

YPRES MOVEMENT ON GERMAN COMMUNICATIONS CONFIRMED

Secretary of War Baker Gives Out Statement Officially—American Regular Army and National Guard Proceedings as Planned—Success Allies on All Lines.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Complete and official confirmation that the new British advance in the Ypres salient threatens definitely the German communications upon the Belgian coast came from Secretary of War Baker today.

In line with his plan of issuing a weekly official review of the general situation the secretary today made public his general analysis of the entire situation as affecting the various movements. It emphasizes the fact that the initiative seems to have passed entirely from the Austro-German forces to the entente on all fronts. The outstanding feature of the recent engagements, the secretary asserts, is "the wastage of the man power of the enemy."

The secretary also states that the national armies and national guard movements in this country are proceeding as planned. The text of his statement was as follows:

"The secretary of war authorized the following statement, dealing with military activities in Europe for the week ending September 27, 1917:

"The Ypres salient continues the center of military interest along the western front.

"The battle of Menin road, which promised to be one of the great battles of the war, is following its normal course. Last week we recorded the gains of the British flotilla, now in this week we must note the desperate attempts made by Germans to retake the lost positions.

"The Ostend-Lille railway which in a large measure feeds the German naval bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge, the latter the home port of the German high seas submarines, is now being cut within the range of the British guns.

"The superiority of the British over their enemies was conclusively proved during the engagements of the past week.

"The battle of Menin road, furthermore, shows that the fighting stamina of the Germans is deteriorating, in that the enemy did not display greater skill and dogged determination in its repeated counter attacks.

"During the recent operations in this sector, the British captured 4,848 prisoners, including 128 officers.

"Along the French front, particularly in the Alsace sector of Bruyres-Corny, Hurlbale, artillery duels of intense violence are reported.

"Beginning Sunday the constantly increasing violence of the attacks reached a culmination on the 27th inof importance. The heat during the past week has prevented much activity.

"However, a raid by the combined French and Albanian contingents, the latter belonging to the forces of the Entente, carried out in the Skutari valley, should be mentioned.

"The mobilization of the national guard in their camps is proceeding and the reorganization of the national taking place. This reorganization is necessitated by the conditions of the present war and requires the reorganization of the units not typical hitherto. Some misunderstanding of the reorganization has arisen; but its purpose and military necessity are being explained and the division commanders are doing their utmost to preserve the local associations and historic memories of these units.

"The assembling of the national army in the cantonments has gone on with smoothness and success. Equipment difficulties are not serious and are being rapidly overcome. The most obvious shortage is in rifles; but an adequate supply for all purposes will soon be had and no delay in training results from the shortage. All of the overseas forces are adequately supplied."

LONDON, Oct. 1.—After a lull of nearly seven months on the Mesopotamian front the British are again upon the offensive against the Turks. The fighting recently has been regarded by military experts as the beginning of the British autumn and winter campaigns.

Already the British have advanced more than sixty miles in a northwesterly direction from Bagdad, the Turks falling back and surrendering in great numbers.

One whole Turkish army, together with its commander in chief, Ahmed Bey, were caught by the brilliant maneuvers of General Maund, the British commander in chief and compelled to surrender.

The German air raid made over London last night—the fifth within a week—was marked by thrilling battles high in the clouds between British and German aviators.

It was unofficially reported early today that at least one and perhaps three of the German machines had been shot down.

Irigoyen to Call S. A. Conference

President of Argentine Would Have Southern Continent Act in Concert in War.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 1.—Argentine today faces a long delay before President Irigoyen takes any decisive action upon the congressional resolution for a break with Germany.

In addressing a deputation that had presented him with a petition demanding an immediate rupture with Germany, President Irigoyen said he proposed calling a conference of the South American nations to act in concert.

The president's policy as revealed for the first time, is this:

"If Argentina enters the war she should not do so on account of the luxury incident alone, but on the grounds of humanity and justice. Argentina should not play any subsidiary role, but should put every ounce of her man-power and resources into the prosecution of the most vigorous military campaign possible."

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Twenty countries of South America will be in the war on the side of the allies within a year, according to John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, who is in Chicago today.

