CITY MANAGER PLAN PROPOSED FOR TWIN FALLS

NEW LAW PASSED BY LEGISLATURE MAKES NEW FORM OF GOVERNMENT OPTIONAL

COMMISSIONERS INSTEAD OF COUNCIL TO GOVERN

Election May Be Called From Sixty To Ninety Days After Filing of Petition Asking For Submission of Question.

Does Twin Falls wish to try the "City Manager Plan" as the new form of city government that has worked out so successfully in several eastern and middle-western cities, and which the last legislature has authorized with Idaho cities having a population of over 2500?

Under this plan the office of mayor is dispensed with, and a business manager substituted, the manager being selected by the five commissioners who replace the present councilmen. The commissioners are not restricted to their own city, or even state, in choosing their city manager, but may, and as practiced in the east and middle west, generally do go far afield to get the man they want. Such a man is usually one who has devoted many years of study to municipal affairs and who has had long experience in the management of municipal utilities, such as municipally owned water works, gas, lighting and sewer plants. His business is to be an expert in his line of work, and he is paid a salary recognition in his field accordingly.

It is at once to be seen that the plan contemplated in the system in operation in all of the successful corporations of this county, the five commissioners corresponding to the board of directors, and the city manager to the general manager of the corporation. The city manager's job depends upon the right kind of results, as it should; and is far removed from the influence of local partisan politics.

Each of the commissioners is assigned to a special department of the city government, and is supposed to keep himself thoroughly in touch with his branch of the city administration, although the actual management of every department is directly under the city manager. These departments, as classified by the new law, are: Public affairs, accounts and finances, safety of the public, streets and public improvement and parks and public property.

The duties of the city manager are outlined in the new measure, as follows: "To have general supervision over the business of the municipality, to see that the laws and ordinances are faithfully executed; to attend all meetings of the board at which his attendance may be required by that body; to recommend for adoption to the board such measures as he may deem necessary or expedient; to make such appointments of employees of the municipality as are not otherwise provided for; subject to the provisions of this act and to such civil service regulations as may be adopted; to prepare and submit to the board such reports as may be required by that body; or as he may deem advisable to submit; to keep the board fully advised of the financial condition of the municipality and its future needs; to prepare and submit to the board a tentative budget for the next fiscal year; and to perform such other duties as the board may determine by ordinance or resolution. None of the powers or privileges at present enjoyed by municipalities are abrogated by the new law, but the exercise of them is transferred to the city manager and the commissioners.

Who method of determining whether the electors of a city wish to adopt the new plan involves the filing of a petition with the mayor asking for the submission of the question to a special election, the petition to be signed by a number of electors equal to twenty-five per cent of the vote cast for all candidates for the office of mayor in the last preceding general city election. It is the mayor's duty, within ten days after the filing of the petition, to call a special election at a date not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days after such petition is filed. The nomination and election of commissioners having the highest number of votes serving four-year terms; the others two year terms. All commissioners subsequently elected serve full four year terms, in this way consulting a continuous board.

From a local standpoint it is interesting to note that the new law provides that the proposal to adopt the city manager plan shall not be submitted to the electors less than ninety days before a regular municipal election, a provision which would bar Twin Falls from voting the plan prior to the April election. When the plan has once been voted upon, and defeated, it cannot be resubmitted within a two-year period. Any city, that is not satisfied with the new form of government, may after a six-month trial, vote at a special election to return to the form of government under which it previously operated.

With the entry of Twin Falls into the class of cities which own and operate their own water works plants, and especially in view of the contemplated expenditure of a half million dollars for an improved system and with talk of a municipally owned light and power plant, Twin Falls is getting into "big business" for itself; and it is questionable whether the present political methods of management are adequate to properly and effectively care for and conserve its rapidly extending and increasing interests. It is pointed out that no man of the required ability can afford to accept the office of mayor, and devote the time that is needed to the management of the business enterprises of the city. It is thought by many that the time has arrived when the service of a city manager, to place the administration and management of the city in the experienced and especially trained hands.

