The companies entered these projects," continued the Governor, "for the realization of the lands with a view to making money out of the undertaking. It was simply a commercial transaction, and if the company over-rated its assets and turned the same into a liability, it is to be regretted, but it is no one's fault but its own. The land board has repeatedly asked these companies to make some practical demonstration of their willingness to make amends for their mistakes, but so far nothing has been accomplished. I believe the time has arrived for the state to exert its sovereignty and ownership, not in the lands but in the water and this legislature should make a positive declaration that the water of the state of Idaho belongs to the people of the state of Idaho and is not owned, and cannot be owned, by any corporation or individual except in its use for the purpose of irrigating the lands, and the lands so undertaken to be irrigated must receive a sufficient amount of water for the raising of crops.

"Any company that is not able to perform these functions should have no further rights or should have a receiver appointed and the privilege granted to it revoked. The period of compromising seems to have passed and the hour for action in my opinion is here."

Of particular interest to the people on the Salmon River tract is the recommendation that "every Carey act project should be organized by law, into an irrigation district, so that the settlers may have suitable and legal representatives to appear for them in their behalf before the state land board or upon other matters pertaining to their welfare, thus placing the settlers in the protection of their interests upon an equality with the company, which has representatives to protect its interests at all times."

This weakness in the settlers' position, we have pointed out time and time again; first at the time of the hearings before the Irrigation Commission, and recently in urging the formation of an irrigation district on the Salmon tract, steps to accomplish which are now under way.

The governor recommends the enacting of a law that make it possible to take these questions without delay before the supreme court of the state for "prompt and quick solution and adjudication, so that these matters may be cleared up and the mistakes of the past corrected so far as possible."

Another brief, but emphatic, paragraph voices a proposition which we have insisted upon, without avail, for the past four years. It is with gratification that we announce to our readers now, or rather allow the governor to announce in his own words—that:

"The attorney general ought also to be required by law to bring all suits that may be required in behalf of the settlers to determine their interests under any contract made by the state and the state should pay the court costs of all such litigation."

And it is particularly pleasing to THE TIMES that one associated with it will have the pleasure of introducing in the legislature, not only having the endorsement of the governor and the attorney general, but authorizing an appropriation for the employment of a Carey act attorney, to be under the jurisdiction of the state land board, whose duty it shall be to devote his undivided attention to the solution of the problems arising from these projects, and to advise the land board on all matters coming before it which pertain to Carey act matters.

The governor goes at length into all phases of the subject, outlining a number of recommendations which he suggests be enacted into the statutes to prevent a repetition of any of the Carey act disasters of the past.

In concluding his remarks on this subject, he expressed a conviction that will be approved by all who are familiar with these problems:

"No patent should be asked for by the government for any of the lands under the Carey act until the lands have actually been reclaimed and water actually furnished for their irrigation for more than one season in sufficient quantities to insure the raising of crops."

The governor, the attorney general, every other member of the state board of land commissioners, and practically every member of the fourteenth session of the legislature are more than like-warm on the subject of Carey act administration.

It looks as though something is about to happen.

It is an easy thing, too, to order very cheap portraits. But isn't it better to spend just a trifle more for pictures that exactly suit you? Quality first—that's our standard.

The story tells how a woman fights off the love of a man who tries to break up the happiness of her home. When the intruder finally succeeds in causing the husband to divorce his wife, the woman goes to his apartments and, repelling his forced attentions, shoots him. Then the husband realizes the trickery that had been played upon him, and the family is once more reunited.

BASSBALL SEASON TO REMAIN LONG

Study of Conditions Makes Big League Decide That Schedules Should Not Be Cut

(United Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—There is only a faint glimmer of hope that the baseball season will be started on time, but the league officials are not yet ready to make a definite decision. The study of conditions makes it clear that the season will be long and that the schedules should not be cut.

Early in the spring a year ago the Braves had good weather at home and so did enjoy National league club in the east. But later it began to rain, was cold, and everything seemed to conspire against baseball. The result was that although the Braves had won in the race right along they had one of the poorest years in their history.

Governor Tenor observed that good weather had favored this club early and he began to go into records. He found that just as often as not good weather was on later for opening dates, and in fact for the first month of the season. Then would come bad spells. Some times they struck the eastern half of the circuit and some times they didn't. He found, he declared, that more games had been lost in late season than in the early spring.

With this to work on, it was easy to discover that cutting the season later or cutting it short would actually work a hardship on the clubs instead of giving them a better whack at the good weather stretches.