"Brazil, Bolivia, Panama, Uruguay, Cuba and Costa Rica have essentially broken off diplomatic relations with Germany," Barrett said, "and Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Haiti and the Dominican republic have practically all the same attitude."

Now on the verge of severing relations will carry with her Chile, Peru and Paraguay.

"Of the remaining five countries, Venezuela, Columbia, Ecuador, Salvador and Mexico all lean strongly toward the United States and the allies."

House Adopts the Conference Report

Leader Kitchin Explains At Length The Compromises Reached By The Conference.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Without a dissenting vote the house this afternoon adopted the conference report on the $2,700,000,000 war revenue bill, after a lengthy explanation of its various features.

Majority Leader Kitchin and others spoke at length on the compromises reached by the conference and stated that those compromises were unpalatable.

After the perfunctory reading of the statement in the conference report on the bill Majority Leader Kitchin opened discussion on the bill by an attack on the newspapers of the country for exposing the details of the deal struck at the conference, supposed to be secret.

Mr. Kitchin predicted that if the war lasted a year more war profits would be made than in the past year more. "He explained at length the compromise reached by the conference."

Constitutionality of Draft Law Is Up

Supreme Court Met Yesterday And Will Consider Question In A Few Days.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—With a decision on the constitutionality of the selective draft law one of the tasks before it, the United States supreme court, which has been in recess since June 1, formally convened today. No business was transacted as the court, following immemorial custom, adjourned at once to enable Chief Justice White and his associates to pay their annual formal call upon the president.

Attorney General Gregory has let it be known that he would move the court on the first opportunity to advance the cases involving the constitutionality of the draft law, and it is believed the court will set them for a very early hearing.

Villa is having his soldiers haul thousands of bushels of grain from Rio Florida to Rosario mills where it is being made into flour. He also has smelted a large quantity of gold and silver bullion.

Great Coal Strike Settled Yesterday

Eighteen Thousand Workmen Return As Result of Conference Held at Washington and Lexington.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 1.—The strike of 18,000 coal miners of Kentucky and Tennessee was reported at noon today to have been settled as a result of conferences here and in Washington, D. C.

Families of many of the miners who have been on strike several weeks are reported to be in a peaceful condition.

The miners killed in the riot between strikers and sheriff's posse yesterday were said today to be Grant and Luther Shipman.

Luther Shipman was a leader of the United Mine Workers. Miners are circulating a story that the two were called to the door of their homes and shot to death by the posse.

These Gigantic Pens Hold Over $5,000 Sheep

(International News Service)
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 2.—Occupying a floor space of more than eight acres, Denver has opened the largest sheep sheds in the world. The only exercises dedicating the immense structure was the turning in of nearly 25,000 sheep into the pens on the upper and lower decks.

The building is double decked, and constructed so that other decks can be added as the need arises. The shed has a capacity of 50,000 head of sheep, is 490 feet long and 250 feet wide. The structure cost $450,000.

Vocational School Fund Interests

Not Known Whether Such Fund Will Be Available Locally—Dr. A. Bryan Explains

The people of Twin Falls were much interested Sunday in learning that congress has passed an amendment to the bill known as the Smith-Hughes act, under the terms of which Idaho will receive $15,000 for vocational education in the public schools. Owing to a legislative mix-up, a pending bill authorizing Idaho to meet the requirements making it possible to take advantage of the Smith-Hughes act failed to reach the senate after having passed the lower house.

As a result this state was unable to claim its share of the fund appropriated by the national government for vocational training. Dr. E. A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, made a trip to Washington for the purpose of explaining the situation and urging the passage of the amendment, which was thereupon introduced and passed without opposition.

In a statement given to the press Sunday Dr. Bryan, among other things said: "Vocational education was given a boost forward when congress last winter adopted the Smith-Hughes act. This act must be carefully distinguished from the now famous Smith-Lever act with which it has nothing to do in organization or operation. The fact that Senator Hoko Smith of Georgia was joint author in both bills merely shows his deep interest in the industrial development of the nation and his position of leadership in such legislation.

"There are three distinct parts to the act. The first provides for co-operating with the state in paying the salaries of teachers, supervisors or directors of agricultural subjects. For this purpose $500,000 are appropriated for the current year, $750,000 for the next year, and so on for ten years, when and thereafter $2,000,000 a year are given for this co-operative work. For this division the state of Idaho would receive $50,000 the present year.