In its course through the legislature the new law, permitting the manager form of government, was urged as absolutely necessary, in view of the fact that another bill "repealed all municipally owned corporations, which includes water works, light and power plants, from the jurisdiction of the public utilities commission, and enables cities to commence the construction of such plants without first securing a certificate of necessity from the commission. It will be recalled that Twin Falls was unable to go ahead with a water works system of its own, owing to the disposition of the commission to refuse the city the needed certificate of necessity. The commission insisted upon the city's purchasing the existing plant, which enabled the private owners to reassign their franchise to the city at a handsome profit. Under the law as it now stands the commission has nothing whatever to say with municipal corporations, either as to their initiation or rate and management, when established. With the passage of that bill, the city manager bill was pushed to the front, and in the last days of the session, it passed ahead of its natural order, it being deemed imperative by the committee in charge of the calendar to provide a more efficient method for the management of the enterprises into which it was expected the new law would encourage cities to engage, and to remove those corporations so far as possible, from politics.

HANSEN BRIDGE MEET HERE ON APRIL 5

Co-Operation of Government Engineers Will Be Invoked To Secure Suggestions for Structure.

The road commissioners of the Hillsdale highway district will meet with the commissioners of Twin Falls county in this city April 5 in order to lay plans for the construction of the Hansen bridge. The bill appro-printing $20,000 for the bridge, introduced by Lawrence Hansen and signed by Governor Alexander, is now a law. Although the Hillsdale district has already sold bonds in the sum of $30,000 and Twin Falls county has voted a similar amount, no final plans have yet been drafted, and accepted, as it was thought that it would be a waste of money to secure plans for a $60,000 bond when there was a possibility that $80,000 would be available.

It is understood that the boards will secure the assistance of government engineers in making the plans, so that they will conform to government regulations, the idea being that the government being co-operating with the state in road building might wish to be consulted.

C. C. Dudley, chairman of the Hillsdale board was in the city Saturday conferring with the commissioners on the subject.

An Economic Problem

While the cost of nearly every necessity of life has been steadily increasing, the rates for telephone service have remained practically the same.

The buyer of foodstuffs, although paying much more, receives but sixteen ounces to the pound. On the other hand, the telephone user is constantly receiving more and better service and paying the same or even a less rate than he did a few years ago.

Gradually the value of telephone service has been increased by a constant increase in the number of telephones added to the system and by improvements and refinements in the telephone art.

Steadily, too, the cost of every piece of equipment and of all supplies, copper wire, iron wire, poles, hardware, etc., used in the business of furnishing service, has increased enormously.

In other words, our revenues have not increased in proportion to increased value of the service or in proportion to increased cost of furnishing the service.

This presents a serious problem in which the public and the Company are mutually interested.

bound to respect it as much as the United States. Commerce in that case instead of being free and independent would exist only at the caprice of war. As the right of neutral and peaceful nations should be paramount to those of belligerents in the conduct of their affairs, it is clear that to surrender the rights exercised by private corporations at home the temptation to sprig war scares is more than negligible. Where the purchases are made in competition with the manufacturers abroad, there is less temptation, and the munition making class in the world as a whole, according to the well known principle of the division of labor, will be smaller. Besides the denial of the right to buy munitions abroad would militate against those nations not having sufficient mines and material and leave them at the mercy of others more fortunately situated in these respects.

These principles are all old. They have been discussed in all their aspects by moralists and writers on the laws of nations for generations and our acts have been in accordance with their conclusions. That much misunderstanding has arisen owing to the subtle interpretations of the German government is not surprising. The recent exposure of German activities in this country contradicting the friendly statements of the government of that nation ought to cause those who have played too much reliance on Tooton assertions to examine their truth. The activities of the German government have been directed by Chancellor Rothmann-Hollweg whose moral code in relation to the preservation of war may be gathered from the following statement in his address to the Kellogg on January 31, 1917: "I have always proceeded from the standpoint whether, if host war would bring us nearer victorious peace or not. Every means, I said last March, that was calculated to shorten the war constitute the most humane policy to follow. When the most ruthless methods are considered best calculated to lead us to victory, and swift victory, I said, then they must be employed. It takes no great stretch of imagination to assure us that man who takes this stand would be willing to pervert facts and hire others to do so, in the interest of the German cause. Even though our cause were not wholly just it would be our duty after having done everything possible to maintain honorable peace to assist by our country, in time of war, exercising our rights as American sovereigns to see to it that the enemy receive just treatment at the end of the conflict; but in this case our cause is just both in law and in morals and we enter it with a clear conscience in defense of American rights and universal justice.