John Hoyder, secretary of the league, added a little information when he said that for several years November weather has been better for baseball than many summer dates.

It isn't always the case that spring weather is most favorable. Some years show a dry early and perfect ends in June, but recent years have been just the reverse.

Statisticians of this kind effectually stopped talk of rearranging the schedules.

UNIFORM COYOTE BOUNTY PROPOSED

National Woolgrowers Association in Session in Salt Lake City After Prairie Wolf

(United Press) SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 11.—Plans for the adoption of a uniform bounty law for coyotes seriously hampering sheep raising in the western range states, were made here today by the twenty-seventh of the National Woolgrowers association which opened in this city today.

A special committee will report a measure which it framed for the legislatures of the eleven western states of Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. A bounty of $250 a head will be proposed. An estimated investment of $100,000,000 was represented by the 1,000 members from thirteen western states. Frank J. Hagenbarth, in his annual report, predicted continued high prices for wool, declaring that adverse legislation, the reduction in the range of the frontier and the bulk of the sheep generally have resulted in a large reduction in the size of flocks.

BOY FROM DAYTON BAGS THREE ZEPS

Joins French Aviator Corps a Year Ago—Writes Mother of First Flight in The Air.

(United Press) OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—Just a year ago Murray Galbraith, twenty, an Ottawa Valley boy studying at St. Andrews college, packed his traps for Dayton, Ohio, to learn to fly. He made his course in record time and left for overseas to commission in the British naval air service.

Today Galbraith has three German fliers to his credit, and is the owner of a French Croix de Guerra, pinned to his breast by the president. He had sent a fast "Fokker" flaming to the ground, forty miles inside the Tooton lines. He also has received special mention for conspicuous gallantry in imperial dispatches.

In a cherry boyish letter he tells of his first exploit. He wrote: "Yesterday two German planes were reported not far from here and I went up after them. In an hour and a half I was flying at 12,500 feet and saw a German machine 500 feet below. I turned and ran away so he would chase me.

"Then I looped round behind him emptied thirty-six shots into his machine, and he fell. I was flying at a vertical nose dive for a thousand feet and then caught fire and fell into the sea 10,000 feet below.

"So I was my first flight in the air and got my man! Gosh! I was excited. Mother, and when I was coming back to the 'drome' I did all kinds of stunts and all my spare ammunition fell out when I was up to date. He has been in active service exactly six months.

A DISSERTATION ON UNIMPROVED HIGHWAYS

(By H. G. Andrews) In the William Penn Highway Bulletin, Harrisburg, Penn., copyright 1916 by the William Penn Highway Association.

"I am the unimproved highway. My name is mud."

"The foot that pattered in primeval slime gave me birth. Unchanged while the ages passed, I have endured. Time has not served to increase my infinite variety. Earth born, and without a soul, yet have I lived. From the beginning I have been man's enemy.

A dust colored python am I, stretching my length across the hills, waiting my time to crush endeavor. I have trapped caravans that left bleaching bones in lands now deserted. Empires have fallen because of me.

I have turned victories into routs; I have trapped mighty leaders and have crushed armies.

I am, without faith; and those who trust me succumb. I have waited to look upon; to the stars I have made my way; tomorrow a steaming fog.

I add Difficulty to Distance. With isolation do I conspire to unblock the endeavors of man. I tug at the wheels of the grain cart, but bread may be dear. I hamper those who would feed the race. I am an anti-church and school, I impair the healer on his rounds and delay the coming that little ones may die.

I am a disrupter of Home. I speed I hasten born to the cities, when I am fair to see; and when he would return I face him with my forbidding depths. I minister to Bitterness; and lay a curse on milkhills there. There in none who live who does not pay me tribute.

When men ploughed with a crooked stick I was there. When the ancients covered me with stones I slipped away to other lands. I am the oldest land that lives today. Men count me cheap. I know the price they pay who count me so.

I am the unimproved highway. My name is Mud!

The Austrian government conducted a regular orderly trial of Masaryk on charges of high treason. He was sentenced to death following a verdict of guilty. The defendant was in London where he remains today as a lecturer at the university of London. Masaryk is one of the most interesting figures in the Slav political and scientific world. As leader of the progressive in Czechoslovakia he was forever demanding liberation of the Czech nation from Austria domination. The outbreak of the war made things very uncomfortable for the professor in Austria so he left. He had organized and led the opposition to Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina in 1908. Masaryk, although theoretically an enemy alien has found London a friendly haven, compared to his homeland.