"The second division of the act provides the same amount, beginning with $500,000 and ending with a permanent annual appropriation of $3,000,000 for co-operation with the state in paying the salaries of teachers of trade, home economics and industrial subjects. Idaho's share of this will likewise be $50,000.

"The third division of the act appropriates a sum beginning with $500,000 a year and increasing to $1,000,000 in four years and a like sum thereafter for the purpose of co-operating with the states in preparing teachers, supervisors and directors of agricultural subjects and teachers of trades, home economics and industrial subjects. Idaho's share in this is likewise $50,000.

"It will likely be required that vocational teachers of agriculture, home economics shall have completed a four-year college course of training, but teachers of trade and industrial subjects need not even have attended college at all, the emphasis being placed on artisan experience and skill.

In the state of Idaho there will in all probability be selected from six to ten high schools to receive at the outset the benefits of the appropriation. Meeting the requirements. They are to be a pattern for the ones to be selected later. It will be necessary for the school selected to have adequate equipment and to be able to pay one-half of the salary of the teacher or teachers. There will be a certain amount of supervision of agricultural instruction by a supervisor acting directly under the state board of education. The teacher of agriculture must be employed for 12 months in the year or at least must serve during the summer months to supervise the home work of students.

"It is quite likely that the Technical Institute will be the first trade school selected, and it may likewise be the place for the training of teachers of the trades and industries. The training of vocational teachers of agriculture and home economics will presumably be centralized at the university, as that is the only place where four-year courses in these departments are given.

"Already certain high schools of the state have made application to the commissioner of education to be designated as beneficiaries of the act. No decision has as yet been reached in any case—but the selection must be made in the near future. Due consideration will be given to the needs of the state in order that the general purpose of the act may be the better fulfilled, but no local or political consideration will determine the selection. A federal vocational education board, consisting of three members of the cabinet and three appointive members, and the United States commissioner of education, is charged with the administration of this important measure."

Giants Have Punch; White Sox Game

New Yorkers Proved Best Batters During The Year But Chicago Has The Percentage.

By Jack Velock.
(U. S. Sport Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The team with the strongest punch generally wins. This doesn't apply in every case, but quite often enough to be a rule in the grand old game of baseball.

When the Giants and White Sox enter the world's series they will be primed to go in there with every ounce of strength available. They will go in there to put their strongest punch into every game, and it will be a battle of brain, brawn and mechanical ability.

In sizing up the merits of the two world's series teams in the matter of punching power, or the ability to score runs, the baseball dopster doesn't find whole lot in the way of figures that will give him fair comparisons, for the teams have fought their way to the top in different leagues, and the dopster is wiser to regard the going most part to guess work, pure and simple.

But the figures are interesting nevertheless, and regardless of the fact that no one can say whether the work of the White Sox on the bases is better than that of the Giants, or whether the hitting power of the New York club is stronger than that of the Sox, figures are necessary.

The White Sox are the best base-running club if one takes the season's figures for it and adds by them alone. But the White Sox have not tempted the arms of National League catchers, and the Giants have not matched the speed of the big-league power of American League backstops, so the point is open to argument.

The figures accompanying for the year show that the Giants have out-hit the White Sox, yet the Sox have scored the most runs, and runs, after all, are what count. At the same time seem that the Sox are the fastest club on the bases, and that they make their hits count for more, yet many a run is contributed by the wisdom of opposing pitchers. If the pitchers of the American League are wilder than those in the National, then the lead in runs held by the Sox over the Giants may be partly attributed to this fact. But are they?

And then there is the time-worn argument about the speed and class of the pitchers. For long an argument which has always been a bone of contention, but which is settled in part by world's series figures of the past few years. The Sox have won the most world's championships.

There is a chance, that both the Sox and Giants will enter the big series with their full strength, for Weaver and Herzog are very liable to be put into the line ups. If Weaver and Herzog are put into the Sox attack their chances will be better on the offensive than they would be with McMullin in the game. And if Weaver and Herzog are left out, the Sox attack their chances will be better, but with Weaver and Herzog out of the games the Giants will be hit the hardest, because McMullin is a player who is likely to be hit hard, though the ex-Toronto youth played very good baseball for McGraw during the last few series of the season.

