John Clair of Twin Falls is in our village recently on business.

A couple of cars of coal came to relief of Hollister people last week which was sold out in four days.

A very pleasant time was had a few days ago when J. W. Christensen gave a party of honor of his wife's birthday. Our basket ball team felt rather sick after such a tanning they received in Twin Falls a few days ago after the game, the score being 7 to 28 in favor of Twin Falls, but our team claimed the floor was too slick and next time they will play in Twin Falls.

FILER VISITED BY ANOTHER BIG FIRE

Home of "Pure Food Grocery" Destroyed and Other Buildings Ruined Beyond Repair.

Filer was the scene of another fire last Sunday morning, says the Filer Journal. At 8:36 as people were coming up from the train fire was noticed in the rear end of the Pure Food Grocery and Earl Munyon gave the fire alarm. Fire Chief Fohrenbacker was taking a visitor to the train and immediately got into action. The company responded and soon had water playing on the building. It was seen that Small's grocery was doomed as great effort was made to confine the fire to the store. The billiard hall, owned by C. C. Small was ruined beside the stock he carried. The building occupied by the Studebaker people was soon emptied, but the firemen saved the structure from being a complete wreck. The old Munyon building on the west of the store was on skids preparatory to being moved, caught fire several times but was checked before it could gain headway, and so escaped any damage. Mr. Small had some insurance on the store and was able to cover the loss.

The pool hall and Studebaker building were so badly damaged that they will have to be taken out.

This fire cleans up all the wooden buildings on the north side of Main street.

Mr. Small has plans made and the weather will permit.

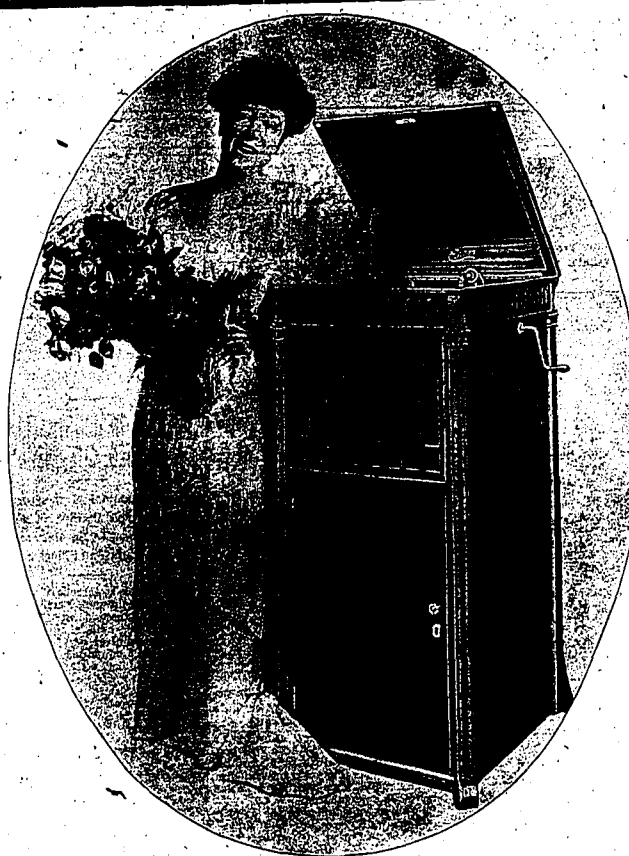

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB BILLED HERE APRIL 10

Donald K. David of the University of Idaho extension course was in the city last week in regard to the forthcoming visit to Twin Falls of the University Glee club, which comes to this city April 10 under the auspices of the Twin Falls high school. The club is now on its third tour this year. The papers where the club has been so far are loud in praise of the program. The following from the Coeur d'Alene Press being a fair sample of what they are saying:

"It excites and repeated encores are to be considered a manifestation of appreciation of an audience, the University of Idaho Glee Club members should feel highly gratified at the night. It was perhaps the most happily 'greedy audience' that ever assembled in front of a local footlight. The varsity entertainers were responsive in full degree, returning again and again for encores, which extended the program to a late hour. The high school auditorium was packed to the doors for the entertainment."