"THE OTHER MAN'S WIFE" MONDAY MORNING. Gaskell and MacVitty discovered in "The Other Man's Wife" the long looked for novelty that a fastidious public has put the O. K. on as the one great sensational play in a thousand that will thrill and delight without offending the most sensitive. The story is from the pen of Victor Emmanuel Lambert, and is intensely gripping. There is a dash of humor interwoven with the intensity that will cause a laugh and a tear so closely blended that one is wafted through a maze of complications into ecstasies of delight in having seen a really good play. The subject is about a woman, not the ordinary, but the very unusual kind that every man and woman should see, and sweethearts should profit by it. At the Laverling theatre, Monday, April 2.

"THE PRIDE OF THE CLAN." In her newest Artcraft picture, "The Pride of the Clan," being shown at the Idaho theatre, Friday and Saturday, Mary Pickford has the novelty of having her brother-in-law as a stage lover. In other words, the popular Matt Moore, brother of the equally popular Mary, has this part to play. Pickford has this part to play. The story is Scotch and notwithstanding the fact that he is Irish and proud of it—Mr. Moore makes in the picture, the best lead to win the heart of a bonny lass. For all that, Mary Pickford is Irish, too, but she is a wonderfully charming Scotch lass in "The Pride of the Clan" and in kilts she never presented a more engaging picture of her lovely self.

FILER HORSE SHOW HAD GOOD STOCK

Colts Above Record Weight—Much Building and Social Activity in The Town West of Here.

The first annual colt and stallion show held here last Saturday was not as well attended as expected, owing to the bad roads, says the Filer Journal. Mr. Gifford's colts and mares made a good appearance and no doubt would be winners any place in the state. The young stallion colt weighed 1035 pounds at seven months of age and the filly 910 at the same age. The Brooders' Gazette gives 1009 pounds at this age a record weight. These shows are very popular all over the northwest and in a few years Filer will have a colt and stallion show will be looked forward to as a great event.

A. B. Wood has moved into his new building. The finishing touches are being put on the upper and the furnishings will then be moved in. The Journal understands that furnishings of these rooms are all brass beds and the other furnishings are either genuine Gum or Blue oak maple. Each room has a high class rug which covers the entire floor and the halls will all be carpeted. Hot and cold water will be in each room. Hotel Filer have not been able to take care of the traveling public and it is hoped that Mr. Wood will not rent all his rooms to the regulars but reserve one or two in the care of the overflow from the hotel.

The Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon with a splendid attendance. Guests were Mesdames Noggle, Shinn, Helen, Simbley, Mrs. Upley, Mrs. Costello, Miss Simons of Kimberly, and Mrs. L. H. Brown of Buhl. Miss Simons gave an interesting reading on "The Pictures We Need."

A very pleasant hour was spent with Mesdames Dunco, Anderson, Costello and Armes as hostesses.

On last Wednesday there was an unusually large attendance at the Ladies' Aid to enjoy the delightful St. Patrick's program and delicious Irish refreshments. April 11 will be rally day for the aid and a program of unusual interest is being prepared and a very large attendance expected. Every member of the aid is urged to bring one new member as guest.

Rev. M. C. Cabell of Whitestone, Wash., has accepted the pastorate of the Monopole Brethren church at this place and will soon be ready to take up his work. Mr. Cabell will be remembered as having had charge of revival meetings at this place on several occasions.

The Short Line, in keeping with its progressive spirit of life is building an addition to the depot, putting in city water, grading the yards and making other improvements. Filer will make the biggest showing this year in her history. There is talk of going after the county seat in the fall.

One of the greatest events that has ever taken place in Filer will occur on Friday evening, March 30, in the basement of the M. E. church, when a Men's Get-Together Banquet will be held. Places for 100 will be set and the prices is fifty cents, so in order to secure a place, get a ticket right away for there will be only 100, so don't wait until the last one for you will not get in.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Evans gave a farewell party at their home for John Houghtelin Tuesday evening. A dinner was served at 7 o'clock to the following boys: John Houghtelin, Leo Reese, Lloyd Hill, Wm. and John Walter, Lester, Charles and Gordon Diehl, Arthur Decker, Earl Bias, Rhin Brown, Glenn Hosteler.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 5, Mrs. Childs entertained at Kensington. Mesdames Potter, Murray, Moore, Alworth, Showers, Mosley, Stevenson, Patton, Sharp, Bern, Hughes, Reeves, McCoy, Fitzgerald, Felton, Graves and Shagner. This is one of a series of parties recently given by the same hostess.

Ground was broken Monday for the basement of the new Mayron building to be erected east of the two story building now nearing completion. We understand the building will be rented for a first class restaurant, something that Filer has long stood in need of.