Buy Winter Coal Now Says Calvin

President of the Oregon Short Line Says Country Is Threatened With A Lack of Fuel

President E. E. Calvin was in the city for a few minutes Saturday while he was here for the purpose of talking with a number of officials. He said that consumers should lay in their winter supply of coal immediately, as there will be the greatest difficulty experienced by mines and railroads in unloading the coal, and the greatest degree of co-operation is necessary between the coal and the railroads. The national fuel commission is making lots of people refrain from purchasing and hoarding coal, and he is a student and leave them entirely without fuel during the winter in the opinion of President Calvin.

The party remained here only a few minutes.

ARMY CANTONMENTS COST OVER $150,000,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The completion of the sixteen cantonments for the national army is one of the greatest construction jobs ever undertaken by any government and within three months the government has expended approximately $150,000,000 upon this work, whereas the largest amount appropriated in any year for the Panama Canal was $46,000,000.

Within sixty days 190 sawmills in all parts of the country shipped more than 500,000,000 feet of lumber to the cantonment sites. Altogether 93,000 kegs of nails were used; there were installed 140,000 doors and 636,000 sash, while nearly 30,000,000 square feet of wall board was used for inside sheathing.

When paved streets, telephones, fire protection, electric lights, water supply and sewage disposal are added to this undertaking, some idea may be had as to the wonderful piece of work done in record-breaking time in preparing comfortable quarters for the national army.

Cost to U. S. of Producing Soldier

American Lake Cheapest to Nation. While Camp Custer At Battle Creek Is The Highest.

By John C. Mellett. (U. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—It costs more to make a soldier in some parts of the United States than it does in others.

This may sound queer to the layman, who thinks that because Uncle Sam buys supplies at uniform prices for all parts of the country, and pays the same salaries everywhere, soldiers should cost no more in one region than in another.

The highest per capita cost in turning out soldiers is $182. You'd never guess where this price obtains. New York, your choice. Guess again: Michigan and Massachusetts, with Camps Custer and Devens respectively in the national army, are tied at the high mark.

It is the cheapest at American Lake where Uncle Sam's soldiers cost him only $142 each.

Here is the way the sixteen cantonments rank in per capita cost for soldiers, from lowest cost to highest: Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash., $142.

- Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., $146. Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., $149. Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., $146. Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark., $151. Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan., $152. Camp Travis, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, $156. Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., $157. Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., $158. Camp Meade, Annapolis Junction, Md., $168. Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., $164. Camp Upton, Yaphank, Long Island, $165. Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., $167. Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., $170. Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., $182. Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., $182.

These figures are part of a budget submitted by the war department to the committee on appropriations of the house of representatives, in asking for money to outfit and train the national army.

No specific outfit was made to explain the difference in the per capita cost of the new soldiers, but other figures submitted by the army show that many of the set expenses are identical the country over, but others vary widely.

No great difference is seen in regular supplies, barracks and quarters, shooting ranges and clothing. But in such items as water and sewers, wherein the topography of the country about the cantonment is an important factor, there is wide variance. Again, in the case of roads, wharves, walks and drainage, there is a wide range.

In the case of hospitals to be constructed or replaced, there is great diversity. Camp Funston, at Fort Tully, found the cantonment in an excellent condition and required a very small expenditure, comparatively. The same was true of Camp Gordon, at Atlanta.

SAXON SIX

A big touring car for five people

Buy Your Saxon "Six" Now! Don't Wait and Pay More Later

Let's "right about face" and look the motor car price situation square in the eye.

Costs of labor and material are bound to rise again before long.

The minute they rise—up will go the retail price of motor cars.

So buy your Saxon "Six" now—at once!

Today its price of $935 is the lowest it will probably be for a long time to come—for several years perhaps.

Make your buy now before the rise comes.

Among cars costing from $800 to $1150 Saxon "Six" at $935 is the one great, outstanding value.

It offers beauty, quality, and performance in a measure that cannot be duplicated by cars within $200 or $300 of its price.

Look how it compares with these three cars priced at $4,800, $3,000 and $1,250 respectively.

Note this. One car selling at $4,800 and up, uses these 5 features—Timken bearings, Fedders radiator, Spiral bevel gear, semi-floating axle, Exide storage battery—that you can also find on Saxon "Six" at $935.