THE ISIS LECTURES GROW IN INTEREST

"The Millennium, or One Thousand Years of Peace," Sunday Night's Subject—House Crowded.

"Satan and his host of evil angels will be detained upon the earth for a thousand years after the coming of Christ" said Evangelist T. G. Bunch speaking in the Isis theatre Sunday night to a crowded house. His subject was "The Millennium, or One Thousand Years of Peace." He said in part:

"When Jesus returns to this earth in the clouds of Heaven there will be a great earthquake, which will destroy every city in the world. Then for a thousand years the sun will not shine on the world, neither will there be vegetation, birds, or human inhabitants." In support of this statement he read Jeremiah 4:23, "I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form, and void, and the heavens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountains and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly. I beheld and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of heaven had fled."

Continuing he said, "The doctrine of a second chance for salvation is without foundation in the Bible. Revelations 20 tells of a millennium, or a thousand years, bounded by two resurrections, the one of the righteous at the beginning and the one of the wicked at its close. Between the two resurrections, during the 1000 years, the righteous are in heaven and the wicked are dead here upon earth. The benighted soul mentioned in Revelations 20 is the earth in its chaotic condition, the place where Satan, cast out by the decree of God, and the chain of circumstances, abide for 1000 years. The righteous are all in heaven where with Jesus at their head they will judge. Before that tribunal every one will be given complete justice.

"At the close of the millennium Christ and his people will return to this earth as taught by Revelations 21. The heavenly Jerusalem, with its precious gates of pearl and golden streets will descend upon the spot where Jerusalem now stands. The

THE HOUR'S NEED—AND DUTY.

As the time approaches for the election of our municipal officers, more or less (far too little) attention is being directed toward possible candidates—especially for the offices of mayor and councilmen.

Under existing circumstances, however, one can but be surprised at the character of the "attention" manifested and the nature of the inquiries inspired thereby. For, if there was ever a time in the history of Twin Falls when the highest type of official service is imperatively needed—when ability and integrity are at a premium—this is that hour and that minute!

This is not only true in consideration of the matter of floating a bond issue of a half million dollars and controlling the expenditure of the proceeds; but also because the present rapid growth of the city is continually bringing new conditions and presenting new questions, the more or less wise and progressive meeting and settlement of which will decide whether such growth shall continue, or shall cease!

And yet, under these exigent circumstances, when the name of a citizen is suggested as that of a possible candidate for mayor or councilman the question one usually hears asked is not, "Will he make a good one," but, "Will he consent to run?"

It will require no argument to convince every thinking person that this is all wrong. Peace hath duties and sacrifices, as well as victories, "no less renowned than war." And not only should civic pride invite, but a sense of duty and obligation should compel, every patriotic citizen affirmatively to respond to any authoritative call from the community in which he lives for his service in official capacity.

Twin Falls is doubtless immune from this particular disease, but too often has experience elsewhere seen the choice of city, and even school, officials degenerate into a mere fight between local banks over the handling and manipulation of the public funds, with practically no reference to the character of the service to be given other than this. Again is no argument necessary to demonstrate that herein lies danger to the interests of the general public.

In the present crisis—and all are agreed that the present is a crisis in the affairs and fortunes of Twin Falls—the TIMES represents no person, party nor faction. It has no wish nor purpose other than the general good of the community in which it is proud to have a humble part. What it would like to see, however, and what it honestly believes to be for the general good, will be an absolutely "new deal"—the selection for mayor and councilmen of representative business or professional men—men unaffiliated with past local politics and to whom for that reason and for every season, support and confidence would be generally and generously given. Such men should now be called to the front; and, being called, should not hesitate to answer, "here!"