Kilpatrick & Gary have rented the east rooms of the new Mayron block and will in due time fix it up in a neat and attractive manner. New tables and fixtures will be installed, and a fine hall will be the result—a credit to the town.

May Matherson of Pullman, Wash., has been visiting here the past week. She is a daughter of Mr. Struppier, one of the early settlers near Filer. She owns land near E. F. Cedarholm's and was here looking after it.

The village trustees have appointed the following election board to act in the village election to be held on the 24th of April: Judges, C. W. Thornton, L. M. Smith, J. M. Reeves; clerks E. H. Snyder, Art Brown.

Norman Barker and wife returned Sunday from Boise where they have spent the winter. Norman evidently enjoyed the season as he gained 13 pounds while absent.

Last week saw the final removal of all goods from their previous location in the Perrine building. The interior presents a very pleasant appearance with its Fumed oak wall cabinets and counters. The walls are buff tinted and the white ceiling and the three large chandeliers of semi-indirect lighting offers splendid lighting facilities. ### ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES ON S. B. 111

Hands Down Opinion Sustaining Power of City to Issue Waterworks Bonds in Amount Needed.

Before the real purport of Senate bill No. 111 had become known to the public and white, a division of opinion existed among the city officials in regard to whether the city would be estopped, through its operation, from issuing waterworks bonds, or any other bonds for that matter, a member of the staff of the TIMES wrote to Attorney General T. A. Walters, asking an opinion on the subject. That official seems to have read the law carefully before handing down the opinion which is quite complete and fully sustains the position at which the mayor and city attorney finally arrived, namely, that the law does not interfere with the power of the city to issue as much bonds as required to build or acquire a waterworks system. The opinion follows: Mr. James D. Wielan, Esq., Twin Falls, Idaho.

By letter under date of March 17, you submit in substance for opinion the following proposition:

"What is the power of cities to vote bonds for municipal water works under Senate Bill No. 111, as passed by the recent session of the Legislature, and give your interpretation of the bill."

The powers of cities and villages to issue municipal coupon bonds, and the purpose for which the same may be issued, are enumerated in Section 2316 of the Revised Codes. The intent and purpose of this section prior to that made by the recent session of the legislature is found in Chapter 44 of the Session Laws of 1916. This chapter is amended by Senate Bill No. 111 passed by the Fourteenth Session of the legislature and approved by the governor on March 3, 1917.

Senate Bill No. 111 makes no change whatever in subdivision (a), of said section. Said subdivision (a), limits bond issues for the purposes set forth in said subdivision to 6 per cent of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property in said city or village. Subdivision (b), of said section prior to the amendment authorized a city, town or village to issue municipal bonds in a sufficient amount "to acquire by purchase or otherwise, a water works plant for such municipality and water supply therefor." There is a similar provision authorizing the acquisition of light and power plants. There is no limit placed upon the amount of bonds which may be issued for either of these purposes.

Senate Bill No. 111 amends Subdivision (b), relative to water plants by adding the words: "And to construct, enlarge, extend, repair, alter and improve said plant." It further amends Subdivision (b) by providing that any bonds so issued shall be authorized as provided in Section 2316 of the Revised Codes, and it validates any points heretofore issued for the purpose of acquiring a water system, or enlarging, extending, repairing, altering and improving any municipal water works plant. The amendment places no limit upon the amount of bonds which may be issued for this purpose.

The provision in the existing law relative to power and light plants is made a separate subdivision, being subdivision (c), and provides that the amount for which bonds may be issued for such purposes, shall be determined by the council and stated in the ordinance therefor. The law as amended in 1916 included water plants with light and power plants, and provides that the amount for which such bonds may be issued shall be determined by the council and stated in the ordinance therefor.

Senate Bill No. 111 was amended while before the legislature by extending water plants from this last paragraph. However, it is apparent from the wording of the Bill that the only reason for this exclusion was that the issuance of bonds for water plants had been provided for in Subdivision (b), which fully authorizes any city, town or village to issue municipal bonds in such amount as shall be deemed necessary to acquire, or construct, or alter, or enlarge water plants. Whether expressly stated in the law or not, the amount of such bonds must be determined by the council and stated in the ordinance therefor.

Section 2316 provides that any bond issue for any of the purposes included in Section 2316, must be assented to by two-thirds of the taxpayers voting at an election held for that purpose. This applies to light and power plants the same as to water plants. There is nothing in Senate Bill No. 111 which in any way limits the powers which cities have heretofore had to acquire water plants, or which in any way limits the amount for which bonds may be issued.