Another car priced at more than $3,000 has these 6 features—Timken axles, Timken bearings, Fedders radiator, Spiral bevel gear, semi-floating axle, Exide storage battery—you also find on Saxon "Six."

And another car selling at more than $1,250 has these 6 features—Timken axles, Timken bearings, Stromberg carburetor, Fedders radiator, Spiral bevel gear, semi-floating axle—you also find on Saxon "Six."

These cars cited are all leaders in their respective price classes. The features cited are all important features.

Now those are facts. They prove—as nothing else could prove—that Saxon "Six" is a quality car.

And it is a six-cylinder car. That means much to you.

For the buyer who selects a "four" deliberately deprives himself of just so much smoothness of power-flow, just so much flexibility, just so much quietness, and likewise gets a car that will not stand up so long.

There's a good deal more we would like to tell you—a good deal more proof we can give that shows the wisdom of buying Saxon "Six" at $935 rather than paying $200 or $300 more.

Take the big price-saving chance. Come in and see Saxon "Six" and place your order. Price now is $935 f.o.b. Detroit.

Saxon "Six" Sedan $1395; Saxon "Six" Chummy Roadster $935, Saxon Roadster, $395. Prices, f.o.b. Detroit.

NOTICE

Compulsory Education Act Section 160, Article 17, Idaho School Law, 1917:

In all districts of this State, all parents, guardians, and other persons having care of children shall instruct them, or cause them to be instructed, in reading, writing, spelling, English grammar, geography and arithmetic. In such districts, every parent, guardian or other person having charge of any child between the ages of eight (8) and sixteen (16) years, shall send such child to a public, private, or parochial school for the entire school year during which the public schools are in session in such district: Provided, however, that this Chapter shall not apply to children over fifteen (15) years of age, who are such child shall have completed the eighth (8) grade, or may be eligible to enter any high school in such district, or where his help is necessary for his own use or the support of his family, or where good cause shows it would be for the best interest of such child to be relieved from the provisions of this Chapter: Provided, further, that if a reputable physician within the district shall certify in writing that the child's bodily or mental condition does not permit its attendance at school, such child shall be exempt during such period of disability from the requirements of this Chapter. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of the school district, if there be such superintendent, and if not, then the County Superintendent of schools to hear and determine all applications of children desiring, for any of the causes mentioned here, to be exempted from the provisions of this Chapter, and if upon such application such superintendent hearing the same shall be of the opinion that such child for any reason is entitled to be exempted as aforesaid, then such superintendent shall issue a written permit to such child, stating therein his reason for such exemption. An appeal may be taken from the decision of such superintendent so passing upon such application, to the probate court of the county in which such district lies, upon such child making such application and filing the same with the clerk or judge of said court, within ten days after its refusal by such superintendent, for which no fee to exceed the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) shall be charged, and the decision of the probate court shall be final. An application for release from the provisions of this Chapter and shall not be renewed oftener than once in three months. BRITTON, WOLFE, County Superintendent.

Elgin Six Goes 12,000 Miles War Dep't Road Reporter

A stock Elgin Six car was selected by the federal government to make a tour over the national highways of the west as a war department road reporter to gather information. It is an official scout car running over the national highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific and return, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and back, a total of 12,000 miles. Photographs of road conditions and details of the road—information of value to the war department—are being gathered, to keep the government informed as to how much dependence may be placed on the national highways as a means of transporting military supplies and men. The scout car in charge of Roy W. Marsh and Edward M. Lawrence arrived in Denver, September 23 on its return trip east.

THIS ELGIN SIX MADE THE TRIP FROM CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, TO LOS ANGELES, BY WAY OF SAN FRANCISCO, WITH HOOD, CLUTCH AND TRANSMISSION SEALED BY THE AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION. ANY ELGIN SIX WILL DO THE SAME.

Congressmen Derelict in Attending Sessions

By John Calvin Mollett, (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON.—"Papa," the man down there said they were in Committee of the Whole, but that isn't all of them, is it?
"No, son. There are only forty-nine present, and there are 435 members."
"Then why do they call it Committee of the Whole House?"
"Right here papa, not being a parliamentarian, I was stumped, and had to admit it to the boys. Others in the House of Representatives gallery wondered with the boy, who unconsciously had displayed a bit of delicate irony at the expense of the nation's lawmakers. No house session in the last month has seen more than one-fourth of the total membership present, and "Committee of the Whole" is rather more of a joke than anything else.