For the highest authority as to the far-eastern view of the matter, and without regard to how much or how little they may know about it, it may not be amiss to read the following from the New York Nation:

"It was not a threat that Dr. Iyengar uttered when he declared that there is danger to our friendly relations with Japan in the favorite Pacific Coast game of worrying alien landowners, which means, of course, Japanese landowners. It is a fact of which people of sense and justice have always been aware. What makes the behavior of Idaho and Oregon all the more inexcusable is the absence of prevention. If ever there was a Japanese 'peril,' it has been removed by the unwritten agreement between the two countries under which Japanese immigration has ceased. White civilization on the Pacific Coast is not in danger of engulfment."

The Toledo Blade publishes a comparative table showing that ingredients for a "boiled dinner" which cost forty-nine cents in 1914 costs $1.36 at the present time. This is bad enough; but as the Blade's boiled dinner is made to consist of "two pounds of rump corned beef, foregathered with, one whole cabbage, two quarts of potatoes and two quarts of onions, we submit that it would be dear at any price."

Referring to the recent senate filibuster, the New York Herald most pertinently says: "Every state that contributed to that array of willful men has reason to hang its head in shame, but even that should there be room for pity for the State of Illinois and Dolly, which contributes two to the diet!"

WAS IT WORTH $80,000?

The Statesman has raised the question as to whether Idaho has received legislation at the hands of the Fourteenth session to the value of $80,000, that sum being its approximate cost, in dollars and cents, to the people of the state.

Under all of the circumstances it is not unnatural for us to answer in the affirmative.

We believe that the law protecting the farmers of this state from price discrimination will alone be found during the next hibernation, worth the cost of the legislature.

It is predicted that the placing of the state educational institutions, for the first time in the history of the state, on a system closely resembling the budget plan, and which will in subsequent years form the basis of an out-and-out budget system, will save, for these institutions during the next two years, the sum of $50,000. The adoption of the plan is worth many times that amount to the state.

The system has been put into effect in all departments of the state, as well as in its charitable and penal institutions.

A million dollar expenditure for good roads has been authorized. Will the people of the state place this on the debit or credit side of the legislature's balance sheet?

A complete auditing of the records of the land department since the day the state was admitted into the Union, and the installation of a modern system of accounting for all state departments, has been provided for; and this, it is claimed will not only obviate the possibility of another $150,000 steel, but it will save thousands of dollars for the state by properly preserving its vast land holdings and other assets.

The taxpayers will no longer suffer from another considerable "leak," for the records and accounts of county officers are to be carefully audited and supervised by the state auditor, by virtue of other legislation enacted by this session.

If the state gets behind its Carey act projects and help to straighten out some of its southern Idaho wrecks, as is the intent of other legislation how much will it be worth to the people directly affected, and how much will it be worth to the state by reason of removing the shameful blot that has retarded immigration to Idaho?

TROY LAUNDRY INSTALLS MORE MODERN MACHINERY

Two Rotary Washers and an Extractor are Latest Additions to Equipment—Other Improvements Completed.

With the recent installation of two rotary washers of late design, and an improved extractor, Wm. M. Pearis, manager and owner of the Troy Laundry, feels that he now has one of the most up to date and modern laundries in the state. In addition to the new machinery a crew of workmen have been busy refinishing the interior to make it lighter, more sanitary, and more convenient in arrangement. The walls have been tinted white, the woodwork painted, and an extensive locker system is completed which will assure greater security and dispatch in the segregation of the finished clothes.

These additions and changes have been the result of Mr. Pearis' efforts to keep his establishment up to date and efficient in every respect, and according to the manager, the Troy Laundry does not lack for any machinery which will make for greater efficiency combined with high grade work. In the arrangement of the plant Mr. Pearis has always endeavored to minimize in every respect the lost motion entailed in the passage of the clothing from the receiving room, through each department to the sorting table included in the plant's equipment is the largest flatwork ironer in this section if not in the entire state. The starched clothes ironers are all of improved design and the method used in beating the ironing machinery by steam assures an evenness in press not obtained by other methods.

In finishing starched collars, two machines have been added which have greatly minimized the wear to which collars are subjected. The first is the dampener which enables the ironer to fold the collars without breaking, and the second is the automatic collar blocker which assures the right shape to the collars while they are being finished.

