Buhl News

(From Buhl Herald)

One of the largest sheep deals ever closed in this part of Idaho was made through C. B. Brannon, who lives north of town. He purchased 20,000 lambs from Clyde Bacon of Twin Falls, for summer delivery to Hatch & Snyder of Denver, Colorado. The lambs are to be delivered in June, July and August, respectively, aggregating a total transaction of $140,000. The price paid for the June delivery lambs was 10 1/2 cents. The other prices were not stated. The gust of heavy wind that visited Buhl Sunday morning blew down the building which is being erected by Dr. Monroe, on Locust street between roadway and Ninth avenue. The structure was formerly being used ed as a barn, but recently Dr. Monroe extended remodeling it into a residence building, and it was raised to two full stories, when it was blown off its foundation, Sunday morning. A part of the foundation was blown down also.

S. Marshall, who lived on what is known as the John Laurie forty acres, south of Buhl, sold the last of his hay a few days ago, and according to his statement he received good returns from all the crops he put out. Mr. Marshall cleared over $1500 on 40 acres, besides raising enough to feed his stock, until he will harvest another crop and also the larger part of the living for the family.

The two horses which were stolen from Buhl Monday evening, February 19, and belonging to R. W. Morriweather and Rudolph Kunze, were found in Wells, Nevada, Saturday, 5 days after the animals were taken. Both horses were taken from the hitching racks, between eight and ten o'clock, and ridden out of town. However the horses were not tied to each other, though they were the only two which were added.

The Buhl high school basketball team dropped the game to Bentley on the Burley court last Friday evening by the score of eighteen to twenty-nine. The game was hard fought and was closer than the score indicates. Buhl players displayed the better team work, and often carried the ball over the court with ease, though they could not hit the basket. The score at the end of the first half was nine to sixteen, in favor of Burley.

The Democrats of Linn county, Oregon, are preparing a big reception for Wm. H. Hornbrook, in Albany, for March 5. The affair will be in the nature of a celebration of Wilson's inauguration, as well as a tribute to Mr. Hornbrook in recognition of his work on the state central committee and as a minister to Spain.

Our neighborhood was shocked and shocked last Tuesday when told that Mrs. Chas. Keenan was dying. Mrs. Keenan had not been well for about a year, but no one could tell her her condition was what it was and that she would no soon pass away. Her death is particularly sad, because she leaves behind her children aged four and two years, and because she herself, was so young. She died Wednesday night and was buried Saturday afternoon. Her funeral was held in the Methodist church by her pastor, Mr. Bent, attended by a large number of friends and neighbors. Our sympathies to Mr. Keenan and Mr. and Mrs. Fish.

THE WEATHER MODERATED AFTER "FAIR AND WARMER"

The Layering Offering Last Friday and Saturday Evenings Was Thoroughly Enjoyable.

Whoever one of Selwyn's productions is announced, everybody looks for something worth while; and in this case, as usual, everybody was present and was not disappointed. Of course, when take occasion to say "worth while," in this connection, it is not used in a strictly utilitarian sense; but if it is worth while to be entertained to laugh until your sides ache and know all the time what you are laughing at, then the characterization stands.

INDUSTRIAL IDEAL BETTER

business toward industrial democracy. A man who was not overworked, who received good wages, who felt an interest in the concern for which he labored, was an efficient workman. The modern plan of profit sharing was proving successful in every way. Many great concerns were adopting it, and always with profit alike to the business and the workman.

A feature of this new industrial condition was manifested by the great concern that had a medical examination given their employees and, where operations were necessary had furnished them free: One of the managers in a corporation of this sort said that there was no such thing as a lazy man; only unhealthy ones. When a man was in good

"Come on Over, See My Corn Fall Off!"

"I Put 2 Drops of 'Gets-It' on Last Night—Now Watch—"

"See—all you have to do is to use your two fingers and lift the corn right off, that's the way 'Gets-It' works. You just put on about 2 drops. Then the corn not only shrivels but loosens from the top, without affecting the surrounding parts in the least. Why, it's a most a pleasure to have corns and see how 'Gets-It' gets them off in a hurry and without the least pain. I can wear my shoes, dance and walk as though I never had corns." "Gets-It" makes the use of terrifying knives, banding bandages, tape, plasters and other things not only unnecessary, but dangerous. This wonderful discovery, 'Gets-It', for all sorts of hard corns or calluses, it is the new, simple, easy, quick way, and a new idea. You'll never have to cut a corn again with knives or scissors, and run chances of blood poisoning. Try 'Gets-It' tonight. 'Gets-It' is sold everywhere, to a bottle or sent on receipt of price by E. health, his exuberance of spirit made him want to work and do something. The manager had opened a factory in Georgia employing 9,000 Negroes and an equal number of "crackers," or "poor Whites." When he began they missed much of their time, but later, when a medical examination showed them to have been afflicted, they worked all the time.

By means of a system of promotions every man in the great Ford factories at Detroit felt that he had an interest in doing the best possible for the concern and felt that his work was appreciated. Old men were worked in places where they made good both for themselves and the company and all had that character of interest in doing the best possible for the concern and felt that his work was appreciated. Old men were worked in places where they made good both for themselves and the company and all had that character of interest in doing the best possible for the concern and felt that his work was appreciated.

Many other illustrations of a similar nature were given by the speaker, enlivened from time to time by witty sallies.

Miss Tarbell took a deep interest in things around this city while here. She expressed surprise at the price charged for sugar at the point of production and suggested to a TIMES reporter that if such a large price could be charged and such large profits secured by the sugar people, it seemed to her that they were in no great need of the high protective duties which they have secured.

"Indeed," she said, "if some of the statements made to me in Ogden, Utah, with reference to the sugar situation are true, I would say that the government would be justified in either taking over the plant or letting foreign sugar in free of duty in order that the users might have the benefit of reasonable prices; personally, I believe that the former would be the better way."

In the interview Miss Tarbell gave the impression that her solution of social troubles was the removal of special privileges and the extension of the principle of voluntary co-operation.

At the banquet given Miss Tarbell at the Friday luncheon by the Business Woman's Association before the speaking, 150 sat down to the tables. Miss Tarbell made a witty talk which evoked much enthusiasm and laughter. Miss Jessie Warrington went to Minidoka to meet the speaker and accompanied her to this city from that point. Miss Tarbell left for Boise yesterday morning.

The girls club gave an excellent musical program in assembly, Wednesday morning. Songs by the entire chorus opened the program, after which several number by the boys' chorus were greeted by victorious applause. Other numbers by the girls chorus, and the boys quartette were greeted by similar evidence of applause.

A voting contest was held in the school class last week to decide as to whom the prettiest and most popular girl, as well as the handsomest and most popular boy, might be. The returns are to be published in the annual.
MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING AT LAYING SATURDAY
True to his promise, Gus Hill offers a new vehicle each successive season for Bud Fisher's eccentric character conceptions. Mut & Jeff. One cannot imagine the arduous labor attached to the task of furnishing a new book for the ludicrous frolics of those two ill mated comers, for the reason that the plot set by the original production is a hard one to follow. There must be a laugh to every line of Mut & Jeff's dialogue, a scream to every situation, as the audience looks for it and it must be forthcoming.