In the last month the house of representatives has passed on at least three tremendously important pieces of legislation:
The five billion dollar urgent deficiencies bill;
The $175,000,000 war risk insurance bill;
The $11,538,000,000 bond and certificate measure.

At no time during discussion of the last named bill were there more than seventy-five members on the floor of the house. Rarely during the insurance discussion did more than thirty show themselves.
Washington, accustomed to anything in the way of congressional behavior, or misbehavior, has hardly raised an eyebrow at this queer, not to say naive, way of handling important national business. But casual visitors with nothing better to do than to visit the house have frequently remarked on the situation.

A faithful handful of representatives have been fairly regular in attendance, but by far the great majority have not shown themselves at the capitol in weeks. "Illness in the family" and "necessary business" must be responsible, as alleged, for absences, because it is an "off-year" for elections.
Of those who have stuck to their knitting probably none is as faithful as "Uncle Joe" Cannon, nestor of all the representatives, and Speaker Champ Clark. Uncle Joe, although 81 years old, sets a splendid example for younger Republican congressmen by attending nearly every session. Making active part in nearly every debate that arises and sticking until adjournment to the end. In addition to this, his committee assignments are heavy as a general thing, and he draws frequent special assignments besides.

The Speaker, also well along in years, is present regularly, getting out of his chair and relinquishing the gavel from time to time to take part in a debate.
Representative Henry Allen Cooper, of Wisconsin, who has been in congress since 1893, runs his follow-up veterans Cannon and Clark a close race. He has been active in the discussion of nearly every important piece of legislation this summer. Gillett, of Massachusetts, another veteran, who entered congress with Cooper in 1893, is just as faithful in attendance and participation.

Several other veterans set notable examples for their younger fellows, but it appears to be of little use. Important legislation rarely finds a hundred congressmen working at the same jobs.

CAMPAIGN FOR SECOND LIBERTY

not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States.
People by thousands ask the Treasury constantly how they can help the government in this war. Through the purchase of Liberty Bonds every citizen can help.
The purchase of Liberty Bonds can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle—to furnish the government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.
"We fight, first of all, for America's vital rights, the rights to the unimpaired and unobstructed use of the high seas, so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the harbors of every friendly nation in the world, our welfare and prosperity as a people depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights by withdrawing our ships and commerce from the seas upon the order of a military despot in Europe would destroy prosperity, and bring disaster and humiliation upon the American people.
We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the high seas, and to demand the peaceful exercise of those rights demanded by international law and every instinct and dictate of humanity.
We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world.
We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful to live and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people.
We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which can be secured only by the absence of military despot but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world.
The war which ends I appeal to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her precious institutions to join the League of Patriots by purchasing a Liberty Bond.

AMSTERDAM

Oct. 2.—Consternation has been caused in Berlin by the fresh advance of the British along the Bagdad railway in Mesopotamia, according to dispatches from the German capital today. About 320 miles of actual railway line or ballasted right of way between Basra on the Persian gulf, and a point 60 miles northwest of Bagdad are now in possession of General Maude's forces, and they are still moving forward, driving the Turks before them.

Thus, while the German line crumbles on the western front, the Kaiser sees his dream of an empire from the North sea to the Persian gulf crumbling beneath his eyes.
Ten persons were killed in the German air raid last night. It was officially announced today by Viscount French, commander in chief of the home defenses.
This night the total number of persons killed on British soil from German air raids up to 864.
In addition to the 10 killed, 38 others were wounded in the air bombardment by the great fleet of German aeroplanes, Monday night.

Although there was savage fighting high in the clouds between British machines and the German planes all of the British air craft returned safely.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—France has opened a campaign of air reprisals against the Germans.
The three great German cities of Trier, Coblenz and Frankfurt on Main, were bombarded by French airplanes last night in retaliation for German attacks on open French cities, it was announced today.
The demand for air reprisals grew in England, the French have suddenly engaged a great air drive and effective damage is being inflicted.