Between 20 and 28 people are employed at all times by the Troy Laundry and Mr. Pearis states that he has always endeavored to maintain the right personnel in his employees and only reliable help is employed.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Shepherd of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Hall was born near Fairfield, Iowa, January 18, 1849. On November 8, 1876, he married Eleanor Wright. Three children were born to the couple, of whom the eldest, Mrs. Clara Dine, died eight years ago. Mr. Hall was a member of the Methodist church. He and E. E. Hall, and seven grandchildren, Harvey and John Gundy and Edward, Russell, Elsie, Viola and Earl Hall, interment took place in the Twin Falls cemetery.

To Hold Unique Test—Under the supervision of the Majestic Pharmacy of this city, the local agents for the Edson experiment will be conducted a test of the American Wizard's latest improvement of his instrument, in which Elizabeth Spencer, the popular concert soprano will sing by aid of the machine's recreation of her voice. These tests are being made all over the country in accordance with Mr. Edson's personal request, and the originality of the experiment has met with great interest wherever tried. The Majestic Pharmacy is offering complimentary tickets to the concert to all who apply in person by writing. The program will be held Tuesday evening, March 20, at the Lavington theatre.

The Spring Opening, announced last week for Monday evening of this week, was not, for some reason, quite as generally participated in by the merchants of Twin Falls as was expected to have been anticipated. However, there were some exceptionally fine displays to which a continuous crowd of ladies gave interested attention throughout the evening. Booth's large store was one of the centers of attraction. Its susceptibility of decoration had been made the most of—opinion being divided as to whether the window in rose color or that in gold and green was the more attractive. The display of mouth-millinery, of linens, of suits—in fact of almost everything in feminine wear, invited praise. No place was more crowded during the evening than Riey's Millinery store, which the ladies declare to be showing the most ample and tasteful stock of its very successful career—this especially including what one visitor called the "dream parasols" for spring wear. Hart's was also crowded with visitors, who voted it second to none in beauty and attractiveness—both in point of decoration and of goods displayed. The window displays here were effective in gray and green; but perhaps the most attractive feature was the reception room at the rear, where the latest and most chic suits for ladies were shown on living models. The new millinery store to be known as the Vogue also claimed many visitors and well repaid their time and attention. The same may be said of Mrs. Stafford's excellent, carefully and well-selected stock of ladies head gear.

The Idaho Department store and Jordan's are also crowded with a notice posted that its opening was unavoidably delayed, which is doubtless the case with other concerns, so that the ladies may be forward to another evening of optical delight.

One of the interesting affairs of the past week was the party and party given by Mrs. Paul R. Taber on last Wednesday evening at her home on Ninth avenue east. The guests were entertained at three tables by Mrs. High favor was awarded Mrs. Selma Perrine. At the close of the evening a dainty supper was served.

SOCIETY NOTES —Phone 28— (By Margaret Mason, written for the United Press.) Maya, Oh Maya, my Indian maid. You put all the Paris belle's quite in the shade; Your colorful blankets so gaudy and rich— They've taken for mantles, skirts, shawls and sashes; And other new fashions now, merrily and fade Before the gay garments by Indian made. NEW YORK, March 12—And now

Fashion has put the Indian sign on it! Seems sort of like taking candy from a child to take our fashions from the Indians when about all the poor things have to their backs is a blanket and a string of beads. But oh, those gorgeous laced blankets that the Maya Indians weave in Guatemala are much too beautiful to be wasted on the primitive fastnesses of Central America. The possibilities of an ordinary blanket seems exhausted after you have used it as covering for body, bed or horse. The possibilities of the Maya blankets, loosely woven of prae wool and dyed in vivid and divers stripes are almost limitless. The Mayas know how to make 'em but the fashion experts know how to use 'em, as is evidenced by a recent showing of Maya models in a famous New York and Philadelphia department store. Loose wraps of oyster white and beige shantung are lined throughout with the gorgeous Maya blankets. Beach and summer suits of white, gray and ecru silk have vivid Maya blanket touches on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. Sport skirts entirely evolved from Maya blankets with their ruffled bars and color, make you long to be behind the bars. You can now buy ribbons at the ribbon counter and embroidery hants at the trimming counter that will furnish up your last summer suite to the last word in modish Mayarianism. Silks by the yard in Maya designs and colorings are also being manufactured and stockings embroidered in Indian symbols are by no means at the foot of the Maya list of fashionable fads. The ribbons and embroidered handkerchiefs are more swager than really beautiful and almost defy detection, when placed side by side with Indian originals. But if you want a blanket touch, much as I hate to be a wet blanket, I am constrained to tell you that you will have to go to Guatemala for it. Or rather the house that is making Maya specialties will have to import one for you. It strikes me it would be almost as simple to import a Maya instead. Think how handy it would be to have a little Maya in your home while you waiting your blankets for you while you wait.

The main point is that we have to be good Indians this season. At present the regular business meeting refreshment were served, next being to be with Mrs. Eugene Crandall March 23.

Mrs. Folks was hostess to the Penelope Club at her home on Friday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent at sewing after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Dickenson was hostess to the Pricella club. The time was taken up with sewing and conversation. A two-course dinner was served at the close of the afternoon. The club will meet this week with Mrs. Farrar.

A farewell surprise party was given Monday night by the friends and the neighbors of Captain and Mrs. H. H. Barnes on the eve of their departure for Boise where Captain Barnes will be commanding and Mrs. Barnes manager of the Soldiers' home. The evening was spent pleasantly and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Herriman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Perry, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brashers, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cassey, and Mrs. Orlan, Mrs. Ducker, Mrs. James, Mrs. Layton and Mrs. Smith and daughter.

BUHL LIBRARY PLAN BEING WORKED OUT

Book Gathering Day Soon—Active Efforts for Jarbidge Road—Kunze Cheese Gets First.

The committee which was appointed by the Board of Education to work out plans for the establishing of a new library met at the home of Mr. Heath on Tuesday afternoon, March 6. The committee members were: J. H. Heath, chairman; A. J. Tucker, secretary; and the following: W. H. Hudson, J. H. Heath, A. J. Tucker, and the committee were present and the discussions were entered into relative to the place for the books to be kept, methods of acquiring books and subscriptions. It was decided that all city and county clubs and organizations be asked to co-operate in this movement. It was thought that the club would be willing to make a house to house canvass of the town to secure the pledge of books and subscriptions. Then, later, there would be a book gathering day at which time the Boy Scouts might be secured to gather the books to some centrally located place.

In a telephone conversation with W. H. Hudson, president of the Jarbidge O. L. Transportation company, and secretary of the Jarbidge Commercial club, A. J. Tucker was assured that Mr. Hudson would return with Mr. Tucker to Buhl some time next week to take a load of provisions into the camp. He will return next week and expects the men to come with him. A. C. Karcher, who lives west of Buhl four miles, is a strong advocate of the dairy cow for this tract. In a conversation he said that his five cows produced better than 325 pounds of butter each during the past year. He expects to increase his herd, and contemplates installing a milking machine when his herd is large enough. Mr. Karcher came here from Wisconsin and says that dairying made his home state.

Residents of the Fruitland subdivision met in the Commercial club rooms Sunday morning to settle a controversy with J. Morson Nesbit relative to their food ditch, which runs through his forty. Rat holes in the dyke had caused so much water to run over his alfalfa that four or five acres was ruined last year. It was decided to cement the ditch and to re-plant the ground for Mr. Nesbit, who was very reasonable in his demands.

There will be a basket ball game in Buhl high school between the fast teams from Heyburn and the Buhl five on Friday evening, March 9. Heyburn has a fast team and a good game is expected.

Gustav Kunze received a letter from Portland, Oregon, where he entered the Buhl cheese in the tri-state fair, stating that his product won first prize. The three states competing were Oregon, Washington and Idaho. This is another of the many first prizes which have been taken by the Buhl product. Mr. Kunze has a string of medals showing that he has won first prize in competitive exhibits from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

At a regular meeting of the Thursday Civic club held in the Masonic hall on Tuesday afternoon, a motion was unanimously carried, endorsing the impartial action of the school board and Superintendent Manning in providing in the high school both supervised dancing and other amusements for those not wishing it.

Chas. H. McQuown, manager of the Boise-Payette Lumber company closed a deal last Friday for the purchase of the vacant lot on Broadway between the Gibbs cigar store and the Clark harness shop, and has let the contract for a fifty-foot brick building. The existing building on the lot is almost finished and building operations are to be commenced at once.

Charles Jonathan Kallina, manager of the Buhl Rex Amusement company, announced to the Board of Trustees yesterday that he contemplates erecting a large hotel on the corner lots near the Buhl Auto company garage. The nature of the structure is not known, although questioned further Mr. Kallina said that it would be several stories high.

The first drill since its return from the border was held by company K last Tuesday evening in the old school building on lower Broadway which they have fixed up for temporary use as an armory.

The play embraces every appeal to the tender and imaginative side of the human soul. Child lovers will see those fascinating fables: Katherine and Jane Lee; for those who are critics of feminine charm a school of mermaids takes first place; for those who worship the divine in nature are landscapes and water vistas of superlative beauty, and in all through all we call Annette Kellerman. Picturesque battles of the fiercest order will satisfy those who want their conflicts waged on a stupendous scale. It is, altogether, an offering which could well be laid on the altar of art.

"Why don't they write a song about 'Daddy'?" asked McCormack

And now here is the famous tenor singing such a song for the Victor. "Tommy Lad" came into being just in time to be a part of response to Mr. McCormack's thought, that in view of all the songs about mother, we might have at least one about a father.

A fascinating fox trot from "The Century Girl" and a tuneful one-step

The medley fox trot from "The Century Girl" contains at least two of the best tunes Irving Berlin ever wrote—"The Broadway Chicken Walk" and "Alice in Wonderland." The one-step on the opposite side of the record is "Pack Up Your Troubles In Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile," a medley which includes two popular successes in addition to "Pack Up Your Troubles" which is the hit of "Her Soldier Boy." Played by the Victor Military Band, both pieces are sure to become favorite dance numbers.

for the relief of the children of Belgium. The collection was taken and amounted to about $100. "The Crucible" consisted of a dialogue between a district judge and Signor Confetti Spaghetti who was applying for citizenship. The Italian said he had been to school seven months, cleaning the house "for da kidda." He had lived five years in America and several years in Boise. He had voted for "Billie de Bryan and Tedda da Roos but Wilson been bigger man now and if he say figlia, I fighta like bella for heem and Gran' ole Flag." He got the required papers. "The Policing Four" sang and were encored twice.

"The March of the Flag" was an historical representation of the nation and its wars. The Revolutionary struggle, the war of 1812, the conflict with Mexico, the civil strife, the battle with the Red man and the contest with Spain were each represented by a tableau of a soldier in the costume of the respective periods portrayed, while from a dark corner came eloquent words descriptive of the progress of the country and its triumphs over its foes, culminating, when "The Goddess of Liberty" was revealed, in a prediction that the fires of patriotism still burning brightly as ever, would inspire the sons of America, should they again be called upon to defend their country and its honor. This masterpiece closed the program. Credit for the admirable arrangement of the program outlined above is freely accorded by all to the committee consisting of C. M. Booth, chairman; James McMillan, Charles J. Macaulay, William H. Stanley, W. R. Pribo and Boyd Fuller, and to William Coburn, director of the musical program. While space will not permit the mentioning of the names of all who participated and it would be generally unfair to attempt to discriminate, it is only just to say that the audience spoke in terms of special appreciation of the work of Ned McCracken who participated in practically every stunt and always with credit, of Boyd Fuller as "Miller" and of Albert Benoit as "Spaghetti." This was in a way the opening occasion for the new Rogerson Cafe, and it stood the test finely. Both in its roominess (it would have been possible to have seated a fourth table), in appointments and decorations and in convenience both of dining and kitchen and in the service, it reflected great credit upon the proprietor, Mr. Rogerson, and the active manager, Mrs. Arrol. The following was the menu:

LOCAL DECLAMATORY CONTEST THURSDAY

On Thursday evening, the local declamatory contest of the Twin Falls high school will be held in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The contest will consist of three divisions: the oratorical, the humorous and the dramatic. There are three speakers in each division. One speaker will be chosen at this time to represent the Twin Falls high school in the state declamatory contest to be held at Caldwell in April. The public is cordially invited. There is no charge. WANTED—Woman to work in the kitchen. Herbst & Rambo. —Advertisement.

FARM BUREAU IS ORGANIZED

mittes would keep tabs on real estate firms that acted in this way and saw to it that their work became known, they would soon move elsewhere. All the speakers insisted that this was a white man's country and should remain such. Later on the matter was by common understanding put up to the directors. "The constitution was made to read that all citizens of Twin Falls county were eligible to membership, but not until a warm discussion had taken place over whether membership should be confined to farmers. County Agent W. T. McCall of Canyon county was called on to express an opinion on this point and said that there was no danger of city people controlling the organization. He said that the experience of Canyon county was that the merchants and city men co-operated heartily. Provisions were made for the recall of any director who worked against the financial interest of the organization and a further provision was incorporated to the effect that a majority of the directors should be actual farmers. After setting date for annual meeting for first Tuesday in December, in spite of the objections of a member that it might fall on Sunday, the constitution and by-laws were adopted. County Agent McCall then made a stirring talk on the benefits of the farm bureau, urging action in the matter of attempting many things at once, and predicting the ultimate success of the nation wide farm movement after which the meeting adjourned.

The following original hymn of the program but the meeting failed to reach the degree of solemnity necessary for its proper rendition, so it was omitted.

"I WANT TO BE"

"I want to be, I want to be, I want to be down home near Twin Falls. Where the hens are dog-gone glad to lay scrambled eggs in the new mown hay.

You ought to see, You ought to see, You ought to see my home near Twin Falls!

You can tell the world I am going to— T-W-I-I don't know how to spell it. But I'm goin', you bet I'm goin' To my home to that Twin Falls Valley Farm."

POTATO BREAKFAST BEST

but presently the speaker awoke with a jerk and called the body to order, reminding them of the necessity to get busy and curb the frivolous tendencies of the times. One statesman introducing a law to compel the painting of red cows to a more sanitary hue dilated on the dangers of flashy dressing. After his opinion the eyes were called for on the measure. The author of the bill voted for it and it was declared passed without calling for negative votes. Another measure which was objected to as unconstitutional, provided for the regulation of the size of biscuits, and after the constitutional objection had been overruled this was also passed. Several other measures of a similar nature, were enacted in the same way, the author in every case being the proposer. The bill was necessary to curtail or destroy human pleasure. The most elaborate measure was introduced, according to its father, at the request of the Parent-Teachers association and was aimed at dancing, which was declared to be the synthesis of all evil. The bill provided for the abolishment of all dances, and that all such where dances were being held, had been held or could be held, and of all musical instruments there used. While in other cases only the authors of a measure were called for, in this instance all the legislators landed educational solar plexus blows on the unfortunate terpsichorean art and the vote was unanimous and enthusiastic. Finally for the law, after which the speaker declared that the great object of the meeting had been accomplished by the way of a measure being voted for by the lowly outsiders and the session adjourned.

"A bit of Scotch" was a Highland fling by a half a dozen boys in kilts, which brought forth an enthusiastic encore. Rev. Charles Butler was again called out and sang one of his magnificent solos, winding up by calling on C. M. Booth, whom he declared had something to say to the audience. Mr. Booth after some light banter, announced that the banquet was being missed the banqueters that while they were enjoying peace, plenty and prosperity, the people of a nation in the war-torn and every person present were starving and babies were in need of bread. He said that he believed it would be proper to pass the plate around at every person present contribute a quarter to the fund
